Cripps' Visit Brings New Committee

Plan Representatives From Canada, UK; Discuss Commerce

OTTAWA, Sept. 24—(CP). — Plans for the establishment of a "continuing" committee on commercial and economic matters of mutual concern were laid during the Anglo-Canadian economic discussions here, an official statement disclosed today.

The statement, issued from acting Prime Minister St. Laurent's office, said this committee would meet regularly in Ottawa and in London. It would be made up of representatives of Canada and the United Kingdom.

Recommendations for its establishment will be placed before the British and Canadian governments.

The two governments were satisfied that, despite present difficulties, there is "a prospect of a large continuing trade between the two countries and that Canadian raw materials and foodstuffs will continue to play a vital part in the recovery of the United Kingdom."

Cover Wide Field

The statement reported that the discussions, with Sir Stafford Cripps and Mr. St. Laurent as the main participants, had ranged over "the whole field of economic and financial relations between the United Kingdom and Canada and included an examination of their likely course during the continuance and on the completion of the European recovery plan."

The statement added:

"The United Kingdom will make every effort to expand the volume of its exports to Canada so as to raise them materially above the present level.

"It will no doubt be necessary to make some adjustments in United Kingdom import programs of recent years, but both governments will do everything they can to avoid any sudden change in the pattern of trade between the two countries."

Recall Smith For Consultation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) State department officials scheduled a "consultation" today with Walter B. Smith, United States ambassador to Moscow.

They announced late yesterday Smith was returning home for a first-hand report, but did not disclose the nature of the "consultation."

Officials said Smith suggested the visit, his first since last October, several weeks ago, before the east-west crisis reached its present state.

He is reported to have asked President Truman on his last trip home to be relieved of the Moscow assignment, but at the President's request agreed to remain on the job at least until after the November elections.

The ambassador is expected to return to the Russian capital in about a week or 10 days.

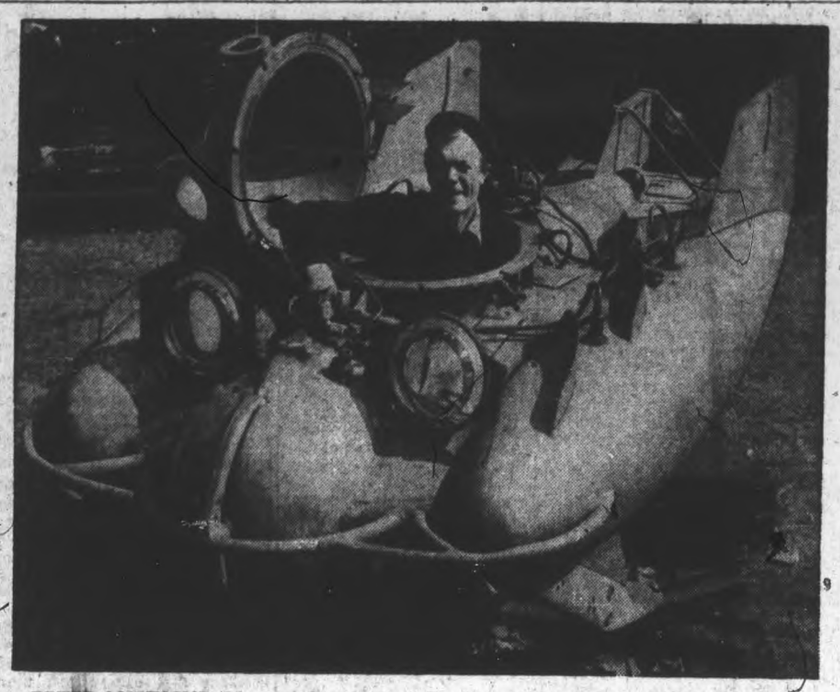
Say Mr. King Feeling Miserable With Cold

PARIS, Sept. 24. — (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King, here to head the Canadian delegation to the United Nations General Asembly, has a slight cold in the chest and feels "rather miserable," it was learned today.

Aides said the prime minister's indisposition was no cause for concern, since he occasionally suffers from colds but recovers quickly.

The Canadian leader kept on working on his speech which he will likely deliver to the general assembly next Monday. However, one engagement, an informal meeting with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has been cancelled temporarily at least.

Tonight he is expected to attend a dinner at the Palais D'Elysees given for the chiefs of the UN delegations by president Auriol of France.



PETER LUETJENS, 35, a mechanic, sits in the midget submarine he constructed from scrap in a Hamburg, Germany, junkyard. The tiny craft, which must be towed by a surface vessel, is designed to move along the ocean bed in search of ship wreckage. Luetjens claims he can descend 300 yards and remain under water four hours. Two searchlights, capable of penetrating 20 yards at a depth of 70 yards, provide light for the underwater excursions. Centre section is the cockpit. Water can be taken in and discharged from two side tanks to control depth. Guiding fins are in the rear.

Lord's Day Act 'Outmoded' Judge Declares

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—(CP). —Canada's statutes on Sunday observance, bookmaking and lotteries were termed "outmoded" Thursday by Vancouver Judge R. A. Sargent.

Strict enforcement of the Lord's Day Act today, he said, would close a city "so tight that life would be unbearable."

The jurist asked delegates to the 43rd convention of Canada's Chief Constables' Association to bring public opinion of these laws before attorneys-general and legislatores in their constituencies.

The Lord's Day Act, he said was enacted in 1906 only to guarantee labor a six-day week.

Judge Sargent did not advocate 'the extreme of a wide-open city," but suggested some middle ground where sports and cultural activities could be enjoyed.

"It would appear that the general public would welcome a change in lottery legislation," he said.

He cited a Vancouver case in which police prosecuted a prominent service club for conducting a lottery.

"An assize jury, which is after all the keeper of the public conscience, declared the activity legal."

The jurist also attacked betting laws as they affected horse racing and book-making.

"It is hard to estimate how much money is wagered with book-makers," he said. 'Book-makers definitely flourish, but they cannot be taxed, as are parimutuels, because they are not legal.

Legalized book-making would be a source of revenue to the government.

Two Montreal Policemen Killed By Bank Bandits

MONTREAL, Sept. 24—(CP).—Two policemen died Thursday before the guns of bank-robber bandits, and today two gunmen were still at large as city and provincial police set in motion a dragnet that stretched the length and breadth of Montreal Island and beyond. A third, identified by police as Noel Clouthier, 24, was captured a few minutes after daring holdup of an east-end branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale.

Police said the two still free were Donald Perreault, 28, and Douglas Perreault, 29, who are believed to be travelling in a 1941 black Cadillac sedan, Quebec licence number 5-2860, which they commandeered near the scene of the holdup. The Perreaults are not related, police said.

Both men had lengthy criminal records, police disclosed, and both had been arrested for other crimes in recent months. Donald was said to have been arrested in connection with an $18,000 payroll robbery in Mont Roiland, Que., a few months ago, and now is out on bail. Douglas was arrested on theft charges last February and had just completed a short jail term, police said.

Killed as the bandits fled from the bank were Constables Paul Emile Duranleau, 34, and Nelson Paquin, 41. Both were attached to the traffic division of the city force.

Events happened with such rapidity after the bandits entered the bank that even police records were not complete. Police estimated the gunmen escaped with about $6,000 in cash, but this figure was not confirmed by bank officials.

One eye-witness, Pierre Lefebre, 17, saw the bandits enter the bank shortly before 3 p.m. closing time.

He said two alighted from a car, walked leisurely up to the front door, donned dark glasses and handkerchiefs, and entered the bank with drawn guns. The third bandit remained behind the

Force Company Reduce Size

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) —The United States Justice Department said today it has filed a court action designed to force the Aluminum Company of America "to reduce its power and size."

Attorney-general Tom Clark said the proceedings was filed today in the United States district court in New York city in an effort to carry out a monopoly judgment entered against Alcoa in 1945.

The proceedings are aimed at compelling Alcoa to give up some of its various plants and properties "to establish competitive conditions in the aluminum industry."

In response to questions, officials told newspaper men the department is not seeking a dissolution of the Corporation. It desires to bring about a reduction in Alcoa's field of operations, they said.

Blame US Citizen For Peron Plot

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24. — (AP)—The government said today that a United States citizen had headed an unsuccessful plot to assassinate President Juan D. Peron and his wife, Eva Duarte Peron, next month.

A communique identified him as 58-year-old John Griffith, former cultural attache of the United States Embassy here, who was expelled from Argentina last April for alleged participation in a bank clerks' strike in Buenos Aires. He now is living in Uruguay.

The government said several persons, including three Argentine navy chaplains, a former deputy in the national congress and two physicians, have been arrested in connection with the plot.

The plot called for the assassination of Peron and his wife next Oct. 12 as they were to have left the Colon Theatre here after a performance, the government said. No details were revealed.

Those arrested, the statement said, held meetings during the last two months in the building of the Civil Aeronautics Board to make their plans.

South Africa May Quit UN Charge Big 4 Break Faith

PARIS, Sept. 24.—(CP).—South Africa charged today the great powers broke faith with the small countries and threatened to reconsider her membership in UN if there is not a change.

E. H. Louw, South African minister of economic affairs, told the General Assembly that "if the organization of the United Nations continues on the road it followed during the past two years, the question will later have to be faced whether consideration in our own national interests is compatible with continued membership in the organization."

He charged the General Assembly is being used for "ideological propaganda and for poisoning relations between European and non-European races of the world."

He asserted that small powers which accepted the UN charter in San Francisco had shown an "act of faith" in the five great powers.

"Failure to carry out these obligations in the spirit in which they were conferred and accepted," he said, "would amount to a breach of faith—betrayal of the faith which the smaller nations showed in the great powers by agreeing to accept the charter."

The misgivings which the small powers had expressed when they accepted the veto privilege of the five powers had been justified.

South Africa herself has flouted two UN resolutions in failing to compose her differences with India over the treatment of Indian Nationals in the Union and her refusal to comply with a UN request to turn over mandated southwest Africa to UN trusteeship.

Louw referred indirectly to these disputes when he expressed "serious misgivings" over "attempts which have, and are still being made, both in the councils of the organization and in the Assembly, to interfere in the domestic affairs of member states."

Worst Tie-Up Country Has Known

Public Transport Paralyzed; Paris Travels On Foot

PARIS, Sept. 24.—(CP).—Between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 French trade unionists stopped work promptly at 4 p.m. today in response to the two-hour general strike call of the three big trade union federations.

Observers said it would be the most widespread and thorough strike France has ever known.

It was called in protest against new taxes imposed by Premier Henri Queuille's government and against the sharp increase in the cost of living in the large cities of France.

Called originally by the non-Communist force Ouvriere and the Christian unions, with 2,500,000 members, it was joined by the Communist-led Confederation Generale D Travail, which has about 3,000,000 members.

The strike was maintained despite Thursday night's announcement by Queuille's government of a general wage increase of 15 per cent.

Transport Strike

While the strike was called for two hours only, Paris was experiencing a 24-hour strike of public transport.

No underground railway trains ran today. Public bus lines were also halted, though suburban railway lines were running as usual up to 4 p.m.

The transport strike meant that 5,000,000 persons had to use bicycles, taxis, private cars or hastily-improvised services of trucks to get to and from work.

The two-hour general strike sharpened the effect of the transport strike by suddenly bringing thousands of factory hands, office workers and shop assistants on the streets all at the same hour, instead of at the usual staggered hours of stoppage between four and six o'clock.

By mid-morning the transport strike was 100-per-cent effective. Among those who found themselves afoot were 5,000 visitors to Paris attached to the United Nations General Assembly. Official U.N. vehicles were unable to carry them all.

Communist and non-Communist union chiefs called the walkout as a warning to Premier Henri Queuille's government that they want higher wages and lower living costs.

Despite the dramatic aspect of the labor protest, the French cabinet began the day with a new, and at least temporary lease on life.

Queuille quelled a political revolt in the National Assembly Thursday by pushing through the postponement of local elections from October until next March. The assembly voted 302 to 276 to postpone the elections.

Thus appeased, the Socialists in the council of the republic—Upper House of Parliament—joined in endorsing Queuille's 80,000,000,000 franc ($260,000,000) revenue-raising plan.

Three Policemen Kill Detroit Man In Duel

DETROIT, Sept. 24 (CP). — Three policemen today shot and killed a gunman in a pistol duel in which 15 shots were exchanged.

The dead man is Walter Powell, 30. He was killed, after he had fired a bullet at Willie Cummins, 30, while Cummins was standing on Woodward Ave. Cummins was not hit.

Patrolmen Ray Sikora, Robert Condo and Conrad Koski of Woodward station heard the shot. They saw Cummins lying flat on the sidewalk and an automobile speeding away.

The officers overtook the car and ordered it to the curb. Sikora jumped out and ordered the occupant, Powell, to come out with "hands up." Instead, Powell opened his car door and fired twice at Sikora. The bullets went through the open cruiser door.

Sikora, Condo and Koski opened fire in unison and Powell slumped to the street dead, four bullets in his body. Cummins told police Powell had threatened to kill him after a quarrel Tuesday.

More Hydro Hysteria

TORONTO, Sept. 24 (CP). —Any municipality in the Hydro's southern Ontario system which "consistently fails to keep within its daily quota of electrical energy" will have its power cut off hourly for a period not exceeding 15 minutes each hour of the day from daylight to dark.

Announcement of the measure was made today by Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, because of the worsening power situation across the province.

Hydro regional managers will receive orders by Monday to keep a close watch on all commissions and relay the Ontario Commission's threat where conditions warrant it.

Windsor Refuses To Pull Any Switches

WINDSOR, Sept. 24.—(CP). — Warren P. Bolton, chairman of the Windsor Utilities Commission, today told a special Hydro meeting that the chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, Robert Saunders, has been informed that the city "is not cutting off its power until further notice."

During today's meeting of the Hydro, industrial and labor officials, Mayor Arthur J. Reaume sent a telegram to Mr. Saunders which stated that although Windsor is definitely over its Hydro quota of 636,500 kilowatt hours a day, "there will be no more switch pulling." The message suggested that an overall policy be established and "leadership given by H.E.P.C."

There have been eight Hydro cuts in the city the last two days, each for a period of a half an hour. Domestic and commercial areas were affected and although industry was warned it might have to go without power, services to these areas were never disrupted.

Won't Take Responsibility

Mr. Bolton said the WCU is not going to take the responsibility for "pulling" switches, "when in Toronto and Hamilton more than quota power is being used and switches are not being pulled." This city is being penalized for trying to live up to HEPC regulations."

J. Clark Keith, general manager of the WUC, said he advised Mr. Saunders today that until such time when other industrial areas such as Toronto and Hamilton, come within their quotas, "there will be further switch pulling here."

Mr. Saunders replied, "I can hardly blame you," Mr. Keith said.

Windsor power stations and sub-stations have been ordered not to pull switches again.

Israel To Use Force To Resist UN Control

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP).—A high Jewish official said Thursday Israel is prepared to use force to resist United Nations control of Jerusalem, recommended by the late Count Bernadotte. Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, chairman of the American section of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, said in a statement the 90,000 Jews in Jerusalem would not be safe in an area "under nominal control of the United Nations" but surrounded by Arab territory.

Russian Ack-Ack Gunners Plan To Fire High In Allied Air Corridor

Ban Russian Publications In US Zone As Retaliatory Measure; Protest Stunting 'Yak' Near Transport

BERLIN, Sept. 24—(AP).—Russian anti-aircraft gunners plan to fire "dangerously high" in practice today in the Anglo-American air lift corridor to blockaded Berlin, the Americans charged in a protest. The Russians also announced they would conduct bombing and fighter firing practice in the corridor, the Americans said.

Asked what precautions they would take to protect traffic, the Russians said that when their own planes appeared, they would stop shooting.

In another development of the battle for Berlin, the United States military government banned all Soviet-sponsored newspapers and other publications from the American zone of Germany. This was in reprisal for Soviet banning of Western-licensed publications in the Soviet zone and the Russian sector of Berlin.

BERLIN — (AP). — The Russians threw anti-aircraft fire into the crowded Berlin air corridor today, but didn't hit anything. The Anglo-American air lift to blockaded Berlin kept right on running.

The Americans protested to the Russians yesterday against a stunting Soviet Yak fighter plane which flew dangerously close to an American transport carrying 30 persons from Berlin to Frankfurt.

On the political front, the war over the newspapers nullified a four-power agreement reached at the Moscow Foreign Ministers' conference in 1947, for free exchange of information throughout the four occupation zones.

The American action, in effect a counter-embargo, was signed by Maj.-Gen. George P. Hays, deputy United States military governor.

American officials said Hays acted after he had sent repeated protests to the Russians against the blocking of western-zone publications from the Soviet zone.

It was not learned immediately whether Britain would take a parallel action.

Hays' order was understood not to include the British sector of Berlin.

Protest Fighter

The U.S. embargo was slapped on as American authorities disclosed they have protested to the Russians that a stunting Yak fighter plane flew dangerous close to an American transport in the air corridor between Berlin and Frankfurt.

American officials said the fighter pulled up to between 15 and 25 feet of the transport, which was carrying 30 passengers to Frankfurt. The Yak flew alongside at wing-tip formation for several minutes, then pulled far off to do stunting rolls, they said

First Autumn Snow Falls In Alberta

CALGARY, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Alberta's first autumn snowfall Thursday brought field operations to a halt in the foothills district and in other parts of Northern and Southern Alberta. Centre of the storm was around Penhold and Rocky Mountain House, about half-way between Edmonton and Calgary.

Import 15 Million Pounds Butter To Ease Shortage

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—(CP). — Trade Minister Howe announced today the completion of arrangements for purchase of an additional 6,000,000 pounds of Danish and Australian butter, bringing the total butter imports for this winter to 15,000,000 pounds.

Of the 15,000,000 pounds, 11,000,000 pounds will come from Denmark and 2,000,000 each from Australia and New Zealand.

Mr. Howe said the imported butter will sell at Canadian price ceilings.

Arrive in October

The first shipment will arrive in Canada in October and the total quantity is to be delivered by the end of January. The 15,000,000 pounds are expected to take care of the minimum requirements during the seasonal shortage in this country.

The Canadian Commercial Corporation, the agency through which the butter is being purchased, will make all sales to the wholesale trade under direction of the Prices Board.

Israel Reports Arab Legion Launches Attack

TEL AVIV, Sept. 24 (Reuters) —An Israeli military spokesman said tonight that Arab Legion forces attacked and captured Jewish-held heights east of Lydda this morning, but Israeli forces later counter-attacked and recaptured them.

The attacks were on heights near Midya, six miles east of Lydda.

At the same time Arab 20-pounder guns began shelling the Jewish "Burma Road" in the Latrun area, the spokesman said. Jewish artillery counter-shelled and halted Arab traffic on the road between Latrun and Ramallah.

Sporadic shelling continued in this area, he said.

Israeli sources said that Arab troops had violated the 10-week-old truce in attacking the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem lifeline—the so-called Burma road—won by the Jews in the week of fierce fighting "between the truces."

Arab forces, these sources said, are based on the Latrun area dominating the highway along which the Jews run food convoys to the Holy City.

An Israeli military spokesman today said that a "full investigation is being made into Arab charges that the plane, in which two British correspondents were killed Thursday, was shot down by a Jewish fighter.

Recapture Two Cobourg Girls

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 24 (CP). —Two juveniles who escaped from the Cobourg training school for girls on July 8 have been apprehended by local and provincial police.

One was arrested Wednesday at Prescott, 12 miles east of here, in a car in which she had obtained a ride from Ottawa. The other girl was apprehended here Thursday in a restaurant.

10 Persons Wounded As Police Open Fire

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 24 — (AP).—Special police fired into a downtown mass meeting early today and wounded 10 persons. The crowd assembled after attending a civic meeting called to form an organization to oppose foreign exploitation of Brazil's oil.

Military police later restored order by driving the special police away. The special police corps is a specially-trained riot squad organized under former President Getulio Varggas to disperse anti-government demonstrations. They have been seen in action only twice before the last two years.

83 Die In Battle

MANILA, Sept. 24 — (AP)— Eighty-three persons were killed in a 10-hour battle, the bloodiest clash so far between the constabulary and Communist-led Hukbalahaps, the Manila bulletin says today. The fight took place Thursday 75 miles north of Manila. The bulletin says 81 Huks were killed, including five women of the "Amazon" combat detachment. Two special police were killed.

Urge Canada Aid Britain To Maximum

Spent 20 Billion Financing Early Stages Of War

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Sept. 24 — (CP). — An Australian diplomat said to-day it was the duty of all Commonwealth countries "to give maximum assistance to the United Kingdom during the present financial and industrial crisis."

Rt. Hon. Francis M Forde, the Australian High Commissioner to Canada, said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Canadian Club:

"It is perhaps not generally realized that Great Britain's almost single-handed struggle against Germany.... caused her to lose more than $20,000,000,000 in financing the early stages of the war.

"We believe, therefore, that it is the duty of Australia and the other countries of the Commonwealth to give maximum assistance...."

He said that for the year ending June 30, Australia exported to Britain 178,000 tons of frozen meat, 185,000 pounds of butter, 51,000,000 pounds of cheese, and 106,000,000 pounds of milk and cream.

Find Prices Mixed In Dull Trading

TORONTO, Sept. 24—(CP). — Prices were irregularly mixed in dull trading today on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Industrials showed a slightly firmer tone and a few golds edged upwards. Base metals and western oils were quiet and steady.

Most groups strengthened in industrials but gains remained in narrow range as trading slackened. Canadian Vickers Pfd., touching a high for the third successive day, was up 3½ at 189½. Westeel also reached a high for the year at 34¾, up ¾. Foods, papers, liquors and steels were among better gainers.

Junior golds showed a little brightness on gains ranging up to 10 cents. San Antonio, Preston, Pickle Crow, Macassa, Kirkland Lake, Bordulac and Giant Yellowknife were among gainers. Hollinger dipped 10 cents in the seniors.

Consolidated Smelters, Falconbridge, Gulf Lead, Osisko, Waite Amulet, Steep Rock and Sherritt were among losers in a dull base metals list.

Atlantic Ships Menaced By Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24 — (AP). — A tricky but powerful hurricane sped up the Atlantic today, menacing shipping off the eastern United States seaboard.

Still packing 75-mile-an-hour winds over a 50-mile radius, the storm that battered Cuba and Florida picked up forward movement as it bowled northeastern-ward in the open sea.

It moved forward at 35 miles an hour after lumbering through Florida at only eight miles an hour.

All shipping in the storm's path was advised to use caution and small craft was warned to remain in port.

Latest advisory from the Miami Weather Bureau placed the hurrican centre approximately midway between the United States mainland and Bermuda. It passed 300 miles east southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., and was due to pass about 300 miles to the northwest of Bermuda.

The island resort took precautions against high winds. Planes flew to fields in the United States. Yachts sought shelter. Residents were still repairing damage from a previous storm two weeks ago.

Meanwhile, Florida cleaned up debris and counted three dead in the wake of the storm, all in the Miami area. One was electrocuted, another blown from a roof and a third apparently drowned.

Damage to property, including the state's fruit and vegetable crops, was estimated at $25,000,000. Key West and the Florida Keys were hardest hit.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24 — (CP). — Coarse grain futures continued to show a firm tone on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with milling interests today heavy buyers in oats, while demand in barley was general.

Offerings in oats were liberal, but light in barley during moderately active trade.

Light buying by American accounts gave rye futures a better tone as offerings continued light.

Odd hedging in flax was well taken by crusher demand and prices remained steady around the previous close.

Prices:

Oats—Oct. ⅜ higher at 74½; Dec. ⅜ higher at 70⅛b; May ⅛ higher at 72b.

Barley—Oct. ⅜ higher at $1.07¼; Dec. 1¼-1⅛ higher at $1.01⅛a; May ¼ higher-unchanged at $1.08⅜.

Rye—Oct. ⅛ higher at $1.47⅛b, Dec. ⅜ higher at $1.46⅜b; May ⅝ higher at $1.49¾b.

Flax — Nov. unchanged at $4.00½a; Dec. ¼ lower at $4.00½a; May unchanged at $4.02½b.

Inspections: Wheat this year 693; last year 635; cars of contract 552; oats 156-1488; barley 233-219; flax 101-23; rye 42-56; other grains 5-12; total 1230-1093.

The officials added the fighter later returned to fly alongside the transport.

Meanwhile, German press reports said, the Russians are reconstructing Brandis Airport at Leipzig in the Soviet zone under a rush program in which they are reported to be employing about 1,000 German workmen. The airfield was destroyed by the Soviet Union after the war.

When reconstructed it is expected to serve the amplified air forces which the Russians have been reported moving into Germany during the increasing east-west tension.

May Quit UN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP). —United States officials are wondering whether Russia is getting ready to quit the United Nations.

A possible hint that she may do so was contained in the latest radio blast from Moscow. It accused the United States of seeking to "torpedo the United Nations."

It followed another veiled intimation by Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, at the UN General Assembly in Paris, that Russia might pull out of the world organization.

The Moscow radio made the "torpedoing" charge in a French-language broadcast to Europe recorded by government monitors and distributed to officials here.

Walter Dinesen CCF President

Walter Dinesen was re-elected president and Maurice E. Ketcheson vice-president at the CCF annual meeting Thursday night in K. of C. hall.

John Morton, Wm. Whibbs and J. H. Miles were elected to the executive for new year, and Mr. Ketcheson as Peterborough riding representative to the provincial council.

The delegates to the provincial convention in Toronto Oct. 7-9 are John Morton, W. J. Whibbs, Clayton Fee and J. Howard Miles, with Mrs. Howard Johnston and Mr. Ketcheson as alternates.

The meeting considered the preliminary of the provincial convention and instructed delegates to support an amendment to the constitution barring supporters of any other political party from membership in the CCF. The present section bars the members of any other political groups, and the amendment is designed to add strength to this position.

Delegates were also instructed to support the 43rd resolution in the provincial convention list. It is as follows: whereas our present system of marketing milk is bound to cause competition between producers themselves and also shortages of some dairy products, this convention urges the provincial government to implement the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Milk, and to follow the British system whereby all milk is handled through a milk board, and the dairy farmer gets the same price for his milk regardless of its ultimate use.

The meeting also approved resolution 46 that whereas the Ontario government has committed itself to accept the national labor code, and because this code does not meet with the approval of the Canadian labor movement, be it resolved that the convention urge the government to reconsider its decision and enact a trade union act similar to that which has been passed in Saskatchewan. The opinion of the CCF is that the Saskatchewan act recognizes the dignity and rights of labor, provides union security and that its scope is long overdue in Ontario.

There are 76 resolutions to go before the provincial convention. A special committee of the local CCF has reviewed all of them, but brought only a few of them to the attention of the meeting.

U.S. Navy Force Sails To China

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(AP).—United States Naval Task Force 38, operating with two carriers and supporting warships, will sail for Far East ports, including China, Oct. 1.

Navy spokesmen said the carriers Tarawa and Princeton and their screening craft would be on a "regularly scheduled routine cruise," visiting the "usual ports" of Yokosuka in Japan and Tsingtao in Chna.

It is expected one or perhaps two destroyer divisions (a division normally consists of four ships) and about three cruisers will accompany the 27,000-ton Essex Class carriers.

Navy spokesmen said, in answer to a question, that the task force is not sailing because of any emergency. Nor did they associate the orders with a situation described in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Caused Disturbance Pays $10 Fine

"Oh, a little argument," was the answer of John Clarke of 494 McKellar St., when he was asked by Magistrate Philp in court today as to the cause of a disturbance in a Simcoe St. lunch-counter Thursday night. Clarke was fined $10 and $2.50 costs on his guilty plea.

Police Inspector James F. Reid told the court that the accused had broken a salt-shaker in the establishment, and "was throwing the contents of two ketchup bottles all over the place."

Permitted by the officer to be taken home by relatives, the inspector continued that Clarke had got out of the car and returned to the lunch counter "where he started all over again."

"That's no way to have an argument, Clarke," said His Worship.

Outside the bank, Lefebvre flagged down Constables Duranleau and Paquin who happened to be cruising by in a patrol car.

As the constables alighted from the car, Lefebvre said one of the gunmen inside spotted them and started firing from inside the bank door, his companion right behind.

Duranleau, hit four times, slumped to the sidewalk, dead. Paquin drove forward, his gun blazing, but fell on the bank steps, wounded five times. He died en route to hospital.

Cooperation Cuts Plant Accidents

Co-operation of management and employees has been one of the effective means of reducing industrial accidents at the Quaker Oats mill, Mr. L. H. Ingram, vice-president of the company, said Wednesday night at a meeting of the Oshawa Industrial Accident Prevention Association.

The company recently received a certificate of having 800,000 consecutive hours of plant operation and production without an accident that caused lost time. Prizes for the factory division with the best records were another medium of interest in a general program of crusading for safety.

Frank Dawson Dies Suddenly

A former Peterborough merchant, Frank H. Dawson, 571 Water St., died suddenly on Thursday in Smiths Falls. He was born in the city and lived here all his life. He was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dawson and husband of the former Edna Frances Armstrong.

Besides his wife he leaves one daughter, Mrs. J. D. Paterson (Frances) of Woodbridge and one son Harold of Peterborough. There are also two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Armstrong (Elsie) of Toronto and Mrs. D. A. Loucks (Phyllis) and a brother, R. Vernon, both of this city.

Mr. Dawson was a former member of the Board of Education. He was past warden of All Saints' Anglican Church, past master of Corinthian Lodge No. 101, A.F. and A.M., and a 32nd Degree Scottish Rite.

Funeral service will be held at All Saints' Anglican Church on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite, assisted by Canon J. D. Paterson, will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Grain Shipments Bigger Than '47

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 24 (CP) —From western Canada's rich prairies, grain by the millions of bushels is flowing into the Lakehead and spilling into waiting elevators.

More than 40,000,000 bushels of wheat, oats and barley already have poured into the storage bins, and the peak of the movement will not be reached until next month.

Railway officials here report that so far this fall shipments from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta exceed those of the corresponding period of 1947.

Since the beginning of September, the railways have carried approximately 42,000,000 bushels of grain to the Lakehead's 26 terminal elevators—or 21,096 freight car loads. At the corresponding period of 1947, shipments aggregated 19,819 car loads.

Crops from the three western provinces mingled in shipments to Lakehead elevators. But so far Manitoba had sent the largest quantity.

One official associated with the movement termed Manitoba's 1948 harvest "extraordinary."

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press.

OTTAWA—None of the controversial Polish "art treasures" was included in a consignment of Polish property shipped to Poland from Halifax Sunday, a government spokesman said. He said there had been no change in the status of the national treasures, brought to Canada for safekeeping during the war and sought by the Communist-dominated Polish government for the last two years.

FORT ERIE—Detailed plans for Fort Erie's new $75,000 New York Central Depot were announced. To be situated just west of the present structure near the Canadian end of the International railway bridge, it will be of the California Mission type style, 135 feet long and 40 feet wide.

CHICAGO—The Federal Bureau of Investigation Wednesday night arrested John Lepman, 26, indicted in Santa Fe, N.M., on charges of violating the Atomic Energy Act by, the FBI said, stealing "classified papers." Lepman is charged with stealing government property and with violating the Atomic Energy Act, both federal offences.

"Green Cure" Unsound

VICTORIA, — The "Green arthritis cure," on which many arthritic victims pinned hope for relief, Thursday was declared "unsound" in a report of a British Columbia government-appointed committee. The committee was appointed to investigate the claims of Lou F. Green of Port Alberni, BC, that he had found a method of treating arthritics.

WASHINGTON. — Lt.-Gen. Izydor Modelski, military attache of the Polish Embassy, said he has refused an order of the Communist government of Poland to return home. Instead, he said, he is asking the United States government to grant asylum for himself and his family.

SIMCOE.—J. K. Perrett, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario flue-cured tobacco marketing board, said there is no surplus of either flue-cured or burley tobacco in Canada. He was commenting on a Liverpool dispatch quoting a Canadian tobacco man as saying he was sailing for home "a bitterly disappointed man," because he couldn't sell 21,000,000 pounds of surplus tobacco to cigarette-starved Britain. The dollar shortage was given as the reason.

NEW YORK.—Prime Minister John Costello of Eire said war between Russia and the Western Powers is not inevitable. As he sailed aboard the liner Britannic, he said the fact that the United States, "the most powerful nation in the world," has assumed leadership is the "greatest guarantee we have for peace."

LONDON, Eng.—T. C. Douglas, CCF Premier of Saskatchewan, arrived here by air Thursday to attend Empire Parliamentary Association meetings. He was accompanied by Attorney-General James McLenaghen, acting as deputy for Stuart S. Garson, Premier of Manitoba. M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCF party, his daughter Margaret and William Irvine, CCF member of the House of Commons for Cariboo, arrived earlier Thursday.

SUDBURY.—Ontario Chamber of Commerce secretaries will gather for their second annual meeting. More than 25 secretaries from as far west as Port Arthur, east to Ottawa and south to Niagara Falls are expected for the three-day session.

ALBANY, Calif. — Edward Silbon, for more than half a century one of the world's prominent trapeze artists, died at his home. He was 80.

Special Patrols

PASADENA, Calif. — Police assigned special patrols to the Santa Fe Railroad tracks here and in South Pasadena, over which Governor Thomas Dewey's special train will travel. Two rocks, a 10-foot ladder and a flagstone were discovered on the tracks in downtown Pasadena.

OMAHA — In the closest election contest in the union's history, L. S. Buckmaster of Akron, O., was named to his fourth term as general president of the United Rubber Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America (C.I.O.). Buckmaster, 53, received 810 votes to 808 for George R. Bass, 43, Akron.

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Rita Johnson probably will not have to undergo a second brain operation, her physician said Thursday. However, she will not be able to explain the cause of her head injury for a month or two. Police investigators believe she was struck on the head by a heavy hair drier.

WASHINGTON — A new, atomic-energy method of detecting abnormalities of the human heart was described by scientists. Called "radiocardiography," it involves use of radio-active sodium injected into the blood stream. "Signals" given off by the ray-emitting sodium enable doctors to trace the flow of blood through the chamber of the heart.

BAGHDAD, Iraq. — Shafiq Ades, described as an Iraqi millionaire, was publicly hanged after being convicted of supplying arms and war equipment to Zionists.

HAMBURG — More than 800 displaced persons and refugees, including 32 Jewish orphans from the American and French zones of Austria, left for Canada this week in the American ship General W. C. Langfitt. The ship also took many dependents of displaced persons already in Canada.

DURING THE RECENT VISIT of a small detachment of Canadian troops to Belgium in connection with liberation day ceremonies, a memorial was unveiled at Zeezruges in honor of the 12th Manitoba Dragoons who played a vital role in the liberation of that town some four years ago. Cpl. L. E. Osler, left, of Toronto, a member of the Royal Regiment of Canada, and SQMS R. V. Andrews of Virden, Manitoba, from the Manitoba Dragoons; and a little Belgian girl stand in front of the memorial after the ceremony.

Successful Fair

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 24 — (Special)—The county fair sponsored by the Seymour Agricultural Society and staged at Campbellford was featured by trotting races which combined with ideal weather conditions attracted large crowds.

All classes of heavy draft, general purpose and carriage horses were well filled. Cattle exhibits which included Jersey, Guernsey, Ayrshire and Holsteins exceeded all former years. There was also a decided increase in the displays of home cooking, needlecraft, plants and flowers and high school art.

Toronto Couple Buy Cobourg Hotel

COBOURG, Sept. 24 (ENS).—The British Hotel, which was sold Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stephens of Toronto, will be managed jointly by the couple. Mrs. Stephens is a graduate of Westminster Ladies' College and the University of Toronto. She is executive-secretary of the Advertising and Sales Club of Toronto and statistician with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, and has been representing, up until now, the William P. Wolfe Hotel organization of New York, as their Canadian representative. She is also Canadian representative of Bermuda Hotels, Incorporated, and was born in Toronto.

Mr. Stephens is a certified accountant of England and a graduate of Harrowgate.

The recent owner of the British, Lester Caughey, will remain in Cobourg, having purchased the David Smythe residence on George Street which he will convert into five apartments.

Tireless Benefactor

MONTREAL — (CP). — As good a friend as Montreal's McGill University ever had is Edward Plunket Taylor, Toronto tycoon and chairman of the University's Alma Mater Fund. Since last February Mr. Taylor has flown 20,000 miles in his own airplane to boost the fund.

Cobourg Residence Damaged By Fire

COBOURG, Sept. 24 (ENS).—Fire, believed caused by electrical equipment, caused some damage at the residence of Mrs. Claire Duffy last night around 10 o'clock but was discovered in time to extinguish it readily. The blaze centred in a back kitchen of the frame dwelling and was detected by Miss Doreta Jaynes, who was upstairs near the back of the building. She spread the alarm and all the occupants left safely. In the house, about to retire were Mrs. Duffy, Mrs. G. S. Jeffery and Miss Monica Thompson. The confined fire heated the entire rear part of the house almost to the ignition point but it was put out by the fire department within a short time.

Most Canadians To Gain Hour

By The Canadian Press

Most Canadians will gain an extra hour this week-end as clocks go back an hour with the end of daylight time across the country.

A Canadian Press survey shows that clocks hands will move back Saturday midnight or early Sunday morning in most places. In Belleville the change will be made Monday morning.

Noteable exception is Alberta where Daylight Saving Time was banned for the whole province. Albertans will continue to get up at the same time they have all summer.

So will residents of Renfrew, but there it was decided to continue Daylight Saving Time until Feb. 26 to conserve electric power.

Continuation of "fast" time is also expected in Fredericton. Mayor Ray T. Forbes predicted little opposition when council discusses the question tonight.

Definite Postponement For The City Hall

Several times during the past few months the City Council has expressed doubt that city finances can stand the burden which they must bear between now and 1951. The Examiner has taken the view that things are not so bad as the councillors think; nevertheless we admit readily that the program of expense is a demanding one. It is perfectly clear, however, that some of the jobs on the list are more pressing than others, and perhaps the least pressing is the building of a new City Hall. Why not, therefore, take that job off the list and give the matter a hoist until 1951?

* * *

The money to build the City Hall is already available, for it is a bequest, and we do not think that the executors of the late W. G. Morrow would object to a postponement if the situation were explained to them. But a site must be bought for the new building, and public opinion strongly favours the city block which lies between Victoria Park and Confederation Square. The purchase of that property would be a costly undertaking. We feel that most citizens would rather see the City Hall on that site at a later date, than put on a less desirable site within the next two or three years.

* * *

Is there any legal or practical reason why the City cannot expropriate that property now—to earmark it, that is to say, for future purchase at a price decided upon by a neutral, expert valuer? Having expropriated the property and decided upon the price, the matter could then be left in abeyance until 1951, when City finances may not be so heavily burdened.

* * *

There are City projects, too well known to need enumeration here, which should be completed at the earliest possible date. The new City Hall is not an immediately pressing matter, though crowding in the present building is undignified and inconvenient. But the people of Peterborough would gladly wait a few years for their City Hall if they knew that it would be built in the right place when its time came.

Unions Dictate Foreign Policy

The government of Australia finds itself in a curious position in respect to its foreign policy. For two and a half years the Seamen's Union (which includes the stevedores who load and unload ships) have refused to permit Dutch or Indonesian shipping to touch at Australian ports, for the Union disapproved of Dutch colonial policy. A few Dutch ships called at Australia, but always under difficulties and sometimes at the cost of rioting, boarding and attempts at incendiarism. The result has been the ruin of Australia's Indonesian trade, and a loss of millions of pounds worth of foreign credits.

Now the Seamen's Union has put a ban on Greek ships touching at Australian ports; the Union does not approve of the way to Greek government deals with political prisoners.

Nobody disputes the right of the Union members to hold their own political views, but it seems very strange that in a democratic state (even though it is a socialist state) a group of people who have no responsibility to the people as a whole, and who cannot be deposed by the electors, should dictate the foreign policy, and destroy trade which the country badly needs.

In the past many countries have suffered shamefully from capitalist interference in government; now we are presented with the interesting spectacle of a country which is suffering heavily from the interference of trade unions in its government. The capitalists have cleaned house during the past century; how long will it be before labour does the same?

We grow tired of hearing people boast about the cakes that Mother used to make. Don't they ever reflect how much those cakes owed to the dough that Dad used to pull down?

The Cobourg Story

Cobourg, an old lady in comparison with Peterborough, celebrated her 150th birthday this summer. To memorialize the town, a history Cobourg 1780-1948 was prepared under the auspices of the Cobourg Historical Sketch Committee. Its author is the well-known writer on Upper Canadian history, Edwin C. Guillet, though various reminiscent articles were contributed by local people.

The book is a valuable historical compilation. Through the research of the author and with the co-operation of Cobourg citizens with long memories or family records, names, incidents and the atmosphere of other days have been preserved from the oblivion into which too many other Ontario districts have dropped their worthy past. The author says in the Preface:

"We have tried...to describe not only the life of the town but its liveliness; to bring once more before our eyes the vivid pageantry of old times; to avoid hearsay and propaganda, and record facts and reliable impressions; and to give every man as much as he deserves".

This intention has been admirably fulfilled. It is reliable as history, readable as a story and lively as a picture book.

Peterborough readers will find it hardly less engrossing than Cobourg readers, for the two communities have had a long association in country government, business, families (the names brought to life are almost as familiar in Peterborough as in Cobourg) and in cultural activities. Though we have had no Victoria College, no "Bijou Dream Theatre" (the town's first movie house), no wife-slayer as notorious as Dr. King, no succession of famous folk in our midst as notable as Egerton Ryerson, Lampman, Marie Dressler, Katherine Cornell, Beatrice Lillie, we have shared Rice Lake, Hiawatha, the County Council, and the Peterborough-Cobourg Railway, which Mr. Guillet writes of at length.

The sponsors of the book are justly proud of the illustrations. They are extraordinarily numerous for a history of this kind and greatly enhance the text. To see the faces of the 'Female Preceptress of Upper Canada Academy' (1836-42), of Mayor William Kerr (1868-73), of Fire Captain William Jex (1857), of the harbour in the '70's, is to know Cobourg better.

The book is a challenge to Peterborough which will be celebrating its centenary in two years. If the Professional Women's Club of Cobourg can sponsor a 250-page book of this quality and sell it for one dollar in paper covers or two dollars in linen (plus postage of 25 cents), can Peterborough do nothing to bring its past to the eyes and hearts of its citizens in 1950?

The Good Old Butter Days

Ten years ago today our leading editorial was headed: "We Have Too Much Butter". There were 61,028,000 pounds of butter in storage and we said then that "the prospects are that by the end of September that figure will be increased to a point which will show we have 14,000,000 more pounds of butter on hand than we had one year ago". Faced by this doleful situation we suggested that we must export more, and saturate the British market — though there were no scarcity there — before New Zealand and Australia dumped more of their butter into the U.K. First grade creamery butter was then selling in Peterborough at 24 cents a pound.

Today instead of trying to persuade Britain to buy butter from us rather than from New Zealand, we are trying to get New Zealand to ship to us rather than to Britain. New Zealand is still able to export butter because her butter production has been maintained and the home folk there may eat margarine if they wish—margarine manufactured in New Zealand. It seems sensible to urge that our butter production be raised to at least the 1938 level and that we encourage and permit the sale of margarine, instead of making frantic efforts to import from Denmark, Australia and New Zealand.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Examiner has ever been a champion of prison reform, but we assume no more than typographical responsibility for the amenity suggested in a news story we published on Monday: "Two convicts who escaped from Collins Bay penitentiary near here today were captured this afternoon in a bar just inside the prison property". A barn on a prison farm, yes; but a bar—that seems a bit unreformative.

Mayor McCallum of Toronto last week urged housewives to adopt Friday as wash-day during the power shortage. A day or two later, ex-Mayor Saunders of Toronto, now Chairman of the Hydro Commission, pondered publicly the possibility of making Friday one of the two days for cutting the current to the water heaters. Get together, boys, your wires are crossed.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: Don't you think it's rather indecent to be talking about Princess Elizabeth's baby before it is born? I was sorry to see you writing in your column (10 September) about it. You are very public about a sacred private matter.

ANSWER: It seems to be indecent for people to think that pregnancy is unmentionable, and to smirk and gossip about in private. What is indecent about birth which is later proclaimed a 'joyous' or a 'blessed' event? Times and moral quiddities change. In Victorian times women had no legs; they had—if the outer extremities had to be referred to at all—limbs. Sweet, modest, innocent Victorian wives bore nothing as carnal as babies; the infants appeared on the day of birth as divine gifts. The morals of society change. The other evening I was present at a small gathering when one of the young ladies, smiling happily, announced for no observable reason: "Congratulate me, everybody, I'm going to have a baby by Christmas". The congratulations were unconfined. This is a healthy change from powder-room gossip.

Royalty has never been as coy about the birth of children as the subjects of the Crown. When the conception of a Dutch royal child is announced, it is the talk of the realm. In the lusty time of Harry the Eighth there was no prissiness about anticipating birth—his Court counted the days after each marriage. Queen Victoria's children arrived more primly than Henry's, but since the birth of a prince is a state concern and not merely a family affair, her children's arrivals were heralded, if discreetly. The prospect of Princess Elizabeth's birth in 1926 was not made public by official announcement, King George V deciding that to do so would violate good taste. However, good taste was sufficiently modified when her sister Margaret was born, for Peterborough heard about it during the advent.

QUESTION: What is Mayor Oven's salary?

ANSWER: His salary as a business man is neither your business nor mine. For his services as Mayor he receives annual emoluments of $2,500. That is a large sum compared with the mayor's stipend in 1866—$400. It is small considering the time and work extracted from the mayor in this year of grace, though it is comparable to the salaries received by mayors of other cities of Peterborough's size (Kitchener, St. Catharines, Brantford, and the like). Kingston's mayor receives only $2,000, but he has 21 aldermen around him to help with the chores and confound confusion. Our mayoralty salary until the war was $1,000. A long-overdue rise to $2,000 was granted at the beginning of the war; the latest rise to $2,500 came in 1946. Our ten aldermen receive $500 a year, with a $10 deduction every time they play hookey from a council meeting.

WHAT do you think a Canadian is? The other week you wrote about the tradition of Peterborough having had a negro mayor. You said: "In its time Peterborough has had full-blooded mayors, but the blood has, as far as I know, been neither negroid nor Indian; just Canadian". What do you mean? Can't an Indian be a Canadian? Maybe you are the type of person who thinks that even French-Canadians are not Canadian. I'll bet half the mayors of Peterborough have been more Scotch or English than "just Canadian".

RESPONSE: —chastened. I admit to a slip of the pen, and take the opportunity to say that I am not the kind of Canadian who calls French-Canadians "frogs". I am reminded of an account I saw earlier this month of police court proceedings in York County. Three men were before Magistrate O. M. Martin (a brigadier during the war), in an assault case. One had called the others foreigners. Magistrate Martin said: "This is a country of many nationalities and people should not go around calling one another foreigners". He added with a smile "As far as that goes, you are all foreigners—except me". Magistrate Martin is himself a full-flooded Six-Nations Indian.

QUESTION: Do you think it is a good thing to have a college education?

ANSWER: That depends on the college, the education and the person exposed to it. Louis Vincent Sapatannen must have thougnt it a good thing. He was the first Canadian ever to be granted a B.A. Dartmouth College, New Hampshire conferred it on him in 1781. He was a Huron Indian. History doesn't show that he cut much ice in Canada after receiving it. I know a man in Peterborough who has four university degrees and would sell them all for a car.

NICHOLLS Oval, Nicholls Hospital, Nicholls plaque in the Library, Nicholls here, Nicholls there—all over Peterborough. Who? What? Why?

ANSWER: Mrs. Charlotte Jane Nicholls was Peterborough's greatest benefactress. When her husband died on November 7th (not November 16th as the late Mr. F. H. Dobbin records) his widow became, according to The Examiner of that time "the sole possessor of vast wealth". Mrs. Nicholls had no closer relative than an American nephew named Benjamin A. Jackson (of Jackson's Park fame) and she devoted a great part of her fortune to charities and public works in Peterborough. Mrs. Nicholls was born Charlotte Jane Jackson in Newton-Butler, County Fermanagh, Northern Ireland, in 1817, but emigrated to New York at an early age. I have not been able to find out if she became an American citizen. She married Robert Nicholls in 1847, when she was thirty. The marriage took place in New York. When she died in May 1890 in Peterborough, after seven years of widowhood, shops closed and the funeral was a semi-civic function. Her gifts to Peterborough totalled more than $300,000 —a large sum now, even larger in her day. She supported the Presbyterian church, the Y.M.C.A., the library, the hospital and contributed $40,000 to the Aged Ministers' fund.

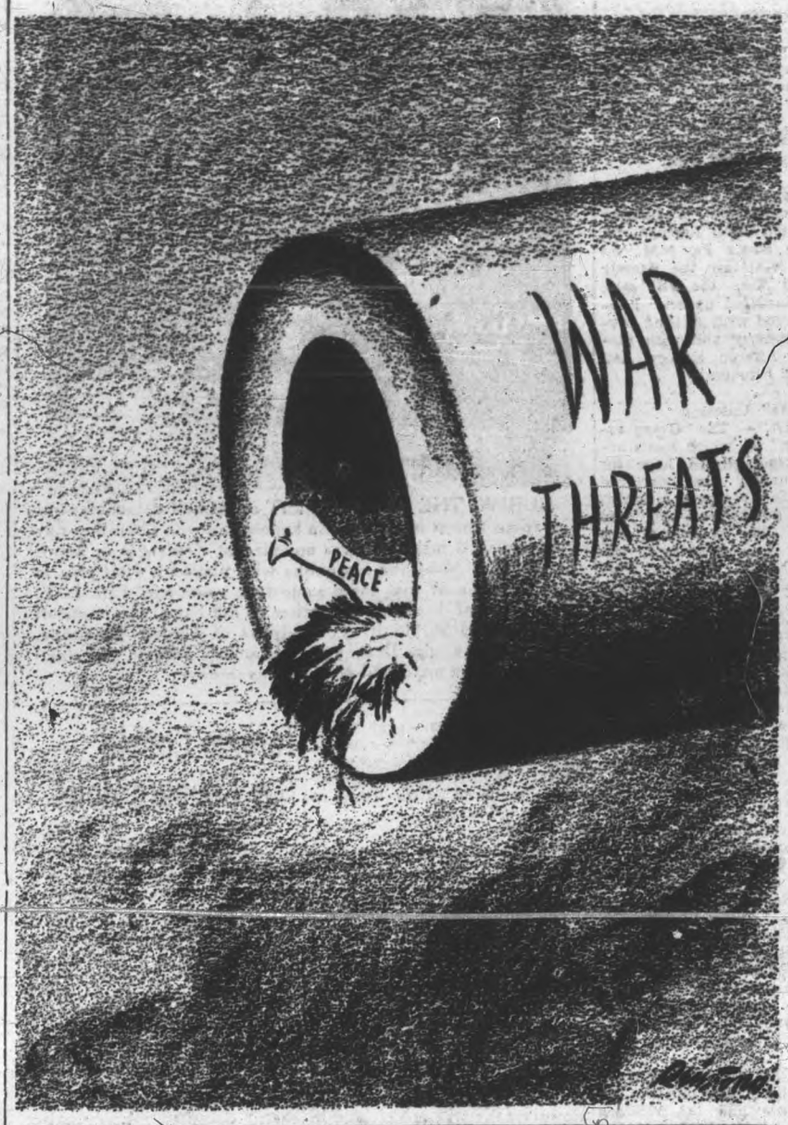
FOR THE RECORD: There are at present 10,879 telephones in the city of Peterborough. That is about one phone for every three mouths. The post-war shortage of equipment is gradually being met, so that when a new mouth is born into the world of Peterborough there is a good chance of having a phone installed within crying distance.

THE DOVECOTE



The British Army's Job

(LONDON OBSERVER)

THE three foundations of our pre-war defence policy are now all undermined. Some people are inclined to think that with our withdrawal from India, Burma, Palestine and part of Egypt we should be able to write off most of our commitments overseas. In fact, these are still formidable. Besides our Occupation forces in Germany and Austria, Trieste and Cyrenacia, we have troops in Gibraltar, Malta, the Canal Zone, East and West Africa, Ceylon, Malaya and Hong Kong.

Most of these commitments cannot be light-heartedly reduced, for if the combined military resources of the Commonwealth are to count for anything in world affairs, the communications of the Commonwealth have to be guarded, and this is a very much harder task than it used to be. We can no longer rely on the Mediterranean as a sea route in wartime; and we have lost our main bases in the Middle East.

In fact the task is now altogether beyond Britain's unaided powers, both on military and on economic grounds. But we cannot immediately abandon it. Our aim must be to build up a new system of Commonwealth security, in which the resources of the Dominions and some of the colonial territories play a much larger part.

This should be one of the main problems for the forthcoming Imperial Conference, but we cannot hope that it will be easily solved. The future relations of India and Pakistan to the Commonwealth are in doubt; South Africa is an uncertain partner; and even our most trusted allies, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand, are reluctant to enter into any hard-and-fast defence scheme.

ALMOST equally uncertain is the future of home defence. In another war we might be assailed by guided missiles and atomic or bacterial weapons against which all known forms of military defence would be of small avail. But we have to be prepared to resist invasion attempts, including an air-borne invasion launched at short notice. This is the main reason why the Government is anxious to build up a large Territorial Army of men sufficiently trained to come into action at once, as a greatly superior version of the Home Guard, in an emergency.

However, we can make no reliable plans for home defence without some estimate of military prospects on the Continent. Here, again, precedent fails. France, our main ally in the early stages of the last two wars, is at the moment, militarily, a broken reed. Are we nevertheless to make ready an expeditionary force? Or should we regard our Occupation armies as an expeditionary force already deployed? If so, can we at the same time wisely use them—as is at present intended—for the training of almost raw recruits?

FACED with these most anxious and baffling questions, and faced also with the urgent need to devote all possible resources to industrial production and the export drive, it is no wonder that the Government should be in two minds. And, indeed, they are questions which can be rationally dealt with only in a much wider context. The main answer to them, as to so many other world questions today, is bound up with the policy of the United States.

Plans for joint defence by the Western Union Powers cannot go far without full and detailed assurance of American military support. The British Government may have reason to believe that this assurance would be more easily obtained if our future conscription period were raised. But America must be told clearly that any increase in our military burden will inevitably retard our economic recovery. The more America asks of the Western Union Powers in the military sphere, the more economic aid will they require.

On our side, the fact which all parties must realize is that to think of building up a Western Union which would stand independently between America and Russia is a vain and dangerous dream. A Western Union must have America as active partner and guarantor. For Britain to seek a lofty, impartial, adjudicating position in the East-West conflict would ensure defeat in advance.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him. That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past. (Eccl. 3: 14, 15.)

Now the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die: for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil. (Gen. 3: 1-5.)

How To Stop Smoking

(A Letter in the London Observer)

I am 66 this year and have smoked since I was six, until six weeks ago, when I stopped smoking cigarettes with, as we say in the North, "nae bother at al".

Those who desire to stop cigarette smoking should use their imagination and suggestion. Reflect upon the Absolute Positive Power of the Universal Unconscious Mind, Relax—preferably in bed—before going to sleep for the night. Imagine yourself having no craving or longing for cigarettes and that you are perfectly happy without smoking. Suggest to the unconscious mind that it accepts the foregoing "imaginative picture", and put it into effect. Believe that the unconscious mind has the Power, and it works.

The mistake we are apt to make is trying to do things by conscious will-power. The unconscious resists this.

Salesman Wins Nomination At Cost of $53

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 24.—(CP).—George M. Smith, 36-year-old Canadian-born textile salesman, puffed contentedly at a cigar today and disclosed that his successful campaign for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor of Wisconsin had cost $53.94.

It was the Montreal-born man's first try for office. He became a naturalized American in 1943. Winning the nomination did not greatly surprise him, he said.

But it surprised party leaders, who said they had never heard of him until they saw his name on the ballot. Even then, they did not bother to inquire because they saw no chance for him to win.

"Of course, I am pleased to have won the nomination," Smith said. But I am not so surprised as you might think. I have campaigned quietly all over the southern part of the State.

"I do not agree that my nomination was an accident, even though my campaign was conducted at very low cost. The fact is I spent only $53.94, which included my nomination papers and my blotters.

"The latter were actually the only advertising I did. I had one radio speech in my behalf; it was made in Madison by a lawyer friend of mine, Martin W. Morrissey. I thought it was an excellent talk."

Smith, dark-haired and of medium height, went to Winnipeg when only four years old. He was educated there.

After spending some time in Hamilton as a salesman he moved to Hammond, Ind., in 1941 and later to New York, coming to Milwaukee in 1945.

In the November elections he will oppose the Democratic party candidate for the office of lieutenant-governor.

Strikes Halted Fire-Communists

By LESLIE BRODIE

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 24—(CP).—The success trade unionists are having in ousting known Communists from key positions in unions has ended a spate of strikes that has beset Australia since the war ended.

There are no major unions on strike anywhere in Australia today.

The activities of self-confessed Communists during the Queensland railroad strike in March this year, together with the Russian attitude at the United Nations and on the Berlin issue has alienated much of the sympathy previously felt for the militants.

This week, the Ipswich branch of the Amalgamated Engineering Union, where the railroad strike started, overwhelmingly defeated a Communist nominee for the position of district secretary.

This and similar defeats of Communists in other key unions has quietened militants who have in the past gone on strike at the slightest provocation.

Although recognized that not all strikes are caused by Communists, Research Service, an organization devoted solely to observing economic and industrial trends says that 84 per cent of all strikes in New South Wales since September, 1945, can be attributed to nine unions controlled by professed Communists.

In a speech, G. Burns, a member of the Queensland State executive of the Communist party, said that the Communists would fight for Russia in the event of war between Russia and the western powers. This speech and other acts have caused the Australian people to take a tougher attitude toward the Communists.

When Burns' speech was brought up in the Queensland legislature by opposition members, Prime Minister Chifley promised that the attorney-general would inquire into the statement.

Canada's 3,000 Drug Addicts Cost Millions

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24—(CP).—Canada's 3,000 to 4,000 known drug addicts cause the country economic losses running into "many millions of dollars yearly," K. C. Hossick, chief of the national health department's narcotic control division, declared here Thursday.

In an address to the Chief Constables Association of Canada, Mr. Hossick said he reached his estimate through examination of existing figures.

"This loss is born, in large part, by business generally through robbery, shop-lifting, as well as other forms of frauduient activity," he declared.

"To the indirect loss . . . must be added the cost of enforcement, including apprehension, conviction and imprisonment, of narcotic offenders," he continued.

Mr. Hossick said responsible police officers had reported that it might cost an addict from $20 to $30 a day to obtain his drugs and that, to obtain his money, he would "have to steal goods to about three times this value."

42 Million Loss

On the basis of the cost of illegal drugs, daily doses of addicts and the amount obtained by an addict disposing of stolen goods through a fence, 2,000 addicts using a grain a day would be responsible for an economic loss of about $42,000,000 a year, Mr. Hossick said.

"There are, however, many factors involved in this aspect of the drug addiction problem and most of these are of unknown magnitude or may be only very inaccurately estimated," he continued. "In view, therefore, of these circumstances, many figures of economic loss computed by the method I mentioned must be accepted with some reserve.

"Even if they were drastically reduced, they still add up to very considerable figures, particularly when considered in relation to costs of any proposed treatment facilities."

Admit Indian's Statement As Evidence

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 24.—(CP).—Richard Rivers' own account of the events of the night of July 22, when he is alleged to have strangled his 21-year-old sister-in-law in a hotel bedroom, was scheduled to be read to a murder trial jury to-day.

The six-page statement said to have been given to provincial police by the 19-year-old Ojibway Indian after his arrest in the wild Mississagi forest last July 27 was ruled admissible as evidence late Thursday. The Algoma district assize court adjourned before its contents were revealed.

Mr. Justice G. A. Gale, presiding, said it was unlikely that the murder trial would be concluded this week. But he rejected a jury request for night sittings with the words:

"A day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. is all a man can take."

Crown witness Roland Durant of Welland, said Thursday that he saw Richard Rivers walk up the stairs of a hotel in Blind River, 95 miles east of here, the night of July 22 with a small, dark woman clad in slacks and a sweater. The next morning the battered body of Rivers' sister-in-law, May, naked except for a sweater rolled up to the neck, was found on the bed in Rivers' hotel room.

Hears Weeping

Gerald Lapine, who slept directly across the hall from the death room, said he heard a woman weeping in Rivers' room and heard a man shout:

"If you don't shut up, I'll make you shut up."

Mrs. Mary Pine, mother of the part-Indian victim, identified clothing found in the room as that worn by her daughter the night of July 22 when she left the Pine home. Shown a pink sweater, Mrs. Pine cried:

"That's it. Take it away. That's all I want to see of it."

Inspector Leonard Neil of the Ontario provincial police said he took Rivers into custody in the rugged bushland along the Mississagi river, six miles west of Blind River and about two miles from Rivers' home. He said the youth's mother, Millie Rivers, had been supplying Rivers with groceries while Police hunted him through the timberland.

Blames Employees For Big CNR Fire

MONTREAL, Sept. 24 (CP)—Fire Commissioner Jean St. Germain today held negligence and imprudence of certain Canadian National Railways employees was the cause of the Aug. 25 $1,000,000 fire at the Bonaventure freight terminal here. An inquiry into the fire was held last Thursday.

It was brought out that the blaze followed use of an oxygen tank to unblock a clogged truck gasoline pipeline.

Mr. St. Germain in his report suggested that "if Howard Losey, a CNR employee, suggested as a joke, the use of an oxygen tank" for this purpose "then the joke is a very bad one."

At the inquiry Losey said his remark about using an oxygen tank was meant as a joke, not as an instruction.

Cut Prison Terms

BERLIN, Sept. 24 — (Reuters). — A Russian military tribunal Thursday night reduced the prison terms of five young Germans who were sentenced to 25 years at hard labor for alleged participation in anti-Communist demonstrations in Berlin. The five accused, four of them under 21, had their sentences reduced to eight years at hard labor.

THE BOMBED-OUT RUINS along Kurfurstendamm, Berlin's pre-war version of New York's Fifth Avenue, recently echoed to the strains of popular American music. In centre of an excited group of listeners, eight youngsters, ranging from five to 17 yea , can be found "beating it out" while Papa Karl Baumbach listens with a mixture of pride and embarrassment. "Ach, this jazz." he says and shakes his head. "For 25 years I have made and repaired musical instruments, but never until the Americans came did I hear sounds like that come from them. Now even Strauss my children are swinging." Known as the Baumbach Boogie Band, the youngsters provide impromptu concerts for their neighbors several times a week.

Petes' lacrossers may be minus Arn Dugan tonight—away on a hockey tryout—but Jack Foote will be down from Toronto to help 'em open their OLA senior "B" finals against Huntsville. It's at nine in Miller Bowl, first of the best-of-seven series, and it ought to pack in the customers. The hustling young Huntsville team is full of fight and handled by the astute Bucko McDonald, former NHL and lacrosse ace, and the Creighton crew will have no romp this time. Any club that could rub out the strong Oshawa threat like these northerners did recently can't be taken lightly. And, fans, don't forget the three minor OLA games at the Bowl tomorrow aft.

Collegiate football is back in the Peterborough sports' picture tomorrow afternoon in the Oval. Two exhibition jousts between Toronto Riverdale and PCVS junior and senior teams. The local squads will be unveiled at this time and grid followers will note a number of important changes in the lineups. Senior PCI-ers lost a lot of good material but the COSSA champs obtained some good replacements and should be potent again. Riverdale teams are always stiff opposition. The Collegians open their schedule a week later in Belleville with a four-point game. Our ORFU Panthers start their season tomorrow in Orillia.

Jack With Mustangs

University of Western Ontario has put out a neat Information Folder on the 1948 gridiron Mustangs, senior Canadian intercollegiate champions. Listing players briefly, it includes this one: "Jack Matthews gained a fine reputation as a kicker with the Colts last fall, as well as sharing the play-calling duties, and he will probably do most of the booting for the Mustangs this year. Jack is a Peterborough boy and in his second year Pre-Meds. He is 20 years old, weighs 169 and stands an even six foot." Yeah, Jack is a son of Gordon Matthews, whose other son, Spike, will be playing for the local Panthers this autumn.

Another mention of the junior Provincial Women's Softball Union playoffs here tomorrow afternoon. Toronto DuVals defeated Ashby's 1-0 in a dandy struggle in Toronto to open their best-of-three series. So, the clubs will clash at the Ashburnham Bowl tomorrow aft and again in the evening, provided Ashby's take the first one. But one loss will eliminate the local lasses and they'll have to keep right on the jump. Two fine young teams, and fans are sure to see a swell softball tussle, weather being right.

Speaking Of Crowds

Same applies to Riverside Park at three p.m. tomorrow when Toronto Staffords and the Petes resume their OBA senior "A" semi-final series, third game of the best-of-five affair. Diamond followers shouldn't pass this up, and we look for a large crowd. Speaking of crowds, we note some figures recently released. Kitchener columnist says the Kitchener club of the Inter-County Loop drew 51,000 to their games, while Waterloo attracted 53,440 for league and playoff tilts. Wonder what London Majors will draw for the season. In the class "C" Border Pro League, Ottawa Nats drew 71,415 to the end of August to lead in attendance, while Kingston were last with 38,325.

Bill Edger pitched fine six-hit ball in Toronto last eve but again Staffs got the breaks and the Petes left runners aboard. Tough luck all the way in a swell struggle. Both sides played errorless ball, but the homesters got a couple of soft hits when grounders hit bumps in the infield—where they've cut up the ground playing rugby — and bounced over players' heads. Also one of our guys was thrown out at first on a clean smash into right field! Again one local hit into a sort of freak double play as the men o' Murphy were threatening. Several times they had runners in scoring position in the tight till but lacked that clutch clout. Joe Spring threw heady ball, too, pitching to the spots, and his backing was perfect.

* * * * * *

Menzies Went Good

Al Menzies and Howie Dalton led the locals at bat with two for four each, and Al caught a classy game—keeping runners from stealing and handling Edger's sharp hooks okay. Catches by Garvey and Crowe, with pickups by Edwardson, plus a fast double play, were Petes' fielding features. Staffs also got a double play and Goberis and Guerosky snared hard running catches. It was a good game all the way, the only extra-base blows being Hosking's triple and a double by Syrek. Well, the Petes really have to get in there with some hard bingling tomorrow or it's curtains. Doug Loucks appears to have thrown his arm out—as it's still not responding properly—so we doubt if he'll pitch Saturday. Likely the Gunner again.

Panthers To Open Season In Orillia

Coach Gord Young's starting line-up for the ORFU Panthers in Orillia tomorrow is: Centre, Dick Ouimet; insides, Coughlin and Fitzgerald; middles, Curtin and Beatty; ends, Jack Conlin and McGillis; quarter, Matthews; halves, Trimm, Plunkett and Smith; flying wing, Jim Conlin; subs, Lech, Fraser, Middleton, Mac VanAllen, Board, Bartley, Davidson, Marshall, Burns, Berardi, Rip VanAllen, and Hodgson. The team is strong and in good shape, playing wide-open football.

Some new players have been added like Spike Matthews, from OAC, captain of the Panthers; Bill Smith from Western; Trimm from Saskatchewan U.; Plunkett of PCVS and Cobourg Ghosts; Middleton, Huntsville; and a number of classy veterans like Curtin, former senior player; Dick Ouimet of Sarnia, Montreal, Indians and this city; Beatty, co-captain, formerly of Hurricanes; and others. Some local fans will likely see the game in Orillia, starting at 2.00.

Staffords Squeeze Out Win Over Petes By a 2-1 Count

Staffords squeezed out a 2-1 victory over the Petes in Toronto last night to go two up in their best-of-five OBA Senior "A" semi-finals. The third one will be in Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon. Only a small twilight crowd saw the fine fray last evening, and some of them were Peterborough supporters.

Bill Edger and Joe Spring hooked up in a hurling duel and Bill had a little edge with a six-hit chore. But again the Petes, who played errorless ball, got no breaks, nor did they hit in the clutches. They left seven runners stranded. Spring also threw good ball and had perfect backing, and it was a nip-and-tuck thing right to the finish. Edwardson, Crowe and Garvey all came up with some fine defensive work, Goberis had a nifty running catch, and each side reeled off a double play.

Let Hitters

Dalton and Menzies led the losers at bat with two singles in four tries each, for half of the Petes' hits. None of the victors got more than one safety off Edger, but Hosking clouted a triple to left and Syrek doubled to centre. Two Petes' pinch-hitters failed to help the cause in the ninth chukker.

The Petes got their run in the second when Menzies singled, moved up on a walk to Mackness and scored on a single by Pagett, the throw-in being cut off to nail Mackness at third. They had two aboard next heat but a double play took care of that threat. And they left runners in the fourth, fifth, sixth and eighth Staffords tied in the third on a single by Hassard, a sacrifice by Spero and a triple by Hosking. They won the game in the seventh when Syrek doubled, was sacrificed by Hassard and raced home on a fly by Spero. Crowe was on third in the sixth when Mackness hit one to short right, but fast fielding cut off Mackness before he reached first.

Last-Place White Sox Trounce NY Yankees 4-2

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sport Writer

The three-way fight for the American-league pennant enters the showdown stage today.

Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians, tied for the lead, and the third-place New York Yankees, who are only a game behind the co-leaders, open crucial three-game series.

The Red Sox take on the Yankees in the Yankee Stadium. The Indians clash with the tough Detroit Tigers in Detroit.

The Yankees flubbed an opportunity to pull into a three-way tie for the top Thursday when they were beaten 4-2 by the last-place White Sox in Chicago.

All the contenders have eight games to play but the schedule favors the Indians. The Yanks and Red Sox clash five times and thus the possibility exists that they will knock each other off. The Indians meet the Tigers six times and the White Sox twice.

The Yankee defeat at the hands of the White Sox featured activity in the majors Thursday.

Frank Papish, who had won only game against eight losses, prior to the game, outpitched New York's Lefty Ed Lopat allowing the Yankees only six hits. The White Sox pounced on Lopat for three runs in the fourth inning to snap a 1-1 tie.

Come From Behind

The Tigers came from behind and beat Philadelphia Athletics, 8-7 when Rookie George Vico slammed a two-run ninth inning triple.

Washington turned back the Browns, 9-8 in a night game at St. Louis, clinching the game with a five-run fifth-inning rally. The Indains and Sox were idle.

Only two games were played in the National League. The second-place Brooklyn Dodgers trounced New York Giants 7-1 and Cincinnati Reds edged the Phils, 3-2 in a night game at Philadelphia.

The league - leading Boston Braves, St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs were idle.

The Braves need to win only one game to eliminate the Dodgers and two to knock out the Cards.

Williams Drops Flores, Keeps His Title

By FRED KERNER

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (CP).—Ike Williams flattened Jesse Flores five times Thursday night to retain his world's lightweight boxing championship for the third successive time this year.

Flores, a Mexican from Stockton, Calif, lasted through almost 10 rounds despite being rocked to the canvas twice in the fifth round and twice again in the eighth round. The end came at 2.04 of the 10th after a flurry of rock-hard blows that left the challenger semi-conscious for several minutes. Both weighed 134¾.

What took the champion so long was Flores' constant change of style and the fact that the California fighter had an amazing ability to come back after absorbing punishment. After being dumped for counts of eight and nine in the eighth round, Flores actually came back to whale the champion around the ring before the bell.

Williams had to do much chasing as the challenger rode a fast bicycle for a better part of the go, slated for 15 rounds.

The Canadian Press scorecard gave williams six of the first nine rounds, called two even and gave the other to Flores.

The 20th Century Sporting Club said the attendance was 15,413 with the gate $85,150.

The semi-windup, a 10-round battle between Sugar Ray Robinson, world welterweight champion, and Kid Gavilan, welter titlist of Cuba, saw the Sugar boy score a wide point-victory. The non-title fight decision, however, was not popular with the Latin-American fans in the stadium and the booing that followed the announcement held up the main bout for almost five minutes.

Hockey Rustling Causes Furore

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—(CP). — Efforts of the Quebec Senior Hockey League to rustle Ontario Hockey Association senior players from under the noses of officials of Toronto Maple Leafs appears to depend on whether the wanted players signed "C" forms and whether the Leafs can make the forms stick.

"C" form is an agreement to sign a contract. It contains all the terms of the contract which is to follow. A players is paid $100 for signing the form.

First indication that hockey rustlers were over the border came Wednesday when George Imlach of Quebec Aces showed up in the vicinity of Pittsburgh's training camp at Welland. It was reported that he was bidding for the services of Dean McBride and Ray Hannigan, two of the Leafs' rookies.

Imlach offered them $3,500, a job and a place to live if they would join his Quebeckers. Leaf Manager Conn Smythe warned Imlach that he was dealing with players who had signed "C" forms and who must play where the Leafs sent them.

McBride pulled up stakes for his home in St. Catharines. He said there Thursday night that he told Smythe that if he could not make the Leafs, he did not want to turn pro with Los Angeles—the berth for which the young defence man apparently had been ticketed.

"Punch Imlach has made me an attractive offer and I can do better in Quebec than out west," he said. "I am going to stay here in St. Catharines for the time being as I do not want to be suspended."

Montreal Blanks Red Wings In 3-0 Victory

By The Associated Press

Jimmy Bloodworth, second baseman of Montreal Royals, picked an opportune moment to live up to his reputation as most valuable player in the International league.

The former major leaguer belted the Royals into the final round of the loop's Shaughnessy playoffs Thursday night. He clouted a three-run ninth-inning homer to give the Royals a 3-0 victory over Rochester Red Wings in the seventh and deciding game of their semi-final series.

In the first six games Bloodworth collected only four hits in 25 trips to the plate and batted in three runs. His homer was his only hit of the game in four trips giving him a puney .172 mark for the series.

The blast broke up a brilliant mound duel between Don Newcombe and Rochester's Johnny Mikan. Both pitchers allowed only four hits.

The Royals now take on Syracuse Chiefs for the playoff championship and the right to meet the American Association's playoff winner in the Little World series.

First two games of the final round are scheduled for Montreal, Saturday night and Sunday. The series then shifts to Syracuse for the next three games.

PCVS Squad Picked For Opening Fray

Coach Bev Goulding has selected his senior PCVS squad to play against Riverdale C.I. tomorrow afternoon in the Oval to open the local grid season. Following is the starting lineup: Snap, Stacey; insides, Hempstead and Buck; middles, Beavis and Lowes; outsides, Swanston and Grainger; quarter, Green; flying wing, Sergeant; halves, Graham, DelaPlante and Northcott.

The team should be strong in reserves, too, with these alternates named: Wright, Killingbeck, Fitzpatrick, Woodcock, English, Lane, Ward, Robinson, Hamblin, Coon, Thomson, Payne and Welsh.

King George Wins

King George junior soccer team defeated Queen Elizabeth 1-0 Thursday afternoon on King George grounds. Queen Elizabeth were more aggressive in tackling but failed to follow up their advantage on any kick; while the East City boys kept plying the ball into their opponents end. Wyllie passed the ball up to Ash who carried it into goal where the custodian saved, but Ellis got the rebound.

Queen Elizabeth: R. Ward, goal; R. Smith and J. Elliott, full backs; C. Midland, W. Whitnell and C. McMillan, half backs; H. Smith, A. Midland, B. Gallagher, P. Davis and J. Johnson, forwards; W. Harrison and R. Freeman, subs.

King George: M. Innes, goal; B. Bell and P. McIlmoyle, full backs; R. Wyllie, G. Barclay and J. Ellis, half backs; G. Harding, B. Baptie, D. Ash, B. Fairs and D. Hale, forwards; J. Lethange, sub.

Referee, Barnard.

One Goal Down To Orillia In OLA Contest

In the first game of a two-game, goals to count, series at Orillia last night, Orillia juveniles defeated Peterborough, 8 to 7.

Orillia scored two goals early in the first quarter and managed to keep out in front by one or two goals throughout the game.

It was anyone's game from start to finish and at times Petes had an edge in play, but H. Kehoe in goal for Orillia turned them back in spectacular style.

Both teams checked closely with neither showing much in the way of a good passing attack. At times Petes were lax in back checking with Orillia players in the clear, but brilliant work by Joe Hickson in goal kept the Petes' chances alive.

With checking close, play was rough in spots but only one fight materialized, with Beavis and Hill getting minor penalties in the fourth quarter.

Joseph, Childerhose and Holder sparked the Orillia attack. Beavis played a steady game on defense for Petes, while Crowley, Carveth and Vincent led the attack up front.

Score by periods: Orillia, Fagan, Holder; end of first Orillia 2, Petes 0. Orillia, Kehoe; Petes, Robinson, Petes Crowley. Penalties: Crowley, Kehoe, Martin; end of second, Orillia 3, Petes 2. Orillia, Joseph; Petes, Crowley; Orillia, Childerhose; Petes, Carveth. Penalties, Groves and Crowley; end of third, Orillia 5, Petes 4. Orillia, Childerhose; Petes, Crowley. Orillia, Holder; Orillia, Fagan; Petes, Heffernan; Petes, Heffernan. Penalties, Groves, Hill, Beavis, Middleton. Orillia 8, Petes 7.

Orillia—H. Kehoe, Joseph, Holder, Middleton, B. Kehoe, Hill, Groves, Burch, Rolland, Martin, Childerhose, Fagan, England, Davies.

Petes—Hickson, Lagana, Robinson, Crowder, Farley, Carveth, Payne, Beavis, Crowley, Heffernan, Foster, Vincent.

Here And There In Sports . . .

BY CANADIAN PRESS

Coach Charlie Conacher said Thursday in North Bay the Chicago Black Hawks' goal-tending position is "wide open." The Hawks just haven't found a capable net-minder.

President Bill Tobin was reported to have offered $30,000 for Montreal Canadiens' Bill Durnan, but the Canucks wouldn't part with him.

Hawk authorities say Tobin has lost interest in Baz Bastien, American Hockey League all-star goal-tender with Pittsburgh Hornets.

Currently trying out for the nets are Emile Francis of last year's squad, and Al Rollins, who played last season with the Allan Cup-winning Edmonton Flyers.

Sneak thieves Thursday robbed four players working out at St. Catharines with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League. The thieves entered the team's dressing room while players were on the ice. Amateur George Armstrong from Stratford lost $38. Les Costello, Harry Watson and Vic Lynn, all professionals, were the other victims.

Heads of national sports-governing bodies will be invited shortly by the National Council of Physical Fitness to meet together under a "neutral atmosphere" to review Canadian sports conditions generally. This was decided in Ottawa at Thursday session of the council.

Arthur King, lightweight boxing champion of Canada, arrived in London, Eng., by air from Montreal for his Empire title fight with Billy Thompson, the British-European champ. The bout is scheduled for Manchester, Oct. 1.

Two players were knocked out of action by minor injuries at the Toronto Maple Leafs' training camp at St. Catharines. Left winger Vic Lynn will be off the ice for at least a week with a pulled shoulder muscle. Amateur Laurie Regan, former Ottawa Senators star, suffered a possible wrist fracture.

At Lake Pdacid, N.Y., Manager Frank Boucher of the New York Rangers disclosed Thursday that forward Eddie Slowinski of Winnipeg will be out of action for a week or more with a bad knee injury. In another of the injuries which have been plaguing the Rangers camp, Slowinski crashed into the boards during a scrimmage Wednesday.

Two more players were cut loose from the Detroit Red Wings' training camp at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Thursday as Manager Jack Adams sent the National League team through its pre-season paces. Andy Mantha, with Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Indians last winter, and Ambrose Mosco of Renfrew, headed back to their respective homes. Wings will play their final exhibition game at the American Soo Sunday against farm club Indianapolis Capitols.

Montreal Royals' victory over Rochester in the International Baseball League semi-finals Thursday made it definite that there will be no Big Four Football League game at Montreal Saturday or Sunday. Hamilton Wildcats were slated to meet Montreal Alouettes in Montreal Saturday but with the baseball Royals against Syracuse Chiefs, the ball park, also used by Alouettes, will be taken up by baseball.

Players working out with Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen, Ontario Hockey Association seniors, include many newcomers. Trying for defence berths are Bill Dinning, former Hamilton Tigers, and Harvey Jacklin, formerly of Hamilton Pats. Three goalies are practising. They are Lou Crowdis of Oshawa Generals, Jack Gibson of Winnipeg and formerly of Syrney Millionaires, and Roy Musleman, last season's second net minder.

Laurel Spencer, owned by C. Chapman, of Orangeville, captured all three heats in the 2.28 pace at a harness meet at Listowel fall fair Thursday. The brown mare covered the mile in 2.19½.

The office of Dr. J. R. Epping will be closed from Sept. 24 to Oct. 11, inclusive.

Two Canadians Chase Metz In 3rd Round

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24 (CP).—It is generally conceded today that there will be no record score for the Canadian open golf championship this year. But another mark—the 34 straight years that Canadian golfers have habitually failed to cop their top tourney—still can be broken.

As a trimmed field of 100 golfers today tackled the third round of the $10,000 golf contest at Shaughnessy Heights 6,590-yard layout, the man to beat was quiet-mannered Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., and two Canadians had a chance to do it.

Metz Thursday dropped a perfect nine-iron shot into the cup on the 564-yard opening hole for an eagle three. The two strokes he sliced off par were the margin by which he beat the field.

Can't Top Record

The Virginian's second-round 71 gave him a 36-hole total of 136. He gathered in his four-under-par score despite a two-day battering by wind and rain which seems to have destroyed all chances of anyone topping the record 268 which South Africa's Bobby Locke put together at Toronto Scarboro last year.

But Metz still has a couple of competent Canadians capable of blasting his lead out from under him. They are home pro Freddy Wood and Stan Leonard of Vancouver Marine Drive.

They are in a four-way tie with Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, top U.S. money-winner this year, and Chuck Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., with 143s, five strokes off the pace.

Both at one time Thursday looked as if they might overtake the U.S. leaders. Smooth-stroking Wood was two under at the turn and then ran into a gusty windstorm—which chased thousands to Shaughnessy's trees for cover. He ended up with a one-over 73.

LAWN BOWLING

It all depends on the weather.

To-night it will be men's doubles, 7:30 o'clock. Choose your own partners.

Now, to-morrow night is the night. The big masquerade mixed rink tournament, free. Come in costume—lots of fun and prizes—and a real big weiner roast afterwards. Be sure to be at the greens by 7:30 o'clock.

On Wednesday our ladies took five rinks of trebles down to Port Hope—and as usual they made up the big part of the tournament. They came home with three of the four prizes:

First—Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. J. Cullen, Mrs. F. Stanton, skip.

Second — Mrs. H. Wilson, Mrs. F. Dawe, Mrs. H. Beatty, skip.

Third — Mrs. L. Rielly, Mrs. J. Coursey, Mrs. W. Hepburn, skip.

Percy Moore, Ray Bacon, and Charlie Lawrence played in the Havelock tournament on the half-holiday. Score: No hits, no runs, no errors.

Kawartha Golf News

By JERRY SEABROOK

Looks like another golfing season is just drawing to a close. It's all over but the shouting, which will take place the coming Saturday, September 25, our Annual Closing Day.

Activities start at 12 o'clock noon and include 9 holes of medal play golf for 3 handicap divisions, chipping and putting, and driving. This is to be followed with a dinner for the ladies as well as the men; the presentation of the prizes for the day and season, and finally a dance for your added enjoyment.

The charge for all this is quite low. If you participate in the afternoon activities only, the fee will be half.

Plan to attend this gala function and close the official golfing season with a bang up time.

Cover Crop Aid Garden

BY DEAN HALLIDAY

In your planning for next year's Freedom garden include the planting of cover crops this fall for the purpose of improving the soil.

Cover crops when turned under are beneficial to the soil in many ways. They add humus and plant food to the soil as they decay after being turned under.

In fact, young cover crops when dug in give back to the soil much of what this year's vegetables have removed from it, thus preventing the soil from becoming depleted.

Soybean plants, illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, make a splendid soil-improving crop. Few, if any, annual crops have more power to loosen and mellow the soil.

Soybeans are not difficult to grow, but when they are being planted for the first time it is advisable to inoculate the seed. A well-inoculated crop yields more than one untreated. Buying certified seed is another precaution.

Soybeans, when grown for "green manure," should be turned under while young, for when a legume crop becomes seedy the nitrogen is already on its way out. Roots and stems of over-mature crop also are more fibrous and tough and require a longer time to decompose when turned under.

Many gardeners plant rye between garden rows that are vacated during September. It grows rapidly, as illustrated, and canbe sown any time before freezing weather arrives. Rye can be sown fairly thickly and then raked lightly into the soil.

Any of the cover crops or green-manure crops should be turned under while they are still green and succulent to be of the most value.

Toronto Exceeds Daily Power Quota

TORONTO, Sept. 24 — (CP).— For the first time in a week, Toronto has exceeded its power quota, it was announced today.

A statement from the mayor's office said the consumers Wednesday used 5,021,980 kilowatt hours, or 186,730 above the quota.

"Although we are definitely over our quota, there are no switch-pulling plans," said Mayor H. E. McCallum.

Warships Assemble

PORTLAND, Dorset, England, Sept. 24 (Reuters).—The largest assembly of warships in this great Southern England naval harbor since before the war to-day began autumn exercises of Britain's Home Fleet. After Northern Atlantic exercises, the flagship Duke of York, and three cruisers will visit the West Indies and two aircraft carriers and four destroyers will visit South Africa.

Leave Crude Sign

LONDON, Sept. 24 — (AP). — A crude sign was found to-day pinned on the garden door at 10 Downing Street, Prime Minister Attlee's official residence. It said: "Moscow is bluffing."

Rescue Tug Takes Six

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 24 (CP). — The six pasengers on board the grounded mail liner Lochmonar were taken off Wednesday by a rescue tug. The 67-man crew of the Lochmonar, driven ashore on Little Cayman Island in the Caribbean Sunday by a hurricane, remained on board the stricken vessel. Salvage tugs stood by the ship, which was believed out of danger.

Park Officials Seize Single-Engined Plane

ALGONQUIN PARK, Ont., Sept. 24 (CP).—A single-engined plane owned by the Lake of Bays flying service has been seized by park authorities here who claim the pilot had failed to obey regulations regarding clearance.

The aircraft, piloted by E. A. (Smokey) Beebe, was impounded Wednesday. Beebe was transporting two fishermen and a guide to one of the lakes in the park.

According to park superintendent George Phillips, neither Beebe nor his passengers had fishing licenses or travel permits. Phillips said the pilot failed to clear his machine in regulation manner and had further failed to tell authorities of his destination.

Pipe Shortage Slowing Plumbing Jobs

Peterborough plumbers report a shortage of steel pipes and plumbing fixtures which is affecting the completion of the many homes now being built in many sections of the city.

"There's not much that isn't scarce," said one plumber today. However, the shortage of piping and fixtures is not affecting veterans and others with priorities. The present building activity is said to be responsible for the general scarcity, but acute shortage of steel pipes other than the general shortage of steel in Canada.

Prices of plumbing materials and fixtures have continued to rise this year, in some cases by as much as 35 per cent and more. The increased prices are attributed to increased labor costs.

The local shortage of such things as bath tubs is such that people in Port Hope, where they are made, are visiting Peterborough in their search for them. It is hoped, though, that this shortage will be remedied by the end of the year. At present, local plumbers are being forced at times to obtain fixtures from another firm until their own shipment arrives.

County Girls Win Awards For High Entrance Marks

Two 13-year-old girls on Thursday received awards for highest entrance examination marks in Peterborough county from the County Council. They were Margaret Lang, daughdaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lang, Otonabee, who won first prize, and Shirley Holcroft, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Holcroft, Havelock, who came second.

Warden James Humphries congratulated them on their scholastic achievement and presented two cheques—one for $15, the other $10.

He also congratulated their teachers and urged the two students on to further honors. "Many a successful person got his start in the little old red schoolhouse on the back concession," he said.

K. O. Birkin, school inspector, said he was glad to see the County Council recognizing ability. And he thought that the resolution passed by the agricultural committee earlier this year granting two prizes instead of one, was a commendable one.

He said both girls were going into high school at the age of 13 which he thought "a good age" for it. While he would not disclose marks he said both girls crowded 90 per cent., and he paid particular tribute to Miss Holcroft who tried her entrance from Grade 7 yet stood second.

TRAIN TIME CHANGES

Saturday will see the last of the early CPR week-end local passenger trains arriving from Toronto. The traffic returns to the winter schedule on Sunday, and the Saturday evening local out of Toronto resumes its regular place in the time table.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Harvest Festival services were held on Sunday at the Anglican church at Buckhorn, Haultain and Young's Point. The churches were beautifully decorated with grain, vegetables, fruits, flowers and fresh loaves. Large congregations attended the services.

NOTED DOCTOR COMING

Dr. Harry Ebbs, Peterborough-born doctor on the staff of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, will be guest speaker at a dinner meeting in the Empress Hotel, Monday night. The affair has been arranged as part of Dental Health Week program.

CARNIVAL RETURNS

At a meeting of the Y's Men's Club on Thursday evening at the YMCA, Jack Richardson reported that the carnival had showed a net profit of little more than $1,-100. The disappointing result was attributed to rain on the first evening causing a poor attendance. Wm. Moorhead presided at the first dinner meeting of the new season.

AN ARENA BOOST

The recent softball exhibition between Civic League and Industrial League players realized $299 for the Civic Arena, this amount being turned over to Charlie Kingan. The game was arranged by Gus Mastrianni, aided by Tommy Drummond and Pete Scully.

KIWANIS AWARDS

Henry Elliott Memorial Trophy was awarded for 1947 to the Peterborough Kiwanis Club at the district convention in Montreal, September 19-22, for the highest efficiency standing in the Ontario, Quebec and Maritime District. The trophy is inscribed with the names of past president Dennis Fitzgerald and past secretary Ernest Bartlett. The Peterborough club was also awarded a banner for the highest efficiency standing in the Silver Division of Kiwanis International.

County To Give $150,000 To Hospital

County Council sat in stunned surprise on Thursday afternoon after being informed that it's expected share of the financing of the new Civic Hospital had risen from $150,000 to $500,000. A deputation from the Board of Governors and the City Council waited on the County Council which had been called to examine bids for the sale of debentures totalling $120,000. The debentures constituted the major part of the county grant to the hospital now under construction.

Mayor William Ovens estimated that the revised cost figure for the 265-bed hospital was now about $4,000,000, but he added that this included "a fair amount of equipment as well."

When it was requested that the county's share of the financial burden be increased to $500,000, murmers of "colossal" and "staggering" were heard.

After the deputation had left, a motion by Reeve W. Griffith of Belmont and Methuen and Deputy-Reeve J. Tully of Smith that "council is in no position to make further contributions," was passed unanimously.

Reasons Given

Contained in the resolution were several reasons for that refusal: that there was no provision in the Municipal Act for Council to make a grant of $500,-000; that Council felt the grant of $150,000 covered its share of the costs; that taxation in the county was increasing, and it had lost about $1,000,000 worth of assessment in recent annexations by the city.

Referring to the request, Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore said, "To my knowledge there is no example of a similar county in Ontario having made such a large contribution."

Mr. Gifford then made a plea for outside financial assistance. "I feel that the Government, Dominion or provincial, should enter to a far greater extent than this into the building of the new hospital. I don't think an amount like this should be localized because others will benefit."

Heavy Loss In Taxes

He stated that in rural communities health is the most popular topic of discussion, and warned that present governments that "do not make a contribution or set up some health plan will not be able to stay in power."

Several members of Council, including Reeve James Humphries, pointed out that recent annexations by the city in North Monaghan amounted to about a $1,000,000 assessment loss. They said young people were leaving the rural communities to go to urban centres, such as Peterborough, while the city itself was expecting a population of 50,000-75,000 in 50 years.

Speaking to the delegation, Mr. Gifford said: "You are asking us to contribute on the basis of things as they are at the present time."

Mayor Ovens asked that a decision be made within about three weeks as the aid granted by the county would have a bearing on a bylaw to be prepared in the city authorizing the spending of additional funds for the hospital. The bylaw will be submitted to the voters at election time.

The bid of Wood Gundy Co. in co-operation with the Imperial Bank on the tenders for sale of hospital debentures was accepted. The 15-year debentures are at three per cent. and the company bid a price of $99.68 and accrued interest per $100 par value.

The total grant of the County Council is for $150,000—$30,000 in cash and the balance raised by debentures.

Mr. Gifford invited members to attend the dental public health dinner given at the Empress Hotel on Monday night. He paid tribute to the good work done by the Peterborough and district dentists last spring in the Apsley area. He said that other municipalities would get a smilar dental examination for school children some time in the future. On his motion, seconded by Reeve W. W. Dawson of Otonabee, Council voted $50 toward expenses of this dental survey.

FOR SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE, 16 Peterborough Postal Service employees, who had attained more than 25 years each of service, were presented with symbol badges at a dinner on Thursday evening by Regional Director of Postal Services for Ontario, A. M. Gibson. Shown above, left to right, Charles Lazure, Peterborough Post Master with 45 years; James Bath, letter carrier for 36 years; Mr. Gibson, 42 years, H. E. White, assistant Post Master, Peterborough, 40 years and W. M. MacLean, Toronto Post Master, 39 years.

Luger Pistol Is Confiscated

Because he wanted "to shoot bears and other things like that" around his home, John Orville Mark, Kinmount, was fined $15 and $5 costs for being in possession of an unregistered pistol. Magistrate Philp also ordered confiscation of the weapon — a murderous-looking heavy German Luger.

Mark explained to the court that he had received the pistol from a cousin in Toronto "who didn't want to bother about registering it."

"I told him we had a lot of bears and things around our summer cottage, so he said for me to take it." He admitted that he knew the weapon should have been registered.

Provincial Constable Lloyd Lyle of Fenelon Falls, who had seized the Luger, said that the accused admitted it was unregistered.

"These regulations regarding firearms have to be strictly enforced," commented the magistrate in levying the fine.

WINS AT LINDSAY

The J. L. Waples stable of Victoria Harbor swept both harness horse race events at the Lindsay Central Exhibition Thursday. Keith Waples. drove the gelding, J. L. Van, to a 1-2-1 victory in the 2.28 class and then captured three heats of the featured 2.15 class with the mare, Bonnie G. Fastest heat of the day was paced by Bonnie G in 2.11 3-5.

16 Postal Staff Members Honored For Long Service

"Peterborough postal services have an outstanding record in city offices throughout the Dominion," said A. M. Gibson, Regional Director of Postal Services for Ontario, in an address Thursday evening. He pointed out that the people should be proud to have in its service 16 men whose working years averaged 33 years each. The meeting was sponsored by the Peterborough Post Office Social and Athletic Association, and, except for about five employees who were working on night shift, there was a complete staff turnout.

Mr. Gibson traced the history of the post office briefly from 2000 BC when Babylonian and Egyptian monarchs dispatched messages written on clay tablets, to present-day methods. He reminded his audience that Canada is the most progressive nation in the world in the expediting of mails. In 1854 Canada was the first country to sort mails on trains and this method was adopted seven years later by the United States. As of Dominion Day of this year, Canada led with another "first" in carrying all four-cent mail by air from coast to coast. An ordinary letter posted in Peterborough now reaches Vanouver in 24 hours.

Long-Term Service

The main purpose of the gathering was the presentation of long-service token to employees who had attained more than 25 years of service. Postmaster Charles Lacheur headed his own staff with 45 years at the Peterborough Post Office and was warmly praised by Mr. Gibson, who said he was looked upon by Toronto and Ottawa as "one of the most efficient postmasters in Canada today." In reply to this tribute, Mr. Lacheur gave full credit to his staff.

Other employees who were presented with tokens are listed, followed by the number of years each has been in service in Peterborough: H. E. White, assistant postmaster, 40; James Bath, 36; George W. Downer, 35; Claire H. Stuart, 35; Cecil I. Richardson, 34; George W. Davis, 34; Ernest Mesley, 32; Walter T. Jeffrey, 32; Gordon J. Fallen, 31; Stanley L. Ballard, 30; Arnold Noscrop, 30; Harold J. Devey, 29; Arthur R. Carpenter, 28; William E. Thompson, 28; and John P. Legros, 28.

W. M. MacLean, Toronto postmaster, with 38 years of service, was a head-table guest.

The speaker told of another Canadian Post Office "first," in that all revenue postmasters have now been brought under the Civic Service superannuation scheme and will receive all benefits formerly enjoyed only by permanent employees. He also made reference to many enjoyable fishing trips enjoyed with Mr. Lacheur for the past 22 years at T. A. Hooper's Idlewild Island on Rice Lake and his accounts of some of their exploits there created much amusement in the audience. Mr. Gibson was thanked on behalf of the association by Andrew Jackson, supervisor of letters carriers.

Lock Company May Switch Its Work Week

Peterborough Lock Company may switch their work week from Tuesday to Saturday, laying off on Monday, in an effort to help the city in avoiding one of the week-day power peaks.

Management of the Lock Company is proposing this contribution to the power authorities, and it was believed the employees would be agreeable. It entails only the holiday switch from Saturday to Monday. Preceding them in this voluntary co-operation have been Martin-Hewitt Ltd., Vermont Marble Co. and Dewart Milling Co.

Peterborough used 272,000 kilowatt hours Thursday as compared with 304,000 kwh last Thursday and with the Hydro quota of 240,000 kwh.

That is a manifest improvement, but it is still 32,000 kwh more than the daily allowance of the Hydro-Electric Commission to this city. Another factory is planning to work Saturdays, and is understood to be discussing the proposals with its employees.

Important Factor

Possibly, domestic users do not yet realize that they are an important factor in the power economy campaign, it was said today. Peterborough's power consumption last year was as follows:

Industrial ..... 40,000,000 kwh
Domestic ..... 28,000,000 kwh
Commercial ..... 9,000,000 kwh

The industrial group means the manufacturing plants and others engaged in production; commercial users are the stores, hotels, theatres and so on; and the domestic, the homes whose power users are chiefly the women of the community, those who turn the switches on sweepers and toasters, washing and ironing machines, and various other domestic equipment.

Dislocation of industrial routine has become necessary partly as evidence of the manufacturers to co-operate with their usual effectiveness and because the other two customer groups have not been accomplishing much in getting down to the 240,000 kwh quota.

Air Gun Pellet Injures Boy

Marcus Fowler of 827½ Oxford St., received a knee injury on Thursday evening when he was struck with a shot from an air-gun. Police say that the gun was fired by a 15-year-old companion of the injured boy, and a severe "talking-to" was given the offender by Police Chief John Thompson today. The "B-B" gun has been confiscated by the department.

The Chief warned that further offences of this type may bring court action against those responsible. He advised parents to instruct their children tha use of he seemingly harmless guns (which can put out an eye easily, he adds) is illegal within the city limits.

Mayor Tells Kiwanians About 2 Civic Projects

New Civic Hospital and sewage disposal plant were discussed by Mayor W. G. Ovens, speaking at the Kiwanis luncheon on Thursday at the Empress Hotel. He said that these two projects were the most important of the major projects to be decided upon by the City Council and ratepayers.

The new Civic Hospital will cost an estimated $2,000,000 to complete and have 80 additional beds, power house, laundry and nurses' residence. "There is a definite need," he said, "for proper hospital accommolation. Even with the 52-bed addition at St. Joseph's Hospital, 285 beds are still needed."

The proposed sewage disposal plant will cost approximately $750,000. Mayor Ovens said that the pollution of Little Lake could not be prevented without such a plant. Canada Packers are willing to remedy the problem, but it is entirely dependent on a suitable sewage disposal system.

Other projects under discussion, he said, are additions to schools, re-surfacing of roads, an extension to the Fire Hall and a new City Hall.

He said that if the present City Hall site were sold, the proceeds would more than offset the cost of a new site and would liquilate other minor projects. If the property were to be rented, the available revenue would more than cover our charges on debentures.

The estimated total cost of all these public works is $5,075,000. As of December 31, the per capita debt was $68.50 non-sustaining and $20.69 self-sustaining, such as utilities, debentures, and the debt per thousand of assessment was $99.01. If all these public works are completed in 1949, he said, the per capita debt would be increased to $179.00 and the debt per thousand to $450.00. "The one bright spot," he added, "is that there will be substantial federal grants to cover the most expensive projects."

The two questions which taxpayers would have to answer were: "Have I faith in the City of Peterborough to warrant these additional expenses?" and "Can I afford this?"

"While on the surface," he continued, "it looks like a major amount, on closer observation we are of the opinion that there is sufficient building in Peterborough to cover the greater portion of it, but I anticipate that the council of 1949 cannot avoid a slight increase in the tax rate."

Mayor Ovens was introduced by Alderman Richard Raine and thanked by Rufus Payne. Ted Pridham presided.

PROCLAMATION
Dental Public Health Week
SEPTEMBER 27TH TO OCTOBER 1ST

In proclaiming Monday, September 27th, to October 1st, "Dental Health Week," I do so firmly believing in the value of Education in the Prevention of Disease. Decay of our Teeth, the most prevalent of human ailments, is no exception. The health of its people, and particularly its children, is the first responsibility of every community. The program for the Dental Public Health Week is purely educational. Therefore, I recommend to your attention the Radio Broadcasts, the Health Exhibits and Movie Films in the Peterborough Public Library.

JAMES HUMPHRIES,
Warden,
County of Peterborough.

DAYLIGHT TIME ENDS IN CITY EARLY SUNDAY

To conform with the change from Daylight Saving Time being made throughout Canada and the United States, the City of Peterborough will return to Standard Time at 2.00 a.m., Sunday, September 26th.

It is suggested that all citizens should turn their timepieces back one hour before retiring this Saturday night, September 25th, since the city will be on Standard Time on Sunday.

E. A. OUTRAM,
City Clerk.

VANCOUVER WAS HOST to a popular radio and screen star this week when Bing Crosby visited the city. A crowd of 2,500 milling fans greeted him at the station and a police escort, shown here, was necessary to keep the crowd from mobbing Bing. He was appearing at a charity show in that city.

Alberta Gives Only Formal Drama Invitation

SARNIA, Sept. 24 — (CP). — Alberta offered the only formal invitation to the 1950 Dominion Drama Festival, D. Park Jamieson, chairman of the festival, said Thursday. He was commenting on a Regina dispatch quoting William Reid, president of the Saskatchewan Drama League, as saying he was "surprised and annoyed at the decision to hold the 1950 festival in Alberta.

Mr. Jamieson said the invitation was extended to the festival's executive committee at its Sept. 17 meeting in Toronto.

Mr. Reid said Wednesday at Regina he had extended an invitation at the Ottawa Spring Festival to have either the 1949 or 1950 festivals take place in the Saskatchewan city.

But Mr. Jamieson said Thursday that no formal invitation had ever been received from the Saskatchewan region.

Mr. Jamieson said that before the general meeting of the governors of the Dominion Festival in April of this year, all regional chairmen were reached and asked to send in invitations for the site of the 1949 festival. These would be considered at the general meeting.

But the only such bid received was from the Central Ontario region, with the site at Toronto. It was accepted.

INSCRIPTION ON TOMBSTONE of Thomas H. Gordon, pioneer Drayton blacksmith, who died in 1894, is viewed (left) by Brock Davis. It reads: "My sledge and hammer lay reclined; my bellows, too, has lost its wind; my fire's extinct, my forge's decayed and in the dust my body's laid." Poet was Walter Moody, Gordon's son-in-law, who was also an artist. His paintings line Drayton town hall. Shown at right is one depicting Gordon working at his forge, with Cooper Smith, another pioneer, looking on.

Parents Allege Child Abducted

TORONTO, Sept. 24 — (CP).— A Toronto mother and father, who because of unemployment left their young baby in the care of a friend, have sought police aid in recovering the child, whom they say has been abducted.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marlow told the police the baby boy was born two years ago. Shortly afterwards, however, Marlow became unemployed and a woman friend offered to care for the baby. Later she wanted to adopt the child.

Mrs. Marlow would not consent to the adoption.

The friend continued to care for the baby and disappeared with him until last March, the Marlows said. When she returned, Marlow went to see her accompanied by a provincial police officer. The woman told him to get a warrant, he claimed.

A warrant was issued, charging the woman with abduction of the child. Since then, both police, and the Marlows have lost trace of her.

Hydro Cutoff Ordered By Kingston Utilities

KINGSTON, Sept. 24—(CP).— Lack of co-operation, particularly from domestic consumers, may force Kingston Public Utilities Commission to order Hydro cutoffs, F. J. Baker, general manager, said today. General response to Hydro conservation pleas have been disappointing, he said.

$10,000 Fire Damage Waste Paper Plant

TORONTO, Sept. 24—(CP).— One fireman was injured and a number of homes threatened early today when a two-alarm fire swept thorugh the National Waste Paper and Metal Company for the second time in six months. About $10,000 damage was caused by the flames, which shot up 50 feet.

Company officials said the metal-clad building had been rebuilt following a $50,000 fire last spring.

244 Traffic Fatalities

TORONTO, Sept. 24 — (CP). — From Jan. 1 to June 30 of this year 244 persons were killed in Ontario traffic accidents and 5,941 were injured, by the highways department said Thursday. In the first six months of last year 271 persons were killed and 5,279 were hurt.

Price On Steers Drops 50 Cents During Week

TORONTO, Sept. 24 (CP). — This week saw a heavy cattle run of 10,763 head on the Livestock Market here. Prics on steers and heifers dropped 50c-$1 a hundredweight but held steady to 50 cents higher on cows and bulls. Hogs were strong and sheep and lambs steady.

Monday looked as if it might be the beginning of a record-breaking week as cows and bulls sold 50 cents higher, but on Tuesday trade began to slacken off and steers and heifers dropped another 50 cents and buying remained steady enough to clear a good number of animals from the yards.

Export buying was active and the cattle run included only 1,500 stockers. A few hundred stockers were left unsold as well as a few loads of weighty steers. Small lots of good to choice steers sold at $26-$29. Plain weighty steers sold as low as $20 a hundredweight. Butcher steers closed at $17-$21.50 with the top around $23.

Boners were $12-$16 a hundredweight. Butcher heifers closed at $17-$21.50 and butcher sows sold at $14-$18.50, with canners downward to $9. Bulls were $19-$22 for good butchers and downward to $15 for light bolognas. Fed yearlings sold at $19-$28 and were in light supply. Stockers moved slowly at $15-$19 with a few weighty feeders up to $21. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $120-$170 each.

Prices up

Calves were 2,363 head. Prices were up $1 a hundredweight at $29-$29.50 for good to choice veal. Plain to medium lights and heavies sold at $16-$26. Grassers were $13-$15.

Only 1,936 hogs were offered. Grade A prices firmed to a general $33.25 with Grade B1 at $32.85. Sows jumped $3 a dundredweight to $27 dressed.

Sheep and lambs totalled 5,128. Good ewes and wether lambs sold mostly at $22.50 with bids at $22 at the close. Bucks sold at the usual $1 discount and culls were $13-$16 a hundredweight. Sheep sold from $5-$9 according to the quality.

Newsman Dies In St. Catharines

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 24 — (CP).—Charles W. Cavers, veteran newspaper man who held important editorial posts in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa early in the century, died here today following a lengthy illness. Funeral services will be held here on Saturday.

Mr. Cavers started his newspaper career with the old St. Catharines Star and moved to the Toronto World in 1903. He covered both the Ontario Legislature and the House of Commons in Ottawa for the World and was president of the press gallery at Queen's Park, Toronto. Later he was named editor of the Sunday World and in 1913 accepted a similar position with the Montreal Sunday Herald.

During the First World War he served with the 7th New Brunswick Regiment and the 104th Regiment. Upon discharge he joined the Soldiers' Settlement Board in Ottawa.

He retired in 1937.

Plot Against Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24 — (AP). — It was announced here last night that the government had smashed a plot against the life of President Juan D. Peron and his wife, Eva Duarte Peron. An official statement said several arrests had been made. Police said a United States citizen, whom they identified as John Griffit, now in Uruguay, headed the plot.

$38.91 a month repays a $300 loan in full in 15 months.
Small loans made as readily as large ones. Loans can be repaid ahead of time and the quicker you repay, the less it costs. Loans made within a 25 mile radius of Peterborough.

$50 to $1,500 or More
At Personal, we understand the farmer's particular needs — we try to serve him on the basis that suits him best—"on his own"—without someone else signing the note. So whether you are a Poultryman, a Dairyman, a Fruit Grower, or a General Crop Farmer, why not come in and talk it over. We'll do our best to work out a satisfactory loan that will benefit you.

Hollywood's Van Johnson Enjoying Loan-Out Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (AP) —Van Johnson finds his first loan-out picture "stimulating" and he's looking for more.

Now doing "Mother Was A Freshman," his first film away from the home base of MGM, the carrot-topped actor is dropping hints that he'd like to perform in a remake of "A Man's Castle," which Columbia owns. "Of course, it would be had to top Spencer Tracy," he adds cautiously.

Van has been dieting and he looks great. "I've stopped worrying," he grins. "I let the guys in the front office get the ulcers; they're paid for it."

Crosby On Tour

Bing Crosby is barnstorming the West Coast playing benefits with his air show. He recorded the program in Vancouver this week and will follow with Spokane Sept. 29 and San Francisco Oct. 9.

He'll be back here Oct. 11 to start "Diamond In The Haystack" with Ann Blyth and Barry Fitzgerald.

Gordon MacRae will have to pass up a chance to do "The Hasty Heart" in England because he can't leave his new air show . . . National Legion of Decency found "Miss Tatlock's Millions" morally objectionable in part with the verdict: "Suggestive sequences; tends to condone immoral actions."

Capsule Review

"Let's Live A Little" (Eagle-Lion) is one of the better comedies in the new bumper crop. Thanks to the comic talents of Robert Cummings and some fine bits of business, it provides many merry moments. The plot: A frenetic and executive encounters a lady doctor, author of a "restful living" book. Hedy Lamarr is the medic and she contributes her two expressions. Which, of course, are not bad.

"Do women need to suffer so?"—mothers are often asked. One mother writes:
"The company nurse recommended Paradol when my daughter feared she would lose her job because of time lost each month. Now she loses no time and does not suffer pain or discomfort needlessly."
Paradol is the answer for women who suffer each month. Quick relief also from headaches and neuralgic pains. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance. Carry Paradol in your purse.

Child Buried In Trench

OTTAWA, Sept. 24 — (CP). — Seven-year-old Leo Riopelle of Ottawa Thursday night suffocated to death when he was buried alive under a pile of earth and boulders in a four-foot deep sewer-pipe trench. Two other children, playing with Riopelle in the trench, scampered to safety as a wall of the excavation suddenly caved in.

Engine Turns Over

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 24 — (AP). — Engineer L. E. Hicks of Tampa was killed Thursday night when his engine turned over on him in a collision between the Atlantic coast line railroad's Havana Special, Tampa to New York, and a southbound freight train, at Mango, 10 miles east of here.

Say New Legal Plea May Be Made For Dog

FRESTON, Suffolk, England, Sept. 24 — (CP). — A new legal plea may be made for Bruce, the condemned black-and-brindle dog, by the wife of his owner, Rev. Henry Mayne-Young.

For chicken-killing and trouser-chewing, a magistrate ordered the 18-month-old Alsatian destroyed. He was to have been killed Wednesday but his master said he could not carry out the sentence.

Mrs. Mayne-Young said a lawyer is investigating what may prove to be a special clause in the regulations covering dogs like Bruce, employed for certain specific purposes. Bruce acts as a seeing-eye for the 79-year-old rector's wife, who is blind.

Dog-lovers in Britain, aroused over the future of Bruce, have been pouring in offers to help save the dog's life. Thursday a wealthy dog-lover offered to pay Bruce's upkeep for the rest of his life and a titled woman offered him a home on her country estate.

PALESTINE is being combed by Israeli authorities in the search for Nathan Friedman Yellin (above), chief of the terrorist Stern gang which boasts that it is responsible for the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator. Most sources agree that Yellin has fled Palestine and rumor in Tel Aviv said that he might try to get to Moscow to enlist Soviet aid.

Hues of Autumn Decorate For Temple Songsters' Tea

Vibrant autumn coloring, typifying the entrancing woodland scenes of this season, decorated the Salvation Army Temple hall for the first afternoon tea this fall. The event, held Thursday afternoon by the Temple Songsters, was well attended. Proceeds will be used for the work of this group.

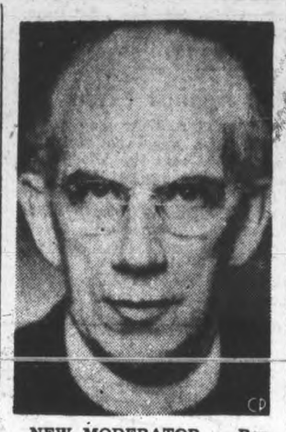
Leaves, turned to bright hues by early frosts, hung from their branches about the room and the fallen ones were scattered on the tea table with colorful fall berries. A bouquet of golden marigolds was in the centre with matching tapers in crystal holders and silver tea services and pretty china on the ecru lace cloth.

Mrs. Mendel Braund, general convener, chose Mrs. C. Watt, Mrs. S. J. Richardson and Mrs. M. Shadgett as hostesses to greet the visitors. Their tea was poured by Mrs. R. G. Routly and Mrs. A. B. Smith and served by Mrs. Ken Bolam, Mrs. Art Mills, Mrs. Alex Cummings, Mrs. Harold Barton and Mrs. Reg. Jones. Plates were arranged and replenished by Mrs. Ronald Routly, Mrs. Wm. Lowell, Mrs. E. Hedge, Mrs. G. Thomas, Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. M. W. Fisher.

Guest artists entertained pleasingly during the afternoon with piano selections, vocal solos and accordion playing. They were Mrs. Frances Turner, Mrs. Olive Searles and Lieut. Stanley Williams.

A very tempting showing of home baking was displayed in a decorated stall with Mrs. P. Rose in charge, assisted by Mrs. Ken Payne and Mrs. Ralph Braund. Novelties and "touch and take" parcels at another booth were for sale by Mrs. J. Craig.

Treasurer for the day was Mrs. Wm. Jones.



NEW MODERATOR — Rev. Dr. Williard E. Brewing of Toronto who was elected moderator of the United Church of Canada at session of the general assembly of the church in Vancouver. He will serve two years, succeeding Rev. T. W. Jones of Montreal.

Home Problems Neatly Solved

By WILLIAM S. CONWAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 24—(AP).—Lady, does your small son run around with his shirt-tail hanging out?

You can put a stop to that very quickly. Just sew a piece of lace on the tail of his shirt and he'll keep it out of sight.

Are you trying to get your weight down to 120 pounds? Here's a trick that will help. Cut out a picture of a girl who is as slim as you'd like to be. Paste it on the ice box door. It will halt you in your tracks when you have a yen for snacks.

Does your husband forget to mail the letters you write? There's a remedy for that. Just tie a long string around the envelope. When he puts it in his pocket, the trailing string will serve as a reminder.

Perhaps he can't even remember your birthday. You can overcome that fault with a couple of vegetables. Spell out the date with peas in the mashed potatoes on the dinner table several nights before the anniversary.

These are examples of feminine ingenuity brought to light on the radio program "Hint Hunt." Women write out their suggestions and submit them for judgment. Authors of the best ideas win prizes.

The show has received, so far, 750,000 solutions to as many problems that confront housewives. Most of them are practical. Some are amusing too.

Cure For Crying

One mother had a child who wept without cause. So she gave him a potted plant and told him to water it with his tears. This placed the lad in a situation that was more silly than sad and his sobs turned to smiles.

Another woman had some sound advice on how to keep children who play across the street out of the paths of automobiles. Just give the kid a whistle. He will blow it when he is ready to come home. Then you go out and guide him through the traffic.

A lady didn't need a laboratory to work out a method of making sure she didn't leave her apartment without her key. She used sound effects. She tied a bell on the key and put it in her purse. Now, when she is stepping out, she shakes her purse. If it tinkles, she knows the key is inside.

Does a dripping faucet drive you wild? Tie a piece of string to the faucet. The water will run down it in silence until the plumber arrives.

Suppose the ceaseless tick-tick-tick of a cloak annoys somebody in a sick-room. Cover the clock with a glass bowl. The patient can see the time but he can't hear it go by.

Nobody knows how many fountain pens have been borrowed and never returned. But there's a way to scotch that. Keep the cap. The party who has the writing end will notice that something is missing. That will jog his memory.

This idea exchange has been operating for two years. The top tips are broadcast five days a week over the Columbia Broadcasting System network at 2 p.m. CST, and originate in a Chicago studio. Winners to date have walked off with $600,000 worth of merchandise.

Pettersen-Pearce

NORWOOD, Sept. 24.—(ENS).—The altar in Christ church was banked with baskets of fall flowers and fern Saturday morning for the wedding of Mary Marion, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pearce and John Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hjlamer Pettersen. The Rev. P. A. Rickard officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. C. A. Copp was at the organ and during the signing of the register, played "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing white slipper satin with lace, fashioned with long sleeves, shirred bodice and full skirt with inserts of lace. Her veil of silk net was caught in cap style with orange blossoms and she carried red roses.

Mrs. John Conaghey, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was frocked in yellow net over satin with bustle effect, and carried pink roses. Miss Sonja Pettersen, sister of the groom, wore a similar frock in pink and carried yellow roses. They wore elbow length mittens and coronets to match.

The groomsman was Mr. Arthur Bitten, and the ushers were Stan McMillen and John Conaghey.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where her mother received, wearing a dress of blue and white jersey, blue accessories and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore silk crepe with satin, grey accessories and corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left for Toronto and points west, the bride wearing a turquoise sheer dress, black shortie coat and accessories and corsage of red roses.

They will reside in Norwood.

CGIT Doings

TRINITY GROUP

CGIT girls of Trinity United church began the year's activities with a weiner roast in Jackson Park this week. Miss Anna Edmondson introduced the girls to the art of making "twisters" and they did very well. Joan Krogh read excerpts from the Senior Camp newspaper evoking envy from those unable to attend this year. A mock radio skit advertising the merits of "gargle juice" was a humorous number on the program by Barbara Huffman, Joan Krogh and Dorothy Woodcock. After singing camp songs the evening was concluded with a story by Miss Edmondson.

ST. JAMES SENIOR GROUP

Regular meeting of CGIT at St. James church was held Tuesday, opening with singing and prayer. The Bible was read by Margaret Freeman and others in the group. Selling of Christmas cards was discussed. The collection was taken by treasurer Laurene Keating. Nominations for offices in the club were received by the leaders, Mrs. L. McLaren. Those elected are: president, Shirley Anderson; secretary, Donna Bristow; treasurer, Margaret Tremain; vice-president, Shirley Hudgins; program convener, Dorothy Callan; social convener, Laurene Keating; librarian, Marjorie Turner; pianist, June Bullied.

Edwin Harvie, Alnwick township's oldest man, will be 92 on Thursday, Sept. 23. Mr. Harvie is in steadily declining health and has been confined to bed for some time. However, his many friends hope he may recover sufficiently to be about again and that he may enjoy this and future anniversary occasion.

In a recent Alfred Braithwaite obituary an item regarding the survivors read "'a daughter Mrs. Clark (Mary)." It should have read, a daughter Mrs. Clark Sandercock (Mary).

Fashion Flashes For Fall

PRETTY PICTURES will be the order of the evening when the autumn season gets under way and bright young things go out dancing. A delightful dance dress is composed of a slim bodice of black velvet with a drop shoulder ruffle of white Venise type lace, and a full skirt of white net with appliqued garlands of black velvet roses.

✧ ✧ ✧

TO ONE SIDE go some of the smartest fall hats. Soft green velour is used for an irregular cushioned cloche, the low side accented by a fancy of curled and twisted ostrich in a sort of palm tree effect.

✧ ✧ ✧

DRESSING UP plain suits and coats this winter will be through the medium of small fur pieces, a nice idea for the budget-minded. American broadtail is used for a Victorian type pellerine with scalloped border, stand-up collar and shaped shoulders. It is ensembled with a barrel muff. Same models are in beaver or sable-dyed squirrel.

✧ ✧ ✧

RISING in popularity is gray fur, with the emphasis, of course, on gray Persian lamb. Steel gray Persian lamb makes a handsome three-quarter-length coat, with a very full six-flared back, slim front and sides. Shawl collar and turn-back cuffs that end in peaked points.

VERY NEW is the fur coat cut like an old-fashioned mantle with soft, all-around fullness. Leopard is the fur chosen for a most exotic coat of this type that has a high buttoned yoke of black Alaska sealskin with wide, matching cuffs.

✧ ✧ ✧

SPOTLIGHTING the slim waist are many handsome belts. Graduating pearl buttons mark the slanting scalloped edge of a shaped bronze satin belt that fits snugly over the waistline.

✧ ✧ ✧

AN EASY LESSON in literature is suggested by a new scarf that goes very Shakespearean with a centre figure of Hamlet, laurel-wreath surrounded, with quotations from the play forming a border, set off by other characters from the great work.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE GIRL IN CALICO and velveteen is going to be a college favorite, for this fabric twosome is going great guns in college clothes promotions. A jumper of dark brown velveteen teams up with a calico blouse in brown, red and white dots and stripes.

✧ ✧ ✧

DESIGNED to lend interest to the simple or basic dark dress is a handsome little bolero in black crepe studded all over with pearl and crystal beads in a small circle design.

DOROTHY DIX

Young Widow's Plight Hit by Living Costs

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widow with a little girl three years old. I am employed in an office and make a good living for myself and child. Now here is my problem: I have a few men friends, but as soon as they find out that I am a widow with a child they drop me like a hot potato.

Dorothy Dix

I really am not looking for a husband. All I want is a little male companionship and to be able to step out now and then. Why should my having a child make such a difference to the men?

WONDERING

ANSWER: That is easy to understand, and in common fairness you must get the man's viewpoint on it. The high cost of living makes marriage almost prohibitive nowadays. It takes every cent a man can make to support a wife alone, and he feels that he cannot possibly afford one if she is encumbered with children.

Then, too, most men fear to marry a woman with a child because they realize that they cannot help but be jealous of it. They know that the child will always come between them and their wives, and, while a man may not mind his own baby's hands putting his nose out of joint, it is a different story when it is a stepchild who does it.

Readymade Family

Fatherhood entails many sacrifices upon a man, and it takes one of an exceptionally generous nature to be willing to work and slave to support another man's child.

Obviously the reason your men friends drop you when they find that you have a child is that they think you are most attractive and they are afraid they will fall in love with you, and they simply do not want to be burdened with a readymade family.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a commercial school graduate and am earning a fairly good salary as a stenographer, but I am dissatisfied. I feel that I would like to do something besides sitting in an office all day. I am 17 years old and often have thought seriously of studying art. How's about a little advice?

MILDRED

ANSWER: Better stick to your stenography, for which you have prepared yourself.

As for your studying art, unless you have some strongly marked talent it will be difficult to make it worth while. Only those to whom God has given the eye and the hand of the artist can hope to succeed in that precarious calling. My earnest advice to you is to making yourself the best possible stenographer. Study art on the side as a hobby. If you have great talent it will express itself predominently.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, September 25

A very lively and interesting day is forecast from the aspects of the purely personal, social, cultural and youthful activities normal to the weekend holiday. Although the mental outlook is well stimulated for activity, dealings, contracts and travel, and there are some signs favoring money and possessions, especially those identified with domestic or social interests, yet the leaning to excesses and indulgence warns against improvident notions or making new agreements. Postpone lavish use of funds or energies.

Those whose birthday it is may find their mentality and planning faculties keyed to interesting activity and enterprise, with leanings toward change, travel, new contracts and agreements, and these are in line for profitable consideration where money and investments are involved. Still a rash idea of indulgence, extravagance and exaggerated notions, suggests the wisdom of postponing until more propitious rule holds sway. Affairs of youth and family offer compensation for rigid programs of thrift and economy.

A child born on this day is well endowed with mental and social talents and ambitions, with progress through change, new contacts and environs. An inherent trend to excess, extravagance and improvidence warns against all lavish and luxurian display.

TAILORED TOWN COAT—Restrained elegance is always a talking point whether it is of furs, frocks or fashionable living. To illustrate our theme here is a coat that can take its prideful place amid lavish clothes and more than hold its own. This one is in gray yarn-dyed woollen with black for the small shawl collar. The armholes are deep in contrast with the slim lines of the coat which has a wide leather belt to cinch in the waistline. The skirt has interesting pocket flap detail.

Hemline Interest Brings Ankles To Attention

NEW YORK—The first panic about the "New Look" is past—now the longer hemlines, the narrower waist and the gentler styling of new clothes are accepted and enjoyed, or such is the opinion of a group of well-known style experts. Newest of the "New Look" features, and one which is very flattering, is the accent on hemline interest, which is definitely on the increase. Petticoat ruffles on dresses, petticoats themselves which show with the graceful twirl of a full skirt, rippling hem—all these fascinating style points have been adopted by high-fashion centres. "However," one stylist points out, "the lady who loves this new flattering hemline interest—and which of us doesn't! — must be particularly careful about her stockings! Naturally, the day of the bare leg is gone! No one can wear the new fashions, with their gentle, ladylike look, and get away with bare legs! But, just as important, the stockings themselves must be a part of the complete costume. Hose which fit neatly at the ankle, and which slenderize the leg with their slim seems, are a "must" for new styles, particularly as all eyes will be on your ankles from now on!"

Priest Outlines Marriage Rules

TORONTO, Sept. 24—(CP). — Rev. Daniel A. Lord, Roman Catholic educator and editor from St. Louis, Mo., said Thursday night the reason so many modern marriages fail is that men and women marry for love.

"A marriage based on love alone is doomed," he told a large audience at a downtown auditorium.

White-haired Father Lord said until the late middle ages, no one ever married for love. Many couples were in love, but they married for more practical reasons.

"People in love are the worst possible ones to pick mates objectively," Father Lord said.

His formula for successful marriage comprised four m's — mind, money, manners and morals. Married persons must continue to develop mentally if they are to get along with one another, he said.

And speaking about manners, Father Lord observed that the bad-mannered husband "who calls his wife a ball and chain, deserves one."

Father Lord will speak in Peterborough next Tuesday in the Collegiate auditorium.

Home and School

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

Graduation exercises for the 1948 class of Bridgenorth Public School were held before a large gathering of parents and friends. Mr. T. Seidel as chairman extended congratulations to the graduating students, Lorie Mann, Phyllis Wilde and Gary Hardill. Mr. Ezra Ball, a former teacher, presented diplomas and a gift to each. An excellent valedictory address was made by Gary Hardill.

The Rev. D. P. Morris of Bridgenorth United Church, as guest speaker, based his remarks on "Religion as a firm foundation for education."

Welcome to the trustees and guests was extended by Donald Bell of the coming year's graduating class. The students sang "School Days" and "Little Red School House," with Mrs. C. Telford accompanying at the piano.

Conveners in charge were Mrs. T. Seidel and Mrs. Ralph Jopling, who, with aid of a committee, served lunch at the close of the program.

Of Interest to Women

IDEAL for the travelled as well as for the college girl and the country cousin, and good for general wear in town, is the fine camel hair coat, perennially popular. A handsome double breasted model has a wide-spaced Barrymore collar and a modified front panel while a back belt with a double set of buttons controls the bulky fullness of the coat.

Protest Building Of Power Plant

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (CP). —The National St. Lawrence project conference Thursday protested an application by the New York power authority to build a Hydro-Electric power plant on the St. Lawrence River in co-operation with Ontario.

The project conference, an organization of nearly 300 eastern and central United States Chambers of Commerce and similar bodies, in the past has opposed any part of the seaway development.

The conference filed an intervention with the Federal Power Commission opposing an application for a licence for development and distribution of St. Lawrence power by the New York power authority. The application will be heard by the commission beginning Oct. 4.

Carroll S. Huntress, chairman of the conference, said in a statement:

"The application is an attempt to get permission to undertake part of the long-debated St. Lawrence project from an administrative agency which lacks authority to issue the licence requested, thereby avoiding congressional control of the matter."

Communism Pagan Philosophy United Church Leaders Warn

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—(CP). —The United Church of Canada today discussed its relationship to international affairs and tabled a report labelling Communism as both a "christian heresy and a pagan philosophy."

The report culminated a two-year study of Communism by both United church clerics and laymen in Canada and Newfoundland. Its presentation to the 13th General Council here follows close on Thursday night's attack on Communism by Very Rev. Jesse Arnup, Toronto.

The former United church moderator declared he could not attempt the religious fundamentalism on Karl Marx in place of the liberty of Jesus Christ.

And, he added emphatically, "I refuse to exchange Jesus Christ for Joseph Stalin as the saviour of the world."

Rev. Arnup charged that Communism is endeavoring to dominate every Christian mission field abroad. He said Communism was destroying human morality and violating "the Christian conception of the dignity of man."

Can't Be Stopped

The younger churches are getting together in the mission fields, he said. "Nothing can stop the new church movement abroad."

He said their predominant place in the recent World Council of Churches at Amsterdam was "a living demonstration God is able to reproduce his character irrespective of race, color, language, or anything."

Concurring with the Toronto cleric, Dr. William Service, a medical missionary now on leave from West China, urged the 470 church delegates here to "speak boldly . . . to propound a positive faith."

"A negative answer is not enough," the former Toronto medical man said, "to carry the Christian message into the Communist areas of China."

"The door is open and the difficulties are legion: ignorance, disease, superstition, poverty and misgovernment."

Two Found Dead Both In Ill Health

TORONTO, Sept. 24 — (CP).— Two Toronto residents—both in ill health, according to police—were found dead Wednesday night and today.

The body of Anthony English, 48, was found in his bed this morning. He had a bullet wound through his head. Coroner J. P. E. Williams said the man had been in ill health for a year.

The body of Mrs. Rhoda Trafford, 44, was found in a Toronto ravine Wednesday night. Police say she also had been in ill health for some time.

Gas Mantel Light Replaces Electric Light

BRANTFORD, Sept. 24—(CP). —Faced with the problem of lighting his display window in the face of Hydro cuts, A. W. Allison, West Brantford jeweler, decided that a solution might lie in the procuring of gas mantel lights.

He combed the area around Brantford, asking at each farm if there were any old gas lights on the premises.

Finally he found a double fixture and, with the approval of the Brantford Fire Department and Gas Company, placed it in the window, piping in gas from a stove.

May Resume Talks

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 24 — (CP). — Union officials said an unofficial visit by Labor Minister Daley to St. Catharines Thursday might mean resumption of negotiations between McKinnon Industries and the striking Local 199, United Auto Workers. (C.I.O.) Mr. Daley talked informally for half an hour to union officials.

Winter Celery Market Planned By Growers

TORONTO, Sept. 24 — (CP). — Celery growers in five Ontario districts will try to establish an Ontario winter celery market, growers decided at a meeting here Wednesday.

A committee was appointed to study the project and make necessary application for the board under the Ontario Marketing Act. The growers will vote on the proposal.

Celery growers from Burlington, Thedford, Bradford, Niagara and suburban Islington attended the meeting. They said the proposed board would help them gain more control over the marketing of their crop.

4 Canadians Hurt In U.S. Bus Crash

DETROIT, Sept. 24 — (CP). — Four Canadians were injured today when a Chicago-Detroit bound Greyhound bus crashed into the rear of a parked truck near Dearborn, Mich., west of here. One person was believed killed and at least seven others, besides the Canadians, were injured when the vehicle crashed into a truck loaded with potatoes with such force that the truck moved four feet into the bus.

Canadians injured were:

Roger Brule, 18, of Clouston, Sask., leg injuries, at Wayne General Hospital.

Mrs. Alice Bowdery, 55, of Vancouver, B.C.

Mrs. Eleanor Holmes, 35, and her husband, Robert, 39, of Chatham.

Dearborn firemen were working with blow torches to free at least four persons reported trapped in the front section of the bus.

The bus reportedly was carrying 25 to 30 passengers.

Sure Peace Succeed

PARIS, Sept. 24 — (AP). — State Secretary Marshall said Thursday night that he thinks United States peace efforts will succeed. "We will succeed in our task, thanks to the honesty of our goal and the sincerity of our intentions," he told a group of French legislative leaders.

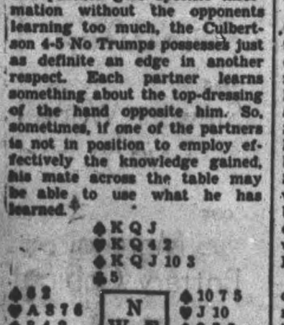
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

EACH HAS ITS MERITS

WHEREAS the Blackwood convention has an advantage, in that one partner gets specific information without the opponents learning too much, the Culbertson 4-5 No Trumps possesses just as definite an edge in another respect. Each partner learns something about the top-dressing of the hand opposite him. So, sometimes, if one of the partners is not in position to employ effectively the knowledge gained, his mate across the table may be able to use what he has learned.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1. 1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	(?)
2. 1 ♠	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 NT	Pass	6 ♠

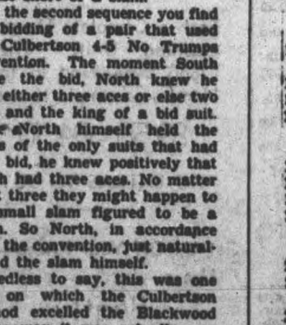
Bidding given in the first sequence was about what developed at most tables of a tournament where the Blackwood convention was used. South learned that North had no aces, but North couldn't tell whether South had two aces or three. It was hence a guess for him. Some Norths took it into 6-Spades, others left it just short of a slam.

In the second sequence you find the bidding of a pair that used the Culbertson 4-5 No Trumps convention. The moment South made the bid, North knew he held either three aces or else two aces and the king of a bid suit. Since North himself held the kings of the only suits that had been bid, he knew positively that South had three aces. No matter what three they might happen to be, small slam figured to be a cinch. So North, in accordance with the convention, just naturally bid the slam himself.

Needless to say, this was one deal on which the Culbertson method excelled the Blackwood in the way it was actually employed.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

How should South play at his crazy 3-No Trumps if West leads the heart K, switches to the club J, and East plays the 7?

Notice to Creditors

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER LIMITED.

Notice to Creditors and All Others Having Claims against the Company.

IN THE MATTER OF PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER LIMITED, and in the Matter of Part XIV of the Ontario Companies Act Relating to the Voluntary Winding Up of Corporations.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Shareholders of the above mentioned Company in Special Meeting assembled on the 26th Day of August, A.D. 1948, passed a Resolution requiring the Company to be Wound Up, and appointing the undersigned as Liquidator.

NOTICE is therefore hereby given to the Creditors of the above mentioned Company and to all others having CLAIMS against the said Company, to send, on or before the 31st Day of October, A.D. 1948, by post prepaid, to the undersigned Liquidator, their Christian names and surnames addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their Claims and the nature and amount of the Securities (if any) held by them, duly verified.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that in distributing the Assets of the said Company among the persons entitled thereto, regard will be had only to the Claims of which the undersigned shall have had notice at the time of such distribution, and that the undersigned will not be liable for the said Assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose Claim notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Fliers Safe, Had 12 Days In Bushland

Air Search Discovers Missing Crew of 5 Near Hudson Bay

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 — (CP). — Five fliers who survived 12 days in northern Canada's bleak hinterlands were safe today after one of the greatest aerial searches in Canada's history.

The crashed United States Navy plane and the tiny group, which included two high British and United States naval officers, was sighted by an R.C.A.F. Lancaster Friday in the vast wilderness southwest of Hudson Bay.

The search plane dropped supplies and a map to the five survivors who, despairing of rescue, had set out to beat their way out of the bush. The map directed them to a rendezvous with an amphibious Canso on a lake four miles away.

There, encased in warm sleeping bags for the first time since Sept. 12, they waited daybreak for the Canso to take off on the two-hour flight back to The Pas.

Huge Aerial Search

The rescue climaxed a heroic fight for survival, aided by emergency hunting and trapping equipment carried in the grounded plane, and a huge aerial search in which a fleet of some 40 R.C.A.F. and United States aircraft swept hundreds of thousands of miles.

The search was spurred by rumors, denied in Ottawa, that data vital to North America's Arctic defence was carried by the two high naval officials — Capt. Sir Robert W. Stirling-Hamilton, naval adviser at the British high commissioner's office in Ottawa, and Capt. B. S. Custer, naval attache at the U.S. Embassy, Ottawa.

The attaches were returning from a trip to Churchill, Man., where they travelled aboard the destroyer Nootka two weeks ago. It marked the first time a Canadian destroyer visited the Hudson Bay port.

The three others on the plane were Pilot Jack M. Kastner, U.S. Navy chief petty officer; Lieut. Charles Wilcox, assistant to Capt. Custer, and Master Sergeant J. Scalise of the U.S. Army, returning from Churchill for his discharge.

Crash-Landed Off Course

Bad weather and compasses upset by the North Magnetic Pole are believed to have set the plane off course on its 450-mile flight from Churchill to The Pas. It crash-landed near Highrock Lake in northeastern Saskatchewan, about 225 miles northwest of The Pas and about 50 degrees off course.

The Lancaster, piloted by F.O. Rene LeMieux sighted the grounded aircraft. A huge white arrow, pointing south, showed the direction the survivors had taken.

The Lancaster spotted the group walking through the woods. They had covered 25 miles from the crash but were still miles away from the nearest outpost, only a few minutes flying time but days of ground travel through the rugged terrain.

Police Killers Split Up, Near Montreal

MONTREAL, Sep. 25 —(CP)— Police said today they possessed positive information the two constable-killing Perraults have split up and Donald Perrault, 28, is somewhere outside Montreal.

His accomplice in the Thursday slaying of two city police officers in an east-end bank holdup, Douglas Perreault, 29, is still in Montreal, police said.

These facts were discovered by detectives who followed a 200-mile trail along the south shore of the St. Lawrence river in search of Donald who was reported seen in Ste. Angele, a small provincial town.

There the trail ended.

But police said it was ascertained that Donald was alone. He was reported seen by a gas station attendant.

Driver of Car

Donald was driver of the getaway car during the holdup. But when the shooting started he didn't wait for his companions, Douglas Perreault and Noel Cloutier who came out of the bank shooting and killed two policemen before they commandeered another car to drive away.

The commandeered car was overtaken by police and Cloutier was captured but Douglas Perreault eluded police. For a time it was thought the two Perraults had joined forces again but today's information shattered that belief.

A reward of $1,000 each for the Perraults was offered Friday by city officials. A civic funeral will be held Monday for the two constables.

Anti-US Feeling Increases After Plot To Kill Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 25 — (AP)— A two-day demonstration over police reports of a plot to kill President Juan Peron and his wife has turned into the strongest anti-United States campaign in Argentina in more than two years. The alleged plot, which Peron himself blamed on a former cultural attache at the United States [illegible], was announced by police Friday. By nightfall 17 Argentines had been imprisoned.

A 14-hour general strike which ended at midnight Friday night, freed workers to march, chant and shout slogans. Peron and his wife, Eva Duarte Peron, delivered fiery addresses to a throng of workers in the Plaza in front of Casa Rosada, the governement house.

Blames Plot.

The President blamed the alleged plot not only on the former attache— John Griffith, now living in Uruguay— but also on foreign correspondents, some newspapers, and Peron's political opponents within the country.

Exuberant supporters of the president, on leaving the Plaza, stormed the nearby building of La Prensa, Buenos Aires largest newspaper and the strongest press critic of Peron's policies. A small fire was started against the steel front door before Mounted Police cleared the street. A stream of water from a fire hose kept the crowd from entering the building until police dispersed the demonstrators.

The crowd then moved a block away to the United States embassy, occupying several floors in the First National Bank of Boston's building. The building had been closed several hours, but a crowd of several hundred shouted anti-American slogans. Police chased them.

Peron's speech set the pace for the demonstrations, but he personally asked his supporters to let the law take its course in punishing the accused plotters. He charged "foreign gold" had been used to finance the plot.

325,000 Acres Lost In Fire

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (CP). — The mammoth forest fire, which last summer raged for about two months in the Mississagi area of northern Ontario, burned over some 323,500 acres of bushland in 28 townships.

This was revealed in a preliminary report of the fire, released here Friday by the Department of Lands and Forests. The fire started May 25 and was not brought under control until July 23.

Dry weather, highly inflammable fuel conditions, strong winds and inaccessability of the fire itself, hampered firefighters, the report stated. Rain fell on the area from May 5-7 and the next rain came June 22 — four weeks after the fire started.

The blaze was discovered May 25 by a plane engaged in aerial sketching operations. It was burning about 50 miles northwest of Blind River — halfway between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury.

Types of timber burned included varying mixtures of mature white, red and jack pine, mixed second and young growth, and black spruce. Forestry officials estimated shortly after the fire that much of this fire-damaged timber could be salvaged.

Wants Arms Control By UN Group

Charge Allies Try To "Isolate" Russia; Suggests Year Limit

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(AP).—Russia proposed today that the five major powers reduce their armed forces by a third inside of one year.

Accusing the United States, Britain and France of trying to isolate Russia by means of military alliances, Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, asked the United Nations General Assembly to set up an international control body to supervise reductions of armaments of armed forces and prohibition of atomic weapons.

Vishinsky said he proposed this resolution to strengthen the cause of peace and eliminate "the threat of a new war fomented by expansionists and other reactionary elements." The expansionists, he contended, all are west of the iron curtain.

When Vishinsky finished, Warren Austin of the United States delegation commented: "It's the same old stuff. He came with his speech all written out and just touched it up after hearing the dignified form of Gen. Marshall's remarks."

State Secretary Marshall of the United States two days ago told the Assembly United States patience in international crises must not be interpreted as a sign of weakness.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain, president of the Security Council, said Vishinsky "covered all the old points. It was a counter-attack on the points on which they have been the worst offenders.

"It's the same speech as last year," said Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France said, "The speech does not ease the tension, but we all hope that this tension will not be heightened by Vishinsky's words." He noted that the Russian did not touch on the German crisis.

A hushed audience listened intently as Vishinsky, in what was advertised as a policy statement, accused the United States once again of seeking world domination.

The deputy foreign minister singled out several Americans

Russian Agency Banned In Berlin

BERLIN, Sept. 25 — (CP). — The British, French and American military governments to-day issued orders banning the Soviet-licensed newspaper distributing agency from the Western sectors of Berlin.

All Western-licensed newspapers not distributed in the Soviet sector through the agency were seized earlier this week by the Soviet-sector German police.

The only two Western papers which had arranged distribution through the agency, the British-controlled Die Welt and the French-licensed Kuirer, were notified Friday that their contracts had been cancelled.

Driver Wasn't Drunk Had Dose of Asthma

GUELPH, Sept. 25.—(CP).—A Kitchener lawyer today won dismissal for a client in court here on the grounds that his client was allergic to beer and had been driving in an erratic manner because of an attack of asthma. A W. Boos, defense counsel, had medical evidence to support his claims.

The defendant, James Brunton, Kitchener traveller, pleaded guilty to a careless driving charge and was fined $10.

He had had half a glass of beer on the night in question to celebrate the visit of a twin brother he hadn't seen in years. The drink brought on the asthma seizure, which brought on the arrest.

Probe Bride's Death

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 25 — (C P) — A bride of three-weeks, Mrs. Annie Labine of Brighton, died in hospital here Friday from unexplained causes. Provincial police, who said she was suffering from convulsions said a post-mortem would be performed. Her husband was understood to have left for Chatham, Ont., some days ago. She went to Brighton from Hamilton 23 years ago and previously had lived in Kingston.

5-Power Talks Suddenly Called In Paris

PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP) — An official British source said today the five defence ministers of the Western (Brussels) Alliance will meet in Paris Monday to discuss common military problems.

The report came shortly after Andrei Vishinsky, Russian deputy foreign minister, in a United Nations assembly speech denounced the five-power alliance as one directed against Russia and Eastern Europe.

The alliance is made up of Britain, France and the Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Apparently the decision to meet was taken suddenly.

A session of the permanent military committee of the Western Alliance in Paris had been scheduled some time ago, but it had been put off during the period when France was without a government.

Vishinsky, addressing the UN Assembly, asserted that the United States, Britain and France organized the five-power alliance "in direct contradiction with the interests of strengthening the peace and security of the peoples."

"The whole British, French and American press openly states that the military alliance of the five western powers is directed against the USSR and the new democracies." ("New Democracies" is the Russian term for Communist states in the Soviet orbit).

Pearson To Run In Algoma East

ESPANOLA, Sept. 25 —(CP)— Lester B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, Friday was formally nominated Liberal candidate for Algoma East in the Oct. 25 federal by-election.

He told a nominating convention he is ready to fight anyone who contests the seat he decided to seek upon his appointment recently as Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent's success in the external affairs post.

No one else has been nominated to date for the seat, vacated by Senator Thomas Farquhar when he was named to the Upper House.

Turning to world affairs, he said international Communism harnessed to imperialism posed a threat to peace. But there was "nothing in the present situation to get jittery about," he said.

22 Families Homeless As Fire Sweeps Village, 37 Buildings Destroyed

$250,00 Damage To Homes, Stores, Church As 200 Volunteers Fight For 8 Hours Quebec Hamlet Cut Off From Outside World

ST. MATHIEU, Que., Sept. 24 —(CP)— Smoke and the acrid smell of burned ruins still hovered today over what remains of this once picturesque valley village, laid waste Friday night in a $250,000 fire which destroyed 37 buildings. The blaze of undetermined origin left 22 families homeless, levelled St. Mathieu's little shopping district and its pretty frame church. Ninety per cent of the buildings were frame structures — and tinder dry.

Hampered by a lack of water, 200 volunteer fire-fighters, battling alongside brigades from Shawinigan Falls and Grand'mere, were unable to cope with the fast-travelling flames which leaped from building to building.

Firemen were forced to stretch 3,000 feet of hose to nearby Lake Bellemare, 10 miles west of Shawinigan Falls, to continue the battle. It lasted more than eight hours. Meanwhile telephone services were out, shutting off the village from the outside world.

Dies of Heart Attack

Mrs. Delphis Heroux, 70, died of a heart attack but there was no loss of life directly attributable to the fire. She died in the arms of a son restraining her from re-entering their home to save personal belongings.

Abbe Leonce Panneton, Roman Catholic parish priest, said the fire broken out about 4 p.m., in a small shed at the rear of a home near the presbytery. It was no time before the presbytery and church were levelled.

"We just kept running from one house to the next, the flames moved so fast," said a fireman of the Grand'Mere brigade. The heat was intense.

After the fire was controlled in the village, the St. Maurice Valley Fire Protection Service of the Provincial Lands and Forests Department remained to check the blaze's progress in timber on hills banking St Mathieu.

8 Premiers Attend London Conference

LONDON, Sept. 25—(Reuters) — Eight premiers are among 89 leading representatives of 37 Parliaments from all the Dominions and Colonies attending a 10-day Commonwealth Parliament Conference which will open here Oct. 18.

Most of the delegates have already arrived in Britain. At the conference, representative Commonwealth delegations will be chosen to go to Bermuda in November for a meeting of the British-American parliamentary group, an affiliated body of the Empire Parliamentary Association, which links British parliamentarians with members of Congress.

Canada's delegation of 21 is the largest to the conference. There are 13 Dominion representatives headed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King who will leave the United Nations General Assembly meeting in Paris to attend.

Election Date Postponed As Strikes Loom

PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—Premier Henri Queuille won a reprieve for his shaky coalition government today.

The National Assembly, after a complex series of reversals, voted to hold local French elections next March, instead of next month, and then decided to go on vacation tomorrow night. This will give Queuille a chance to shore up his cabinet's strength.

Parliament's vacation is expected to last about a month.

The vote to postpone the elections until March was 299 to 274, with the Communists and followers of Gen. De Gaulle joining against postponement.

A two-hour general strike involving some 7,000,000 workers over cost-of-living increases passed calmly Friday. The stoppage was carried out in a holiday mood.

However, Queuille faces a serious threat of an unlimited strike in the French coal mines and power plants next week.

The question of the elections holds special significance for the delicate balance of political power among the parties.

The Socialists, whose withdrawal of support over fiscal policies caused the downfall of three cabinets in the last two months, want neither local nor general elections soon. They fear voting during the present economic difficulties resulting from rising living costs and inflation would desult in increased strength for the Communists on the Extreme Left and the De Gaullists on the Extreme Right.

Hospital Aides Help 2 Forgers

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (CP) — Police said Friday night that 14 employees of Sunnybrook Veterans Hospital here unwittingly helped two clever forgers to obtain Veterans Affairs Department cheques worth approximately $400 which were later raised to $14,000 and honored by banks in Toronto, Barrie, Bradford, Orillia, London and Oshawa.

Detectives said one of the forgers, posing as an obliging insurance salesman, gave lifts in his automobile to Sunnybrook employees and then offered to cash their cheques for them "to save them the trouble of going away down town to the bank."

Police last week arrested Hugh McIntosh, 30, of Brandon, Man., and charged him with forgeries amounting to $12,000 in five western Canadian cities. Since then they have questioned McIntosh and a companion, Raymond Jackson, 24, from eastern Canada, in connection with the Toronto forgeries.

Jury Convicts Trio On Narcotics Charges

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 — (CP).—Two men and a woman, all of Toronto, were convicted Friday by an assize court jury of conspiracy to transport narcotics, with a black market value of $20,000, from Toronto to Vancouver.

The jury deliberated one hour and nine minutes before convicting Dinny Annunziello and his wife Mary, both 33, and Steve Peters, 34.

A suitcase containing the narcotics was intercepted by RCMP officers at Calgary and a dummy package was substituted. The trio were arrested after the package was delivered to a Vancouver apartment house.

Record Farm Earnings

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25.—(CP).—Average net return for each Manitoba farm during the 1948 crop year likely will approximate a record $4,000, the Provincial Department of Agriculture reported Friday. The 1947 figure, on the basis of 52,500 farms in the province, yielded $3,597, the highest recorded up to that time.

Say Russians Kidnap 5,000 Berliners

Democrats Charge Political Prisoners Being Held In Labor Camps

BERLIN, Sept. 25. (Reuters)—More than 5,000 Berliners have been kidnapped by the Russians since May, 1945, a memorandum issued today by the Social Democratic party indicated.

The memorandum is based on information which the party received from sources in the Soviet occupation zone.

Soviet-licensed newspapers recently described these sources as "a Social Democratic network of espionage" and reported that 15 persons of this "illegal group" had been arrested in Thuringia in the Soviet zone.

The Social Democratic Memorandum said:

"Our only weapon against the policy of terror imposed by the occupying power in the Soviet zone is our right to freedom solemnly proclaimed by all victorious powers.

"We shall never stop demanding the fulfillment of this promise for the eastern zone . . .

Two Reasons

"There are two reasons for the kidnapping of Germans from Berlin and the Soviet zone:

"1. The political opponents of the (Communist) Socialist Unity party and the Soviet Regime are thus eliminated.

"2. The kidnapped persons are of economic advantage to the Russians since they are put to work in forced labor camps in Soviet Russia or in the eastern zone.

"Shortly after 1945, the Russians tried to recruit German skilled workers for Russia because they did not know what to do with the dismantled German industrial equipment.

"Since only a few German workers and engineers accepted the Russian offer, the Russians began to export several big German industrial works together with the skilled workers, including the leading engineers."

Eight large concentration camps exist now in the Soviet zone and there are many other smaller forced labor camps spread all over the eastern zone of Germany, the memorandum said.

"All these camps are used as transit camps for those opponents of Communist policy who are being deported to Russia.

"In autumn, 1947, about 30,000 to 40,000 Germans were imprisoned for political reasons, and one-third of them were deported to Russia or Poland . . ."

Schooner Hull Seen, No Sign Of 3 In Crew

SYDNEY, N.S., Sept. 25.—(CP).—The hull of a small fishing schooner, keel up, has been sighted off nearby Point Caledonia, RCMP reported today.

She was tentatively identified as the Albert F. II. No sign of life near the vessel was reported. The Albert F. II carried three crew members. Efforts to reach her failed because of heavy seas and a strong northeast wind.

Hatchet Slayer Gets 10 Years In Penitentiary

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (CP). — Sentenced to 10 years imprisonment, Yvonne Brouillette, 38, today was ready to go to penitentiary at Kingston, to start her term for manslaughter in the hatchet-slaying of John Farrell, 33.

At her trial for murder, she said earlier this week that she struck Farrell 35 times with the ax after he beat her and threatened to kill her. An assize court jury reduced the charge to manslaughter and convicted her.

With face flushed and hands clasped nervously, she faced Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay of the Ontario Supreme Court for sentence Friday. He told her he had considered her unhappy family life and lack of opportunity. He added:

"But I must also remember that by your wild hand you ushered into death Farrell — bad as he was and drunk as he was — without a moment's opportunity to prepare to meet his maker."

No Relatives to Help

Defence Counsel Harry Rose said the woman, formerly of Narcisse, Que., was one of 10 children in a family. Yet her family was so scattered now that none of her relatives was in court to plead for her.

He said she had gone to work on a farm at the age of 12 and entered unknowingly into a bigamous marriage at 15. Later, for most of her life, she had worked in war plants and as a domestic.

Crown Counsel W. O. Gibson said before the sentence was passed:

"Don't lose sight of the fact that Farrell, good, bad or indifferent, was entiled to be alive today. The accused woman must be punished for his death."

Took 2 Years To Make Beautiful Lace Panel

A lace panel five yards long and 65 inches wide, which took two years to design and produce, is on its way to Canada and may eventually be on show in Peterborough. The panel has been made in Nottingham in commemoration of the Battle of Britain. One of these panels has been presented to the Rt. Hon. Winston S. Churchill and another to the Burgomaster of Apeldoorn, Holland.

The beautifully made curtain is decorated with scenes of the battle in defence of the British Isles against the numerically superior and highly train German air force from July to September 1940. Many Canadians died in the battle and the curtain pays tribute to them with the badge of the RCAF included among the badges of the RAF and other Commonwealth air forces.

Conference Told Church Union Talks Progress "Encouragingly"

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—(CP). —A report that negotiations for union with the Church of England in Canada are progressing "encouragingly" was left with the United church's 13th General Council today as the 470 delegates adjourned for the week-end.

Rev. Gordon A. Sisco of Toronto, told the Council Friday night that after four years of "conversations' with Church of England officials "there is good reason and ground for encouragement."

The general secretary said a detailed report on progress towards union was prepared at the recent Lambeth conerence of Anglican bishops. It will be considered by the United church, he said.

Executive Head

This report will engage the attention of representatives of the two churches, at least on executive levels and possibly on committee levels," he said in a carefully-worded statement upon which there was no comment.

Delegates approved a heavy agenda Friday which:

1. Tightened the church's regulations on re-marriage of divorced persons.

2. Re-affirmed the right of women to enter its ministry.

3. Approved financial plans to guarantee married ordained ministers a $2,480 minimum salary by 1951.

4. Urged upon various factors inn Canada the necessity of establishing a self-disciplined, co-operative economy.

Home Is Sacred

"If anything is sacred in the state it is the Christian home," Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the church's evangelism and social service department, told the Council.

"The home cannot be built in a nation with a rising divorce rate. Marriage is our business," he said.

During a quick, unanimous vote on ministerial salary increases the Council undertook to "guarantee" a minimum $2,100 for married ministers beginning in 1949. Now getting an $1,800 minimum, the plan hoped to extend the increase to $2,200 in 1950 and $2,400 in 1951. Single men were to receive $300 less in each case.

Dr. Mutchmor's board of evangelism also suggested the church "urge upon business, industry, agriculture and government the utter necessity of establishing a self-disciplined and co-operative economy in our nation."

F. R. Murgatroyd, a Hamilton lawyer, objected to the contentious wording of the recommendation. He said "the function of the church was to sell God, not to talk about economic matters."

Dr. Mutchmor said his proposal did not deal with any system of economics, but with the matter of "self-discipline and co-operation," which, he said, was a business of the church.

No More Rifle Clubs

HELSINKI, Sept. 25—(AP)—A Soviet note demanding dissolution of Finnish Rifle Clubs has been handed to the Finnish government, Finland's leftist press said today. The papers said the Russian note reminded the Finnish government that members of the clubs—former members of an outlawed militia—had engaged in target practice, which it called a violation of the peace treaty.

Knocked Down By Car Man Fractures Leg

MARMORA, Sept. 25.—(ENS). —Harry Lummiss of Marmora suffered a fractured leg and facial cuts Friday afternoon when he was knocked down by a car on No. 7 Highway, two miles east of the village.

He was one of a small gang of men doing repair work on the highway. He stopped in front of a west-found car driven by an Ottawa resident and was knocked down.

Dr. W. J. Donevan of Marmora, was called and gave first aid. The injured man was later taken to Bellevilie General Hospital. Provincial Constable Thomas Lummiss of Madoc investigated the accident.

To Make Cars Conform

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(CP) —British automobile manufacturers Friday said that the Lucas Electrical Company of England has arranged to supply British automobiles in the United States with headlights that will conform to state safety regulations. The Massachusetts registry of motor vehicles ruled Wednesday that British-made automobiles do not meet safety requirements.

Hurricane Hits Newfoundland

HALIFAX, Sept. 25 — (CP). — A peril-laden hurricane roared across the sea lanes here today and headed northward for Newfoundland, missing Nova Scotia by about 100 miles. No shipwrecks or casualties were reported.

The General Sturgis, a United States States transport vessel carrying 844 displaced persons from Germany, received the full blast of the storm's edge but continued unperturbed on her voyage to Halifax.

At least six other ocean-going ships and an unknown number of fishing boats were battered by 75-mile-an-hour winds as they dashed for shelter.

The weather office here issued a stern warning to all shipping and fishing interests. The danger in the North Atlantic will continue throughout most of today.

and Britons as leaders of a campaign against the Soviet Union. Among those he mentioned were Defence Secretary James V. Forrestal, Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall, Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N.H.) and Lt.-Gen. George C. Kenney of the United States Air Force.

The Assembly adjourned for the day after hearing Vishinsky's address.

Prohibit Atom Weapons

Vishinsky proposed that the Assembly demand prohibition of all "atomic weapons as weapons intended for the aims of aggression and not for those of defence."

Then the Russian diplomat called on the Assembly "to establish within the framework of the Security Council an international control body for the purpose of the supervision of and control over the implementation of the measures for the reduction of armaments and armed forces and for the prohibition of atomic weapons."

Referring to the British and American leaders he had singled out, Vishinsky said many of these personalities "come forward with flashy-colored plans for utilizing of military aviation and atomic bombs for the destruction of such Soviet cities as Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev and Kharkov and Odessa.

"We know that at the same tmie the feverish activity which has nothing in common with the interests of peace or defence of their country is being carried on backstage of the United Nations organization in various headquarters and in military offices of the United States, Great Britain and a number of other countries that rotate within the orbit of Anglo-American influence.

"This situation cannot be put up with. . . ."

Vishinsky resurrected the old Russian bogey of the Cordon Sanitaire — the Russian fear of being surrounded by hostile states. But he concentrated most of his fire on the Americans, accusing them of responsibility for failures in the United Nations.

Likewise, Vishinsky assailed the European recovery program.

"It has become more obvious at present than it was a year ago," he said, "that the Marshall Plan not only makes no contribution to the restoration of the economic and political stabilization in Europe, but is, still more, aggravating the economic position of the European countries who have joined this plan, undermining their economic and political independence."

Remand Lindsay Man Pending Appeal

LINDSAY, Sept. 25 — Harry Dove, Lindsay service station operator charged with violating the gasoline bylaw, has been granted a remand on his trial until such time as the result of the Peterborough appeal is announced on the understanding that he abides by the rules set forth in the bylaw until the case is heard.

The Peterborough man was fined $25 and $18.50 costs for violating the bylaw, there his counsel is appealing the case.

Will Pull Switches Hourly If Power Quotas Not Met

TORONTO, Sept. 25 —(CP) — Ontario communities which exceed electric power consumption quotas set by the Provincial Hydro Commission may be blacked out by compulsory power shutoffs. Commission Chairman Robert Sounders issued that warning Friday. He said that if local authorities do not voluntarily pull switches when they go beyond their quotas, hourly cut-offs will be made by the commission.

These compulsory blackouts would not last not longer than 15 minutes and would come in each hour from daylight to dark.

Regional managers will get their orders by Monday and they will give municipalities seven days to cut down power consumption. If the municipalities don't the provincial authorities will pull the switches hourly.

No Relief for Two Years

At a conference with seven representatives of Ontario Federation of Labor (CIO) unions here Friday night, Mr. Saunders said he did not think the current power shortage would be eased before 1951. By then the huge Des Joachims, Que. generating plant on the Ottawa River would be completed.

He urged industrial unions to switch to working week-ends when "the power is there." Unless there is abnormal autumn snow or rainfall in next few months, the hydro shortage will remain acute until spring.

At Hamilton, Hydro-Electric system manager A. W. Bradt asked city consumers to go easy. He said Hamilton used 277,000 kilowatt hours Friday over its power allotment. This was the second consecutive day the quota was exceeded.

Flat rate water heaters were switched off and some plants began using steam electricity generators Friday as London users tried to stay within their 585,000 kilowatt hour quota.

Cost Accountants Form Local Branch

The Peterborough Chapter of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants of Ontario which was organized last spring now has a membership of 28 including representatives from all the large firms in the city. The aims of the society are mutual advancement in knowledge relative to accounting and allied subjects. A series of lectures by competent authorities is planned and these will commence on Monday evening at the Empress hotel when Mr. W. W. Henderson of Meakins and Company, Ltd., of Hamilton will be the speaker and his subject will be "Standard Costs." G. Langhorne of the A. Wander Co., is in charge of membership.

County Council Asked To Aid In Stopping Polutions Of Lakes

Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, Stony Lake, appeared before the County Council on Thursday with a list of recommendations designed to improve the tourist trade and prevent contamination of the lakes.

"Filfth is being put into the lakes," she said, "and this is a risk to the health of not only those people living in Stony Lake area but also to those on the other lakes."

She cited cases of people cleaning fish and turtles and dumping the unwanted portions back into the water, and of other rubbish as well as garbage being dumped there.

"This is a matter of concern to every individual on every lake," she said. And she contended that offenders should be warned or some other action taken.

Mrs. Hamilton also thought that another source of possible pollution could be eliminated if township assessors on their yearly rounds would check to see if outdoor toilets were too near the water's edge. At present the danger of seepage from these is considerable, she said.

No Facilities for Children.

Mrs. Hamilton also envisaged the day when access to the Kawartha Lakes would be barred to the general public. She pointed out that a section of the Peterborough area was reserved for animals but asked where there were similar facilities for children.

"Where can we find entry to Stony Lake and not be on private property?" she asked. And she advovated a public park on the shore of each lake that could be used by the public. Gilchrist Bay on Stony Lake she felt would be an excellent site for a park.

She complimented the Council on the good work it had done on the roads but suggested that if the Stony Lake-Havelock road was repaired, it would help the tourist trade. Mrs. Hamilton also said that there was too much rubbish being dumped by the side of county roads.

Warden James Humphries said he doubted the power of the Council to act in a number of the cases cited, but promised the matter of roadside rubbish would be investigated, and rectified if necessary.

Oakville Court Stumped Twice On Thursday

OAKVILLE, Sept. 25 (CP).—Oakville court was stumped Thursday. For the first time it had seen a "representative" for the accused step forward to face the charges—and it happened twice.

When G. Brown was called on a charge of driving without an operator's permit a young man stepped forward.

"You are G. M. Brown?" queried Magistrate M. Langdon.

"No, sir," he said. "He asked me to represent him."

His worship asked him if he was willing to go to jail for Brown, to which the representative grinned sheepishly. The case resulted in a $10 fine.

The next case was called—and up jumped the same young man.

"Who are you this time," Magistrate Langdon wanted to know.

"This time I'm Frederick Lewis," was the answer.

Lewis was convicted of having liquor in an unlawful place and fined $10 and costs.

The "representative" paid both fines.

Wants Joint Organization On Recreation

Amalgamation of the Recreation Commission and Parks Committee of City Council was discussed at a meeting of the Commission on Thursday. The amalgamation was suggested by Dr. Herb Young who had previously discussed it with Jack Dane, recreation commissioner. He said that amalgamation would prevent the considerable overlapping in duties which is taking place at the present time A committee consisting of W. B. Gordon, chairman, R. J. Bolton and Dr. Young, who is also chairman of the Parks Committee, was appointed to study the matter.

In his report on Dixon House, Mr. Dane said it was his intention "to call a meeting of all groups using the building, organizations in the district and any interested individuals to form a neighborhood community council. This group will act as an advisory group regarding the program in Dixon House and to the Recreation Commission."

Mr. Gordon said that the formation of such groups, so that each district could have what it most wanted, was possibly the most important work of the Commission. Mr. Dane was instructed to form neighborhood councils at Dixon House, Crawford's Grove, where the local Social and Athletic Association will be approached, and Ashburnham.

Mr. Dane suggested that the Advisory Vocational committee of the Board of Education be requested to include handicraft classes, including pottery, art metalwork, leather work and weaving, in their night school curriculum. Qualified teachers were trained in these crafts last year by the Recreation Commission, but he said that the schools have better facilities for public classes than the Commission.

It was agreed to request the Advisory Vocational Committee to take up this project and to request a meeting between it and the Recreation Commission.

The question of outdoor rinks and last year's ski school was discussed. A motion was passed that the Park Board be recommended to discontinue the skating rinks on Patterson and Wolsley Streets, but that all other rinks be erected as last year. The Peterborough Ski Club is to be encouraged to carry on the ski school started last year.

Mr. Gordon presided at the meeting.

Canadian Farmers Finishing Harvesting Bumper Crop

By The Canadian Press

Canadian farmers have just about finished the harvest of a bumper crop.

A Canadian Press survey showed today that all provinces except British Columbia and Nova Scotia expect more valuable yields than in 1947. Despite late planting, due to a rainy spring and an exceptionally dry period in late summer, most crops are above average.

The farm labor supply remains scarce in al provinces. National employment offices reported that in most instances they were unable to provide enough harvest workers through transfers from one province to another. Displaced persons have helped to alleviate shortages.

Wages to farm laborers have increased all across the Dominion. On the prairies workers get $6-$8 daily. In New Brunswick a fast potato-picker can earn $20 a day. Wages in Ontario have gone up about 10 per cent.

Apple Crop Half Normal

The Nova Scotia apple crop, estimated at 1,000,000 barrels, is about half normal. Other crops grew well after a slow start.

In Prince Edward Island, blight will reduce the volume of the potato crop, but the average was 15 per cent higher than last year.

New Brunswick agriculture officals say the province may have one of the best crop years in history. Potatoes, the biggest cash crop, are expected to equal or surpass the 1947 yield of more than $16,000,000.

Bumper Yield in Quebec

Quebec farmers will harvest one of their best yields. Estimates place the value at more than last year's $162,000,000. A bumper vegetable crop and increases in oats, barley and spring wheat and rye are in prospect.

An excellent field crop yield is reported in Ontario but drought conditions in the Niagara Peninsula and Central Ontario had a serious effect on tomatoes and some late root vegetables.

The estimated value of Ontario field crops is $386,443,000. Fall pasture conditions are estimated at only 64 per cent of normal, causing a rapid decline in milk production. The drought also has delayed sowing of fall wheat and may bring a smaller acreage than last year.

Better Than Average

Harvesting in Manitoba is more than 70 per cent complete with a "better than average" crop predicted. Saskatchewan crops are better in boh yield and quality. Wheat is averaging 13 bushels to the acre, compared to 12.2 last year.

In Alberta, about 117,000,000 bushels of wheat will be harvested at an average yield of 18.5 bushels to the acre—better than expected after a wet spring and late planting.

In British Columbia's Okanagan Valley there is a big crop of good-quality apples. Other fruit crops were adversely affected by a wet summer, and reduced quality is reported in some cases.

Trained Observers Positive Russia Won't Force War

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (CP).—Just as in 1938 and 1939 when the words "Czechoslovakia" and "Danzig" haunted the minds of peace-lovers, the word "Berlin" now arouses a sickening fear of war.

But from a number of sources there is to be found some basis that Russia — the one country that will decide between preparations for war and war itself or a long peace — will swiftly change her tactics rather than force another world conflict.

The United Nations World, a monthly magazine now published privately to record the activities of the world body and analyze and report international affairs, has this to say about Berlin:

"If Berlin bewilders the average man, the trained observer is often scarcely better off. For it has become the focal point for stage-managed crisis as well as an authentic source of friction among the great powers."

Russia Wants Peace

A seasoned correspondent on leave home after years in Moscow, reports that Russia is preparing for peace and convinces him that there will be no war. He says her industries are turning out peaceful commodities. There are few military uniforms or activities visible and the minds of the people are set on peace.

On this point the current issue of the United Nations World comments:

"Western military experts fail to see signs of an immediate war. The whole Soviet zone of Germany and neighboring Poland are honeycombed with spies most of them reporting directly to Maj.-Gen. Kenneth Strong in London.

"These spies report that political rather than military advisers continue to predominate in Marshal Sokolovsky's (Russian Military Governor) headquarters in Karlshorst, near Berlin; that routine activities prevail in Marshal Sokolovsky's advance headquarters in Liegnitz, 80 miles east of Berlin; that no large-scale troop movements are evident; that no concentration of weapons is observed.

"Current Soviet manoeuvres in the Baltic region, though the cause of alarm in Denmark, had been planned and announced long before the outbreak of the Berlin crisis."

A Slight Change

Finally, the United Nations World survey comments on the reported split between Moscow and Yugoslavia's Premier-Marshal Tito and rumors of nationaltistic tendencies in other satellie states. It says:

"On the basis of the knewn views of Europe's most important Communist leaders, it is safe to say that the united front of Eastern Europe, once a major asset in the Kremlin's calculations, no longer exists in a firm, unconditional, co-ordinated form.

"Communist leaders, beset by regional problems and the unsuppressible nationalistic instincts of their people, have told Moscow they would be most reluctant to follow any one to war.

"This decision, virtually cancelling out the secret resolution of the Warsaw Cominform, provides an additional guarantee for continued peace."

Mining Claims Staked Show Drop This Year

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—(CP). — The Ontario Department of Mines today announced that 5,043 mining claims were filed in the first eight months of 1948. This compares with 8,515 in the corresponding period of 1947 and 15,742 in the first eight months of 1946.

Cancellations of claims this year numbered 9,504 compared with 10,152 in the 1947 period. Mining licenses decreased, with 1,193 this year and 1,561 in 1948.

It was reported that the majority of claims stakes this year were on gold property.

Hormones For Easy Rooting

BY DEAN HALLIDAY

A root stimulating hormone in powder form is available now for the home gardener who likes to propagate favorite plants from slips or cuttings.

It acts as a "green thumb," for with the dust method it is necessary only to dip the bottom half inch of the cutting in the dry moist sand of a flat or propagating bed.

So far as convenience is concerned, it will be found that the dust method of using a rooting hormone is quite preferable to soaking the cutting in a liquid hormone solution.

This hormone is useful in forcing roots to form on certain plants which otherwise are very difficult to root. Even very difficult species like apple, magnolia and Japanese maple can be propagated readily nowadays with the aid of rooting hormones.

The difference in root growth between ivy cuttings treated and untreated with rooting horomones is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

This hormone powder also can be used to make seeds germinate more quickly. A pinch of the powder mixed with the seeds does the trick. Bulbs dusted with this same rooted hormone powder also root more quickly and flower earlier.

Nowadays one can also make use of a transplanting hormone as "first aid" in transplanting hardy plants, roses and shrubs When it is used the leaves and roots stay plump and full of moisture. Thus, because the plant is not suffering from lack of water —dehydration— it keeps on growing and replaces injured parts quickly.

The Changed Pattern of Canadian Trade.

During and since the war Canada has become an industrial nation. There has been an almost unlimited market abroad and Britain has been the chief external buyer of the products of our factories as well as of our fields. That good trade situation may change. Sir Stafford Cripps who has been conferring with Canadian government officials and economic experts in Ottawa this week, gave a not too optimisitc report, from Canada's point of view.

* * *

If E. R. P. is continued until 1952, Sir Stafford expects Britain to become as self-sufficient as she was before the war. That is, Britain will be "back on her feet," which is a purpose of E. R. P. That will be achieved if Britain increases her rigid import controls. Her exports are mainly manufactured products. The imports which she excludes and others which she will increasingly be able to do without because of her own increased production, are mainly manufactured products. Therefore, the British market for our industries will dwindle. It has already done so. If, on the other hand, E. R. P. is not continued until 1952 and Britain does not get back on her feet, the market will exist but there will be no money to pay for what we ship.

* * *

The fact is that Canada has become an industrial nation in competition with Britain. We shall be able to sell much of our surplus agricultural products as before, for at best Britain will have to import fifty per cent. of her food, but we shall not have an easy British market for our manufactured goods. There are four ways by which the prosperity of Canadian industry can be maintained: reciprocal trade in manufactured goods with Britain; new markets (in the U. S., Africa, South America and continental Europe); a greater population in Canada, to consume the products of our factories; and a high quality in our product, saleable at competitive prices. All four are desirable.

The Week Of Munich.

Ten years ago the western world was in thraldom to the voice of Chancellor Hitler of Germany and in the throes of Munich week.

Can the tension of the fears of that week be recalled now? Or the intensity of the jubilation when Prime Minister Chamberlain returned from Munich waving a piece of paper which assured "peace in our time"? The details are remote now— the mounting territorial demands of Hitler, the crisis in Sudetenland which caused Mr. Chamberlain to make his first flight by plane and to go on September 15th to Berchtesdagen, Hitler's Bavarian retreat. By September 21st the Czechs had accepted the British and French plan for meeting Hitler's peace terms, but the German Chancellor wanted more. Chamberlain made his second trip to Germany the next day, to Godesburg in the Rhineland— for Hitler had consented to meet the British premier "half-way"— in air miles alone, it became apparent.

President Benes of Czechoslavakia rejected the new German demands, though Hitler assured the world again that these were "the last territorial claims I will make.". Infamous words. That was on September 26th. The Empress of Britain was two days out of Quebec, bound for Europe where the lights were going out. On board ship with only the radio to link a thousand passengers to their fate, the world seemed to be suspended between life and death. A black-out was proclaimed and boat-drill practised earnestly. From Britain came word that 'further mediation is of no avail now.' The King proclaimed a 'case of emergency.' The Empress nosed into Cherbourg harbour, which the French had mined. Submarines and destroyers protected the port.

On September 28th Chamberlain flew for the third time to Hitler. This, the Munich conference, was attended by Daladier, Mussolini, Chamberlain and of course Hitler. The Empress arrived at Southampton. The port was under military control, the city in protective darkness. The boat-train reached London, where citizens were hurriedly digging trenches. Into this London on the evening of September 30th came the incredible relief of the news that the Munich Pact had been signed. The 'greatest stake of all— Peace' had been won.

It was not peace with honour, as Mr. Chamberlain told the Commons on his return. It was peace at any price. The price included the surrender of one-third of Czechoslovakia to Germany, Hungary and Poland. But most Britons and Canadians did not at first count the cost, any more than the London woman in the Underground railway station who threw her arms about an unknown Canadian and sobbed, "Isn't it wonderful! My son will not have to go to war!"

He did, twelve months later. By then the humiliating, bitter lesson that peace cannot be bought by appeasement had been learned. Ten years after Munich the western statesmen are determined not to make a Munich of Berlin. We, remember Munich, support them.

The Farmer And The Weather

There are few things more depressing than to read or hear weekly agricultural reports in which the weather is discussed. At the same time that the statisticians have toted up the fall wheat crop and found it exceptionally lucrative, we learn that the sun that ripened the wheat has continued to blaze on the corn, sucking it dry of succulence. The sun in which the hay is made stunts the root crops. The frost that the pumpkins need comes too soon and tinges the tobacco leaves or the tomatoes. The dryness which makes the time of late harvest good is destroying the fruit or the fall wheat planted for the spring. For the farmer, the weather is always in crisis. It is too dry or too wet, too sunny or too overcast, too windy or too calm. What is good for one crop is disastrous for another. If the weather is good today it may be bad tomorrow.

Farmers are usually professed pessimists; they look for the worst — and they sometimes get it. The farmer is by trade a gambler; he has to be. The weather is the croupier who spins the roulette wheel between profit and loss. When city folk see the men in the fields bringing in the biggest and most profitable wheat crop in Ontario's history, let them not be too envious. The autumn may be so dry that the meadows will not sustain the cattle and the harvest of hay and grain so lately gathered may have to be used, not for cash, but for feeding the animals even in September. Of course, the cattle so fed are marketable at good prices.

The Child At The Red Light

In a recent radio address to the people of the community Mayor Ovens appealed for more care and courtesy by motorists. It was a timely appeal. In the last year 37 children have been killed or hurt in Peterborough, mainly on our thoroughfares.

Yesterday afternoon we observed a small boy—he could not have been older than six—returning home from school. He came to a busy intersection. The red light was against him. Whether he noticed the light or not, he did look around him, saw an opportunity for a quick dash, and dashed. He reached the other side of the street unscathed. He was taking a risk he should not have taken. He has learned or will learn in school that he should walk with the green light and stop with the red one, but at even his early age he should already know that red is the danger signal. Why did he not know it, or if he did, why did he not heed the lights? Probably he has been up town often with his mother. His mother has said, "Well, the light is against us, but the coast is clear. Let's go". So they went. And now he goes against the red light all by himself. He is a big fellow of six or seven now. What is good enough for his mother is good enough for him, isn't it? Some day the coast may not be clear. Who will be to blame, the motorist, the school, or the mother?

NOTE AND COMMENT

A meteorologist says that enough rain falls over the earth in a year to cover the whole surface of the globe to a depth of three feet. Well, and what has the Ontario Hydro Commission to say to that? Who has been holding an umbrella over Ontario?

A tomcat recently sat on a clutch of eggs for 21 days in South Africa, and hatched them all. Then, unfortunately, he forgot himself and ate one of the chicks. Making every allowance for the strain of the occasion we can't condone that.

Diary Of Snails And Cement

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: A friend of mine was showing me his aquarium this evening; he had some pretty tropical fish, and I looked at them with an intelligent expression and pretended to understand what he told me of their species and habits. But I woke up when he pointed out his Japanese snail, and informed me that this creature is its own mate, and produces young without entangling alliances. At first it seemed to me that this was carrying egotism to a ridiculouus length, but then I began to reflect on the advantages of such a plan. It is cosy, to begin with, and love, which is for mere human beings an emotion involving painful dependence upon another person, is for the Japanese snail merely a period of delicious introspection. Moralists should make this snail their emblem, for it knows no divorce, no marital disagreement, and no triangle murders. And the Japanese snail, instead of keeping his wife's picture on his desk, as so many men do, merely tickles himself when he feels uxorious, and says "Oh, you little skeezix!"

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: To the Ontario Babylon today on business, and found it more crowded than ever before. It was a hot day, and sweaty millions struggled through the streets, with hatred in their eyes. Among other things I had to see the great Dr. Aesculapius to get his opinion on what the Atomic Frier had done to me last spring. I made my appointment three months ago, but after I had waited for an hour and ten minutes a nurse informed me that Dr. Aesculapius had gone to Ottawa to read a paper on "Organic Fertilizer As A Specific in Cases of Progressive Alopecia". This was unwelcome news, and I reflected once again that doctors are very casual about appointments, and think nothing of letting one travel ninety miles or so to visit them, when a telegram or a letter would have saved one that trouble. However, it is useless to struggle against doctors, for they are the priesthood of our time, and if you sass them they are likely to cut our your sweetbread, just to teach you manners. So I went to a Chinese restaurant and filled up on bamboo shoots and almonds, and went home no wiser than I was before.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Heard today about a woman who carries on a running war with her postman, because she thinks that he is marring the paint on her verandah. It happens like this: every morning the postman goes to her front door to deliver the mail, then turns on his heel every morning in exactly the same place, and is making a round mark on the paint there. It seems to me that there are several ways of meeting this situation; she might lie in wait, and rush down the steps to intercept the postman, so that he did not step on the verandah at all. Or she might get a savage dog, who would make the postman dance about all over the verandah, wearing the paint out evenly. Or she might make the postman a pair of felt slippers to wear on her verandah, like those which visitors to the Vatican are compelled to wear, in order not to mark the parquet floors. Or she might alienate all her friends so that she never received any letters. Or she might face facts, buy a can of paint, and re-paint the offending spot every few months. It is in such problems of human relations as this that my genius shows to greatest advantage.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: Awoke this morning to the sound of destruction, and thought for a while that the atomic bomb had at last claimed me for its own. Then I recalled that for a little over two years some men have been promising to move the garage at Marchbanks Towers, and they had at last descended. The noise grew worse, and I got up. Solomon's temple was made without sound of hammer or chisel; not so the destruction of Marchbanks' garage. After breakfast I found that they had cut down a favourite lilac, and that a honeysuckle had likewise been sacrificed to Progress, but I did not reproach them; they were breaking up some cement with big hammers and I did not think it would be wise to make them nervous. Watched them for a while and then went away, feeling useless, as I always do when I see men engaged in physical work. But after a morning of sitting in a chair, reading, I was just as hungry as if I had been cracking concrete myself. I believe that an anatomist has said that twenty-five per cent. of the body's energy is expended by the eyes; with me I am sure that fifty per cent. would be nearer the mark.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: Looking through a catalogue of rare books this evening I found one written in 1806 by a William Turnbull called "Manual Containing General Rules & Instructions to Those of Both Sexes Who Are Afflicted With Ruptures and Prolapsus Ani". This work was published under the auspices of The Society for the Relief of the Ruptured Poor, of which the Archbishop of Canterbury at that time (the Rev. Dr. Charles Manners-Sutton) was honorary patron. Yearned for this fascinating volume, but I am much too poor to buy all the books I want. But a flame of curiosity devours me; does this benevolent body still exist, and does the present Archbishop still visit among the poor, his little basket of trusses upon his arm?

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Refreshed myself today by reading a few chapters of "Peck's Bad Boy", a book which delighted my childhood. I wonder if children read it now. Re-reading with the eye of a bawdy eld supplanting that of dewy innocence, I was astonished to discover what a suggestive work it is. George W. Peck, who wrote it, was a Milwaukee journalist, and he became so popular as a funny-man that he was elected mayor of that city—the first and last time in history that any city ever elected a consciously funny man to be its chief magistrate. He scaled even dizzier heights, however, and was Governor of Wisconsin before he died. Let this be a lesson to our Canadian politicians: wit and politics are not mutually exclusive.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: The men who are moving my garage have brought a cement mixer with them, and early this morning I examined it. Putting my head into the hole, I shouted, and the amplification was most satisfactory. Passed a nappy five minutes roaring like a giant; the sound produced had a kind of iron majesty, rather as one might suppose the voice of a battleship to be, if it had a voice.... Apparently there is something about cement mixers which encourages vocalism, for later in the day, when the machine was at work, the man who heaved in the sand and stones sang "Shortnin' Bread" in a lusty, unctuous voice; like all the men who sing this piece on the radio, he was Nordic, but like them he was pretending to be a jolly, carefree Negro. He had a good voice, and I liked to hear him sing, though after a while I began to wish that he would oblige with "Old Black Joe" or "The Blue-Tail Fly". I suppose it was the sight of that gluey mass going around and around in the mixer that made him think of shortnin' bread; I have no clear idea what shortnin' bread is, but I feel sure that it resembles cement very closely. When I went to work, Mammy's Li'l Baby was still shouting for it, and the mixer was still churning.

"NOT SO FAST, YOUNG LADY!"

September

Now hath the summer reached her golden close,
And lost, amid her cornfields, bright of soul,
Scarcely perceives from her divine repose
How near, how swift, the inevitable goal:
Still, still, she smiles, though from her careless feet
The bounty and the fruitful strength are gone,
And through the soft long wondering days goes on
The silent sere decadence sad and sweet...

Still a brief while, ere the old year quite pass,
Our wandering steps and wistful eyes shall greet
The leaf, the water, the beloved grass;
Still from these haunts and this accustomed seat
I see the wood-wrapt city, swept with light,
The blue long-shadowed distance, and, between
The dotted farm-lands with their parcelled green,
The dark pine forest and the watchful height.

I see the broad rough meadow stretched away
Into the crystal sunshine, wastes of sod,
Acres of withered vervain, purple-gray,
Branches of aster, groves of goldenrod;
And yonder, toward the sunlit summit, strewn
With shadowy boulders, crowned and swathed with weed,
Stand ranks of silken thistles, blown to seed,
Long silver fleeces shining like the noon.

In far-off russet cornfields, where the dry
Gray shocks stand peaked and withering, half-concealed
In the rough earth, the orange pumpkins lie,
Full-ribbed; and in the windless pasture-field
The sleek red horses o'er the sun-warmed ground
Stand pensively about in companies,
While all around them from the motionless trees
The long clean shadows sleep without a sound.

Under cool elm-trees floats the distant stream,
Moveless as air; and o'er the vast warm earth
The fathomless daylight seems to stand and dream,
A liquid cool elixir—all its girth
Bound with faint haze, a frail transparency,
Whose lucid purple barely veils and fills
The utmost valleys and the thin last hills,
Nor mars one whit their perfect clarity.

Thus without grief the golden days go by,
So soft we scarcely notice how they wend,
And like a smile half happy, or a sigh,
The summer passes to her quiet end;
And soon, too soon, around the cumbered eaves
Sly frosts shall take the creepers by surprise,
And through the wind-touched reddening woods shall rise
October with the rain of ruined leaves.

—Archibald Lampman (1861-1899)

WISE

Going to his employer, a young man explained he was getting married and would like an increase of pay.

"Ah," said the employer, "I suppose you want a little bigger fund to draw on for household expenses?"

"No, sir," replied the employe. "The fact is, my future wife knows exactly what I get, so I would like a little extra for my own use that she doesn't know about."

Letter To The Editor

BOARD OF HEALTH SETS A PRECEDENT

Sir: I was interesting in reading the report of the last meeting of the Board of Health, and, with your permission, would like to make a few remarks on the same.

According to the latest motion passed at this meeting re Dr. Worton, the doctor is to receive $2,000 for the eight month period he will attend University of Toronto, and in addition, will receive his usual stipend for the four months he will work for the Board of Health. This will make a total remuneration of about $3,367 for four months work for the city, or about $841.50 per month. Not bad, is it? Particularly when many taxpayers are having a difficult time paying this year's taxes on an ever increasing assessment and mill rate.

Is this democracy in action? I don't think so, and protest against this, not alone on the ground that this payment is being lavish and extravagant with the public money—with the members of the board doing something in their public capacity they would never dream of doing in their private capacity—but also on the ground that this is setting up a precedent which will cost the taxpayers of this city many thousands of dollars per year in the not-distant future. Since when has it been the taxpayers duty to provide funds for employees' education on such a lavish scale?

With this precedent in mind, every employee of the city will have the right to higher education at the expense of the taxpayer. Any teacher who wishes to take a university course to fit himself or herself for a better position, any office employee who would like to take a course in—say—Business Administration, or any employee of the Sanitation department who feels he would like to take a bookkeeping course at the Business College, has the same right as Dr. Worton to eight months leave of absence, with five-sixths of his pay for that period.

I say, and I cannot say too strongly, that this is not fair to the taxpayer. It is not just that his burden should be placed upon him, whether the board is a corporation or not. Fairness to all—and that includes the taxpayer—should be the aim of the board, not the showing of authority.

Mention was also made at the meeting that it was a common ocurrence in industry to send employees away for courses, so they may be brought up to date on certain work, and I agree this is so, but the courses are not eight months long, and the amount paid in wages is not $2,000, and having had many years' experience in industry I am now asking any member of the board to publicly tell us of one instance where an employee receiving a stipend of over $4,000 per annum, has been allowed eight months leave of absence, for the purpose of study, and received $2,000 pay for that period.

Just one more point, as the preacher said, and I will be through. I understand that not all the members of the Peterborough Board of Health are property owners, or are direct taxpayers to the city of Peterborough. Whether it is fair for people to be on spending boards of our city witnout having enough faith in our city to own any property, and thus assume a share of the financial burdens imposed by the spending body of which they are members, I leave to the judgment of the taxpayers, but as Walter Stocker said many years ago "It's easy to spend the other fellows' money".

With many thanks to you, sir, for allowing me to place these views before the public, I am,

Yours truly,
W. TINKER.

A BRITISH OPINION

"Send up another lot of paper and rubbers—I'll get this smile somehow if I have to work all night"

AT EARLY DAWN TODAY, the silken rustle and the whicker of fluttering wings over Ontario marshes were disturbed by the boom of shotguns. The duck season was open. Hunters peering through the pre-dawn mist, or thrilling to the stooling of ducks among the decoys, felt the solid shoulder thump of full-choke twelve-bores, the sensation that all duck hunters love. Bags were satisfactory but only because the local hatch of black and bluebills was good. A few mallards and wood ducks were crazy enough to linger in this neighborhood and they too had their ranks decimated. At dawn today many a hunter, had long deserted his bed to huddle in a blind or marsh, sniffing the matted marsh grass and bottom mud, waiting for that stimulating first flush of daylight that would bring the ducks winging within range. Last night I stood on the shore of Pigeon lake and watched the ducks slip past. They were in trees and larger groups and like a small boy watching a ship putting out to sea, I followed their course until they were flickering dots against a canopy of slate-blue sky. Day-dreams, how I hoped all could escape the hunter's guns.

IT'S FUNNY the thoughts we get. This week I stood and watched the artillery display at the Armouries. It was army week, and I was attracted to a weapon known as a Polsten gun. It had four barrels, each firing 400 rounds a minute, 1,600 rounds altogether. The gunner was protected by a steel case, only his head was visible. He could rotate the gun and adjust the guns to any level or angle. Then it struck me. How about changing those guns into shotguns, sheathing the gun in cedar boughs on a raft and using it against ducks. What a slaughter, why the poor wildfowl wouldn't have a chance. But then maybe such a contraption couldn't be hooked up with a predictor, and the modern marvel of radar wouldn't be any good. If radar was used to spot ducks, the birds would appear as specks on the screen. It is just as well that these modern weapons of war are not used on our ducks and geese.

GEORGE MURRAY, noted singer on CBC programs probably never heard of the pugwuzzies, but after a recent experience it would have been easy to sell him on them. He was fly-fishing on the upper reaches of the Ganaraska with a CBC buddy, Ernest Berry. It was almost dark as Murray made a cast using a small brown hackle fly. The fly swished through the air, aimed at a deep pool close to some trees. But the fly never reached the water. When about two inches from the surface, it stopped then whisked about five feet to the right, then back, then executed some fancy circles. Murray stood bug-eyed, peering into the dusk to see what was happened. Perhaps he had thoughts of a banshee of the water. Then he discovered that a dragon fly had picked the fly in mid-air and was carrying it around just above the water. A quick jerk and Mr. dragon-fly dropped the artificial fly.

IF MUSKIE fishing continues at present pace, I'm going to start having nightmares. There were more brought to the office during the past seven days, than at any time within my memory. If only some of the outdoor writers south of the border could have that experience just once. Here are a few of the larger ones: Don Fowler, Cleveland, got a 26¼ pounder in the Trent river; Mrs. Gladys Gilson, Cleveland, 24 lbs.; Bill Barbery, R.D. 1, Butler, Pa., 23½ lbs.; Mrs. Effie Weigel, Wooster, Ohio, 12 lbs.; J. Robertson, Ellwood, Pa., 16 lbs.; Clark Bender, Columbus, Ohio, two muskies, one 27 lbs. and the other 12. All these muskies were taken in either Buckhorn or Pigeon lakes. Halley Jewel, Peterborough, bagged a 22 pounder in the Otonabee river right here in the city. Down at Rice lake, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spring, Geneva, Ohio, caught a 30½ pounder; Mr. and Mrs. Odie Miller, Akron, got two, 12 lbs. and 9 lbs.; Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Bower, Geneva-on-the-Lake, Ohio, 29 lbs. And that's only a few of them.

MORE TOURISTS came into Peterborough county this year than ever before. Strangely enough, in spite of this the lodges report only a year comparable with '47, which is nothing to be sad about. The answer is that more Americans are seeking housekeeping cottage accommodation in this area. Hundreds have purchased cottages, others have booked space for next season, and the cottage brigade seems quite happy over that type of vacation. I asked a few of them why they preferred cottages to the lodges—Canadians can't cook, so my wife and I get a cottage and enjoy our eats—I want to eat when I feel like it, and at a lodge, they tell me when I can eat—It is too restricted at a lodge, we often have noisy parties and the lodge owner wouldn't like such affairs—My wife likes to sleep in in the morning and loll around the cottage in old clothes, at a lodge she would have to dress up, we get enough of that at home—It costs too much at a lodge, we can live cheaper doing our own cooking. And there you have some of the answers, but I could easily advance just as many against taking a cottage.

PARTRIDGE SEASON this fall will be open twice. First, from Oct. 9 to Oct. 18, both days inclusive, and the second season will be during the deer hunt, Nov. 13 to 23. The bag limit is five birds per day, and the season limit is 20. The birds are making a good comeback in several areas. They are on the upward cycle, about halfway between the peak of plenty and the lowest low. Deer hunters will be in action in this part of Ontario on November 8. Maskinonge season ends next Friday, October 1, and the bass and pickerel fishermen can keep on angling until Oct. 15.

A LOVELY PARK for picnickers has been completed at the depot bridge, highway 28, about 28 miles north of the city. The park nestles along a sweeping bend of Eel's creek, and it is truly a beautiful place. Dept. of Highways used a bulldozer to rout out a road, then put men thinning and trimming the trees. There are outdoor toilets, tables and benches, and waste containers. Wellington Lean who is caretaker has taken special pride in the work, and can take a bow for a good job well done.

DELAVAL EMPLOYEES are the fishingest crowd in the city. Not only the employees but their wives as well, and there has been some lively feuds this summer with the wives invariably taking the laurels. Harry Pulley, machine shop foreman bagged an 11-pound muskie while on holidays but his wife almost beat him when she brought what looked like a 20 pounder alongside the boat. Hubby wasn't fast enough with the gaff and the muskie zoomed into the air and broke the line. Jim Downie, tool room foreman, landed a small-mouth black bass 20 inches long. It weighed an even five pounds. He also had some lovely catches of lake trout at Ketchecum where his summer home is located. Percy Scriver got a 9½ lb. lake trout in Pine lake, Haliburton. Tom Wylie, says the pickerel are back at the lower lock, and he has collected 12 in the past week. Many others have also clicked for fine catches, but more about these next week.

Weekly Newspaper Published in 1896 Gave Havelock and Vicinity Full Coverage

By W. M. PLATT

A copy of the Havelock Standard of almost 52 years ago, under date of Friday, November 13, 1896, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Anderson of Preneveau, gives a picture of Havelock and district in the gay nineties.

Although there is only four pages in the issue yet there appears to have been quite a number of correspondents throughout the district as there are news reports in it from Marmora, Springbrook, Wellman's Corners, Bell View, Trent Bridge, Warkworth, South Lake, Sarginson and Godolphin (vicinity of Campbellford). William Black was editor and it was published every Friday on Quebec St. in the premises now occupied by Dr. C. V. Wallace, dentist. The subscription rate was $1 per year.

In 1896, the Havelock Council met the first Monday of each month, a custom which has been adhered to through the years. S. S. Joyce was reeve with Richard Phillips as town clerk, the councillors being Dr. W. H. Jeffs, George Phillips, J. E. Chapman and Joseph Knox. The names of Alex McAuley, first reeve after the vilage was incorporated in 1892, Walter Code, C. H. Brewster, William Mathison, J. E. Chapman and Joseph Knox were named as probable candidates for the reeve's chair for 1897.

Under the heading "District Councillors" the question was dealt with as to who should be the candidates in the field for municipal honors in the district council. The coming year (1897) it stated, being the first in which the county is divided into districts and as this district, which is known as the fifth district of Peterborough, is composed of the townships Asphodel, Belmont and Methuen, and the villages of Havelock and Norwood, it is expected that a lively contest will take place, as some very strong candidates are spoken of as contestants. Those spoken of as candidates are: John Findlay, reeve of Norwood; William Buck, reeve of Asphodel; S. S. Joyce, reeve of Havelock; John Welch, ex-reeve of Asphodel; J. B. Pearce, ex-reeve of Norwood; James Moore, ex-reeve of Asphodel and John Brown, ex-reeve of Belmont. As only two members are to represent the district, the campaign will certainly be keen. The above men should they all stand, are a credit to any district, and no matter which two are elected the electors of this district may feel proud of their representatives. Mr. Joyce the present reeve of Havelock, has been persuaded by his many friends to become a candidate and announces definitely that he is in the field. He is a young man of well-known ability, having served one year as councillor in 1893 (Havelock's first council) and is now concluding his third year as reeve of the village and during his terms as county councillor he has made many friends, and his fellow councillors hold him in high esteem. He has never met defeat at the polls and has been elected once by acclamation. It is expected he will poll a large vote.

An item of special historical interest is contained in a letter to the editor signed "The Other Correspondent—Blairton". It is in reply to a letter also from Blairton published the previous week, which said "Mr. J. L. Aunger and two sons were engaged in drawing material from the Lithographic to the Deloro Gold Mines". This statement is correct as far as it goes the second correspondent wrote but it is insufficiently explanatory, indefinite and lacking of such detailed news as readers in general desire and continued with the following explanation: First, the Lithographic is the well known Lithograph mine on the farm of William Bonter on the south shore of Crowe Lake, township of Marmora and four miles east of Blairton. This mine is owned and has been extensively and successfully operated for some years, by the North American Lithograph and Asbestos Company of New York. The machinery the company have on the ground for sawing, planing, rubbing and polishing the stone is immense. It is reported the company have paid out in this mine over $110,000.

The stone, so far as the grain is concerned, is still good but so "shaky" that it is full of flaws and cannot be obtained and finished in blocks sufficiently large to meet the demands of the market consequently the mine is abandoned. The material your correspondent speaks of is an 8-ton boiler, large engine, a 4-ton fly wheel and all belongings, made by Mr. Hamilton of Peterborough for the Blairton Iron Mines at a cost of about $3,000. The engine had not been set up when Pearce Company, successors to the Iron Mining Company, sold it to the Canada Gold Field Mining Company for $1,000. Messrs. Bonter and Aunger had a contract with the last named purchasers for the removal of the engine and its belongings to the Deloro gold mine.

One thousands cords of wood, now in stock at the Lithographic Mine was recently purchased by William Bonter at somewhat of a reduced price and he has sold the wood to the Canada Gold Field Mining Company and will deliver it at Deloro during the winter.

The Marmora correspondent reported on activities in Deloro as follows: The Deloro capitalists deserve great credit for the business like way in which they proceed to develop the property. Men are at work in several shafts getting out gold bearing quartz while others are building the large brick mills for the crushing of the ore. A large reservoir for water supply is also being erected and all the dwelling houses are being put in shape to rent. Mr. Suinney, the manager of the mines, has left for England on a business trip.

Four or five deaths within two weeks from membraneous croup was reported in Marmora. Children from four to eight years were the victims.

The paper carries a photo of the Havelock United Church, formerly Methodist, which was built that year, the dedicatory service being held on November 8, 1896, conducted by Rev. Albert Carman, D.D., superintendent of the Methodist Church of Canada. The cornerstone was laid in July 1896 by Rev. T. W. Jolliffe. Joseph Knox was the contractor. William Martin and Robert Sedgwick built the stone wall. The lumber was purchased from James Wiseman who had a lumber mill here at that time. Peter Haig, a present member of the church, was employed by Mr. Wiseman getting out the lumber for 35 cents a day.

A meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church was reported held in Hastings to deal with a call from the Havelock congregation, signed by 80 members and 61 adherents, to Rev. S. O. Nixon of Hollen. The call was sustained by Presbytery and should Mr. Nixon accept the induction service was set for the first Tuesday of December, when Rev. Potter of Peterborough would preach, Rev. Somerville of Norwood preside, Rev. Johnston of Millbrook address the minister and Rev. Laird of Campbellford address the people.

Items in the column "Local News" of interest are as follows:

Mrs. William Jackson of Peterborough, formerly of Havelock, has secured judgment for $250 for bodily injuries caused by a defective sidewalk.

John Mahoney who is employed at Coon's grocery met with a painful accident recently. He was moving a heavy barrel when he slipped and the full weight came down on his left hand badly smashing the middle finger.

Stephen Copperthwaite of Belmont shot two large black bears about three miles from here. A remarkable thing about it was that he shot both through the eyes. It is very few things that escapes Steve's rifle when he once gets a shot.

A committee of operators and despatchers have been meeting the CPR officials in Toronto and have almost arranged all the grievances to the satisfaction of all. Mr. P. Cromar of Havelock is a member of the committee.

George Liscombe left for Brockville to assist E. C. Rogers to place seats in the new Presbyterian Church there. The seats are the same as are in the new Methodist Church here furnished by the Globe Furniture Company of Walkerville.

From Godolphin came something out of common in a threshing accomplishment which took place on the farm of J. Waters when Squire West threshed with his machine "The Peerless", 535 bushels of wheat and 646 bushels of oats in ten hours. The machine was in charge of Wm. West, S. Moir and M. Sullivan. The item concluded by stating that the same amount of work could not be accomplished with three ordinary men.

In the school report from SS No. 14 (South Lake) signed by the teacher, W. R. Grieve, quite a number of the pupils named are still residing in this district. Class I (a), Walter Davis; (b), Andrew Menzie, Andrew Davis, Stella Munroe. Class II—Winnie Hubble, Nellie Richardson, John Menzie. Class III—Harry Hubble, Florence Parcels, Minnie Hubble. Class IV—Rose Hubble, Frank Marshall, James Davis. Class V—Clara Richardson, David Menzie, Harry Richardson. Class VI—Lillie Hubble, Kate Munroe, Sarah Davis.

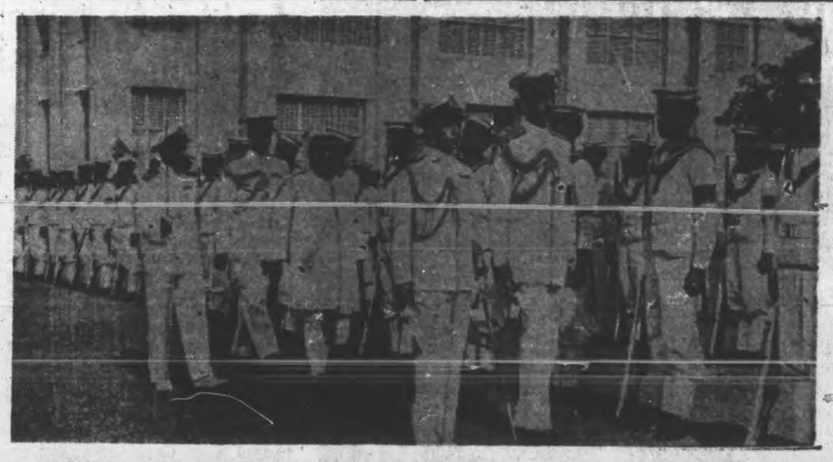
Among the South Lake notes is an item that the season for deer hunting has again arrived and judging from the reports of the rifles and baying of the hounds the $2 license impounded on hunters has done little toward checking the popular sport. Among the South Lake personals was one which stated that Chas. Menzie had returned to his home after a six months' stay in Hastings.

In surveying the advertisements of the merchants here in 1896, only two of them are known to be living. They are James M. Watson, general merchant and butcher who now resides in the vicinity of Woodstock and Edward Fennell of Havelock who in partnership with his father J. Fennell operated a boot and shoe store and repair shop. With the exception of F. J. Boyce, tailor, who was reducing prices to make room for his fall and winter stock, no prices were quoted. Mr. Boyce however was offering men's tweed pants at $1.50, Scotch tweed suits at $13.50 and heavy melton overcoats at $12. The merchants of 1896 were: F. C. McMaster, hardware; A. C. Denike, druggist and optician; Benor's ready-made clothing; Misses Reazin, millinery; W. I. Fenton, insurance; Fox's Jewelry; J. Coon, baker and grocer; Phillips Bros., hardware; A. Cunningham, photographer; F. E. Harper, undertaker; Robert Fair of Peterborough had an advertisement a column in length and width.

The fraternal societies at that time were: Independent Order of Foresters with W. J. Wiseman as Chief Ranger and A. Ormiston as recording secretary; Royal Lodge IOOF No. 288, F. Jeffs, RS, and Thomas Curtis, NG; Havelock Lodge AOVW, William Mathison, MW; A. McAuley, recorder; Havelock Lodge AF & AM No. 428, W. H. Port, WM, and W. S. Dodd, secretary.

The medical practitioners were Dr. W. H. Jeffs, CMMD and Dr. R. V. Fowler, BA, MD, CM, FTNC. Dr. W. S. Hall, dentist of Peterborough came to the village every Friday. His office was in the Knox block, next door to the former post office site.

The important item in the paper to the Anderson family and which accounts for the fact that it has been kept for so many years is the obituary of Mr. Anderson's mother, Mrs. William Anderson, nee Jane Smith, a native of Ottawa who along with her husband settled in Belmont township about 1866. The funeral was conducted by Rev. O. O. Tarrant, incumbent of St. John's Church, Havelock, who was assisted at the grave by Rev. R. H. McGinnis of Hastings. Of her family of 14 surviving sons and daughters at that time seven are still living as follows: Mrs. Arthur Garrison, Napanee; Mrs. Frank Dafoe, Kirkland Lake; Mrs. John Boyd, Timmins; Mrs. G. Smith, Havelock; William, and Robert of Belmont township and Randal of Timmins.



KHAWJA NAZIMUDDIN who succeeded Mohammed Ali Jinnah as governor-general of Pakistan, is shown (uniformed) as he inspected the guard of honor after he had been formally sworn into office at Karachi. The guard is composed of officers and men of the Royal Pakistan Navy.

Fleetwood Church In Manvers Township Link With Early Days of North Durham

By MRS. ROSS M. CARR

During the last year another link with the early days of Manvers Township has been severed with the closing of the Fleetwood United Church on account of not sufficient members to carry on. Fleetwood was a part of Bethany circuit with the minister residing in the village. One of the earliest churches to be built in the township, it served a once busy and thriving community, where now no industry exists.

No date is available as to when the first Church was built at Fleetwood, or Brick Corners, as it is sometimes called, but we do know that it was a red brick building which stood east of the present schoolhouse. It was Methodist by denomination, but the Bible Christians were permitted to use the building. There seemed to be considerable rivalry between the two groups and interesting stories are told of incidents which occurred as a result of this rivalry. Those were the days when people guarded jealously their denominational doctrines.

The Bible Christians built the present edifice in 1876 and the ground was purchased from the late Alex Cairns. The contractor was Thomas Staples, father of W. W. Staples of Lindsay. The minister in charge at the time of it's erection was Rev. John Harris, who retired and died in Port Perry, where several of his family now reside. Mr. Harris was stationed at Janetville from 1875 to 1879. During his pastorate he had as junior assistant ministers, three men: Rev. Moses Metheral, Rev. Thomas and Rev. Sabine, who each in their turn lived at Williamburg, which is now known as the village of Blackstock. Following Mr. Harris, the Rev. Jesse Whitlock served from 1879 to 1882.

In 1880 the Bible Christians and Weslyn Methodists united and in 1883 the union of the Bible Christians and Methodists took place and from there on the church was known as Methodist. It was during the term of the next Minister, Rev. D. N. McCamus, that Bethany became the head of the circuit, Mr. McCamus served from 1882 to 1885. In 1885 Rev. A. C. Courtice became the pastor and we are told that his first service at Fleetwood was the funeral of Thomas Grandy, the grandfather of Victor Grandy, who lives just south of the church. The following men served as pastors: J. C. Bell, 1888 to 1891; R. N. Adams, 1891 to 1894; Rodger Allin, 1894 to 1897; N. D. Drew, 1897 to 1898; Thomas Brown, 1899 to 1902; J. E. Robeson, 1902 to 1904; G. W. Marvin, 1904 to 1908; Charles Adams, 1908 to 1909; Daniel Williams, 1909 to 1910. Rev. Mr. Williams continued at Bethany until 1912.

In 1910 the Lifford circuit was organized with the three oppointments. Lifford, Yelverton and Fleetwood and the following were the ministers: R. M. Paterson 1910 to 1912; W. C. Parson, 1912 to 1913; A. C. Hie, 1913 to 1915; D. G. Monteer, 1915 to 1917; F. G. Horwood, 1917 to 1918; C. C. Miller 1918 to 1919; W. T. Wickett, 1919 to 1921.

Associated with the men above mentioned were many young men, most of them probationers. As complete records are lacking, exact dates cannot be given, but names recalled are those of Bunner, Spence, Harrison, J. W. Coon, E. F. Swayne, Wm. Cragg, C. Fulford, C. W. Barrett, Bowerman, Roadhouse, J. G. McKee, E. W. Rowland (now living in Peterborough) W. W. Jones and A. K. Edmison.

Once again, another arrangement was made and the three Lifford appointments were made a part of the Bethany circuit in 1921. Rev. James E. Beckel, the past president of Bay of Quinte Conference and secretary for 12 years, who died suddenly in May of this year, became the minister in charge and Mr. A. M. Monk of Bethany was the local preacher supply for about two and one-half years. Continuing as part of the Bethany circuit to the present the ministers have been W. H. Dafoe, 1923 to 1925; Alfred Poulter, 1925 to 1930; L. W. Scott, 1930 to 1934; R. W. Paton, 1934 to 1936; C. H. Ferguson, 1936 to 1939; A. Harding, 1939 to 1942; J. P. Henderson, 1942 to 1947.

It is not possible to list all the names of those who served as teachers, officers and leaders in the various organizations of the church, but outstanding members in it's early years were David Hart, John Hart and Joseph Staples, who were the original trustees and devout servants of the Christian cause. Mr. David Hart was Sunday School superintendent for many years, as were also John Hart, Henry Nugent, Robert Staples, Christopher Chittick, James Dean, George S. Staples and Jacob Hart. No doubt there were many others who served faithfully, but again, complete records are not available. The early Church had a membership of over one hundred and almost as many adherents. At the time of closing, June 30, 1947 there were only 17 members on the roll.

On October 11, 1936, the Fleetwood Church celebrated it's Diamond Jubilee and former residents came in great numbers to worship in the church of their forefathers.

It was in 1925 that the Fleetwood Methodist Church became a part of the United Church of Canada. The Church doors were officially closed and locked in June 1947, but members are hoping this is not a permanent arrangement, that perhaps new families will move in and the church once more become the centre of the community. In the meantime the building still stands as a monument to the early pioneers of Fleetwood and district.

TWENTY-YEAR-OLD Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles flashes both a delighted grin and lots of trophies emblematic of his winning the United States Amateur Singles Tenis title at Forest Hills, N.Y. The tall and rangy Californian, a rank outsider, carried just too many weapons for Eric Sturgess, South African accountant, whom he vanquished in straight sets 6-2, 6-3, 14-12. Petes' Lacrossers Capture First One From Huntsville

An early drive by the Petes' lacrossers paid off at Miller Bowl, last night, as they went on to win over Huntsville 15-10. It was the first of their best-of-seven OLA Senior 'B" finals the next one being in Huntsville on Tuesday. A big crowd saw a lively tussel with the visitors pretty well holding their own after the first quarter. The count was 5-1 for the homesters in the first, 7-3 for them at the half, and 11-5 going into the fourth. The four-goal margin of the first was nearly the edge they won by.

Play was fairly fast at times, but slowed down in spots, though there were a few roughing penalties and one major to Macdonald and Dootch Vitarelli in the second heat for fighting. Of the 11 penalties passed out by efficient referees, six went to the Creighton crew.

Led Scorers.

Lou Vitarelli, Dootch Vitarelli, Bob Breakspear, Curly Warren and Rowan Chute led the local attack, the first two being in on four goals each, and the others on three. Smith, Gordon, Magee, Em Creighton and Foote were in on a pair each and Horton and Dundas one apiece. Jack Breakspear and Chute checked well, with Bun Hill making some nice saves. The Petes missed a lot of scoring chances in close but still clicked well over most of the route. Bond, C. Higgs, Snowden and Kay were the pick of the losers up front, with Jennings checking well and Goalie Tunney stopping a number of hot thrusts.

Huntsville—Goal, Tunney; defence, Jennings and Gordon; centre, V. Higgs; wings, Kropek and Watt; rover, Chabrian; alternates, Snowden, C. Higgs, Kay, Scriver, Bond, Macdonald and Payne.

Petes—Goal, Hill; defence, Horton and Warren; centre, L. Vitarelli; wings, D. Vitarelli and R. Breakspear; rover, Smith; alternates, Magee, Chute, Creighton, Foote; J. Breakspear Gordon and Dundas.

IN ON FOUR—Lou Vitarelli not only checked well but was in on four goals—as was brother Dootch—to help the Petes take the first of their OLA senior "B" finals from Huntsville 15-10 here last night.

Referees — R. White and E. Walsh.

Fashion-Craft Again Tops Male Bowlers

Fashion Craft again led the way in the Men's City Five-Pin League with a mighty 3723 high total and 1,409 single game as they blanked Clapper's. Riley's blanked King George 6 to 0 and rolled 3,644 for second high for the second consecutive week.

Russelle's took six points from Charlotte Credit Jewelers as Ostranders won by the same margin from Empress Old Timers. Four point victories were turned in by Shockeys over Alley Cats. DeLaval over Cavanagh's, McCannon Electric over Sparton's and Bond Clothes over Sunocos.

"Tic" Caccavella took high three honors with 846 and also had high single of 374 as the Fashion Craft squad took all the individual prizes. Ned Vitarelli had 833, Jack Wade 831 and Roy Suddards 822. Alex Miller gave Caccavella a run for high single as the old timer had 358.

Marvel Meets Giant Pole In Main Bout

WLADYSLAW TALUN

Peterborough wrestling fans are due for what looks to be a really large evening in the Brock Arena ring next Wednesday night. Manager Jim Laidlaw announced today that he has signed up Wladyslaw Talun the Polish Giant to wrestle the Masked Marvel here next week. The Polish Blockbuster eagerly seized the chance to meet the Mask and with his three hundred and fifteen pounds of power, is confident that he can take the measure of the mystery man. Talun is often referred to as the Human Skyscraper and sometimes as the Human Tank. When he gets rolling against the Marvel here it is expected there will be quite an explosion in wrestling circles.

THERE IS NO JOY in Flatbush—the Brooklyn Dodgers saw their last glimmer of hope of taking the National League pennant disappear when the Pittsburgh Pirates took the odd one-third-of-an-inning protest playoff of the August 25th fame by a 12 to 11 score. Stan Rojec of the Pirates ended the playoff when he slapped out a double to clear the loaded bases. Gustine (16) and Fitzgerad, and a fellow Pirate wave in Bockman (rounding third) with the winning run as Campanella, Dodgers' catcher, waits for the ball. The "game" was played in Brooklyn.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Well, sirs—and you, mesdames—there is much local sports' activity today, so we'll mention events briefly. Staffords and Petes have their third OBA senior "A" semi-final this aft in Riverside Ashby's entertain Toronto DuVals in PWSU playoffs this afternoon in the East City Bowl and tonight there, if necessary. Riverdale C.I. juniors and seniors have grid exhibitions with PCVS teams today in the Oval, while the ORFU Panthers play in Orillia. Three minor OLA playdown jousts this afternoon in Miller Bowl. And a soccer match betwixt Lindsay and O'Halloran's in King Edward Park. So, there you are, folks, you pay your money and you take your choice.

* * * * * *

An open meeting for those interested in forming a Peterborough Athletic Club will be held next Thursday at seven p.m. in the south-east building in Morrow Park. Gus Mastrianni is behind the move to organize the club, which will go in for amateur boxing, wrestling and physical instruction in general. For boys of 10 up, and adults, too. Gus, aided by Tommy Drummond and Pete Scully, was the worker behind the recent softball exhibition here which raised $300 for the Civic Arena, and he thinks an athletic club would do a lot of good. It's worth a try, anyway.

* * * * * *

Ed Haynes, a Cobourg chap who contributes daily sports comments to the Port Hope Guide, is critical of Oshawa and Peterborough interests for causing the Galloping Ghosts to pull out of this ORFU grid group. Saying "certain parties" insist Cobourg was trying to break the rules. He says: "The utter rot contained in such charges is, of course, evident to all." Come, come, Ed, no such thing. Manager Fred Dufton asked the group's permission to use a number of Toronto university students but, when told he could if they abided by the Sept. 1 residence rule, he threatened to withdraw. When the ORFU supported the group officials, he did withdraw, though he could have drawn players from as far away as Kingston.

* * * * * *

That's all right, we don't blame Fred, whom we've known for years, for working for the Galloping Ghosts. And we admire his fight in going out and forming another group of Kingston, RCAF and Trenton for his Cobourg club. But neither should the group or ORFU officials be criticized for enforcing rules. Orillia delegates said: "We're a small centre, too, but we're asking no favors." Surely, Ed doesn't think exceptions should be made to this or that club in OHA, OBA, ORFU, etc., rules. Why make fish of one and flesh of another? See, it's as simple as that, and we'd like our Cobourg friends—many read The Examiner—to get the proper picture.

* * * * * *

Not only do we like Fred Dufton and his Ghosts, but we'd very much like to see them grouped with us. But since the club and the group executive couldn't see eye to eye on it, Oakville was added to make this a four-team group and Cobourg has another such setup. So, let's cut out the bickering, eh, boys? Someone named Smith of Cobourg recently wrote to Ted Reeve, apparently seeking sympathy, and said there is no rule against imports. Of course not, and that is beclouding the issue. The Ghosts could have brought in a dozen imports if they wished. The point is that there is that Sept. 1 deadline, and the club was reminded of this well before Sept. 1. But that's water over the dam—so let's get on with the games, and just report facts.

* * * * * *

While we haven't said much about the junior COSSA gridders yet, it's because we hadn't heard much. But 'tis understood the group up this way will be a four-team grouping, including PCVS again and St. Peter's High. In fact, these teams open their schedule at 3.30 Wednesday aft in the Oval, and the PCI-ers then go to Lindsay on Saturday. Coach Alex Londry is back at the helm and no doubt will come up with another strong Collegiate junior squad. He lost all his '47 backfielders but Don Griffin, though he has a promising looking line once more. He does a good job starting these young footballers off, and promptly loses 'em as they get good enough to make the senior team. Mm, no justice at all!

Petes' lacrossers got off on the right foot here last e'en as they took Huntsville 15-10 to open their four-in-seven OLA senior "B" finals. In Huntsville again Tuesday and here next Friday. While the Petes looked better, it wasn't too one-sided after the first quarter. Huntsville are young and full of ginger—though not as rough as Oshawa—and they whittled the count down close enough several times the last half. They could be plenty tough on their own floor. Though we've seen the Petes sharper, they played a pretty fair game and no one or two hogged the scoring. The two Vitarellis were in on four each, while Bob Breakspear, Warren and Chute had three points each, and five more had two. A good crowd on hand despite the chill air.

Use Frank Laga For First Tilt With Chiefs

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (CP) — Frank Laga, Montreal submarine artist who beat Syracuse six times during the regular schedule, is expected to be Manager Clay Hopper's choice to face the Chiefs here tonight in the first game of their best-of-seven Intrnational Baseball League final playoff series.

"They don't seem to be able to do much with him," said Hopper Friday night.

Both clubs have just come through a tough, seven-game semi-final series. Royals, who won the pennant by 13½ games, eliminated Rochester Red Wings 4-3 in games, while Syracuse also had to go the limit in polishing off Newark Bears.

Syracuse pilot Jewel Ens hasn't decided on his pitching selection, but Royals expect to face Lefty Frank Fanovich who has had a good rest. Ed. Hetki or Eddie Erautt, probably will pitch for the Chiefs in the second fixture here Sunday afternoon.

Jack Banta, Royals top moundsman who won 19 games during the season, was the logical choice to draw the starting asignment in the opener, but apparently Laga's impressive record against the Chiefs changed Hopper's mind.

Montreal won 13 of the 22 games played between the clubs during the season, but Royals fans remembering last year's playoffs, have ample reason to fear the Chiefs. The Chiefs knocked the Royals off four straight in the semi-finals last year.

The teams move to Syracuse Monday night for the next three games, and will return to Montreal for any remaining contests if necessary.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARSH

Everything is all set for the big night tonight. The weather man has promised it a little warmer and that should help out a lot. The committee is working hard so that you can have an evening of fun. Remember the whole affair is for you and we want a big turnout. Eight or 10 rinks will not be enough, we want 32.

The time is 7.30 p.m., dress in costume, enjoy some bowling, win some of the prizes and then for the weiner roast—and all free. We'll be seeing you.

We went up to the greens last night and while we did not bowl, many did, and they were enjoying it. It was men's doubles and the evening was just right. They played three 7-end games.

The winners—A. Aitkenhead and H. Williamson; R. Whalan and G. Shiner; R. Knox and H. Coleman.

The annual meeting of District No. 14 of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association will be here next Wednesday afternoon and evening. Judge S. Smoke is chairman and H. Freeman, Secretary.

HEAVY DEW—Play in the Canadian Open Golf Championship got off to a wet start at Vancouver's Shaughnessy course this week. Pouring rain delayed play and put the course in far from ideal condition. Here are three contenders for the title as they started out under an umbrella. That's what E. J. 'Dutch' Harrison, centre, is holding over their heads. Left is Jim Turnea of Elmsford, N.Y., and Henry Martell of Edmonton is right.

Yanks, Bosox and Indians Tied For Top Spot, Test Comes Today

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two's company and three's a crowd, the old saying goes, and that's exactly how Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees feel today.

All three of these American League teams are in a flatfooted tie for the circuit leadership but by nightfall there will be some elbow room.

The Yanks and Detroit Tigers are responsible for this thrilling situation. The Yanks slaughtered the Red Sox 9-6 Friday and the Tigers upset the Indians 4-3.

Boston and Cleveland began the day's activities tied for the top but now all three of the contenders boast the same won-lost record—91-56. .619 and all have just seven games left to play.

The Red Sox and Yanks go at each other again today while the Indians take on the fifth-place Tigers in Detroit. Thus, at the most, only two teams can share the lead come Sunday morning and should the Indians bow, only one will be in the catbird seat.

Billy Johnson, Bobby Brown and Joe Page were the Yanks who darned the Sox before a disappointing turnout of 33,609 paid customers.

Three-run Homer

Johnson, who gave way to a four-run rally that enabled the Yanks to overcome a 5-3 deficit.

Brown whaled two triples and a double, drove in two runs and scored three. His two-bagger in the fifth set up Johnson's game wrecking blast. With Page relieved starter Vic Raschi, who was gunning for his 20th victory in the two run Red Sox fourth and pitched brilliant clutch ball the rest of the way. He allowed eight hits but fanned six in picking up his seventh victory.

Shining Lights

The shining lights in the Tiger triumph were pitcher Fred Hutchinson and outfielders Dick Wakefield and Vic Wertz.

Hutchinson, although rocked for homers by Larry Doby, Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon, stopped the Indians on seven hits in outpitching Cleveland's 20-game winner, Bob Lemon.

Wakefield drove in the first Tiger run and scored the second while Wertz broke up the game with a two-run seventh-inning double to snap a 2-2 stalemate. The defeat ended a seven-game Cleveland winning streak.

Brown in the starting line-up, got into the game as a pinch hitter for Yogi Berra in the fifth inning and belted a three-run homer. The blow, off relief and losing pitcher Earl Johnson, highlighted

In the only other game played in the American League Chicago White Sox shaded the St. Louis Browns 4-3 in a night game at St. Louis.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals, behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of Harry (the Cat) Brecheen, stopped the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in the National League's top game. The victory was Brecheen's 19th, best production of his major league career.

In the remaining National-league game Cincinnati Reds edged the Pirates 4-3 in a night game.

Scottish Boys Take To Hockey

DUNFERMLINE, Fifeshire, Scotland, Sept. 25.—(CP).—Scotland's hockey season opens Monday, and for the first time local boys will be competing on a large scale with Canadian imports for places in league teams.

A heavy schedule runs without a break until May with each team playing twice weekly.

A new Scottish Ice Hockey Association rule limits the number of Canadian imports to 10 for each team and stipulates that at least two Scottish-born players must be dressed by each team for every game and must play part of each game.

The move is designed to speed up production of home talent but pessimists believe it will be at least 25 years before Scotland ceases to depend on Canada for hockey players.

A number of Canadian players now are in their third season here and like it so well that they have married and have settled down permanently in Scotland. An example is Bill Melville, 180-pound Dunfermline defenceman who hails from Oshawa.

IN THE EVENT OF FIRE at the Arlington Farms at Libertyville, Ill., there would be no stampeding terror among the horses as is usually the case in stable fires. For the farm's ponies go through fire drills regularly and if the real thing came along, it would be just routine to the animals. Here Mrs. Del Carroll leads a bevy of ponies from the stables quietly and in perfect order. The animals are wearing blindfolds. Mrs. Carroll is secretary of the Arlington Farm's fall horse show, which will be held at Libertyville October 9 and 10. These horses are believed to be the only ones in the country to undergo fire drills.

Star Tackle Stan Mauldin Dies At Game

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—(AP).—Stan Mauldin, 27-year-old star tackle for Chicago Cardinals of the National Professional Football League, died early today of an apparent heart attack in the club's dressing room at Comiskey Park after last night's game with Philadelphia Eagles.

Mauldin had played part of the game against the Eagles, which Chicago won 21-14.

During the last half the former Texas University athlete signalled that he wanted to be relieved.

He returned to the bench and "sweated out" the closely-fought contest with many of his teammates.

After the Cardinals made their winning touchdown in the last four minutes on a pass, Mauldin told his coaches, Jimmy Conzelman and Phil Handler: "I want to get back in there . . . let me go."

His Last Words

Those were the last words the coaches heard him speak.

Mauldin, father of a five-year-old son, played the last two minutes of the game.

As he undressed in the Cards' dressing room, he complained of a headache. After he showered he commented: "That was a pretty nice game we won, fellows." Then he collapsed.

An emergency rescue squad was summoned. They placed an oxygen mask over his face and worked over him for one hour and 20 minutes as his team-mates grouped solemnly in the dressing room. He was pronounced dead at 2.03 a.m. EDT by Dr. Sidney Portis, a heart specialist, who had been called in.

Mauldin's wife, Helen, was with him when he died.

Dr. Portis said Mauldin died of "either a haemorrhage at the base of the skull or a massive coronary attack." It was the first fatality in pro football history in Chicago.

RAN 100 NIGHTS

The first play to run 100 nights on the English speaking stage was "Tom and Jerry."

Metz Clinging To Golf Lead

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25—(CP)—Dick Metz, the only golfer in to shade par each round, today holds the best chance of chipping out the winner's share of the $10,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship.

The consistent shotmaker from Virginia Beach, Va. went into the final 18 holes today still clinging to the two-stroke lead he built up in the second day.

With the 6,590-yard Shaughnessy Heights course bathed in sunshine yesterday after two days of chilly wet weather, the change made little difference to methodical Metz. He slashed one stroke off par with a 71 for a seven-under par 209 for 54 holes.

Runner-up at 211 was Chuck Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., a brilliant Pacific northwest golfer practically unknown in the east, who shot a 68 for the day's hottest round.

Tighten Rules For Re-Marriage

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—(CP).—The United Church of Canada Friday night tightened its regulations on the re-marriage of divorced persons.

A report presented by Ontario Chief Justice J. C. McRuer recommended that ministers do not remarry the divorcee responsible for the first break-up.

It also asked that the right to perform re-married ceremonies be allowed only to the church's active ordained ministers. Thus, it left open the clergyman's own decision as to whether he would not conduct the marriage.

Rev. C. A. Gowans of Toronto, cautioned the council to remember that "divorced persons are not to be regarded as degenerates. The church must try to bring them to higher things."

"There are cases," he said, "where divorce seems essential." He spoke particularly of divorces brought about by "drunken bestial husbands."

Son Lost On Bets, Mother Wins In Court

BOSTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Mrs. Nettie Tefft Friday was awarded $27,406.68 in her suit against the operator of a horse-racing tip service.

Mrs. Tefft claimed her son, James lost $30,000 in bets while receiving tips from the Walsh Racing Service.

She had brought suit to recover $100,000 each from Melvin Abrahamson, identified as a former operator of the service, and his mother, Mrs. Louise Abrahamson, the suit against the latter was dismissed by Judge Eugene Hudson.

No Separation

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 25.—(Reuters),—Sir Basil Brooke, prime minister of Northern Ireland, said here Friday that Ulster will remain loyal to the Crown and will have nothing to do with the idea of separation from the United Kingdom and British Commonwealth.

Leafs Suffer Training Injuries

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 25—(CP)—The injury jinx has walked into Toronto Maple Leafs' training camp here and several aspirants to the National Hockey League champions have strolled—or rather, limped—to the sidelines.

Seventeen-year-old Danny Lewicki, junior star with the Memorial Cup champion Port Arthur Bruins last year, suffered a badly cut left instep Friday. The cut took 16 stitches to close and small tendon was severed. The brilliant young wingman, for whom more than $30,000 was reported to have been paid, probably will be out for about a week.

Vic Lynn became another casualty when he pulled a back muscle during P. T. drill. He also will be out a week. The big winger took part in practice however and showed up well.

Laurie Regan, an amateur invited to stay over from last week, also will be out a week with a fractured wrist.

Shifty Lewicki, believed by many to be the brightest star on Leafs' hockey horizon, feels he needs another year as an amateur after the rugged bumps and thumps he has received in training.

Women Ministers To Be Continued

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—(CP).—The United church Friday agreed to continue to allow women to enter its ministry but ruled they must register or take leave of absence when having a family.

"Women are the bearers of children and all the eloquence of this General Council will not change this to the end of time," said Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, the church's general secretary.

There is a difference, he said, between "equality of status and function." Since union in 1925 there have been 17 women ordained in the United church.

In a report on the ordination of women, the church approved in principle their entry on an equal status with men, but added:

1. They be approved by a church court including on its membership other women.

2. They be examined by competent medical men to assure they are psychologically adjusted to the service demanded of them in the church.

3. They either resign or ask for leave of absence when they were having a family.

THE BOSTON BRAVES owe their top-of-the-totem pole position in the National League in no small part to these two hurlers. At Left is Warren Spahn, who has won 14 of the Braves' games and lost 10. At Right is Johnny Sain, who has come through with 21 victories against 14 defeats.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

President Bill Tobin and Coach Charlie Conacher have named Al Rollins of the Edmonton Flyers, Allan Cup champions, to start in goal for Chicago Black Hawks Saturday night in their first pre-season exhibition game against their farm club, Kansas City Plamors.

This may be the tipoff that the Hawks, who have failed in their efforts to purchase a netminder of proven N.H.L. calibre, will gamble with Rollins as their goalie this season. "His work impressed me very much," said Tobin in Hawks' North Bay training camp.

Last year's goalie, Emile Francis, also is with the team.

Montreal Alouettes and Hamilton Wildcats will play their postponed Big Four Football League game at Montreal Tuesday night if permission to use the field can be obtained from the Montreal Baseball Club, Alouettes Coach Lew Hayman said Friday night.

The fixture was originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon but because Royals are still involved in the International Baseball League playoffs, the contest had to be postponed.

Plans for an exhibition round-robin junior hockey series between teams from the lakehead, Winnipeg and Montreal early next month were announced in Port Arthur Friday. Matched in a series extending from Oct. 11-Oct. 18 will be Port Arthur Bruins, last year's Memorial Cup champions; Fort William Columbus Club, Winnipeg Canadiens and Montreal Nationals.

The St. Thomas Gun Club and the Elgin Fish and Game Protective Association have protested against the open season for pheasants Nov. 5-6. Some 2,400 pheasant poults have been released within the last three months in the St. Thomas district. Officials of the two clubs said Friday shooting pheasants this year would not be any more sporting that shooting domestic fowl in a barnyard.

Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League defeated their farm club, Indianapolis Capitals, 9-4 last night in an exhibition game at Wings' Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., training camp.

New Westminster Adanacs Friday night retained their intercity lacrosse championship, defeating Vancouver Burrards 15-13 in overtime play at Vancouver. The Adanacs, taking the best-of-seven series 4-2, also won the right to defend their Canadian senior lacrosse title against the eastern champions in Toronto next month.

What this new "Security Plan" will do for him

The Mutual Life of Canada's "Security Plan" enables you to start your child's insurance at a very early age, and at a low cost.

Protection starts at $100 at birth, increasing annually to $1,000. at age 9 and grading up to $5,000. at age 20. If money is required for educational purposes when the child reaches university age, the policy may be surrendered for its cash value, otherwise it may be continued at the very low premium rate until age 60 or 65 when a retirement income is available. The Cash Value increases yearly, and dividends are paid annually as declared.

Ask a Mutual representative to give you all the facts.

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK

SEPT. 27 to OCT. 1

Children require and deserve the best .... let us make sure that they receive it .... as the old saying goes, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure".

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK—

Why - Why - Why - Why!

What next! We have heard of "Apple Week." "Clean Up Week." "Home Town Week." "Mother's Day." "Father's Day." etc., etc.

These special events do not just happen. Some individual or group of individuals have planned them for some purpose. We do not pretend to understand all the "whys" and "wherefors" behind the planning of some special event, but we do know the objective behind the planning of Dental Health Week.

Fact No. 1.—It is NOT commercial.

Fact No. 2.—The need is NOT based on theory but on FACT.

Fact No. 3.—Health is definitely an aid to Happiness.

Fact No. 4.—Dental Health plays an important part in General Health.

Fact No. 5.—The individuals responsible for this program are Honest, Intelligent and Industrious.

Fact No. 6.—They are "good citizens."

For these and other equally good reasons the Members of the Ontario Dental Association wish for Dental Health Week all the success it so richly deserves. And we bespeak your co-operation in making for a healthier, happier people. "Our children require and are deserving of the best. Let us make sure they get it."

Eunice, Lois and Timothy

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Acts 16:1-5; 17:13-15; I Corinthians 4:14-21; 16:10-11; Philippians 2:19; I Thessalonians 3:1-10; Timothy 1:3-14; 3:4-15

At Lystra, in Galatia, lived a Christian family, a grandmother, Lois, a mother, Eunice, a Jewess and believer, and her son, Timothy, whose father, however, was a Greek citizen.

Paul coming to Lystra, met Timothy, of whom he had heard good reports. The young man found favor with Paul, who asked that Timothy go with him on his journey

Paul and Timothy set out from Lystra, visiting the cities, delivering decrees from the mother church in Jerusalem, establishing churches in the faith and increasing them.

From his dungeon prison Paul wrote to Timothy how he longed to see him, that he "might be filled with joy" in his imprisonment.
MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 119:11.

Love, Understanding, Piety Needed in Christian Family

Scripture—Acts 16: 1-5; 17: 13-15; I Corinthians 4: 14-21; 16: 10-11; Philippians 2: 19; I Thessalonians 3: 1-10; II Timothy 1: 3-6; 3: 14-15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Two women and a child lived in the home described in our lesson today. A grandmother, Lois; a mother, Eunice, and a child, Timothy, who was later to do heroic work for Christ.

Eunice, Timothy's mother, and his grandmother, Lois, were Jewesses, but his father (presumably dead) was a Greek. He was brought up in the Christian faith, and while we are not told who converted grandmother and mother to that faith, it may have been Paul himself who had visited Lystra before.

At any rate, we have the picture of the two women and one man child in a home, the women teaching the Hebrew scriptures to the boy and the boy absorbing the stories of the heroes of old and of Jesus and His works while on earth.

It was this teaching that was to bear fruit in Timothy's after life. He was eventually ordained the first bishop of the church of the Ephesians.

We do not know when Timothy was born, nor when Paul first saw him. He must have been quite a young man when Paul came to Lystra, where it is thought his home was, and the youth must have made a favorable impression on Paul, because he took Timothy with him on his second missionary journey. He had received good reports of him from others.

The two visited a number of cities, delivering decrees to keep "which had been ordained of the apostles and elders that were at Jerusalem." Paul must have found that Timothy was a very good young missionary, for the two strengthened in the faith the churches they visited and increased their numbers daily.

These were times of great persecution of the Christian church. We read in Acts 17:13 that Paul, preaching at Thessalonica, was in so much danger that the brethren sent Silas and Paul away to Berea, and even there, when the Thessalonians heard that he was up the people" so that he was forced to leave there also.

Silas and Timothy stayed on at Berea, however, until Paul had been escorted to Athens, when they went to him.

Many people in the world today, reading these stories of Christians living in constant danger of their lives, or at least of imprisonment, can understand only too well their feelings, for they too, have been—and in some cases still are—in danger of their liberties and often of their lives.

MEMORY VERSE

"Thy word have I laid up in my heart."—Psalms 119:11.

There is still much suffering in various countries among those who are homeless wanderers looking for places to live. The Christian churches are doing noble work trying to help with food, medication and shelter for these poor folk.

In a letter to the Corinthians Paul seems to be worried for fear they fail in faith, and tells them that he has sent "my beloved son," Timothy, to help them keep the faith. In the 16th chapter of the same letter he also recommeds Timothy, saying if Timothy comes to them, they should see that he "works without fear, for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do."

Again Paul sent Timothy to the Thessalonians, who were evidently afraid of persecution, to comfort them, and wrote that he was pleased that when Timothy came back to Paul, he brought such a good report of the church.

Paul's letters to Timothy himself are filled with affectionate greetings. The last one, written shortly before Paul's martyrdom, say. "I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day; greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy; when I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother, Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also."

Timothy is an example of a man who, in his boyhood, had a good home, love, understanding and piety.

Hold Reception

APSLEY, Sept. 25 (ENS).—Mr. and Mrs. Robt Scott entertained their friends at a wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Windsor. Mrs. Windsor was formerly Mary Scott.

A large crowd attended and enjoyed dancing to music supplied by Sid McCauley and his Rangers.

Many beautiful and costly gifts were received. Lunch was supplied by members of Ladies Auxiliary to Canadian Legion.

Christ's Boyhood Teaching

BY REV. E. JAMES

When Jesus Was Twelve Years Old They Went Up To Jerusalem. St. Luke 2; 42.

The Virgin Mother very probably told this story to St. Luke when he came up to Jerusalem with St. Paul on his last visit. She remembers His age—"Jesus was twelve years old"—the most attractive period of a boy's life, full of energy and enthusiasm. It needs no imagination to realise the Boy's joy to worship in the Temple of Jehovah and listen to the beautiful singing of the choir. Let us not forget that the Jew had not only a genius for religion, but he had a love for music. The Psalms of David made a natural appeal to such a people. The practical reason for going up to Jerusalem was that the Boy should became "a son of the Law" at the hands of a devout Rabbi and take His place among men in the Divine worship. Have you such a thought for your son at

VOL. XCVII, No. 70 — SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1948

MAIN ST. TOPICS

MURDER HEARING PUT AHEAD.

Preliminary hearing of the murder charge against Mrs. Jane McAllister has been set for October 1 at Lindsay. It had been previously announced that the hearing would be held September 29.

FLOODED OIL BURNER

Firemen made two trips on Thursday. The first was shortly after 12 p.m. when a leaky sprinkler valve at Nashua Paper Co. sounded the alarm at the firehall. The second was when a flooded oil burner was reported at the home of J. A. Bradley, 297 King St.

BAGS A MASKINONGE

Harold Hopkins, Lakefield service station owner collected his largest fish of the season on Thursday when he tied into a 21 pounder at Lake Katchawanooka and landed it. The muskies are biting well in all the lakes and the season ends next Friday, October 1.

BRIDGE STRENGTHENED

The swing bridge over the Trent River at the village of Trent River has undergone extensive repairs. Girders of the structure were cracked recently during the crossing of a heavy vehicle loaded with construction machinery. Guards were posted to permit only light vehicles over. The restriction caused long traffic tie-ups for some time.

RADIO-RADAR BATTLE

Residents close to the Army Week demonstrations at the Armouries are about ready to turn off their radio dials "for the duration"—of the week. Equipment used in the displays nearby set up a "ping-pong", "bo-bop" and other interference with radio sets near it. Musical, though.

BAN RABBIT HUNTERS

Except on Pelee Island, rabbit hunting in Essex county is banned until Sept. 28. Lands Minister Scott said Thursday the ban was intended to protect pheasants. Essex county authorities feared the birds might suffer if any kind of hunting were permitted before Sept. 28.

OBJECTS TO INCREASE

"The first time the CNR shows a deficit of $30 it wants to raise bus fares" is a comment or organized labor objecting to any change in the Oshawa bus fares. "The company is trying to use its last wage boost to its employees as a reason for raising fares. The suggested increase hits only the people who use the buses, the workingman and his wife."

BIG DOG—NO OWNER

Anyone looking for a first-class, purebred Great Dane female dog with a friendly wag of the tail and a voracious appetite? The police department has turned over a magnificent animal of this description to the Humane Society, which is now trying to locate its owner. The dog spent the night at the police station. She is a big one, weighing close to 100 pounds and of light tan color.

HE NEEDS HELP

Bill Guppy, 160½ Sherbrooke St. carries 128 Examiners, one of the largest routes in the city. On Sunday night somebody stole his bicycle from his home, and Bill is having a tough time trying to deliver the papers without the wheel. This bicycle is easily identified, it is a navy blue CCM with new grey mudguards and black carrier. The license number is 283. A little detective work by some good citizen would be greatly appreciated by this newsboy, and any information can be telephoned to the police.

A VETERAN WOOLMAN, C. V. Elliott, assistant manager, G. Whitaker and Company, was honored Friday evening at an employees' banquet and was presented with an illuminated scroll and other gifts to mark 25 years of faithful service. He is shown above (centre) with A. P. Whiteley (left), company director from Bradford, England, and G. Monkman, manager of the Peterborough branch.

SQUIRREL SEASON

An open season on black, grey and fox squirrels has been set for Nov. 12 and 13. The bag limit is five squirrels a day.

PARACHUTE JUMP

A parachutist who jumped from a plane at Campbellford Fair Thursday landed safely two miles from the grounds.

JUDGE AT KINGSTON

Norman McConkey judged the Holstein cattle at Kingston Exhibition Thursday. It was the Frontenac "Black and White Day" with James Henderson of Postsmouth prominent in the awards.

TO ADDRESS KIWANIS

Capt. Phillip R. Sargent, Administration and Training officer with the 50th Heavy Ack Ack Regiment (PWR) will address the Kiwanis club on October 14. His subject will be "Use of radar in modern warfare."

ADVERTISING FAIR

G. A. Brethen, president of Norwood Fair, was in the city this morning on his way to the Lindsay Fair with a roll of posters for promotional and publicity work. The Norwood Fair is on Thanksgiving Day.

FINDS RASPBERRIES

Bob Webb, a Nassau schoolboy, walked into The Examiner office today with two clusters of wild raspberries. The berries were not large but there were about a dozen ripe ones on the one cluster and half as many on the other. Despite a frost that has damaged the late cucumbers and tomatoes in that district, none of the berries was affected. He found them growing on a vacant lot near his home.

LACROSSE CHAMPIONS

Members af the Kiwanis Bantams, 1948 champions of the Peterborough Minor Lacrosse Association, were presented with crests by Mayor W. G. Ovens at the Kiwanis luncheon on Thursday. They were Arthur Batley, Jack Corbett, Bob Hobart, Bob Allin, Harold Mullins, Rowland Crowe, Paul Crough, Harold McDougall, Gary Kearns, Al Parkington, Ron Collins, Neil Courneya, Joe O'Brien, Jerry Frizzle and Harold Bulmer. Also present were Walter Firth, team manager, and John Legrow, representing the Minor Lacrosse Association.

Firm Honors Claude Elliott For 25 Years Service

Claude V. Elliott, sales manager of the G. Whitaker and Company plant in Peterborough was honored Friday night on the marking of a quarter century of service with that firm. A special guest on hand at the staff banquet was Arthur P. Whiteley of Bradford, Yorkshire, England, a director of the parent British company.

Presentation of an illuminated address and a wristwatch was made on behalf of the full staff by Gordon Monkman, General Manager. Both Mr. Whiteley and Mr. Monkman paid high tribute to Mr. Elliott's service on behalf of the wool importing firm which has been a part of Peterborough's industrial life since 1920. Nearly 40 members of the staff attended the banquet.

In his address, Mr. Whiteley outlined the development of the Whitaker concern from its small beginnings in England in 1901. In 1909, the firm extended its contact to the United States and in 1920 crossed the line into Canada, where it has continued to grow and is now one of the most important business establishments of its kind.

The speaker told his audience that he had been sent to Canada in 1920 to decide if — and where — a plant should be established. He decided on Peterborough.

"From our history here, I think we can say that we didn't make a mistake."

He gave much credit for the Canadian progress to Mr. Monkman and Mr. Elliott, who joined the present general manager in 1923. Together, said the company director, they built up the organization to its present status.

He also paid tribute to the long service, extending over the past 15 to 20 years, of three staff members seated at the head table: Harry Willis, traffic manager; Archibald Hamilton; and Albert Radford.

Mr. Whitley commended Canada for its aid to Britain in war and peace. Stressing the gratitude felt for parcels sent from Canada, he said they were "absolutely a godsend to hundreds and thousands" now on still comparatively tight rationing.

Mr. Monkman, in a brief outline of the Peterborough plant, laid emphasis on the harmonious management-labor relations there.

"We believe that Canada is the greatest country in the world and that her future is unlimited. We intend to keep pace with her development and progress."

In making the presentation to Mr. Elliott, it was pointed out that it was almost 25 years to the day that he first esablished contact with the Whitaker Company. Mr. Elliott, in his acknowledgement, told of some of the earlier days of the company, from a small three-man beginning to its present size.

Archibald Hamilton, on behalf of the staff, presented Mr. Whiteley with a gift pipe.

Movies, provided by the Peterborough Film Council, were included in the evening's entertainment. Piano accompaniment to the singing was played by Harry Pyle. Mr. Monkman was chairman of the banquet.

Help Veterans In Landscaping

More than 100 veterans of The Second Great War have established small holdings in the Peterborough district according to department officials. Many of these already have their homes built, while others are either building or considering building. To aid these veterans in beautifying and landscaping their small holdings a meeting is being held on Tuesday evening at 7.30 in the Canadian Legion Hall when specialists will outline how to layout, landscape, plant and also how to derive the best yields from the home gardens. In addition, there will be films on beautifying the home grounds, how to plant a garden and how to control weeds and insects.

Mr. Fred Brown, who is the specialist on Vegetable Gardening at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, will deal with development of the garden. Mr. Dan Cameron, who is in charge of Landscaping and Flower Gardens, at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, will speak on beautifying the home grounds. There will be considerable time devoted to the discussion of garden and home beautification problems and veterans are asked to bring their questions on these subjects.

Plowmen Name Committee

Peterborough plowmen appointed Friday night a fields committee to assist in the work of counties day at the International Plowing Match.

G. A. Gillespie was named chairman with Alex Huston, Art McIntyre, Frank C. Paterson, Henry Batten, Howard Quinn, Sam Killen, A. C. Curtis and Tom Harrington.

Coaching of juniors has been arranged for either Oct. 4 or 5 at Henry Batten's farm. The definite date will be announced later. Vern Campbell was chairman of the meeting. Peterborough county is expected to be rather largely represented at the match, with some of the juniors especially interested in county work.

Four juniors attending the meeting were: John Batten, John Garbutt, Earl Garbutt and Robert Jackson.

25 MORE HOUSES

Russell Construction Co. will build 25 more houses in Port Hope under contract with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. They will have basements and will be equipped for heating.

6 Plants Plan Work Saturdays

At least six of Peterborough's manufacturing plants are likely to have switched to Saturday operations in another week according to Utilities information today.

The city used 274,000 kwh. Friday, which is still 34,000 more than the 240,000 kwh. quota set by the Hydro. More drastic enforcement of regulations which have been drafted for the power users of the province are expected to develop next week according to reports from Toronto.

Mr. G. S. Matthews and R. L. Dobbin left early this morning for the opening of the Stewartville power plant on the Madawaska River, beyond Arnprior. Its delivery of power may not be forthcoming steadily for weeks yet, and will then afford some power relief but not sufficient to affect materially the restrictions which the Hydro has issued for the winter.

5 People Hurt Car, Truck In Collision

A car-truck crash involving six people occurred Friday evening shortly after 6 p.m. on the Warsaw Road, eight miles north-east of Peterborough and five were admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital for medical treatment about two hours later. The car victims were Mrs. Millie Edwards, R.R. 2, Warsaw, Mrs. Melville Edwards, R.R. 2, Lakefield and Miss Marie Edwards, employee of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Company.

The women were driving east and at the Douro turn, a one-ton express truck owned and driven by Cephas Parcels, Warsaw, with J. A. McMurray, R.R. 4, Lakefield and Hubert Kennedy, 448½ Rogers St., Peterborough, member Peterborough Fire Department, came into collision, each vehicle hitting the other on the left front side. Mr. Parcels was bringing a load of furniture from the former home of Michael McManus, Douro township to his new home at 479 Rogers St.

The force of the impact caused lacerations and some concussion to the occupants of both vehicles except Mr. Kennedy who escaped injury. Provincial Constable Archie Grayling of Havelock investigated the accident and the four family doctors who attended the patients said this morning that they were progressing favorably and police investigation of the cause of the accident is being continued today.

Students Given Bursary Awards

Two Peterborough PCVS students have received Dominion-Provincial-Student-Aid bursuries. They are John O. Parker, 18, of 688 Gilchrist St. who has been awarded a $400 university grant, and Doreen Hamblin, 19, of Dummer who has been awarded a $200 bursury for the Normal School.

Bursuries are issued on a basis of financial need. The student must have an excellent scholastic standing and must apply for it personally. Only 11 bursuries are awarded in Peterborough County.

C. S. Browne, principal of PCVS, pointed out that the financial status of the student is the primary consideration. He said that scholarship winners at PCVS will be announced later.

Winner of the $400 university grant at St. Peter's High School was Lawrence O'Toole, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent O'Toole, R.R. 6, Peterborough. He is now at the University of Toronto where he has enrolled in the premedical course.

Two Grade 12 students received $100 scholarships to assist them financially in Grade 13 which they are attending this year. They are Miss Betty Schiarizza, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schiarizza, Bethune St., and Miss Rita Chapman, also 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chapman, Romaine St.

MAKE THREE TRIPS

Firemen made three trips on Friday. At 9.45 a.m. a chimney fire was reported at the residence of R. Maloney, 472 Murray St. A grass fire in a vacant lot on Brioux St. was put out shortly before 1.30 p.m. and shortly before 6 p.m. Mrs. C. Guerin, 110 Sophia St., turned in an alarm when her oil burner flooded.

NURSING SCHOLARSHIP WINNER is Miss Mary Kathryn Elson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred L. Elson of R.R. 1, Fraserville, and a 1947 graduate of Peterborough Civic Hospital. Miss Elson was one of 27 Canadians awarded scholarships by the Victorian Order of Nurses. She has worked with the VON here since last January. She will do post-graduate work in Public Health Nursing at the University of Toronto School of Nursing. Her mother was also a graduate nurse of the Civic Hospital, a member of the class of 1920.

Trucks Collide Damage $500

When a truck driven by Harold Coons, Lakefield, crashed into the rear of another truck driven by Bob Chittick, Lakefield, about four miles north-east of Lakefield on Friday night, the Coons vehicle received about $500 damage. Both trucks are owned by Frank Coyle of Lakefield, and were travelling toward Stony Lake.

Chittick was in the first oreladen truck with Coons closely following. Suddenly he was forced to put on the brakes to avoid a collision with another truck loaded with a bulldozer and trailing a scraper which was stalled on the road.

Coons was unable to come to a full stop and crashed into the rear of Chittick's truck. The front of his vehicle was bashed in and total damage was estimated at $500.

Driver of the stalled vehicle was Gordon McKay of James McKay and Sons, Toronto.

Provincial Constable Crowe investigated.

DST Ends Sun. 2 A.M.

Summer time ends Sunday at 2 a.m. To conform with the return to standard time you move the wrist watch or eight-day clock back one hour at bedtime tonight. Next week with the transfer of that hour from the end of the afternoon to the beginning of morning, people will be as usual wondering where the days have gone when the light fades at supper time. Clocks were advanced one hour April 25, spreading over five months ahe longer evenings.

NOTED DENTIST

Mr. Harold J. Swales, chairman of the Dental Public Health Committee of the Ontario Dental Association and past president of the Toronto Academy of Dentistry, is to speak to the Rotary Club on Monday, when Dental Health Week begins in Peterborough.

Urges Canadian Scientists To Concentrate On Fundamental Research

In an address to the Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada on Friday night, Dr. John N. Finlayson, president of the E. I. C. and Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science at the University of British Columbia called on Canadian scientists to concentrate more on fundamental research.

"If we are to keep abreast of the natural science, the physical sciences and other sciences, we must pay more and more attention to fundamental research," he said.

He contended that while this continent had developed applied science to an extraordinary degree, the fundamental research upon which all this was based came from Europe.

"Take the atom bomb for instance," he said, "all the fundamental research on it was done in the old country."

As a result of the war, he said that British researchers have been interupted, the German ones scattered, "and in Russia the work of scientists is kept secret—we are unlikely to know what is going on there."

Dr. Finlayson scored the charge sometimes heard that engineers are faultily educated. "I get a little tired of hearing a few of our citizens, and even sometimes engineers, say that there is something defective in the engineering education," he said.

"The engineer is trained to think things out and to be critical," he said. Disputing the fact that those with a more academic education are better educated and have a greater cultural appreciation, he said that there was beauty to be found in engineering "and my own specialty, bridge building."

"I am told that many business people would rather have an engineer than these other groups," he said.

"There is an old prejudice that in order to be properly educated one must be able to translate university mottoes. . . . When you get into a certain way of thinking it is hard to change."

Culture Not Enough

Dr. Finlayson scored the have a great love for the humanities and the so called cultural subjects. I have a full appreciation of their value. I believe every citizen and every engineer should avail himself of the best in literature and art."

"But," he said, "there is beauty and culture, if we go deep enough, in any subject. There is no culture superficially glossing over any subject in the world."

The engineer should not be considered an uncultured being, said Dr. Finlayson, because his subjects are confined to mathematics and the sciences.

"The engineer's life is an exact one," he said. "He must deal with natural laws any infraction of which will lead to disaster. We have got to plow deep. It is better to know a few things well than a glomer of many things. It is better to know how to think."

Outlining the task of the engineer, he said: "Though we need other subjects, such as economics, psychology, the humanities, etc., we must go deeper and deeper with the fundamentals."

10,000 Members

Dr. Finlayson, in his capacity as president of the EIC, has been on a tour of the Dominion inspecting some of the 29 branches of that organization, which has a total membership of about 10,000.

He praised the Peterborough branch and complimented the CGE and other companies for educating young engineers. He pointed out that while the tyro engineer learned much at the university, he needed the practical experience that these firms could give him to complete his knowledge.

Included on his trip was a visit to Arvida where the first aluminum bridge in the world is under construction. Nearby, he said, was Shipshaw, 'one of the greatest collections of hydro power in the world."

He told of a visit to a $14,000,000 refinery for titanium at Sorel. And he told the audience that the people in that region were interested in reports of huge iron ore deposits in north-east Quebec and Labrador. "It is more than rumor but authentic statements that the ore there is almost comparable with the deposits at Mesabi in Minnesota."

In that region he said there was a prevailing spirit of optimism. He described it as a community "that without the shadow of a doubt owes its existence to the engineer." Nature provided the water, contours of the land, etc., but the engineer did the rest."

He quoted from an address the late Lord Tweedsmuir had once given to a group of engineers at McMaster:

"Our task is to adapt it (science) to the high purposes of humanity. Whatever is not reduced to the scale of human values is a monster and a monster is always to be feared. . . . Man and space must be brought under the domain of the human spirit. I believe the engineer will play a part in creating these controls. One definition of engineering is 'the art of overcoming the resistance of nature, particularly human nature'."

Dr. Finlayson was introduced by Dr. G. R. Langley and was thanked by president Gordon Tollington.

Dr. L. A. Wright, general secretary of the E.I.C. credited the Peterborough branch with being one of the best he had visited while on the present tour.

Guests from Kingston at the dinner-meeting, which was held at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, included Philip Roy, Kingston chairman, C. E. Craig, M. G. Saunders, Donald McPherson and George Andrews.

Mr. Tollington mentioned the loss of two members both of whom died recently, D. V. Canning and A. H. Munro.

It was announced that the Peterborough branch would make a trip to Trenton on October 16 to inspect the RCAF station there.

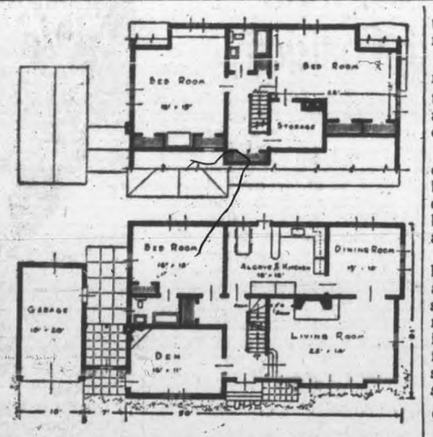
PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT



HOUSE NO. 46—Anyone living in this lovely white brick home is sure to have a bright future. The number and size of the windows will assure this! Finest of all is the wide bay window in the living room, which overlooks the beautiful rock garden. A room that is sure to arouse envy is the big den with its corner fireplace. Here is an ideal setting for a collection of books—or trophies. Of special interest too is the combined kitchen and breakfast nook. There is a good sized bedroom on the first floor with private bathroom, and two larger bedrooms and a bath on the second floor. Both upstairs bedrooms have twin closets and four windows each! Prospective homeowners will appreciate the covered area connecting the house and garage. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Saving in Piping and Labor In Well Placed Bathroom

Bathroom planning can be a lot of fun if you will assemble your information and do your thinking in logical order around these four main points 1. Location and size of bathroom; 2. Choice of fixtures; 3. Arrangement of fixtures, that is layout of the room; 4. Wall and floor materials.

First, about the location of the bathroom, you will want to keep in mind the fact that there are economical and uneconomical locations for bathrooms. That's another reason why it is well to plan your plumbing carefully even before the plans for your house reach the blueprint stage. Get competent advice. A slight shift in the location might result in substantial saving in piping costs.

Close To Kitchen

For instance, if you can bring your bathroom reasonably close to the kitchen, it may be possible to have the bathroom fixtures connected with the same branch supply lines that serve the kitchen sink. Similarly there may be some economy in waste piping. If the same stack can be used, the saving may amount to as much $50 to $75.

If you are having two bathrooms the most economical location is back to back. With such and arrangement there is a decided saving in piping and labor.

On the other hand, the most economical location for your bathroom may not be the most convenient. After all, you are building the house for livability and convenience.

How large will your bathroom be? While it is possible to crowd all three bathroom fixtures into a space five feet square, this is the minimum size. Furthermore, it is not a convenient size. It is far better to have a bathroom, say, six by eight feet or better still eight by seven feet.

Consider Size

A larger bathroom is much more serviceable. You should keep in mind the fact that two people may occassionally find it necessary to be in the bathroom at the same time. A small, crowded bathroom is particularly inconvenient for older people. Therefore, think about the size of your bathroom before your architect makes the final plans for the house. Indeed, you will find a bathroom large enough to accommodate a linen cabinet very serviceable.

You should know the approximate size of your bathroom before you select your fixtures. Fixtures vary in size. In a larger bathroom, for instance, you will have room for a lavatory size 27 x 22 inches. If the bathroom is smaller you may have to use a smaller lavatory as for instance 24 x 21 inches. By the way, when your plumber mentions lavatory sizes, the size he gives first is the width of the lavatory along the wall. The last figure is the depth of the fixture front to back.

Rumors of Crash

WINDSOR, Sept. 25.—(CP).—Rumors of a plane crash in the Huron Line-Tecumseh Road area Friday night sent firemen and ambulances rushing to the district and flooded a newspaper office with telephone calls. A thorough search of the district by Windsor firemen failed to reveal any trace of an airplane mishap.

Ottawa Smaller

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.— (CP).—The population of Canada's capital has dropped 1,046 to 221,159 in the last year, the 1948 city directory has estimated. The population of Ottawa itself is given as 190,465 with another 30,694 people living in the city's suburbs.

Indian School Thanks WA For Clothing Bale

MILLBROOK, Sept. 25. (ENS).—Mrs. C. M. Westmacott and Miss Rose Macnamara were joint hostesses for the opening meeting of the Anglican WA on Monday evening. President Mrs. A. E. Chevis was chairman. Miss Macnamara read the lesson.

Announcement was made of the annual WA Deanery meeting at Cannington on October 14, and delegates will attend. Mrs. MacLean is Deanery officer.

Mrs. J. W. Hilton, Dorcas secretary, reported a letter from the matron of the Indian School where the bale had been sent, thanking the donors for the articles, and stating the use to which they had been put. One quilt is ready for completion, and tops for others, and quiltings will begin shortly at Mrs. Westmacott's home. Seventy church calendars will be ordered for sale again this year.

The new study book dealing with Anglican foreign missions, will be introduced at the October meeting. Miss Muriel Smith and Mrs. Chevis were the supper hostesses during the social hour.

MUST BE PERUVIAN

The president of Peru must be 35 years of age, of Peruvian birth and 10 years a resident of the Republic.

Criticizes D.P.'s

BARRIE, Sept. 25.—(CP). — Mrs. Margaret Scott of Toronto, worshipful mistress of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association of British North America, Thursday night criticized the Dominion Government because so many displaced persons being brought here from Europe are Roman Catholics. Speaking at the 25th anniversary meeting of the Barrie lodge, she said she did not think these persons would be good citizens "because they were of the church of Rome."

EYEWITNESSES OF ONE of the most ruthless twin killings in Montreal crime annals tell police officers in front Banque Canadienne Nationale how 2 traffic constables were shot down by two desperadoes, identified as Douglas Perrault (inset top) and Donald Perrault (inset below). They are not related. Cons. Nelson Paquin, 41, was shot at point marked by black arrow; Cons. Paul Emile Duranleau, 34, under white arrow.

Armouries 40 Years Old Soldiers' Tramping Wore 5 Inches Off Floor

It's a busy scene at the Peterborough Armouries these days, with Army Week, recruiting, cadet training, huge vehicles lined up along the walls, heavy anti-aircraft guns raising their snouts just outside, and radars swinging their aerials around and in the evenings hundreds of citizens gather about the equipments.

It was an equally busy scene just 40 years ago when the present Armouries came out of the planning stage and actually began to rise from the old burial ground over which the Armoury now stands.

Known to be one of the largest and best in Canada, the Peterborough Armoury was brought to the building stage only after several years hard campaigning and it was not until 1906 that the government started moving towards its erection by allotting $30,000 for its commencement.

Even today, when minor repairs are made at the Armoury, portions of skeltons are still resurrected, and underneath the massive structure there is a maze of subterranean runways, some of which have never been explored since they were made.

By this time of the year 1908, the Armoury was well up into the sky, with walls two to three feet thick, and the whole solid structure being built to last for many years. Since its building, barring roof changes and odd additions, this solid structure has lasted without trouble.

On April 22, 1908, Sir Frederick Borden, K.C., M.G., then Minister of Militia, arrived in Peterborough to lay the cornerstone of the Armoury, while just in front of it, where the green parade ground stands, was the old buttressed wooden Armoury, then badly overcrowded. This structure caught fire several years later, and quietly removed itself from the steadily modernizing scene.

Headed The Unit

The 57th Regiment was then in its heyday under Lieut.-Col. Arthur Stevenson, who headed the honor guard for the Minister during the ceremony.

A picture in the records of the 57th Regiment, which later became successively the Peterborough Rangers, the Prince of Wales Rangers, and now the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, RCA, gives an excellent idea of the pageant-like scene at the laying of the corner stone of this massive structure, which, in the face of the present world situation, is becoming more and more important as a city installation.

The illustration shows the venerable Minister, with top hat and Victorian side-burns, ready to wield the trowel and to one side, one can see the four and five course bricking of the new Armory. It was the day of the bowler hat for father and the Eton cap for the son, while the ladies' head creations were even more marvellous than those of this garish day. The regiment's personnel are replete with white helmets and multi-buttoned uniforms, and flags bedeck the lines about the Armory scene.

H. Rush Was Mayor

At that time Mr. H. Rush was Mayor of Peterborough and he was one of the special speakers, and R. R. Hall, M.P., was also an outstanding guest at the function.

They built things strong in those days, as the Armory caretaker staff found recently when they dismantled several company rooms to change them into modern artillery battery offices. In tearing out various lockers, boxes, seats, cupboards and other installations, they found that the wood put in 40 years ago was as sound as a nut. They skimped on nothing in those days, as is attested by the multiplicity of nails, without a mark of rust or decay, heavy retaining spikes that were just as tight as the day they were first secured.

The fact that it was built strongly is embarrassing every once in a while to the Armory staff, too. Recently, plans for modernization called for the mere removal of two washstands from one room to another.

Permission to change the installations were given, with a nominal price of $30 to complete the job set. On inquiry, plumbing experts of Peterborough found to their dismay that the job would cost ten times that much, since the hard brick and concrete walls would have to be pierced, and hundreds of feet of pipe used to wind through the subterranean caverns underneath the Armoury before the job could pass the building regulations.

It has been 40 years since the parade square floor was laid, with its composition make up some six inches deep. The marching feet of the past generations of Peterborough's soldiers through two wars and two times of uneasy peace has reduced this covering now to an average inch over the complete floor.

'Yak' Fighter Blamed In Crash

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(Reuters).—A foreign office spokesman alleged today that a fighter aircraft which Thursday shot down an Arab airliner near the Trans-Jordan frontier was a "Yak" plane, a type normally used by the Soviet air force.

The spokesman said that this was indicated in foreign office dispatches from Amman, the Trans-Jordan capital.

The Yak was believed to be under Jewish control, the spokesman said. Provisional reports showed that the airliner was on a routine flight from Beyrouth to Amman and crashed about 10 miles inside the Trans-Jordan frontier.

Two British correspondents died after jumping from the burning plane and two other passengers and the pilot were injured.

The spokesman said that interference by the Yak fighter was understood to have started on the Syrian side of the Lake of Galilee.

German Leftists Meet In Crimea

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (Reuters).—Otto Buchwitz, chairman of the Socialist Unity (Communist) Party in the Soviet-occupied German state of Saxony, has gone to the Crimea where Max Seidewitz the Saxon Prime Minister, will shortly follow on holiday, the German news agency, Dena, reported to-day.

The two Saxon Left-Wing leaders were the first German statesmen among several Eastern European political leaders recently reported as going to the Crimea. Dena said Seidewitz was going for a visit to the graves of his two sons there.

Jim Fraser Says Local Chamber 60 Years Old

James Fraser, manager of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Kinsmen Club Thursday night. Following the context of an address delivered earlier by him, he outlined the development of the Chamber of Commerce movement with attention to its Canadian and local application.

Canada's first effort in ths direction, he said, was the founding of the Halifax Chamber in 1750. Since then, the movement has grown to 550 associations with nearly 100,000 Canadian members of the business world.

Detailing a few of the current projects of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, he said that it was concerned with all industrial activity, agricultural advancement and general progress.

Saying that the organization was one of "forward-looking citizens," he added: "we don't want those who continually look back on 'the good old days' nor do we want the 'stand-patters' who are quite content with the status quo."

He pointed out that the next annual meeting of the Peterborough body would mark its 60th anniversary. After these 60 years, the Chamber of Commerce is a strong group of more than 150 members. A drive for further extension of its membership lists is now on.

Mr. Fraser was introduced by Wilson Gemmell, president of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Gemmell spoke briefly of the ideological struggle now in progress between the forces of Free Enterprise on the one hand and Socialism and Communism on the other.

James King, Kin president for last year, was presented with a Past President's Pin by Mr. Mark Crough, who expressed the thanks of the club for Mr. King's work in his office during his term.

Mr. Fraser's speech was acknowledged with thanks by Alex Elliott. New Kin president Stanley Gilmour was chairman of the meeting.

Ontario Grain Yield 186,000,000 Bushels

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—(CP).—Total yield of Ontario grains for 1948 will approximate 186,000,000 bushels, the Ontario Agricultural Department estimated Thursday. This would compare with 106,000,000 bushels for 1947 and a 10-year annual average of 155,000,000 bushels.

The Department said recent unfavorable weather has held back growth of fruit and the development of late crops, as well as parching pastures.

Youth Arrested, Found In Theatre

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—(CP).—Found inside a Toronto theatre early today, a 17-year-old youth Roy Steven Lozowy was arrested at gunpoint by Constable Frank Mahoney.

The constable saw a shadow inside the theatre near the cashier's wicket. He kicked open the theatre door pulled out his gun and ordered the suspect to come out.

The youth surrendered without a struggle and was booked on a charge of shopbreaking.

Hastings Deanery Expect 100 To Attend

MARMORA, Sept. 25.—(ENS).—The first autumn meeting of St. Paul's W.A. was held in the rectory on Thursday. Mrs. S. C. Boyd, president, was in the chair.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie.

The chief item of business was making preparation for the fall meeting of the Hastings Deanery WA in Marmora on Oct. 14.

The new rector of Tweed, Rev. T. Downing, former missionary in the diocese of Keewatin, has been asked to preach the sermon at the morning service at St. Paul's. Lunch will be served to a gathering of about 100 delegates and clergy.

The clergy of the deanery are holding their fall session the same day.

Mrs. J. M. Brownlie served refreshments. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. V. Wallace.

Trenton Boy Receives Dominion Cadet Award

OTTAWA, Sept. 25. — (CP).—Defence Minister Claxton today announced the names of 12 cadets who have received Dominion awards which will pay their expenses at Royal Military College or Royal Roads.

The youths, navy, army and air force cadets, have received "Dominion cadetships." All are the sons of veterans and preference was given to youths whose fathers were killed or incapacitated during war.

The awards provide for their tuition, recreation fee and uniform expenses at the colleges. Cadets receiving the awards included:

Navy: John D. Crickmore, Clarkson, Ont., at RMC.

Army: Edward Day, Brantford, at Royal Roads.

RCAF: Benjamin Bowen, Trenton, at Royal Roads.

Truman Appeals To Liberal Vote

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. — (AP).—President Truman turned eastward from California today with a challenge to Governor Thomas E Dewey to "a championship fight" with no "running away from the record or ducking the issues."

Thus far, Truman said, he has had nothing but "double tax" and "high sounding words" from his Republican opponent for presidency of the United States.

Dewey prepared to turn loose a counter-punch tonight in a Hollywood address on the administration's handling of the Communism-in-government issue.

Truman issued his challenge Thursday night at Los Angeles. He made a direct bid for support from Liberal voters leaning toward Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party.

Don't "waste votes," he said, on a third party which he declared is powerless to obtain peace in the world or improve conditions in the United States itself.

"Think again,' Truman said. 'This is the hour for the Liberal forces of America to unite. We have hopes to fulfil and goals to attain. Together we can rout the forces of reaction once again."

THE ASSASSINATION of Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, United Nations mediator for Israeli-Arab war, resulted in accusations that the so-called Stern gang was responsible for his death. Though proof of this charge was lacking, the report was based on demonstrations which had been staged against Count Bernadotte when he was attempting to settle the Holy Land conflict. This picture, made August 14 in Jerusalem, shows a delegation from the Stern group as they picketed a building in which Bernadotte was holding a press conference. The Stern group is against mediation of any kind with the Arabs, contending that anything Israeli wants, it can obtain through force of arms. It is the most nationalistic of the several factions united in the Israeli state. Reports from the Holy Land indicate that the count was shot by men in Jewish army uniforms on the Jewish side of Jerusalem.

Switch Washday To Save Power

Try washing Thursday to relieve the power shortage. Monday morning is traditionally blue for the housewife so don't have the powers-that-be behind your hot water supply looking blue too. To get a bright wash you have to use good material and that means good hot water to help the soap dissolve dirt.

Good methods too will help and a few suggestions follow: (1) Don't let things get too dirty. Heavy soil takes it out of you, the color and the fabric; (2) take out stains before washing. Simple ones like coffee, tea, fruit, usually vanish if they are soaked briefly in hot water; (3) you'll shorten your washing time if you soften up those stubborn streaks around the edges of collars, shirt-cuffs, by scrubbing with soap and a soft brush; (4) don't forget that solid dark colors pick up lint so they need to be washed separately, but light fast colors can go in with the white things; (5) second-hand water leaves clothes dingy, so always use clean soft water with plenty of soap suds.

And remember: there's no point in loosening up the dirt in clothes unless you flush it away with plenty of clean water. In other words rinse and then rinse again.

Soroptimists Visit Britain M. Sargent Describes Trip

"It's lovely to go away and its lovely to come home," sentiment of many travellers, is also that of fully-qualified pond-hopper Miss Myrtle Sargent of Peterborough. Just a week ago she was on board a plane making the first landing on Canadian soil at Gander airport, Newfoundland, and last night she gave a detailed report of her trip to the Soroptimist convention in the British Isles.

Mother Nature spared her nothing and allowed 90-mile winds to play over the North Atlantic so that the flight from London, England, first stopped at Santa Maria Island airport in the Azores. Previously, the hop from London to Dublin was hampered by a high-speed hurricane, but from that city to Glasgow she beheld the bright green of Irish soil, then brown fields, quiet water, the beautiful Isle of Man and the mighty Clyde, Loch Lomond and heather everywhere. When leaving seven weeks earlier she boarded Queen Mary at New York for a crossing that was interspersed with extreme heat, fog and rain.

Stories of the immensity of the "Queen" had not prepared Miss Sargent for reality. "The ship looked so slender and dainty at the front but as we came around it rose and rose above us," she says. "It was something, too, to watch her negotiate into her berth at Southampton, taking some hours to work in with the tide and finally being pulled by tugs."

Sixty-five Soroptimists were on the ship and a welcoming party at the pier waved blue and yellow streamers. Arrangements had been made to assist them with the details of "landing" and later Miss Sargent was welcomed by the parents of Soroptimist Dorothy Sullivan to whom she pays high tribute for planning her entire trip without a backward step anywhere.

Enroute to Harrowgate where the International Convention took place, Miss Sargent passed through Peterborough which she describes as "a fine looking city, larger than this one and highly industrialized."

"Arrival of so many women with so many bags completely disorganized the porters and railway facilities, but I was fortunate in travelling "light" and soon established in a comfortable hotel in the magnificent health resort city of Harrowgate, famous for its flowers and parks." Miss Sargent had been met by a member of the sister club of Blackburn to which she was later hostess for a Canadian dinner" sent from Peterborough and arriving in absolute order. The serving of ham at that meal was her only taste of pork while away. The Blackburn Soroptimists presented her with a corsage of Lancashire red roses and a small pair of Lancashire clogs that gave her headlines in their local paper, "She didn't know what they were."

At the convention 1,470 women from 15 countries represented the British, American and European Federations of Soroptimist Clubs. Language was a barrier but those who could not speak English were excellent sports. "The courtesy and culture of the British was delightful," says Miss Sargent.

Tragedy and trouble of the world rolled by as we sobbed through the last verses of a hymn while flags, including four Union Jacks, were placed in the dais as the nations were called in an unrehearsed opening pageantry, and greetings from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth were read."

Theme of the convention, "Working for the world we want" was brought out in four addresses: Mrs. Georffrey Fisher, wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, on "Right Spiritual Values" said in conclusion "Besides justice we must have mercy, generosity, tolerance and patience to make perfect the image of God." Miss Margaret Bondfield, first woman Cabinet minister in Britain, on "Service to Commounity" sent members home to seek out the festers in their own community; Miss M. F. Adams, OBE, distinguished educationist and former president of Liverpool Club and the British Federation, on "Education" stressed free movement of scholars from one country to another. Mr. E. W. Baritrop, CBE, DSO, Colonial advisor to the Minister of Labor and National Service, on "Co-operation in Industry" said "an attempt will be made during the next four years to establish full co-operation between worker and employee." A number of study groups were held during the week-long meeting with the largest attendance at "Spiritual Values" and Miss Sargent noted that in almost every case speakers would dwell on this subject during their address.

"It was an intense experience to see the fine contribution these women can make to problems of the world," Miss Sargent said in conclusion. Next International Conference will be held in Copenhagen in 1952 and other members are looking forward to that time.

Miss Sargent was entertained by many distinguished people and met many others. She attended some of the best plays, ballets, revues and the world's greatest horse show in Dublin and the most interesting sight-seeing trips were arranged. She also saw the King and Queen in all the pomp and splendor of a procession to the opening of parliament. Her inspection of Blackburn city hall, after being a dinner guest of the Mayor and his wife, was made about ten o'clock in the evening which is considered an "extraordinary" hour to be about over there. "Probably a hang-over from the blackout days, it is like one o'clock in the morning to us," she said.

Best of all her experiences, Miss Sargent had many opportunities to feel extreme pride in responding to the word "Canada".

The delight of members and guests in hearing the account of her trip with humorous incidents and very interesting details was expressed by Mrs. Mae Thompson. Miss Sargent spoke following the regular dinner meeting of the Soroptimist Club held in the Empress Hotel.

Bernadette Flynn is Bride Of Edward V. O'Toole

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was the scene this morning of the wedding of Frances Bernadette Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flynn and Edward Vincent O'Toole, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Denis O'Toole, all of Peterborough.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor F. J. O'Sullivan officiated at the nuptial mass. The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. A. MacDonald, sister of the bride. Rosewig's "Ave Maria" was sung by Maurice Leonard and Cesar Franck's "Panis Angelicus" by Anthony DeNoble.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. W. B. Leacy of Prescott, the bride was gowned in white brocaded satin fashioned with long sleeves, slim moulded bodice and net yoke. An eyelet embroidered satin bertha studed in pearls framed the low cameo neckline. A large butterfly bustle bow caught the back of the gracefully gathered skirt from which fell a short train. A wreath of lily of the valley held in place a full length embroidered veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, chrysanthemums and bouvardia. Miss Madeleine Flynn, bridesmaid for her sister, wore a gown of sea-foam green brocaded in shot silver and green birds and fashioned with basque bodice and soft shawl collar forming cap sleeves. A deep peplum extended into a tunic back over the bouffant skirt. Her crowniess hat and mittens were in a matching shade and she carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Victor O'Toole was groomsman for his brother and the ushers were Clarence Arthurs and Joseph Torpey.

At the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel, Mrs. W. B. Leacy, sister of the bride, received in a silver satin gown and corsage of pink roses, assisted by the groom's sister, Mrs. Victor Young in taupe satin with corsage of red roses.

Later the bridal couple left for a motor trip to New York, the bride travelling in a suit of Victorian brick gabardine and matching hat.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Toole will reside at 554 Reid St.

Hallihan-Wolff Vows Taken At St. Peter's Cathedral

St. Peter's Cathedral was the setting for a pretty wedding this morning of Helen Teresa, daughter of Mrs. Wolff and the late Herbert Wolff, to Clare Joseph, son of Mrs. Hallihan and the late Michael Hallihan. The Rev. Father Coughlin said the nuptial mass.

Bouquets of pastel shaded asters decorated the altar. Traditional wedding music was by Mrs. R. Aman and during the signing of the register Mrs. D. Campanaro sang "Ave Maria."

The bride chose a wedding gown of ivory slipper satin with full skirt, inset yoke of nylon edged with fine knife pleating, which also trimmed the full Bishop sleeves. The hipline treatment was carried out in the same style. She wore mittens of satin and a train-length veil of fine net trimmed with French lace and caught to a headdress of seed pearls, and carried a cascade bouquet of Bettertime roses with bouvardia. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Ernest J. Wolff.

Attending as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Robert Heidman of Toronto, who was in a frock of pink taffeta with matching headdress and net mittens and carried a cascade of yellow carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Teresa Vyse frocked in twilight blue taffeta with matching headdress and mittens and carrying carnations in a cascade.

Mr. Murray Hallihan was the groomsman and Messrs. Armand Laplante and Leo Hobbins ushered.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Club Aragon where the bride's mother received wearing a gown of navy crepe with matching accessories and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's aunt, Mrs. Gordon Graham, who also received wore grey crepe with black accessories and a corsage of cream roses.

Leaving later on a wedding trip to Toronto and Quebec city the bride was wearing a powder blue suit with pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallihan will live at 621 Water St.

PERPETUAL FLAME
The candles burned at funeral services are descendants of the earthen lamps found in the Christian catacombs at Syracuse. These lamps were kept constantly burning. As symbols of immortality, they were designed to ward off evil from deceased persons. The Syracuse lamps, in their turn, were born of an ancient world-wide tradition that maintained perpetual fires in veneration of the warmth and light of the hearthfire, the sun and the moon.

NORWOOD, Sept. 25 (ENS).— Mrs. David Nixon was hostess to the Woman's Association of Norwood United Church on Thursday. Thirty-five attended.

Mrs. A. M. Weir opened the meeting. Mrs. David Nixon and her group took over the program. Mrs. Nixon led in prayer, Miss M. Sloan read the Scripture, Mrs. Rork Ferguson sang a solo, Mrs. Alfred McMillan gave a reading and Miss M. A. Carter conducted a Bible quiz contest.

Mrs. John Gardner closed the meeting.

DOROTHY DIX

Teen-Agers Often Miserable In Bonds of Domesticity

There can be no doubt that the appalling increase in the number of divorces is mainly due to the child-marriages that are taking place all about us most of which are foredoomed to disaster. For marriage is not a pastime with which kids are free to divert themselves and which they can drop when they are tired of it. It is the taking upon one's self obligations that affect not only the individual boy and girl, but that may determine the fate of generations yet unborn.

Dorothy Dix Certainly there is no more pathetic sight in the world that that of immature youngsters rushing into marriage for which they are totally unfitted and which are almost sure to bring misery to them. Yet we see this happening every day. Girls mistake having a crush on a boy for the grand passion and marry for the sake of having a swanky wedding. Boys, who think that they cannot survive without some doll-faced little cutie, marry before they finish grammar school, or have any way of making a dollar to support a wife.

Then comes the inevitable awakening from their dope dream. The boy and girl find out that they have made a wrong diagnosis of their symptoms. They are not in love with each other. They are just in love with love. Also, they discover that they are bored with domesticity and that they desire to play about and have good times. And the boy husband begins to step out at night, and the girl wife craves pretty clothes and diversion and she is tired of being a baby-sitter, so another marriage goes on the rocks.

Few Succeed

Of course, not every young marriage is a failure. There are teen-agers who are capable of the grand passion and who marry and live happily ever afterwards, as the old story book says. But these cases are rare as hens' teeth, because the success of a marriage depends upon the congeniality of the husband and wife. And nobody can tell beforehand how a growing boy and girl are going to develop.

That is the unanswerable argument against juvenile marriages. They may turn out all right, but the chances are even-Steven that they will not have a single idea or taste in common, and that they will spend their lives in wondering whatever made them pick out the ones they did for their life time mate So it doesn't take much gumption to see why the best bet in marriage is the husband and wife whom character and ways have jelled, and with whom one knows where one stands.

Strangely enough, in discussing the marriage problem we put greater stress on love and youth and beauty than we do on anything else, yet they are the danger signals about which every man and woman who are seeking a mate should walk high, wide and handsome. The safety zone, according to the scientists, is when a man is in his thirties and a woman in her early twenties. For by then they have found themselves. They know what they want in a mate and have acquired the patience and the diplomacy and the sense of humor that enables them to live together, and like it.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, September 26

Sunday's horoscope holds some sign of encouragement for ecclesiastical and serious affairs yet a sudden and perhaps startling turn of events enjoins particular precaution in relation to new and untried ventures in which uncertainty and progress must be weighed in the balance. There are hints of intrigue and undercover factors which could prove menacing to the subtlest of strategies. Keep alert to all dubious alliances.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be disposed to some sort of spectacular change or high adventure in which originality and innovation hold promise. Change and travel in far fields lure, but entangling alliances of a suspicious or pernicious quality could entail serious loss of funds, resources and cooperation from those in influential places.

A child born on this day, while endowed with originality, and an urge to high adventure and drama, yet is victim to suspicious persons and schemes, with "dead sea fruit" as the climax.

For Monday, September 27

Monday's astrological forecast is for a spectacular and sensational about-face in the affairs, which are likely to plunge the name, adventures and original ideas in a conspicuous place in the public eye. A spurt of creative energy, a discovery, scientific or inventive, may prove of great value, if objectively and practically promoted. Ingenuity and skill, pushed with vigor and sane studied eeffort, should win the cooperation of influential personages.

On The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of surprising accomplishment, in which it may be able to put over some erratic or spectacular notion, appearing at first demonstration as too novel or experimental to have real worth or practicality. Scientific or inventive experiments worked out with precision and potential soundness could be so impressive as to break down opposition and win over the needful capital and influence for promotion and production. Marshalled forces, unique talents and determination could win out in the long run, and probably land the "genius" high in the limelight.

A child born on this day is richly endowed with creative talents with originality, daring and determination, eventually demonstrating practical worth and public approbation. Romance and adventure dominate a rich career.

Braille Society Plans Program

Plans for an active season were discussed by about 40 members of the Peterborough Louis Braille Society which met on Wednesday night at the Dixon House. The society was organized last fall for the entertainment of Peterborough's blind community. It was sponsored and given financial support and other assistance by the Kinsmen's Club.

Frank Simmons, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported an interesting program during the coming season. Local talent will be used to give musical programs and other variety entertainment. Similar to last year there will be guest lecturers at the monthly meetings.

Earl Swanz, chairman of the athletic committee, announced that the bowling club will swing into action about the first of October. Election of officers will also be held about that date, said Thomas McQuade, chairman and president of the society.

After the business session members played bingo and prizes were awarded. Mrs. McQuade and Mrs. Simmons supervised the serving of refreshments. Mrs. W. A. Whelan and Mrs. Floyd Curtis, honorary members who have been interested in the work of the society since its inception were also present.

The Recreation Commission has granted the society use of Dixon House to conduct its social activities. Transportation to and from the meetings is provided for the less active members.

Canada Storm Centre In World Trade Upset

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(CP). — Canada is described to-day as a "storm centre of troubles which beset international trade" in a Times editorial on the mission to Canada of Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The newspaper emphasizes that Canada lies in an "uneasy no-man's land between the respective areas of sterling and the American dollar" and naturally is concerned at the fact she is "sending Britain a huge surplus of food and raw materials which at the moment cannot be paid for except for the most part with Marshall dollars."

If Canada continues to base her whole agricultural policy on the British market, she must "satisfy herself that European recovery program funds will be available to cover her exports in the short run and secondly that she will receive either dollars or exports from this country when ERP ends."

Rear Admiral Taylor Retires From Navy

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—(CP). — Naval headquarters today announced the retirement of Rear Admiral C. R. H. Taylor, flag officer Atlantic Coast, Oct. 1.

The 52-year-old officer will be succeeded by Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy. Admiral Mainguy previously held the post of flag officer, Pacific Coast.

Admiral Taylor's retirement ends a 37-year naval career that began just two years after the formation of the Royal Canadian Navy. The Weymouth, N.S., native served in more than a score of both British and Canadian ships and served in both World Wars.

Shipyard Strike Threat Dropped

YORK, England, Sept. 25 (CP). —Danger of a strike in shipyards and factories over mechanics' pay demands, receded today when representatives of 37 engineering unions agreed to accept an increase of five shillings ($1) weekly in basic wage rates.

The decision affects 2,500,000 workers in British industry. It does not affect the demands of 250,000 shipyard workers who also sought a 13-shilling increase but they are expected to follow suit and acept the lower figure.

Employers have opposed any increase on the grounds shipyard workers now make far in excess of the basic rates due to overtime, and any further pay boost would increase the building costs, already so high many shipping firms refuse to place orders.

Before the court of inquiry was set up, there had been widespread agitation, particularly in the shipyards, for a strike if the full increase was not obtained.

The increase will bring the basic wage rate for craftsmen to £5 7s ($21.40) weekly and laborers to £4 12s.

More Rustling

KINGSTON, Sept. 25.—(CP).—Alleged cattle-rustling by four Kazababua, Que., men from a farm five miles north of here was being investigated by Provincial Police today. The four were charged in county court Thursday with the attempted theft of the cattle. They were remanded in custody while investigation continues.

Even Shoes Feeling Pinch Price For Shines 25 Cents

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25.—(CP).—The professional, staccato snap of polishing cloths may lag here on Monday, but a dynamic little Ukrainian - Canadian, Michael Senko, hopes it will sound in shoe shine shops without let-up.

Come Monday, the price of shoe shines in Winnipeg will jump by 10 cents to 25 cents—and Mike, the big push behind it all, isn't alarmed.

He conducted a whirlwind, 10-day campaign which brought into being the "City of Winnipeg Shoe Shiners."

The group held its first meeting this week. It voted unanimously to increase the price of a shine, now 15 cents.

Senko, slim, 28 years old and tousle-haired, rallied his fellows with the battle cry, "Are we going to let customers laugh at us and our prices, and call us dogs?"

"No," they said—and the 25-cent shine was born.

Tips? Well, the price will cut down on tips somewhat at first. But, said Mike, "they'll get used to it—then tips will be the same as ever."

"Tips come mostly from ordinary workmen and the middle class. Their shoes require the most work and they appreciate a good job. The shoes of the wealthy usually need only a brush over and tips are not so plentiful from them."

Parliament Adjourns Until October 25

LONDON, Sept. 25. — (AP).—Parliament agreed to adjourn today until Oct. 25 with a Government pledge it will be instantly recalled earlier if the troubled international situation requires it.

Herbert Morrison, deputy Prime Minister, assured the Conservative Opposition that its opinion on such a recall would be given full consideration at all times during the month's recess.

Salisbury Asks Veto Abolition

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(Reuters). —Lord Salisbury, leader of the Conservative Opposition in the House of Lords, today urged abolition of the veto in the United Nations Security Council.

Opening a debate on foreign affairs, Lord Salisbury said "nations desiring abolition of the veto should enter into a pact and pledge themselves against aggression from any nation whether great or small. They should not be hamstrung by the great power veto in the Security Council."

He did not think anything was to be gained by further negotiations with the Russian government. The only possibility of ensuring peace is to make it clear to the Russian government that if they were "so reckless as to embark on the gamble of war there is no possible way they could win."

Lord Vansittart, former chief diplomatic adviser to the Cabinet, said, 'for a long time now I have been convinced, just as I was convinced with Hitler, Stalin means war if unchecked. I don't think there is much difference between the two except that one is dead."

Veteran Statesman Wm. Hughes Soon To Observe 84th Birthday

By GORDON TAIT.

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 25.—(AP). — William Morris Hughes, senior Commonwealth statesman, will have 84 candles on his birthday cake to-morrow.

For 30 years he has been the most colorful figure in Australian politics. Up and down the country he is known as Billy.

Hughes has lost little of the vigor that made him a world figure as Australian Prime Minister in the First World War, and Australia's champion at the Versailles peace conference.

A little over five feet tall, he walks with a slight stoop. He is stone deaf without a hearing aid. For many years, the House of Representatives in Canberra has been wired so he can hear debates.

Billy came to Australia when he was 20, Welsh migrant from Llandudno, willing to do any odd job.

He worked at everything from the stage to the shearing shed. In 1894 he won a Labor seat in the New South Wales Parliament. He has been in Parliament ever since. Between times, he studied and became a barrister and was appointed King's Counsel.

Liberal Member

Hughes now is a member of the Liberal Party. He broke with Labor in 1916 over the conscription issue.

Hughes holds many political records in Australia. One of them is the longest terms as Australian Prime Minister.

Now Billy is looking to the day when he will set an Empire record for the longest continuous term in Parliament. Hughes is in his 55th year in Parliament.

Will Overtake Him

"David Lloyd-George served a few months longer than I have," he said in an interview. "But I will overtake him before the next election."

The prospect of another election campaign does not frighten Billy.

"I have always contrived to hold my own, and put my enemies to confusion," he said. "I feel quite able to continue along those lines."

Hughes believes that a third World War is unlikely. He says that if Britain and the United States stand firm in Germany, war will be avoided.

"As I see it," he says, "the safety of the world depends on the unity of action, and in the main of policy, of America and the British Empire. There is only one foe. That is Communism. Other troubles of the world are just bubbles on the surface."

Try New Search For Navy Plane

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 25 (CP) —Search for a United States navy plane, missing since Sept. 12 with five persons aboard, swung today to the Cranberry portage region following reports an aircraft had been sighted there.

Residents at Cranberry Portage, 60 miles north of here, said they had seen an aluminum-colored aircraft circling the town Sept. 12, acting as if the pilot was seeking a place to land.

A Hemin Lake trapper, Angus Boag, also reported he had heard the engine of an aircraft cut close to his camp near Cranberry Portage Sept. 12.

Today is the 13th day since the U.S. plane took off from Churchill on what was to have been a 450-mile flight to The Pas. Among those aboard were Capt. Sir Robert W. Stirling-Hamilton, naval attache at the British High Commissioner's office at Ottawa, and Capt. B. S. Custer, U.S. naval adviser at the Ottawa embassy.

Boy, 11, Injured

Struck by the front of a car on his way home from school shortly after four o'clock Thursday afternoon, 11-year-old John Martin, 354 George St. South, received treatment for cuts and bruises. The accident, on George St., happened when the boy was struck by the car of Melville Gillespie of Buckhorn. The boy's hand was cut when it went through one of the headlights of the car. He also received bruises to his arm and leg.

Dr. J. R. Epping treated Martin. PC E. McDonald investigated.

CANADIAN BULWARKS OF DEMOCRACY

"freedom from fear"

January the 7th, 1943, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, on the post-war world, said: "... that means striving for the fourth Freedom ... Freedom from Fear."

In Utopia, the lions lie down with the lambs . . . the wolves eat nothing but spinach. There is not, as yet, a Utopia on this earth. But, it has been said of the people of this Dominion by a citizen of the old world: "These Canadians, in their outlook, tolerance, understanding, more nearly approach Utopia than do any other people on the face of the globe. How I envy them." The Canadian need have no fear of intolerance, bigotry, persecution or imprisonment because he does not "toe the party line." With us, Freedom from Fear is not just a catch-all phrase . . . with us, Democracy is not so much a conception of an ideal state: it is, overall, a decent, humane, understanding way of life. Collectively, by intent, purpose and wish, ours is a belief in live and let live. Its base; its essence, is fair play, understanding, sympathy and recognition for the individual in his pursuit of the good things of this life.

We expect of all men that they respect, work towards our ideal of a perfect democracy . . . but, these ends must be gained under fair, democratic methods. Any other means or methods . . . no matter what the objective, are repulsive to us and will not, cannot be tolerated. Yes, the citizen of the totalitarian state lives in constant fear . . . fear of the police . . . fear of his neighbor, yes, even fear of his own kin. Freedom from fear of unjust, unreasonable persecution is our way. Let us, as citizens of the world's most "sane democracy" see to it, by constant, alert vigilance of our ideals that we and our children pursue our way of life . . . seek the good things thereof in our democratic manner that we may continue to enjoy to the full . . .

DETOUR TO DUMMY

HAVING some established or high-card trick winners in the dummy, and then possessing no card of their suit to lead to them is an uncomfortable position for a declarer. At such a time, however, he may be able to get over there by means of a detour, through leading to a defender who in turn will have to give the dummy the lead. Plays of that sort occur so rarely that they may be classed as freaks.

That crazy bid, without a solitary card of his partner's suit, was due to South's shooting for impossible top scores in a duplicate game. Through sheer luck, a single vital mistake by the defense and one very queer play, South managed to get away with it.

West did not like the looks of his heart suit after East put the J on his K lead, so switched to the club J. East decided not to tell South too much of the club story, so played low and held on to his K. The declarer nevertheless divined the situation. Winning with the club Q, he followed with five spade tricks, on which West shed two hearts and his three diamonds.

Reading the facts aright, South reckoned that, if he scored his club A to drop the K, West could win the next lead and beat his head off with hearts and clubs. So he purposely led low from his club A, compelling East to win the now singleton K. Having nothing left but diamonds, East led his 10 to the J. The A and K then won and were followed by the 7 to the Q-5. East won with the Q, but then had to give the declarer an extra trick with the 5 to the 6. Of course if East had used the K on the first club trick, that play would have been impossible.

Your Week-End Question

How high must your partner's card on a trick be to have you consider it "encouraging," and how low to be "discouraging."

6—In Memoriams

RALPH—In memory of Charles Arthur Ralph, who passed away September 25, 1939.

A token of love and remembrance
Of one we shall never forget,
His memory to us a treasure,
His loss a lifetime regret.
—Always remembered by his wife, daughter and sons.

WEIR—In loving memory of Margaret Weir, who passed away September 25, 1947.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain:
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

7—Cards of Thanks

My daughter Mrs. Wesley Little and I would like to thank all our friends for kindness shown to us, after our recent accident, especially for the lovely cards and flowers, wishing the Warsaw hockey team the best of luck and thanking them for their lovely gift, Fred Payne, R.R. No. 2, Warsaw.

Murder Belt Identified By Accused's Kin

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 25. — (CP). — The crown's case against Richard Rivers, 19, on trial for murder in the hotelroom strangle-slaying July 23 of his 21-year-old sister-in-law, may be completed today. But the hearing, now in its sixth day, is expected to extend into next week.

The victim's husband, Leonard Rivers, 18, testified late Friday that a narrow leather belt found drawn tightly around the neck of the girl's beaten body belonged to his brother, the powerfully-built young Ojibway in the prisoner's box.

Leonard Rivers said he saw the belt two days before the slaying. He said he helped Richard pack when he and his brother left a firefighting job at Rawhide Lake, northwest of Blind River, July 21.

"I rolled the belt up and put it in his duffel bag as we were packing."

"Jealous, Suspicious"

Leonard Rivers said he married the girl in August, 1947. A child was born six weeks later. Three weeks after the marriage, he left his wife—"she was jealous and suspicious"—and after that he saw her only occasionally.

He identified as his wife's several articles of clothing found in the death room.

A chambermaid found the girl dead in a hotel room in Blind River, 96 miles east of here, July 23.

In a statement admitted as evidence at the start of Friday's hearing, Richard Rivers said he took his sister-in-law to bed, but he did not remember killing her.

He said he "passed out" after drinking beer and whisky with the girl in the bedroom. When he came to, he was walking on the lumber town's main street about 4:30 a.m. the next day. He returned to the hotel room and saw the body on the bed.

He said in the statement that he had sexual relations with the girl. Regarding the killing he said:

"Maybe I done it and maybe I didn't. It was all a blank to me."

Joan Crawford Raps Producers' Fear Of Change

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25 (AP). —Joan Crawford, who has worked long and successfully enough in Hollywood to talk back to anyone, has this to say about movie producers:

"They're afraid to take chances.

"This is the most competitive business in the world. But when producers follow each other and are afraid to do something different, that's bad for the industry. I'm afraid that people will start staying away from the movies and will go out and buy television sets or some other form of entertainment."

The cause of this outburst is Joan's pet project, "Miss O'Brien." She's mighty hepped up on the story. She tells how it came about:

"I happened to see some schoolteacher statistics that were being prepared for a magazine article. I was appalled. I mentioned to a radio writer that something should be done to tell the public about it. He told a friend who wrote up a synopsis of a story about a school-teacher.

Turn Thumbs Down

Producer Jerry Wald was enthused, but Warner Bros. bigwigs turned thumbs down. Too big a risk they said; message pictures don't make money.

Joan wheedled the studio into taking an option on the story, but the option was soon dropped. So the actress took over "Miss O'Brien."

"I've had many letters from school teachers begging me to make this film," she said. "Some of them would break your heart with the shocking conditions they describe. The low pay, the social restriction and the discrimination against teachers is a national disgrace."

Joan put a writer to work on the script and engaged Curt Berhart as director. She'll do the film right after "Flamingo Road" and right now she is talking to four studios about sale of the package—star, script and director.

City Council Presents Flag To Silver Cross Women

Alderman Gordon Armstrong presented a silken ensign to the newly-organized Branch of the Silver Cross Women of Canada at the YWCA, Friday evening. The gift was made on behalf of the City Council, and Alderman Armstrong was chosen by Mayor Ovens to make the presentation because of his family's war record. Mayor Ovens also attended.

To receive the flag with 35 Silver Cross Wearers present in the YWCA Green Room, Mrs. B. W. Harvey, president, chose Mrs. Gerald Dawson, representative of the wives. Dedicatory prayer by the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan was followed by one minute silence, repetition of their motto and a pledge of loyalty to the King, the order and to fellow members.

A verse from the poem "To the Fallen", written by Lawrence Binyan after the First World War, has been chosen by the Order:

"They shall not grow old
As we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them,
Nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun
And in the morning,
We will remember them."

"The sacrifice of your boys will be as music that will come down through the ages," said Mr. Morgan, addressing the wives and mothers of men who gave their lives in the Second Great War. He dealt with the meaning of their motto and explained the poem verse by verse, also commenting on the life of the writer who died in 1945.

Mrs. Wm. Davies sang two beautiful selections with accompaniment by her daughter, Mrs. E. Pierce.

During regular business conducted by Mrs. Harvey the following committees were set up: telephone, Mrs. A. Gynane; sick and visiting, Mrs. J. Patte and Mrs. C. H. McWilliams; organist, Mrs. Ellis.

A letter of good wishes from the National president, Mrs. McIntyre, was read by corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. H. McWilliams, and minutes by the recording secretary, Mrs. Norman Fee. Report of the treasurer, Mrs. E. Pruner, showed a balance of $23 on hand.

Eleven memberships were received at this meeting bringing the total registration to 34, almost all of whom are residents of the city. Any wearers in the district would be welcome in this organization.

Invitation of Mrs. J. L. Young, Rubidge St., to hold the meeting of Monday, October 18, at her home was accepted.

Claims Liquor A Problem For Every Nation

With a splendid attendance of members and visitors the president, Mrs. Gordon Adams, presiding, the WCTU opened fall activities in the Green Room at the YWCA Thursday afternoon. Mrs. V. Boorman led the devotional service with a Scripture reading. A solo was contributed by Mrs. E. Wand, accompanied by Mrs. J. Ellis. A brief business period included plans for the fall work, when the ladies discussed the clip sheet exercise based upon the subject, "The most serious public problem of today is that of beverage alcohol." This session was capably led by Mrs. Wand.

Echoes from the national convention held recently in Toronto were presented by Mrs. A. J. Throop, who said that what impressed her most was the spirit of consecration in evidence. The delegates were received and welcomed at Willard Hall. All public meetings were held at Trinity United church, Bloor St.

Following the opening service of worship, the president of each province spoke briefly. The chief speaker was Mrs. Colvin from the United States, whose theme was "The spirit of a prayerful life." She declared that liquor is a problem in every country just now because the food situation is of first importance.

Mrs. Wand also brought greetings from the national convention, while Miss Dewart, superintendent of temperance in Sunday schools, reported that a letter and study papers would be in the hands of each superintendent before next Sunday.

After the hymn, "O Spirit of the Living God," Mrs. Adams led in the closing prayer.

Holsteins Averaging $400 Reflect Strength of Export Market... Overseas Trips for Plowing Winners.. Facts Of Interest from Canada Packers Annual Report.. Lakefield Fair Oct 2.

Holstein cattle are averaging around $400, Wm. J. Murphy of Lindsay told the Examiner yesterday, indicating continuing strength in the export market.

"I bought 53 head this last week," Mr. Murphy said, "and that was about the price, especially for top quality first calf heifers.

Our Holstein breeders are raising mohe calves for production in their own herds and also for the export business. I believe there will be few empty stalls in breeders barns this winter. In fact I expect they will be all occupied with some cattle more than the accommodation.

The latest reports show that the cattle population in Ontario and New Brunswick has increased but there has been some decline in the other provinces."

Mr. Murphy said he hesitated to make any comment about the future of the market except that present signs pointed to continuing demand for good Holsteins.

Another report during the week intimated that John Tamblyn of Orono loaded nearly 30 Holsteins at Cobourg recently, and that they had averaged $400 or slightly more than that. They were for delivery to Pennsylvania.

FAIRS NEXT WEEK

The fall fairs season moves into October next week. Warkworth Fair is Friday October 1, including the Black and White Day show of the Holstein breeders of Northumberland. Lakefield is Saturday, October 2, featuring the Peterborough Black and White Day. Port Hope is also next Saturday. Picton Fair is Wednesday, September 29, and Uxbridge is the same day.

✦ ✦ ✦

ON THE FAIR'S FRINGE

At many fall fairs the hot dog stand gets the salient position in the path of the crowd. The prize livestock are thrust as far into the background as possible, haltered along the enclosing fence.

These fairs are essentially the expression and project of agricultural societies, receiving government grants because they are regarded as promoting agriculture. Peterborough County can probably recall the sites of half a dozen agricultural society fairs that were abandoned by their communities because the directors and members became convinced that the effects were not worth the efforts.

Some of those societies remain in useful activity expending their fees and grants in practical methods of improving the livestock of a township or other neighborhood. If public interest, even exclusively rural, manifested along the livestock lines at some of the fairs was a criterion of their value to the agricultural industry, few of them would be missed if they closed their gates for keeps.

Even in a well-managed show such as the Peterborough Exhibition has been and is, the concern of management is misdirected, having regard to the essential purpose of that enterprise. Floodlighting around the race track, and comparatively dim-bulbs in the cattle barns.

The impression lingers after a visit to a fair that if hundreds of people did not turn it into a social and visiting or sunning event it would soon close its gates. Fair boards need more men of vision like the late Robert Holtby of Port Perry who conceived the idea of the Black and White Day of the Holstein breeders. He achieved something resultful in bringing livestock nearer to the centre of attraction, rescuing them from the tie-lines along the fences.

CHEESE AT 30⅛c

George Elliott of Norwood said the 1,295 cheese boarded at Campbellford Thursday evening was more than he expected from the factories after the prolonged drought. Recent rains had evidently been of some improvement to pastures.

"The top price was 30⅛c," Mr. Elliott said, "with 296 boxes going at 30 1/16c. We decided to meet again next Thursday because buyers said they did not want to take a chance on extending the higher price beyond the week."

✦ ✦ ✦

CATTLE AT HIGH VALUE

"Cattle appear to have reached the greatest value of any time within the last two decades," was an observation of the Lincoln agricultural representative in this week's crop compendium of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

WATERLOO SHOW

Twenty-four Holstein breeders exhibited 119 animals at Waterloo County Black and White Day this week. Premier exhibitor was Edwin S. Eby of Ebydale Farms. The show was rated the best in the county association's records.

BIG PLOWING MATCHES

The opening day of the International Plowing Match west of Lindsay, Tuesday, Oct. 12, is restricted to plowmen of Peterborough, Ontario, Durham and Victoria counties. The program comprises seven horse classes and five tractor classes.

Plowmen turning in the best lands in the horse and tractor sod classes will be eligible to compete in the Salada Tea and Esso special classes on the closing day of the match, the major prizes for which are trips to Britain for the first and second prize winners.

Peterborough directors for local counties day are: William Thompson of Indian River, Sam Killen, Robert McAdam, Ira Robson and Alex Huston. Durham directors are: L. H. Winslow, Edwin Wilson, Irwin Allin, John Rickard and Gerald Anderson.

Top prizes in each class on opening day are $20, $16, $14 and $12. Ten prizes are given in each class, the last five $7 each. The inter-county competition for juniors, open to teams of two boys from each county, is n the Thursday program.

John A. Carroll, secretary-treasurer of the provincial association, says indications point to a heavy entry list.

FARM PRICE INDEX UNFAIR

Farm wages in Canada were in April this year 277.4 per cent higher than the five-year average from 1935-1939 as reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The wage index for 1926 was 164.5; for 1935-1939, 100; and in April this year 377.4.

Index of cost of equipment and materials was:

1926	119.9
1935-1939	100.0
April, 1948	172.9

This year's index is 72.9 per cent above the average for the 1935-1939 period, and 44 per cent over 1926.

Index of cost of living:

1926	121.1
1935-1939	100.0
April, 1948	163.7

Increase from 1926 was 35 per cent and over the 1935-1939 period 63.7 per cent.

Cost of goods and services bought by farmers, a composite index of various items:

1926	126.8
1935-1939	100.0
April, 1948	183.2

Increase from 1926 44.4 per cent, and from 1935-1939 it was 83.2 per cent.

Index of wholesale prices of farm products:

1926	100.0
1935-1939 average	71.6
April, 1948	141.2
July, 1948	147.3

Increase from 1935-1939, 105.7 per cent.

Increase from 1926, 47.3 per cent.

Index of farm prices at the farm, including subsidies, etc.:

1935-1939 period	100.0
Average 1940-2944	134.0
April, 1948	233.8
July, 1948	250.8

The July figure was 150.8 per cent, increase over the 1935-1939 average.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture points out that the 1935-1939 period on which the prices actually received at the farms were based was a period in which farm prices were still largely on a depression period basis, and that the index was therefore distorted, and did not represent a "proper comparative picture."

In 1946 the Federation made representations to the Bureau, arguing that the 1926 basis, which is still used for the index of wholesale prices, was generally accepted as fair comparable basis. The Federation urged the Bureau to use the 1926 basis for computing the farm prices index.

The Bureau consented to study the matter, reporting later to the Federation that it was found impossible to get accurate records of prices paid at the farm on many commodities as far back as 1926, and therefore it was possible to use any 1926 basis for farm price index purposes. The 1935-1939 basis continues in that respect.

The Federation contntion was that the farm price index incomparative tabulation is out of line with other values, because the levels were higher in 1926 than during the late depression yar. Hence, the increase of 150.3 per cent for the 1935-1939 period over the index for July this year does not present an exact picture in the comparison of farm income and expenditure in the index tables.

The disparity in the index of prices at the farm is indicated in the table of wholesale farm prices which uses the 1926 index as the basis. That means the information for the index of wholesale prices of farm products was available although not for the prices received at the farms.

FROM CPC REPORT

In the annual financial report of Canada Packers Limited for the year ending March 31, 1948, farmers probably noted the statement that profits were not a factor in the retail meat prices.

The average net profit of the packing industry was 1-7 of 1c per pound of product sold, during the period 1936-1948, inclusive. The highest profit in any year was 1-5 of 1c per pound of product sold.

The industry's contention is that "in the rapidly advancing costs of meat, packinghouse profits have played no part. Within the three-year period 1946-48, the retail price of major beef cuts advanced approximately 20c per pound, and pork cuts 19c, whereas packinghouse profits in the same three years had been respectively 1-12c, 1-7c and 1-7c per pound . . . If the packing industry had made no profit whatever, the relief to the consumer could not have been noticed . . . The advance in meat prices was due to advancing costs of livestock. These advances were brought about by conditions of supply and demand . . ."

In regard to the small net profit in relation to sales, the statement gives the frank explanation "In the year under review, capital was turned over approximately eight times, so that a profit of .91 per cent on sales yield a return of approximately 7.3% on capital."

Dollar sales for the year, a new high, were $238,454,037. Tonnage, weight of all products sold, was 1,447,725,661 lbs.

Net profit, after depreciation, taxes and inventory reserve (also a new high), $2,182,300.

Net profit in relation to sales was 9-10 of 1 per cent.

Net profit in relation to tonnage was 15¾ per 100 lbs. or 1-7c per lb.

Distribution of each sales dollar (total $238,000,000) was: For raw materials, live stock and other farm products, 81.37 cents; wages and salaries, 8.48 cents; services, general expenses, 4.38; materials and packages, 3.12c; taxes, 1.02c; for inventory reserve, .26c; depreciation on fixed assets, .42c; total, 99.11c.

Remainder: Profit from operations, .89c, plus income from investments, .02c; total net profit for the year on each dollar of sales, .91c, or 9-10 of 1 per cent.

Farmers would also be interested in the section dealing with relations with employees. Including the 9.6 per cent increase granted early in the year, wage comparisons were set out:

Canada Packers,	$1.101 per hour
Meat industry as whole	.954 per hour (95c)
All manufacturing	90.6

The statement says Canada Packers' wage rate was higher than that of the meat industry as a whole by 15.4 per cent, and above the average of all manufacturing in Canada by 21.1 per cent.

Protective policy adopted during the year, on a joint contribution basis between company and employees, provides: Medical attention and medicines, hospitalization for employees and their dependents, surgical expeness to $200, funeral benefit $100, weekly indemnities in sickness $21 for men, $16 for women, continuing according to length of service up to 52 weeks.

A group insurance plan has been in effect since 1940. The company is a contributor. Each employee irrespective of age can insure for $2,000 for a premium of $5.20 per $1,000, complusory for men, optional for women.

Distribution of profits: $1,500 bonus to employees; leaving the net available to shareholders $2,182,300. Of that amount shareholders received $1,000,000, and the remainder was added to reserves.

The company says that since the adoption of the profit-sharing plan (1935) distribution of profits as between shareholders and employees was: Employees as bonuses, $10,410,000; to shareholders, as dividends, $10,550,000.

These are only a few excerpts from the voluminous report of the company.

US OFFICIALS are reported trying to get in touch with George Bannentine of St. Louis, Mo., one of the two US citizens arrested in Budapest, Hungary. It is rumored that the Red-dominated Hungarian government will claim that Bannentine, an officer of the American Oil Co., and his superior, Paul Ruedemann, Hartsdale, NY, arrested with him, have admitted sabotaging oil production in that Danubian country.

Christ's Boyhood

the age when he is most sensitive to religion.?

The Jews went up in families or groups for protection and fellowship. It is easy to understand how the Boy was missed on the return journey. The streets of Jerusalem were dark and narrow and the place of meeting outside the City. On the third day the Lad was found in the Temple. His early training is bearing fruit. He is laying the foundation of His future character to be the Perfect Man. Ireneus, a famous Church father, says:—"The Lord Jesus became a child for the sake of childhood and by His own experience of childhood He sanctified it".

"They found Him in the Temple, sitting in the midst of the Doctors, both nearing them and asking them questions." The outstanding characteristic of the child is the desire for knowledge. Your son is a question mark.

"He is asking the questions". The popular idea of this is that He asked them hard questions, which He alone could answer, revealing their ignorance and His wisdom. Such an interpertation is horrible. He is asking questions which every Jewish child is encouraged to do. It reveals His interest in the things of Jehovah. Many a white haired rabbi must have whispered to his neighbour:—"What a promising Lad; Thank God".

"Wist ye not that I must be about My father's business"? The Boy has a deep sense of duty—debt to God. He has taken upon Himself the responsibilities of manhood. He is listening to the inward urge. Some day he will hear clearly in the waters of Jordan the Voice of approval:—"Thou art My Beloved Son' in Whom I am well pleased.

Another reading, of these famous words:—"Wist ye not that I must be in My Father's House". The dream of His boyhood is fulfilled. This writer saw a moving sight. A man in uniform entered Church with his son about nine. They knelt down. He put his arm around his son's shoulders and whispered a prayer in his ear. Would the boy ever forget that act—his soldier father not ashamed to confess Christ before the congregation of God, "in his Father's House".

'He went down with them and was subject unto them." The Boy of promise spends eighteen years in training for about three years of active ministry.

"Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favour with God and man". Can you ask for a better petition for your son or children in their years of training under your care? May they in the days to come rise up and call you blessed.

HE SHALL GROW UP BEFORE THE LORD AS A TENDER PLANT.

Bride's Mother Flies Here From Scotland For Trial On Kirkfield Murder Case

Friends Paid For Plane Ticket To Bring Her To Side Of Daughter; Last Letter Said: "Mummy Dear, I Am Lonesome For You."

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — With only five £1 notes in her purse and with neither relatives nor close friends in this country, a tired and worried mother who never before had been more than a few miles from her home in Greenock, Scotland, arrived in Toronto by air last night to stand by her only daughter through a murder trial. The daughter, 25-year-old, red-headed Jane McAllister, is charged with the Sept. 6 murder of her husband, John, 29, in their lonely cabin, three miles north of Kirkfield, in the Lindsay district.

The preliminary hearing of the murder charge against Mrs. McAllister will be held October 2.

Today the mother, Mrs. Emily McInerney, 47, will see her daughter in Lindsay jail. Since the arrest she has had no letter from her daughter. Word that she was in trouble came to her only when an upstairs neighor brought her a newspaper clipping three weeks ago and asked: "Can this be your Jane?"

Has No Money

The little woman, a heavy blue overcoat over her obviously new blue suit, was red-eyed and confused when she landed at Malton last night.

Three weeks ago, a trip to Canada and her daughter's side was an impossibility for this woman, a widow of 17 years and a housekeeper. Then a man for whom Jane once had worked started a fund to provide passage money. When Mrs. McInerney left, it amounted to just enough over a one-way fare for £5 "landing money."

"To Comfort Her"

Though she is without money, and does not know how long it may be before her daughter's trial is over, the short, plump mother was not giving first thought to this last night. "I don't know what I am going to do," she said. "First I want to see Jane and comfort her if I can."

Mrs. McInerney was met at Malton last night by Col. and Mrs. Wallace Bunton of the Salvation Army. She was taken first to their home and later to a Salvation Army hostel.

The daughter, then a kitchen maid, met John McAllister, a petty officer in the Canadian Navy, in Greenock about six years ago, Mrs. McInerney said. They were married in Liverpool three years

Indian Killed Trying To Stop Fight

WINDSOR, Sept. 27 (CP) — Thomas (Tommy) Andrews, 27, Oneida Indian from the Muncey Reserve near London, Ont., today was charged with murder in connection with the death Saturday night of another Muncey Indian, Ernest Wilbert Antone, 28-year-old tomato harvester.

Police said Antone died at Leamington, 35 miles southeast of here, from wounds about the neck, inflicted by a broken beer bottle while trying to act as peacemaker in a drunken brawl between several Indian women.

Andrews was arraigned before Magistrate J. A. Hanrahan today and remanded to Oct. 5.

Antone was found lying in a pool of blood outside one of the H. J. Heinz Company Limited's bunkhouses, his jugular vein severed. A post mortem showed he died of a hemorrhage on way to hospital.

Andrews, a cousin of the dead man, and his wife were picked up for questioning but the wife was later released on bail when she told police she would plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

Antone was estranged from his wife. The couple had three children. Police said he had been living with another woman while in Leamington.

Report Attempt Kill Ben-Gurion

TLE AVIV, Sept. 27 — (AP)— A rumour circulated in Tel Aviv today that an unsuccessful attempt had been made against the life of Premier David Ben-Gurion of Isreal.

The Israeli general staff said it had no confirmation of the report.

Push Bernadotte Plan.

PARIS, Sept. 27 — (AP) — Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain today urged speedy United Nations action on Count Folke Bernadotte's recommendations for Palestine. He called it "the best hope for healing the breach" between Arabs and Jews.

Jews Admit Shooting Arab Airliner Down

TEL AVIV, Sept. 27 — (Reuters—An Israeli military spokesman today admitted that the Arab airliner in which two British correspondents were killed last week was shot down by a Jewish plane. The shooting took place only after the airliner had twice been ordered to land, he said.

The Arab plane was off course if it was flying from Beyrouth to Amman, the spokesman said, for it flew up and down the Israel front lines.

Sen. Bouchard Retires

MONTREAL, Sept. 27. (CP) — Senator T. D. Bouchard, vigorous opponent of extreme French-Canadian nationalism, revealed during the week-end that he had become blind and was retiring from newspaper work after 50 years. A former Liberal member of the Quebec Legislature and a minister in the Taschereau and Godbout governments he often came into conflict with political and social groups in the province.

Dives Into River, Girl 12 Rescues Pal

PICTON, Sept. 27 — (CP). — Diving fully clothed into the Outlet River, a 12-year-old girl, Arlie Martin, saved the life of her seven-year-old playmate, Barney Johnson, who had fallen from a boat into the river.

Arlie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Martin of Outlet Bridge. The rescued child's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, of Outlet.

King To Give Dinner

LONDON, Sept. 27. (CP) —The King will entertain commonwealth prime ministers at a dinner at Buckingham Palace Oct. 13, it was announced today. The prime minister are meeting here, starting Oct. 11, to discuss common problems.

$80,000 Fire Sweeps Fenelon Block

FENELON FALLS, Sept 27.—(Special.)—Fire starting at the rear of the Jordan block in the heart of Fenelon Falls business section, caused damage in excess of $80,000 before it was brought under control at 3.30 Sunday morning.

The alarm was rung in at 12.30 daylight saving time Saturday midnight when smoke and flames were noticed at the rear of one of three stores. The stores are on the west side of the main street between the post office and the bridge. Fenelon Falls fire brigade sent calls for aid to Lindsay and Bobcaygeon and within an hour three pumpers were pouring water into the buildings.

Frank Brown's Red and White store, Charles Burgoyne's china and linen establishment and Fred Warren's, five to a dollar store suffered the most damage.

Two families, the Gubbins with two children and the Jenkinsons with four children, were forced to vacate apartments over the three stores. Mrs. Gubbins operates a beauty salon and all her equipment was lost. Two other families had to vacate apartments because of smoke and water damage.

The building is owned by Mrs. Jordan, Fenelon Falls, except the Burgoyne store, which is owned by Charles Burgoyne.

Greatest loss will be in the Burgoyne store, which carried a heavy stock of expensive imported English china, linens, blankets, crystal and other valuable glassware.

Fire raced through the three stores, and through the roof, and damage to stock in the basements will also be heavy because of the volume of water poured into the buildings.

Your Nation Responsible, TellVishinsky

UN Assembly Cheers Major Policy Speech Promising UK Defence

PARIS, Sept. 27.—(AP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain, in a blistering attack on the Soviet Union, said today the Russians alone would be responsible for a new world war.

United Nations General Assembly delegates cheered the foreign secretary at the close of Britain's major policy speech in one of the greatest demonstrations in U.N. history.

Addressing Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky directly, Bevin warned that Britain would defend herself against any Russian attack.

Vishinsky took notes throughout the foreign secretary's speech.

Bevin accused the Russians of insincerity, untruthfulness and evasion. He declared, "with all the solemnity at my disposal, that 'if the black fury, the incalculable disaster of atomic war should fall upon us, all I can is, that one power....will alone be responsible for the evils which may be visited upon mankind."

Bevin Cheered

When he had finished talking, all except the Russian delegates and their satellites jumped to their feet to cheer and applaud the British delegates. Cries of "bravo" and "tres bien" could be heard outside the assembly hall.

Vishinsky strode from the hall, his face set in a grim mask, immediately after Bevin had finished.

As he did in a speech before the British House of Commons last Wednesday, Bevin again referred gravely to the possibility of a third world war in this generation.

He added a new gloomy note in a hint Britain already envisages the end of the United Nations unless the east-west conflict can be solved.

"If we cannot proceed on a world basis as we had hoped, we must proceed on a regional basis," he said.

Answers Directly

Bevin replied directly by name to Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky's speech Saturday. In that speech the Russian called on the "Big Five" (Britain, Russian, China, France and the United States) to reduce their armaments by one-third immediately and proposed formation of an international control body in the Security Council to ban atomic weapons.

"How on earth are we to regard the latest proposals put forward by Mr. Vishinsky? We must be

Police Probe Death of Bride

BRIGHTON, Sept. 27.—(ENS). —Provincial police are investigating the death of Mrs. Anne Labine, who died in Belleville hospital on Friday where she had been brought from Brighton the previous Monday. Cause of her death is unknown and her viscera has been sent to Professor Joselyn Rogers, Toronto, for analysis. No decision has been reached on an inquest.

She was a bride of only two weeks and she became ill on Sunday, Sept. 19, the day after her husband left for the St. Thomas district to work on a farm. The girl was 22 years old and her husband, Charles Labine, was 23. She met him during the war when her family were living at Kingston, moving to Brighton about two years ago. They were married in Brighton three weeks ago.

Mrs. Labine had been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robertson, her father being a carpenter residing north of the village of Brighton.

Provincial Constable Don Nicol of Cobourg went to Brighton Saturday to investigate but enquiries revealed nothing. Her husband did not know of his wife's death and during the week-end police finally got in touch with him. He arrived Sunday afternoon by bus.

Canada May Take Part In Airlift In New Crisis

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 —(CP) — Breakdown of Western-Russian negotiations over Berlin means reconsideration of Canada's stand against participation in the Berlin airlift, a government source said today. There was speculation in informed quarters that Canada will follow other Dominions in announcing she will send transport planes or air crews or both to take part in the three-months-old aerial effort to buck the Soviet land blockade.

A government source said last Thursday the question of whether Canada's entry would be reconsidered depended on the outcome of the Berlin negotiations. They were broken off Sunday.

Reasons For Absence

Canada's absence from the international air teams supplying Berlin has a number of roots. Her officials contend she has never been officially asked.

Prime Minitser Mackenzie King said recently he thought the Berlin crisis would end soon. Canada also felt she had no voice in German policy generally and she had no particular desire to stick her forces into a situation that could quite easily explode into war.

At the same time, there was always an awareness that this policy did not entirely parallel the Canadian policy of calling for a united front among the western powers. Nobody has been more vocal in enunciating tthis feeling than L. B. Pearson, the external affairs minister.

Socialists Say Reds Intensifying Purge

BERLIN, Sept. 27 — (AP) — The Socialist press claimed today Russians are throwing thousands of new victims into concentration camps in Eastern Germany's intensified purge of anti-communists.

The official Sozial Demokrat described what it called 'transports of misery" headed for Buchenwald, the former Nazi concentration camp in Thuringia.

The newspaper described one such railroad transport of 40 heavily - guarded freight cars which it claimed was crowded to suffocation with Germans being sent to confinement. The train was escorted by heavily-armed Russian soldiers and outfitted with searchlights.

"When the cars were opened, a fearful stench gushed forth and the inmates were seen in wretched condition," the Socialist organ reported.

Boy Hangs Self Making Trap

KIRKLAND LAKE, Sept. 27—(CP)—A 12-year-old schoolboy was hanged Sunday night, apparently by accident when he was trying to set a sapling trap similar to one he had seen recently in a motion picture.

This was indicated by police today after preliminary investigation into the death of Ronald Brodie whose body was found hanging by a frayed piece of half-inch rope from a small tree on the outskirts of this mining community.

Authorities said the lad had told a friend he planned to make a trap like the one he saw in a picture about Indians and Police Inspector A. E. Dyment said it was "reasonably certain" he was hanged accidentally while trying out his trap.

Mrs. C. Martineau saw the body and reported it to police. Constable Thomas Whittle, first on the scene, broke down the three-inch tree to hide the body from a crowd which gathered quickly.

Silence! Men at Work

SARNIA, Sept. 27 — (CP) — Safe crackers, working within a stone's throw of Sarnia police headquarters, stole $100 during the week-end from the office of Dr. W. E. Hunt in a downtown building. To muffle sounds of the safe-cracking, the men moved the heavy safe more than 30 feet to offices at the rear of the building.

Berlin Talks Broken Off; Turn Over To UN

PARIS —(AP)— Russia may try to bar admission of the Berlin quarrel to the Security Council by using the double veto, a high eastern delegate to the United Nations said today.

PARIS, Sept. 27. — (AP). — Britain, the United States and France Sunday night accused Russia of threatening world peace by her actions in Berlin and sent the issue to the United Nations Security Council.

Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain, State Secretary Marshall of the United States and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France, met twice at the French Foreign Ministry and then announced their decision to break off direct negotiations with the Russians.

The Russians earlier had demanded control over Allied air traffic and a single Russian-controlled currency in the city as their price for lifting the 100-day-old blockade.

The Russian proposal was termed "unsatisfactory," and the western powers emphasized their determination to maintain their positions in Berlin. They reserved the right to take such steps as might be necessary to do so.

A 14-point message to the Kremlin was drafted by the foreign ministers and delivered last midnight to Russian ambassadors in Paris, London and Washington.

Alexandre Parodi, France's delegate to the Security Council, told reporters the Berlin issue would be placed before the security council Thursday if present plans are carried through.

A usually reliable source said both Britain and the United States will relinquish the presidency of the council when the Berlin question comes before it.

The points of the western powers' note were summed up as follows by a French foreign ministry official:

1. The Russian blockade threatens the maintenance of western occupation forces in Berlin and menaces the Berlin population with famine.

2. The western governments will accept no arrangement which compromises their rights in Berlin, but they are ready to seal a practical solution compatible with their rights and obligations.

3. The four powers agreed at Moscow the blockade would be lifted and the Russian (Eastern) mark would be the sole money in Berlin under four-power control.

4. Stalin pledged all restrictions imposed before June 18 would be lifted and a four-power financial

Provinces Attack Freight Jumps In Cabinet Appeal

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 —(CP)— Appealing to the Cabinet against last spring's railway freight-rate increase, seven provincial governments today attacked the rate award as wrong in general principle and on many specific points.

In a joint submission, the provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—asked the governor-in-council to throw out the award or send the whole case back to the board of transport commissioners with orders to re-examine particular aspects of the case.

A third alternative proposal was that the cabinet itself revise the board judgment to conform with certain contentions of the provinces. These revisions would have the effect of knocking out most of the $70,000,000-a-year increase.

Under this plan, there would be no provision for railway surpluses; rail earnings would be called on to bear only a proportion of corporate fixed charges and dividends instead of all as at present, and sums taken from annual revenue for depreciation reserves would be sliced sharply.

Today's appeal marked the third time the provincial governments have been before cabinet in connection with the board's March 29 award of a general 21-per cent increase in rates for railways. Earlier, they protested the decision and called for a royal commission on rates.

The provinces said that the board failed to apply "proper principles" in determining the financial needs of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the company used as the "yardstick" for rate-making purposes. Had the board applied these principles, the provinces contended, it would have found that the C.P.R.'s financial position did not justify any increase in rates."

Berlin Asks Four Powers To Get Out

Russian Commander Recalled To Moscow For "Consultation"

BERLIN, Sept. 27. (AP)—Berlin's city government told the four occupying powers today they should get out of Berlin if they cannot settle their differences.

The proposal was in a resolution drafted by the executive branch of the government and read to a meeting of the city council by Acting Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg.

The resolution asked, however, that "so long as the occupation of Germany continues" Berlin should remain under four-power control and that "no one power have any more influence in Berlin than any other."

This was a slap at the Russians, who have been seeking to overthrow the legally-elected government and achieve full Communist control of the city.

Has Been Recalled

BERLIN, Sept. 27. (AP)—The British-licensed German press service said today Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, the Russian commander in Germany, has been recalled to Moscow for consultation. There was no official confirmation.

Million Salvage For Two Tugs

HALIFAX, Sept. 27 (CP)—Two Halifax tugs—Foundation Lillian and Foundation Josephine—found $1,000,000 worth of salvage 900 miles southeast of here today and they were standing by the abandoned British freighter Leicester trying to figure how to get her to Bermuda.

Seven men were lost overboard and 39 men saved by rescue ships when the Leicester was caught in the Sept. 16 hurricane. The ship developed a bad list and seemed destined to founder as heavy seas washed over her and she sprang a leak.

The ship is worth $1,000,000 in salvage and the Halifax tugs began their search after a French ship reported she was still afloat.

The stricken ship was first sighted today by the Lillian after a 10-day search by the two tugs. The Josephine quickly arrived on the scene and both powerful seagoing salvage vessels were standing by.

Social Credit Leader Will Oppose Pearson

BLIND RIVER, Sept. 27—(CP) —John J. Fitzgerald, president of the Social Credit League of Ontario, will oppose External Affairs Minister Pearson in the Oct. 25 federal by-election in Algoma East.

This was announced here today as the outcome of meetings held by the Social Credit League in the four largest towns in the scattered constituency—at Blind River, Thessalon, Espanola and Chapleau.

Mr. Fitzgerald, one-time secretary of the Montreal Board of Trade, is in the lumbering business here.

Unions Ask Voice In Power Reductions

TORONTO, Sept. 27—(CP)— The executive of the Ontario Federation of Labor Sunday recommended to District Labor Councils and union locals that "negotiation toward an equal basis of sacrifice" be carried on in connection with the power shortage. It did not suggest how this should be done.

So far the only objection to power-saving measures has come from labor unions. Officials of some unions said they should have been consulted before the Provincial Power Commission asked for night work and week-end operation of factories.

12-Day 'Nightmare' Ends Ate Squirrels, Berries

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 —(CP)— Capt. Sir Robert Stirling-Hamilton, his wife, three children and a 12-year-old Chinese dog "vanished" today for four days of rest and to forget an incident described by Sir Robert as "a nightmare."

The naval advisor to the United Kingdom High Commissioner and his family left at dawn today for an undisclosed location, hoping to erase from memory the gruelling 12 days of wandering in the wilds of Northern Manitoba.

His companions, Capt. Ben Scott Custer, United States naval attache, Custer's aide, Charles Wilcox of Oskaloosa, Iowa, and U. S. army master sergeant J. Scalise of Cambridge, Mass., are still in Ottawa, recuperating from experiences that might have meant their death.

Only person still waiting and still apprehensive is Mrs. Jack Kastner, wife of the chief petty officer Kastner of Tucson, Ariz. The veteran U. S. pilot returned to help salvage the plane he piloted in a perfect crash landing into knee-deep muskeg.

"But for God and the R.C.A.F.," said Capt. Custer, "we wouldn't be here."

Capt. Custer told of days of hunting and hoping and living on grouse, squirrels, porcupine and blueberries, of climbing over endless fallen timbers and of falling on their knees when a Canadian plane at last came down and wagged its wings above them.

It was the end of one of the biggest air searches and rescues in Canadian history.

Scalisle improvised shelters out of parachutes and branches, turned his steel helmet into a stewpot and shot and barbecued a porcupine.

Bank Employee Held For Theft Of $4,000 Bonds

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP)—Police today held Stanley Trowhill, 28, former bank accountant, on a charge of stealing bonds valued at $4,000. They alleged that Trowhill took the bonds from a Toronto bank vault shortly after a $250,000 robbery, resigned from the bank two weeks after the hold-up and moved to Port Dover, Ont., where he established an automobile agency and repair business.

Police charge the young man picked up the bonds during the confusion and excitement that followed discovery of the shambles left by three hooded gunmen who crashed the bank vault and looted safety deposit boxes under cover of night.

A bond sales slip, bearing what authorities said was a forged signature, led to Trowhill's eventual arrest. Trowhill purportedly cashed the bonds last May, little more than a year after the sensational robbery of the $250,000 in bands and jewelry.

Bonds Honored

The Bank of Canada in Ottawa issued a statement to the effect that the bonds in question had been honored. It was then that preliminary investigation began. The $4,000 in bonds, said detectives, were in $1,000 and $500 denominations.

Last Thursday, 17 months to the day after Trowhill was supposed to have stood in the bank vault, Sgt. of Det. George Elliott and Det. Bernard Simmons left Toronto for Port Dover.

In Port Dover, the detectives found young Trowill living with his wife and one child. On Saturday the arrest was made.

It was with a ruthless display of brutality that hooded bandits committed the bank robbery on the night of April 23, 1947. They bound and taped two men and three women before smashing their way into the vault. It was one of the most daring robberies in the history of Toronto.

Reign Of Terror Sweeps Albania

BELGRADE Yugoslavia, Sept. 27.—(AP).—Resistance to the Albanian Government's split with Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has caused a reign of terror in Albania, according to press reports here.

The reports said Albanian authorities have issued orders for their militia to shoot on the spot anyone showing pro-Yugoslav sympathies.

The Montgenegrin peoples front newspaper Pobeda, published in Tsteinje, capital of Montenegro, near the Albanian border, was the source of the dispatches printed in Belgrade.

Promoted To Admiral

LONDON, Sept. 27 — (CP) — The admiralty today announced the promtion of Rear-Admiral Sir Philip Louis Vian to admiral. Admiral Vian remains fifth sea lord. Admiral Vian, 54, has served with the Royal Navy since 1912. He rose to captain in 1934 and the following year received his first destroyer command.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Just What The Weather Ordered

Remember the old saying, "Just what the Doctor ordered?" Well, here's something that's just what the weather ordered . . . Johns - Manville Cedargrain Asbestos Siding Shingles.

Made of two practically imperishable materials, asbestos and cement, J-M Cedargrains were designed to protect your home from weather's worst. But they're more than weather-proof — they're rotproof, and fireproof. In fact, in over 35 years not one J-M asbestos shingle has ever worn out—not one has ever burned!

forgiven if we are suspicious. As you all know his country is a sealed book. . . ."

The burly British Labor leader traced the political failure of the United Nations since its beginning and then said:

"The reason I am afraid (for the U.N.) is fundamentally a simple one. It is that although they often put forward a point of view which cannot be disregarded and which should be intelligently discussed, a minority in these matters resolutely refused to accommodate itself even in the slightest degree to the wishes and desires of the majority."

Then, speaking "with all the solemnity at my disposal," Bevin declared:

Blames Russia

"If the black fury, the incalculable disaster of atomic war, should fall upon us, all I can say is that one power, by refusing its co-operation in the control and development of those great new forces for the good of humanity will alone be responsible for the evils which may be visited upon mankind."

The root of the world's troubles, he said, is the "abuse of the veto" in the Security Council. Progress toward peace "is unobtainable unless a real attempt is made to regard the majority view as something to which the individual views should in general defer."

Bevin accused Vishinsky of "pure invention" in many of his charges Saturday against the west and said he was neither "impressed nor edified by Mr. Vishinsky's attack on the United States."

Bevin made no direct reference to the Berlin question which the three western powers announced Sunday night they will take before the Security Council.

Disappointed

He referred to the German situation as a whole to say he was disappointed that the Russians had turned down an American-proposed 40-year alliance of the four great powers to insure German disarmament.

He asked Vishinsky the west's basic question regarding Russian policy.

"Is it true that notwithstanding everything you say from this platform, it is Marxist-Leninist conception that there can be no final agreement with non-Communist states? That everything the Soviet government does is tactics and that they adhere to their given purpose whatever they say in the process?"

He quoted from Lenin to prove his point and added:

"Can Mr. Vishinsky wonder that we are cautious about accepting at face value his statement that the policy of the Soviet Union is one of expanding and strengthening international co-operation?"

He warned the Russians that "If, having secured Soviet territory, they then use the territory of other states to prepare attacks on us, then a very difficult situation is created in which we can only look to our own defence."

Bevin said "It is better to have our difficulties now than to live in a fool's paradise."

The Weather

Sun—Rises at 6:10; Sets at 6:07

Skies are generally clear throughout the province this morning. This spell of fine autumn weather is due to an extensive high pressure area centred in northern Wisconsin and covering southern Canada, central and eastern United States. The high is still moving slowly and indications are for continued good weather over Ontario for the next two or three days. Tonight it will be cool again with a slight risk of local frost in central and northern Ontario. Tuesday's sunny skies should allow the air to warm up rapidly so that afternoon temperatures will reach the 75 mark.

Forecasts:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions — Clear today and Tuesday. Not much change in temperature. Winds light.

Summary for Tuesday, Continuing clear.

Sudbury, Kirkland Lake, White River, Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions — Clear today and Tuesday. Risk of light frost in low lying areas tonight. Warmer Tuesday. Winds light

Summary for Tuesday, Clear and warm.

In Uneasy World Canada Takes Stock of Forces

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—(CP). — A series of week-end developments, none major but all straws in the wind, emphasized the Government's growing uneasiness over the international situation and determination to speed Canada's defense preparations.

Concern over the "short-term possibilities" of the international situation has led the Government to push its defense plans ahead as rapidly as possible, Defense Minister Claxton said Saturday night. He declared that the country wants stronger armed forces—now.

The statement, mainly a routine message dealing with the end of Army Week today, was issued soon after it became known that two of the country's armed services will hold separate, high-level conferences here in the near future.

Discuss Navy Reserves

Naval headquarters announced that commanding officers of the 20 naval divisions into which Canada is divided will assemble Tuesday to discuss "every phase of the naval reserve picture." Their conference will last a week.

Commanding officers of the army's military districts will meet in October. Army sources described this meeting as a routine conference held annually at about the same time.

The Ottawa Citizen said, however, that it had learn authoritatively that detailed plans for Canada's mobilization in the event of war are to be drawn up at a series of conferences this autumn and winter. It said the plans would be laid at a series of senior officer conferences to be held between now and next February and that the army would draw up its plan next month.

ago, and Jane went to Canada a year later.

No Wish To Go Back

Jane's letters never had mentioned a wish to return to Scotland, Mrs. McInerney said, but latterly it seemed "she was beginning to fret a bit." The last letter the mother received from her daughter was postmarked Aug 28.

In it she said: "Mummy, dear, I am lonesome for you. I think of you every day and love you more and more each day. Mummy, I am not so bad now, but my nerves are really bad. . . . I feel tired and irritable all the time . . but I guess I'll get over it."

Her daughter had had an operation just about two months ago, Mrs. McInerney said.

On Saturday, Mrs. McInerney said, her daughter should have had word she was coming to Canada. "I sent her an airmail a week ago," she said.

It was a Jim Isaac, whose three children Jane looked after at one time, who started the fund to send Mrs. McInerney to Canada. "When he heard of this trouble," Mrs. McInerney said "he started it up. There were six women soliciting for it in the district and lots of people helped."

The trip across, to this woman who never before had left Scotland, far less thought of flying, was "scaring at first, but fine after that."

Mrs. McInerney has one son, John, 27, in the army for the past seven years. He was wounded in Palestine and she does not know where he has been moved from there.

Hogs were steady. Grade A $33.25; grade B1 $32.85. Sows were $27 dressed.

A few good lambs opened at $22 but dropped later to $21.50 for good ewes and wethers. There was $1 discount on bucks. Sheep sold steady from $5-$9.

Berlin Crisis 'Explosive'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP) —The complete collapse of secret talks with Russia over the Berlin crisis advanced the cold war to a new and highly explosive stage today.

United States authorities are frankly uncertain what may happen next.

The failures of the secret diplomacy which the western powers have been practicing in the hope of reaching a settlement with the Kremlin was revealed by the United States state department last midnight.

At that hour the department made public a 3,000-word note accusing Russia of bad faith in the Berlin negotiations and of creating "a threat of international peace."

Russia May Drop Out

Russia's continued membership in the U.N. is in grave doubt.

New East-West clashes in berlin are feared here.

The dangers of shooting incidents that could lead to open conflict are not ruled out by best-informed United States authorities.

These experts are more uncertain than ever as to how far the Russians will go in creating incidents aimed at making Berlin untenable for the Western powers.

New Hydro Plant In Operation At Stewartville

STEWARTVILLE, Sept. 27 (P) —Another 80,000 horsepower was added to Ontario's critical power supply Saturday when a 10-year-old Toronto boy sent three big Hydro generators here roaring into operation.

Several hundred officials, including Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders, watched Edward Drew, son of Premier George Drew, press an ordinary button switch and thus open the third post-war power-project in Ontario. Stewartville is 30 miles west of Ottawa.

Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost, in the official opening address said: "Instead of being depressed by the power shortage, we ought to be glad, because of the industrial development it indicates."

Electric power, said Mr. Frost, was "the life blood of the nation and should not be wasted. Every light turned off provides that much more power for industry."

Mr. Frost said that Canada now was the second largest manufacturing country in the Empire—and Ontario was "an Empire in itself."

One of Eight

The provincial treasurer noted that Stewartville was one of eight new projects. The next will be the Agusabon deveopment to serve the Thunder Bay region.

Stewartville itself is the third project of its kind since the war. Three years in the making, it will ship 60-cycle power over 161 miles of transmission wire into Southeastern Ontario centres, as far West as Oshawa.

Costing an estimated $13,900,000 the big concrete Stewartville dam rises to a maximum of 206 feet above the Madawaska river bed and bridges the 1,300-foot gap between the cliffs at its banks.

Above the dam, the flooded area covers about 1,100 acres and extends nearly 13 miles upstream. Six thousand cubic feet of water is discharged by the big turbines every second.

The development is part of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission's plan to add another 750,000 kilowatts to the overall system by 1952.

Other post-war projects are at Decew Falls near St. Catharines and Ear Falls on the English river in Northern Ontario.

Prices Slide Downhill On Toronto Market

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—(CP). — Prices slid downhill in irregular trading on the stock exchange here today. Industrials dipped from the opening bell and golds and base metals were narrowly easier after an early attempted recovery.

Papers and utilities led the downward trend in industrials as losses ranged up to 3 points.

Golds opened briskly but weakened after the first round. Kerr Addison and Lake Shore were down fractionally in seniors and United Keno Hill were among junior losers.

Eureka was the only base metal to show any gain. International Nickel, Noranda, Quemont, Sherrit, Silver Miller, Waite Amulet, Labrador and Gulf Lead weakened slightly.

Free Alleged Bandit On Bail of $2,500

WELLAND, Sept. 27 (CP) — Norman Sullivan, 27, one of two men charged with the armed robbery Sept. 2 of the Imperial Bank at nearby Ridgeway, was released from custody on $2,500 bail over the week-end. He will appear at Ridgeway Oct. 7.

A second man, Willis Pelley, 41, was to appear later today on the same charge and is expected to be remanded to Oct. 7.

Saunders Stern On Power Quotas

TORONTO, Sept. 27 —(CP)— Ontario municipalities were warned today to cut down their consumption of electricity — or else.

The alternative—and the word came from Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders—was power blackouts such as industrial sections of southern Ontario underwent last spring.

In a blunt statement, the toughest since the power scarcity became acute 10 days ago, Mr. Saunders said municipalities still over their power quotas by the end of this week will have to order cutoffs or provincial authorities will pull the switches for them.

Toronto, for example, will be notified today that the power quotas is being exceeded and voluntary means of conservation must be found by the end of the week.

'If the quota is still being exceeded at the end of the week, then the city will have to pull switches for as many minutes in each hour as they may decide.

"If they don't do this, then we will cut the power off for them, because the power is just not there."

Mr. Saunders said some municipalities may have to cut power for as long as 15 minutes in every hour.

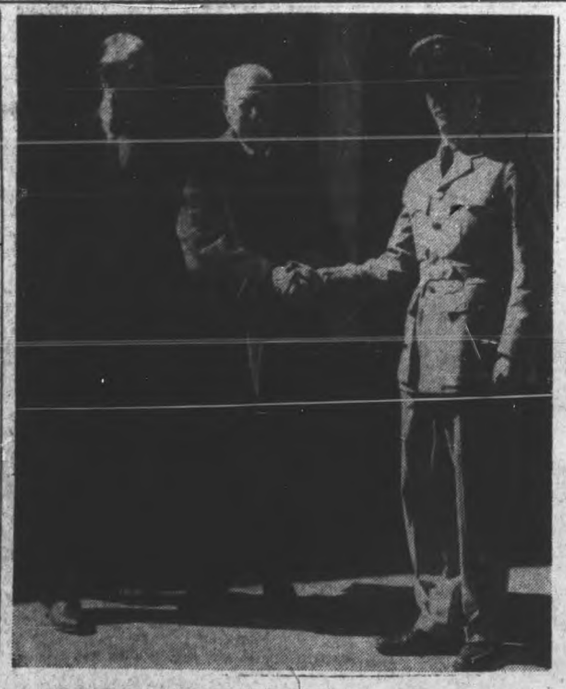
By The Canadian Press

LONDON— Sir Warren Fisher, 69, whose signature on pound notes gave them the nickname "Fishers," died. He was permanent secretary of the treasury and official head of the civil service from 1919 to 1939.

MANCHESTER, England—The condition of John Barbirolli, internationally known conductor of the Halle orchestra, injured in an automobile accident, was reported be "very much better." Barbirolli, former conductor of the Vancouver symphony orchestra, was injured while returning here from a concert tour of southwest England.

FORT ERIE— Four men were rescued by a United States coast guard cutter over the week-end. Two 19-foot sailboats capsized within half an hour in the Niagara river, each containing two men, and all four were saved by the rescue boat.



A RESIDENT OF GRAVESEND, Kent, England, for the last several weeks, James Oliver Higgins, former building contractor of Ottawa, arrived aboard an airliner at Dorval recently and established a record for being the oldest man ever to fly from Britain to the Montreal field. Mr. Higgins, shown centre, left later in the day for Esquimalt, B.C., where he will reside with his son, Major Fred Higgins who accompanied his father after a brief visit in England. At left is Harvey O. Higgins, of Montreal, another son, and an airline official who was on hand to meet the plane.

SINGAPORE — Police said Communist gunmen killed a Malay detective and a Chinese constable at Sungei Pelex, a village in Selangor State. Police offered a $5,000 reward and a free trip to China for information leading to the arrest of the slayers.

BOGOTA, Colombia — The newspaper El Tiempo said lepers from a colony at Rio De Dios had begun a march on Bogoto. The newspaper said the lepers, 300 of whom already have left the colony, were staging the march as a protest of insufficient allotments of government funds for food and other necessities.

CHOMUTOV, Czechoslovakia— Foreign Trade Minister Antonin Gregor said Czechoslovakia will import 300,000 more tons of grain from Russia. The Soviet Union sold the Czechs 600,000 tons of grain late last year and early this year.

SEOUL, Korea — President Syngman Rhee proclaimed amnesty for 5,700 South Koreans among the 20,000 imprisoned for minor crimes.

LISBON—Eduardo De Noronha, 89, one of Portugal's most prolific writers, died. His works included novels and a history of Portugal's colonies.

KINGSTON. — Two Hamilton men escaped serious injury when the light plane they were flying crashed at nearby Wolfe Island Bay. Donald Barnes, 42, and his passenger, Timothy Bertram, were thrown clear when the plane flipped over as it struck a buoy. The men climbed on the wing and were taken ashore by boat.

TORONTO.—Samuel J. Zacks, president of the United Zionist Council of Canada, has asked the Canadian Government not to accept the late Count Bernadotte's proposals for Palestine in their entirety.

NANKING.—Russia has asked China to extend or sign a new agreement giving the Soviets exclusive air rights in Western Sinkiang Province. A foreign office spokesman said that "at the time the Soviet Government replied to China's note announcing its decision to terminate the 110-year-old agreement, it expressed a desire to continue the old agreement or conclude a new one. The note is being studied."

TORONTO.—Ten hospitals in Ontario are X-raying chests of all patients admitted to protect both staff and patients, E. J. O'Brien, secretary of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association, said.

NANKING. — A stunned and frightened China learned officially that Tsinan, one of its most important northern cities, had been overwhelmed by the Communists. Fall of the Shantung Province capital was announced in a delayed communique. The communique said 130,000 Red assault troops took the industrial city of 500,000 at dawn Friday after bloody fighting in the streets and from house to house.

TORONTO — A shop-beaking suspect, fleeing from a Toronto Wood Products factory early today, dropped a picture of himself and a datebook with girls' names and addresses. Police say the clues will likely lead to the arrest of the man and his accomplice.

LONDON, Eng. — The Yugo-Slav Interior Ministry announced 506 persons thus far have fled into Yugoslavia in the last three months from neighboring Balkan countries, some for political reasons. This immigration is continuing.

Community Honors Roseneath Couple

ROSENEATH, Sept. 27 —(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Timlin (nee Beatrice Davidson) were the latest bridal couple to be honored by the community, when on Friday night the Orange Hall was again thronged with folk to present the couple with gifts and a purse of money.

The Charivari group represented by Royce Timlin presented a silver tray and Bill Thackeray read the accompanying address. Mr. and Mrs. Timlin thanked their friends and the evening was spent at dancing.

Enforce Law Or Face Brawling--Judge

COBOURG, Sept. 27 —(ENS)— If you don't have law enforcement then you have lawless behavour, and I think that was shown by the hooliganism and brawling at Wasaga Beach," commented Judge M. A. Miller in an address to the Rotary Club.

His address was based on the administration of justice. He said that the judicial appointment of Northumberland and Durham Counties was regarded as one of the most attractive in Ontario.

Western civilization, he said, was based on the law and people should respect it and what it stands for. There was the Lord's Day Act and it had been claimed that establishments were running wide open in contravention of the act as at Wasaga, not long after that, there had been an outburst of hooliganism and brawling.

"I hold no brief for the Lord's Day Act. It may need revision, I don't know. However, you cannot choose your own brand of law. If some are broken others will be. If you don't have law enforcement you have lawless behaviour. You have seen that demonstrated. The United States tourist has got wide open Sundays at home but they like to come here and see a quiet Sunday because it is something different. I think the tourist business will make money just the same with a quiet Sunday," Judge Miller said.

Work For Church.

Touching briefly on communism, he said, that individuality was the antithesis of communism. There should be every encouragement to the church to influence young people in such a manner as to ward off communism.

Dealing with the administration of the law, which was the role played by judges after the law had been enacted by legislation, Judge Miller said it was sometimes wondered why the judge could not hear a case and base his judgment more on what appeared to the layman to be more commonsense than the law. Such procedure would give too much power to a judge by placing him beyond the restrictions of the law, the speaker said. His job is to administer what has been set down by legislative bodies and sometimes he has to administer laws which he may not approve, such as divorce, Judge Miller said.

Horses Kill Child

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 27 —(CP) Fifteen-month-old Richard Downey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Downey of Huntingdon township, near Madoc, suffered fatal injuries when knocked to the ground by a team of horses. The child died while being brought to Belleville hospital.

FRED AND IRENE LAMPHERE, parents of 22-months-old Pamela Lamphere (who made headlines when it was revealed that she was born with her bladder outside of her body) are shown keeping anxious vigil as the first of three operations to correct the condition was performed at a hospital in Chicago, Ill. Doctors said odds were against the child, but the condition, if not corrected, would be fatal anyway. The question of whether to operate or not to operate split the parents until the mother consented to taking the long chance Now they are reconciled.

Fenella Church Has Anniversary Service

ROSENEATH, Sept. 27.—(ENS). — Anniversary services were held Sunday morning and evening in Fenella United church. Rev. N. Coles, minister of Hastings United church, was guest minister.

The home choir in charge of the morning music, was assisted by soloist John Calvert, a member of Peterborough George St. choir. Hastings United church choir was in charge of the music at the evening service.

Special Service At St. James'

ROSENEATH, Sept. 27 —(ENS) Anniversary thanksgiving services were held in St. James Anglican Church Sunday morning and evening. Produce from field and gargarden were displayed, including bread and grapes on the altar.

Canon Rev. C. R. Spencer speaking in the morning on the text, "He hath made everything beautiful in His time," stressed the beauty of nature in all seasons where he said only man is vile. Sin, he said, is like an epidemic stemming from ingratitude and impudence. "Millions who no longer care have lost sight of God and are too absorbed to practice the gospel."

Flt.-Lieut. F. H. Floyd, chaplain D. V. A. Military Hospital, Kingston, was guest speaker at the night service.

He developed the following points, harvest thanksgiving or harvest wheat is the most ancient service in the church dating back 10,000 years; Jesus the bread of life came from the same country as wheat; global wars had turned into global hatred; only 15 per cent. of our people attend church regularly, and, the greatest christian man is the most thankful man.

KINGSTON, Sept. 27 (CP) — N. F. Cochrane of Gananoque Saturday won the grand championship in the cheese competition at the Kingston Fair. Other winners were: R. Joyner, Glenburnie, Ont.; Jack Peck, Lansdowne, and Bruce Sangraw, Harrowsmith.

Cobourg Man Heads AYPA

MIDLAND, Sept. 27.—Werner F. Stambach of Cobourg, was elected president of the AYPA Council of the Diocese of Toronto at its third annual conference held Saturday at St. Mark's Anglican Church, Midland. He succeeds George Sanders, who guided the council in its two formative years following the postwar organization. Over 100 delegates of Anglican Young People's Associations participated in the conference. Their "spirited enthusiasm" and "will to do" were termed by Anglican clergy "the most heatening experience of recent years."

Delegates heard and applauded the assertion of their chaplain-elect, Rev. E. A. R. Wood of Thornhill, that: "There is no such thing as Christianity apart from the Church. There may be Christian morals, Christian ethics, and Christian influence apart from the Church but Chrisianity, no."

Rev. W. I. D. Smith, former Midlander, now of Sutton West, conducted the opening rally service. Conference talks and discussion groups were led by Marjorie Wilcock, Hazel M. Journeaux, James J. Workfolk, Eileen Macaulay Freda Alderman and Nellie Lewis of Toronto; Rev C. D. Cross, Barrie, and Rev. Newton Smith, Allandale. Delegates were greeted by Rev. A. B. Cathcart, rector of St. Mark's Church, Midland.

Other officers were elected as follows: Vice-presidents, Jack Green and Elsie Stevenson, Toronto; corresponding and recording secretaries, Virginia Clough and Dorothy Wallis, Mount Dennis; treasurer, Marjorie Wilcock, Torontot.

Skull Fractured

OSHAWA, Sept. 27 (CP)—Mrs. Sadie Hinds, of Hamilton, was taken to hospital here early today suffering from head lacerations and a possible fracture of the skull. She was a pessenger in a panel truck, driven by her son-in-law, Stanley Hodichak of Hamilton, which went out of control and ran into a ditch on No. 2 highway east of here.

Cornwall, England, was one of the world's earliest sources of tin.

"I don't care if you can't cook, darling — so long as you can open packages of Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"Oh George — you're wonderful! I'll just open a package of malty-rich, honey-golden Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes, and quick-like breakfast will be ready!"

"Um-m-m — that one-and-only, out-of-this-world Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes flavor!"

"And good nourishment, too, don't forget."

"Yep, Hon — they're jam-packed with carbohydrates, minerals and other food essentials that sure will make your husband a husky guy!"

"And of course I was only kidding about not being able to cook. I can make scrumptious cookies, cakes and other good things from those tested recipes on the Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes packages."

"How about picking up some crisp, crunchy Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes on our way down to get the marriage license?"

Delayed Report on Education

In 1945, Premier Drew, as Minister of Education, set up a Royal Commission of 21 representative citizens under Mr. Justice Hope to conduct a thorough study of every matter relating to education in Ontario. The authority given was the broadest possible under our system of government; no limitations or restrictions were placed on the representations to be made to the Commission. For almost three years this body conducted hearings, sub-committies studied the various briefs and some members travelled to Europe and the United States to study the educational systems in those countries. The hearings were concluded more than a year ago and since that time educationists have eagerly awaited the report.

* * *

First it was expected before the Legislature adjourned in the spring; then it was reported that the findings would be presented to the Minister in the Fall; now comes the statement from Dr. C. C. Goldring, director of education in Toronto and also a member of the Commission, that the Report will not be issued until 1949.

* * *

To the ordinary citizen a delay in issuing this Report means very little, for it is the first study made in 100 years of Ontario's educational system and an extra year or two does not seem to matter; but to Boards of Education, especially in cities and towns, the delay means a great deal. Possibly due to the many briefs presented and the wide differences of opinions expressed to the Commission, Board of Education have been forced into a period of inactivity, especially regarding secondary school additions. Many Boards realize that they should be planning additions and new schools but the uncertainty of our whole educational organization and conjectures as to what changes are going to be made have delayed these plans.

* * *

Boards have heard much about establishment of junior and senior public schools, junior high schools, doing away with composite schools, such as the P. C. V. S., and the substitution for them of purely academic and vocational or technical schools. In a city like Peterborough where not more than two schools of any secondary type will be needed for many years the delay means much.

* * *

While the Commission delays more and more children are entering our primary schools and are moving up through the various grades; they will be ready for secondary school before there is accommodation for them. In the Peterborough public school system the addition of 12 rooms this year solved temporarily a serious problem of overcrowding. But in our secondary schools accommodation is only for a depression period birthrate and not for the increase in population which is now affecting our primary schools. At the P. C. V. S. this year the building is accommodating children born between 1929 and 1935, a time of a very low birthrate. It will not begin to accommodate the children who were born from 1938 onward in a period of prosperity. Thus further delay in issuing the Report can only mean added expense when building costs are rising.

Mr. Truman Surprises The Reporters

One of the amusing sidelights of the Presidential election campaign is the surprise registered by reporters covering President Truman's tour of the country. According to Time Magazine, they were more than surprised; they were nonplussed— twice in the same article. The cause of their perplexity was the fact that Mr. Truman was attracting large crowds, and the crowds were friendly, often cheering him enthusiastically.

This was something the reporters had not expected. They had been spending their spare time speculating on how badly Mr. Truman would be beaten in the November election, and a series of welcomes which indicated he is still popular with large groups of voters apparently brought realization that their speculation might be a bit wild. They probably felt something like the press of the United States as a whole, following the Presidenital elections of 1940 and 1944.

In 1940 approximately 60 per cent. of all United States newspapers predicted the defeat of the late Franklin Roosevelt. He won, of course, very handily. In 1944, sixty-four per cent. of all United States newspapers predicted the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt, and he repeated his victory of the previous election. Today, about sixty per cent. of United States newspapers are predicting that Mr. Truman will be defeated— yet Mr. Truman is attracting large and often enthusiastic audiences.

To observers outside the United States, it would seem that the newspapers of that country are using sound judgment in predicting that Mr. Truman will be defeated— which was not true in the case of Mr. Roosevelt's two campaigns. Mr. Truman faces handicaps not faced by Mr. Roosevelt. There is a serious cleavage in his party, which may possibly be mended if Southern Democrats suddenly realize they are helping to vote themselves out of office. The Democratic Party has also lost the votes of the extreme left, which will now go to Mr. Wallace. It goes to the country with a rather spotty administrative record, due partly to the fact that the Republicans have controlled Congress during the past two years. Perhaps the greatest handicap of all is the fact that the Democrats have been in power for sixteen years.

With all these things in their favour, it will be strange if the Republicans cannot win with two such leaders as Governor Dewey of New York and Governor Warren of California. The remarkable success of Mr. Truman's present tour, however, seem to indicate that the many predictions of a Republican landslide are more the product of wishful thinking than of sound judgment.

Table Talk.

A mild stir was caused in Britain recently when an American visitor asserted that the food shortage had adversely affected the quality of English mealtime conversation. We have pondered this matter, and we do not really think that the quality of the food offered at a meal has anything to do with the conversation which accompanies it. We recall that when we were of public school age the school nurse taught us the following round, to be sung to the tune of Row, Row, Row Your Boat:

Chew, chew, chew your food
Gaily through the meal;
The more you eat, the more you laugh.
The better you will feel.

The great fault of this indoctrination was that the school nurse failed to tell the parents about it. As the parents of most of the children with whom we were acquainted liked to eat in solemn silence this seed fell upon stony ground, and for years we bolted our food whole, and never laughed at table, as a protest against it.

Canadians, in the main, do not talk much as they eat, and they would not dream of talking brilliantly at table; such conduct might impede the important business of consuming aliment in the shortest possible time. It has been said by a student of our national manners that Canadians dine between 12:05 and 12:10 a.m. and sup between 6:05 and 6:10 p.m. Obviously there is not much time for chit-chat if the deadline is to be met.

Another thing the school nurse told us was that gloomy or disturbing topics should not be discussed at meals. Again she forgot to explain this to parents, who chose mealtimes for short lectures on our social and moral shortcomings, and for examination of our school reports. Much that is morose in the Canadian nature may be traced to this early association between meals and trouble.

No one has ever explained to us satisfactorily why food and good conversation should be mixed. Perhaps the Canadian instinct which keeps them apart is a sound one. Certainly Horace Walpole did not think so, for it was he who wrote: "Sparkling talk diminishes as the meal progresses . . . I am rather inclined to think that conversation is at its best where there is a need for food. Hunger sharpens the wit." Quite true. And food dulls it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Canadian boy is reported to be whistling at girls at the age of five months. He'll burn himself out early.

We are interested to read in the annual report of Canada Packers that the firm paid $1,500,000 in the form of profit-sharing bonuses to its employees; it paid $1,000,000 in dividends to its shareholders. This is an aspect of private enterprise which is rarely mentioned by those who seek to destroy it.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

ONE of the strangest orders ever received by a bookshop is described in Hatchards Of Piccadilly. Hatchards, the famous London firm, founded at the turn of the 18th century, were paid a visit by Cecil Rhodes, who lost no time getting down to business. On his last voyage from the Cape his favourite reading had been Gibbon's Decline And Fall Of The Roman Empire, and he had been so much impressed by the grasp and scope of Gibbon's narrative that he had resolved to form a collection of books to consist as far as possible of all the authorities used by Gibbon in writing his history. He had just purchased, he said, an old Dutch farmhouse on the slopes of Table Mountain. He was remodelling it and intended to have one large room set apart for books.

❖ ❖ ❖

RHODES insisted that all the books should be in English. In spite of his Oxford degree he was no classical scholar, and he wanted the books to be accessible to all. When informed that many of the authorities used by Gibbon had never been translated into English, he insisted that they must be now. A staff of scholars must be hired at once at any cost.

❖ ❖ ❖

THUS began one of the most ambitious undertakings ever accepted by a private firm. It was agreed that it was to be handled throughout by Hatchards, and the work was to be kept a close secret. This was certainly done; only three men and one woman shared the secret for six years and, of these two of the men are dead and the one woman — a grand-daughter of Charles Dickens—committed suicide when the work was scarcely begun. One copy only of each work was to be typed upon the best paper obtainable.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT was by no means easy to find translators—the story continues—for most of the Greek texts were in language which would have seemed very strange to Plato or Euripides. However good progress was made for a time and then things began to go wrong. Rhodes had not realized in the least that so many of the authorities cited by Gibbon were Apostolic Apologists, Post-Nicene Greek and Latin Fathers, some of them as late as A.D. 600. He had not bargained for so much theology: what interested him was the Imperial Idea. So the scheme was modified into a series of the Lives of the Caesars.

❖ ❖ ❖

THEN—and this is so typical of the great Imperialist's restless character — he became interested in the ruins of Zimbabwe and wanted all the books it was possible to obtain upon the early history of Africa and the gold-mining enterprises of the Phoenicians. "If you want more money you can always get it from Werher, Beit and Co." It is sad to reflect that the magnificent enterprise was never to be carried to a conclusion. Before he was fifty, Rhodes died and no other South African millionarie came forward with an extra ten thousand pounds. But many translations were made and the whole collection of some hundreds of volumes is now in place in the library of Groote Schuur, just as Rhodes intended it to be.

THE circumstances under which Good-Bye Mr. Chips, the key which unlocked the door of Hilton's fame, was written are described by Ellery Sedgwick, former editor of Atlantic Monthly, in his autobiography The Happy Profession Heretofore— "Hilton had met little but discouragement. During ten years of really desperate devotion to his art he told me that not more than four hundred pounds had come from the most rewarding of them. His finances were precarious, and it was for him a stroke of great good fortune when he was sent for by the editor of an evangelical family paper, the "British Weekly". Behold the way Providence contrives."

"The Christmas issue of the Weekly— Sedgwick continues—full of bright pictures of the triumph of virtue, would not quite come together. There was a gap of four or five many columned pages. The editor asked Hilton to fill it, and to fill it within a very few days. The case was urgent for the deadline was at hand and the reward would be proportionate — fifty pounds. Now fifty pounds was a windfall without parallel in Hilton's career. He thought intently, and then and there, as he thought, there rose before him the picture of a beloved schoolmaster. It was like a revelation."

PAUL Cambon, the greatest, perhaps, of all French Ambassadors to the Court of St. James', whose letters have just been published, visited Glasgow when Raymond Poincare was elected Rector of Glasgow University. Cambon, according to a story in a recent issue of Scotland, had some bad hours. "At Glasgow," he wrote to his son, "Poincare could not be moved from his determination to deliver, or rather to read, a great speech in a hall into which 5,000 hearers were crammed, including all the students of the University, the most—but it sounds better in French—'les plus bruyant et les plus brutaux' of all the English and Scottish universities, he believed. Imagine our apprehension, for Poincare had learned English just for the occasion. We tried to make him understand the risk he took; the Vice Chancellor trembled visibly. But we were all deceived; Poincare read very clearly a well-constructed speech; his pronunciation was pretty dreadful, but he was understood and he had a total success." It is nice to reflect that once one was both "bruyant" and "brutal", but capable all the same, in spite of Ambassadorial doubts, of rising to an occasion.

❖ ❖ ❖

PUNCTUATION can play tricks with the meaning of words. A puzzled young Glasgow soldier, stationed with his wife in Germany, is wondering if an absence of punctuation can sometimes produce a more truthful reading. He regularly receives letters from his wife's mother. She ends them. "May God protect you from your ever-loving mother-in-law."

Autumn Scene at Garden Hill, Cavan.

AUTUMN COMES TO GARDEN HILL with corn in shock, tomatoes ripening on the vines and hay stacked beside the barn; a windbreak of willows holds September heat in the sheltered field.

Beautiful But Dangerous

(MONTREAL STAR)

THE American Automobile Association, meeting in New York, has voiced a complaint most motorists will subscribe to. Stated briefly, it is that car styling has taken the place of automotive engineering. The result is beautiful cars, but also more accidents and more expense to the motorist.

Time was when a driver could see where he was going. He could see the road right ahead of him and knew where his right front wheel was running. Not so today. Long hoods, under which the comparatively tiny motorist crouches in spacious grandeur, combined with low seats from which he has to crane his neck to see out the windshield, reduce vision. High fenders make it impossible to see the right side of the road and every time one motorist passes another two men drive in fear that the right front wheel is too near the ditch (and there are plenty of ditches along Quebec roads) for comfort.

The bumper used to stand out from the car to provide a cushion between it and shock. Now it is solidly attached to the frame itself and the frame takes any shock. And the extension of the hood and the installation of expensive grill work has made salesmen work overtime trying to get the motorist to buy extra gadgets to protect the grill. The properly protected car often looks like some new weapon of an armored brigade.

This doesn't exhaust the list of the Auto Association's complaints. A slight accident to a bumper too often involves replacement of the whole, and where fenders are built into the body and of a piece with it, fender repairs become a major operation and almost as costly.

Much of the burden of the Association's complaint is about the high cost of repairs. The pre-war job of fender repair that cost $5 ten years ago now costs $25. And there are too many gadgets to break and pay for.

Then, of course, there is the used car that is better than the new — more expensive, anyway.

This is one field in which the utilitarian should be placed ahead of the merely beautiful.

Let Them Howl, Said Mitch

(HAMILTON SPECTATOR)

"WE'RE not going to budge one iota, and they can howl their heads off!"

Brave words—in 1935—but stabbing irony now. For this was then Premier Mitchell Hepburn's defiant shout at those people in Ontario who were profoundly concerned over his attempt to repudiate contracts entered into by the Ontario Hydro Commission for power from the Province of Quebec.

Demagoguery held the driver's seat. Ranting at a manipulating financial octopus drowned out any sane approach to an issue that held Ontario's industrial fate on balance. Hon. Arthur Roebuck, Hepburn's twin barnstormer, blazed away at the "sacrifice of the systems to those interested in the financial operations of the power barons of Quebec".

Hepburn praised this picture of the "whole terrible situation" that had developed under Conservative administration. The cool, experienced counsel of men like Frederick A. Gaby, who had been Sir Adam Beck's right-hand man, was drowned in the clamor. Few registered on his admonition that "eventually the new growth of industry in the province... will bring about a balance between power purchased and power supplied to local consumers".

The contracts were repudiated; later inadequately patched up when the full extent of the damage registered even on politicians.

Thirteen years later the chickens have come home to roost. Neither our swift war and postwar manufacturing expansion; the summer drought and delay in construction can compare with the damage done by this original political act of sabotage.

Everywhere Ontario streets at night are darkening, householders face severe cuts and hundreds of thousands of tons of cement are being rushed from urgently-needed construction to dam-building for Hydro plants.

Over the next two or three years a million horsepower will be added to our resources. In the meantime it will be the duty of every citizen in Ontario to help keep factories going—for this is the first and most important objective.

Waste of power must not now be allowed to impair the earnings of Ontario workers, as political cancellation of sound and valuable contracts once cost this province its pride and good name and set back the development of power resources which Beck and Gaby considered so essential to Ontario's future well-being.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God....

And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal....

And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth ... And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. (Rev. 21: 1-3, 9-11, 16, 23.)

Growing of Tobacco In Durham County Rapidly Becoming a Major Industry

By NICK NICKELS

The next time you casually light up a cigarette, stop for a moment and consider a few interesting things. According to vital statistics, Canadians per capita smoked 1,255 cigarettes in 1945 and consumption has increased considerably during the last three years. It has also increased for those who puff cigars or pipes, roll their own or use snuff.

One thing is certain. The tobacco you smoke is Canadian-grown and a portion of the general product is grown not more than 35 miles from Peterborough in Durham County in the Ganaraska Watershed district.

We went out looking for this Canadian Carolina the other day and drove south to Bewdley, and west to Garden Hill. A lady who runs the general store stood beside a "No Smoking" sign and asked us if we were aiming to buy some tobacco land. We said we were not in the market at the moment but would be interested in seeing the sights in the tobacco belt. The winding dirt road led south to the hamlet of Osaca and along the way several farms had large greenhouses near their barns and from four to seven tar paper-covered kilns set back in the fields, some of them belching coal smoke from their tall chimneys. Some groups of kilns were surrounded by acres of green tobacco plants, the pink and white flowers adding a note of colour to rows of tobacco.

We finally drove into a neat looking farm whose five out of six kilns were in the firing stage. They belonged to McNall Irwin and if we expected to see some nabob riding around his plantation on a fine horse, the illusion was dispelled when we asked a burly man in the tobacco barn where the boss was. He was our man and he very kindly gave some of his precious time to explain quickly what the tobacco business amounted to in his district.

Except for about six weeks of the year, from the middle of February on, tobacco growing calls for more labour than any other type of farming. Sometime in March the Flue-Cured Tobacco Growers Association advises each grower the number of acres he will be allowed to plant and with this knowledge in mind, we will use Mr. Irwin's program as a typical example. His alloted acreage this year was 32½ and he purchased two and one-half OUNCES, of seed, equalling the weight of 60 cigarettes, for his compete planting requirements. The seed sown in his greenhouse early in April and when sprouted produced over 300,000 seedlings which were planted at the ratio of 8,000 per acre when they had reached eight inches in height.

Planting with a tractor-drawn machine from which two men dropped the seedlings in rows, took place round May 24, of after the last frost. Plants grow quickly with the broad green leaves forcing out in pairs from the single stalk, the pink and white crown flowers are nipped off and in their place suckers reach out and up from the leaf bases which in turn have to be cut, at least twice in a growing season, to divert plant food back into the leaves. If the plants survive cutw orms in the seedling stage and horn worms before the leaves start to ripen, harvesting starts before mid-August.

The bottom leaves start to ripen first, showing a light green mottled effect, and being soil splashed from summer rains, the grade is not the best. The upper leaves come along quickly to the ripening stage and are soon ready for priming, they do not call it picking. The crop must be covered from seven to eight times by the priming crews since the leaves mottle at variable intervals. Primers are experts and in conjunction with sorting teams, work on a drying kiln pay basis. Southern European, Rice Lake Indian and Canadian primers usually stay with a farmer for a whole season, depending of course, on how abundant the crop is and how well they fare at the owner's table.

Tobacco leaves are gathered from the priming crews in the fields in horse-drawn "boats" and taken to sorting tables where a crew of young women sort them into "hands", five leaves, and give them to one of their number who ties them deftly onto sticks, with twine. A full stick, containing 30 "hands" weighs about 25 pounds and the laden sticks are piled in green mounds beside kiln lofts for handling crews to place in the crossbars of the loft. The kiln is packed tightly with about 1,200 sticks, and there is just room to hang the last few sticks on the racks by the hinged side doors from the outside. As soon as the kiln is filled it is ready for firing.

Most of the tobacco farms in the Ganaraska watershed are share-cropped which means, small growers work owner's fields for a 50-50 return. Mr. Irwin's, on the contrary, is privately owned. He has six tar paper-covered kilns on his property, the basement of each containing two coal-fired furnaces and an intricate installation of hot air heating pipes. It is in these buildings that tobacco is "made" and it requires the supervision of experts who have been in the business all their lives. The curing is done on the Irwin farm this year by George Winborne of Bailey, North Carolina.

Mr. Winborne is spending his third curing season on the Irwin farm and his work is hard and exacting. For 18 hours a day, he fires the furnaces to produce enough heat in constant quantities to bring the tightly-packed kiln loft from 25-pound sticks of green tobacco to uniform yellowed leaves that have shrunk to about three pounds per stick. The process cannot be hurried to the point of drying the leaves too quickly or crisply and often steam has to be applied to keep the leaves pliable. High winds are the curse of firing a kiln properly and can slow up the curing process or spoil it altogether. As Canadians become more expert in their new agricultural adventure, they will learn and take over the secrets of curing from men like Mr. Winborne.

After the curing has been completed "sticks" are stored in the pack barn where they are given an initial grading by the owner. Inspectors from the four large Canadian tobacco companies and one from the Marketing Board make their visits by the time the barn has become well-filled and from then on there are discussions of buying prices until a satisfactory price is arrived at by one of the companies who usualy take the whole crop.

Labour from seeding to curing goes on through the season as long as there is daylight and even after the crop is sold there are weeks and months of stripping the hands of tobacco from the pack barn storage, regrading and tying leaves into "dollies" so that they can be pressed and baled into 70-pound paper-covered units. The owner is then directed to truck his bales to processing plants in southwestern Ontario.

We heard all this while seated on aromatic bales in the pack barn and looked out the large door over the waving fields busy with priming crews and smoking kilns. The district is extending much farther each year in a belt east of Newcastle, north to Pontypool, south to Port Hope and east as far as Rice Lake. Mr. Irwin estimated he would have a 30-ton crop year and would received about 40 cents per pound for his thousands of man hours of labour in which a sudden hail storm, lasting two minutes, could wipe him out. We offered him a cigarette and sat puffing away and wondering how many millions of cigarettes the pack barn would yield, a job we will leave to some mathematical crank with a battery of adding machines and a ton or two of paper tape.

May Have New Plans To Aid Deep-Sea Shipping Industry

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 — (CP).—Announcement may be made next month of new plans by the Canadian Maritime Commission to come to the aid of the Dominion's shipbuilding and deep-sea shipping industry.

For several months now, the commission has been considering means of making it easier for Canadian ship operators to purchase tonnage from Canadian yards, and also to operate that tonnage in the face of keener foreign competition for cargoes.

One plan already adopted is to permit operators to sell abroad wartime vessels purchased relatively cheap from the government, provided the proceeds are earmarked for new purchases from Canadian builders. Originally, the ships had to be kept under Canadian industry.

A meeting of the commission's Advisory Committee representing labor and management on the shipping and building side is to be held in October, and plans for further aid may jell after that.

Mr. Pearson's Job.

A French-speaking diplomat may replace External Affairs Minister Pearson as Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs.

Reports are that both Mr. Pearson and Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent have agreed that the job should be held by a French-speaking person and that the names of several high-ranking diplomats have been discussed.

One source says that the appointment was offered to Jean Desy, Canadian Ambassador in Rome, but that Mr. Desy preferred to retain his current appointment.

The position of Under-Secretary is similar to that of Deputy-Minister, and is the highest Civil Service job in the department.

Possible Record

The number of beef cattle shipped from Canada to the United States since the embargo was lifted August 16, likely will hit the 100,000 mark next week. The cumulative total this week was 82,127.

The average movement of Canadian beef cattle arross the border before the war was around 200,000 a year although in some top years it rose to 400,000. However, it is beleived that 100,000 in less than two months is probably a record.

Bombers Gain Grid Win Over Panthers

ORILLIA, Sept. 27. — Orillia Bombers chalked up their second straight victory in the Intermediate ORFU race here on Saturday afteroon before 500 spectators. They downed Peterborough Panthers, 15 to 0. A week before they drubbed Oshawa Red Raiders, 14 to 1.

Orillia scored first in the second quarter when Jim Middleton carried the ball over the line and playing coach Bill McGill converted with a great placement kick. There was no further scoring until the final quarter when Orillia picked up another touchdown that put the game on ice. Don Cook tackled a Panther player behind his line for two points and George Story kicked a single.

Mush Bond was outstanding for the Orillia cause. Although Peterborough came close to the Orillia line at number of times, fumbles cost them scores. Doug Plunkett, who played for Cobourg the last two seasons, was one of the top men among the losers. The Panthers did not have much luck in the aair. One long forward bounced off an Orillia player and was caught by Bond who ran it back about 45 yards.

The teams:

Orillia—Snap, Newark; insides, McGill and Boorer; middles, Clark and Brown; outsides, Naismith and C. Cook; quarter, Milligan; flying wing, White; halves, Storey, Ross and Bond. Alternates, Caldwell, Middleton, J. Cooke, Russell, Good, Leith, McIntyre, Street, Bond, Woodrow, Thornton and French.

Peterborough— Snap, Ouimet; insides, Coughlin and Marshall; middles, Curtin and Beatty; outsides, McGillis and Conlin; flying wing, J. Conlin; quarter, Matthews; halves, Plunkett, Smith and Trimm. Alternates, Burns, Fitzgerald, Davidson, Van Allen, Hodson, Gardiner and Board.

Officials—A. F. Smith, D. McTavish and R. Drew.

Orillia Ousted By Juves In OLA Series

At Miller Bowl on Saturday afternoon a fair-sized audience witnessed a thrill-packed juvenile lacrosse playoff which saw Peterborough defeat Orillia 13 to 5. Despite the score the game was close. Only in the last quarter, when Petes scored six while holding the visitors scoreless, were the local supporters able to relax.

This win gave Peterborough the round 20 to 13 and the right to advance another step along the path for the Ontario juvenile "B" championship.

With one team facing elimination play was fast and furious with both out to build up an early lead, at the same time checking was very close as there is no love lost between these teams.

Orillia was out in front as the first quarter ended with the score of 2-1. Play was fairly even but the Petes couldn't quite hit the corners of the Orillia net. At the end of the second quarter the score was tied 3-all. As the third quarter ended Petes were out in front 6 to 5.

Got Rougher

It was still anyone's game as the fourth quarter started and play roughened up as checking became close. Garry Robinson received two nasty cuts and had to retire for repairs. Previous to this Robinson couldn't seem to find the Orillia net, however on returning to the game his shooting improved to the extent of five goals in a row. Crowley also notched one to put the Petes well out in front. Orillia came back fast and furious particularly when Beavis received a five-minute penalty for roughing. Hickson in goal for Petes turned them back in fine style.

All the Petes played well and showed considerable improvement in backchecking. Hard checking by Beavis and Lagana helped to slow up the Orillia forwards. Robinson led the goal scorers with five while Crowley and Heffernan each had four. For Orillia, Joseph, Fagan and Childerhose were outstanding.

Petes: Hickson, Lagana, Heffernan, Crowley, Farley, Foster, Crowder, Carveth, Hickson, Payne Robinson, Beavis.

Orillia: Kehoe, B. Kehoe, Joseph, Fagan, Middleton, Childerhose, Martin, Hill, Birch, Groves, Hammel Holder.

Referee: Jack Foote.

Petes Ousted By Staffs In 12-11 Fray

Staffords nudged out the Petes 12-11 at Riverside on Saturday before a big crowd to take their OBA senior "A" semi-final series in three straight games. It was a long, loose affair with Staffs leading after the first frame but the Petes driving late to make it close. Local errors cost the contest as the score on earned runs was 10-8 for the Murphyites.

Gunner Whitehill didn't have it Saturday and he was hit hard till Bill Edger relief in the fifth. Bill went a bit better but was also hit pretty hard by the lusty Torontо thumpers, and neither pitcher got good backing. Johnny Krycia of Staffs was driven out in the first inning, and Joe Spring threw in fairly steady fashion the rest of the route. He had better support both in the field and with timely hitting by Staffords to get the close win.

Four In Four

Spring helped his own cause considerably at bat with four in four, including a triple and a double. Krycia, Hassard, Goberis and Short also banged the apple hard. Edger drove in three for the locals with a double and single in three, while Dalton got a triple, double and single in five, and Foley a triple and double in four.

A walk, singles by Crowe and Edwardson, with Foley's triple meant three Petes' runs in the first. Foley doubled in the third and scored on a hit by Menzies. Dalton singled in the fourth and raced around on a double by Garvey. Dalton tripled in the sixth to come in on a wild pitch. They added three in the eight on two walks and doubles by Edger and Dalton. Two more scored in the ninth on a walk and singles by Pagett and Edger. But Toronto meantime had hammered away to roll up a good lead, and it held by a run at the finish.

Canadian Open Title Goes to Tacoma Golfer

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 — (CP). — A golfer, known as one of the best pressure players in the Pacific northwest, today is the 1948 Canadian Open champion.

Charles (Chuck) Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., won the $2,000 top money Saturday with a scintillating display of "the-chips-are-down" shooting.

Dapper Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., who led the field for the first three days, dropped five strokes to Congdon on the final 18 holes to go into a three-way tie for second place and $1,066 apiece with Vic Ghezzie of Englewood, N.J. and Ky Laffoon of Chicago. They all had 283s.

Ashby's were eliminated here Saturday in PWSU junior playdowns by Toronto DuVals, but put up a swell scrap first. Down one game, they even it up with a 2-1 thriller in the afternoon with the McFadden sisters the heroines. Doris pitched fine ball and scored the tying run ahead of Evelyn, who homered in the eighth. But the nightcap saw DuVals show superiority to win 8-3. A. Fowler again pitched nice ball—she had thrown a dandy in the first—and her backing was perfect, while Ashby's slipped in this one. B. Reid threw a four-hitter after relieving D. McFadden in the first frame. Well, Ashby's had a good season at that.

Staffs Rub Out Petes

And the Petes' baseballers were rubbed out in three straight by Toronto Staffords here, each by one run. It was a lengthy and loose joust Saturday with the locals' late drive not enough as they lost 12-11. Gunner Whitehill didn't have his stuff working right this time and Bill Edger, who went better in a relief role, was also nicked fairly hard. Neither had good support. Krycia was chased early and Joe Spring finished in fair style, getting good support. And 19 hits, including some extra-basers. Staffs are a good squad and deserved the series.

The men o'Murphy needn't feel disgraced in bowing by close games to the TBA champions. Locals didn't look strong at all as they started the season but they got good pitching generally and hit well to take the COBL title and, with some bolstering next year, will go even better. Spring led his side at bat with four for four, including a triple and double. Edger gave it the old college try with two in three, one a double, to drive in three and he was aboard with the tying run at the end. Dalton and Foley also hit well. A few changes in the '49 lineup and a good southpaw twirler would make a whale of a difference. And that wraps up the local baseball season till next spring.

Two Neat Grid Games

Quite a few grid fans at the Oval on Saturday aft to see PCVS pry off the lid with two exhibitions against Riverdales of Toronto. The visitors eked out wins in both tilts but they were close and Coaches Goulding and Londry seem to have their Collegiate squads clicking in nearly mid-season form already. Senior scrap went to Toronto 14-12 as both teams turned it on. Green, Swanston, Northcott, LaPlante, Thomson and Graham all showed up well for the PCI-ers. And our juniors lost 19-15 in another neat number. Griffin, Evans, Grant and Armstrong caught the eye but they all went good. Yeah, the PCVS teams will do okay this semester, we imagine. SPS and PVCS juniors play at 3.30 in the Oval on Wednesday aft.

Just to make it almost a clean sweep in reverse for Peterborough teams Saturday, Orillia Bombers took a 15-0 ORFU victory over the Panthers on the Orillia field before 500 customers. They had taken Oshawa's Red Raiders 14-1 in an exhibition the week before, so must be considered plenty potent in this group. At that, the Panthers were within striking distance several times for major counts but fumbles beat them. And their aerial attack didn't click too well. Doug Plunkett played a bangup game throughout and several others were prominent but the club will have to get in some stiff practicing this week to be set for the test away this week-end. More on them again.

Minors Take Series

Two of our three minor OLA teams came through on Saturday here with flying colors, while our midget lads dropped a 13-7 decision to St. John's of Toronto. They finish their series away tonight. Clapper's Cubs beat Orillia 11-6 to take the bantam series, while the local juveniles ousted Orillia 13-5, round score being 20 to 13. Both Peterborough teams had been down a goal from previous tussles up Orillia way, but earned their rounds at Miller Bowl with fine lacrosse on Saturday. They await further word now. Meantime, the bantams drill tonight at 6.30 in the Bowl, and the peewees—who are in a tourney with Fergus at New Toronto on Saturday—workout at six Wednesday p.m. The senior "B" Petes play in Huntsville tomorrow.

Montreal Wins Playoff Starter

MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—(CP). —Both semi-final series in the International League playoffs went the limit of seven games before a winner was decided, and now Syracuse Chiefs and Montreal Royals appear headed for a long and hard battle before one club emerges on top with the Governor's Cup.

Royals won the opener of the best-of-seven Saturday night 9-8 in a game that went 10 innings before 16,294 fans. Sunday 21,112 rabid Royal rooters—largest crowd of the season—crammed every corner of the ball park to watch their heroes drop a 5-2 decision to the pesky Chiefs. An estimated 5,000 more were turned away Sunday.

Timely home run belts in the late innings were the deciding factors in both week-end games.

Big Chuck Connors, Montreal first baseman who tied a league record by hitting three grand slam homers during the regular season, rapped out the most sensational four-bagger.

A ninth inning homer by Frank Davis that scored two mates in front of him helped the Chiefs erase a one-run deficit in Sunday's game. They added three for good measure to take the contest 5-2 and even the series.

Riverdale Defeats PCVS In Two Neat Grid Frays

By FRED MAYBEE

Riverdale seniors defeated PCVS 14-12 in the nightcap of an exhibition twin bill of Collegiate football at the Oval Saturday. Bev. Goulding's boys led 12-8 in the fourth quarter, but a great pass by Rogers to Matthews from the locals' 15-yard line early in that stanza turned defeat to victory for Toronto as Carmichael converted to give his team a two-point lead.

Wally Graham kicked for a single as PCVS worked to the Riverdale 20-yard line early in the first quarter and Lowes nailed Froud hard behind the line. Later Green kicked another, but an offside nullified the play. At the 11-minute mark Graham took the ball over after a tough struggle around the visitors' end. The convert failed. A high snap to Graham gave Riverdale possession on the locals' 35, and Green barely got out as Carmichael hoisted a long punt from the 45, well behind the line.

Scored Early

Riverdale scored early in the second as Carmichael tossed a quick pass across the line from the five to King, but failed to convert. Both teams took to the air, and Green, Northcott and Swanston led their mates to match the best the visitors could offer in this department. Another high snap to La Plante lost possession on the locals' 15, and on third down Green was rouged on an attempted placement, to tie the score.

A blocked kick gave Riverdale a safety touch late in that quarter for two points, but Peterborough added six as Northcott took a pass from Green to circle right end after a series of passing and plunging plays and a 10-yard roughing penalty. Green converted. An intercepted forward offset another nice pass from Green to Northcott to the visitors' 25, but Green stopped Carmichael with the best tackle of the game on Peterborough's 15-yard line. As the fourth quarter began, however, Riverdale capitalized on their scoring opportunity as Rogers tossed his pay-off shot. For the visitors, Carmichael shone, as did Froud, Matthews and Rogers, while Kanteroff and Rogers defended well. For PCVS, Green, Graham, Swanston, Northcott, La Plante and Thomson were best on the attack, as Lowes played a fine game at middle. The team as a whole looked good.

Riverdale Srs. — Flying wing, King; halves, Gibbons, Carmichael, Froud; quarter, Hughes; snap, Rogers; insides, Bryan, Kanteroff; middles, Shallhorn, Robertson; outsides, Matthews, Miller; alternates, Stoyan, Cridland, Henshaw, Mills, Renwick, Hawkins, Chambers, Traynor, Murphy, Flaherty Palmer, Speck, Shanor, Thane.

PCVS Srs.—Flying wing, Sargent; halves, Graham, Thompson, La Plante; quarter, Green; snap, Stacey; insides, Hempstead, Buck; middles, Beavis, Lowes; outsides, Swanston, Grainger; alternates, Woodcock, Fitzpatrick, Coon, Hamblin, Welsh, Payne, Northcott, Wright, Lane, English.

GOOD GAME

PCVS juniors lost an early lead and a hard-fought struggle 19-15 to Riverdale in sunshine, before a fine crowd.

Riverdale fumbled early in the first and Ted Evans fell on the ball on a boot behind the line from the 35 for a major score. Conversion failed. The visitors fought back, and were rewarded at Dick Hollaman tossed a neat forward pass from the local 25 to Cec. Hoover, to take the lead as Ellis converted. A nifty 55-yard run by Griffin was called back by Referee McComb for illegal blocking behind the line as Don intercepted a pass and thought of Merriwell as he eluded the field quarter, Hollaman; snap, J. Wilson; insides, Bergar, O'Zawa; middles, Quigley, Quinn; outsides, Hoover, See; alternates, H. Wilson, Birke, Riley, Beaumont, Stoyan, Johnson, Tiplady, Cartwright, Snowden, Smith, Pym, Fulcher, Bruce, Sokolowsky.

Peterborough — Flying wing, Finn; halves, Armstrong, Young, Brown; quarter, Griffin; snap, Frise; insides, Grant, Knox; middles, Evans, Jopling; outsides, Braund, Burns; alternates, Hall, McIlraith, White, Jensen, Darrell, Ackford, Fowler, Wood, Scriver, Langhorne, Gandy, Facendi.

Referee—McComb.
Umpire—Duncan.
Head linesman—Ferrier.

Tigers Win 3 Straight

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—(CP).—Hamilton Tigers Saturday night chalked up their third straight victory over Mimico Mounties, 16-10, in suburban Mimico. The fourth game of their best-of-seven final series for the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior crown will be played tonight in Hamilton.

Nanjo Singh Tackles Doc In Semi-Final Mat Bout

The Masked Marvel and the Polish Giant Waldyslaw Talun, collide in the main bout in the Brock Arena on Wednesday night and the results may write a little wrestling history in this neighborhood. The six-foot eight-inch Talun thinks he can "wrop heem op", meaning he can flatten the Mask. The Warsaw Wrecker is so big and so strong that there are few wrestlers who care to take him on. If he can beat and de-hood the Marvel here he will be just about the most popular wrestler around. It should be rugged grappling while it lasts.

Another high-temperature fracas should result when Dr. Ed Meske meets Nanjo Singh; the Calcutta Cut-up, in the semi-final. Singh is the most un-predictable wrestler of them all but Meske knows most of the answers, also. Billy Stack gets the chance against the spectacular Bobby Becker of California in the third bout.

NANJO SINGH

FLYING FORTS—Known as the "Flying Forts" line because they all hail from Fort William, Ont., this forward line topped all others in NHL scoring last winter and will shoot for the same record this season with Chicago Black Hawks. Traded to Chicago by Toronto Maple Leafs, they are left to right, Bud Poile, Gus Bodnar and Gaye Stewart, now training at North Bay.

Ashby's Beaten By Du Vals In Third Game

Ashby's bowed out to Toronto DuVals in PWSU junior playoffs here Saturday, but not without putting up a fine fight. After Ashby's lost the opener in Toronto by one run, these fine young squads clashed in the Bowl during the afternoon, and Ashby's evened the series with a 2-1 thrilling victory. They resumed at night but DuVals deserved an 8-3 win and the series before a good gallery.

The afternoon playoff was a dandy as Doris McFadden and A. Fowler hooked up in a hurling duel. Doris threw a six-hitter and fanned seven, as her opponent gave up four hits and whiffed nine, there being few walks and good fielding on both sides. Ashby's won in the eighth when J. Dunk singled, was forced at second by D. McFadden, and Evelyn McFadden clouted a two-run homer. M. Freeman, J. Dunk, B. Ismer and O. Kruk all went good defensively, and M. Freeman had the feature catch in tha ninth. E. McFadden and J. Lalonde led the hitters with two apiece. The teams:

DuVals — B. Eisner, rf; B. Clarke, 3b; J. Gulz, ss; S. Kitchen, 1b; A. Fowler, p; J. Lalonde, 2b; O. Kruk, cf; H. Hopenek, lf; J. O'Sullivan, c.

Rubbed Out

The same pitchers started the nightcap but Ashby's were rubbed out early, as it turned out. D. McFadden ran into trouble in the initial inning and it was too late when B. Reid took over. She pitched swell ball, going in in the first inning with the bases loaded and keeping them from scoring, except for two runs later on. A. Fowler pitched steady ball for DuVals and had perfect support, as Ashby's booted four. There were few strikeouts or walks and the hitting was pretty even. S. Kitchen, H. Hopenek, B. Reid, M. Freeman and D. Callan all fielded well. J. Lalonde and J. Gulz each had two hits for Toronto and A. Fowler banged a homer. D. Manley got two hits for Ashby's, and M. Freeman and B. Reid each banged out a homer. B. Reid gave up but four hits. The teams:

Ashrby's — E. McFadden, 2b; J. Reynolds, c; E. Simmons, 3b; M. Freeman, cf; D. Manley, ss; G. Dracup, lf; B. Reid, p; D. Callan, rf; J. Dunk, 1b; D. McFadden, p, lf.

DuVals—P. Eiser, rf; A. Woodworth, rf; B. Clarke, 3b; J. Gulz, ss; S. Kitchen, 1b; A. Fowler, p; J. Lalonde, 2b; O. Kruk, cf; H. Hopenek, lf; J. O'Sullivan, c.

Cleveland Leading Race To Meet Boston Braves In World Series

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sport Writer

Boston Braves are "in" and Cleveland Indians are brushing their feet on the welcome mat spread for the American League's entry in the 1948 world series.

Billy Southworth's Braves gained admittance to the world series Sunday when they clinched their first National League pennant since 1914.

The Indians moved a game in front of the runner-up Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the tension-jammed American League race. Cleveland, behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of Bobby Feller, downed the Detroit Tigers 4-1 while the Yanks dumped the Red Sox 6-2 in the third game of their cut-throat series.

If the Indians win three of their remaining five games, the Sox or the Yankees would have to win all their five to beat out Cleveland.

All Home Games

The Red Sox, although they have lost three out of their last four games, are in a better position to overhaul the Indians than the defending world champion Yankees who finish out on the road. Boston and Cleveland play at home for the rest of the season.

Feller was supreme. The big righthander, in bagging his sixth straight victory and 18th of the year, fanned nine and didn't walk a batter. Joe Gordon gave Feller a working margin when he hammered Hal Newhouser for his 31st homer with a mate on in the third inning. Newhouser, seeking his 20th win, was tagged with his 12th loss.

A capacity crowd of 69,755 fans watched by the Yankees make it two out of three over the floundering Sox at the Yankee Stadium. Tommy Henrich sent the Yankees off to a good start when he socked his 25th homer with Phil Rizzuto on base in the first inning off Lefty Mel Parnell. The Yankees sewed it up in the third with two more runs.

Southpaw Tommy Byrne stymied the Sox on five hits in recording his sixth straight victory and eighth of the year. Meanwhile, Boston is toasting the Braves, particularly Bob Elliott, Vern Bickford and Nels Potter and of course Southworth.

Giants Step Down

The Braves assured themselves of the National League flag by nosing out New York Giants 3-2 on Elliott's three-run first-inning homer off Larry Jansen. Bickford blanked the Giants until the eighth when he faltered and gave up two runs. Potter stepped in the breach, snuffed out the rally and safeguarded the slender margin the remaining distance.

Boston is six games ahead of the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers. The Braves have six games to play and the Dodgers five.

The Dodgers turned back Philadelphia Phillies 5-1 to protect their half-game lead over the third-place St. Louis Cardinals. Gene Hermansky's two-run triple and a homer by Roy Campanella was all the batting support Ralph Branca needed in posting his 14th victory.

St. Louis, behind, the four-hit pitching of Lefty Al Brazle, stopped Chicago Cubs, 8-2. Pittsburgh Pirates banged their way to within a half-game of the Cards by taking a twin bill from Cincinnati Reds 8-6 and 8-5. Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner blasted his 40th homer to highlight the nightcap triumph.

In the remaining American League game Randy Gumpert pitched the last-place Chicago White Sox to a six-hit 3-0 triumph over St. Louis Browns.

PC Delegates To Convention To Represent Many Callings

BY D'ARCY O' DONNELL

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—The fisherman, the farmer and the financier will rub shoulders with politicians, soldiers, sportsmen, newspaper men and others at the forthcoming national convention of the Progressive Conservative Party.

When delegates from all parts of the country gather in Ottawa's sprawling coliseum Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2 they will find among their numbers men and women from practically all walks of life.

Among the ex-officio delegates will be three holders of the Victoria Cross— Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, member of the Commons for Nanaimo in British Columbia, Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, member for Vancouver-Burrard, and Maj. John Foote, the Port Hope army Padre who now is a member of the Ontario Legislature.

From the sports world will come Conny Smythe, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey club and a personal friend of Premier Drew. Mr. Drew is one of the candidates for the leadership, which John Bracken, 65, is giving up.

Oldest Delegate

Several newspapers publishers will attend as delegates, but the dean of them all will be P. D. Ross, 91-year-old publisher of the Ottawa Journal. An estimated 300 newspaper men, radio station personnel and camerman will cover proceedings at the convention.

The farming representation will include P. D. McArthur of Howick, Que., a prominent Ayrshire Breeder and a former president of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada. There will be fishermen among delegates from British Columbia and the Maritimes.

The politicians will include men such as Joseph Harris, Toronto soap manufacturer, who has represented the Ontario riding of Danforth continuously since 1941. George Henry, former Premier of Ontario, will be a delegate along with H. H. Stevens of Vancouver, former Conservative cabinet minister and once a candidate for the party's leadership.

It is expected that all nine living previous contenders for the leadership will attend the convention.

Beside Mr. Harris and Mr. Stevens, they include John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan and once again a leadership candidaate, Murdoch MacPherson of Regina, J. Earl Lawson of Toronto, Denton Massey, Member of Commons for Toronto Greenwood, Howard Green member for Vancouver south, Sir Henry Drayton of Victoria and Mr. Bracken.

Snoring Delegates

As might be expected, the Organization in seven weeks of a convention which is expected to attract 3,000 peole has not been without humorous incident.

Men responsible for the organization have been able to forget some of their worries by glancing through replies to housing queries sent out to delegates.

The delegates were asked to share rooms and to indicate with whom they would like to share their accommodation. The latter part of the query proved a natural for wiseacres. Topping the list of comebacks was this:

"I will share my room with anyone who doesn't snore."

But there was another which ran along this line:

"If he will buy the liquor. I'll share my room."

Gets 15 Years

AMOS, Que., Sept. 27.—(CP).—Ubald Turpin, 49, of nearby Val d'Or, was convicted here Thursday on a reduced charge of manslaughter in connection with the hammer-slaying last January of his 45-year-old brother, Raoul. He was sentenced to 15 years in penitentiary.

TREE PLANTING IS a game of these Aussie kids of West Ivanhoe, Australia. Five hundred children from Ivanhoe schools turned out in full to plant 500 pine trees in the Darebin creek valley, near West Ivanhoe, recently. The ceremony of the tree planting was part of a projest in which the Heidelberg council proposed to plant trees for the three miles along the valley.

Catches 4 Pickerel Within 24 Hours

HASTINGS, Sept. 27 (ENS).—Reg. Scriver of Hastings caught a 6-pound pickerel on Thursday evening, and on Friday he caught three more, 25 inches, 21 inches, and 18 inches long respectively.

They were all caught while fishing from the bridge and with a plug that Mr. Scriver fished out of the river several days ago when his line caught.

Australian Bomb Explosion Will Rank Next A-Bombs

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 27 (Reuters).—One of the greatest single explosion of bombs, excluding the atom bomb, will take place at a Royal Australian Air Force dump in New Guinea during 1949.

The actual date of the explosion, known locally as "operation Little Bikini," has not yet been fixed.

Although dwarfed by the Royal Navy's explosion of 8,500 tons of bombs on Heligoland Island in April last year, the detonation of about 3,000 tons of bombs at the New Guinea dump is expected to cause earth and atmospheric disturbances which will provide science with valuable data.

Spread over an area of about three square miles, it is believed the dump will be exploded in a series of small explosion and one large detonation.

Used For Science

That the bombs are not being detonated merely to get rid of them is due primarily to P. L. Willmore, acting head of the Department of Experimental Geophysics at Cambridge University.

Willmore was a leading member of the British scientific team which used the Heligoland explosion for research into the earth's crust. When he heard that the RAAF planned to explode the dump, he suggested the explosion be used by science.

Seismographs will play an important part in the experiment and Willmore and other British scientists will be present. Although much of the information about the earth's crust in Europe and Asia still is tentative, even less is known about the earth's crust in the Pacific zone.

Wave impulses from the explosion are expected to penetrate between 30 and 40 miles into the earth and 25 to 30 miles into the upper atmosphere.

From the recordings, geophysicists expected to obtain data on the type and thickness of the strata, the presence of many formations containing oil.

3,000 Attend Pilgrimage Fort Ste. Marie

MIDLAND, Sept. 27. — More than 3,000 pilgrims from the Peterborough diocese visited the Martyrs' Shrine near here Sunday, when the Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough, sang Pontifical High Mass on the feast of the Canadian Martyrs.

Bishop Berry was assisted by Very Rev. Dean McAuley of Lindsay, Rev. R. Garvey, Rev. J. Killen, Rev. P. Butler, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, and Rev. J. Coughlan, who was master of ceremonies, all of Peterborough.

In the afternoon there was a mission-departure ceremony in honor of three white-garbed young Jesuits who are leaving soon for India. Two of them are from Nova Scotia, one a lay brother, and the other from Saskatchewan. The ceremony was conducted by Msgr. W. Davis of Toronto's St. Augustin's Seminary, and Very Rev. John L. Swain, Jesuit Provincial for Canada.

DUCKS FOR DINNER at Camp Cleveland on Pigeon Lake. Joe Cavalier, Cleveland is shown handing two blue-winged teal and a plump mallard to Paul Balint of Willoughby, Ohio. The party of five men got about 14 ducks, mallards, blacks, teal and one wood duck.

Veteran Hunters Disgusted Nimrods Spoil Duck Shoot

The big offensive, Operation Mallard, opened with a roar before daylight on Saturday morning north of Highway 7 and a general survey shows that hunters were very disappointed with results. In the first place there were too many hunters, too few ducks, too many green hunters bunched together near oldtimers with trigger-happy fingers and the weather was too fine to bring in large flocks from northern lakes to southern feeding grounds.

"It was all over in ten minutes," said veteran hunter Sidney Black today whose party went to Deer Bay. They say a few blacks and teal and quite a few wood ducks and were disgusted at the way some of the younger hunters kept popping away at the birds all through the day. "Most old timers will agree that shooting should be cut off at noon," continued Mr. Black. He intends to go to Pigeon Lake next weekend.

Al. Wilson and party went to Lake Katchawanooka and saw far more hunters than ducks, and what there were of them, wood duck that appeared to keep fairly well to the bush. There were the odd teal and on Saturday evening they tried their luck on the Pigeon River where they saw woods, teal, mallards and blacks. Not being satisfied with either place, they plan to go to Rice Lake for their next shoot.

A Camp Cleveland party on Pigeon Lake seemed to have scored the best bag and reported seven blacks, two blue-winged teal, four mallards, two marsh blue bills and one wood duck. Members of the party were Paul Balint, Willoughby, O., Jos. Cavalier, Arthur Pally, Frank Laurie and George Christiansen, all of Cleveland, Ohio.

American guests at lodges along Pigeon lake, report one hunter was using a .22 automatic rifle, and the lead slugs were singing across the water. Another hunter started his cannonading at exactly three o'clock in the morning, when other hunters were just starting for the marshes. He could not seen what he was shooting at but kept on wasting ammunition.

One hunter from Cleveland was sitting in a boat well camouflaged and had 24 decoys out. He claims that about 3.30 eleven ducks dropped among the decoys and the hunters could hear them feeding and splashing. They refused to start shooting because it was too early. All they got for their patience and sportsmanship was disappointment for some hunter in a nearby blind started to blast while it was still dark, and the ducks rose and departed.

Township School Closed By Polio

LINDSAY, Sept. 27 (Special)—The public school in School Section No. 8, Fenelon Township, has been closed as the result of two cases of polio.

According to C. W. Lees, school inspector, the 16 pupils who attend the school were sent home a week ago Thursday when the first case was discovered. The victim, Lila Swanston was taken to Toronto Isolation Hospital.

Since then, her older sister has also contacted the disease and has been removed to Toronto. Dr. C. Blackwell of Lindsay said the school might remain closed for another week until they see if any more cases develop.

The two girls, who have been bedridden by the disease, are reported in serious condition.

3-Fold Increase In Duck Hunters

Three guns for every one a year ago is Cyril Lech's estimate of the ratio of increase in the number of duck hunters at Pigeon Lake for the opening of the season Saturday.

Some of them were shooting at a range of 150 yards or more with slim chance of doing any damage to birds they did see.

"Bluebills are flying over the marshes to decoys," Mr. Lech said, "but there weren't even many of them. Black and wood ducks were driven by the noise to higher altitudes and nobody got any bag worth mentioning."

At eight cents a cartridge there could not have been any worry about the higher cost, and a lot of powder was wasted. Shells that cost $1.50 a box of 25 last fall are now up to $2.10, but that item did not silence any of the slaphappy hunters.

"Never in the years that I have been going to Pigeon lake did I hear anything like the noise that began shortly after daybreak Saturday. With all that racket no one could expect the birds to come within range."

Mr. Lech said the new restriction of three shells to a magazine was generally observed. He heard only one that sounded like the pumping of five shells, but that one appeared to be the exception in his vicinity.

Air Daredevil Killed

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 27 — (AP). — Stunt flier Dick Powell, who cheated death for 33 years, lost his gamble Sunday as his wife and 5,000 spectators looked on. The 46-year-old daredevil plunged to his death when he slipped from the wing of a biplane during an air show.

Crash Kills Four

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 27 — (AP). — Three college students and a pilot died Sunday in the crash of a chartered aircraft on Mount Sylvanus in suburban portland. The two-engine plane had taken off in a heavy rain storm and crashed a few minutes later on a flight south to Medford, Ore.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

WATER HEATERS OFF

Automatic water heaters in the Utilities Commission service will be cut of seven hours daily this week from 5 p.m. to midnight. This is one of the emergency measures in the conserving of electric power.

RED CROSS AWARDS

Youngsters who won Red Cross Swimming awards during the past summer will be given their certificates or badges Tuesday Oct. 5 at 4.30 in the afternoon. The presentations will be made at the Red Cross rooms corner Brock and George.

TRUCK MAT BURNS

Firemen had to use a CO-2 bottle late on Saturday afternoon to extinguish a fire which started in the floormat of a truck owned by R. Reid, 652 Frank St. In some manner a cigarette butt fell into the floormat and started the blaze. Damage was limited to the mat.

INTERNATIONAL FILMS

There will be no series of international films at the Public Library this fall, due to inadequate supplies of such films in Canada. W. L. Graff, chief librarian, said today that a series of such films is, however, planned for next spring by the Peterborough Film Council.

NAMED A DIRECTOR

James Fraser, manager of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce was elected a director of the Association of Commercial Organization's Secretaries on Friday. The convention was held at Sudbury. Passing of resolutions was deferred to the annual meeting of the Chambers of Commerce Oct. 25-27, in Vancouver.

TRAFFIC IS HEAVY

The police officers who made a traffic count at the Aylmer-Hunter intersection had a busy hour. The check was taken between 8.30 and 9.30 on a week-day, and the count for that bustling hour was 840 bicycles, 509 motor vehicles. Pupils feeding both St. Peter's High School and the Collegiate use these two streets as main arteries. That count even for the hour is comparable to busy downtown corners in Toronto.

WINTER STARS

The approach of winter stars was brought an hour nearer to observers from this little corner of the planet by the week-end return to standard time. Orion is farther up in the eastern sky than was suspected by those who were looking for him recently. This constellation, remaining until spring, was brilliant Sunday night, and Scorpio strung its gems nearer to the southern horizon.

GOES TO CONCILIATION

At a vote held in the Legion Hall on Sunday, union members of Local 293, UPWA (Quaker Oats) decided to take negotiations for renewal of the yearly contract to conciliation. It is believed that agreement has been reached on the majority of the company offers, but the issue of hours and wages has not yet been settled.

MATTRESS FIRES GRASS

Shortly before 2 p.m. on Saturday the fire department made a trip into Smith Twn. to put out a grass fire at the residence of A. McMahon, Bellevue Ave. Apparently a mattress had caught fire and when it was ejected from the house still blazing it started the dry grass burning. Later another grass fire was extinguished in a lot owned by the city on Auburn St. A flooded oil burner brought the department to the residence of A. E. Burton, Prince St. shortly before noon on Sunday.

WARNING TO CHILDREN

If the students and factory workers, both young and old don't stop cutting corners at main intersections, there will be a big parade in city court one of these days. This was the friendly warning from Chief Constable Jack Thompson, this morning, as he expressed fear that someone might be seriously injured. Apparently at Water and Hunter streets, the bike riders won't take time to swing wide and make a proper turn. Instead they cut sharply across the corner right into oncoming traffic and ride on the wrong side of the street, between the line of traffic and the curb.

Travellers Meet In Convention

Peterborough Branch of the Associated Canadian Travellers was represented at the regional meet at London on Friday and Saturday by Edward T. O'Brien. There were representatives from 12 clubs throughout Ontario. In addition to Association business discussions, they decided to sponsor a benevolent project to supply funds to the Anti-Tubercular Drive.

Mr. O'Brien brought back with him all information relating to overall plans for the drive for his Peterborough branch who must now decide how they will raise funds to contribute to the general fund. The Association drive will be arranged in such a way that each Ontario unit will be put on a competitive footing in their effort to best contribute to this worthy cause.

40 YEARS in the grocery business is the unusual record of T. C. Yonge, Lakefield merchant who is well known in Peterborough.

Gov. General To Lay Corner Stone

Viscount Alexander, Canada's Governor-General, has accepted the invitation of Mayor Ovens to lay the corner stone of Peterborough's Civic Hospital on Thursday, Nov. 25.

It is understood that arrangements for this first and official visit of His Excellency to Peterborough will be assumed by the reception committee of the council, of which Ald. Adam Sands is chairman. Its aldermanic membership will be augmented by other citizens who may be named at this evening's meeting of the council.

Main details of the Governor-General's visit will be a civic reception, laying of the corner stone of the new hospital and the awarding of military decorations.

Mt. Julian Guide Dies At Age 80

One of the most widely-known guides on Stony Lake for more than 40 years, John Henry (Jack) Thompson, 80, of Mount Julian, died on Sunday in Lakefield following a short illness. He was born in Jersey City, N.J., son of the late Emmerson Thompson and Mary Murphy, and had lived at Mount Julian for 42 years, previous to this in Toronto and Burleigh Falls.

He leaves his wife, the former Margaret Hill Robertson, one daughter, Mrs. F. S. Sneath (Verna) of Toronto, a son Percy of Haultain and a step-son Roy Robertson of Nanaimo, B.C. There are two sisters, Mrs. Hilliard Johnson (Bessie) in the West and Mrs. Fred Madsen of New York City.

Mr. Thompson was a member of the Mount Julian United Church and a steward for many years. He was also a member of Clementi Lodge No. 313, Lakefield A.F. and A.M.

Funeral service will be held at the Tedford Funeral Home on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Canon F. J. Fife of St. Aiden's Anglican Church, Young's Point, assisted by Mr. Cleland Robb, will officiate and burial will be at Hillside Cemetery, Lakefield.

Police Chief Wants Tractors Licensed

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27—(CP)—An attempt to have tractors ranked with other motor vehicles under the Ontario Motor Vehicles Act has been launched by Chief H. M. Hall of Woodstock.

Addressing the convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada Saturday, Chief Hall said tractors were classed as "field husbandry implements" and exempted from licensing regulations.

He said tractors driven by boys under 16 had caused three deaths in the last year. Police could take no action because no operator's licence was required.

ANCIENT BOATS

Some of history's earliest recorded boats — belonging to the Phoenicians and Egyptians—were decorated with male animals despite the fact that ships are generally known as "she."

Lakefield Man A Grocer For 40 Years

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 27 (ENS)—To be actively engaged in the retail grocery business for 40 years is not the experience of many men, but Mr. T. C. Yonge of this village is celebrating that event this month. Although he is not sure of the exact date, it was in September, 1908, that he left the Quaker Oats Co. where he was engaged as an electrician and went into business for himself.

His first store was located at the corner of McDonnel and Water streets in Peterborough, but he only carried on at this site for about six months, moving from there to the corner of McDonnel and George streets to the store now known as the Johnston Furniture and Electrical Sales and Service where he stayed for about four years. He then purchased considerable property in the south end of the city and settled in a store on the corner of Park and Lansdowne, where he remained for 14 years, moving from there to Lakefield.

His first location in Lakefield is now occupied by the Kawartha Hardware and Electric Shop, and here he did a splendid business for ten years. At the end of that time he purchased his present store from the estate of the late Walter Northey, and is now starting his 41st year in the grocery business. His daughter, Miss Grace Yonge, is his capable assistant.

Mr. Yonge recalled that although many Peterborough stores are still operating under their original name, not one of the owners of 1908 when he started in business, is now alive.

Eggs Nine Cents Dozen

Price lists of commodities in Mr. Yonge's early days in business read like a fairy tale—raisins were five cents a lb., bacon 14c a lb., eggs nine cents a dozen, the best grade of tea sold for 25c per lb., and the worst blow of all for us now—butter at 12c a lb.

However the picture was not as bright as would appear from that list, for counter-balancing it were the low wages of that period. Mr. Yonge had a first class clerk in his store and paid him $9.00 a week. He himself left a $12 a week job when he entered business for himself.

Mr. Yonge owns considerable property in Peterborough and recently built the Royal Bank located on Lansdowne street.

Mr. Yonge takes a most active part in the work at Grace Gospel Chapel where he is the superintendent of the Sunday School and a lay preacher. He has taught Sunday School for 53 years.

When asked if he, from his long years of experience in business, would pass on a word to beginers, Mr. Yonge simply said, "Work hard, and keep your credit good. That has brought me through several depressions."

Obituary

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS

After an illness of six weeks Mrs. Robert Davis, a former resident of the Ottawa district, died on Sunday at St. Joseph's hospital. Recently she came to Peterborough to visit with her daughter, the Rev. Sister M. Dolores of Mount St. Joseph. She became ill and had been confined to hospital since.

Mrs. Davis was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dueze. She was predeceased by her husband the late Robert Davis.

She leaves two daughters, Miss Mary Davis of Ottawa and the Rev. Sister M. Dolores, Peterborough, and two sons, Leonard A. and Francis J., both of Ottawa, Charles G. and William J., both of Havre, Montana, and Wing Commander R. R. Davis, Trenton.

The body will be forwarded from the Duffus Funeral Home by CPR night train for service at the Canadian Martyrs Church, Ottawa, on Wednesday. She will be buried at Fallow Field, in the family plot.

CLUB CHAMPION — Hugh Waddell succeeds Herb Bradburn as champion of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, defeating Orley DeGraw on Saturday to take the title.

Hugh Waddell Captures Golf Honors

Hugh Waddell defeated Drley DeGraw six and five Saturday to capture the Peterborough Golf and Country Club championship for 1948. Playing a steady brand of golf in both the morning and afternoon rounds, the new champion earned the crown. His opponent made it close in the first round but was a little weak in putting during the afternoon, usually his strong game.

Mr. Waddell had previously beaten Joe Watson, considered a probable finalist, to go into the finals against Mr. DeGraw, a forformer club champion. Last year's winner of the club title was Herb Bradburn. The last round drew a fair-sized gallery Saturday, despite a Westclox tournament there. A big dance followed in the evening, and next Saturday was named Closing Day.

In the usual sweeps, Hec Thompson took first low gross with 76 as Herb Bradburn had an 82-9 for a 73 net. In the second flight, Fred Hollowell carded 84 and R. Cutmore turned in an 86-17 for 69. The nine-holers (called the "old men's class") went to Gordon Munro with a 41 gross, while Frank Jobbitt netted 43-10 for 33, and Max Lauder 46-11 for 35.

Liquid Loot

VANCOUVER — (CP). — Burglars who ransacked the home of A. H. Pinkham here passed up all valuables in favor of four cases of beer. They entered a partly open front window and departed through a basement door.

Creamery Plans To Close On Wednesdays

If week-ends counted in the daily tally of electric power consumption Peterborough could lay claim to accomplishment in its drop to 170,000 kwh Sunday, following Saturday's 216,000 kwh, and both compared with the Hydro allotment of 240,000 kwh daily.

Actually, Hydro knows the week-end demand slumps. Industry is quiet on Saturdays and Sundays, and for that reason the quota of 240,000 applies to the week days, Monday to Friday inclusive.

Sunday's 170,000 can be set against the 164,000 kwh of Sunday, Sept. 12, and on that basis the power saving is hardly impressive.

Silverwood Dairies is coming through with some material help where it is most needed—closing down in the middle of the week and switching that work to Saturday or even Sunday if necessary. At any rate it is going to switch a day's work to the end of the week where the pressure of power demand on the Hydro system is much lighter than on the other days of industrial peaks.

Lakefield Man Struck By Car

Thomas McMurray, RR 4 Lakefield, is today said to be resting comfortably in St. Joseph's Hospital after being struck by an automobile at Water and Brock Sts. shortly after 12 p.m. Saturday.

According to police McMurray stepped off the northwest curb at the intersection to cross east on Water St. He passed in front of a south-bound car and was then struck by a north-bound car driven by Cephas Dunford of the RC AF who is stationed at Centralia.

Mr. McMurray was knocked toward the west side of the road and when taken by ambulance to hospital he was in a semi-conscious condition. He was attended by Dr. O'Brien who accompanied him to the hospital where his injuries were diagnosed as a slight concussion and possible chest injuries.

An X-ray on Sunday showed no broken bones.

P.C.'s V. J. O'Donaghue and Donald Mackay investigated.

Legion Takes The Petes In Soccer Tilt

A new venture in soccer didn't prove very profitable or interesting to the public Saturday morning when the Canadian Legion defeated the Petes 7-0 in a league game on King Edward Park.

In the early stages, Petes failed to get settled through the lack of a full eleven but eventually they had a complete quota. The Legion boys settled down to close-passing tactics that proved successful when Newt Downer scored twice before the interval.

On resuming, Legion carried on their style of play against the erratic play of the Petes' half-back division. Newt Downer then added two more to his total along with Jack Downer registering two and to climax a scoring total Henry Foster made it read 7-0.

Petes—G. Foster, goal; D. Downer and K. Downer, full-backs; D. Downer, E. Downer and N. Lane, half-backs; Harold Payne, J. Whitnall, J. Hennessey, L. Payne and Ed. Lane forwards. Subs, J. Patterson and J. Byers.

Canadian Legion — E. Jones, goal; T. Foster and A. Downer, full-backs; C. Murduff, J. Craig and B. Woodcock, half-backs; J. Downer, G. Downer, N. Downer, T. Foster, Sr., and H. Foster, forwards. Subs, B. Grant, B. Bromley, D. Dunn and S. Ross.

Referee—Art Downer.

At the last minute, Lindsay notified O'Haloran club that they could not get a team together and that they would forfeit the points. To give the spectators some game a number of players played O'Halloran eleven in an exhibition affair.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Charlie Conacher's Chicago Black Hawks Saturday won an 8-4 victory over their Kansas City Pla-Mors Farm Club in a training camp exhibition game at North Bay.

Emile (the cat) Francis turned in a sensational puck-fending display in the Kansas City goal. He handled 57 shots to 16 by rookie Al Rollins in the nets for the National Hockey League Club.

Francis' performance strongly indicated to observers that he'd be back minding the Chicago goal when the N.H.L. schedule starts.

The line of Doug Bentley, Roy Conacher and Bill Mosienko starred for Chicago. Bentley and Conacher scored twice. Conacher and Mosienko each got two assists.

Kansas City held their parent team to a 3-2, first-period lead but Hawks flew to an 8-3 advantage by the end of the second period.

Don Slater, who looked best for the Kansas City squad, bagged his second counter in the second period. Ken Cook, blonde young right winger, and defenceman Bob Goldham both got singles for the losers.

St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League took a 6-3 trimming Saturday night from their Pacific Coast League farm club, Fresno Falcons, in a training camp exhibition game at Midland.

Barry Sullivan and Hec Pozzo each scored twice for Fresno who went into an early lead and were never headed. Baccari and Olson got the other goals. Don Grosso, Steve Black and Eddie Olson scored for the Flyers.

Montreal Canadiens scored a 7-3 victory over Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League in their first exhibition game of the season at Montreal Saturday night.

Displaying great early-season form, Maurice (Rocket) Richard led the National League club's scoring parade against their Buffalo farmhands with three goals while Elmer Lach, Tod Campeau, Doug Harvey and rookie George Robertson collected the others.

A boisterous pre-season crowd of 6,124 was an hand to see the 1948 edition of the Habitants.

Nick Weslock of Detroit shot a three-under-par 67 Saturday to top 243 golfers competing in the Kesselring tournament, at Kitchener.

Phil Farley of Toronto Scarboro, Ontario amateur champion, and Charley Muir of Toronto St. George, tied for second with 71. Kitchener's Tony Matlock was third with 72.

Tom Lodge of Hamilton Chedokee with a 16 handicap took low net score honors with 72.

Detroit Red Wings hung two defeats on Indianapolis Capitals, their American Hockey League farm club, before breaking training camp Sunday.

The clubs return to Detroit where they will join their western contingent who have been training at Saskatoon.

Wings outslugged Caps 4-3 Sunday, in a game complete with six fighting penalties. They had beaten the Caps 5-2 Saturday, taking a clean sweep of the five-game series.

Windsor Sterlings advanced to the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior B finals Saturday night when they defeated Toronto Scarboro Grads 9-6, in the second game of a two-game, total-points semi-final series at Windsor.

With an easy, 20-12 victory in the series opener last week, the locals took the round, 29-18, to move into the championship series against Peterborough.

Jack Schafer's big Gold Cup boat Such Crust of Detroit, driven by Danny Arena, Sunday won the 18th annual running of the President's Cup regatta and set new speed marks for laps, heats and race at Washington.

Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, driving Miss Canada III, placed third on final points after finishing in the same position in two heats. Wilson placed fourth in the first heat Saturday.

Lahals, driven by Harry Lynn of St. Louis, Mo., was second in classic, after placing first in the first heat with a speed of 73:971 m.p.h.

Lawn Bowlers Put On A Masquerade

By HERB MARTIN

Well over 100 members, ladies and gents, of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling, turned out on Saturday night, to take part in the big masquerade mixed rink tournament, and when there are bigger or better masquerade tournaments, they will be sponsored by this club.

It was nearly eight o'clock when Chairman Robert Gamble explained to the gathering the object of the evening. It was fun, fun and more fun. He asked them to co-operate and not to take anything too seriously.

The boys and girls immediately caught on and they carried that spirit all through the evening.

Complete had the committee worked out all the details that some one was receiving a basket of fruit every five minutes. It was first one novelty and then another. No one knew what was coming. It might be for the tallest bowler on the green, it might be the youngest member of the club, it might be something else, and it generally was. The crowd was kept guessing.

And the costumes, they were wonderful. They were many and they were varied. The judges had a difficult time choosing the winners. We would have liked to see all receive a prize. They were all good.

Wiener Roast

The wiener roast was good, Bob Hendry took care of that. The people we felt sorry for were the many members of the club who did not make an appearance. They missed it, that's all. It was a grand night and real entertainment. The committee of Bob Gamble, Bill Jeffries, Jack Fitzpatrick, Bob Hendry, Ches Mowry and Bert Jeffries did a big job well.

Some who did not come out, phoned us on Sunday and said, "Could there be another one next Saturday night—just as a closing event of the season?"

We don't know about that, but you can never tell. If we find out, we'll pass it on to you. Anyway, the committee extends its thanks to all for coming out and helping to put the "fun-making tournament" across. It was a real night.

Masquerade Prize Winners

Ladies — Mrs. Ackford, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Jay, Mrs. Hickman.

Gentlemen—C. Mowry, W. Noftall, R. Payne, J. Withers, J. Adams.

Winners of Novelty Prizes — Mrs. Beatty, Mrs. Barkley, Mrs. Greenslade, Mrs. Reid, V. Hill, Mrs. Harris, A. Aitkenhead, R. Martin, H. Wilson, Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Spence, A. Clark, H. Girven, T. Parker, Mr. Hickman, Mrs. Burns, G. Hewitt, Mrs. Bearne, W. Perks, G. Tremaine, Mrs. Reid, E Pritchard and Mrs. Adams.

Napanee Edges Closer Intermediate Title

NAPANEE, Sept. 27.—(AP).—A hard drive to the left field fence by Joe Jocko in the 13th inning scored Walt Gerow and gave Napanee Athletics a 6-5 victory over Shallow Lake here Saturday in the first game of the intermediate 'A' semi-finals. The teams meet in Shallow Lake Wednesday.

Hooper and Garvey, two curveball right-handers, both went the full distance.

Garvey had 10 strikeouts and Hooper nine. Each walked four.

Midgets Drop First One To St. John's

St. John's defeated the Peterborough midgets 13-7 here Saturday to open their home-and-home OLA playdown series, return game being tonight in Toronto. The Saints built up a good lead in the first half and the locals couldn't catch them in the neat second half scrap. All the winners looked good in this game with Ward and Little starring Nicholls, McConnachie, Batley and Foster were the pick of the homesters in a clean tilt.

Scorers for St. John's were Ward 5, Little 3, Orendoff, Walsh McCann, Babish and Franizack. For the Petes, Caravaggie and O'Donnel had two each and Robinson, Fontaine and McConnachie one. Batley, Caravaggie, Bigford and McConnachie each had an assist.

The teams:

St. John's: Brown, Funk, Orendoff, Fuller, Little, Walsh, Ward, Caccivello, McCann, Babish, Conroy, Kyzaboo and Franizack.

Peterborough: Nicholls, Fontaine, Foster, Kimball, Robinson, Mullen, Batley, Caravaggie, Bigford, McIlmoyle, Fitzgerald, Brown. O'Donnell and McConnachie.

Referee, Jack Foote

Cubs Gets OLA Series

Clapper's Cubs beat Orillia 11-6 here Saturday to win their OLA bantam round by a 21-17 score. It was a closely-fought contest throughout between evenly-matched clubs, with but five penalties drawn, four by the winners. Orillia had won the first game at home by one goal. A slim crofd saw the tidy tussle.

All the Cubs worked well with Bob Allen, John Cupoli and Roy Dunn particularly good. For Orillia, it was D. Brown, D. Herriman and Billing, with their teammates all hustling every minute.

The team, coached by Red Creighton and managed by John Legrow, now await word on their next round. Meantime, they hold a practise tonight at 6.30 in Miller Bowl.

Argos Get Another Setback From High-Flying Rough Riders

By The Canadian Press

For the second consecutive Saturday, the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts had their faces rubbed in the mud by their arch foes, the upstart Ottawa Rough Riders.

The 12-5 defeat wasn't as decisive as the 32-12 pasting of the week before. But it was decisive enough to put Ottawa in first place in the Big Four race, two points ahead of Argos.

Canada's college teams took the field in exhibition games for the first time this season in a football Saturday that was marked by story-book endings.

Stampeders Win

In the far west, Calgary's classy imported quarterback, Keith Spaith, pitched the Stampeders to their sixth straight win, keeping the cowtown crew far ahead in the western conference.

Two fourth-quarter passes by Spaith clicked for touchdowns as Stamps came from behind to a 13-12 victory over Saskatchewan Roughriders, shoving the Ruffies further into the conference cellar.

Sarnia Imperials collected their first win of the season, a 6-2 victory over the winless Windsor Rockets and took over third place in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

In college exhibition games. Toronto Beaches Indians of the O.R.-F.U. tied University of Toronto 7-7 in the final seconds of play on a 115-yard touchdown sprint by Doug Pyzer; Queen's swamped McMaster 33-9; McGill blanked Ottawa 37-0 and Western defeated Ontario Agricultural College 35-3.

A second quarter touchdown by Fred Brown had built up a 5-1 lead for Argos, playing without starry Royal Copeland who was injured against Ottawa last week. But in the third, a Bob Paffrath-to-Brian Lynch forward paid off for a 25-yard unconverted touchdown.

In the final quarter a reverse-sweep shook Paffrath loose and after going 30 yards he lateralled to Pete Karpuk who went another 40 for a major that Howie Turner converted.

Imperials were another team that came from behind. First quarter singles sent Windsor ahead 2-0, but Hank Galloway and Dutch Davey each booted field goals for Sarnia in the third quarter.

Pyzer Stars

The picture play of the day was Pyzer's field-long race against time for the winning touchdown. Leading 7-1 with 45 seconds left, Varsity had the ball on Beaches Indians 31-yard line. Lyzer caught the kick five yards behind his own goal, squeezed through Varsity tacklers, reversed his field and zipped down the touchline.

Ross McKelvey scored two touchdowns and Al Lenard scored one, converted two and pitched a touchdown pass to lead Queen's over McMaster. O.A.C. never got within 10 yards of Western's goal as Bob McFarlane scored a touchdown and three converts and brother Doug another major.

Only in the third quarter did Ottawa show any scoring threat against McGill. Murray Hayes, Johnny Newman, Rocky Robillard, Justin Kiselius and Johnny Meagher all went over for touchdowns for the Redmen.

United Church Makes Plans For 25th Year

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 —(CP) — Plans for observing the 25th birthday in 1950 of the United Church of Canada will engage the 13th General Council today when it reconvenes following a week-end visit to Victoria.

During two years of study the council's executive has evolved a series of special commitments it will ask the church to accept for the anniversary, among them a four-fold expression which urges acceptance of the christian duty in the rebuilding of the nation and the world in the ways of righteousness and peace.

The executive's proposal contains several specific objectives it will ask the church to undertake in Canada and Newfoundland during its anniversary years, including: 125 ministerial recruits annually, 10 deaconesses, 15 community missionaries and nurses.

Stress Overseas Work.

In its overseas activities the church will be asked to strengthen its staff with 10 recruits for mission work, five doctors, 10 educationalists and five nurses for foreign service.

Very Rev. George C. Pidgeon of Toronto, the United Church's first moderator and now its senior churchman, said in reporting on the Armsterdam World Council of Churches "nothing the council said or did compares in importance with the fact that it met."

"The impression left on my mind by the whole gathering was the solidarity of christendom."

Dr. Howard Thurman, fraternal delegate to the United Church meetings from San Francisco, said the important prerequisite to church units was "the religious maturity of every person within each church."

The church would be missing the boat if it thought the only stimulus to christianity was its own "religious ritual and ecclesiasticism," the noted negro leader said.

Canada Goes Back To Standard Time

(By The Canadian Press)

Practically all Canada today is back on standard time.

Most clocks were turned back an hour at bedtime Saturday although generally, the official time to put them back was 2 a.m. Sunday.

Many persons who forgot to make the switch either on retiring or on arising were an hour early for church or for golf games.

A few communities, for local reasons, will make the change-over later. Some centres, especially in rural areas, stayed on standard time after the others set clocks ahead last April 25.

Two Men Kill Selves

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 27 — (AP). — Two men who loved the same woman solved their problem Saturday by shooting themselves to death. Police identified them as Albert Herbert Deschales, 38, and Ralph Kenneth Touschette, 39, both railroad trainmen.

Lift Meat Ration

AUCKLAND, Sept. 27 — (CP) — Meat rationing will end today in New Zealand. Rationing has been in force since March, 1944, to make greater supplies available to the United Kingdom. Rationing of butter will continue as Britain is still on a low fat diet.

Three Barges Sink

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T., Sept 27 — (CP). — Three barges carrying more than 1,000 tons of vital mine and mill supplies to Yellowknife were lost Saturday when two exploded and the third sank in great Slave Lake. No one was injured. The explosion occurred 30 miles south of Yellowknife after fire broke out aboard a barge.

Bride In Satin and Lace For Burley-Wilson Union

A lovely wedding in which Gloria Adalie Wilson, became the bride of Mr. John Burley, was solemnized Saturday afternoon in St. George's Anglican Church by the Rev. E. C. Moore. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs Clinton O. Wilson, King George St., and the groom a son of Mrs. J. Drouin of Detroit.

Bronze chrysanthemums were arranged at the altar with banking of fern on either side as background for the ceremony, with traditional wedding music by Mrs. A. Watkins. During the signing of the register she played "O Perfect Love."

The bride's gown was of white satin fashioned on princess lines with a graceful train. A deep bertha collar and cascading peplum were of Chantilly lace and the sleeves which came to fingertip points were of the same. Her veil of embroidered veiling fell into a long flowing train and was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried red roses and 'mums in a cascade and was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Joyce Wilson, her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Betty McIlwain, her cousin, were in bouffant frocks of pink and blue taffeta in which the skirts were caught up at the front with tiny rosebuds to reveal pretty frilled underskirts. Mrs. Haley Windsor as her cousin's second bridesmaid wore dusky rose satin and net with side panniers on the skirt. Their halo headdresses were of contrasting flowers and they carried ring bouquets of blue, pink and white 'mums with roses with frills and large bows of matching satin ribbon.

Mr. Wm. Goodman was the groom's attendant and ushers were Messrs. Melville Starr and Gordon Manley, uncles of the bride and groom.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. B. Hawkins, Lock St., opened her home for the wedding reception. Mrs. Wilson, the bride's mother, received the guests, gowned in a two-piece dress of genie blue silk faille and black satin hat with feather trim. Her corsage was of deep pink carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Drouin, assisted and was wearing black silk crepe with black felt hat and plumes and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Burley are spending their honeymoon visiting in Toronto and Detroit and on return will live at 709A Lock St. For going away the bride chose a royal blue crepe dress with bolero jacket trimmed with satin, black felt hat with royal blue feather trim and accessories to match and carried a winter white shortie coat.

Powers-Bradshaw Rites Performed

In St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon a quiet wedding ceremony performed by the Rev. C. G. Boyd, united Constance Jessie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bradshaw, and Earl Albert Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Powers, all of Peterborough.

Chrysanthemums and fern decorated the chancel for the occasion and Mr. Martin B. Chenhall played wedding music.

The bride wore a blue crepe afternoon dress with black accessories and was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Bradshaw, attired in pink crepe with black accessories. Mr. Allan Powers was groomsman for his brother.

Following the reception held in Hooper's Palm Room, the couple left on a wedding trip to Western Ontario, the bride travelling in a fall green suit with black accessories. They will reside in Peterborough.

Junior YW Rally A Big Success

More than 300 youngsters were having fun at the junior rally in the YWCA gymnasium Saturday morning, dressed in play outfits and running shoes, and ranging from two and half to 14 years. Older girls are invited to attend the "open house" ceremonies on Tuesday evening. Miss C. Littlefield, physical instructor was in charge, and announced that all classes are now started. Miss Mary Elliott was scorer for the races, and cadets, Marie Waite and Shirley Yarn, assisted.

After the games, Helen Finn and Arlene Roddy gave a demonstration of life saving in the pool.

Race winners were: four years and under, Earlene Belanger, Andy Alchin; five years, Phyllis Totion, Anne Mein; six years, Gail Spalding, Donna Boorman; seven years, Carol Howe, Carol Ann Smith; eight years, Shirley Sylvester, Phyllis Storey; nine years, Rosalie Forbes, Carol O'Dette; ten years, Nancy Lee Wilson, Rose Marie Smith; eleven years, Joan Lustic, Carol Dorrington; 12 years, Anne Menzies, Shirley Yarn.

Wheelbarroy race for juniors: Shirley Yarn and Belma Adamson, Joan Lustic and Carol Scully; babies, Phyllis and Beverly Fuller. Rosalie Forbes and Barbara Spalding.

Rope-climbing contest: Wanda Grills, Beverly Fuller and Margaret Crilly, tied. Skipping: Carol Dorrington, Wanda Grills and Patricia Colson, tied.

Babies in rose costume presenting their ballot were Carol Hollingsworth, Diana Zakos, Carol Howe, Marina Zakos, Carol Winter, Donna Boorman. The 'Daisy" ballet was given by Fern Vannest, Elinor Gilders, Lorraine Batley, Shirley Dobson, Jane Ovens, Belma Adamson, Gail Marshall, Barbara Woodcock and Marlyn Reynolds.

The gallery was crowded with parents who seemed to enjoy the events immensely.

SOOT CAUSES RUST

Soot should not be left lying in the furnace as it will absorb moisture from the air and soon rust the interior.

NAVY BLUE AND BLACK—Navy Blue comes through as a color card winner for this autumn and winter. A new note is navy blue touched up with black to take black accessories. Fox-brownie creates a handsome navy blue costume and uses black deftly. The jacket has high-placed, jet-encrusted pockets, while the dress has a navy blue wool skirt topped by a long sleeved top of black crepe, with criss-cross folds of the fabric.

William M. Roche Marries Rosemary Barth, Windsor

In historic Assumption church, Windsor, Saturday morning the marriage of Miss Rosemary Barth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Barth, Riverside, to Mr. William Michael Roche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Joseph Roche of Peterborough was solemnized with the Rev. James Donlon officiating.

The beautiful marble high altar was enhanced with spires of white gladioli and tall standards of white chrysanthemums, forming a lovely setting for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire gown of heirloom ivory faille with a portrait neckline finished with dainty pleated ruching of matching net, short softly frilled sleeves worn with matching ruffled gloves a gathered waistline and a skirt sweeping from a peplum edged with heirloom lace into a graceful train. Her veil falling from a cornet of matching lace, covered the train of the gown.

Miss Elaine Joinville, as maid of honor, was in picturesque infanta gown of antique gold faille, fashioned with a portrait neckline, short sleeves and a softly gathered waistline, the full skirt, padded at the hipline, worn over a hoop. Her bonnet-shaped hat of the same material, tied under the chin, was trimmed with matching ostrich. Miss Louise Roche of Peterborough, the groom's sister, and Miss Shirley Potter as bridesmaids, wore jewel-toned emerald green faille, styled similarly.

The bride and all her attendants carried nosegays, hers of white roses and the attendants' of gold and bronze chrysanthemums.

Assisting Mr. Roche as groomsman was Mr. Edward Epping of Toronto. The ushers were the bride's brother, Mr. James H. Barth, Jr., the groom's brother, Mr. Peter Roche and Mr. John Hardill, both of Peterborough, and Mr. Robert Ferguson of Strathroy.

Following a reception at the Beach Grove Golf and Country Club, the couple left for a motor trip to New York and Washington. The bride chose a hunter's green broadcloth suit with beaver trim and an off-the-face hat of the same color, trimmed only with an open mesh under the chin veil, and brown accessories, for travelling.

Mr. and Mrs. Roche will live in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Might To Farm Near Millbrook

Fall flowers banked with palms and fern Saturday in Mark St. United Church were the setting for the marriage of Lillie Irene Amelia, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Ferguson, to Gordon James Might, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Might of Millbrook. Their nuptial vows were pledged before the Rev. E. W. Rowland.

The "Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Jessie Spencley before the bride entered the church, and during the signing of the register she sang "O Perfect Love." Mrs. Olive Searles played the wedding music.

The bride wore a period gown of ivory bridal satin, made with slim basque, long tight sleeves, pointed over the wrist, and portrait off-shoulder neckline, finished at the back with tiny covered buttons. The bouffant skirt swept into a graceful train and fine net veiling flowed into a full length train, caught to her head with a halo of ivory satin. She was carrying a cascade of Bettertime roses with bouvardia and streamers of white satin ribbon caught with bouvardia. Mr. Ferguson gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Harry Cordery, the bride's sister, as matron of honor, and Miss Esther Might, the groom's sister, as bridesmaid, chose gowns alike in Perrywinkle blue and magic hour rose moire taffeta, and styled with off-the-shoulder neckline, fitted bodice and full-tiered skirts. They wore matching gloves and hats and carried cascades of pink and yellow carnations with white baby 'mums.

The groom was attended by Mr. Allan Dawson. Ushers were Douglas Ferguson, brother of the bride, and Willis Cunningham.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ferguson wore pearl tone grey crepe with matching hat and accessories, and her corsage was of red roses. Mrs. Might, mother of the groom, was in black crepe with accessories the same and wore red roses.

Following the reception in the Sunday school hall, the couple left on a trip to Northern Ontario. For travelling the bride wore navy blue gabardine suit, matching accessories and furs, with a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Might will live on the groom's farm near Millbrook.

Bond-Smith Nuptials Held At Mount Forest Saturday

Westminister United Church, Mount Forest, was the setting Saturday afternoon for the lovely wedding of Shirley Agnes, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lorne Smith, to Mr. James Bond, only son of Mrs. Bond of Peterborough and the late J. Percy Bond. The Rev. J. W. Pratt officiated. Mrs. Wesley Barker played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Peterborough, sister of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore gown of traditional bridal satin fashioned with moulded basque and sweeping circular skirt which fell into a train. The bodice was made with long tight fitting sleeves and a tiny Peter Pan collar on the high neckline. Satin buttons were placed down front and back from the neckline to top of the flared peplum which accented the waistline. She wore a fingertip veil of tulle illusion, caught to her head with a satin chaplet trimmed with clusters of satin leaves, and carried a bouquet of white gardenias with white baby 'mums entwined with ivy.

Miss Gwen Millar of Haileybury, and Miss Mollie Slemin of Brantford bridesmaids, were in canary yellow and forest green velvet gowns. They had jackets with Peter Pan collars and full skirts accented with bustles and wore matching halo of velvet leaves, and were carrying cascades of Talisman roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Thompson Craig of Peterborough, and ushers were Mr. Leslie Graham, Peterborough, and Mr. Jack Smith, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the bridal party received, assisted by Mrs. Smith who chose an ensemble of grape with gray accessories and wore a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Also receiving was Mrs. Bond, the groom's mother, handsomely gowned in green crepe and wearing a cluster of yellow rosebuds at her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond left later on a motor trip through the Laurentians, the bride wearing a plum wool dress with matching accessories. On return they will reside in Toronto.

Job of Rearing Family Can Be Rich With Joys

My mail is filled with letters from women complaining about the monotony and drudgery of the life of the average wife and mother and comparing it with the interesting life of the business woman

Dorothy Dix

I wish that I could impress upon these women the fact that making a home and rearing children properly is the finest career that anyone can follow, and the one that pays the highest rewards. We get out of everything just what we put into it, and whether a woman is bored or thrilled by home-making depends altogether upon herself and the spirit in which she goes into it.

A woman's home can be a prison to her that she hates and loathes. Or it can be the dearest spot on earth to her, the place to which she turns as to a temple of refuge. She can love every board in it. She can almost burst with pride over owning it, even if it is only a cheap little cottage. She may find an ever ending interest in beautifying it, and gloat over every chair and pot and pan, and find utter happiness in keeping it spic-and-span.

Or a woman may pity herself for being a drudge because she has to do her own housework. She may be bored to tears by the eternal sameness of cooking and cleaning and sewing and doing all of the things that have to be done over and over again every day to keep a family comfortable.

Keep Interested

Or she may bring the same intelligence to bear upon her household chores as she would upon her job in any office. She may keep herself keenly interested in devising time-saving ways of performing her tasks. She may realize that cooking is one of the fine arts, and get just as much kick out of preparing a perfectly balanced meal as she would out of painting a picture, or writing a clever story.

A woman may regard her husband and children as burdens because they interfere with her freedom to do as she pleases. She may feel herself a martyr to have to stay with the baby when she wants to go to the movies. The chatter of her youngsters may get on her nerves and make her cross and irritable.

Or she may thank God on her knees every night for being blessed with husband and children and home, and for being privileged to serve those she loves. She may get a greater thrill out of having a baby in her arms than she could out of watching any film actress's hectic passion. She may find watching a little child's mind unfold the most interesting and fascinating thing on earth.

It is all in the point of view. Our jobs are just what we make them, and the wife and mother job is not different from the rest. It is work or play, misery or pleasure, boring or interesting, monotonous or varied. We have to manufacture our own thrills and make our own kicks.

Nurse Honored Before Marriage

MILLBROOK, Sept. 27 (ENS)—Mrs. M. Wideman and Mrs. Gordon Baker were joint hostesses at the former's home on Thursday evening for a social gathering in honor of Miss Gladys Coulter, Reg.N., of Peterborough, a bride-to-be of next week. There were more than 20 guests present, and a mock wedding preceded the miscellaneous shower. Mrs. Wideman filled the role of bride, and Mrs. Albert Olan was the groom.

Mrs. Johnston Rowland, "the bride's father," dutifully gave his daughter in marriage, and Miss Leslie Baker acted as ring-bearer and the bride's attendant. Following the 'ceremony,' the two hostesses brought a large, daintily-trimmed box to the chair where the guest of honor was seated.

Pyrex ware, linens, china, and kitchen utensils were among the gifts. Games were played and then lunch was served.

The marriage of Miss Coulter and Mr. Burr Walker, Junior, of Peterborough, takes place quietly the end of this month, with the reception at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olan, south of Millbrook.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Before the days of sugar rationing I had a recipe for pumpkin preserves and cannot find it. I think it had lemon in it. Can you help me please? I have lots of pumpkins and cannot use them all for pies.

Mrs. G. H. N.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER:

Pumpkin Preserves Or Chips

Prepare 3 lbs. pumpkin by rejecting seeds and rind and cutting into 1-inch strips, and cut these into thin squares. Add the juice and finely sliced rind of 1 lemon, 4 cups sugar, and ¼ ounce ginger root. Bring slowly to boiling point stirring, and boil 2 hours or until pumpkin is clear. You must stir this almost constantly. When ready to seal remove ginger root if you wish, then pour into sterile jars and seal.

Pumpkin may be preserved without sugar and without straining if you care to do it:

Canned Pumpkin

Wash, peel and cut the pumpkin into 1 or 1½-inch pieces. Add water to come halfway up the pumpkin in kettle. Simmer until thoroughly heated through, stirring occasionally. Pack into hot sterile jars, add 1 teaspoon salt to each quart, and cover with the boiling water in which it was cooked. Seal to within ½-inch of tight. Process in hot water bath 3 hours. Seal. Pumpkin must have this long processing period unless you are using a pressure cooker when it needs only 25 minutes at 10 lbs. pressure.

❖ ❖ ❖

QUESTION: I think you printed a recipe for Spanish Bun. I tried it and thought it was very good but it is different than my Spanish Bun recipe, which everybody thinks is lovely. Would you like to print mine?

Mrs. George's Spanish Bun

(Contributed)

Three-quarters cup butter or shortening, ½ cup white sugar, ½ cup brown sugar, 3 eggs, (reserve the whites of 2 of them for the topping), ¾ cup milk, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon cloves, 1½ cups flour, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons powder. Together cream the butter and sugar. Add the 3 egg yolks and 1 white and beat well. Add remaining ingredients (the dry ones sifted) alternately with the milk, beat very well. Bake in sheet pan at 325 deg. Fahr. for about 45 minutes.

Topping: Beat the remaining 2 egg whites with ½ cup brown sugar until stiff. Spread on cake as soon as it is baked, and return to oven to brown this meringue for about 10 minutes.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER: Thanks for this Mrs. George—I'm sure many of our readers will try this version of Spanish Bun as we did, because it is so easy to make the frosting and have a finished cake.

❖ ❖ ❖

QUESTION: I want to make those dainty cheese wafers to serve with a salad. Have you a recipe? Liza.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER: Cheese wafers may be made by adding old grated cheese to rich plain pastry but you might like to try this special one:

Mrs. Will's Cheese Wafers

One cup fairly tightly packed old grated cheese, 1 cup flour, ¼ cup mixed butter and crisco, shake of salt, shake of paprika. Mix all ingredients very well, form into roll. Wrap well in 2 sheets of waxed paper. Chill overnight. Slice thinly and bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 375 deg. Fahr. Watch these closely when baking—and slip from cookie sheet with spatula. This keeps very well in refrigerator.

SAINT JOAN—As star of the London Little Theatre's "Saint Joan", Miss Olga Landiak of London, Ont., won top female honors at the Dominion Drama Festival this spring. Now Miss Landiak is going to England to continue her dramatic studies. Before she left, her features were permanently fashioned in clay by Otto Hahn, noted Canadian sculptor and designer of Canada's dimes and quarters, of Toronto. Making one of his rare out-of-town work visits, Mr. Hahn journeyed to London to do his sculpting. Here, Miss Landiak poses for Mr. Hahn in a London studio. Miss Landiak originally comes from Fort William.

Begin Sifting Resolutions For PC Platform

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—(CP).—A 193-man resoluions committee will start work here tomorrow on close to 50 resolutions submitted for insertion in the Progressive Conservative party's platform.

The committee will be an advance guard of delegates to the party's national convention Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2.

To speed work on the mass of resolutions which touch on all major Canadian issues, the committee will be split into seven sub-committees. There will be sub-committees on external affairs, agriculture, labor, natural resources, social security, veterans, and trade union taxation.

Representation on the committee by provinces follows:

Prince Edward Island, five; Nova Scotia, nine; New Brunswick, eight; Quebec, 50; Ontario, 62; Manitoba, 14; Saskatchewan, 16; Alberta, 14; British Columbia, 14; Yukon, one.

Divided Opinion

A major battle may be fought on the question of Communism. The Alberta delegation has urged in a resolution that proper action be taken to suppress Communistic activities in Canada. The Quebec delegation has urged the outright banning of the Communist party.

Resolutions from all provinces have urged that the party go on record in favor of heavy tax reductions.

The Quebec delegates have asked that the party support the calling of a new Dominion-provincial conference which would deal with the housing problem and with the redistriction of taxation rights between the Dominion and the provinces.

Immigration may prove to be a ticklish problem for the committee. A Quebec resolution favors an immigration policy that would permit only entry of persons whose services are required. The Alberta delegation favors a "better immigration policy, favoring Britain, the United States and France."

Other resolutions call for the re-opening of wheat trading in the Winnipeg grain exchange, for extended social security services, for a trans-Canada highway, for a national fuel policy, for elimination of price controls and for re-establishment of the supremacy of parliament.

THESE GERMAN YOUNGSTERS, who live near the Templehof air force base in Berlin, where air force transport planes unload their airlift supplies daily, are pictured at play at a game they call "Luftbrucke" (air bridge). The youthful members of the junior airlift task force use model American planes which are made and sold in German toy shops, throughout the western sector of Berlin.

Stabbing, Shooting Among 16 Week-end Fatalities

By The Canadian Press

Sixteen persons met violent deaths in Eastern Canada during the week-end, a Canadian Press survey showed.

Two of them were killed in unexplained circumstances and nine of them died in automobile accidents.

Three more died while working, one was drowned and an eight-weeks-old baby smothered while sleeping with his parents.

Wilbert Antone, 21, a reservation Indian, was stabbed to death with a broken beer bottle in Leamington. Police said he was killed in a drunken brawl that resulted when he tried to stop a fight between two Indian women.

Police were investigating the death of Ferdinand Parent, 45, of McKendrick, N.S., shot in the back while he was walking near Cross Point, Que.

At Lachute, Que., a collision between a truck and an automobile killed Albert Laurin, 27, his brother Sylvio, 25, and Roger Jette, 23, all of Ste. Schoastique, Que. Two children—Gloria Jean Land, two, of St. Thomas, and Walter Brown, five, of Wolfville, N.S.—died in hospitals after they had been hit by trucks.

Baby Smothers

In Toronto, Phillip Voyde discovered that his tiny son, Michael, had smothered to death while sleeping in the same bed as his parents.

Jack Berridge, 41, of Guelph, was killed near Guelph when a car missed a sharp turn and plunged into a steep ditch and in Montreal, 63-year-old Mrs. H. Pepin died in hospital after she had been struck by a car.

The body of Mrs. J. L. A. Sinclair of Smiths Falls, was recovered from the Rideau river near Smiths Falls. Mrs. Sinclair had been missing since Friday. William Fecteau, 67, of Coaticook, Que., was drowned and his two sons received minor injuries when their car plunged through a guard rail and into a stream Saturday night.

While fighting a forest fire 40 miles north of North Bay, Robert Wilcox, 34, of Toronto, dropped dead from a heart attack. Anatole Roy, 39, of St. Josephat, Que., plunged to his death from the roof of a two-storey house he was repairing.

A passenger in a car, Mrs. Dennis Cormier, 60, of Cap Tormentine, N.B., was killed when the car collided with a taxi.

At Levis, Que., a 28-year-old Hydro worker, Roland Corriveau, touched a high tension line and fell from the top of a light standard on which we was working.

Say Stole 10 Guns

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — (CP). — Police Sunday charged James Shearing, 18, of Toronto, and George Shearing, 21, of nearby Malton, with stealing 10 pistols and 80 rounds of ammunition from a gun cabinet at Toronto armories. Officers said the youths, brothers, told them they wanted the weapons for target practice.

Mickey Mouse To Make More Movies

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27 (AP). —Mickey Mouse will make yet another comeback.

Walt Disney's animal haven announces that the famed Mick will be starred in two new short subjects and six of his old starrers will be re-released. Except for his appearance in a feature, Mick has been absent from the screen for five years. Here is the studio's reason for his retreat:

"Mickey's decline was due to his heroic nature. He grew into such a legend that we could not gag around with him. He acquired as many taboos as a Western hero—no smoking, no drinking, no violence. When Mickey started, we could do anything with him. But his character became set and inflexible because of hero worship."

Johnson Wants Musical

Van Johnson is eager to do a musical, but this time he wants to jump right into the thing. He claims he has been more or less a straight man in the musicals he has done. Now he really wants to sing and dance. Van started his career as a hoofer.

Dan Duryea is back to heavies now that he has left Universal-International (except for one film a year). He plays a meanie with Liz Scott in "Too Late for Tears" and another with Dorothy Lamour in "The Man Who Stole a Dream."

Edmond O'Brien had to pass up a deal to portray Steve Canyon in a radio series. Warners said it would interfere with his film work.

Ulcer Cure.

John Wayne got rid of his ulcer and he thinks wrinking tea did and he thinks drinking tea did it. "The tea tanned my stomach," he reports. However, see your doctor before attempting this cure....

Capsule review: "Olympic Games of 1948" (Rank) is a good reportorial job, if not an inspired one. The events are well photographed in color, but the film has obviously been put together in a hurry. There is much excitement and beauty, and the musical score is fine. Best feature: Figure skating, the Marathon climax. Disappointments: Omission of the decathalon, 20-metre dash, and springboard diving.

Tells Women To Aid UN

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — (CP). — E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, Sunday urged women to work to strengthen the United Nations. He told an Ontario C.C.F. women's conference: "Those who believe in violence must be restrained by the thinking majority and the only way to accomplish this is through the United Nations. Every woman can play a vital role in this new fight for freedom by helping to strengthen the power of the U.N."

Go 9,000 Miles To Attend Army Reunion

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—(CP).—A promise is no light thing to George Ponsford, MBE, MM.

Ponsford—whose fierce moustache, 8½ inches from lip to tip, was the glory of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in Canada, England, Sicily, Italy and Northwest Europe—said he'd be at the regimental reunion at Belleville this year, Oct. 2 and 3.

Saturday, on his way to keep a promise made at the regiment's first reunion in Picton in 1946, he reached Toronto, completing a 9,000-mile jaunt from Durban, South Africa, via England and Holland. The 33-year-old Ponsford went to South Africa to take a job as manager of a Durban hotel little less than two years ago. The four-times-wounded "Fighting Sergeant-Major" of C Company tarried in England long enough to have a spot of tea with two former commanding officers, Lord Tweedsmuir and Maj.-Gen. Howard D. Graham of the Canadian Army.

Graves Watched

In Holland, Ponsford photographed the graves of the 17 "Hasty Pees" killed in action in the final days of the war. The graves, says Ponsford, are "in immaculate condition," thanks to the meticulous care given them by "those wonderful Dutch people."

Born in London, England, and raised in New Zealand, the man who became the most fabulous character in "an Eastern Ontario regiment" has also lived in Australia, the United States and Canada. He has worked as a gold miner, farmer, lumberman, carpenter and ship's steward.

Ponsford will be at the reunion this year—but his legendary moustache won't. He shaved it off the day he left the army with the comment: "It's no use in civilian life."

Deplores Atheism

HAMILTON, Sept. 27 — (CP). — James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, Sunday addressed 12,000 persons attending the 28th annual rally of the Holy Name Society of Hamilton diocese. "Militant atheism has gripped the countries of eastern Europe but all the evils of the world are not thousands of miles away," he said. "We have serious evils all round us in forgetfulness of God."

Hot News

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 — (CP). — The Ottawa Journal, which has been reporting fires in other people's homes for the last 63 years, Sunday night found a little blaze had ventured right in its own basement. The blaze filled the lower floor of the seven-storey structure with smoke and chased editorial writers and reporters out of the building. However, damage was slight.

Strike Settled

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 — (CP). — Strike of 70 Montreal employees of the Dominion Electric Protection Company ended Sunday when the workers returned to their jobs. The strike, for wages and hours betterment, started Sept. 15. The company said the London strike is reported "virtually over" while the Toronto and Hamilton offices are reported operating with reduced staffs.

"Shocking" Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 — (AP). — An official close to the House of Representatives Un-American activities committee said Saturday its forthcoming report on atomic espionage "will shock the public." It will state, the official declared, that President's Roosevelt and Truman and Attorney-General Tom C. Clark "had all the facts" on a Russian spy ring that got atomic bomb secrets but did nothing about it

JACOB MALIK (left) and Andrei Vishinsky may smile for the photographers, but they refused to applaud after the U.S. delegate, Secretary of State Marshall, made his first speech of the Palace Chaillot meeting of the United Nations' general assembly. In his speech Marshall served notice on Russia that no compromise on basic principles would be made. He blamed the Soviets for the present world tension.

Announce Floor On Apple Prices

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—(CP). — Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced Sunday floor prices of $3.90 a barrel for Nova Scotia apples sold fresh and of $2.50 a barrel for those sold for processing.

"The Agricuture Prices Support Board undertakes to appoint the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board its agent to buy the Nova Scotia crop on a basis of $3.90 per barrel if the apples are sold by the Board as fresh apples," Mr. Gardiner said in an interview.

"The basis will be $2.50 a barrel if the apples are processed by the Board as dried apples or apple juice."

There is no provision in this year's arrangements for processing part of the Nova Scotia crop as canned apples.

Mr. Gardiner said he expected that the Apple Marketing Board would have to handle about 700,000 barrels from a total Nova Scotia crop estimated at 1,000,000.

He said it was likely that the Board would handle about 300,000 barrels as fresh apples and about 400,000 barrels partially as fresh and partially as processed apples.

Peacemaker Buried

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 27 — (AP). — To the beat of muffled drums and in the glare of flaming torches, Sweden paid a final tribute Sunday to Count Folke Bernadotte, the assassinated Palestine mediator. After the church services, 40 Boy Scouts drew the coffin on an open wagon to the cemetery. Throngs of silent, mourning Swedes watched.

Expect Verdict In Sex-Slaying Late Tuesday

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 27 — (CP). — A verdict is expected late tomorrow in the murder trial of Richard Rivers, 19, accused of the hotel-room sex-slaying of his 21-year-old sister-in-law.

The last of 26 Crown witnesses listed, Constable George Long of Toronto, provincial police finger-print expert, was scheduled to testify at the start of today's hearing.

Defence counsel Ian Munro said he planned to call Rivers to the witness box as the last of four defence witnesses.

Since the start of the trial last Monday, Crown witnesses have told of the discovery of the nearly-naked body of the slain girl in a hotel in Blind River 96 miles east of here, of the arrest of Richard Rivers four days later in the Mississagi forest and of the taking of a statement he is said to have given to police.

The statement, admitted as evidence, quoted Rivers as saying he had sexual intercourse with the girl in the hotel room and declaring of her death:

"Maybe I done it and maybe I didn't. It was all a blank to me."

"Passed Out"

Rivers said in the statement that he "passed out" after drinking beer and whisky in the hotel room with the girl, estranged wife of his 18-year-old brother.

Medico-legal analyst Verda Vincent of Toronto said Saturday she found bloodstains on clothing and a belt identified as belonging to Rivers. The belt was found drawn tightly about the slain girl's neck.

The youth's father, Louis Rivers, said the young Ojibway came to his home on the Missassagi reserve four miles west of Blind River and told him he was fleeing from the police. The father said he advised him to report to the police but the youth did not take his advice.

The elder Rivers said his son appeared at his home the night of July 25.

"I heard him whistling across the river about 11 p.m. and I rowed across in the boat and brought him to the house."

The year was 1835 ...

: : : young Canada trudged off to school with a stick of firewood under his arm! For in that year an enterprising schoolmaster named John Holmes opened one of the nation's earliest schools. He called it "The Nursery of Science," with Mrs. Holmes in charge of the "Female Department." In addition to a fee of from 12s 6d to 20s per quarter, each pupil was required to supply his share of the fuel!

Holmes had made a start toward our present educational system—but it was many years before schools were free to all in Canada. Through those years it was public opinion expressed by vote that finally forced action.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

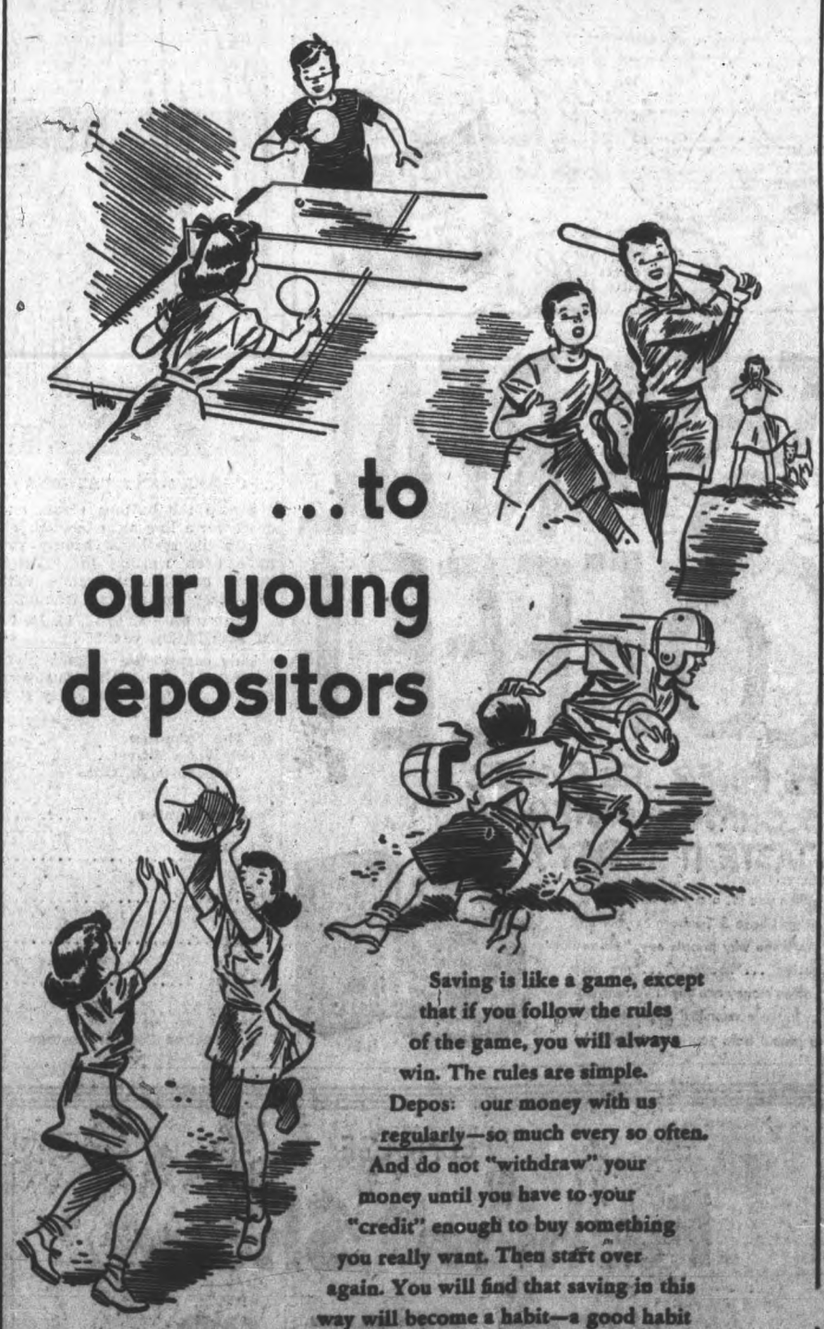
ROBERT H. SAUNDERS, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, the worried looking man on the left, has his hands full with the acute power shortage in Ontario at the present time. Talking matters over with Power Co-ordinator Gordon Kribs, Mr. Saunders has ordered power restrictions as drastic as during the war in an effort to keep Ontario industry operating. Even the opening of such new projects as the Stewartville plant fail to alleviate the chairman's troubles.



... to our young depositors

Saving is like a game, except that if you follow the rules of the game, you will always win. The rules are simple.

Depos: our money with us regularly—so much every so often.

And do not "withdraw" your money until you have to your "credit" enough to buy something you really want. Then start over again. You will find that saving in this way will become a habit—a good habit that you will be glad to have as you grow older.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

SEE THE LITTLE CARDS

JUST TAKE a good look at all smaller cards of the suit—in your own hand and in the dummy—if you want to know whether your partner's play is an "encouraging card." If you see all lower cards, you know then that he has used his lowest of the suit. In that event, you know his card—either as a follow-suit or as a discard—is a discourager. Only if you can read his card as probably higher than the lowest he holds, can you consider it a lead invitation. And, of course, when his card in following suit could not possibly influence repetition of that suit, then it may be a "suit preference" signal suggesting a switch by you to some other suit when you lead next.

(Dealer. West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♣	2 ♦
3 ♣	5 ♦	4 ♣	4 ♦

It was a good thing West did not take further action, such as bidding 5-Clubs that could be set or doubling the 4-Spades, and just as good that East did not double it when he considered his partner's action as intended for a forcing pass. He knew West as none too good on defense, and so feared acting positively, a fear in which he was justified.

West botched his side's welfare as early as he had a chance to. After getting the first trick with his club K, he repeated the suit with the Q, and from there in South had a cakewalk. The second club was ruffed, trumps drawn, hearts run for the discard of a diamond and later two diamond tricks given up with the contract safely in the bag.

East waited for the end to hop on his partner and ask why he had not watched the play on the first trick. He answered: "I did. I saw you play a high card on it, the 7, and so of course repeated the suit."

Poor West was under the fallacy which misguides many ordinary players. Lots of them will tell you that a 7 or higher is encouraging, a 6 or lower discouraging. But West could see all cards lower than the 7, including South's 4, so it was discouraging. In like fashion even a 3 or 4 can be encouraging, if indications are your partner has a 2.

Packers To Get Sick Benefits

More than 350 Canada Packers' employees, including office workers and foremen will be eligible to receive a comprehensive scale of sick benefits as the result of a new agreement which has been signed by the union and management.

This will be applicable to the other eight packing plants across the Dominion and those subsidiaries where C.P. owns 75 per cent of the shares, Alfred Barber, president of local 210, UPWA said today. It will come effective when all plants have signed.

Included among the benefits will be: automatic payment for doctor, medicine and hospitalization for the worker and his family. A maximum contribution of $25 will be paid toward the cost of medical or dental X-rays, and up to $200 for any one operation in a year. Sick male workers will receive $21 a week for 52 weeks if they have been employed for more than 10 years; for those employed more than 18 months, 16 weeks at the above rate.

Female employees will be paid $16 for 52 months if over the 10-year-mark, and for 16 weeks if employed more than 18 months.

Contributions will amount to about 45 cents a week from both management and worker, said Mr. Barber. He explained that the new agreement was a result of a decision given about a year ago by Mr. Justice McTague who told the company and the union to come to some agreement on a scheme of sick benefits.

"It looks like one of the best schemes in the country," said Mr. Barber.

6 On Docket In City Court

Next time William Corby, a Lakefield carpenter, decides to take a drink of beer he won't pick the intersection of Simcoe and George Sts. to do so. Today in Magistrate's Court before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, he was fined $10 and costs because of his sudden thirst.

John Loucks of Townsend St. who is charged with the illegal sale of liquor, pleared not guilty and was remanded to October 6 with bail set at $200.

Harvey Coones, 45, of Hunter St. pleaded guilty to having liquor in an illegal place and was fined $15 and costs. On a second charge of stealing $38 from Jacob Titus, same address, he was remanded until Tuesday.

Arthur Hewitt, 25, of R.R. 1, Lakefield was convicted on his plea of guilty of being drunk on Queen St. in Lakefield, and he was fined $10 and $6 costs.

Leonard Vinneau, Sophia St., and Roy Moore, Hilliard St., both pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place and they were fined $10 and costs.

BUSY MARKET

There was a busy market on Saturday morning with a large selection of fruit and vegetables for sale. MacIntosh, Wealthy and St. Lawrence apples were selling at 50 cents a 6 quart basket and Aleanders at 40 cts. Tomatoes were selling at 40 cts. a small basket and 65 cts. a large basket. Grade A large eggs were selling at 65 cents a dozen, and the price for chickens varied between 40 cts. and 50 cts. a pound.

PRESENTS FILM

At the Film Council meeting on Friday, three films were previewed including "Champions in the Making," which includes the best pictures yet taken of Barbara Ann Scott on the ice. This film was bought and presented to the Council by R. H. Ruskin, as he felt it was such an excellent film for the young people of Peterborough. This is the first gift of a film to be made by an individual to the Peterborough Film Council.

Likely Seek Mr. King's Advice At New Commonwealth Parley

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, Sept. 27 — (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King's hotel room in London is apt to be the heart of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' meeting in October.

None of the other Commonwealth representatives can match his experience. None like him has been so long associated with development of the Commonwealth and Empire. None has the accumulated knowledge gathered at the old-style Imperial Conferences in 1923, 1926 and 1937, and the Prime Minister's meetings in 1944 and 1946, all of which Mackenzie King attended.

In this last major conference he attends as Prime Minister, his counsel will be sought as much by the United Kingdom as by the representatives of the elder but smaller dominions and those from the new self-governing territories of India, Pakistan, and Ceylon, and the self-governing colony of Southern Rhodesia.

During about 14 days, after the session start on October 14, the Prime Ministers or their deputies must consider the form of the new Commonwealth.

Prospective Changes

Changes in prospect are, in the viewpoint of constitutional authorities, just as important as those considered in 1923 and 1926 when there took shape in Prime Ministers' discusions the declarations that made the Dominions in legal fact, as well as accepted principle, free, independent territories united by loyalty to the King.

"The whole concept of the meeting is to facilitate informal discusion and it is nothing as rigid as the old Imperial conferences," said a British Government spokesman.

"Decisions will not be made—they are a matter for governments. But several Prime Ministers will meet each other for the first time, they have an opportunity to exchange viewpoints in face-to-face conversation.

"It may be two or three years before the results of these informal but important talks are realized."

Will Be Consulted.

As the elder statesman of the conference, Mackenzie King's counsel is likely to be asked about the possible enlargement of the Comomnwealth family to include republics such as Eire, which has decided to abandon its practice of having foreign representatives accredited by the King.

"We do not wish to belong to the Commonwealth, but we want to be asosciated with it," said Prime Minister John Costello of Eire.

Costello will not attend the meeting in London as Eire has not been invited, but during his recent visit to Canada he may have given Mackenzie King some hint of what form he thinks this new association should take.

Obituaries

MRS. FREDERICK PANTER

Mrs. Alice Panter of 643 Chamberlain St., died on Sunday at her home following a lingering illness. She was born in England, Alice, daughter of the late William Vass and Esther Connon, and had lived in Peterborough for the past 60 years.

She leaves her husband, Frederick Panter and two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Burtt (Edith) in New Brunswick and Mrs. P. Archer (Hazel) of Toronto. There are two sons, Gordon of Toronto and Frederick, Jr., one sister, Mrs. E. Connors and a brother William Vass, all of Peterborough. She was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Funeral service will be held at the Comstock Funeral Home on Wednesday at 3 p.m. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

BRADLEY MOWRY

Bradley Mowry, 88, of 37 Cambridge St., N., Lindsay, died on Sunday at his residence. He leaves one sister, Miss Ada Mowry. Funeral service will be from the residence on Tuesday at 2 p.m. and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough.

Huge Generators Operating At Stewartville

The electric generators in the Hydro's new plant at Stewartville which was formally opened Saturday were manufactured in the Peterborough works of Canadian General Electric Company. They are three machines each of 24,000 kva production. Another rating of the plant is a total of 80,000 horse power.

Mr. Hubert Sills of the engineering department of the company attended the opening, and Mr. G. S. Matthews and Mr. R. L. Dobbin represented the Utilities Commission.

Hon. Leslie Frost, provincial treasurer, said in his address to the assembly for the opening said: "Every light that is turned off when not in use conserves that much water, which is so short in supply. Power is the lifeblood of the nation—do not waste it."

Expect Close Leadership Race At National PC Convention

OTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP) — The leadership contest at the forthcoming national convention of the Progressive Conservative party may prove to be the closest fought in the party's history.

At the party's three previous conventions, new leaders were selected after two ballots were taken. This time, some observers are predicting that as many as three and probably four ballots will be necessary.

Their observations are based on reports from various parts of the country which indicate support is split for those candidates who have placed themselves in the running.

Three-Way Split

For instance, the support of Quebec's 322 delegates to the convention Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2 appears to be split three ways. Ivan Sabourin, leader of the party in Quebec, has said he will support Premier Drew of Ontario for the leadership which John Bracken, 65, is giving up because of age and ill-health.

But John Diefenbaker, 53-year-old member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, told a recent press conference he found considerable support in Quebec.

Then Donald Fleming, 43-year-old member for Toronto Eglinton, told another conference he would win 250 of the votes from Quebec.

Garfield Case, 49-year-old member for Grey North in Ontario and the fourth leadership candidate, has not made any predictions as to the support he will draw.

Quebec Is Key

Quebec's support is all-important because the leadership winner must have a clear majority over all other contestants. The 322 Quebec delegates, some observers believe, may hold the ballots which will break a deadlock.

Ontario will be entitled to 465 delegates, Prince Edward Island to 31, Nova Scotia 63, New Brunswick 59, Manitoba 94, Saskatchewan 194, Alberta 76, British Columbia 103, and Yukon six.

Voting for the leadership will start at 1.45 p.m. EST Saturday, Oct. 2. The previous evening the leadership candidates, their movers and seconders will address the convention. Each candidate will be allowed to speak for 20 minutes, the mover for 10 minutes and the seconder for five minutes.

Nominations for the leadership will close at 6 p.m. EST Friday, Oct. 1.

Any candidate may withdraw at any time. If no choice is made on the third ballot, the candidate receiving the lowest number of votes in the fourth and succeeding ballots will be eliminated.

The secret ballot will be used in the leadership election, but votes on resolutions and other matters will be by a show of hand or by a standing vote.

The main speeches will be broadcast over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Arrangements are being made for broadcasts of the balloting.

Colorful Piece 'Magdalena' Hits Broadway

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (CP).—"Magdalena," a magnificently-staged, colorful production graced with excellent music, singing and dancing, has only one shortcoming—a ponderous and poorly-integrated book.

Against the lush jungle background of Colombia's Magdalena River Valley, gorgeously-costumed singers and dancers perform to the impressive music of Heitor Villa-Lobos, distinguished Brazilian composer.

The story deals with Indians employed in emerald mines owned by a paunchy general. Most of them are Christian converts. The core of the tale is a romance between Christian Maria and her pagan lover Pedro, who ends by conforming to the faith. A lighter touch is introduced by the general, a gourmet, and his mistress Teresa, a Parisian of unexcelled culinary ability.

Feast for the Eyes

Despite its slow-moving book, "Magdalen" is a feast for the eyes exotic settings. Jules Dassin directed the lavish production, said to have cost $360,000.

Irra Petina, a mezzo-soprano who has made concert appearances in Canada, sings and plays the role of Teresa, the Parisian cook, with admirable gusto. Hugo Haas is excellent as the food-loving Gen. Carabana, while Dorothy Carnoff as Maria and John Raitt as Pedro give fine singing and acting performances.

Canada-bound Artists

Jose Torres, celebrated Spanish dancer who has been a sensation in Paris, is to appear in Ontario and Queebc cities this autumn. He will be at Toronto October 12, Hamilton Oct 13, Montreal November 1, Quebec November 2 and Chicoutimi, Que., November 10.

Modern novels, soap operas and magazine advertisements are targets of gentle satire in "Small Wonder," the season's first revue which opened at the Coronet. "Small Wonder" is a well-produced, bright show, loosely held together by the amiable comments of Tom Ewell, billed as "the normal neurotic."

Out of This World?

Despite almost unanimous panning by the critic, "Heaven on Earth," a musical which fell flat on its fantasy, is continuing its run at the Century Theatre. Starring Peter Lind Hayes, night club comedian, "Heaven on Earth" is anything but that.

Hayes is called on to go into his night-club turns every time the book bogs down—and that is often.

DISCOVER PLANE—These four men are part of a hunting party which this week located the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force plane 70 miles southwest of Fort Nelson, B.C. The plane disappeared in 1943 and was reported to have nearly half a million dollars in currency and gold bullion aboard. Left to right, they are Hal Ellington of North Bend, Ore.; L. M. Smith of Elkton, Ore.; Dr. L. C. Garner of North Bend, Ore.; and C. A. Nicholls of Portland, Ore. The men said another member of their party, C. A. Fallart of Portland, Ore., first came upon the wreckage and its 11 skeletons. They said they were told officially the currency and gold bullion were aboard the plane when it disappeared. Washington D.C. sources maintain there was no money on the plane.

Haliburton Man Outruns Young Fox

HALIBURTON, Sept. 27.—This may sound far-fetched but it is true. The other day while driving along the road in one of A. H. Curry's trucks, Mr. George Wilson saw a fox on the road. Getting out of the truck Mr. Wilson took after the young fox. As it was told, after a long chase he ran the fox into a hollow log. Mr. Wilson, with the help of some passersby then stopped-up both ends of the log. After work he went back and found he still had his catch. So he put him in a box and took him home. Well we have heard of dogs being fast but never thought the day would come when a man could out-run a fox.

Sask. Uranium To Be Further Developed

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(CP). — Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan said Friday in an interview that he hopes to see supply minister G. R. Strauss and discuss possible British interest in development of uranium discoveries in Northern Saskatchewan. The C.C.F. premier said that one proven discovery is being developed by the Canadian Crown Company, Eldorado. But two others, now being assayed, may depend on outside capital for development.

All-Canadian Theatre Group Roadshow Will Appear Here

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—(CP).—The New World Theatre Company, an all-Canadian group, is ready to hit the road Oct. 18 with a burlesque version of that old-time melodrama, 'The Drunkard.'

After a week-long engagement in Ottawa, the company will push on to Cornwall, Kingston, Peterborough, Belleville, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Simcoe, Brantford, London and Kitchener in an Ontario swing. Later it may play Montreal and Toronto.

Best-known player in this professional repertory company organized by Canadian producer Brian Doherty is John Pratt of Montreal, who won international fame as the star of the wartime Navy Show and has since appeared in several films.

Other members of the group include Beth Gillanders of Vancouver, veteran of the Everyman Theatre in Western Canada; William Drew of the Little Theatre in London, Ont.; Murray Davis, Charmion King and Araby Lockhart, formerly of Toronto's Hart House Theatre; Barbara Hamilton, seen in the Toronto Conservatory production of "Gay Rosalinda" and John Frid, a young actor from Hamilton.

Several Graduates

Several of the troupers graduated from Dr. Doherty's Straw Hat Players which successfully toured Ontario's Muskoka Lakes resort district last summer in an experimental production by Canadian players chosen from Little Theatre groups.

"The success of the Straw Hat Players proved to me that Canadians will go for Canadian talent when it is presented to them professionally," Mr. Doherty said Friday night at a press conference.

During the summer the Straw Hat players performed for about 11,000 person altogether, many of whom had never before seen stage plays. Some Muskoka district residents travelled 50 miles to see the plays a second time.

Sabourin Withdraws In Favor Of Drew

MONTREAL, Sept. 27. — (CP). —Ivan Sabourin, Quebec leader of the Progressive Conservative party, announced Friday night he will not be a candidate for the national leadership of the party at the forthcoming convention in Ottawa.

In announcing his intention not to enter the leadership race, Mr. Sabourin said that Premier Drew of Ontario "will enjoy strong support from Quebec and should easily carry the convention."

In a press release, Mr. Sabourin explained, however, that this was only his personal opinion, and not in any way representative of the attitude of the Quebec delegation as a whole."

ARREST FOUR IN FENELON FALLS HOLDUP

Bride's Mother Welcomed By Lindsay With Warmth; Says "You Are All Sae Gude"

Many People In Town Offer Assistance
Sheriff Says "We're All Pulling For You"
Visits Daughter Charged With Murder

LINDSAY, Sept. 28.—This community opened its arms on Monday to welcome a bewildered little Scottish woman who ended a 3,000-mile journey to be by the side of her only daughter, who is facing a charge of murder. Mrs. Emily McInerney, 47, who was driven here from Toronto, had the cockles of her heart warmed by the reception given her as the news of her arrival spread around the town. Monday afternoon, she spent an hour with her daughter, Mrs. Jean McAllister, in the cell block of the county jail.

Within an hour of her arrival, the worried, tired mother, had a place to stay and offers of all possible aid through the generosity of the townspeople. The telephone in the home of Major Fred Johnston of the Salvation Army, where Mrs. McInerney was taken, rang constantly as people called to see if there was anything they could do.

Stays Near Jail

Mrs. Frank Weldon, wife of the county clerk, was one of a half a dozen women who called to request the short, plump woman to stay at her place during her visit to Lindsay. Mrs. Weldon't offer was accepted because her house is only a short distance from the jail.

Mrs. Jane Prentiss, a former war nurse, called to insist that Mrs. McInerney go to her home every day for her noon-day meal. Then Jailer Harry Stone called to welcome the little woman, followed by a call from Crown Attorney L. Jordan, who arranged a pass into the jail so she could see her daughter. Harry Richardson, a barrister, volunteered to take time out of his lunch hour and inform Mrs. McAllister that her mother had arrived.

Mrs. McInerney, a widow, who, until her trip here had never been far from her home in Greenoch, still held the crumpled five £1 notes she had when she arrived at Malton Airport in Toronto Sunday night. Although short of funds, she was assured by County Sheriff Jasper Forman, who is also head of the local Red Cross, that she need have no financial worries while she is here.

"Town Behind You"

"The town is behind you," the sheriff told her. "We're all pulling for you." It was at this point that Mrs. McInerney made the first voluntary statement since her arrival: "Thank you very much," she said. "You are all sae gude."

Mrs. McInerney was taken to the county jail this afternon by Major Mrs. Margaret Woolcott of the Salvation Army, who drove her from Toronto. She was met there by Father Cleary, who assured her that her daughter was being well cared for. In the cell

Railways Argue Threat Of War Justifies Rates

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP) — Possibility of war pushed itself into the railway freight-rate picture today as the cabinet was told rail revenues must be kept up to maintain the carriers in healthy condition for a possible "world emergency."

This argument was advanced in a brief submitted by the Canadian Pacific Railway to the ministers as they head the appeal of seven provinces from last Spring's 21-per-cent increase in freight rates.

Yesterday, the cabinet heard the provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec—challenge the award and call on the government to modify it or set it aside.

The two-day hearings were expected to conclude late today after the CPR submission has been followed by one from the Canadian National Railways.

"The Railways," said the CPR, "are making every effort to recover from the strain imposed on their facilities by the last war. The world now faces the possibility of another emergency. The impoverishment of the Canadian railways in the present period of high traffic volume may well result in their being unable to carry the burden that another world emergency would thrust upon them."

On the financial side, the Canadian Pacific argued that the 21-per-cent increase granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners was based on actual CPR operations since 1947 and costs had soared since then.

(The railways have made application for a new 20-per-cent rate increase based on this year's costs, but that case was not before Cabinet today.)

Clothes Cost Twice '39 Rate

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP)—The Canadian working man has borne a proportionally heavier blow in the cost of his clothing than other citizens, the Prices Commission learned today.

The retail price of men's overalls has more than doubled since 1939, F. H. Leacy, government statistician, testified when the commission resumed its hearings after an 11-day recess. The cost-of-living index for overalls rose from 100 in August, 1939, to 236.9 at Aug. 2, 1948.

The cost of work shirts, however, rose only a trifle more than the average for men's clothing. The index here stood at 191.4 last August.

Most of the price increases took place in the last two years.

Mr. Leacy explaining the structure of the work-clothes industry, said 73 firms make men's work shirts and overalls. The value of their production in 1946 at the factory level was $22,080,620.

"The five largest firms accounted for less than one-quarter of the gross value of production of the industry in 1946."

Mr. Leacy referred to the minutes of the Commons Prices committee, which sat last Spring, to show that the cost of blue denim, a major factor in the price of working clothes, rose from 18½ cents a yard in 1942 to 38 cents in 1948. Work-shirting increased from 17½ cents a yard to 32 cents during the same period.

Dental Health Essential In All Health Schemes

"Dental public health is today a 'must' as a part of any local, district or provincial health department," said Dr. George Clarke, dental public health officer, Ottawa, speaking at a special Dental Health Week dinner on Monday evening at the Empress Hotel.

"When we consider public health as a whole," said Dr. Clarke, "we realize that prevention of disease is the foundation which supports the complete structure. In the medical field along with approved methods for control and prevention of disease, health education has been materially instrumental in raising standards of health throughout every locality where public health is practised. Fundamentally, the approach to the problem of dental defects is the same."

Importance of Diet

Dr. Ebbs stressed the importance of diet and its effect on children's teeth and particularly on those of babies. He advocated natural feeding and said that a survey of children in Toronto showed that 85 per cent of the children in hospital with infections had been bottle fed, but that 65 per cent of the children born were being breast fed today.

"Preventive dentistry" among parents and school children is of the utmost importance, he said, but "the problem is too big to be tackled by any one agency."

Dr. Clarke was introduced by Dr. M. G. McCartney, president of the Peterborough Dental Society, and Dr. Ebbs by C. S. Browne, principal of the PCVS Dr. J. J. Craig presided.

Also seated at the head table were Dr. C. M. Scott, president of the Peterborough Medical Association, Dean R. G. Ellis of the City Man Among CSU Members Gets Jail Term

THOROLD, Sept. 28 — (CP). — Penitentiary sentences of two years each today hung over nine of 30 seamen who made court appearances here on charge arising from the boarding of a Great Lakes ship last spring.

The nine were sentenced Monday night on the counts of boarding a ship while carrying offensive weapons. The sentences were the minimum for the charge, laid under the Canada Shipping Act.

Four others will hear the same charge read Friday, including Michael Jackson, 33, of Toronto, Great Lakes organizer of the Canadian Seamen's Union, and two C.S.U. organizers.

Seventeen others, charged after the April 22 boarding of the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Glenelg, had their charges reduced to illegal boarding and 15 of these were given seven months in jail.

The 15 given seven months in jail were:

George Maynard, 17, Peterborough; Albert Peters, 18, Saskatoon; ernard Lalonde, 19, Belle River; Edward Dupuis, 20, Belle River; William Kind, Belle River; George Batten, 17, Toronto; Walter Zablotzy, 19, Delhi, Ont.; John Fraser, 18, Windsor, Ont.; Arthur Donald, 19, Toronto; Beverly Armstrong, 18, Durham, Ont.; Robert McKelvie, 18, Toronto; Jack Mouenel, 19, Toronto; Fred McLean, 18, Orillia, Ont.; Hubert McNeil, 19, Toronto, and George Gallichon, 19, Port Colborne, Ont., who already is in jail on another charge.

$200,000 Loss In Fire Water Brought By Train

RIDGEWAY, Sept. 28. (CP) — A railway engineer raced eight miles with 30,000 gallons of water Monday night and arrived in time to save this village of 1,000 people from destruction.

Engineer Charles Brown shunted two tenders full of water into the heart of Ridgeway's burning business section as firemen from seven nearby municipalities stood by, helpless from lack of water.

"Without that water all of Ridgeway would have been lost," said Fire Commissioner Joseph G. Masterson of Buffalo, NY, who led three Buffalo fire companies 10 miles across the international border to the village.

". . . We could have done very little except stand around and watch the fire."

Half-Million Damage

Two fire engine pumpers hooked up to the tenders and beat down the fire which gutted six stores, left four families homeless and caused damage estimated at between $250,000 and $500,000. It lasted three hours. No one was injured.

Fire companies came from Fort Erie, Welland, Port Colborne, Buffalo, Stevensville, Crystal Beach and Ridgeway.

The Canadian National Railways locomotive and tenders were dispatched from Fort Erie by Yardmaster George Bradford at the height of the blaze. Two pumps promptly hooked on and firemen from all brigades handled the hose lines.

The fire started in an apartment above McMorran's clothing store, after an explosion of undetermined origin which shattered windows. It spread to the Scottish knit store, Earl Detenbeck's electric shop, Morningstar's plumbing shop, several apartments and Roberts auto service, destroying stock. There was also some damage to Camarratta's fruit and grocery store, Hilborns pharmacy, in a frame building, was scorched and the stock damaged by smoke and water.

Three fire companies from Buffalo were on the scene 15 minutes after the call for help. Later spectators streamed into the village which depends on artesian well for its water supply and has no fire hydrants.

Western Powers Set Up Body Joint Defence

PARIS, Sept. 28.—(CP). —Defence ministers of five Western Union countries—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—have decided to set up a permanent organization to deal with a new common defence policy, it was announced here today.

The decision followed the two-day meeting of the ministers here to consider the reports made to them by chiefs of staff of the five powers and of the permanent military committee of Western Union.

The communique said the ministers agreed upon a common policy "designed to ensure the security of the five powers as a whole within the scope of the treaty of Brussels and of the charter of the United Nations."

The new defence organization, which will be responsible to the five ministers, will study tactical and technical problems of western European defence as well as dealing with problems of production and procurement of equipment.

It will include the nucleus of a land, air and naval command with a permanent military chairman.

UN Will Discuss Russ Proposal

PARIS, Sept. 28 —(CP)—The United Nations General Assembly today agreed without discussion to place on its agenda Russia's proposal for a one-third reduction in armaments of the Big Five with a year.

It sent the proposal to the political committee for further study. The general (steering) committee had voted previously to recommend discussion of the item, without dissenting votes.

However, Sir Hartley Shawcross of Britain said points in the Russian proposal already are included in other items, and he reserved the right for other delegations to enter their own resolutions at any time.

Call Reporters As Witnesses

SUDBURY, Sept 28 — (CP). — Three Sudbury Star reporters — Don Delaplante, Alvin Faught and Howard Somerville — have been summoned as prosecution witnesses in liquor sale charges against two Manitoulin Island hotelmen.

The cases were scheduled for hearing at 2 p.m. today at Little Current.

Facing the charges are E. Franks of the Bayview Lodge and Dymetro Pysaniuk of the Manitoulin House at Little Current. The charges are laid under the Canada Temperance Act which is in force on Manitoulin, the world's largest fresh water island. The C.T.A. bans liquor sale or keeping for sale.

The charges were laid after a story in the Sudbury Star Sept. 13 reporting that beer was sold on the island within 24 hours of a police raid Sept. 11. The story said the three reporters bought beer in one hotel at 50 cents a pint and accompanying pictures showed public drinking of beer in another. It also mentioned unsuccessful efforts to buy beer at some places.

(In Toronto, C. R. Magone, deputy attorney-general of Ontario said he did not think summoning of newspaper reporters as witnesses was unusual He said he was unable to recall any specific instance but he believed it had been done before.)

Prosecutions Ordered At 5 Summer Resorts

TORONTO, Sept. 28 — (CP). — The Ontario Attorney-General's department today issued instructions to local crown attorneys to prosecute 45 amusement and concession operators at five Ontario summer resorts for breaches of the Lord's Day Act

The charges arise from Sunday operation of amusements and concessions at Port Stanley, Crystal Beach and Port Dover on Lake Erie, Wasaga Beach on Georgian Bay and Grand Bend on Lake Huron.

Attorney - General Blackwell said he had given consent for prosecution in the 45 cases as a result of provincial police investigation of Sunday activity.

He said he could not name the proprietors until the charges were actually laid.

Car Wrecked As Three Try Escape

Customer Upsets Robbery Plan
Tackles Intruder

FENELON FALLS, Sept. 28—(Special)—Timely arrival of a customer spoiled a holdup at Fenelon Falls Monday night, and today four men are in Lindsay jail charged with the attempt.

Three men entered Mac MacKendry's service station about 10 o'clock and allegedly told him to hand over his cash or he would be choked. MacKendry, argued and bluffed the trio until Harold O'Brien another garage man came in. O'Brien, a husky, thick-set man tackled the three, and MacKendry joined in. They were winning the one-sided argument when two of the men broke loose and fled to a waiting car. O'Brien held the third man, Clifford Anstey, Bobcaygeon, while MacKendry called Chief Constable Dave Gordon.

The two who fled joined another man in a car which had been stolen earlier at Lindsay, and drove south. Between Cameron and Lindsay, the driver failed to clear a curve and the car was wrecked. Prov. Constable Lloyd Lyle, Fenelon Falls and Chief Gordon were close behind the speeding car, and captured John Carr near the scene of the crash. At 3 o'clock this morning, the two officers collared Wm. Edward Hill and Alex Hill, brothers of Bobcaygeon as they were about to enter their home in the village.

All four will be charged in connection with the case at Lindsay this morning.

This morning MacKendry said "It was a lucky break for me when O'Brien came in. He is a hard man to handle and he certainly gave those three fellows a rough passage."

The garage man paid tribute to the prompt assistance from Chief Dave Gordon and Provincial Constable Lyle.

Shinwell's Talk Annoys Attlee

LONDON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Two Conservative newspapers speculate today that Prime Minister Attlee has hauled his war minister over the coals for adopting what they term a friendly attitude toward Russia's United Nations disarmament proposal.

The Daily Express headlines its report "Shinwell On the Carpet Again?" The Daily Mail says politicians wonder whether the War Minister "got a wigging."

Both newspapers point out that Shinwell's speech at Salford on Sunday conflicted with Foreign Secretary Bevin's Paris speech.

Shinwell, generally recognized as being farther to the left than either Attlee or Bevin, expressed regret that Vishinsky's speech had been "received with derision in some quarters."

Russ To Stay In UN

LONDON, Sept. 28—(AP). — The Daily Herald today quotes Andrei Vishinsky, Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister, as saying "We shall not abandon the United Nations." "We shall stay on and work together with the other peoples of the world," the Russian added in an interview said to have taken place in Paris Sunday.

Cut Spending Keep Up Taxes World Bank Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) —The world monetary fund said today many of its 447 member countries must cut government spending and keep taxes high.

World recovery plans may be ruined unless these and other budget-balancing steps are taken by inflation-plagued countries in Europe, Latin American and Asia, the fund declared in its third annual report.

Stressing greater production and efficiency as the main need, the report said prices controls, rationing and allocations have been "ineffective" against inflation in some cases.

The 125-page document was delivered by managing director Camille Gutt, a Belgian, to the fund's board of governors, most of whom are the top finance men in their respective governments.

The east-west crisis over Berlin drew attention at the opening fund and bank session Monday, although Russia is not a member of either orgrnization.

The report hinted that wages and profits should be held in check unless increases lead to greater production. It pointed to France and Italy, where inflation grew worse last year because wage increases, unbalanced budgets and excessive credit expansion boosted the money supply faster than output of goods.

During the last fiscal year the report said $544,000,000 in aid had been furnished to 10 members—Britain, Belgium, Chile, Denmark, France, India, Mexico, Holland, Norway and Turkey.

Total assets on April 30, the fiscal year-end, were $7,976,000,000, including gold and currencies of its various member countries.

May Permit One Cent Increase For Bread

OTTAWA Sept. 28 — (CP). — An increase of a cent a loaf in the controlled price of bread may be granted bakers who have not hoisted their prices since Nov. 1, the prices board announced today.

The announcement said the Board now is prepared to authorize an increase of not more than a cent a loaf to those bakers who have not increased prices and who can demonstrate "financial need."

When the subsidy on flour was discontinued a year ago, many bakers increased prices immediately. Others put up prices later.

UN Must Act, Says Schuman Direct Agreement Futile

PARIS, Sept. 28. — (CP). — France appealed to the United Nations today to end the Soviet blockade of Berlin because the three western powers have "exhausted every possibility of direct agreement" with the Russians.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, in a policy speech to the General Assembly, said Britain, the United States and France had not found even "a minimum of goodwill" in their talks with "our Russian partners."

Schuman spoke as the three western powers prepared their appeals to the Security Council, formally citing the blockade as a threat to international peace and security.

State Secretary Marshall and Foreign Secretary Bevin conferred during the morning on the strategy the western ministers will follow in the Security Council. Officials said the talk also concerned the British-American position and strategy in Germany after the Berlin question is referred to the Council.

At the same time, British and American sources said, experts of the three western powers continued drafting the note to be sent to the U.N. secretary-general, Trygve Lie, either late today or tomorrow. A French source said the powers would deliver identical notes to Lie early this afternoon, but this was believed earlier than most sources expected.

A Russian source at U.N. headquarters, meanwhile, hinted a Soviet surprise when the big four dispute is argued in the Security Council.

Schuman, who spoke as he U N. faced the severest test of its turbulent history, championed the return of a democratic Germany to the family of nations.

"A renewed Germany must take her place in democratic Europe," he said. "Deprived of self-government, she must first achieve her own internal re-education and then take her place with her own special qualities, among the European nations."

King Urges New Basis Of Security

Must Seek Own Safety Until UN Prepared; Moderation Is Theme

PARIS, Sept. 28—(CP)—With the shadow of the Berlin crisis hanging over the United Nations, Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada, in his farewell speech as an international politician, today beseeched the nations of the world to move toward "the light of ordered freedom and universal peace."

Standing on a brightly-lighted rostrum in the U.N. general assembly hall in the Palais de Chaillott, Canada's 73-year-old elder statesman sounded the theme of moderation in a 20-minute address asking the world not to expect too much from the U.N. in too short a time.

Following his speech, France's foreign minister, Robert Schuman, appealed to the U.N. to end the Soviet blockade of Berlin because the three western powers have "exhausted every possibility of direct agreement."

Appeal To Security Council

The three western powers, meanwhile, prepared their appeals to the security council, formally citing the blockade as a threat to international peace and security.

It was against this tense background that Mackenzie King, in an address hailed by some correspondents as the "first moral call" to the world, said that individual countries must seek security on a basis "less than universal" when the U.N. machinery was unable to provide that security.

Schuman told the Assembly that the Allies must not repeat their mistakes of the First World War.

He hailed the European Reconstruction Program which, he said, has joined the countries of western Europe together in an economic union. The idea of a European federation is making headway, and "it must . . . be examined and support by the governments themselves."

NHL Expels Don Gallinger

MONTREAL, Sept. 28 (CP)—The National Hockey League announced today the expulsion of Donald C. Gallinger of Port Colborne, a member of the Boston Bruins who was indefinitely suspended last March 9 pending investigation of charges he associated with gamblers.

Clarence Campbell, league president, announced Gallinger's expulsion and said the hockey player had written two days ago, appealing the decision and asking for a hearing before the league's board of governors.

Mr. Campbell said: "In view of his appeal to the board of governors of the league against the expulsion order, the grounds upon which the order is based are not being made public but Gallinger is free to do so if he wishes."

Gallinger said today: "I have placed my case in the hands of a lawyer."

In a telephone interview from his Port Colborne home Gallinger said: "I don't want to jeopardize my case in any way before it is heard by the N.H.L.'s board of governors."

CCF Enters Field, Will Be 3-Way Fight

WALFORD, Ont., Sept. 28. (CP) —A three-way contest in the Oct. 25 Algoma East federal by-election was assured Monday night with the nomination of Lorne D. Callahan of Sault Ste. Marie as the CCF candidate.

He will oppose external affairs minister Pearson and John J Fitzgerald, president of the Social Credit League of Ontario.

The Progressive Conservative party announced earlier it would not contest the seat which became open through the elevation of Thomas Farquhar, Liberal, to the Senate.

10 Planes, Crews For Airlift Plan By Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 — (CP). — Canada's contribution to the Berlin airlift may include a squadron of 10 R.C.A.F. transport planes, with ground and air crew of some 200 personnel.

This was learned Monday night as being contemplated in government quarters in the event the Dominion decides to join with Britain and the United States in flying supplies to the German capital.

It was the first indications of what the size of Canada's force would be in the face of government reports that the Dominion's stand against participation in the air supply service was under review.

More If Needed

A source said he believed a greater number of planes could be made available if it were certain the airlift would be of short duration. A total of 25 was considered.

But the Soviet already have made known its intentions not to relieve pressure in attempts to dislodge the allies — France, Britain and the United States — from the German capital.

Up until recently, it had been believed here Russia would soften under repeated allied protests. Now it is believed the airlift may be necessary all through the winter months.

This was reported to be the maximum the Dominion can spare in view of the current international threat to peace.

A government spokesman said last Thursday the question of whether Canada's entry would be reconsidered depended on the outcome of the Berlin negotiations. They were broken off Sunday.

Burglary Fails, Police Shoot Man

TORONTO, Sept. 28—(CP)— A wild back-alley chase following an attempted burglarly early today resulted in the shooting of a man police described as a former member of Toronto's Polka-Dot armed robbery gang.

The man, Robert Simpson 30, was shot in the hip by Detective-Sergeant William Bolton as he ran from the back of a warehouse on Bathurst St. in the northwest section of the city. Simpson was charged with robbery with violence. Hospital officials said he wasn't seriously hurt.

Three other men escaped.

Bill Thompson, 19, spotted three men after they had broken into the warehouse. He ran to the home of Detective Bolton. Grabbing his revolver the sergeant followed Thompson into the lane.

Bolton shouted for them to halt and they broke into a run. He fired two shots in the air and hit Simpson with the third.

Harold MacMillan, 72-year-old night watchman, told police the men broke into a third-storey window and took him by surprise, binding his hands and feet. Then they drove the truck up the ramp and started loading it with tobacco products.

¾ Million Homes Built In Britain

LONDON, Sept. 28 (Reuters). —Health Minister Aneurin Bevan said today that Britain's September housing figures will show that the government has reached its first target of 750,000 new homes—set by the Wartime Coalition government. It is understood this figure includes adaptations and conversions of previously built houses.

Cat Hatched Egg

JOHANNESBURG, South Afric — (CP), — A tom cat in the Potchefstroom district recently hatched a batch of chicks after sitting on the eggs for 21 days. His first act on becoming the animal world's strangest foster father was to eat one of the chicks.

THERE WAS SOMETHING bothering 2½-month-old Donna Marie Maio of 40 George St. S, recently, when her mother reported recently to the Well Baby Clinic. There was, indeed, two back molar teeth had pushed through and there are two more coming. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Maio, her mother, a war bride from Swansea, South Wales, who thinks Peterborough is a lovely place.

Ontario's skies are clear this morning and another sunny afternoon will see temperatures reach the mid-70s. However the end of the clear weather appears to be in sight for southwestern Ontario. A disturbance which has been brewing over Florida is now on a slow northward trek toward Tennessee. This will cause increasing cloudiness over southwestern Ontario Wednesday with rain beginning in the Lake Erie region by Wednesday evening. Increasing easterly winds over the lower lakes region will likely keep maximum temperatures for Wednesday below the 70 mark.

Forecasts:

Lake Ontario region — Clear and warm today. Wednesday clear becoming overcast by evening. Cooler Wednesday.

Summary for Wednesday: Increasing cloudiness. Cooler.

Alderman Says Peterborough Housing Ahead

"In the selling of veterans homes and the reversion of Wartime Houses to private ownership with full municipal assessment and taxation, Peterborough is far ahead of other municipalities," Ald. Dick Raine remarked to The Examiner today.

"I am expressing that opinion from the conversations I had with representatives of other cities in the province at the Municipal Association convention in Kingston last week," Ald. Raine said. "From them and from other sources, it was plain that we have had a great deal of headway here in our negotiations with the government companies, Wartime Housing and its successor, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

"I have no doubt about the fact of it, but I imagine that few of our citizens realize that the council of Peterborough has really accomplished a great deal more than the other cities and towns that have those emergency housing projects."

Ald. Raine said that part of the credit should be given to H. S. Longhurst, retired administrator for Central Mortgage and Housing, and to councils of the four or five years and their leaders.

"I noticed another sentiment cropping up in discussions and conversations, and it meant that relations between the city and county of Peterborough are a great deal more neighborly and cordial than are similar municipal relations in various other counties. It sounded to me that we are getting more co-operation on both sides, and I could say in these discussions that Peterborough urban and rural communities get along well together and we have no serious differences."

"It seems to me that is a local tradition, and it is a happy one, I am sure that municipal leaders like Mayor Ovens, and his predecessors of recent years, Reeve Melville Johnston of North Monaghan and other county representatives have all done a fine part in creating a good spirit, and conducting affairs without sharp contention."

Ald Raine said the convention of the municipal association was worth while in many ways. "It also gave me a good opinion of the civic employees who do most of the work of the convention. They report on the effects and application of amendments of the Municipal Act, and it is soon found out from them whether any flaws are turning up in the operation of the laws."

Western Powers Continue Talks

PARIS, Sept. 28—(AP). — Defence chiefs of the five western alliance countries continued today their top secret talks on speeding their joint programs.

After two sessions Monday, the Defence Ministers and their chiefs-of-state met again with Canadian and American military observers attached to the permanent military commission set up by the Brussels pact. They are meeting in the office of French Defence Minister Paul Ramadier.

The military talks are understood authoritatively to be covering these aspects of joint defence:

1. A general speeding up of the five powers' military programs.

2. The extent to which Canada and the United States will be able materially to back the alliance short of entering into an immediate full-scale military treaty.

3. Co-ordination of the five countries' military rearmament plans in the light of mounting east-west tension in Germany.

4. A general slowdown of demobilization and completion of plans for a partial remobilization in the event of a further deterioration in east-west relations.

Wants to Stay

After her visit, Mrs. McInerney disclosed that her daughter does not want her to stay in Canada until the trial is over, but would like her to return to her home after the preliminary hearing. "Jean still likes Canada," the mother said, "and hopes she will be able to stay here."

The preliminary hearing is scheduled for tomorrow, but may be adjourned again. The 25-year-old, red-headed daughter is accused of shooting her husband in their lonely cabin near Kirkfield on Sept. 6.

After seeing her daughter, Mrs. McInerney was taken to the home of Mrs. Harry Stone, wife of the jailer, where she was given another cup of tea — her fourth in four hours.

Outlines 3 Rules

He briefly outlined three rules for prevention of decay "that we should make familiar to every parent."

"Rule one is that every child should make the first visit to the dentist at two and a half years, and not late than three years of age. Very often cavities are found even at this early time in life. The foundation teeth being the first teeth a child has, are one of the means by which the young jaw grows and develops. When one foundation tooth is lost too soon, the stimulation for normal bone growth in the area from which the tooth has been taken is lost for good, and in many instances, the damage done by the loss of one foundation tooth leads to a drifting and tapping of the other teeth."

"Rule two involves the toothbrush. On this point it should be made clear that toothbrushing by itself cannot entirely eliminate tooth decay, but will, if properly done, reduce the amount of disease. Teeth must be brushed immediately after eating. If it is left for even an hour, the damage done by an acid dissolving the enamel of a tooth makes it too late to effectively use the brush. This means that if an individual eats five times a day, the teeth must be cleaned five times a day. If the toothbrush is not available, the mouth should be thoroughly rinsed with water."

"Rule number three is a consideration of foods rich in sugar. We know that there is a definite relationship between the consumption of foods containing a great deal of sugar and the amount and the rate at which teeth decay. The thoughtless and indiscriminate use of hard, sticky candies and soft drinks is like putting out a welcome mat for decay to step in and do its malicious work as quickly as possible. There is no need for sugar in the form of candy and soft drinks."

Something for Future

Dr. Harry Ebbs, of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, and formerly of Peterborough, also stressed the importance of dental health. "Our big hope," he said, "is that we are going to do something about the next generation. The responsibility lies with the parents, teachers, dentists and doctors."

Miss Helen Hajnick, accompanied by Mrs. Marion Aman, sang four songs, including "Ave Maria" and "Waltzing in the Clouds."

Dane Discusses Mass Sports With Optimists

On the eve of the near-completion of Peterborough Optimist's Club, Boy's Town, their second meeting of the Fall season was highlighted on Monday evening by a timely and helpful address by Jack Dane, Director of the Peterborough Recreation Commission. He spoke of mass participation in recreation in Canada and pointed out how the Dominion was jolted into reality during World War II when so many of her men and women were rejected from service due to mental and physical ills.

This prompted Parliament to pass the National Fitness Act agreeing to set aside sums of money, if each Province would do likewise, in order to improve the nation's health in coming generations through organized recreation in sports, social gatherings, discussion groups and crafts in communities.

Mr. Dane pointed out that municipalities could only organize a sound program by surveys of all service club activities that are projected at present or for future, to make sure there is no overlap and that all activities are taken care of. It has been found by recreational directors, that natural neighbourhoods should be developed under their own councils to intelligently take care of their neighbourhood needs and that one section of the city has different problems from the other. He also stressed the need of good leadership at the Optimist Club Boy's Town from its inception.

Edward Wright and Ernest Brailsford were inducted as new members to the Club by Optimist Jack Rodgers and they were welcomed by president John Broadhurst and secretary Walter Murphy. A weiner roast is to be held by the Club at Shell Huffman's cotage, Chemong Park, on Wednesday evening and the remaining nights of this week are to be devoted to community effort in getting work finished at Trafalgar House in order that it may be put in operation as quickly as possible.

Saved From Death

HAMILTON, Sept. 28.—(CP). —Unconscious and lying on railway tracks running across a Hamilton street, a switchman was saved from death early today by a passing motorist as a train rumbled toward the man. The switchman, Edward Bennett, was flagging traffic because of the approaching freight train when he was struck by an autombile and knocked unconscious as fell on the tracks. Donald Duckett, in the car following that which struck Bennett, dragged the switchman to safety just before the train crossed the street.

Cause of his death is not yet known. An inquest, presided over by Dr. C. B. Waite, Peterborough, will be held this afternoon. Mr. Johnston was single.

Charge Sabotage Hungarian Oil

BUDAPEST, Sept. 28 — (Reuters). — The Hungarian government today published a "grey book" giving details of alleged large-scale sabotage of Hungarian oil production by United States oil companies.

Production was said to have been deliberately decreased from 800,000 tons under the German occupation to 500,000 tons today.

The 60-page book also includes facsimiles of alleged confessions by two Americans, Paul Ruedemann and George Bannantine, president and co-director respectively of the Maort Standard Oil subsidiary here, in what is said to be their own handwriting.

These statement assert that oil production was deliberately lowered in Hungary for "political reasons" at the orders of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and with the complicity of United States official circles in Hungary.

Both Ruedemann and Bannantine were expelled from Hungary last Saturday after being detained a week by Hungarian police and after the entire concern, completely American-owned, was placed under state management.

Gets 3 Months For Money Theft

Convicted in magistrate's court today of stealing $38 from the wallet of his brother-in-law, Harvey Coones, 45, of 194 Hunter St. was sentenced by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, to three months in the county jail. Coones had pleaded not guilty to the charge which was laid by his brother-in-law Jacob Titus, same address.

According to Mr. Titus, Coones took the $38 from a roll of $230 which had been left in his shirt pocket at the bottom of the bed. It was alleged that while Titus slept, Coones, who had been boarding there for about three years, entered the room, took the money and left the house.

In his testimony Titus said he searched for Coones the following morning and finally located him at the home of a friend. When asked if he had taken the money, the convicted man said no, and showed a purse containing only a couple of dollars.

Later in the day Titus learned that his brother-in-law had purchased two cases of beer from a bootlegger which cost a total of $16.50. He then called the police and Coones was arrested by P.C. Claire McGillen for theft of the money.

Titus told the magistrate that on the previous day Coones had received small sums of money from both himself and his wife.

Coones claimed that the money spent on beer were his personal savings, and that he didn't recall borrowing any money from his relatives on the day mentioned.

"Guilty," said the magistrate without hesitation. And he then sentenced Coones to three months.

Day and night, more dependable than ever

TODAY, telephones are four times as free from "trouble" as twenty years ago, and there are twice as many of them!

Each month 10,000 are being added so that soon all may have dependable telephone service and the security that goes with it.

This is being done in spite of rising costs, yet up to now there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 21 years ago.

For you, this means greater value than ever before; for us, the satisfaction of providing "the best telephone service at the lowest cost"

4 Feeder Lines To Be Cut To Save Power

COBOURG, Sept. 28 (ENS)—Commencing on Wednesday of this week there will be power shut-offs of the four feeder lines in Cobourg in an effort to get power consumption down to the quota. Unlike Port Hope where industrial consumption exceeds domestic, Cobourg domestic consumers use more current than industry and unless there is to be a comparatively drastic reduction of industrial current use, the domestic consumers will have to do a great deal better than they have done to date, it was pointed out by William Woods, utilities manager yesterday.

Due to the somewhat intricate manner in which the feeder lines weave in and out of the various sections of the town it is difficult to indicate exactly what sections will be shut off during the specified intervals. Consumers will have to note when their houses are shut off and preserve the information for future use.

On Monday's the feeder line connecting with the Dye Works, William street north of the subway, Ontario street, north of the substation, will be off from 9.00 in the morning until 10.30 and in the afternoon from 2.00 until 3.30. Tuesday, the CGE, which is on a separate feeder will be off during the hours designated but no domestic users will be off. Wednesday it will be the business section from Spring street along King to Green street, up George, Bond, Havelock, James, Division street north; part of Chapel, Swayne and College and including the Ontario Hospital.

On Thursday it will be Ontario street south of the substation, west of Ontario to the town limits, taking in King, Margaret and Forth streets, east of Ontario to near Spring, also Albert, Sydenham, Bagot, Durham and small connecting streets. Friday the area affected will be Dominion Wheel and Foundry, Edwards and Edwards, Lydia Pinkham, east of Spring to the lakefront, taking in the oil companies; all south of Albert and Queen to Henry street, up Henry to part of Chapel, also the General Hospital, D'Arcy and University. In the event of an emergency on this day, the hospital can be connected in with another feeder. Saturday and Sunday will be clear.

In addition, all factories in the areas designated will be subject to the current shut-off. The unions have expressed their willingness to work on Saturday and Sunday regardless of their union contracts requiring overtime on these days.

"It is a united effort on the part of all of us to see that a portion of our citizens do not lose wages during this period of power shortage. I hope the people of the town realize this and act accordingly," said Mayor Joe Smith in a bulletin released yesterday.

Library Exhibit Open To Public

A Public Health Exhibition opened at the Public Library on Monday evening. The exhibition is being held in connection with Dental Health Week and is organized by Dr. J. J. Craig, chairman of the dental public health committee.

The exhibition covers all aspects of public health and, in addition, a series of films are being shown every afternoon and 2.30 p.m. and again in the evening at 7.30 p.m. These films include the pictures of the royal wedding, the royal tour to South Africa, "Champions in the Making" which include shots of Barbara Ann Scott, two films produced by the Canadian Red Cross and several films on dental health, cancer and nutrition.

Represented at the exhibition are the Dental Public Health Committee, the Health League of Canada, the Department of Health, the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Peterborough Milk Foundation, the Canadian Red Cross and the Cancer Society. The importance of correct diet is shown with its effect on the teeth. Although special emphasis is laid on dental health, all other aspects of public health are covered, including an exhibition of industrial safety equipment.

Easy Game

WOODRIDGE, Man. — (CP) — Mike Gerardy of Woodridge driving near here with a party of friends, saw six bears and shot one with a .22 rifle. The party then drove home, got a heavy calibre rifle and returned to the scene to find the bears hadn't moved. They bagged three more, two escaping into the bush.

Officer Clips Skunk With .22

COBOURG, Sept. 28 (ENS) — That whiff of skunk odour that was much more than barely perceptible on King street in the business section yesterday morning, is the aroma from a skunk that is no more. A parting shot as it were from an animal that will not cause noses of residents in the business section, to wrinkle in their sleep anymore.

While on patrol the night before, Constables Hod Pearse and Homer Seale, sniffed the skunk's presence back of the stores. Homer shone his light on the eyes of the animal and Hod hurried back to the police office for his .22 rifle. All the shells he had were a couple of .22 shorts so it was a case of a bulls-eye or else. Homer didn't like the "or else" so he held the light steadily on Mr. Skunk and also saw that the foresight of the gun was in the beam. Hod took careful aim and the skunk died suddenly but not before it had time to unload one last charge of Skunel No. 5 on the atmosphere.

The County Council And The Civic Hospital

The cost of building the new Peterborough Civic Hospital has passed all expectation, and it now appears that $4,000,000 will have been spent by the time the job is finished. This will mean a heavy load for Peterborough taxpayers, and it seems just that a proportionate load should be borne by the county taxpayers who also share the benefits of the Hospital. Nevertheless, when the County Council was approached on this subject, and the sum of half a million dollars was mentioned as a proper contribution to the Hospital costs from the County, the members of that body were unwilling to discuss anything beyond the $150,000 for which the County has already obligated itself.

* * *

Sober consideration will show that such a contribution is not nearly enough, considering the use which is made of the Peterborough hospital by County patients. In 1947 22 per cent. of the patients treated in the present hospital were from the County, 62 per cent. were Peterborough people, and the remainder were from outside our district. We do not expect County taxpayers to contribute to the cost of the Hospital on a direct percentage reckoning, but it is clear that $150,000 does not begin to be a reasonable contribution to the costs of a $4,000,000 establishment. That the cost of the Hospital is so great is as much a source of regret in the city as it can possibly be in the County, but that does not alter the fact that the County should bear a proper share of the burden which present building costs have brought on us all.

* * *

The county assessment is over ten millions, and that of the city over thirty millions. It might be said that the County assessment is ridiculously low when compared with city assessment — that the County assessment, in fact, is a first-rate argument in favour of the employment of a qualified County assessor, who would put an end to the custom of keeping township assessments artificially low. The hospital tax in Peterborough is going to increase taxation on city properties by anything from ten to thirty dollars a house. A contribution of $500,000 from the county would only add 3.33 mills on the county tax rate, amounting to ten dollars on a good-sized farm. We feel that the County can stand 3.33 mills on its tax rate just as well as the city can stand the increase of 6.55 mills which it will have to bear.

* * *

From time to time we hear of the troubles of the farm population, and of the many hardships which farmers bear on behalf of city folk. To balance the record we should like to point out that the cities maintain many services of which the farm population has the fullest use, and does not ask a proportionate payment in return. The County Council knows that half a million dollars is cheap for the right of access to a four million dollar hospital. It is, in fact, an eighth of the cost, from a group which sends almost a quarter of the patients to the hospital. Such a demand is, in fact, extremely reasonable.

Being Stood In A Dark Corner

Chairman Robert Saunders of the Ontario Hydro Commission has the wrong methods for winning friends and influencing people, or perhaps now that he is a big man he wants to vent his spleen for punishments he suffered in childhood. 'Just do that again and I'll put you in the corner for fifteen minutes, all by yourself in the dark', he seemed to be saying last Friday when he announced that any municipality in the Hydro's southern Ontario system which "consistently fails to keep within its daily quota" will have its power cut off hourly for a period not exceeding fifteen minutes each hour of the day from dawn to dark. We in this southern Ontario city of Peterborough are not children to be threatened like that, Mr. Saunders. We will not be bullied not suffer your outbursts in silence.

Fortunately we can keep our indignation about the Hydro and its present and past bosses at boiling point and still be canny in our use of electrical power. It is one of our virtues that we can glow with anger (and without using an electric heater) and still keep our heads. For instance, Mr. Saunders, we are now so overheated by your latest threats that we should blow a fuse, if it were not for our cool realization that that would put us completely in the dark.

When we refrain from using electric kettles, turn off all the lights except the one we are using, go to our jobs on odd shifts, work on Sundays, and are saving power in every possible way, we do these things not because you threaten punishment, Mr. Saunders, but because we are not stupid. We know, without threats, that the shortage of power is critical and we shall not bite off our noses to spite our faces. We are now saving power, and shall do our best to save more. The result of threats from Hydro Commissioners big and small is to turn our indignation into white-hot anger. There will come a bright day when we can hit back. The thought of that day cheers us up even now as we read the Hydro threats by flashlight and reach for a blanket instead of the electric heater.

Berlin Goes To U.N.

Sir Hartley Shawcross of Britain is reported to have said last Thursday: "The whole question of Berlin will be tossed into the assembly agenda if the latest and final three-power note does not produce a Russian agreement". If Sir Hartley was weighing his phrases more carefully than the word "tossed" indicates (the Berlin situation is not a football pumped with air to be "tossed" around) his significant word is "final"—the final three-power note—and not the referring of the matter to U.N.

If the last note is the final attempt of Britain, France and the United States to come to a mutually satisfactory arrangement with Russia over Berlin, the "Big Four" and the Council of Foreign Ministers are as useless implements in organizing the peace as U.N. is now generally recognized to be in preserving it. So we may expect the various ships of state to bounce around on uncertain seas until there is a collision, or a large storm with the ships too far at sea to reach home ports safely. There need not be war in the immediate future. Both Russia and the western powers will try to avoid that collision, without agreement and without co-operation. The monstrous situation in Berlin will probably continue drearily and expensively throughout the winter.

The latest "note" and the Moscow conferences have failed. So Berlin goes to U.N. — not, it must be assumed, France, Britain, the United States and Russia, who go to U.N. They have done their best or their damnedest. The Assembly of the United Nations will be able to do nothing any better or any worse; it will be able to do nothing. If will provide only a platform, which may have holes in it before the session ends—for instance, a hole created by the withdrawal of Russia and satellites from the Organization. From this platform the whole matter may be aired; we shall hear from both sides and the world which has already made up its mind, will be able to assess what there is of truth, error and prejudice. The Berliners will not be represented.

"Give A Dog A Bad Name . . ."

Being able to take dogs or leave them alone, we are able to look with unclouded eyes upon the case of Bruce, the pet of the Rev. Henry Mayne-Young, rector of the village of Freston in Suffolk, England. Bruce, it appears, kills chickens and molests pedestrians, and a local magistrate had ordered that he be destroyed. But the Rev. Mr. Mayne-Young will not destroy him; instead he has appealed directly to the King that his pet's life may be spared, and he has offered prayers in his church that Bruce may yet be saved.

England, which is full of people who are somewhat intemperate in their admiration for dogs, is just the place where such a thing would happen. An Army veterinary has offered to give Bruce a job in the army (Bruce's father was an Army watchdog and had what a press report calls "a distinguished career"), and another dog-lover has offered to pay £1 fine for every day of the dog's ensuing life; as Bruce is only eighteen months old this represents a generous, and almost rash, impulse. The dog-lovers of England have raised a fund of £400 to support a legal appeal against Bruce's death sentence.

Astounding? No, not really. Hindus allow their sacred cattle to roam freely in the streets, eating from food stalls, treading on fabrics which are offered for sale, and making nuisances of themselves as they please. In Britain, apparently, there are a great many people who do not regard a hen-killing, biting dog as a nuisance, but just as a jolly pet. There is an old proverb which says "Give a dog a bad name, and hang him"; in England it should be "Give a dog a bad name and half the nation will leap to his defence."

I'm Annoyed With Duncan Hines

By F. R. D.

IF you aren't acquainted with Mr. Hines, he is the gentleman who has made rather a good thing out of travelling around, eating and sleeping at various places and then writing pieces about them, extolling this and that. This is all very well, and if Mr. Hines wants to do that sort of thing I can't object. It was where signs began appearing on a lot of these places, "Approved by Duncan Hines" that he got in my bad books.

❖ ❖ ❖

PREVIOUS to a 2,000-mile motor trip through the United States, just completed, Mr. Hines and I were casual acquaintances through a review of his book "Adventures in Good Eating". Now, having been served a breakfast at a cost of $6.00 for four, edible in part only, at a place which flaunted a large sign showing it had Duncan's approval, I'm annoyed with Brother Hines.

❖ ❖ ❖

I HAVE always been amazed by the horrible food served the travelling public. Why said travelling public puts up with it I haven't been able to find out. There are places where you can get a good meal, tastefully served and well prepared, but these are few and far between. Canada, which counts on its tourist business as a source of U.S. dollars, certainly isn't using food as one of the attractions.

❖ ❖ ❖

THERE must be a happy medium between the greasy spoon type of beanery and the Olde Worlde Tea Shoppe. In one you get good food, spoiled by poor cooking and serving. In the other you get poor food, spoiled by poor cooking, meagre helpings at high prices, and an atmosphere of fading gentility.

❖ ❖ ❖

WITH some bitter Canadian experiences in mind I rather looked forward to something pretty tasty in the eating line while travelling in the U.S.A. Sad to relate, it was only a dream. I found the best places to eat were drug stores. Here the food was reasonably good, moderately clean and served promptly. I also struck a good spot in Florida, "Blue Gables", where a friendly, chatty soul put out a fair meal accompanied by a running commentary on what she thought of the travelling public. Maybe there are faults on both sides.

❖ ❖ ❖

TRUCK stops also served good food. It was of the hearty type, but at least it was cooked. The surroundings in which it was served weren't elaborate, but were clean, and service was prompt. This matter of service was one of my major gripes. A number of places in which I proposed eating failed to jell because after a wait of fifteen or twenty minutes I got tired of the whole thing and took my bonnet and left.

❖ ❖ ❖

SLEEPING also posed a problem. It wasn't really solved until I struck the heavily travelled route south at Savannah, Ga. Previous to this I'd been wandering through Virginia's mountains, and was apparently off the beaten track. Tourist camps were few and far between, and good ones fewer and farther.

❖ ❖ ❖

LET me here interject a word of caution. If travelling in the eastern U.S.A. don't attempt the Skyline Drive through the Blue Ridge Mountains unless you have lots of time. It is a lovely scenic drive, with breathtaking views of beautiful rolling country, but the road was surveyed by a particularly active snake.

❖ ❖ ❖

PASSING the dawdling motorist is almost impossible, and the whole drive is reminiscent of wheeling a boat through a sea which can't make up its mind as to which way it will roll next. Maybe I'm a little hard on the Skyline as it cost me a second gear. If you want a really interesting test of your driving, try 1,000 miles through town and city sans second. You'll learn a lot, not only about your driving, but also in profanity.

❖ ❖ ❖

HOWEVER, let's go back to sleeping. My advice is to follow heavily travelled routes. On these the cabins are good. Once I hit the popular trail I was able to get double rooms, twin beds, private baths and such for $2.00 per person. Before reaching the travelled routes I'd paid as high as $16.00 for two rooms without bath, and beds in which I'm sure Washington had snoozed, if their sags and lumps were a true indication of age.

❖ ❖ ❖

IF you propose an extended motor tour take a rigorous course of body-building exercises before starting. Make sure your digestion is in good order and don't eat by the clock. There are places where good food is served, but they take a bit of finding. The same applies to sleeping. Either be prepared to stop early when you find a good spot, or drive until you do. A lot of the accommodation is predicated on the theory that people must eat and sleep and by the law of averages, no matter how poor a place may be, a certain number of travellers will stop at it because there isn't anything else handy.

Origin By Countries

A total of 730,625 born in 48 different countries, were during the Second World War enlisted in the Canadian Army acording to figures compiled by the Army's historical section at Ottawa. Of those born outside Canada, statistics show that the largest number—some 39,907—was born in England, and the smallest totals are shown for Albania and Montenegro with three from each of these countries.

Rusian-born (the USSR and Ukraine) Canadian soldiers totalled 2,850.

Several other countries, by reason of birth, contributed heavily to the strength of Canada's wartime army. They include Scotland with 18,308; Ireland 6,585; United States and Alaska, 19,068; Poland, 5,144; and Wales with 2,123.

Almost 2,500 Canadian soldiers first saw the light of day in Newfoundland.—Veterans Affairs.

The Black Market Mentality

(MONTREAL STAR)

AN English headmistress, Miss Grace Nicholls, of Bridgewater Grammar School for Girls, has had something to say about the "black market mentality." She notes a pronounced increase in lying and concealment. This mentality has come about, she believes, as the result of the way the black market has become part of Britain's daily life.

Similar reports have come from those in charge of schools in other countries, in which the black market flourishes. It is a tangled problem. For the controlled market inevitably creates the black market. And the black market is notoriously difficult to uproot because it generally comes to command a large measure of public support.

The result is that respect for the law is undermined. Law-breaking, by buying from the black market, becomes ordinary and widespread, and loses any serious opprobrium. The whispered word, the secret visit, the satisfaction of boasting over the extra goods obtained are all built into the pattern of daily thought.

This English schoolmistress says that the black market has become "an acknowledged part" of the country's life. The phrase may not be too strong. For when law-breaking becomes almost normal and natural, the sense of guilt wears very thin. The people who were always on the side of the law find themselves more or less regularly engaged in breaking the law. The "black market mentality" that is engendered is no more healthy for the elders than it is for their children.

Tourist Air Travel

With a pioneering spirit which has characterized many of its operations, Pan American World Airways announces tourist-class service between New York City and San Juan, Puerto Rico, at sharply reduced fares at a time when fare increases have been advocated by several airlines and a policy of a general 10 per cent. increase domestically has been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board. Pan American will soon put into effect on DC-4 Clippers a rate of 4.6 cents a mile between New York and Puerto Rico. This makes the one-way fare $75, as compared with the existing rate of $133, which will be retained for de luxe service. To provide service at the lower cost, meals will not be served on the 1,612-mile, nine-hour run, nor will there be steward or stewardess service. By eliminating the galley, sixty-three passengers, instead of the present fifty-two, can be carried. Otherwise the big transports will be just the same as those operated by the line at the higher rate, with the same amount of seat and leg room and, of course, no sacrifice of safety provisions or of speed.

This is in line with President Juan T. Trippe's long-held views on the necessity of bringing air travel within the reach of more patrons. It may well be the forerunner of like operations, offering two classes of service, where conditions and length of flight permit. Certainly, reduction of fare in order to stimulate higher seat capacity conforms with the thinking of many domestic airline executives, including C. R. Smith, chairman of American Lines, who is opposed to the domestic increase which is under consideration at this time. It will be interesting to see whether the airline pattern develops along the same lines as railroad passenger service, with Pullman accommodations for those who desire de luxe quarters and a parallel tourist reserved-seat, special-coach service, such as that which characterizes the Empire State Express of the New York Central and some famous transcontinental and Florida trains on other roads.—N.Y. A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins. (Isa. 58: 1.)

❖ ❖ ❖

None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity....Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

The way of peace they know not; and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace. Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness. (Isa. 59: 4, 7-9.)

The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble. (Prov. 4: 19.)

Letter To The Editor

UNIONS MUST LEARN COMPROMISE

Sir: The Examiner's keen editorial indicates an amazing situation in Australia, under which "Unions Dictate Foreign Policy", and specifically: "Now the Seamen's Union has put a ban on Greek ships touching at Australian ports; the Union does not approve of the way the Greek government deals with political prisoners...."

As I see this picture, I am not alone surprised that our realistic Australian brethren would permit such irresponsible control of their political affairs (as you nicely phrase it, "even though it is a socialistic state") but — coming nearer home — it seems to me that the position 'Down Under' is a definite, if far-away, endorsation of rural reaction in Canada, to the gradually emerging fact that the C.C.F. party has become the prisoner of organized urban labour?

Personally, I think there is a place in the scheme of things for a straight 'Labour' political party; but I agree with the interpretation placed upon this trend in the recent Saskatchewan vote; i.e., that urban labour will have to grow up and become more experienced and less selfish, if it is to hope to win and hold the confidence of rural Canadians.

Over the long-term, it is this reader's opinion that the interests of urban workers and those of agriculture synchronize, although at the lower (or short-term) level they appear to point in opposite directions? In more ways than can be gone into in this brief comment, organized urban labour is authoritarian and dictatorial, and knows little about agriculture and less about the spirit of compromise — the twin cores of a democratic state.

TWO ISLANDS, the larger of which is between two and three times the size of Prince Edward Island, have been discovered in Foxe Basin off the west coast of Baffin Island, north of Hudson Bay, by the crew of an Air Force Lancaster of 413 Photo Survey Squadron from Rockcliffe, engaged in aerial photography at Baffin. Map in upper right shows the location of the two islands in relation to the rest of Canada. RCAF Aircrew operating in the far North have been credited with making many changes to existing maps, which in some areas give only an approximation of the country. Discovery of the new islands adds over 5,000 square miles to Canada's known territory.

Don't Retire Experts Tell Older People

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BRIGHTON, England, Sept. 25 (CP).—Advice to old folk: "Don't retire. Keep on with the job you know."

It was given by Sir Ernest Rock Carling, consulting surgeon to Westminster Hospital, in a discussion of the Physiology Section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

"The most important problem for old people today is how to ensure themselves the right to continue working without impeding the promotion of those younger than themselves," he said.

"That means: know how to abandon the enjoyment of the first violin's privileges and learn to play second fiddle."

Hitherto the old had been regarded as outside the stream of active life, with the result they sank into loneliness and boredom.

"There is no scientific evidence for the selection of the retiring age of 65 for men and 60 for women. In the last 50 years the expectation of life has increased by almost 20 years for women and 17½ for men."

He said that in Britain there would soon be more people over 60 and under 20. For economic reasons it would be necessary for old people to work as long as possible.

Hits Men Harder

Miss Barbara Lewis, another speaker, said that a survey of old people in Birmingham indicated retirement was a much greater problem for men than for women. Men did not know how to occupy their time, whereas women could find odd jobs around the house.

"We were told over and over again that the old men had "gone" to pieces since they had retired."

Dr. Marjory Warren said people should be educated to meet the problems of their advancing years. They should be told of the importance of hobbies and forming interests outside their work.

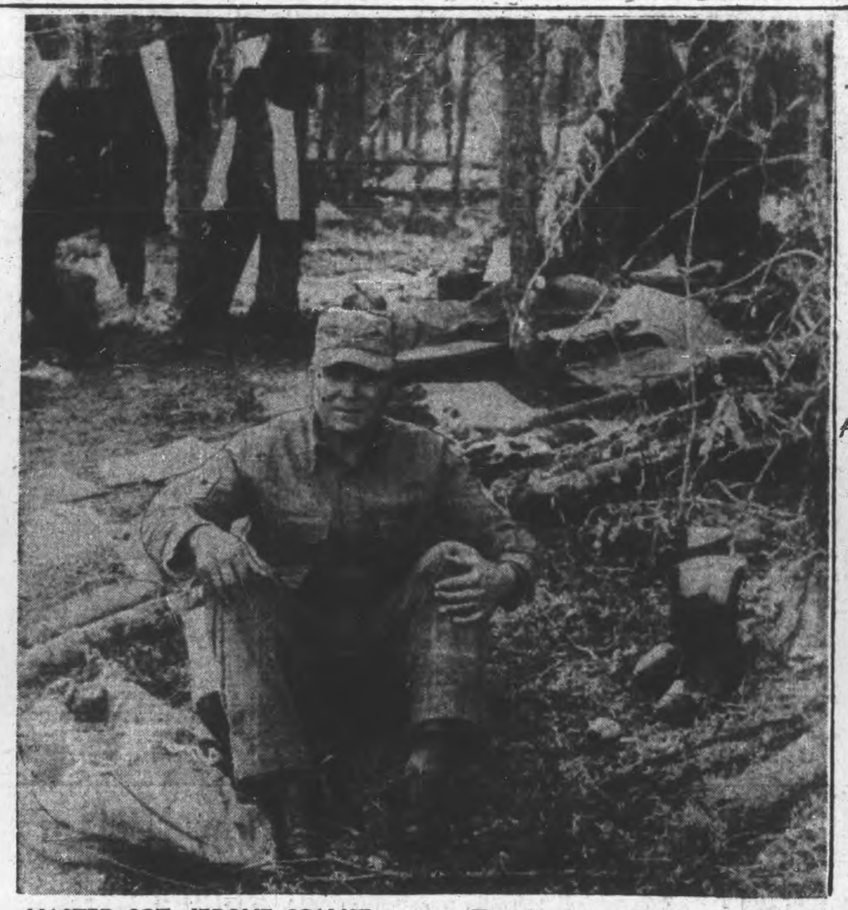
Prof. D. Burns said that as a magistrate he often had old men brought before him for attempted suicide.

Frequently it was found the man had lost his job at 65 or thereabouts. If he was a bachelor or widower he became apathetic and neglected himself until he sank into melancholy and attempted to take his life.

H. S. Shelton said more research was needed into the approximate length of normal human life and the length of normal activity.

It should be learned how much old age was a physical condition and how much mental — in other words, how many people became old because it was expected of them.

"For example, all my life I've been in the habit of carrying a walking stick," he said. "Now I've had to give it up because people began to assume I carried it because I was getting old and decrepit."



MASTER SGT. JEROME SCALISE is seen in the camp five naval and military men hacked out of the Sashatchewan bush with only two pocket knives. The party was rescued after 12 days of intensive search by air. They lived on porcupine, squirrel and berries. Cook for the party rescued Saturday by the RCAF, Scalise made squirrel, partridge and porcupine stew in his helmet. "Not unlike the Pilgrim Fathers," the men held a prayer meeting every night.

Czechs Get Big Loan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—A $6,000,000 loan to Czechoslovakia, the first such credit granted in the Soviet sphere, was announced Monday by the international monetary fund. The new venture in economic co-operation across the Russian-erected barrier dividing Europe came as a surprise. Camille Gutt, the fund's managing director, told reporters it is in line with the policy of both the fund to promote east-west trade as an essential of economic recovery.

14 Spectators Killed

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil, Sept. 28 — (AP).—Fourteen spectators were killed and more than 35 injured Monday shortly after the start of an automobile road race near Porto Alegre. There were reports that six other spectators were killed at Vila Estelo. The accidents occurred when the cars skidded on muddy roads.

Bare Subsistence Lot of Majority of People In China

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH

SHANGHAI, Sept. 28 (Reuters)—Today, three years after the world emerged from the greatest war in history, civil war and inflation have reduced 80 per cent of China's 450,000,000 people to a bare subsistence level.

This is the outstanding fact which emerged from a poll conducted by the Institute of Chinese Public Opinion.

Chinese in all walks of life have been severely hit by inflation, and perhaps none more badly than government employees. High officials continue to live in government-furnished foreign-style houses, ride in official automobiles and receive numerous privileges which free them from the necessity of living on their meagre salaries.

The average government employee, however, gets only the equivalent of eight to nine American dollars a month, plus rations of rice, oil, salt, sugar and coal. Most of them live in congested government dormitories, with a whole family of four or five often crowded into one small room. But is it estimated that in Nanking alone, over 8,000 government employees are not given living accommodation.

Life for these people as a matter of trying to keep alive. Clothing and many other commodities are priced beyond their reach.

In these circumstances almost all resort to "squeeze," as bribery. Although squeeze is nothing new to China, it is more in evidence today than ever before. You even pay to buy travel fares.

School Teachers Suffer

School teachers and college professors are in much the same plight as the ordinary government employee. The majority of them are deep in debt or suffering from undernourishment. Large numbers are known to hold several jobs outside their teaching hours — in many cases menial labor jobs—to make ends meet.

Chinese students are another class hard hit by the inflation. About one-third of the country's students depend on a government pittance.

Many educational institutions now demand payment in terms of rice — or the cash equivalent of the rice prevailing at the time payment is due. In many localities, house rents are collected on the same basis.

Chinese soldiers are better off. Although a common soldier still gets only a few cents in terms of United States currency he gets his food and clothing free. In large cities soldiers travel free in all municipal vehicles.

But reports are reaching here that soldiers in rural districts are helping themselves to anything they can lay their hands on. And in Shanghai, the imposing police force has been unable to stop "gate crashing" by soldiers at theatres.

The inflation has brought to a standstill the businesses of small manufacturers and merchants. Handicapped by insufficient capital and lack of raw materials, they find the cost of production so high that they cannot compete against imported products cheaper in price and better in quality.

To Raise Official Status Of High Commissioners

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, Sept. 28 — (CP).—A brisk promotion in the table of precedence for the High Commissioners who represent the Dominions in the United Kingdom may result from the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' meeting here in October.

When Princess Elizabeth was married in Westminster Abbey last year, Prime Minister Mackenzie King at the ceremony sat next to Prime Minister Attlee, given a place of honor higher than any other United Kingdom minister. This was recognition of the status of the senior Dominion.

But while the high status of self-governing Dominions is recognized at such ceremonies when heads of governments or their deputies are present, the representatives of Dominions are in a different position.

Listed Low Now

In the table of precedence recognized at official functions, the High Commissioners are far down. Ambassadors from foreign countries, no matter how small, are fifth in order of precedence, preceded only by the King, Duke of Gloucester, Duke of Windsor, and the King's nephews.

The Ambassadors precede the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor, the Archbishop of York, and even the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom.

But the High Commissioners from the Dominions, who serve the same function in London as do Ambassadors, are placed in 39th position, far below the sons of dukes and earls, bishops, ministers and envoys. They are sandwiched between secretaries of state under the degree of baron, and viscounts' eldest sons.

Constitutional authorities said they could see no insuperable difficulty in giving Dominions' representatives in London the status, an deven the title of ambassador, although it would man the King accredited ambassadors from the Dominions to himself.

Urges Church Unity

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP).—Pleas for unity between the Church of England in Canada and the United Church of Canada were heard Monday. Ven. Archdeacon James Thompson of Vancouver, bringing greetings from the Church of England told the 13th general council of the United Church that he would "like to see greater friendliness between the Christian denominations professing christianity."

JOHN J. FITZGERALD, who as a Social Credit candidate, will oppose External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson in federal by-election in Algoma East on Oct. 25. He is president of the Social Credit League of Ontario.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

CAULK YOUR HOME AND SAVE FUEL

Waste in any form is a bad habit . . . this includes the extra fuel you will burn each winter if your home isn't weather tight. Once again winter is just around the corner—now is the time to prepare for it. Weather-strip the doors and windows . . . caulk your house —wherever cold air can get in and heat can get out. Your economy, multiplied by that of your fellow Canadians, will help make it certain that no one runs short. Sensible saving and the prevention of waste in all its forms are essentials of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The junior grid schedule opens at 3.30 tomorrow aft in the Oval when St. Peter's High and the PCVS squads tangle in their first meeting of the year. These two local teams, along with Lakefield and Lindsay, form a compact junior COSSA group which should see a lot of keen competition. Glad to see St. Pete's in there this fall and also Lakefield, along with such seasoned performers as Lindsay and the PCI-ers. All junior teams, of course, are uncertain quantities at the start of a season, but soon settle away in the autumn grind. The Collegians go to Lindsay on Saturday for the next game—and the schedule is in elsewhere tonight.

* * * * * *

Our reporter at the Oval last Saturday says there was some confuusion caused among players and spectators at a few rulings by Referee McComb of Toronto. He twice in the first half penalized the PCVS juniors 15 yards for illegal interference and later did the same once to Riverdale. Asked afterward how come, McComb explained that ordinarily a 10-yard penalty is passed out for such interference but that an extra five yards was tacked on when tripping, the use of a fist or some such occurred, too. Also a touchdown run was called back for illegal blocking behind the line. All in all, we're told the officiating was quite good.

* * * * * *

Hard To Figure 'Em

It is a fact that football rules will always remain pretty much of a mystery to many fans. And to lots of the players, too. To tell the truth, we're not too well up on grid rules, either. It is a tricky game with 24 players taking part in every play, so 'tis almost impossible to catch everything. And the season is too short to get thoroughly acquainted with everyone and everything in this exciting sport. The players, of course, should be up on the rules as such knowledge pays off. As for the fans, they're generally satisfied with a fair knowledge of what's going on, so long as colorful action prevails and the home team isn't losing by too much.

* * * * * *

Criticizing the NHL for tying up prospects tighter than pro ball does, Dan Odette of Kitchener writes: "Probably the vilest rule of all is the one whereby an amateur player immediately becomes the property of a pro club when his name is placed on the negotiation list. This player doesn't even sign a scrap of paper but he still belongs to the club who placed him on the negotiation list. He is unable to deal with any other pro club, if he thinks he can better himself, because the other clubs won't touch him. Something like a closed corporation." And if he signs an agreement to try out with a pro club he must play for that club and cannot even return to amateur ranks without the club's consent.

Petes Elect Officers

Glad to see Ed Riley go back again as prexy of the Petes' puck club, with Jim Ellis vice-president and Fred Scates the secretary-treasurer. Executive committee is: Rollie Glover, Frank Buckland, Spiros Zakos, Laurie Mitchell, Floyd Parsons, Percy Killingbeck and Mort Knox. Club will play in the Civic Arena this winter, likely in an OHA senior "B" setup again. Legionnaires and junior Oddfellows also applied for home games in the Civic Arena, so Peterborough fans will see some good hockey at home once more. Petes expect to be considerably stronger than last semester as they seek to regain their group crown.

* * * * * *

Bill Fisher, manager of the Petes last winter, was an interested visitor at this hockey meeting. He wanted to know the score on getting a good hockey team in Omemee once more, where they've built up a fine following. And it might be that the Petes would put an intermediate "B" entry in—including some eight local players not quite ready for senior "B", and the rest from Omemee and around—to play in Omemee. As a sort of club "farm" team with the right to draw up a player now and then for two or three games. Something should be worked out along this line if the Petes' players really go after it. After all, they owe Omemee something for past favors.

* * * * * *

Legion Gets Ready

And Glen Carson advises us that the annual meeting of the Legion Hockey Club will be held next Monday at eight in the Legion Hall. Open to everyone interested, with former officers, players and prospects urged to be on hand. They'll present reports, elect officers for the coming campaign and make plans in general. Word is that the Legionnaires, who won senior "B" group honors last season, then ousted Orillia ere bowing to a Toronto team, will be bolstered further for this winter. They expect to be in a good senior "B" grouping again and have hopes of starting training on ice about Nov. 1.

Quaker Club Ladies Take Titles

R. O'Connor won the ladies' singles tennis championship of the Quaker Oats Tennis Club, defeating M. Charlton in finals 7-5 and 6-1. The doubles title was taken by M. Armour and M. Charlton over R. O'Connor and R. Aiken 6-3 and 6-0. A number of hard-fought matches were staged in the ladies' championship tournaments.

In the first round of the doubles J. Elmsley and D. Fenner won from J. Riggs and J. Vass 6-2, 6-4; N. Holmes and I. Whitehouse defeated A. Pakular and A. Graham, 6-2, 6-1; as M. Armour and M. Charlton had a bye against R. Aiken and R. O'Connor. In the semi-final, R. O'Connor and R. Aiken defeated N. Holmes and I. Whitehouse 9-7, 3-6 and 6-2; and M. Charlton and M. Armour won against J. Elmsley and D. Fenner 6-4, 6-1. M. Armour and M. Charlton then took the final.

The first round of the singles saw D. Fenner win from R. Aiken 6-2, 610; M. Armour defeat N. Whittaker 6-4, 6-4; M. Charlton take V. McHugh 6-0, 6-0; N. Holmes successful over J. Smedmore 4-6, 6-2 and 6-1; R. O'Connor defeated D. Armour 6-2, 6;-0; J. Elmsley won wom from K. Mathias 6-1, 6-3; I. Whitehouse beat J. Vass 6-3, 6-3; and A. Graham defeated I. Martin 7-5, 3-6 and 8-6. In the second round, M. Armour won against D. Fenner 7-5, 6-3; M. Charlton beat N. Holmes 3-6, 1-6 and 6-4; R. O'Connor was successful over J. Elmsley 6-2, 6-0; and I. Whitehouse defeated A. Graham 6-2, 6-1. M. Charlton won 6-3, 6-1 over M. Armour as R. O'Connor defeated I. Whitehouse 2-6, 6-0 and 6-1 in semi-finals; and R. O'Connor captured the final.

Montreal Beats Syracuse 2-1, Lead Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Syracuse Chiefs will send either John Hetki or Frank Fanovich to the mound tonight in an effort to tie up the International League's final playoff series with Montreal Royals.

The Royals, who went ahead two games to one with a 2-1 victory Monday night, probably will counter with Clark Podbielan, who has won 13 and lost 8.

Hetki has eight victories against 12 defeats and Fanovich has a 9-13 record.

The Royals went ahead in the best-of-seven series before 11,475 at Syracuse in a game that for a while threatened to develop into a free-for-all.

In the ninth inning, the Royals' Don Newcombe scraped Syracuse catcher Dick West with a ball. Earlier the negro hurler had hit Clyde Vollmer with a pitch.

West charged Newcombe and the players of both teams rushed to the scene as tempers flared. But no damage was done. West was ejected from the game.

Newcombe hurled a four-hitter in shading Eddie Erautt in a tight mound duel.

The only run off him came in the seventh on a walk, a single by West and Eddie Shokes' infield out.

Montreal, limited to six hits by Erautt, got an unearned run in the third. It was set up by Kermit Wahl's error followed by Sam Jethroe's single.

Jethroe also knocked in the second and winning run in the seventh with an infield out after the bases had been loaded by two scratch singles and a walk.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Defenceman Frankie Mathers, who starred for Ottawa Senators last year, and Cal Gardner of Winnipeg have signed contracts with the Stanley Cup champions, Toronto Maple Leafs, it was announced at Toronto Monday.

Mathers had a hard job making up his mind whether to accept the professional hockey contract offered by Toronto Maple Leafs or take a dentistry course at the University of Toronto.

General Manager Conn Smythe estimated that Mathers could earn "around $100,000 with the Leafs" in salary and playoff money during the 10 years it would take him to complete his course and become an established dentist.

Leafs will practice at St. Catharines today and then embark on an exhibition series before the schedule opens. They play farm club Pittsburgh Hornets at Waterloo, Ont., Sept. 29, at St. Catharines, Oct. 1 and at Welland Oct. 2 and then to Schumacher, Ont., for a tilt with a Northern Ontario all-stars team Oct. 4. Two days later they meet Senators at Ottawa, Pittsburgh again Oct. 8 at Pittsburgh and Kansas City of the United States Hockey League at St. Catharines Oct. 9.

The National Hockey League's Montreal Canadiens shut out the American Hockey League's Buffalo Bisons 8-0 Monday night in an exhibition game at Buffalo.

The Canadiens' attack was led by Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Billy Reay and Norma Dussault, who scored two goals each. Elmer Lach and Howie Riopelle added single goals.

The Canadiens play Buffalo again tonight at Welland.

It looks as if Stan Musial, Johnny Mize and Ralph Kiner are going to battle right down to the wire for the top slugging honors in the National Baseball League. With only a week of the season to go, here's how they stand: Home Runs: Kiner, Pirates, 40; Mize, Giants, 39; Musial, Cardinals, 37. Runs batted in: Musial, 126; Mize, 124; Kiner, 118. Musial leads hitters with an average of .378.

With five games remaining until the season's end, defending champion Ted Williams of Boston apparently has his fourth American League batting title on ice. His present batting average is .368, 14 percentage points ahead of runner-up Lou Boudreau of Cleveland. Williams last week dropped eight points, thus yielding seven notches to Boudreau, who slipped a lone point to .354.

Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League Monday night defeated a combined Cleveland Barons-Minneapolis Millers line-up 7-3 in an exhibition game at Brandon, Man. Don Morrison led Wings' scorers with three goals, while other goals went to Couture, McFadden, Howe and McNabb. The Combines' tallies were split evenly among Solinger, Kelly and Leswick.

At Guelph, Philadelphia Rockets Monday night edged Pittsburgh Hornets 7-5 in a rough-and-ready American Hockey League exhibition game that saw 16 penalties —including four majors—dished out. Pat Desbins checked in with three goals for Rockets with Bush, Pidherny, Shewchuk, and Wylie also scoring. Backor, Sloan, Juzda, Smith and Migay scored for Pittsburgh.

Coach Lew Hayman said Monday night his Montreal Alouettes will be at full strength for their important clash with Hamilton Wildcats here tonight, the first game in two weeks for either Big Four club. Passer Steve Nemeth, running half Bob Cunningham, and linemen Steve Chamko and Cas Vidruk, will see action, Hayman announced. They have been sidelined with injuries since the season opened.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB HARRIS

We have been informed that the lawn bowling season for the year 1948 comes to an end this Saturday night. The greens will then be prepared for the long winter.

But be that as it may—we kind of hunted around today and came up with this information:

Wednesday evening, 7:30—Big mixed rink tournament. Draw from the board. Fee 25c.

Friday evening, 7.30 — Men's doubles. Choose your own partner.

Now maybe, we are speaking out of turn, but our good friend Bob Hendry may see his way clear to have the "Family Hour" tournament on Saturday night close out the season in a manner that is a special for Bob. He has done it before and can do it again. How about it Bob? You just pass the word along and we feel sure your efforts will not be in vain.

We'll be there.

Petes' Puckists Re-Elect Ed Riley Prexy

Ed Riley was re-elected president of the Peterborough Hockey Club at the annual meeting in the "Y" last night. Jim Ellis was named vice - president; Fred Scates the secretary-treasurer; and this executive committee: R. M. Glover, Frank Buckland, Spiros Zakos, Laurie Mitchell, Floyd Parsons, Mort Knox and Percy Killingbeck. The players again picked Red Creighton as coach.

Frank Buckland was nominated once more to the OHA executive, and Bun Kingdon and Red Creighton will represent the club at the annual OHA meeting. Floyd Parsons was thanked for his work last year as secretary-treasurer, and it was suggested that Omemee be given every possible assistance—in view of past favors—in having a good hockey club this winter. The Petes plan to play in the Civic Arena. There was considerable discussion on a possible grouping, and other centres will be checked in this regard.

PUCK PREXY—Popular Ed Riley last night was re-elected president of the Peterborough Hockey Club at the annual meeting. The Petes will play home games in the Civic Arena this winter.

PCVS and St. Peter's Open Grid Schedule

Following is the junior COSSA schedule for the group, including local teams:

Sept. 29—PCVS vs. St. Peter's.
Oct. 2—PCVS vs. Lindsay.
Oct. 6—Lindsay vs. Lakefield.
Oct. 9—Lakefield vs. PCVS; St. Peter's vs. Lindsay.
Oct. 13—Lakefield vs. St. Peter's.
Oct. 16—PCVS vs. Lakefield; Lindsay vs. St. Peter's.
Oct. 20—St. Peter's vs. Lakefield.
Oct. 23—Lindsay vs. PCVS.
Oct. 27—St. Peter's vs. PCVS.
Oct. 30—Lakefield vs. Lindsay.

Commercials Dab On The Whitewash

Commercials blanked Jaybees 6-0 as Artists took Quakers 4-2 and Aberdeen won from Tip Tops 4-2 in the only games played last night as the YMCA men's senior bowling league opened its season at the "Y." Artists rolled a high of 3107 with Commercials leading in singles with 1088. R. Hopkins of Artists had top three of 728, H. Graham of Aberdeens rolling 507 for two games. W. Stanbury of the Commercials led individuals in singles with 282 and V. Sedgewick hit 270 for the same squad. The results:

Crowd Cut Off Runner At Base; Hit Counted

MONTREAL, Sept. 28. (CP)—You can put Jimmy Bloodworth of Montreal Royals down as a man who hit a crucial home run and never got a chance to run it. Also he is the man who caused no end of confusion in Montreal after the Royals knocked Rochester Red Wings right out of the International Baseball League playoffs.

Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll says the commotion which followed Bloodworth's game-winning belt kept the sports desk telephones ringing constantly with people wanting to know what was the score, 1-0, 2-0 or 3-0. For the record, the score was 3-0.

The reason for the confusion was that while Bloodworth, voted the most-valuable player in the league this season, hit the ball over the fence he got no farther than second base before the Delormier Park mob reached him and carried him off to the dugout.

Dick Whitman and Oscar Grimes who were on base ahead of Bloodworth crossed the plate. That's why some folk argued the score was 2-0 and that Bloodworth's drive was only a two-bagger. That would have made the score only 2-0.

Others said that when fans invaded the diamond it automatically cut the drive down to a double which would bring the ground-rule into force. According to the ground rules a runner ahead of a hitter can only take two bases on a double. On this reasoning Whitman scored but Grimes, who was on first, could advance only to third, thus a 1-0 game?

Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy, the league president, ruled Bloodworth hit a home run. "The ball was hit out of the park," said Shaughnessy. "Bloodworth could not get any farther than second base because the crowd ran out on the diamond. This is official."

Curlers Starting On Winter Plans

Can you imagine any person in his right senses writing one column about lawn bowling and then crossing the page to write another column about curling? It doesn't make sense—it doesn't add up. But here's what happened.

We had a couple of the officials of the curling club call on us Monday afternoon and they put the proposition to us and we were delegated to write the "Tee to Hack" column once more. So here we go again.

It seems about a week ago notices of the semi-annual meeting were sent out and along with them the renewal applications for membership. The recipients of these forms are asked to fill them out and send them to Ira Moore, 298 Margaret Ave., not later than Monday, Oct. 4.

This is very important. The committees must have a membership to work on — they have to have something concrete for the meeting on Oct. 18. You who intend to curl please act at once, and those of you who are strangers in town and would like to curl, contact Ira Moore or H. Bradburn, 503 Homewood Ave. Phone 4810. They will be only to glad to assist.

Remember this—if we have no membership, we have no club, and you will have no curling.

Please, send your application and money in today. Your immediate cooperation means a lot to the club.

20 Years On Force

WATERLOO, Ont. — (CP) — Police Chief C. E. Moreau has celebrated his 20th year on the Waterloo police force. When he was appointed in 1928, the force consisted of two policemen, who often worked 16 hours a day, now he has a staff of eight men.

Bobcaygeon Prospects At Galt

GALT, Sept. 28 — Twenty-nine boys bidding for a place with the Galt Junior "A" Rockets reported here Monday. Today they get down to training. In addition to 22 picked at the recent Philadelphia Rockets school, the following newcomers checked in today, the two Phillips brothers of Bobcaygeon, Bruce Preston, George Sayliss and Bobby Cooper of Toronto, Herbert Baker of Haliburton and Jack Needham of Goderich.

Coach Alfie Moore had word from Pete Tkachuk, defense star, that he will report to the Buffalo Bison's camp and if he doesn't "make the grade" he will be in Galt, Oct. 15.

Joan Northey Honored At Party

LAKEFIELD Sept. 28 (ENS)—Miss Joan Northey was honored on Friday evening on her sixteenth birthday, at a delightful party given by her friends at the home of Miss Frances Erkine.

The evening was pleasantly spent in games, story telling and dancing, followed by the serving of dainty refreshments which included a beautiful birthday cake.

Those present included Misses Wendy Dunsford, Barbara Hamblin, Peggy and Ann Samis, Alta Bullock, Denise Doubt, Bessie Northey, Donna Edwards, Anne Richardson, Ruth Graham, Joan Northey, Eleanor Deck, Carolyn Ann and Frances Erskine.

Blockbuster and Marvel Meet In Main Mat Bout

The gigantic form of Wladyslaw "Blockbuster" Talun will be seen in action in the Brock Arena ring tomorrow night, when the Polish Giant meets the Masked Marvel. Talun, who stands some six feet eight inches tall and tips the beam at over 300 pounds is expected to top the Mask in more ways than just height and weight. The big shambling wrestler from Warsaw is one of the strongest men in the world and he has beaten more men in shorter times than any other wrestler.

Generally, when Talun gets that spine-crushing bear-hug of his on an opponent the bout ends then and there. There will be many a fan present on Wednesday night looking (and hoping) for just that. Nanjo Singh, who wrestles Dr. Ed Meske in the semi-final, is also expected to stir the populace with his tempestuous style. In the opening bout Billy Stack of Bowmanville meets Bobby Becker the smoothie from the West Coast.

Say McCarthy To Stay In Film Business

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28 (AP).—No doubt about it, Texas millionaire Glenn McCarthy is in the movie business to stay.

McCarthy Productions' "The Green Promise" is finishing up, and co-producer Robert Paige says the firm will begin a comedy in January. "We plan three films a year," said Paige.

The legends about the fabulous Texan continue to grow. Jack Carson tells of a week-end jaunt to Mexico with McCarthy and Dennis Morgan. McCarthy said he would pay the hotel bill. When the actors protested, he replied: "I insist. If it's too big, I'll buy the hotel."

Bits and Stuff

Spencer Tracy will likely join Irene Dunne and Peter Lawford in "Vespers in Vienna." It would be nice to see Tracy and Dunn back together again. They were a fine combo in "A Guy Named Joe"....

Why fan magazine editors get grey: A movie mag now on the stands features an article tagged "End of a Mystery." Says the blurb: "Because of Barbara, he is a stranger, brooding man no longer. Because of her, life for Bob Walker has a sweet, fresh flavor all over again." Chorus: Oh, yeah?....

Van Johnson still ranks as one of Hollywood's top movie fans. "I don't have so much time since I've been married," he says on the "Mother Was a Freshman" set. "Now I only see three or four." He used to average at least five or six weekly.

Robert Cummings and Arlene Dahl enacting a love scene for "Reign of Terror" in a specially fire-proofed haystack "because of the hot lights" (not the love-making, silly)....

Gary Cooper and Pat Neal clocking up 75 kisses in "The Fountainhead."

American League In Hot Race As Cleveland Holds Vital Edge

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The tightest three-team flag fight in the American League in 40 years continues at the boiling point as Cleveland Indians, New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox hitch up their pants and prepare to slug it out to the bitter ends

One game ahead of the Yankees and Red Sox—deadlocked in a second-place tie—the Indians are in a strategic spot to grab off the first Cleveland pennant in 28 years.

Not since Detroit Tigers nailed down the championship on the last day of the 1908 season has the loop seen such a struggle.

The afternoon games between the Red Sox and Washington Senators at Boston and the Yankees and Athletics at Philadelphia will set the stage for tonight's encounter between the Indians and Chicago White Sox in Cleveland.

Winners Meet Boston

Since Boston Braves are already "in," having wrapped up the National-league bunting Sunday, baseball fans have little interest left for anything but the scrap between the three American-league contenders.

Everything favors the Indians. Cleveland could lose twice, and New York or Boston still would have to cop five in a row to win the pennant.

New York has a pair of games Saturday and Sunday with the Sockers in Boston. Cleveland has two games with the White Sox, then winds up against the Tigers Friday, Saturday and Sunday. New York plays three against the A's before moving into Boston for the final pair. The Red Sox have three engagements with the Senators.

Bearden to Pitch

Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland said Gene Bearden would be his mound choice in the Sox opener, while Frank Papish will toss for Chicago.

The Cleveland pilot said Bob Feller, again the fire-baller of old after a mid-season lapse, would be sent against Chicago Wednesday night. That would leave Bob Lemon to oppose Detroit Friday, with Bearden Saturday and Feller Sunday, if needed to clinch matters.

Joe McCarthy, Boston manager, propably will send Joe Dobson against Washington today, opposed by Rae Scarborough of the Senators.

Viv Raschi, with 19 victories for the season, will toil for the Yankees, Manager Bucky Harris said. Either Carl Scheib or Lou Brissie is expected to get the call for the A's.

Hamilton Tigers Win Sr. Lacrosse Title

HAMILTON, Sept. 28 (CP) — Hamilton Tigers captured their first Ontario Lacrosse Association senior championship in 15 years Monday night when they turned back Mimico Mountaineers, 12-10 in overtime to take the series in four straight games. The teams were tied 9-all at the close of regulation time.

Hugh Casey Goes To Giants In '49

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers plan to give Hugh Casey his unconditional release at the end of the season and the pitching hero of the 1947 world series says he expects to go to Leo Durocher's New York Giants.

Harold Parrott, road secretary of the Dodgers, confirmed that the 33-year-old right-hander would be released after Casey had broken the news Monday night.

"I've always been a Durocher man all the way through," Casey told a reporter.

The durable right-hander was out of the line-up most of this season because of a back injury.

Lacrosse Finals Tied

VANCOUVTR, Sept. 28 (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics swept to a 13-10 victory over B.C. All Stars Monday night to deadlock their best-of-five Canadian Junior Lacrosse series at two games apiece. The deciding game will be played tonight.

British Press Lauds Speech

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(Reuters).—All Britain's national newspapers, except the Communist Daily Worker, today greet Foreign Secretary Bevin's speech to the United Nations Assembly with enthusiastic editorial comment.

"Never before, perhaps, has he spoken so truly for the governments and peoples of the west," says the Times.

The Communist paper, in a front-page article by its editor, asserted: "Mr. Bevin again attempted to stir up the furious passions of war. He spoke with venom and hatred against the Soviet government. . ."

No Real Co-operation

The Times says any hope of real co-operation between Russia and the western powers must be abandoned; nothing more than a lasting truce in a divided world can be hoped for.

It adds that a basis should be sought for a final settlement in Europe or, failing that, for a lasting truce.

"In the long run perhaps only a united Germany, free fgrom occupying forces and with an independent government, could provide such a basis. If that cannot be achieved it may be necessary to consider a new and final division of Germany which would abandon any pretence at four-power control but would give each side a substantial concession."

The Manchester Guardian (Liberal) suggests that Bevin's references to working "with those we can work with"—taken to mean some form of regional organization—"has directed thinking on new and, it may be, fruitful lines."

Honor 2 Couples At Selwyn Party

SELWYN, Sept. 28 (ENS). — A very delightful social evening was held in the church hall here on Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sanderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Sanderson, both having sold their farms on the 14th concession of Smith, were tendered a farewell party.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sanderson have already taken up residence in Lakefield while Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sanderson will be moving to their new home in Peterborough this month.

Rev. D. P. Morris was chairman for the program which opened with community singing, with Miss Esther Meiklejohn at the piano. This was followed by various readings, vocal, violin and piano solos, vocal duets and guitar and vocal trio. At the close of the program the guests of honor were brought to the platform and a very appropriate address was read to them by Mrs. Reg. McConkey, while six men, namely Gilbert Bullock, Russel Davis, Donald Sage, Rufus Bullock, Gordon Fitzgerald, and Melville Crapp presented each couple with a handsome mahogany living-room table, a table lamp, and an upholstered footstool. Mrs. Rufus Bullock and Mrs. Donald Sage also pinned a corsage of roses on each of the honored ladies previous to the presentation of the gifts. Then both gentlemen, on behalf of their wives, sincerely thanked everyone for their kindness and extended an invitation to all, to visit them in their new homes.

Mr. Morris also added a few words in which he expressed the feelings of the whole gathering, when he said the prayers and best wishes of everyone go with them as they leave this community and may God's richest blessing follow them. All joined in sing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," followed by "God Save the King."

Lunch was then served which brought a happy and memorable gathering to a close.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was: Mr. and Mrs. Russel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sage, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Crapp, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fitzgerald.

Yes, our annual appeal for funds will get underway on Saturday, October 16, just two weeks from next Saturday. Why not get your Cubs and Scouts started on their apple baskets now and make it the best Apple Day yet.

Paper Collection

We understand that there will be be a Paper Collection on Thursday, November 25. It is alarming just how much money can be spent on Scouting. But it is for the benefit of the population as a whole in the improvement of our youth through this grand training.

At St. Luke's

The Pack got underway with 21 boys present joining in a ball game at King George school grounds, returning to the cub hall the lads received a brief on future activities. Mr. Ed McDonald of the Group Committee was a visitor to the Pack and spoke on Apple Day. We were glad to welcome four new Chums: Michael Tunnicliffe, Paul McConakey, Jack Watson and Lionel Harvey.

All boys are reminded that the meetings start at 7 p.m. sharp.

With St. Paul's.

The first fall meeting was held last week, with 17 members at the council rock, the first inspection being Fangs and Claws. Two new Chums were welcomed: David Buckley and Robert Burns.

Toy Shop at Park Hill

With the return of activiies after a spot of rest since the July Camp, the Park Hill Troop have decided to get busy on their Toy Repair Shop and would be pleased to get old toys that they can repair for the underprivileged children at Christmas. Anyone having such toys are requested to phone 5130 and arrangements will be made to have same collected.

Weiner Roast

St. John's Troop held a weiner roast on the bank of the canal near the golf links. Twenty-four members showed up for this trip and the officers are looking forward to a banner year in the rebuilding of the troop. Ken Brown, a former leader with the troop was present to renew old acquaintances.

The Pack.—Eighteen members were at the last pack meeting at which we were glad to welcome three new Chums: Masters Ian Faulkner, H. Cooke and W. Howden. The joining of these lads makes four families with two boys in the pack.

Last week, Gary Rollins passed Savings and Model toward his second star.

All Saints' Crew

Although no official word has been receive, we understand that the Crew will be standing off in their own quarters this week and maybe some official opening will be made. We wish them real Scouting on all their Rover quests.

American Visitor

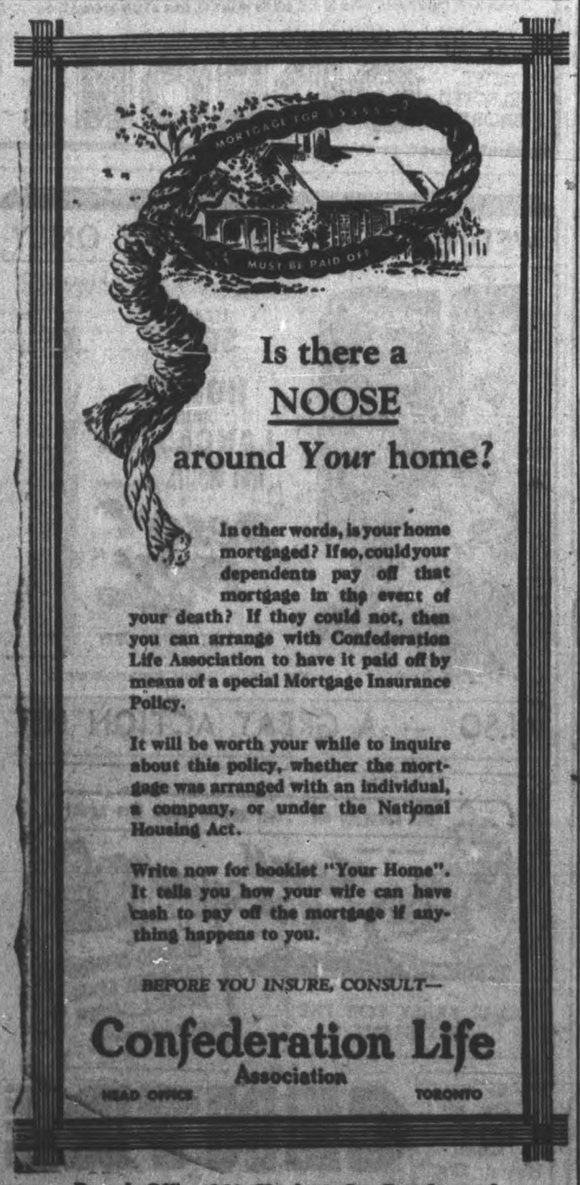
Last Thursday and Friday Frank Robitschik, a former Scout leader from New York and an old friend of many Peterboroug Cub and Scout leaders, passed through town to do a little fishing at Gull Lake and Indian River. Frank spent the evening with your Scribe, Ken Brown and Pete Dominik also being on hand.

Looking For News

Now that we have got going again with this column, we trust that every Pack and Troop will do its best to let us have some reports. How about it?

Harvest Service At Marmora

MARMORA, Sept. 28 — (ENS). —St. Paul's Anglican Church observed its annual harvest thanksgiving at a service Sunday morning which was attended by a large congregation. The church was decorated with flowers, foliage, vegetables and fruits. The rector, Rural Dean J. M. Brownlee, officiated and spoke on the mystic attitude towards harvest thanksgiving. The choir sang "Still, Still With Thee" (W. E. Fletcher) with Leslie R. Rundle taking the solo part.



Is there a NOOSE around Your home?

In other words, is your home mortgaged? If so, could your dependents pay off that mortgage in the event of your death? If they could not, then you can arrange with Confederation Life Association to have it paid off by means of a special Mortgage Insurance Policy.

It will be worth your while to inquire about this policy, whether the mortgage was arranged with an individual, a company, or under the National Housing Act.

YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER MOTOR OIL

Lower operating costs . . . improved performance . . . safety factors—no matter how you look at it, Peerless is tops because it is "ALLOYED" by an extraordinary process that not only prevents any chance of oil failure but helps to endow your motor with new life . . . new power . . . new performance. Peerless lowers operating costs because it lubricates better. And better lubrication means less piston trouble, less ring sticking, less bearing failure. Peerless offers greater factors of safety because it helps to keep your motor ready to respond to any emergency, under all conditions of temperature or season. It takes a great oil to give such performance.

2 Women Hurt In Accidents On City Streets

Miss Margaret Hargrove, 274 Westcott St. is in Civic Hospital with a broken ankle and knee injuries as a result of a collision with a bicycle early on Monday afternoon.

Miss Hargrove was walking south on Lock St. and had started to cross the intersection at Lansdowne St. when she was struck and knocked to the pavement by the bicycle ridden by Alfred Clarke, 80 Morrow St. Mr. Clarke, an employee of the De Laval Co., was riding east along Lansdown at the time.

The injured woman was treated by Dr. Raymore Scott and then taken to Civic Hospital where the injuries were revealed as a fractured right ankle and a badly-bruised right knee.

P.C. Claire McGillen investigated the accident.

In another accident involving a bicycle during the past 24 hours, Mrs. Alan Proctor, 18, of 220 Rubidge St. was taken to St. Joseph's hospital with a bruised left ankle and bruised left temple.

Mrs. Proctor was riding her bicycle north on Reid St. shortly after 9 a.m. today when she collided with a car driven by Elmer Lidtkie, 19, of Vimy Rd., Lindsay. Mr. Lidtkie, according to PC. Gordon Trennum who investigated, was driving south on Reid and started to make a left turn to go east on McDonnel St. It was at this intersection that the collision between car and bicycle occurred.

As a result of the accident Mr. Lidtkie appeared in magistrate's court this morning on a charge of careless driving. His case will come up a week from today. He was remanded on $500 bail.

11 In One House Poses Problem

A young woman, who looked more like a schoolgirl appealed this morning for assistance in locating accommodation.

This woman and her war veteran husband are occupying one room in a wartime house. They have four children, two girls, ages 4 and 5, and two boys, ages 3 and 11 months. Two of the children sleep with their parents.

In this same wartime house is the woman's husband's brother and his wife. They have three children and need this extra room. For three years the two families have occupied the wartime house, and in the meantime this woman has haunted real estate offices, and the office of Central Mortgage seeking a place of her own, or at least two or three rooms. If anyone can help solve the problem, the phone number is 20589.

Don Whatley Sr. Champ At King Edward School

In brilliant sunshine that sparked the young athletes to extra effort, King Edward School held its annual field day on Monday afternoon. The school building was deserted as the children enjoyed a half holiday so they could attend this long-awaited yearly event.

The 100 girl and 125 boy participants were divided into three groups—senior, intermediate and junior—by Principal D. T. Crawford, assisted by his staff of teachers, and ladies from the School Home and School Club.

Various events were contested on a point basis with five points awarded for a first, down to one point for a fifth. Winners in all three groups, boys and girls, were awarded medals.

Senior boys' champion was Don Whatley who amassed a total of 25 points. Runner up was Lawrence Ball. Joan Dunk, last year's senior girl champion made it a repeat performance this year by dominating her class. Tied as runners-up were Marjorie Wood and Dorothy Dunk.

Douglas (Tiny) Hunt swept the boys' intermediate followed by Danny Sutherland, while in the same age group for girls, Connie Blakely was top scorer with Carol Dorrington in the No. 2 position.

And in the Junior Class Paul Dugan was first and Wayne Rowe was second. Girls' Junior Champion was Bernice Callan closely followed by Yvonne Grant.

Principal Crawford supervised the various events assisted by J. M. Burns, vice principal. Also actively engaged in ensuring that things ran smoothly were men teachers W. M. Patterson, V. Cuningham, and the women members of the staff, Misses M. Mutton, H. Mutton, M. Ball, J. Caverly and R. Armstrong. Mrs. V. L. Gibson, president of the King Edward Home and School Club helped to make the day a success by keeping the records. She was assisted in this by Mrs. Gordon Young, also of the Home and School Club.

Top contenders in the Monday field day will represent the school in the forthcoming Kiwanis "Olympic Games" where schools from all over the city will compete.

F. & G. Members Oppose Opening Game Preserve

Peterborough Fish and Game Association cleared decks for an extensive fall and winter program, when fall meetings were resumed in the Cribbage and Bridge club rooms Monday night.

A spirited discussion centred around the proposed opening of the Crown Game Preserve for controlled deer hunting, and the meeting went on rcord as opposing the opening of the sanctuary for any kind of hunting. Earlier in the meeting, Ernie Brown had suggested that bow and arrow hunters be allowed to hunt in the Preserve, but he failed to get a seconder for his motion. The motion opposing any change was put forward by Norman Bradley and Campbell Rowatt.

President Bob McCabe outlined steps being taken by the newly-formed Kosh Lake Cottagers' Association, in getting a dam built to maintain the lake level as in former years. He said this group deserves encouragement, and the members on motion promised their moral support. Norma Bradley, Cam Rowatt and Pete McGillen all mentioned that the cottagers should accept responsibility in seeing that a right-of-way was maintained to the water's edge so that everyone would have access to the fishing.

On motion of Rowatt and E. Brown, the Dept. of Lands and Forests will be asked to survey the Buckley lake area to ascertain what trees should be used in a reforesting plan. Also efforts will be made to secure enough trees to reforest the section, under the direction of the Association. It is hoped to get this work started in 1949.

Pete McGillen moved that a general meeting be held late in October to which delegates from all district fish and gam clubs would be invited. At this meeting, the interim committee officers of one 5 would explain the work being done by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, and the zoning and amalgamation program now being carried out. The motion seconded by Norman Bradley carried unanimously and Blake Uren, Orillia, and Harold Darragh, Orangeville will be invited to address the sportsmen. Further details will be given after the executive of the local club meets.

Plan Welcome For Gov.-General

Reception committee of the council is being expanded for the official list to Peterborough of the Governor-General in November.

Nominations accepted by the council last night, as recommended by Ald. Adam B. Sands, chairman, were: Lt.-Col. Max Clarke, John R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital, Warden James Humphries, K. S. Wightman, supervisor of schools, a representative of the IODE chapters, also of the Separate School Board, Local Council of Women, Canadian Legion, Service Club Council, Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The committee was given power to enlist others.

Ex-officio members named were: Hon. Harold R. Scott, Senator Iva C. Fallis, Senator J. J. Duffus, G. K. Fraser, MP.

Viscount Alexander is coming to Peterborough Nov. 25 to lay the corner stone of the new Civic Hospital. He will be accompanied by his wife, motoring from Toronto and arriving here about 11:30 a.m.

Police Chief Recommends 6 Signal Lights

Based on traffic counts, Chief Constable John Thompson has recommended the placing of "stop and go" signal lights at six street intersections.

They are: Charlotte St. at Monaghan Road and Reid St.

George St. at King and Sherbrooke Streets.

Hunter and Aylmer Streets; Simcoe and Water Streets.

Chief Thompson's report to the council Monday night was prepared at its recent request which developed from Ald. Grant Miller urging that action be taken to check traffic speeds on Charlote street crossing Monaghan Road.

Copies of the report are to be supplied to the members of the council for their study probably in committee.

"I am continually receiving complaints of speeding over this intersection," Chief Thompson commented on traffic conditions at Monaghan Road and Charlotte Street.

Rush hour traffic at Hunter and Aylmer Streets is swollen by many students on bicycles from the Collegiate Institute and St. Peter's High School.

Chief Thompson reported traffic "very busy" at both the George St. corners. "East and west bound traffic on King and Sherbrooke Streets is being continually tied up owing to the heavy volume flowing north and south. Some evenings George St. traffic extends as far south as Townsend St. This occurs only at the rush hours."

Two or three cars on either side of George St., on Sherbrooke St., would have been held up Monday at 5.15 for a considerable time if Chief Thompson had not detailed a constable to direct traffic, North bound cars reached from Sherbrooke St. South on George St. to the C.P.R.

"There was no count at Simcoe and Water Streets as I have felt for some time that traffic lights should be installed there during the summer months. A traffic officer has been on duty there at noon and 5 p.m. and on Saturdays from 10 to 12 a.m.

No "U" Turns.

I also wish to recommend that the "U" turn at intersections where there are or will be, stop-and-go signals should be prohibited."

Inspector J. F. Reid supervised some of the traffic counting, assisted by staff men, John Morrow, MacKay, Dalton, Gillespie and Mesley. The following are condensed details of their findings.

Hunter and Aylmer: Sept. 14 (Tues.) 12 o'clock noon to 12.10 (10 minutes)—341 vehicles, including 123 bicycles. Same day: 5 p.m. to 5.10 (10 minutes 498 vehicles including 130 bicyles.

George and Sherbrooke: Sept 15 from 12 noon to 12.10—252 vehicles. In that 10 minutes only 9 cars were east bound and 8 west.

These reports in all but one instance showed the direction of the cars enumerated.

Charlotte and Reid, Sept. 16 from 12 noon to 12.15, 478 vehicles; Sept. 17, from 12 to 12.10, 541 vehicles; also Sept. 17 at 5-5.10 p.m., 291 vehicles.

Charlotte and Monaghan Rd., Sept. 20: 12 noon to 12.10, 269 vehicles.

Hunter and Aylmer, Tuesday, Sept. 21: 8.30 to 9.30 a.m., one hour, 845 vehicles.

Charlotte and Reid, Sept. 22: 12 noon to 12.12 (12 minutes), 309 vehicles.

Hunter and Aylmer, Sept. 22: 8.30 to 9.30 a.m. (one hour), 670 vehicles.

Charlotte and Monaghan Rd., Sept. 24: 12 noon to 1 p.m. (one hour), 570 vehicles.

George and King, Sat., Sept. 25: 10.05 to 10.35 a.m., 309 vehicles.

George and King, Sat., Sept. 18: 4.10 to 4.15 p.m. (five minutes), 227 motor vehicles and bicycles.

Possibly one of the surprising facts emphasized by these reports was the volume of traffic at Hunter and Aylmer Streets. It may be recalled that John E. Sullivan, as a member of the council, used to stress what he called the traffic hazards at that corner, advising that it was heavy enough to require signal lights.

War Veteran In Hospital After Electric Shock From Defective Lamp Cord

Thomas Wilcox, 23, of 784 St. Mary's St., is reported recovering in St. Joseph's Hospital today after receiving a severe electric shock Monday night that left him unconscious for more than three hours. A split plug on a table lamp is believed to have been responsible for the accident. The lamp had been pulled from the socket by his 8½-month-old boy, Wayne, and when he plugged it in again he received the 110-volt shock that required the united efforts of artificial respiration applied by friends and the work of the fire department's respirator crew to bring him around.

Dr. L. Zacks, the physician who attended Mr. Wilcox, said that the metal plate in the victim's head probably acted as a conductor and magnified the shock. Mr. Wilcox, an ex-RCAF wireless air-gunner was seriously injured when an aircraft in which he was a crew member crashed near London, England.

According to Mrs. Wilcox, she and her husband were reading at about 6.30 p.m. while young Wayne was playing in the bedroom. Wayne apparently pulled out the plug of the lamp by yanking the cord. Both cord and lamp fell to the floor beside the bed. The ex-air force officer leaned over while prone on the bed, seized the to-all-appearances undamaged lamp with one hand and replaced the plug in the socket with the other.

Bulb Exploded

All Mr. Wilcox remembers of the incident was that "I had the lamp in my hand and the bulb seemed to explode in my face." He did not recover consciousness till after 10.30 p.m.

Mrs. Wilcox, who meanwhile had left the bedroom, heard the sound of the slight explosion and rushed in to see her husband still lying on the bed clutching the lamp and unconscious. She picked up Wayne in her arms so he could not touch his prostrate father and shouted for help.

Mrs. D. Ackerman, in whose home the Wilcox family rents two upstairs rooms, immediately phoned for a doctor and her sister, Blanche Boate had the presence of mind to turn off the master switch. When she did so, the unconscious man, who had been held rigid on the bed by the strong current, relaxed and fell to the floor.

By this time help had arrived. Two neighbors, Joseph Hayes and Jack Daly, rushed into the bedroom. Mr. Hayes, who had been interrupted while washing (his hands were still wet) seized a towel and lifted the shock victim from his crumpled position beside the bed.

With the help of another neighbor, Mrs. William Grant, a Scottish war bride and registered nurse, they did their best to revive him by applying artificial respiration. Mrs. Grant supervised the operation and checked his pulse.

The group was later joined by Dr. Zacks and when their combined efforts failed to bring him around the fire department was called, about an hour after the accident occurred. The emergency crew, consisting of Clarence Bennett, Grover Deck and Garnet Brown arrived with the inhalator and worked on him without success until shortly after 9 p.m. when he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

It was not until about an hour later that he was conscious enough to see his wife.

At about 9.30 a.m. today, Dr. Zacks said Mr. Wilcox was coming along nicely.

Hear Objections To Cutback On Charlotte

Hearing of any objections to the bylaw for the widening of Charlotte and George Streets is the purpose of the session of the Ontario Municipal Board Oct. 8 at 11 a.m. in the council chamber.

This bylaw applies to new building and substantial alterations of present buildings on the two main streets.

The George St. set-back is three feet on each side of George St. between King and Lansdowne Streets.

On Charlotte St. the widening is five feet on each side from Water St. to Park St.

Ald. Dodds recalled that Woolworth Company had informed the council some time ago that the proposed set-back, reducing their frontage on George St., would interfere with their plans for a new store at that corner.

Mayor Ovens said the bylaw was introduced some weeks ago because a property owner on Charlotte St. was planning to convert a house into a store. He was willing to conform with the set-back regulation if it was going to be applied to everybody making similar frontal changes.

The bylaw has since then been referred to the Ontario Municipal Board and the public session here Oct. 8 is expected to discover the attitude of private interests toward it.

East to West OGDEN'S Rolls Best

Daily Care Imperative Dentist Says

Importance of the dental public health program being carried out this week in Peterborough was stressed by Dr. Harold Swales, Toronto, dentist, speaking at the Rotary luncheon on Monday at the Empress hotel. He compared the dental educational program with that which helped very considerably to control tuberculosis, and emphasized that dental health was an extremely important part of physical health.

"Our present knowledge of dental decay," he said, quoting from a report of the Northwestern University Dental School, "makes it appear probable that severe damage to the teeth and health can be prevented in a large measure, but only by the fullest co-operation between the patient and the dentist."

"An adequate program of prevention requires of the dentist: that he be alert and painstaking to discover decay in its earliest stages and give proper attention to restoration; that he instruct the patient in the best available procedures in home care; that he use the preventive methods as soon as they have proven effective."

"The patient must: visit the dentist regularly for observation: select a proper diet and be cautious in eating or drinking sweets and in many cases reduce them to a minimum; learn to brush the teeth properly and consistently do it immediately after eating; when immediate brushing is impossible, rinse the mouth thoroughly immediately after eating."

Dr. Swales was introduced by Dr. Harold Long and thanked by Dr. R. A. Kelly. W. J. Hamilton presided at the meeting.

Research Work Throws Light On Cancer Cells

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP).—The New York Times reports that Dr. Otto Warburg, Nobel Prize winner, has been conducting experiments on cancer cells which, he believes, "promise to open a new approach to the problem of cancer."

Dr. Warburg, Nobel Prize winner in medicine and physiology, is now at the University of Illinois. A report on his recent experiments appears in a German scientific journal.

Dr. Warburg has probed enzymes, or catalysts, in normal and cancer cells, following an earlier discovery of a "fundamental difference" in metabolic functions between the two.

The normal cell "burns up sugar completely in the presence of oxygen" but the cancer cell "merely splits up the sugar by fermentation." In the normal cell the end of the combustion of sugar is "carbon dioxide, the gas exhaled in the process of respiration." The cancer cell, however, produces as its end product "lactic acid, the substance formed in sour milk."

Dr. Warburg's latest experiments have involved studying the "enzymes, or catalysis, required in the cell to split sugar to lactic acid."

Dr. Warburg's hypothesis is that "the cancer cell, which functions by fermentation, is not capable of making its own fermentation enzymes but parasitically draws upon the muscle tissues for its zymohexase and other fermenting enzymes."

"If that is so," Prof. Warburg reasons, "then it should be possible to stop cancer cells from fermenting by depriving them of one of the 11 enzymes they need to carry on their existence."

Play Based On Abdication Of Edward Given In Dublin

DUBLIN, Sept. 28 — (CP). — Opinions of critics who gathered in unusual numbers Monday night to see the world premiere of the much discussed play "Abdication" could be briefly summarized as "much ado about nothing."

The play, produced by the Gaiety Theatre, is termed an Elizabethan drama in Shakespearean fashion. Many see it as based on the incidents leading to the abdication of Edward VIII.

While Dublin viewed the play dispassionately, British diplomatic circles were agog with excitement. So many London critics occupied seats that many applications from British newspapers had to be turned down.

Critics seemed in agreement that the play added nothing to the story of the abdication of 1936 and that it failed because the theme was known in advance.

They said the Shakesperean disguise did not add to its dramatic effect and thtat it only was saved from mediocrity by the brilliance of the production.

Names Not Given

The play was written 10 years ago by Mrs. H. T. Lowe-Porter, 72, who was unable to find a producer until now. Principals are not named. Instead they are called "The Archbishop," "The Premier," "The Foreign Lady" and so on.

The king's only friend is a character described as "The Privy Councillor," who preaches the imminence of a devastating war and forecasts with remarkable accuracy the air warfare of the second world war. The audience had no difficulty in recognizing the "Privy Councillor" as Winston Churchill.

A scene in the last act introduces players obviously representing the present Queen Elizabeth and her daughters, Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. The elder princess boasts that her mother, then simply the wife of the King's brother, will soon be queen.

Throughout the play the king is represented as a man of vision and courage surrounded by mildly sinister ministers and churchmen who can not see the dangers threatening their empire and who are determined to replace him by a brother who "has no ambition."

Seek Identity Of Headless Corpse

TIMMINS, Sept. 28.—(CP). — Police here are seeking the identity of a man whose decapitated body was found on the Ontario Northland railway tracks Sunday night near Porquis Junction on the Timmins Porquis line. Crew members of Sunday evening's southbound Timmins-Toronto Northland discovered the body. There was a wallet containing $155 in the victim's pocket, but there was nothing to identify him.

Provincial police who were called to investigate the accident guessed that the man had been killed by train No. 46 which left Timmins at 1.15 Sunday afternoon.

They said he would be about 30 years of age, well built, about five foot ten and 150 pounds.

Sixteen Fires In North Woods

TORONTO, Sept. 28 (CP). — A total of 16 fires are burning to-day in Ontario's Northland, and T. E. Mackey, Chief of the Forest Protective Service, said there is a "high fire hazard" across the province.

Four fires in the Blind River district art still out of control. One large blaze near Blind River has spread over 60 acres of timberland. Crews totalling 135 men are fighting these blazes.

Only bright spot in the Northland is the clay belt area around Cochrane and Kapuskasing, where the hazard is only "medium."

Fire-fighters, aided by aircraft, are battling to get the fires under control because of serious conditions which could cause them to spread rapidly.

Four other fires in the Blind River area have been brought under control, although patrols are still watching them.

Five fires, all of them small, have been brought under control in the North Bay area.

Ease Import Restrictions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 — (CP). — Finance Minister Douglas Abbott today told a press conference he hopes to relax import restrictions on fresh vegetables in time to make tomatoes, lettuce and cabbage easily available to Canadians during the coming winter. He said the rate of improvement in Canada's dollar balance justified such a hope.

Railways Place Case Before Privy Council

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 28—(CP)—Before the cabinet, the railways today replied to the claim of seven provinces they were not entitled to the 21-per-cent freight-rate increase they gained last March.

They laid their case before ministers sitting as the Privy Council to hear the appeal of the provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—against the Board of Transport Commissioners award of the $70,000,000-a-year rate hoist.

After hearing Monday's provincial submission attacking the increase and part of the railway reply to that attack, the cabinet under Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent heard the balance of the railway case today.

Monday, the ministers were asked by the provinces to adopt one of three alternative courses: 1. Throw out the 21-per-cent increase altogether. 2. Revise it along a provincial formula that would leave the railways with an increase of between one and two per cent. 3. Send the issue back to the Board with directions to examine six points contested by the provinces.

With four of their premiers on hand personally, the seven provinces contended the Board award had been wrong in principle and on several specific points.

Percentage Increase Wrong

A major submission was that the Canadian Pacific Railway — used by the board as the "yardstock" line for determining the need of rate hoists—had failed to prove financial necessity.

Other provincial claims were that a percentage increase was wrong in principle and the board had not taken into account economies that might have been made through co-operation between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways as ordered by the Railway Co-operation Act of 1933.

Opening up for the carriers Monday, Isaac B. Pitblado of Winnipeg, senior counsel for the Railway Association of Canada, said there was nothing wrong with the principles on which the Board based its award.

On the provincial claim that a percentage increase in itself was wrong in principle, Mr. Pitblado said the Board's authority had been confirmed by cabinet in several earlier cases, while it again had been settled by a Supreme Court of Canada judge last year.

That was on an attempt by the provinces to appeal the question of jurisdiction to the highest court.

A top point of the provinces was that a flat percentage increase accentuated regional rate inequalities, and Mr. Pitblado declared that no freight-rate structure could iron out geographical disadvantages.

He contended that in this connection the only fair course for the board was to grant a general increase and then deal separately with any cases in which it was felt some party had suffered as the result of an increase.

ANXIOUS FACES outside Number 10 Downing street bring back memories of the Munich crisis 10 years ago. Now, as in the autumn of 1938, the faces of the people show their tension as they wait to hear news of a special British Cabinet meeting.

Honor Priest With Purse Of Money

COBOURG, Sept. 28 (ENS)—Rev. Father F. Malane, for four years with St. Michael's Roman Catholic Parish here, and recently moved to Peterborough, was tendered a farewell at the evening service at St. Michael's last night. The pastor, Rev. J. P. Collins, spoke of the good service rendered by Father Malane while stationed here. The address was read by Patrick McGlynn and the presentation of a purse was made by Mrs. Jack Delanty.

In reply, Father Malane thanked the congregation for the co-operation which he had received during his term here. The Cobourg parish was an old and honoured one, he said, and priests who have been located in Cobourg never seem to sever their ties with the parish but always look back with pleasure to the memories of their years in Cobourg.

Stricter Lord's Day Observance Urged On United Church Council

By ROBERT PHILLIPS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP)—A more positive program for stricter Lord's Day observance will come up for debate today by the United Church's 13th general council. Action will be taken to prevent "Sunday becoming simply another day for most people."

Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of evangelism and social service, Monday night told the council that "many church congregations are selling God short" in their first against the gaining infringement on the Lord's Day observance.

The increasing infringement, he said, cannot be met with the church merely saying "do not." It must provide a positive program, to encourage a fuller Lord's Day observance.

In a discussion Monday on anniversary ceremonies to mark the United Church's 25th birthday in 1950, the council approved a five-year expansion program enlargement of its membership and strengthening of its professional ministerial and lay staff.

Rev. Denzil G. Ridout, secretary of the church's missionary and maintenance department in Toronto, said "mathematics cannot be used to define the church's progress." He urged the numerical advances proposed as objectives of the five-year plan to be considered only as minimum targets at which to strike.

The event will be observed officially on June 11, 1950, and each of the church's 11 conferences in Newfoundland and across Canada will plan to hold their district conferences as close to June 10 : s possible.

Meet In Toronto

The anniversary meeting of the General Council will be held in Toronto sometime in Sept. 1950 and will meet in the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church there.

The 13th council Monday also reaffirmed the United Church's opposition to the formation of French language radio stations in "provinces whose official language is not French."

Dr. K. P. R. Naville of London, Ont., who urged the reaffirmation of a former church opinion said "They are not the way we are going to unify our citizens."

Workers Stay Out

TORONTO, Sept. 28. (CP) — Despite settlement of the strike between Montreal employees and the Dominion Electric Protection Company Sunday, Toronto employees will remain out. This was announced Monday by Local 512 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, bargaining agent for company employees in Montreal, Toronto, London and Hamilton. The strike, for higher wages and shorter hours, started Sept. 15.

Ouch! My Feet

TORONTO, Sept. 28 — (CP).—His corns, not wine, was the reason for his leaning 'heavily to one side,' claimed William Cambell, 67, in police court Monday. His "corns" cost him $10 for being drunk and $10 for having the wine in a public place or 35 days in jail.

20 Die In Poland As Dance Hall Burns

WARSAW, Sept. 18. (Reuters) —Twenty persons were burned to death and 30 severely injured when fire broke out at a dance organized by a voluntary firemen's organization at nearby Osuc Ow Monday night.

Police made several arrests on charges of negligence.

Barred windows prevented firemen and their guests from jumping to safety from the first floor of the building. The fire started in hay stacked in a grain store on the ground floor.

Breeze Frightens Horses

MONTREAL — (CP). — Driver Bernard Chaput said his delivery-wagon horse bolted when a stray breeze, rustled the leaves of a tree. Thrown clear from the wagon, Chaput was unhurt. The horse suffered scratched legs before coming to a standstill.

Many Britons Move To Eire For Tax Relief

DUBLIN, Sept. 28. (CP) — As Premier Costello told Canadians on his recent visit to the Dominion, Eire is worried about her emigration rate. But there is another side to the picture.

Since 1945, nearly 250,000 Britons have settled in Eire.

Numbers are estimated to vary between two and 25 new householders per square mile according to the amenities of the district, despite a 25-per-cent stamp duty and five-per-cent agent's fee charged on every land purchase.

From the eastern side of the Irish Sea, Eire looks like a paradise to a man or woman with small savings and a fixed income who doesn't want to venture too far from Britain in search of a new home.

Taxes Lighter

The basic income-tax is only seven shillings ($1.40) in the pound instead of 9 shillings ($4). The government provides sliding-scale grants toward building roads; houses and cattle barns; fixed-priced markets are guaranteed for all agricultural produce; newly-built houses are tax-free for three years.

Reforestation.—An acre must be planted for every acre felled—is the heaviest liability the new landowners must meet. But the government pays £10 to every £17 thus spent.

How do the settlers get along? In some cases they have fared badly, although local laboring men have proved friendly and willing to work hard for them.

Some Profits Low

Adverse weather conditions have stripped compulsory sowings of wheat and oats of their profits. In recent years heavy rains at harvest-time have meant that rarely has more than half the yield been gathered.

In other cases—especially when the settler has had some previous experience of farming—the immigrants have done better. But soil only gives back what is put into it and backward agricultural methods over many years have harmed much of the land now resettled. Even the best farmers find it difficult to work profitably.

PC Leadership Nominees Arrive To Start Campaign

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—(CP). — Contenders for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party are due here today to mingle with the advance guard of delegates to the party's national convention Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2.

Premier Drew of Ontario and John Diefenbaker, Member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, are due to arrive by plane. Garfield Case, Member of the Commons for Grey North in Ontario, is expected by train. Donald Fleming, Member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton, already is in Ottawa.

Mr. Drew, 54-year-old Toronto lawyer, author and soldier, announced Sept. 20 he would be a candidate for the leadership which John Bracken is relinquishing.

Mr. Diefenbaker, 53-year-old Saskatchewan criminal lawyer and one of the government's sharpest critics in the Commons, announced Sept. 17 he would again be a leadership candidate. He placed third at the 1942 convention which chose Mr. Bracken.

Mr. Fleming, a 43-year-old Toronto lawyer who only entered the Commons in 1945, announced last week that he would be a candidate. One of the party's few bilingual members, he is counting on heavy support from Quebec

Mr. Case, 49-year-old former mayor of Owen Sound, was a comparative unknown in the political field until 1945 when he defeated Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, then defence minister, in a Grey North by-election. The by-election was fought on the governmen's policy with respect to reinforcements for troops overseas and drew international attention

FROM DESIGN TO Delivery—
"ALL-CANADIAN"
TODAY FOR the first time the label "All-Canadian" can be applied to a growing diversity of products — from kitchen and garden chairs to modern aircraft. Increasing use of original Canadian design is one more indication of Canada's continuing advance — with ever-widening areas of opportunity awaiting the enterprise of young Canadians. Canada has become one of the world's great manufacturing nations; and not only are we producing more; now our designers are applying new processes and new materials to the development of distinctively Canadian products.

NEW TYPES of upholstered furniture, laminated plywood chairs, kitchen ranges, lighting equipment, canoes, toys . . . are some of the modern products created by the imagination and technical knowledge of Canadian designers.

LOCOMOTIVES and tractors are being designed . . . new features applied to ship construction . . . a distinctive West Coast architecture developed . . . Typical of Canadian achievements in metal design is modern railway coach equipment.

IN FASHION, too, there's a "New Canadian Look", as new patterns and fabrics are developed and Canadian dress designers win increasing recognition in world style centres. Today Canada's fashion industry has become big business.

G. H. WOOD raised sufficient money in 1923 to buy a tiny Toronto soap plant employing two workers. Since then his energy, industry and consistent emphasis on salesmanship have built his company into the biggest sanitation products organization in Canada manufacturing 176 separate items.
MR. WOOD says: "I've always felt that business success comes from a combination of initiative salesmanship and harmony between labour and management; and nowhere is that combination more certain of achieving results than right here at home in our own country now".

FORTY YEARS AGO, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Reilly, Sr., Percy township, were married at Hastings, and on Sunday their children honored them in the village. The couple still occupy the farm home near Brickley, where Mr. O'Reilly was born 85 years ago.

Percy Township Couple Mark 40th Anniversary

HASTINGS, Sept. 28 (ENS)—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Reilly, Jr., on Albert street was the scene of a very happy gathering on Sunday, when the families of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Reilly, Sr., met to honor them on their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Reilly, Sr. (Mary Convey) were married at Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Hastings in 1908. Their groomsman, Mr. P. Butler, Hastings, was present at the gathering on Sunday.

They are living on the farm where Mr. O'Reilly was born at Brickly in Percy township. His father came from Ireland and settled more than 100 years ago.

Mr. O'Reilly, 85, is still able to help with the chores and his wife, 76, does all her own housework.

Attractively decorated tables were set beneath green and white streamers and white bells. A 4-tiered wedding cake, a gift of their niece, Mrs. E. Fanning, was set in the middle of the head table, also 40 red roses, from her sister, Mrs. Dan Meagher and family of Rochester.

31 guests enjoyed a chicken dinner in the afternoon with 65 being present in the evening.

The happy couple were presented with many bautiful gifts and tokens of congratulations from relations and friends.

Ann, 7, and Tommy, 5, Fanning dressed as a bride and groom, presented the gifts. The family gift being a green chesterfield chair. Gerrard LaPlante gave the address.

The evening was spent in community singing with Vincent Farrell at the piano.

They have two sons, James, Hastings, who celebrated his 2nd wedding anniversary on the same day, and Felix, at home. One grandson, John O'Reilly of Hastings.

The guests included: Mr. P. L. Convey, daughter Kathleen; Lorna McDonnaugh; Eva White; Mrs. Eva Barns of Arnprior; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Fanning and family of Fenella; Mr. and Mrs. E. La Plante; Mrs. Julia Convey and children; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Convey and son; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shirley Hayton Takes Vows With John Russell Mortimer

A charming background of baskets of mixed fall flowers and fern in St. Andrew's United Church Saturday was the setting for a lovely wedding ceremony in which Shirley Aldeen Hayton and John Russel Mortimer pledged their nuptial vows before the Rev. M. J. Aiken. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Mary Hayton and the late Bert Hayton, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mortimer, all of Peterborough.

"I Love You Truly," was sung by Mrs. Douglas Landry before the bride entered, and while the register was being signed she sang "Because." Mr. Harry Northrop was the organist.

The bride's gown of ivory suede satin was styled on traditional princess lines with the full skirt falling into a train, long sleeves with petal points over her hands and tiny covered buttons fastening the bodice to the bustle at back. She wore a full-length veil of embroidered illusion net caught to a Queen Anne headdress and carried a beautiful cascade of red roses with streamers tipped with rosebuds. She was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Douglas Hayton.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Alice McKiver, was frocked in blue taffeta and wore a matching Queen Anne headdress and carried pink roses in a cascade. Sharon Linda Mowry as flower girl was in dainty pink taffeta frock with poke bonnet to match and carried a nosegay of assorted roses with streamers.

Groomsman for his brother was Mr. Douglas Mortimer, and Frederick Mortimer and Holly Mowry ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hayton chose a gown of steel grey crepe, black hat and accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Mortimer, mother of the groom, was attired in midnight blue crepe, black hat and accessories and wore pink roses on her shoulder.

After the reception held in the Empress Hotel, the bride and groom left on a motor trip through Ontario to Port Arthur. When going away the bride was wearing a gabardine suit in coachman's blue, accessories in navy and white orchids on her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer will live at 251 Engleburn Ave.

O'Brien-Hawkins

The marriage took place Saturday in St. Peter's Cathedral of Mary Clara Helen, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hawkins, and Denis Leo O'Brien, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Brien. The Rev. Father Malone said the nuptial mass. Orchid and white asters adorned the altar table and Mrs. Robert Aman played wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was wearing a grey crepe dress with matching satin trim, navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. She was attended by Miss Eva Johnston wearing navy wool crepe with accessories in navy and a corsage of pale pink roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Gerard O'Brien and ushers were Edward and Clare O'Brien.

A reception was held at the bride's home where her mother received, wearing a dress of black crepe with grey accessories. The groom's mother was assisting attired in a navy ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will reside in Peterborough.

M'Andrew-Inkpen

In Westmoreland United church Toronto, a marriage of interest here was that of Loretta Inkpen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Inkpen, and Cleveland Robert MacAndrew, son of Mrs. MacAndrew and the late Mr. G. H. McAndrew, all of Toronto. The Rev. L. I. Hunter officiated at the ceremony with Mrs. D. Morton at the organ and Mr. W. McCutcheon as soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore white chiffon, a full length veil caught to coronet of seed pearls, ani carried Amedican Beauty roses. The maid of honor was her twin sister Miss Theresa Inkpen and bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Milled. They were frocked in yellow and powder blue brocaded taffeta with matching hats and carried nosegays of salmon pink gladoli.

The groom was attended by Mr. D, T. Thain and ushers were J. E. Joynson and R. Robinson.

After a reception at the home of the groom's mother, the couple took a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride travelling in brown gabardine suit with matching accessories and corsage of American Beauty roses. They will reside in Toronto.

Cleary-Ryan

DOURO, Sept. 28—A lovely wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's Church, Douro, when Margaret Agnes daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan was united in marriage to Hugh Paul Cleary son of Mr. Michael Cleary and the late Mrs. Cleary. The Rev. Father McCarthy officiated. Nuptial mass was served by Bernard Dwyer, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Victor Kennedy played the wedding music and during mass the choir sang.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and gowned in white slipper satin with seed pearl trim.

She wore a fingertip veil of net caught with orange blossoms, and carried red and white roses.

Miss Rita Ryan was bridesmaid for her sister, frocked in blue taffeta with matching mittens, floral headdress and shoulder veil. Pale pink roses and white sweet peas made up her bouquet.

The groomsman was Mr. John Cleary brother of the groom. Ushers were Patrick Ryan brother of the bride and Richard Walsh, cousin of the groom.

Guests were received by the bridal party at the Empress Hotel. For the occasion the bride's mother wore a dress of figured crepe black accessories and corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a dress in American Beauty shade, black accessories and corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleary will reside in Otonabee.

Rowene Hudson Bride Of Edward M. O'Brien Monday

St. Peter's Cathedral was the setting for a pretty wedding on Monday morning when Rowene Margaret Hudson became the bride of Edward Maurice O'Brien with the Rev. Father Garvey hearing their marriage vows. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hudson, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Brien, all of Peterborough.

Red roses and gladioli formed a lovely background and Mrs. Robert Aman played traditional wedding music. During the signing of the register, Mrs. D. Campanaro sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

The bride's gown was fashioned of white slipper satin with inserted panels of Chantilly lace styled with square neckline on the fitted bodice and a full skirt. A halo of white tulle fell from her crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls and she was carrying a cascade of American Beauty roses.

Miss Jean O'Brien as bridesmaid was frocked in pale pink nylon net over taffeta with bodice of brocaded satin with tiny frills outlining the sheer yoke, repeated at the waistline in peplum effect. She carried a nosegay of Talisman roses and baby 'mums.

The groomsman was Mr. John O'Brien and Bernard and Frederick O'Brien ushered.

The bride's mother wore black sheer with accessories to match and a corsage of deep red roses. The groom's mother was in navy and white printed silk and navy hat and had red and white roses in her corsage.

After the reception in Hooper's Palm Rooms the couple left on a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a steel grey gabardine suit with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will live in Peterborough.

Expert Advises Women On How To Avoid 'Wolves'

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP). — Highways of the United States now are comparatively free of two-legged wolves.

More unescorted women are travelling than ever before, says Carol Lane, a travel bureau director who has just returned from the West. She adds:

"Motor travel presents no special problems for women travelling unescorted by men. Women won't find any trouble unless they're looking for it."

Here and there, hazards still exist but a few simple rules, Miss Lane says, will keep the woman traveller on the road of propriety. Miss Lane covers thousands of mile a year on auto trips for an oil company, investigating all kinds of travel problems.

For example, she warns that if you want to avoid the wrong kind of tourist cabins, don't pick a camp where:

1. Most of the cars bear license plates from the same state in which the cabins are located (unless the state is very large.)

2. The proprietor doesn't require you to register or give you a chance to inspect your lodgings first.

3. There is a bar in front.

Wear Detachable Skirt

"Above all, a lady traveller must act and dress like a lady," says Miss Lane. "A good strategy, for example, is a playsuit with a detachable skirt. While driving, the skirt can be neatly folded across a seat. In can be whisked easily around the hips when coming into a filling station or restaurant."

About Miss Lane herself. She is a comely young brunette. She recently completed a two-month, 11,000-mile auto trip through the Rockies and southwest United States, visiting 13 parks, picking up helpful hints on what to see, where to eat, how to picnic on the road, what to carry along for comfort.

When she's not travelling, she's writing reports and when she's not writing reports, she's lecturing on travel to women's clubs. On vacations, she travels, too. This year her plans for a trip to France had to be cancelled, so she may have to settle for a car ride up and down the eastern seaboard.

While on the road, Miss Lane is always equipped with various tourist guides to help her decide on a restaurant. If these sources fail in a strange town, she invariably seeks out a druge store.

"Pharmacists are usually open late," she says. "They know their town and they're considerate."

Other bits of intelligence picked up on the road by Miss Lane include: teachers are the best travellers because they have the most time and "they're most curious about things; "with picnics now and then, you can eat for about $3 a day on the road; if your car breaks down on a lonely road and you can't fix it yourself, it's best to wait for a long-haul truck driver because he can "usually fix everything."

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, September 29

A momentous switch in affairs, static and crystallized, may be anticipated, this brought about by some subtle or sagacious manipulation, impressing those in high places who may be prevailed upon to come to the rescue, changing the drift of important projects. The social element may explain su.. happy move into channels of production, gain and personal gratification. Work for advance goals while such influence rules, using tact and finesse rather than, force.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find their affairs taking more lucrative and and pleasant form if they will take time out to study, with sagacity and foresight to break up impediments or lack of cooperation from high places. Instead of high-pressure tactics, forced attention, make efforts to placate rather than force by over-aggressive action. Social status, professional skill, even personal magnetism may be discreetly utilized to "move mountains." Accent the indirect approach with charm and tact.

A child born on this day is bounteously endowed with force and faculties for oustanding progress and popularity, if they will refrain from too vigorous or ardent tactics.

Neglected Wives Weigh Reasons for Their Loss

When a middle-aged wife loses her husband to a younger and fairer charmer, she almost invariably lays the blame for it on her age and looks. That sounds like a plausible alibi for being a deserted wife, for it is undeniable that no woman can stay a perpetual sweet - and - twenty, nor is there any known method of retaining a peaches-and - cream complexion after one passes the deadline.

Dorothy Dix

Now if all men worshipped at the shrine of Venus, and beauty held them with a single hair, as the poets assert, it would be logical for a husband's devotion to his wife to be in direct ratio to her pulchritude, and for it to cool off as she gained weight and lost her figure.

But such is seldom, if ever, the case. As a matter of fact, while men give lip service to women's beauty, they rarely marry for it, as is amply proved by the number of ladies you know who possess husbands, not one of whom has a face that would launch a canoe, to say nothing of a thousand ships.

If men do not marry for beauty when they are young, still less do they discard an old wife because she has acquired a few wrinkles and her hair has begun to turn grey. Indeed, the average husband rarely sees his wife as she is. She is just a woman who looked good to him when he married her and who still looks good to him when they celebrate their Golden Wedding.

Selfishness To Blame

So the woman who can't keep her husband has to have a better excuse for losing him than claiming that he ditched her because she was no longer Miss America. Generally the reason was that she was one of the selfish, cold dictorial women who regards a husband as nothing but a meal ticket and a charge account, and who never lifted a finger to make him happy, or even give him something fit to eat.

Or, perhaps, the woman who loses her husband is one of the women who are ALL mother and NO wife. After the first baby is born she never sees her husband as anything but a slave whose whole mission in life is to provide her and the children with luxuries. She quits dressing up and trying to make herself look attractive to her husband. She has no conversation except baby talk. She feeds her family on baby food, and she gets so dull and stupid that it is small wonder that Friend Husband wanders off after a more interesting companion.

Or it may be that the woman who loses her husband does so through sheer carelessness. She has him and she doesn't think it worth while to try to keep him. She doesn't attempt to make him a happy home, or to be good company for him, or to cheer him up and amuse him when he comes home tired from a hard day's work. And she doesn't even know that she is driving her husband to the Other Woman when she gives him none of the affection and tenderness for which he is starving.

There would be very few lost husbands if wives would take as much trouble to keep them from being stolen as they do their diamonds.

Stalin Victim Bad Advice, Misinformation

By RELMAN MORIN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) —Prime Minister Stalin probably was, and is, a victim of misinformation and bad advice, but he was not over-ruled on the Berlin agreement, nor has he lost control of his government.

On the contrary, all intelligence reports available in Washington indicate that he is still the whip-handed master.

It appears in the light of this information that Stalin himself aborted the Berlin agreement; although he had expressed a desire to dissolve the deadlock there, had helped to formulate the terms and presumably had approved them.

Much Speculation.

This fact—the failure to carry out a bargain that bore Stalin's own seal—caused a good deal of speculation when the United States White Paper was released Sunday. Three probabilities were posed in the effort to explain this apparent contradiction:

1—Was Stalin over-ruled, after having made the agreement?

2—Did the arguments of the other members of the Politburo cause him to change his mind, after the solution was formulated and before it was put into effect?

3—Or, acting on mistaken information, did he mis-gauge the effect of the agreement and therefore reverse his own position?

Washington experts sifting and re-studying reports — not only from Moscow and Berlin, but from all over Europe — believe the third hypothesis is the correct one. They believe the answer to Stalin's baffling tactic lies elsewhere than in Berlin.

In the Berlin talks, Stalin's main objective was to bring about a cancellation of the plan to set up a government in Western Germany. Throughout the talks, Stalin virtually made this the price for an agreement to lift the blockade on Berlin.

At the same time, intelligence reports show, a message was broadcast to the satellite governments of eastern Europe, to the Cominform headquarters and to the leaders of Communist parties elsewhere in the world.

Told to Stand By

It was a stand-by message. It instructed them to be prepared for "a propaganda victory of the first magnitude" and to be ready to exploit the "victory" in their respective areas.

This comes from a Washington source that cannot be quoted. The same source holds the belief that the expected "victory" would be the announcement that the plans to begin discussions with the Germans for a western German government had been cancelled, or at least postponed.

The United States ambassador to Russia, W. Bedell Smith, pointed out, during the discussions, that there was no connection between the Berlin problems and the question of western Germany.

Nevertheless, it appears that Stalin thought his objective would be gained in that, in the end, the western powers would agree to his terms.

Why did he come to this conclusion?

For a long time, diplomatic sources, both American and non-American, have been expressing doubt that Stalin is kept fully informed about international affairs. Some evidence exists that accurate information, adequately analyzed, has been kept from him.

Agreement Drawn

Consequently, Washington observers believe that Stalin originally embarked on Moscow talks, expecting that his price—abandonment of the plans for western Germany—would be met. He carried the discussions up to a point where the agreement was actually drawn. He may have been told, during all this time, that:

1. The western powers could not maintain the air lift much longer, because of the approach of winter, and that they would have no alternative other than to concede to his wishes.

2. Or, that rather than risk a show-down on their ability to stay in Berlin, they would ditch the Frankfurt project.

Acting on the belief that Stalin is not fully informed, analysts here consider it probable that he does not know about the scope or success of the air lift or abou the western powers' determination to remain in Berlin.

Hence, when the great "propaganda victory" could not be proclaimed, observers believe Stalin simply gave the order to Marshal Sokolovsky, the Russian military governor in Berlin, to sabotage the agreement.

LIEUT.-GEN. IZYDOR MODELSKI, military and air attache at the Polish embassy at Washington, D.C., is pictured with his family. General Modelski announced that he has refused to return to Poland because she is a "blind tool" of Russia. Modelski, who has asked the U.S. state department for permission to remain in that country, branded the Red-dominated Warsaw government a "terrible police dictatorship." Left to right here are, Andrew, 19; Gen. Modelski, Mme. Modelski; Jack, 18; a nephew whose last name was withheld because he is now in Poland; and Tommy Modelski II.

Toronto Unions Clash Over Leftish Tinge

TORONTO, Sept. 28—(CP)—An open clash between the United Steelworkers of America and the United Electrical Workers, both Canadian Congress of Labor affiliates, highlighted a hectic meeting Monday night of Toronto Labor Council.

During the proceedings, Murray Cotterill, Council president, declared there were "rumors" certain "left-wing" unions are planning to bolt the CCL.

Council adopted a resolution drafted by the UEW condemning border restrictions against trade unionists and calling on the CCL to ask the CIO to make representations to the United States government to end them.

Edward Cluney of the Textile Workers' Union of America said the resolution was too broad and the council should withhold support from those who were "boring from within" the trade union movement.

Then James Robertson, Toronto organizing director for the Steelworkers, named three officials of the UEW as "Communists" who "placed loyalty to a political party and to another country before the interests of the union members."

Joseph Bacon, former president of the UEW local at the English Electric plant at St. Catharines, told the meeting: "If you don't go down the path with the Communist party they'll wreck the local."

Work Clothes Prices To Be Investigated

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 — (CP). — The Prices Commission, adjourned since Sept. 16, will resume public hearings today to investigate the prices of work clothing.

A commission official said tonight the investigation will centre around the cost of overalls since they are "a pretty good barometer of the industry."

Commission counsel H. A. Dyde said he expects to complete examination of witnesses — drawn from the ranks of manufacturers and wholesalers — in three days, concluding the probe Thursday.

Part of the week will probably be devoted to examination of officials of the Dominion Textile Co. During its investigation into the prices of men's shirts, the commission found that although production of cotton fabrics has increased greatly since 1939, the number of shirts turned out has declined.

In its search for information to explain the apparent anomaly, the commission turned from shirt to fabric manufacturers.

The next major investigation will begin Oct. 4, when the three commissioners, headed by Chairman C. A. Curtis, will open a three-week study of lumber prices, calling witnesses from across Canada.

Russian Money Drops In Value In Berlin Area

BERLIN, Sept. 28. — (AP).— Berliners have lost some of their faith in the Russian-issued currency in their city following the break-up of the four-power talks on the Berlin blockade.

The "ostmark" issued by Soviet authorities is steadily dropping in value, although at no time was it considered equal to the "Deutsche mark."

While there still seemed hope the four occupying powers were getting somewhere in their conversations about lifting the Soviet-imposed blockade of Berlin, the ostmark was being traded on the black market at the rate of between two and three for one west mark.

As of Monday night, the ostmark was quoted at 3.9 to one Deutsche mark. This is almost the lowest point the Soviet mark has reached since midsummer, a short time after the duel east-west currency reform.

Communists have a healthy respect for the west mark. They demonstrated that soon after the currency reform by trying to collar as many of them as they could. This was done in devious ways. Out of the systems tried was flooding the western sectors with Russian-made ciragets on sale in the black market for only west marks, and at cheap price.

The double currency was introduced last June. The west issued its new money after failing to obtain Soviet accord with a Germany-wide currency reform. The Russians retaliated with new money of their own.

In Berlin it became one of the chief sources of the vexing discord. The city government, plagued by the split, ruled employees would be paid three-fourths of their wages in east marks and the remainder in west marks. Lately, however, some workers have been getting up to half their pay in western currency.

U. S. Committee Accuses Four Tampering With Atomic Secrets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(AP).—United States spy probers pressed their hunt today for a mysterious "Scientist X" after demanding immediate trials for four persons they accused of tampering with atomic secrets.

The House of Representatives Un-American Activities committee linked the unidentified scientist wit hSteve Nelson, who the committee said should be tried as an outright wartime spy. Nelson is a Communist party organizer in Pennsylvania.

The House group's preliminary report Monday night also declared that Dr. Clarence F. Hiskey, his former wife, Marcia Sand Hiskey, and Dr. John U. Chapin should be prosecuted on charges of conspiring to hand over atomic secrets to Soviet agents. Hiskey and Chapin worked on the atomic bomb project during the war.

The penalty for conviction on either charge, spying or conspiracy to spy, is death or up to 30 years' imprisonment.

Chapin, whom the committee described as a "very co-operative" witness, declined comment in New York. Hiskey and his wife could not be reached.

The committee said its first report on a month-long inquiry tells "only a small part" of the whole story of atomic spy activities. Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (Rep. N.J.) announced that locked-door hearings will continue indefintely.

Action in Canada

The committee report referred to the "vigorous and expeditious manner" in which the spy ring in Canada was broken up in 1946. It forecast that similar prosecutions would take place in the United States because "the espionage ring was linked to this country."

There was no immediate comment from the Justice Department. Attorney-General Tom Clark, who has denied previous committee charges that his staff has been lax in prosecuting spy cases, is travelling on President Truman's campaign train.

Although the report said 'Scientist X" should "either be prosecuted forthwith or cleared," Thomas said the committee wants to make sure its case against him is not based on mistaken identity.

Thomas said the committee also wants to know more about Arthur Alexandrovich Adams. The report called Adams "virtually a 'charter member' Communist of the Soviet Union" and termed him the central figure in the case against Hiskey and Chapin.

Adams presumably has returned to Russia, the committee said, after having been "actively engaged in espionage activities for the Soviet government."

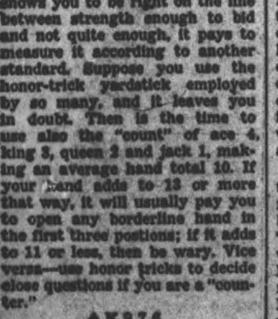
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

COUNT BY TWO METHODS

Whenever your favorite method of appraising your strength shows you to be right on the line between strength enough to bid and not quite enough, it pays to measure it according to another standard. Suppose you use the honor-trick yardstick employed by so many, and it leaves you in doubt. Then is the time to use also the "count" of ace 4, king 3, queen 2 and jack 1, making an average hand total 10. If your hand adds to 13 or more that way, it will usually pay you to open any borderline hand in the first three postions; if it adds to 11 or less, then be wary. Vice versa—use honor tricks to decide close questions if you are a "counter."



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♠	Pass	4♠

Plenty of people who held those North cards in a big duplicate tournament—in fact, nearly half of them—passed and as a result saw the deal passed out. In each case they were rigid honor-trick valuers and lacked the ability to weigh the merits of the secondary honors in the hand.

The most expert bidders, especially those using the "count" method, saw that the hand with 14 points was more than good enough to make an opener sound. In some cases, this led to an eventual contract of 3-No Trumps because neither North nor South knew that it pays to bid a four-card major topped by a king or queen. They made their game easily. But they of course lost in the tournament to the people who did better by bidding spades and getting into a spade game.

All of the spade declarers beat the No Trumpers by 20 points or more. One beat that score by 50 because an extra trick got made. There the diamond 10 lead was won by the J, a club won by the K, another led to the A, a third ruffed, the heart Q sent to the K, the spade A scored and the 10 returned to the K, then the heart 5 ruffed, the club 9 ruffed, the diamond 4 led to the K, the spade Q used to drop the J, the club 10 scored and the diamond A, the declarer losing only one trick in hearts and one in spades.

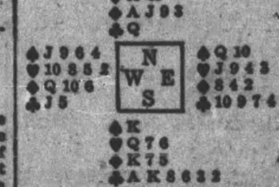
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

What principle of play should enable South to select the right contract after using the Blackwood convention on this deal?

ROBERT ROSS

R. Ross Retires Is Honored

More than 20 business associates and friends gathered at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club on Monday evening to honor Robert Ross, 675 George Street, N. For 23 years Mr. Ross who is retiring has been manager of the Peterborough branch of National Grocers and prior to that he was manager of T. Kinnear and Company for 16 years. Joseph Wiley, general sales manager of the parent company in Toronto, represented the executives of the company and thanked Mr. Ross for his many years of faithful service.

J. D. Fitzpatrick, friend and customer-associate for many years was chairman and asked each guest for a few words. Mr. Ross was presented with an easy chair. In his speech of thanks, he intimated that he would make good use of the chair for the next three months at least, in taking an extended rest. He and his wife he said may do some travelling and perhaps a trip to Northern Ireland, his birthplace.

Also present was Mr. Ross' successor, Roy Magee, who started in Toronto office in 1920 and for the past 13 years has been manager of the Orillia branch.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Wyllie

Funeral service for the late Mrs. John Wyllie, Jr., 37, of 538 Armour Rd., was held on Monday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiated, assisted by Rev. J. M. Brownlie of Marmora.

Pall-bearers were E. Wood of St. Catharines, Joseph McCarthy, P. Ayotte, J. Pirie, Leo Allen and F. Innes. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Wyllie died on Friday at Bracebridge, following a very short illness. She was born in Marmora, Nellie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scott, and before coming to Peterborough 16 years ago, lived in Marmora. Besides her husband and parents, she leaves four children, a brother and two sisters.

Board Approves Of Paving Program

A permanent road surfacing program to be carried on through several years has met with "no objection" from the Ontario Municipal Board. But, in particulars of the project, the Board reserves the right to consider separately each application.

The council is planning this work under the Local Improvement Act, which means that a substantial part of the cost will be charged to the properties on those streets. The Municipal Board advises that this work should be instituted from within the council.

An asphaltic paving plan has been mooted at some of the council sessions this year. Work would be done by contract.

The assenting letter from the Municipal Board was sent on to the board of works.

YMCA Launches Members Drive

YMCA membership canvass for 1948-49 was officially opened by Mayor W. G. Ovens at a dinner on Monday evening at the YMCA. He stressed the need for the "Y" in communities such as Peterborough, and the excellent work done by both the YMCA and YWCA in providing a healthy outlet for young people's activities.

J. G. Wharry, guest speaker, gave a short history of the YMCA in Peterborough and made particular mention of the work of Mrs. Charlotte Nicholls and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Macdonald.

A. L. Elliott, chairman of the campaign, introduced the two majors: S. G. Payne, vice-chairman, acting on behalf of Dr. R. C. Honey, and L. C. Bateman.

F. Hills, YMCA president, and Charles Lacheur, treasurer, spoke briefly on behalf of the Board of Directors, and G. H. Roper, general secretary, outlined the details of the canvass.

The objective of the campaign is 700 renewals and new members. Team captains, all of whom were present, are R. Reed, J. A. Cooke, E. H. Smith, A. E. C. Thackeray, R. N. Hamilton, D. Errol Hanbidge, S. J. Csumrik, John C. McMillan, J. W. Thornton, Marlow F. Banks, Robert Stuart and James Grant.

Car Hits Bicycle Boy Injured

When he turned his bicycle into the path of a northbound car driven by Robert Russell, of Maria Street, early on Monday night, Gerald Stinson, of 270 William St., was knocked to the pavement at Park and King Sts., and had to be taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for medical treatment.

He was attended to by Dr. Robert Young, who ascertained his injuries as a bruised right elbow and a bruised and lacerated head. Later he was allowed to go home.

PC's Victor McConnell and Ed Niziol who investigated reported that the bicycle had been badly twisted and the car also received damage to the right front fender, right headlight, and part of the grillwork.

Stinson, who had been driving south on Park St. turned left to go into King St. and the collision took place.

Regiment Parades At Seven Tonight

The 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (PWR) RCA, Peterborough's Reserve Force Regiment, with Army Week well behind them, will commence the detailed business of fall and winter training under stiff schedules, tonight at the Armoury, when training plans will be implemented on a four-group system.

All ranks are requested to attend this important organization parade which will open at 7.45 o'clock. Regimental strength, as a result of the Army Week recruiting campaign, has risen by more than 40, and further registrations are expected this week.

Hydro Savers Getting Results

Peterborough backed down on Monday in the electric power records to 244,000 kilowatt hours as compared with 230,000 Monday Sept. 20 and 278,000 on the 13th. Everybody should know by this time that the local quota is 240,000.

There is an additional rural consumption of 14,080 kwh.

Automatic water heaters were off seven hours from 5 p.m. to midnight. Manifestly power is being saved, and the local appeal to the general public is bringing results.

ERP "Victory Key"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 — (AP). — Sir Stafford Cripps today termed the European recovery program the key to victory in "a great moral struggle." Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer said the United States fashioned the key, but he said "material requirements" alone cannot "bring about the regeneration of the strength of western European Democracy."

Refund Cheques To Be Mailed On March 31

Are you one of the 2,250,000 Canadians who will receive a Refundable Savings cheque on March 31st, 1949?

If you are, don't forget, if you have moved or changed your name since 1943, you should go to your Post Office and obtain a Refundable Savings Change of Address Card and mail it at once (postage free). You should do this even if you mailed one of these cards last year. If you haven't moved or changed your name since 1943, your cheque will come to you in the mail before April 1st, next.

If you don't know, it's fairly easy to get a "yes" or "no" answer. Just ask yourself these questions:

1. Were you working in 1943 or 1944?

2. Did you pay Income Taxes in 1943 or 1944?

If your answer is "yes" to both these questions, it is likely you are entitled to receive a Refundable Savings cheque. However, don't forget that Refundable Savings were part of your income taxes during those years and you were allowed to charge against the Refundable Savings portion any payments you made to a pension fund, on life insurance policies, and on mortgages. If you had heavy payments of this nature and charged them against your Refundable Savings in 1943 or 1944, the amount repayable may be very small, and in some cases, none at all.

Of course the best way to find out if you have Refundable Savings is to refer to your 1943 and 1944 Income Tax Assessment Notices. Attached to these notices is a blue slip indicating exactly the amount of your Refundable Savings. You will receive that amount with 2 per cent interest. The blue slip is not a coupon, nor is it a bond. It is only a notice or a record of the amount of your Refundable Savings. Don't send it into the Taxation Division. It should be kept by you.

Faced with the problem of producing cheques for over 2,500,000 Canadians and of finding perhaps as much as 750,000 new addresses before March 31st next, the Taxation Division cannot make any exceptions for early payment. To assure the earliest delivery of your cheque, be sure you mail a Refundable Savings Change of Address Card before October 31st, if you have changed your name and/or address since 1943. Do this today to be sure your cheque will arrive on time.

GROWTH OF DISTILLING

The distillation of alcoholic beverages from fermented liquors became general throughout the whole of Europe during the 16th and 17th centuries.

NO OINTMENTS REQUIRED

THE BURNED-OUT VILLAGE of St. Mathieu is shown in this aerial photo, taken while grass fires started by flying embers were still blazing. Some of the houses still standing show how the fire skipped erratically through the streets, finally destroying 37 buildings. Damage estimated at $250,000. The Red Cross are caring for the homeless.

Big Dam Checks River Rampages

LAC DOZOIS, Que., Sept. 28—(CP).—Construction gangs have just finished a two-year battle to make the Ottawa River behave in springtime and conserve its power-producing waters for the lean winter days.

When the gates of the Bourque dam slammed shut across the mouth of Lac Dozois last Friday the big job was over for 74-year-old Tom Barnett, construction superintendent, and the 350 men who built three dams, two bridges and a stretch of highway to impound 66,000,000,000 cubic feet of water for Quebec's Hydro-Electric Commission.

Instead of rushing wildly downriver after the snows melt next spring the water will back up behind the 60-foot dam. The following winter, when stream flow drops and power demand increases in Ontario and Quebec, generating stations along the river can tap the reservoir for water needed to keep hydro turbines running smoothly.

Although the $3,000,000 project, one of several designed to keep the Ottawa's wild horsepower in check, will benefit every station along the river, its full effect will not be felt until the winter of 1949-50.

The river was not the only source of trouble. The first cofferdam was started in December, 1946, when the earth of Northern Pontiac County was frozen as hard as rock.

Manpower turnover was another problem. The average working force was 350 men, but more than 1,500 passed through the camp in a year.

With The Canadian Legion

By The SECRETARY

Each branch of the Canadian Legion, when formed, is granted a charter by the Canadian Legion Dominion Executive Council. This charter is to be displayed at all general meetings and intiation of new members. Article 1, section 5, of the constitution of the Canadian Legion says that a charter may be granted to 50 or more persons in a city or ten or more persons with the permission and recommendation of the provincial command.

Peterborough branch No. 52 was granted its charter Oct. 19, 1926, upon the application of 15 persons, and the following names are inscribed on the charter: Charles Haydn Ackerman, Robert Edmund Layfield, James Abraham, Sidney Whatley, Norman Henry Sutton, Norman Elgin Crowe, Douglas J. Lawrie, Wilfred Field Huycke, Thomas J. Johnston, George Coutts, Paul Costello, William James Swanger, James Milby, George Robert Melton and William Edwin Massey-Cooke. The charter is signed by Percy Lake and B. M. Campbell, who were respectively the president and secretary of the Dominion Executive Council, in Ottawa.

We are going to attempt to get some information from the old-timers around this branch regarding the early days of the Peterborough Legion, which we shall pass on to you in subsequent articles.

At present we are interested in all forms of sport and have sponsored teams of Legionnaires in most of the local leagues, sometimes carrying off the honors, sometimes losing, but always out for the game. Our branch is a club in the strictest sense of the word where the members meet to enjoy cribbage (the national service game of cards); play billiards on tables rating among the best in the city; or enjoy carpet bowling during the long winter months. But our activities do not end there. We are particularly interested in having the wives of the members join with their husbands in the many forms of entertainment and, to this end, have created a Friday social evening. These are held on the second floor or auditorium and are very successful. It is run along the lines of a night club with good music, local entertainment from the members themselves, and dancing. Tables are set right on the floor of the auditorium and members and their wives enjoy themselves with their friends and make a night of it. This year the social evening is in the hands of Lou Durkin, the chairman of the entertainment committee. On Wednesdays we hold our weekly bingos, and on Thursday and Saturday the Legion dance is held.

The hall itself has been changed within the last few months and we have added additional space to our lobby by moving our refreshment both to the office formerly occupied by the Rev. John Hodgson and the Peterborough District Rehabilitation Committee. The floor was especially treated, giving it a hard durable finish and making it possible for us to increase our activities in that section of the hall.

In answer to the many queries we have received about the Rev. John Hodgson, we would like to say that he is now in Ottawa with the Civil Service Commission, and lives at 458 Roosevelt Avenue, Westboro, Ottawa. Mr. Hodgson made many close friends in Peterborough during his stay with the Rehabilitation Committee, and we give the above address to those who wish to renew correspondence.

London Probes 2 Gory Murders

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP). — Police apparently had solved one murder today, but had no progress to report in another — the Saturday night slaying of a street-walker in London's hard-bitten Soho district.

Criminal Investigation Department men were combing the "square mile of vice" in search of a tall man of foreign appearance. He was seen leaving the apartment of Mrs. Rachael (Red Rae) Fennick, 41, found Sunday stabbed to death, apparently by a stiletto.

Meantime they took into custody a "man they sought to interview"—usual British police terminology for murder suspect—in connection with the death Saturday of 70-year-old Ernest Westwood at Halifax, Yorkshire. Westwood was found fatally beaten and lying on a bed in the house where he lived alone.

Newspapers dubbed the Yorkshire murder "the case of the man with the twitching face" because of a nervous tic afflicting the suspected killer who was seen in the neighborhood. The man taken into custody was detained at Sutton, Surrey, and awaited escort to the scene of the crime.

In neither killing was the motive obvious. London evening newspapers conjectured the Soho slaying was the work of a "maniac" — possibly the same man who stabbed to death another prostitute, known to Sohoites as "Russian Dora," a fortnight ago in a covent Gardens apartment. Police said methods were virtually identical but death weapons were different.

Hastings News

Mr. and Mrs. C. Brinklow have closed up their home and are spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Earl Sutherland and family of Peterborough.

Mrs. J. Quinlinan, Miss Reta Barry, and Pat Barry spent Friday in Peterborough.

Mrs. J. McMillan, Johnny and Dorothy spen Friday in Peterborough with her daughter Mrs. H. Richardson.

The many friends of Mrs. C. Baker will be pleased to hear that she is progressing favorably after her operation in Peterborough.

There was a good attendance at the bingo held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening by the Hastings Softball Club. Prizes were made up of food vouchers, blankets and baskets of peaches. J. Mulholland called the numbers and assisting were F. Crate, H. Chennell, J. Wilson and J. Witherson.

Your banker works

For You

As a depositor or borrower, you value privacy in money matters. Your banker protects that privacy. Your banking transactions are not open to the eyes and ears of your competitor, your neighbor, your community.

In other words, the manager of your branch bank and his whole staff are working for you.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a public official working for the State! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion.

AUSTRALIAN SCHOOLCHILDREN are led a merry chase as they attempt to catch Charla, the pet wallaroo of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kelroy of Burnley (suburb of Melbourne). The animal, OWOL from the home of her owner, was finally captured and turned over to the Queensland Zoo by authorities who warned the Kelroys that it is against Australian law to keep a wallaroo for a household pet.

Say Russia Reviving German Arms

Report Industries Being Speeded Up In Occupation Zone

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—(AP).— A dispatch of the American-licensed Dena News Agency, attributed to informed quarters in the Soviet zone's administration, today said the Russians were illegally reviving armament industries in their occupation zone, especially aircraft parts production.

Such activity—and Allied intelligence sources said they had received similar reports — would constitute violation of four-power agreementss for the demilitarization of Germany which began with the Potsdam declaration.

Berliners, looking to the United Nations to attempt a solution of the four-power deadlock over their blockaded city noted that today was the 10th anniversary of the Munich pact, which gave Hitler the foothold he needed to smash Czechoslovakia.

The Socialist newspaper Telegraf said editorially:

"In Paris there are no words of rightened concession. There will not be a new Munich."

'Buzz' Planes

Nine Soviet fighter planes dangerously buzzed two American supply planes in a Soviet-zone air corridor today, United States authorities announced.

The planes were flying supplies in to Soviet-blockaded Berlin from the western zones.

United States officials said they were transmitting a written protest to the Russians, charging violation of air safety regulations and demanding remedial action.

Several Incidents

These were the latest of several Soviet-perpetrated incidents in the air corridors which the Americans asserted violated four-power flying regulations and were designed to harass the blockade-busting air lift to Berlin.

Capt. Vincent H. Gookin, United States representative at the four-power Berlin Air Safety Centre, filed the protest against the air corridor incidents. He said the protest was based upon accounts by the pilots of two C-54 Skymasters.

One pilot said his ship was buzzed by five Yaks and the other by four.

Youths Draw Long Terms For Crimes

Bound, Gagged Doctor Robbed Taxi Driver Accused Age 17 To 24

TORONTO, Sept. 29 —(CP)— Three Toronto youths today were sentenced to 10 years each for the Sept. 13 kidnapping of Dr. David Perlman and armed robbery of a taxi driver.

The three — Gordon Cameron, 24, Allen Decker, 19, and William Glover, 17,—were sentenced to six years for kidnapping the Toronto physician. They robbed him of $50 before leaving him bound and gagged in a tourist cabin in the Windsor district.

They were given four years consecutive and four years concurrent for the $53 armed robbery of Nathan Bornstein, Toronto Taxi driver, who was taken to a dark section of the city Sept. 10 and forced to hand over his wallet.

Decker and Glover each were sentenced to one year to run concurrent for two charges of automobile theft.

All From Good Homes

"I can't imagine what possessed them," commented Magistrate S. Tupper Bigelow. "They all came from good homes....In this case it is difficult to assess punishment to fit the crime."

For the kidnapping and two charges of armed robbery, the youths could have been sentenced to a maximum 39 years each.

Cameron, spokesman for the trio in court, said both Glover and Decker knew he was going to the United States and wanted to go with him.

He said the original plan was to find a car with the keys in it, but had almost abandoned the idea when Dr. Perlman drove up.

Dr. Perlman testified that the youths pushed him in the back seat of his autmobile and robbed him of $50. After an 80-mile-an-hour drive to the tourist cabin, they tied him up and left him with the car. A short time later he was able to free himself and hail a motorist.

The three were arrested in Windsor the day after the kidnapping.

Ground Jet Planes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP).—All United States F-84 jet fighters have been grounded temporarily 'pending investigation of recent accidents,' it was announced today. The United States Air Force made the announcement jointly with Republic Aviation Corporation which is produced 974 of the high speed fighters under current contracts.

UN Employees May Now Pay Income Tax Too

PARIS, Sept. 29.—(CP).—Canada today supported a United States proposal for an internal income tax plan for United Nations employees.

Speaking in the Administrative and Budgetary committee, Sidney Pollock of the Canadian Finance Department said the American plan was a practicable and equitable means of solving United Nations tax problems. He deplored that certain countries found "something devious" in the American resolution.

Britain's Sir William Matthews, the next speaker, said his country is in accord with Pollock's "very cogent" arguments:

Under the American proposal, United Nations employees would pay to the U.N. taxes roughly comparable to the Canadian or the United States income tax. These staff contributions, as they are called, would be made in expectation that the United States would consider that thew constituted a suitable means of "taxing" American employees of the world organization and thus would exempt them from double taxation.

3 Western Powers Accuse Russia Before U.N. Menacing World Peace

Soviet Wants To Drive Them From Berlin, Charge 'Illegal And Coercive Measures' In Formal Notes Of Appeal For UN Action

PARIS, Sept. 29—(CP).—Britain, the United States and France accused Russia before the bar of the United Nations today of menacing world peace with a blockade of Berlin which has brought Germany's first city to the brink of economic ruin. The three Western Powers told the United Nations in identical notes that the Soviet Union is bent upon driving them out of Berlin and bringing the city solely under Russian rule.

"It is clear from the protracted exchange of notes and the conversations which have taken place on the initiative of the three governments between them and the Soviet government that the three governments...have made every effort to resolve their differences directly with the Soviet government," the notes said.

After calling the formal attention of the Secretary-General to the 'serious situation" created by the action of the Soviet government inn Berlin and invoking Chapter VII of the United Natoins Charter, the note to Trygve Lie, United Nations Secretary-General, reiterated the main charges in terms textually identical with those contained in the joint note sent by the three western powers to Russia Monday.

Not Technical

The note to Russia stated: 'The issue between the Soviet government and the western occupying forces is therefore not that of technical difficulties in communications nor that of reaching agreement upon the conditions for the regulation of the currency for Berlin.

"The issue is that the Soviet government has clearly shown by its actions that it is attempting by illegal and coercive measures, in disregard of its obligations, to secure political objectives to which it is not entitled and which it could not achieve by peaceful means.

"It has resorted to blockade measures; it has threatened the Berlin population with starvation, disease and economic ruin; it has tolerated disorders and attempted to overthrow the duly elected municipal government of Berlin."

British sources said they did not believe the 11-country security council will take action on the western charges before Monday.

Earlier, Dmitri Manuilski, foreign minister of the Soviet Ukraine, told the general assembly that "Mr. Bevin and M. Paul-Henri Spaak are playing with fire."

War Psychosis

In an attack on the assembly speeches of the British and Belgian foreign ministers, he said the United States now was the focus of a "new war psychosis" spreading throughout the world.

Bevin had "rattled" the atomic weapon from the United Nations rostrum itself. His suggestion that regional arrangements were the best hope for peace was "a body

Pledge Non-Red Or Stay Out, Unions Told

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 — (AP). — The United States government today barred its A-bomb plants to unions whose officers refuse to disavow Communism.

This action, on the heels of Congressional charges that a network of Soviet spy rings in the United States tried during the war to feed atomic secrets to Moscow, stemmed from a double-barrelled atomic-energy commission order.

Except at Oak Ridge, union activity in all atomic plants has been sharply curtailed since the A-bomb project was launched.

Today's new policy decision ruled out any hope of those unions whose officers have failed to submit non-Communist oaths. These are required by the Taft-Hartley labor act for N.L.R.B. certification.

UEW Singled Out

The C.I.O. unions singled out in the commission announcement are the United Electrical Workers and the United Public Workers.

A Congressional committee heard testimony only Tuesday from a self-described former Communist-dominated organization in the United States."

The Public Workers Union, with a large membership of government employees, also has been under scrutiny in Congress.

The commission's move to erect new safeguards against possible leaks of atomic secrets was only one in a series of tumbling developments bearing on the issue of Reds-in-government.

Clothing Plant Profits Amaze Curtis

OTTAWA, Sept. 29—(CP). — Chairman C. A. Curtis of the Prices Commission told a clothing manufacturer today a return of $5,000 to $6,000 on a $15,000 capital investment is "something we'd all like to get into."

The manufacturer, Arthur Jacobs of Montreal, had presented financial records showing that Union Overall Manufacturing Co., which he manages, had a net profit of $5,956 in 1947 on a $15,000 capital investment.

"I submit to you that any industry that has a 33 1-3 per cent. return on its capital isn't a bad proposition," Prof. Curtis said. "I think you would find it difficult to justify these increasing margins to many people."

He was referring to the trade practice of taking the same percentage mark-up as prices go up with the result that the actual margin measured in dollars and cents increases considerably.

Not Much Capital

"It doesn't require any great capital," Mr. Jacobs said of the work-clothes industry which the commission is investigating. "We have to operate on a small capital and a quick turnover."

The firm's net profit as a percentage of sales ranged from one-half per cent. in 1939 to 2.1 per cent. last year.

Commission counsel H. A. Dyde suggested that, as prices rise, percentage margins of profit could be reduced and still leave good financial returns.

"What happens if I have a stock of $15,000 on the floor and the price goes down?" Mr. Jacobs demanded. "Who pays that?"

"You tell me," Mr. Dyde said.

"Why I do," Mr. Jacobs said. "I'm likely to lose enough to take up the slack for two or three years."

Missing Plane Sighted, No Sign of Mother, Son

EDMONTON, Sept. 29—(CP).—RCAF headquarters announced two Dakota aircraft, part of a seven-plane air search, today sighted a missing light plane in which a mother and her son were flying from Watson Lake, NY, to Fort Nelson, BC. A spokesman at headquarters said the two RCAF planes simultaneously reported finding the maroon Stinson aircraft lying on its back in brush about 45 miles from its destination.

A report from Fort Nelson said the light plane was only a few hundred yards from the Alaska highway which Mrs. A. L. Linter at Anchorage, Alaska, had been following to Fort Nelson. A two-man para-rescue unit which was standing by in Fort Nelson left immediately with a ground party for the crash scene.

The two aircraft reported no signs of life around the overturned plane but officials said Mrs. Linter and her son may have escaped uninjured and started to walk along the highway to Fort Nelson.

Hold Man 20 In Ring Theft

WINNIPEG, Sept. 29 (CP). — City police said today they were holding Charles J. K. Garson, 20, no fixed abode, in connection with last Saturday's $13,000 robbery which relieved a Toronto commercial traveller of about 1,000 jewelled rings.

Captured after a chase which lasted almost two hours Tuesday night and saw six cruiser cars and 12 policemen hunt two men through back lanes and gardens, Garson was the third man to be arrested in connection with the theft. His companion escaped.

6 Months, Strap For Wife-Beater

OSHAWA, Sept. 29. — George V. Lee, of Oshawa, was Tuesday sentenced to six months definite, three indefinite and seven strokes of the strap for assaulting his wife, Mrs. Anna Lee. Giving medical evidence regarding the injuries suffered by Mrs. Lee in the assault, Dr. W. S. Millman said. "Her left eye was almost closed, her right eye in bad shape, there were multiple scratches on her face, and marks on her neck indicated that an attempt had been made to strangle her."

Crown Attorney Alex Hall told the court that Lee was already on suspended sentence for the same charge. "Ironically enough it was on the plea of his wife that he was given suspended sentence last Jan. 21st," the Crown said.

Mrs. Lee had testified yesterday that the beating was administered when her husband came home and found that her three-year-old son had not waited to have supper with him.

The Crown asked that strapping be included in the sentence.

Lee who pleaded guilty yesterday, said nothing in his own defense. "You gave your wife a terrible beating for no apparent reason and may consider yourself fortunate that you are not here on a more serious charge," Magistrate F. S. Ebbs told him.

Drops Naval Duties To Assist Princess

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(AP). — Prince Philip will lay aside his naval duties during the next nine months to help his wife, Princess Elizabeth, run Britain's royal affairs while the King and Queen are touring Australia and New Zealand.

The Admiralty said today the Prince, at his own request, will be placed on half pay during the period, expected to start about mid-October.

The King has not announced what Princess Elizabeth's duties will be during his absence, but as heiress-presumptive to the throne she probably will head a royal council of state which will rule while the King is out of the country.

The Admiralty said such an assignment would require her to fulfil many engagements, and that Prince Philip therefore would be required to "perform considerable extra duties not compatible with his rank as a naval officer."

Fractures Skull Farmer Dies

James Jackson, 49, of R.R. 6, Peterborough died in hospital at noon Tuesday from the results of an injury sustained on Monday night.

Mr. Jackson had delivered a load of sheep to the farm of Norman Brackenridge near Bailieboro, and went to the barn with Mr. Brackenridge to see some of the livestock. He struck his head against a cement runway that connects the silo and the barn and suffered a fractured skull. A Millbrook doctor was called and Mr. Jackson was taken to hospital.

Born in Otonabee 49 years ago Mr. Jackson was the son of the late Robert Jackson and Jane Thompson. He has lived in Otonabee all his life and leaves his wife formerly Viola Carl, one son and four daughters, Robert, Louise, Dorothy, Audrey and Mary all at home, and three sisters, Mrs. Elmer Campbell of Nassau, Mrs. A. R. Bennett, Peterborough and Miss Annie at home in Otonabee.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2.30 p.m. from the home of his sister, Mrs. A. R. Bennett, 793 George St., Peterborough, with burial in Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. George Murray of the Keene United Church will officiate.

Union Re-Elects Chambers To Job

TORONTO, Sept. 29.—(CP). — C. S. Jackson was re-elected Canadian president of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) at its annual meeting here.

Also re-elected were Mervin Chambers, vice-president, George Harris, secretary-treasurer, and Ross Russell, director of organization. Present at the convention held during the week-end were 164 delegates from Ontario and Quebec, representing some 24,000 workers.

The convention went on record as favoring the reinstatement of the suspended Mine, Mill and Smelters Union in the Canadian Congress of Labor. The matter is to be brought up at the coming CCL convention in Toronto.

The mill union was suspended last month after stories published in its paper regarding Percy Bengough, CCL president, and his railway union during wage negotiations earlier this summer.

Gunfire Reported Inside Bulgaria

ATHENS, Sept. 29.—(AP). — The Greek army reported today gunfire from inside Bulgaria for the third straight day along the border north of Drama.

A communique said artillery and small-arms fire, aimed at national troops who drove back Communist guerrillas in a week-end victory, continued.

In scattered clashes throughout Macedonia troops killed 43 guerrillas and captured 36 others.

Man 83 Host To Killers Didn't Know of Murders

PEMBROKE, Sept. 29 (CP).— An 83-year-old farmer entered the story of a desperate manhunt to-day as an innocent foil who stumbled on his mistake at a funeral.

He is the grandfather of Donald Perreault 28, one of two men wanted in connection with the murder of two Montreal policemen during a bank holdup last Thursday. For two days, police said, he unwittingly played host to Donald and Douglas Perreault on his lonely farm three miles from Sheenboro, Que., 20 miles north-west of Ottawa.

He had no radio, no newspapers to tell him they were wanted men, hunted by scores of police in the greatest manhunt the Ottawa Valley has known.

Then he went to a funeral in the Village of Chapeau on Monday, and found out. He went back home and ordered them off his place.

They went down the road in their black Cadillac. It was 6:45 p.m. An hour later, three Montreal detectives drove into the yard. Cars full of police were not far behind. They had been tipped off by Rev. Dennis Harrington of Chapleau some hours before.

Escape Made

A cordon was thrown around the area. Roads were blocked and cars checked until early this morning, but the two men had escaped.

Police later found out that they had stopped at a garage near Sheenboro on their way from the farm and were recognized by the boy who waited on them. But he was too frightened to say anything until after they had gone. Then police were phoned at Hull.

The car left along the main highway toward Aylmer, Que., across the Ottawa River from Ottawa. It was moving fast. Its Quebec license number was 52-860.

The search for the pair has shifted to the North Bay area, police said today. Montreal detectives spearheading the manhunt left here for North Bay late yesterday, it was learned.

'Monty' Slated As Chairman

PARIS, Sept. 29.—(Reuters).—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the Imperial General Staff, may be nominated "permanent chairman" of the new Western-Union organization for co-ordination of a common defence policy, it was believed today.

It was not thought he would be appointed commander-in-chief.

A communique issued Tuesday night said a common defence policy had been agreed upon by the defence ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, and that a permanent organization, including the nucleus of a joint command, would be set up to carry it out.

The communique added that this organization would have a permanent military chairman.

If Viscount Montgomery represents the choice of the Western Powers' defence ministers, the British Government, before endorsing the proposal, will examine the suggested terms of reference for the appointment and the duties which it would entail.

'High Fire Hazard' In Northern Ontario

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP).— A "high fire hazard" in the south-eastern section of Northern Ontario to-day was reported by Lands and Forest Minister Harold Scott, just returned from an aerial inspection of the district.

"The bush is extremely dry," he warned. "Hunters and campers must be extremely careful with matches and camp fires. It takes only one burning match to set off a 1,000-acre fire."

Flying in a plane piloted by Deputy-Minister MacDougall, Mr. Scott inspected a rough triangle from Toronto to Sault Ste Marie to Timmins and return.

Must Show More Effort, World Bank Tells Europe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP) —The World Bank said to-day Western European countries must show more effort and teamwork if they are to support themselves by 1952—when Marshall Plan aid is due to end.

Although "noteworthy" progress has been made to date" more must be accomplished than has yet been faced up to," the 47-country bank reported to its governors at their third annnal meeting.

For one thing, it said, removal of barriers to free trade among the Western European countries is essential, yet it is a question whether that can be done "without some kind of European union."

For Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, member countries in the Russian sphere— and therefore outside the United States said program—the bank had equally frank words:

No loans have been granted them because of "existing political difficulties and uncertainties which may have a direct effect on (their) economic and financial conditions."

As did the World Monetary Fund, also having its annual meeting here, the bank said "political tensions and unrest" are threatening economic stability and hobbling world recovery.

The bank's report was submitted by its president, John J. McCloy of the United States, who added a personal remark that he expects a pick-up in bank loans. He indicated the Latin-American countries particularly are prospective borrowers.

The bank reported $525,000,000 has been loaned to five countries (France, Holland, Denmark, Luxembourg, and Chile) and the loans for "productive projects in more than 20 member countries" are being discussed "actively."

Cobourg Woman Left $200,000

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 29 (AP) —Miss Lydia H. Cornell of Cobourg received $200,000 under the will of her brother, Dr. Peter C. Cornell, filed Tuesday in Surrogate court.

The principal beneficiary was Katharine Cornell, a daughter, who was left $300,000 outright besides a number of bequests in trust.

One trust grants the actress a life income, the residue of which will go to her descendants at her death. If there are no descendants, it will be shared by Miss Lydia Cornell, her brother Douglas, Buffalo, and two nephews.

Jews Reconciled To Bernadotte Plan

JERUSALEM, Sept. 29 (AP)— —Jewish leaders, watching reports from Paris, are reconciling themselves to living in an internationalized Jerusalem. "Bernadotte report certainly is not acceptable to Jews on the surface, but if its implementation has enough teeth to bring peace with the Arabs, then the Jews would accept anything," said one Jewish leader.

Delegates Confer

PARIS, Sept. 29 (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin presided today over a meeting of Commonwealth delegations to the United Nations General Assembly and their advisers, who gathered at the British embassy here. Prime Minister Mackenzie King heads the Canadian delegation.

Oliver Asks New Session Over Hydro

Requests Legislature Called To Deal With Power Shortage

TORONTO, Sept. 29.—(CP).—Liberal leader Farquphar Oliver today asked the Ontario government to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the province's power shortage.

In a statement, the Ontario party chief said he was "deeply concerned" over the situation. "As the government has already admitted, it will be several years before the crisis can be overcome. We may even be at war within that time."

Mr. Oliver urged the session be called immediately "to determine, beyond any shadow of a doubt, the responsibility for this shortage and the best measures to cope with its serious effects."

Net Appointment

He added:

"At the present time the government is represented on the Hydro Electric Power Commission by the Hon. G. H. Challies (minister without portfolio.) Yet only a week ago Premier Drew announced the appointment of another cabinet minister whose duties presumably to investigate the actions of Mr. Challies and the program of the commission as a whole."

"During the election campaign, Mr. Drew announced negotiations with the State of New York, particularly with regard to the power aspects of the St. Lawrence river. The ramifications of this proposed development are not known either to the elected members or the people generally. Surely this, in itself, is an adequate reason for the calling of a session."

BRITAIN'S FOREIGN SECRETARY Ernest Bevin (right) receives a hearty handshake from U.S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall after Mr. Bevin's speech before the United Nations General Assembly in Paris on Monday. Bevin said that Russia will be to blame if a "black fury, the incalculable disaster of atomic war," falls upon the world. The British cabinet member made his blistering attack on Russia as the Western Powers prepared to ask the Security Council to act on the Berlin crisis.

Millbrook Man Harold Tate Is 'Wheat King'

Harold Tate, Millbrook RR 1, is the winner of the Peterborough district "50 bushels per acre winter wheat club." In some counties this distinction carries with it the local and nominal title of "wheat king."

In second place is Robert Armstrong of Ida with only a fractional margin behind the leader. Alex Huston of Otonabee was was third and W. W. Dawson also of Otonabee fourth.

The scores were: Mr. Tate 200.1 points; Mr. Armstrong 199.4; Mr. Huston 196.5; Mr. Dawson 189.8.

Charles Whittington of North Monaghan was fifth for 187.4 points, and Graham Eastwood in Smith township, sixth with 187.1.

George McIlmoyl of Smith was next with 183.7, and J. E. Manley, Otonabee, eighth, with a score of 182.9 points.

The final results of this competition were delayed in announcement, for the yield scores from the Ontario Agricultural College. It was in two parts, field and yield.

The field scores were determined by examination of the crops at maturity and just prior to harvesting. Then, substantial samples were taken of the ripe grain in the head. They were forwarded to the OAC for the yield scores. Those two combined provided the total scores.

The club members finishing in the first three positions now have the opportunity of proceeding into the chemical test and entering the intercounty competition at the Royal Winter Fair in November. Mr. Tate, Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Huston are eligible to submit two-bushel samples, not later than Oct. 1 to the Maple Leaf Milling Co. for the chemical test of their grain.

Of the sixteen farmers comprising the Peterborough 50-bushel club, three were from Durham county, Cavan township, and they walked off with the first and second prizes. The order in which the scores were announced beyond the eighth place were: Earl Petrie, Otonabee; Clarence Coons, Lakefield; Walter Thorn, Otonabee; Morris Telford, Smith; Stewart Whittington, North Monaghan; Ross Harrison, Smith; Stewart Dawson, Otonabee, and Carman Seymour, Ida.

The combined work and interest of these farmers made the 1947-48 winter wheat competition one of the best in years. They all had splendid crops in a year of heavy wheat yields throughout the district.

The club is reforming for the coming season, but the members' plans are being hampered by the long period of drouth.

P.C. Candidates Sure Movers Easy To Find

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—(CP).—Contenders for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party are not worried about finding delegates to move and second their nominations at the party's national convention here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The four candidates now in the running said Tuesday night that they have yet to decide definitely on the choice of movers and seconders.

Premier Drew of Ontario said that he has yet to make his selection.

John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, said that possibly Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, member of the Commons for Nanaimo in British Columbia, would move his nomination. The seconder might be Roy Holman of Charlottetown, vice-president of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

Donald Fleming, member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton, said he would make up his mind within the next couple of days. Deadline for nominations has been set for 6 p.m., EST, Friday.

Garfield Case, member of the Commons for Grey North in Ontario, said he will choose men who will best help his chances of winning the leadership.

The mover of a nomination is entitled to speak for 10 minutes; the seconder for five and the candidate for 20. Mr. Case said he may decide to save time by having his mover and seconder simply submit his name without speeches.

Mrs. Mary Ann Grandy, formerly Mary Ann Hart, widow of the late Richard S. Grandy, died at Galt on Monday, in her 87th year. The funeral service will be from a Galt funeral home today and burial will be at St. Mary's Cemetery, Bethany, on Thursday, on arrival of the cars about 3 p.m.

Wild Cow Kills Farmer

MOUNT BRYDGES, Ont., Sept. 29 — (CP). — Thrown against a cement wall by a wild cow, George D. Hedley, 65, farmer and, wholesale butcher was killed Tuesday on his farm near here. Hedley assisted by his son Allen and Harold Kellestine of Delaware, were butchering at the slaughterhouse when one beast went wild.

Another Candidate?

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 — (CP). — E. D. Fulton, 32, member of the Commons for Kamloops in British Columbia, said Tuesday night that he will decide by today whether he will contest the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party at the convention this week. Mr. Fulton is president of the Young Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 29 — (CP). — The United Kingdom was allocated 450,000 bushels of Canadian wheat on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Tuesday. In coarse grains futures, general buying came out in both oats and barley. Of an aggressive nature, the buying was particular in oats. This was attributed to shippers, American houses and exporters.

Malting houses, shippers and eastern houses were on the buying side of barley. An American and local demand was indicated in rye. Flax trade was light, with a few buying orders coming from processing interests. Trading was active in oats and barley. Hedging sales were liberal but well absorbed.

Price of class two wheat — for export to countries other than the United Kingdom — increased by one cent.

Inspections: Wheat this year 423; last year 557; cars of contract 343; oats 178-50; barley 213-72; flax 93-49; rye 53-47; other grains 8-4; total 968-759.

4 Found Guilty Of Cow-Rustling

KINGSTON, Sept 29 — (CP). — Would-be cattle rustlers came before an Ontario court Tuesday when four Quebec men were convicted of conspiring to steal livestock.

The four, Herbert Baldwin, 30; John Athol McGale, 21, and his brother Keith, 20, all of Kazubazua, Que., and Lawrence Kruitz, 30, of Wright, Que., were remanded a week for sentence. On that date the quartet also will face charges of attempted theft of cattle.

A 16-year-old boy, also of Kazubazua, but living here with an uncle, also was charged with the two offences. He did not elect and no plea was taken; he was remanded also to Oct. 5.

The boy appeared in court as the Crown's surprise witness. He told of deliberately leading the men to a pasture owned by Reginald Chase on a farm near Hemlock Park, knowing all the while that provincial police had set a trap for the would-be rustlers.

The boy told of meeting the men in Quebec and talking over a "deal."

blow at the status of the United Nations," Manuilsky said.

His speech followed another retort to Bevin made by Edvard Kardelj, foreign minister of Yugoslavia, who denied that east European countries had been "forbidden" to join the Marshall plan.

Soviet and other eastern delegates led the applause which followed his speech.

Kardelj said the world's woes are due to the anti-Soviet policies of the western powers. Premier Tito of Yugoslavia and his lieutenants recently denounced by the Communist international information bureau (cominform) for departing from Moscow's Communist line.

As Kardelj spoke, western informants said Britain, the United States and France will send identical notes to the UN by 4 p.m. today, calling for Security Council action in the Berlin crisis. French sources said the notes would be sent "momentarily" to Secretary-General Trygve Lie.

A British spokesman said the western powers decided Tuesday not to call for urgent U.N. consideration of the east-west dispute. This decision was made for these reasons:

1. There is no actual fighting in progress in Berlin.

2. There is no desire to stampede or high-pressure the U.N.

On the basis of this decision, the Council is not likely to be summoned for the next three days. A British spokesman said Monday appears the likeliest day for the next Council meeting, especially as some time will be needed by the delegates to study the documentation accompanying the western complaints.

A French spokesman said the western powers will ask the security council to impose provisional measures to settle the Berlin dispute.

Kardelj supported the Soviet proposal for big-power reduction of armaments and armed forces by one-third and the prohibition of atomic weapons.

He attacked the U.N. special commission on the Balkans and said the United States was pursuing an "expansionist policy" in Greece, accompanied by "a rising wave of mass terror," which he said was inspired by American representatives there.

Soviet delegates Andrei Y. Vishinsky paid little attention to the short, stocky Yugoslav's speech, busying himself with a mass of papers. State Secretary Marshall listened attentively to a translation. Kardelj spoke in Russian.

The French spokesman said Britain, the United States and France will invoke article 40 of the U.N. charter, authorizing the Council to call upon contending parties to comply with provisional arrangements to resolve their disputes. Such a step was the truce the Council imposed on Palestine.

Prisoners Escape Russians

Berlin police said today about 25 Germans allegedly consigned to forced labor in Russian-operated uranium mines in Saxony made a daring escape Tuesday night.

The prisoners made their dash for freedom while the train in which they were riding was passing through the British sector of Berlin, police said.

Full details of the escape were not disclosed. A British spokesman said the Germans who fled now are in the custody of west Berlin police and are being interrogated.

German police sources, confirmed by British authorities, said 52 Germans were bound for the uranium mines aboard a train which halted Tuesday night near the zoological garden in the British sector. About half succeeded in breaking away and fleeing through the station.

There have been reports recently in western-licensed German newspapers that labor drafts for the uranium mines have been increased by the Russians. Anti-Communists also have claimed persons under political persecution, especially socialists, have been sent to the mines in increasing numbers.

Seize 26 Trucks

German police in the Western sectors of Berlin said meanwhile they have intensified a drive against Russian food and coal shipments by truck across the sector boundaries.

They said during one period they seized 26 Russian-licensed trucks loaded with supplies being transferred from the Soviet occupation zone through the American sector of Berlin to the Russian sector.

Several days ago, police added, they confiscated a "few more" such trucks.

Col. Frank Howley, United States military government of Berlin, described the action as routine.

Wherever the contents of the trucks did not tally with documents carried by the drivers, the trucks were unloaded and the contents confiscated, it was said.

Case Promises Labor Reforms

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (CP)—Garfield Case, Member of Parliament for Grey North told a press conference today that in making a bid for leadership of the Progressive Conservative party he will advocate monetary taxation and labor reforms.

"I won't say that I will not win, but I will say that it is not necessary for me to win," Mr. Case said without elaboration. He is one of four candidates for the leadership at the three-day convention opening here tomorrow.

"I will be perfectly satisfied with whatever support I can get."

He said that whatever support he does get will strengthen his "crusade."

"I have discovered there are a lot of little people in this country. This is the age of the common man. The comman man is on the march. I feel that I can represent the common man because I have worked with him all my life."

Mr. Case said he would aim at abolition of the personal income tax. He felt the affairs of government could be so conducted as to lessen the need for taxation. Interest-free money could be issued to stimulate construction of necessary institutions and development of resources.

"We are tied to a monetary system which has made slaves of our people."

Thieves Get $30,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 29—(AP).—Jewelry valued at $30,000 was stolen from the apartment of Mrs. Rose Movius Palmer, socially prominent in Chicago and Boston, she reported to police Tuesday. Mrs. Palmer, former wife of the late Potter Palmer, member of a wealthy Chicago family, said the burglary occurred Friday night while she was visiting friends near Land o' Lakes, Wis.

Traffic Offences Still Numerous

A large number of fines for traffic offenses were paid in Magistrate's Court today.

George S. James and Fred Hoar both of Peterborough, were fined a total of $6.50 each for not observing traffic signals.

H. Clarke Garbutt, RR 3, Lakefield, and A. Flagler, Western Ave., were each fined a total of $7.50 for speeding.

Charles Whibbs, Rubidge St., Bob Belsey, Clonsilla Ave., and Garnet Brown, George St., each paid $2 for riding two to a bicycle.

A. E. Stoneburg, Wellington St., Mrs. Florence E. Passmore, Dobbin Ave., John S. Smith, Simcoe St., Roy Fitzgerald, Sherbrooke Place, G. C. Thomas, Young St. and George S. Kingdon —all were fined $3 for not having their cars properly lighted.

B. L. Reddick, St. Catharines, also paid a $3 levy for illegal parking.

For making unlawful left turns, John C. Morrison, Markham St., Toronto, and Earl Armstrong who passed another vehicle in the face of oncoming traffic, were both fined a total of $7.50.

Robert Hart, Havelock, was ordered to pay $12.50 for careless driving in the village of Norwood.

THREE SMALL FIRES

The Fire Department received three calls on Tuesday to extinguish three smouldering fires, none of them serious. At 11:48 a.m., they were called to the residence of B. Clydesdale, 515 Parnell St., to put out a small blaze caused by a rubbish fire on the premises. At 11:19 p.m. they put out a grass fire at Armour Rd., and Maria St., and at 10:35 p.m another rubbish fire at the site of Louis Yeates new home on Gordon St. Hand pumps were the only units of equipment used on all three calls.

Report Prices Ahead In Light Trading

TORONTO, Sept. 29—(CP). — Prices were ahead in very light trading on the Stock Exchange here today. Industrials and base metals continued Tuesday's rally but at a slower pace. Golds showed a better tone on mixed gains and losses.

Papers led the mild recovery in the industrial groupings as most gains remained in fractional range. Utilities also brightened and refining oils edged ahead. Canadian Vickers Preferred sparked ahead for a two-point gain and Walker's and Seagram's strengthened in the liquor group. Steels were easier.

Base metals continued the brightest spot on the board as almost all stocks forged ahead. Noranda added 1⅜. International Nickel also rose fractionally and East Sullivan, New Calumet, Normetal and Sherritt advanced 1 to 12 cents.

Senior golds were quiet and a few juniors were up on small gains. San Antario, Chesterville, Delnite, Central Patricia and Malartic added while Elder, Upper Canada and Louvicourt weakened.

CLERKS DOUSE TRUCK FIRE

Peterborough firemen would be spared many a trip if the citizens were as well trained as the staff at Kingan's Hardware. Shortly before 12 noon a large transport truck belonging to Anthony's Fruit Market began to shoot flame from the engine. As soon as the cry "Fire" was raised, the Kingan staff, still mindful of the recent Kresge blaze, dashed out into the laneway beside the store where the truck was burning. Armed with fire extinguishers they speedily put out the flames. As one of the local fire inspectors was nearby and examined the engine to make sure not a spark remained it was not even necessary to call for a fire truck.

At your grocer's in convenient size packages . . . also in improved FILTER tea bags.

A Fateful Convention

Tomorrow morning the Progressive Conservative party will open a convention which may mark a great turning-point in its career—or which may prove to be its swan-song. Adherents of the C.C.F. will hope, quite understandably, that the Conservatives will quickly eliminate themselves from the national political field by bad judgement; in that case the C.C.F. would quickly take its place as the second most influential political group in the country. Most Liberals, however, will wish the Conservative convention good luck, for Liberalism is a middle-of-the-road political faith which feels somewhat ill at ease when it is threatened from the Left, rather than from the Right. The Liberals, in short, would rather be lambasting the Tories than disapproving of the shenanigans of the socialists.

* * *

It is clear, however, that this is the Conservative party's last chance. In the past 27 years it has held power for five years only. And in that time it has been led by Arthur Meighen, R. B. Bennett, R. J. Manion, Arthur Meighen again, and John Bracken; in addition it has had three temporary House leaders—Hugh Guthrie and R. B. Hanson (both deceased) and Gordon Graydon. This is a more varied leadership than any party can withstand, and though great gifts were possessed by many of these men there was not one of them who was capable of commanding national support or of making Conservatism attractive to those voters who are open to persuasion.

* * *

The great hope of the Conservative party at present is Mr. George Drew. Some Liberal papers declare that Mr. Drew could never command national support because, as premier of Ontario, he has shown himself provincial in his interests. We feel that this is unfair. The Conservative press, on the other hand, sometimes expresses itself as though Mr. Drew could fill the office of Prime Minister tomorrow, without bothering to change his mind on a single point. This too, is nonsense. Mr. Drew is the only thoroughly effective leader in the Conservative camp, but if he were to become leader of a national party he would have to change his thinking on virtually every topic that could confront a politician. We think that Mr. Drew could do it. The question is, however, would his supporters permit him to do so? For if the Conservative party is to make a national comeback, it must rid itself of the embittered old men (and some of the embittered young ones) who have wrenched its course so violently awry during the past twenty years.

Should Canada Share The Berlin Air Lift?

During the last month various newspapers have been harrassing their readers and nagging the Government by cries of "What is Canada doing to help Britain in the air lift over the Russian blockade?" They want Canada to send planes to British bases and to have a Canadian flight over Berlin. They say that if Canada is sincere in its protestations of support for a unified western policy against Russia, she should take part in the air lift.

Until this week Berlin has been a four-power concern. Canadian diplomats have taken no part in the steps that have led to the present situation. We have been only worried spectators on the side-lines. We have therefore no right to shove the noses of our planes into the business until we are asked to do so. We have no reason to take part until it becomes clear that the policy of the United States, Britain and France regarding Berlin is a policy which is part of or allied with the Canadian policy of Atlantic Union. If the Berlin problem becomes officially wider than a four-power matter (for instance, if it is taken up by U.N.); if the defence concept of Atlantic Union includes the defence of Berlin, and if Canada is invited by Britain and the U.S. to participate, then the Canadian Government should consider sending Canadian planes and pilots to Berlin. Not before.

Do You Pick Your Teeth With A Pin?

It is really rather astonishing that this should be Dental Health Week, for it is only 100 years since dentists were despised fellows, who could be relied upon to hurt desperately, and who might easily convey an infection into the mouth which would kill a patient. And yet today we look upon dentists as unusually clean men, we know that they will not cause us pain unless it cannot be helped, and we go to their offices (which they no longer call "parlours") every six months without being urged. We even set aside a special week in which we pay special attention to dentists and their opinions. Surely no profession has advanced itself so markedly during the past hundred years?

Because the teeth are so plainly to be seen they have been objects of attention from the most ancient times. In a book called The Rules of Christian Manners and Civility, published in 1695, we find this advice: "It is necessary to clean the teeth frequently, more especially after meals, but not on any account with a pin, or the point of a penknife, and it must never be done at table". And yet the habit of picking the teeth with pins and knives persisted until quite recently; many of us can recall those disgusting little gold toothpicks which our grandfathers wore upon their watch-chains. And there were even primitive false teeth; George Washington's teeth, uppers and lowers attached by a strong iron C-spring, may still be seen at Mount Vernon. Much of the severity which is seen in portraits of the Father of His Country was doubtless attributable to the effort involved in keeping those teeth closed.

Attention to the outside of the teeth, however, is not of first importance, and the great lesson of Dental Health Week is that good teeth are the result of good feeding; good teeth, in fact, must be provided for even before a child is born, by careful pre-natal feeding of the mother. And baby teeth, which were once thought to be of no account, are now preserved as carefully as second, or permanent teeth. The dentists of today can work wonders, but they prefer not to do so; they would rather educate the public so completely in the matter of dental care that they themselves will be thrown out of employment. That is the purpose of Dental Health Week.

Not Too Much "Mike"

Since Mr. L. B. Pearson became Secretary of State for External Affairs a discussion has blown up in a few newspapers about the propriety of calling him "Mike" in print. This is what the Ottawa Citizen has to say on the subject:

> But a simple, homely nickname like "Mike" can be of real value to a politician. It is, in this case, often a term of affection and admiration. It is a tribute, too, to the genial, unassuming qualities of the man who bears it. In the rarer strata of very high office men are often a bit isolated and lonely, and the friendly use of a tacked-on name that comes down from the old college days can help to humanize an otherwise dry and unsociable day.

We are inclined to agree that this is true, but we are quite certain also that it is not the whole truth. The majority of people who call Mr. Pearson "Mike" do not know him, and would not dare to do so to his face. And we have in Canada a bad habit of belittling our notable men—"cutting them down to size" we call it, though often this means nothing more than the attempt of a small man to cut down a big man to his size.

Frankly, we do not think that nicknames matter one way or the other. Macdonald, Laurier and Mackenzie King have all been great names in Canada without bearing affectionate diminutives. There are people who have declared that there is something "democratic" about calling Mr. Pearson "Mike," though we have never understood why meaningless familiarity advanced the cause of democracy.

By all means let us call Mr. Pearson "Mike"—just so long as we never forget that there are times when the only proper name for him is the Hon. L. B. Pearson.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A twelve years old girl has just returned to Ohio from Africa, where she killed 2 elephants, 7 buffalo, 5 leopards, 3 hippos, a crocodile and a lion. We're not a bit surprised. A friend of ours has seven years old twin boys who could take on all that big game bare-handed in a single afternoon.

A loud hurrah for T. D'Arcy Finn who, over the initials T.D.F., writes a column of jocose comments every day in the Ottawa Citizen. He has completed fifty years' service on that paper, and we hope that he will be on the job for another fifty. Any man who can be as funny as Finn for fifty years deserves a medal.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Fanfare For French

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

A QUEBEC judge has come out against the use of English terms by French-speaking Canadians. The occasion was a motor-accident in which reference was made to "le steering knuckle arm". In general, his Honour is undoubtedly right; casual cross-breeding of languages does tend to produce ugly offspring. A steering knuckle arm is a strange enough anatomical enigma to begin with, but when capped with a "le" it's a monster. But on the whole the two languages have got along together quite well, with about as much mutual forbearance and mutual jealousy as their speakers.

* * *

IN every community there will always be the extreme enthusiasts—I might as well borrow the franker French word, chauvinists—of language: those who perpetually see their native tongue threatened with corruption through the influences of its neighbours. Dr. Johnson in the eighteenth century was full of foreboding that the prevalent mode for Gallicisms would reduce Englishmen to "babbling a dialect of France." "We have preserved our constitution" he observed characteristically, "let us make some struggle for our language." Equally aggressive—this time against the English language—was William Gibson, later Lord Ashbourne, who insisted on addressing the House of Lords in Irish, and, as an ardent Celt, refused to converse in anything but Irish or French. What a reception he would have had in some parts of Quebec!

* * *

CERTAINLY French has unique excellencies, and has won a special place in many hearts as a kind of second mother tongue. In fact no educated North American who finds his way to Paris is ever quite the same person again. His real education has begun. Perhaps the most touching tribute ever paid to the French language came from an American, the ill-starred explorer Ledyard, who, on his way to Catharine of Russia to ask for permission to trade in the Kamchatkas, wrote: "I find the little French I have of infinite service to me. I could not do without it. I believe wolves, rocks, woods and snow understand it, for I have addressed them all in it, and they have all been very complaisant to me".

* * *

THE language has lost nothing of its subtlety and strength in crossing the Atlantic, and there is a fine passage in Louis Hemon's "Maria Chapdelaine" which illustrates both. (I hope that any reader who does not know French will set about getting some, if only for this one book. I cannot imagine any really satisfactory translation of the following piece.) "Les paysans ne meurent point des chagrins d'amour, ni n'en restent marques tragiquement toute la vie. Ils sont trop pres de la nature, et percoivent trop clairement la hierachie essentielle des choses qui comptent. C'est pour cela peut-etre qu'ils evitent le plus souvent les grands mots pathetiques, qu'ils disent volontiers "amitie" pour "amour", "ennui" pour "douleur", afin de conserver aux peines et aux joies du coeur leur taille relative dans l'existence a cote de ces autres soucis d'une plus sincere importance qui convernent le travail journalier, la moisson, l'aisance future."

* * *

BUT adoration of French can go too far, especially when it is combined with an attack on other languages. Not many will approve of Zola's action when giving a toast at a dinner in honour of Oscar Wilde. "Malheureusement" he concluded, "M. Wilde sera oblige de repondre dans sa langue barbare." Wilde was not slow with an appropriate rebuke. "Je suis Irlandais de naissance, Anglais de race, et comme le dit M. Zola, condamne a parler la langue de Shakespeare." "The language of Shakespeare"—enough to set off all our English chauvinists! But enough of chauvinism; let us settle for an attitude of mutual respect. The two languages are both of noble lineage and indeed—like most royalty—vaguely related. They are both talented, beautiful and rich. Why be so exact in keeping them apart? In any case, the thing is impossible: I pick up a copy of a French-Canadian newspaper and read its parliamentary report: le bill concernant l'energie electrique ....c'est le leader du gouvernment qui—le premier tramway a ete....and so on almost indefinitely. Sometimes the two languages get together and have a laugh at us mortals, as when the English word "Brigadier" was translated in a Diplomatic List issued by External Affairs by the same French word, thus demoting three of these high-ranking gentlemen, two of them from Latin American republics, to corporals. Even more complicated are the problems raised by a name like Rainy Lake and River. Local sportsmen insist that the name is no indication of the weather to be found there. They say that it derives from the French "la reine des rivieres"—the Queen of rivers. On the other hand early maps show the name "Lac la Pluie." Pay your money and take your choice.

* * *

AT the farthest extreme from Quebec judge comes the noted Montreal poet A. M. Klein, with the "bilingual language" (as he calls it) which he uses in his poem "Parade of St. Jean Baptiste". "There is no word in it," he explains, "with the exception of articles and auxiliary words, which has not a relationship to a synonymous word in the French." Here are the opening lines:

Bannered, and ranked, and at its stances fixed the enfilade with vestment colours the air.
Roll now the batons of the tambours round ruminant with commencement, and now sound annunciative, ultramontane, the fanfares of jubilee!

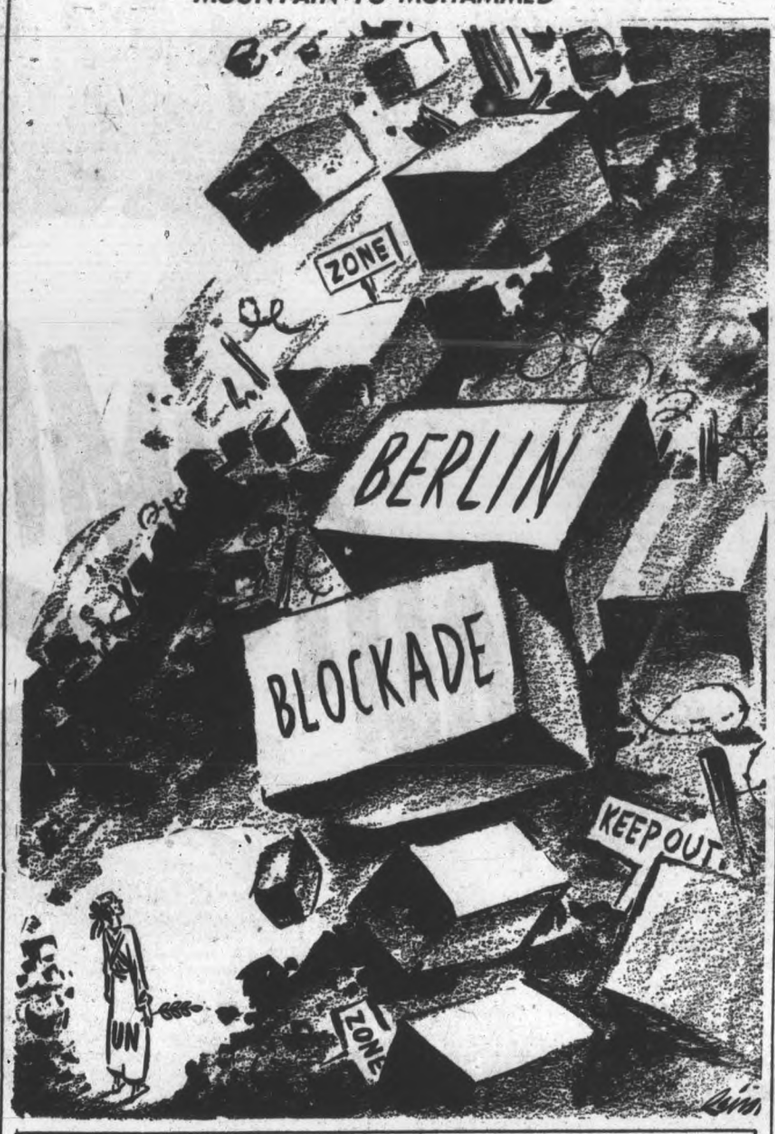
What do you say to that, Votre Honneur?

IN A QUANDARY

"Why are you crying?"
"Father called mother a waddling goose."
"Well?"
"Mother called father a stupid ass."
"But why are you crying?"
"Well, what am I?"

MOUNTAIN TO MOHAMMED



Ottawa And The 'World of Mirth'

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

AN article in Life magazine about Frank Bergen's "World of Mirth"—which operates the midway at the Central Canada Exhibition—has this to say:

"The height of the season (for World of Mirth) is the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa, the largest fair they hit in North America. This year the World of Mirth played to more than 75,000 people a day there and grossed around $300,000 for the week. Rides and shows earn half the gross; concessions take in the other half."

These figures are exaggerations that need to be corrected.

The average daily attendance at this year's Ottawa fair was about 58,000. Many visitors would be counted at any number of World of Mirth shows and concessions—but many other visitors never went near the midway.

Actually the gross revenue of the midway this year was not $300,000 but less than one-half that sum—it was about $120,000. Last year's Ottawa fair had a midway gross of some $150,000, which set an all-time record for Ottawa. This year the prices were cut, so that with a larger daily attendance the gross receipts were down by $30,000.

Of that $120,000 the Central Canada Exhibition Association received something like $40,000 through its agreed percentage. And from its share of some $80,000 the World of Mirth has to meet a host of obligations before it gets down to payroll and profits—a large part of that money is left in Ottawa and in Canada. The special train that carries the shows is an expensive item. Supplies have to be bought, and local labour hired. There are provincial and federal taxes to be met, liability insurance to be carried, a heavy bill for electric power to be met. These and other items come from the World of Mirth share of gross revenues.

Some readers of Life's article may have been misled into the impression that the World of Mirth took $300,000 out of Ottawa that August week of the fair. It is to correct any such belief that we give these figures.

Avaunt, Ye Spectres!

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

THE three London veterans who ply the trade of ghost-chaser have not only set a new fashion in jobs but will break one of the dearest and most immemorial of English traditions. Whether in exorcising ghosts from haunted houses, they will not be doing more harm than good only future generations can judge. But that they are successfully earning their livelihood in such a curious manner is proof enough that at least to this generation of Englishmen ghosts are not as cherished a possession as they were to their forefathers.

The three men spend their nights in haunted houses, graveyards and ruined abbeys to prove to their clients that the ghosts in question are only imaginary. At one time such ghosts were the pride of the village and district in which they abided. They were the subject of novels, plays, and—when their activities were sufficiently sensational—letters to the Times. No one would dream of excoriating them, any more than one would dream of excoriating a live relative. They were definitely part of the family.

But times seem to have changed in England, and this is a practical age. The Chancellor of the Exchequer drinks carrot juice, statistics are the chief course at every breakfast table, and William Blake's "dark satanic mills" cover the country from Land's End to John O'Groats.

In a time such as this it should be relatively easy to persuade the ghosts they are no longer wanted. Most of them probably do not wish to remain in any case. And it is doubtful whether any other country will want them—with the exception, perhaps, of Ireland.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then said Jesus unto his disciples. If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. (Matt. 16: 24.)

And after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart, and was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him. Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid. And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only. And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things. (Matt. 17: 1-11.)

Letter To The Editor

THE REGIMENT THANKS THE CITY

Sir: I would like to take this opportunity, on behalf of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA, which I have the honour to command, of thanking the citizens of Peterborough for their support during the recent Army Week.

We were highly gratified by the turnout and interest of the citizens at large on the three evenings of the week, and for the support of His Worship Mayor Ovens and other interested business men of the city.

Recruiting, as a result of this support, has been at a high level and we are hoping that registrations will continue, as the weeks go by, in this important phase of citizenship.

Our thanks, as well, goes out to your valued newspaper, in both its editorial and advertising columns, and to radio station CHEX, of Peterborough, for your unfailing support.

I am sure that I speak for the entire regiment when I say that the 50th HAA Regiment RCA will always be prepared to assist this city in any way it can. I am,

Yours very truly,
M. E. CLARKE, LT.-COL.,
Commanding,
50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment,
(The Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA.

Merchants Close Wednesday To Save Power

COBOURG, Sept. 29 (ENS). — Cobourg retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce voted on Tuesday night unanimously to remain closed all day Wednesday, commencing next week, in order to assist the power situation. The merchants would be effected on Wednesday by the power shut-off in that area from 9.00 to 10.30 in the morning and from 2.00 until 3.30 in the afternoon.

Chairman J. Parsons said the stores would ordinarily be closed in the afternoon and with the hour and one-half shut-off in the morning they might as well stay closed all day and save still more power.

Manager Bill Woods of the utilities office announced that industry was co-operating and each had elected the day in the week in which it would shut off during the morning and afternoon periods and were adjusting their work weeks to take care of it. The power consumption records showed that the town was going considerably over the quota and if it could not be reached, hydro would step in and pull the switches for 15 minutes in each hour. Some factories did work in which process could not be interrupted without serious financial loss.

Mayor Joe Smith said that the town used 40,000 kwh per day and of this, industry used only 13,000 kwh. With a quota of 32,500, a daily saving of 7,500 would have to be relaized, and he said he would like the saving made by domestic and commercial users instead of soaking the factories.

Saunders Raps Needless Light

TORONTO, Sept. 29 —(CP)— With time running out, Ontario struggled today to cut power consumption.

It had a lot of cutting to do to get within the quotas the provincial Hydro -Electric Power Commission said must be met by the end of the week. The commission said it would shut off supplies periodically to municipalities which exceeded their quota.

Commission Chairman Robert H. Saunders told the province in a radio broadcast Tuesday night huge amounts of electrical current were wasted by careless use of lights and domestic appliances.

Rural western Ontario will be patrolled by 100 "vigilantes" to check consumption and persuade farmers to do more work at nights or on week-ends. Some London street lights will be dimmed and in Windsor alternate street lights will be turned off.

Each industry in Brampton agreed to cut consumption one hour daily and two of them will shut down Monday instead of Saturday.

Mr. Saunders said that industries in Kitchener and Galt had split into three groups and will stagger operations to reduce power loads.

Thanksgiving Service

HASTINGS, Sept. 29 (ENS). — With the church attractively decorated with seasonable flowers, fruits, vegetables, leaves and bread, St. George's Anglican church held a special thanksgiving service on Sunday morning. Baskets were set at the back of the church to receive donations of food or money for the overseas parcels. Rev. Canon C. R. Spencer read two letters of thanks for previous boxes sent overseas. The service was made up of special Thanksgiving prayers and hymns.

Dark-Haired Young Beauty Elizabeth Taylor, Only 16

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29 (AP). —"In two or three years," said Wallace Beery, "that little gal is going to be the biggest star in the movies.

"If MGM is smart, it'll pay her what she's worth," continued the usually unenthusiastic Beery. "She is really exotic. They call a lot of these old babes exotic, but this gal really fits the word. By the way, what's her name?"

I supplied it—Elizabeth Taylor. Beery is not sharp at remembering names, even with those (such as Liz) with whom he has appeared in films. But an old show business eye like his couldn't mistake the talent of the dark-haired young beauty.

I deserted Beery and hastened to a stage where the actress was testing for her role in "Conspirators," in which she'll play Robert Taylor's wife.

In case you haven't seen the gal since she played the kid in "National Velvet," you'll be interested to know that she was testing in a dress originally worn by Marie McDonald. "The Body, Jr." you might call her. In fact, Marie's dress proved too large in the waist, but not big enough elsewhere.

Careful styling aided by her natural attributes made Elizabeth seem more mature than her 16 years. In the picture she plays a 17-year-old to Bob Taylor's 35.

Elizabeth's favorite subject these days is not her film career, but Glenn Davis, the former grid star. The young actress proudly displays Glenn's gold football, which hasn't been removed from around her neck since he put it there.

Right now there's only one thing separating them — about 6,500 miles of Pacific Ocean. He's in Korea on a three-year army stretch.

United Church To Consider Big Expansion Program

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29 (CP)— The 13th General Council to-day will survey the whole field of the United Church's undertakings and will consider a report proposing expansion.

Dr. Sidney Smith of Toronto, president of the University of Toronto, headed an across-Canada committee which will bring down recommendations urging the United Church to:

1—Secure and train an adequate supply of recruits for full-time service to the church.

2—Accept responsibility for religious training in its secondary schools and colleges.

3—Grant definite and adequate aid to its student ministers.

4—Review its whole theological training school program and attempt to economize in their operation while continuing to produce the largest number of adequately-trained ministers.

5—Set an objective of $3,000,000 for the funds from which its church and missionary activities are maintained.

6—Establish a full-time Public Relations Department.

Too Many Colleges.

F. R. Murgatroyd, a Hamilton layman, told the Council the operation of eight theological colleges across Canada, five of which now only serve 155 students in all their faculties, was "unnecessary and wasteful."

He said the church demands of its individual clergymen that they be "a good man 'n the pulpit, a family consultant, a business man, and a psychologist — Grade A in all respects."

During a report on overseas relief Rev. J. R. Mutchmor of Toronto told the Council Tuesday night that "Canada leads all nations in her per capita aid to the world's needy."

Summing up the United Church's contributions he said the following efforts have been completed since war's end:

$56,924 for bombed British churches, $148,928 for the Aid to European Churches Fund, $213,384 for relief to China and India, $40,320 for aid to distressed foreign mission fields and $15,000 for the pastors and peoples of Europe.

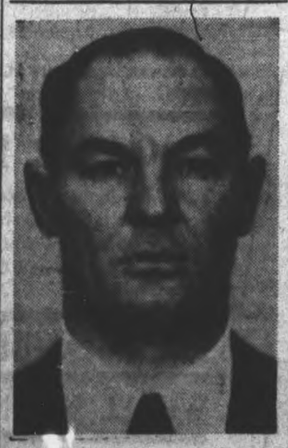
Rev. Frank Fidler of Ottawa was appointed to the full-time associate secretaryship of the United Church's Board of Christian Education, and will commence in the new department January 1, 1949.

90 Teachers Visit Ottawa

HASTINGS, Sept. 29.—(ENS). —More than 90 teachers travelled by a chartered bus on Thursday to attend the teachers' convention at Ottawa. Friday morning they inspected the schools, with each teacher visiting their respective grades.

After lunch they met for a business discussion, where they decided to hold a field day in Brighton on October 20, where the children holding cups will take part. Following the business discussion they visited the art building and went on conducted tours through the mint and parliament buildings. They returned Friday evening.

Teachers attending from Hastings included: Mr. Earl McKeever, Mrs. M. Brown, Miss N. Highland, Miss Catherine Convey and Mrs. A. Warrington.



LOUIS DESROSIERS, 36 who is sought by police as an important witness in the slaying of two Montreal policemen by gunmen attempting to rob the Banque Canadienne Nationale branch in Longue Pointe. Police say Desrosiers was seen with Donald Perreault, one of the gunmen responsible for the shooting affray, at Varenne, Que., just three hours after the policemen were killed.

Evening Auxiliary Has Pot Luck Supper

HASTINGS, Sept. 29 (ENS). — The Evening Auxiliary of Trinity United Church held their September meeting as a pot luck supper at the home of Miss Jessie Lamb. There were 14 members present.

The treasurer reported a balance of 97 cents in the birthday box, and a balance of $4.08 with $45 being sent for the allocation. A letter of appreciation for an overseas parcel was made. Mrs. Burnham and Mrs. E. Hess will receive the donations and send a overseas parcel every second month.

The October meeting is to be held at Mrs. Metcalfe's with Mrs. C. Baker, Mrs. F. Crate and Mrs. P. Dodd in charge of the program.

Mrs. M. Baker, Mrs. Huycke, Mrs. H. Fairman and Mrs. Burnham took charge of the September worship and study book. It was suggested Mrs. J. Veals be asked to act as reporter for the study book for the year. Mrs. G. Thompson moved a vote of thanks to Miss Lamb.

Let $208,109 In Sewage Plant Contracts

COBOURG, Sept. 29.—(ENS). —Cobourg town council, at a special meeting, authorized the letting of $208,109 in contracts to cover part of the cost of the new sewage disposal plant. The bid of a Toronto firm, one of three tenders, for $160,144.00 to cover the cost of tanks, buildings, pipe lines, etc., was accepted. Work will start early next month.

In addition, council approved expenditure of $47,965 for equipment for the disposal plant. In designing the plant, the future expansion of the town was taken into consideration and the disposal plant will look after a town of 10,000 people, several thousand more than the present population.

It was pointed out that the plant had to be built, on order of the Dept of Health for Ontario, in order to eliminate the present dumping of sewage into the harbor. Part of the cost will be covered by increased water rates.

Britain, Yugoslavia Near Trade Agreement

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(AP).— An informed British source said today Britain and Yugoslavia are within sight of a trade agreement for 1949.

The agreement, if reached, would not become effective until the two countries settle their long-standing dispute over Britain's £12,000,000 ($48,000,000) claim for compensation for British properties confiscated by Yugoslavia after the war.

The last time Yugoslavia and Britain talked over the compensation demands, the discussions broke down with Yugoslavia's highest offer at £2,000,000.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Showing that is was no fluke when he won the COBL batting crown the past season, Howie Dalton led the Petes in playoff hitting with a .438 mark. Seven games, four for the loop title against Kingston, and three in OBA senior "A" semi-finals with Staffords. Nice going in any league. Tommy Foley also was cuffing the cabbage hard to rack up a .409 average. Bob Crowe and Al Menzies tied with .367 each—and these younger chaps should see a lot of senior ball yet—while Whitehill, Starr and Edger made the charmed circle of .300 or better, too. The rest weren't so hot in the clutches. And that winds it up baseballically as far as the 1948 Petes are concerned.

* * * * * *

Yes, he still walks alone. We mean the immortal Ty Cobb, who burned up the American League for 23 years ere retiring in 1928 at the age of 42. A few days ago, Stan Musial of the Cards collected five straight hits for the fourth time this season to break a record. Whose record? Ty Cobb's, of course. He left 90 big league records when he quit and they'll be years breaking them all—if ever. They'll never crack that hitting mark of his, we imagine. It was only .367 for a lifetime average, not to mention leading the league 12 times and stealing as many as 90 bases in one season. We saw him play his last three years and he could still place 'em, though his legs let him down.

* * * * * *

The Peach Was Sour

However, the Georgia Peach was never popular. Not like Babe Ruth and other stars. He played too much for keeps. Nobody fried to block Cobb on the base-paths—they feared his flashing spikes. No pitcher tried to dust him off twice in a row—he'd drag a bunt and tear into the fielding hurler and knock him halfway to first. A tough customer, he went about six foot and close to 200 pounds, though you wouldn't think so the way he could run when in his prime. He was a terrific diamond fighter and later a fiery pilot who rode his own players—the Detroit Tigers—as hard as he rode the opposition, the umpires, the fans and the newspapers. No, he wasn't too popular, despite his unquestioned ability.

* * * * * *

And today at 62, Tyrus lives quietly in an exclusive spot near San Francisco, surrounded by servants and memories. He made a million dollars and now spends his time golfing, hunting and hiking. He is getting bald and wears glasses, but still enjoys good health. His five children are grown up and living elsewhere. He and his wife separated some 10 years ago. He has visitors, of course, and they find him a mellowed man from the firebrand who used to scream: "Luck? The devil it is—I'll steal home just to show you!" And darned if he wouldn't! Yeah, the years roll on, and Ty has softened up. But he still walks alone.

They Had The Legs

On the narrow floor in Huntsville last night, the senior "B" lacrossers suffered a 12-9 setback to square their OLA playoffs at a game each. Next one is here Friday, and the Petes have a stiff drill planned for 5.15 p.m. tomorrow. The speedy young homesters got an early jump on the Creighton crew and outran them at the finish of a keen contest. Petes had a margin in the second and third quarters but didn't just have the legs the final few minutes. Fairly clean affair though quite a bit of high-sticking and slashing, with Foote and Warren both receiving facial cuts. Refereeing not the best. Foote and Dootch Vitarelli were probably the pick of the Petes, while Ralph Gordon and Snowden starred for Huntsville. It is getting to be quite a series, and the locals had better take that one Friday.

* * * * * *

Walt Murphy gives us the dope on the minor OLA setup concerning Peterborough squads in playdowns. Our midgets play St. John's of Toronto the return game tonight in Mimico. And the local juves open a two-game series with Long Branch tonight, also in Mimico, return one being at 8.45 p.m. Saturday in Miller Bowl. Bantam Cubs have a sudden-deather Friday eve with St. Kitts in Mimico. And our peewees, who drill at six tonight, are in a playoff tourney at New Toronto on Saturday, meeting Fergus first. Some of these series are likely to be provincial semi-finals, but nothing definite has been said in that respect. Coaches of our minors are: Dootch Vitarelli for the juves, Mick Magee and Rowan Chute for the midgets, Red Creighton for the bantams, and Don Smith for the peewees.

Girl Trundlers Go

Girls' Bowling League started off another big season at Duffus', and Towne Togs picked up most of the marbles in the opener. Rolled high three of 3198 and single of 1199. Also, Aggie Anderson of this team took top three individual honors with a 717 effort and a fine leading single. M. Rogers of Arcos won on the blind score. Several dabs of whitewash applied on opening night, as well as a couple of close competitions. Should be some nifty trundling in this lasses' loop through the cold weather, and we imagine Togs will run into lots of stiff opposition during the campaign.

London Ties Sandlot Baseball World Series

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 29 (CP)—London Majors swamped Fort Wayne (Ind.) General Electrics 13-1 here Tuesday night to tie the Sandlot Baseball World Series at three games apiece. Last and deciding game of the best-of-seven game series will be played tonight.

Plan Annual Series

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 29—(CP)—The North American sandlot baseball series will become an annual event.

A joint announcement today by President Raymond Dumont of the National Baseball Congress and Lloyd Douglas, director of the National Baseball Congress of Canada, said the series would alternately be held in Canada and the United States.

JOY REIGNED IN Cleveland, Ohio, after the Indians beat the Boston Red Sox recently. Lou Boudreau, playing manager, centre, is congratulating Pitcher Bob Feller, left, who got credit for the victory, and Ken Keltner, right, whose two-run homer in the first inning helped put the game on ice. Feller was his old self on the mound, and the Cleveland fans cheered him accordingly. Since then, he has pitched another masterful game, beating the Detroit Tigers 4-1, and setting them down on five hits. He gave up no walks. Cleveland is on top in the A.L. flag race at this writing.

Yanks Bow 5-2 To A's Scheib

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29 — New York Yankees, champions of the baseball world only a year ago, had little fight left today.

To a man, Bucky Harris' warriors seemed to feel that they blew the big one Tuesday when they bowed to Carl Scheib, 21-year-old right-hander of Philadelphia Athletics, 5-2.

Going into that one, the champions felt that they still had a chance. Coming out of it, they were numbed. As they prepared to face Connie Mack's warriors in the second of the three-game series today, the Yanks were quiet, as if they had been brushed by a ghost.

"There isn't much to say," Manager Harris intoned solemnly. "We got a couple of bad breaks yesterday. However, there are four more games to go.

Huntsville Evens Up Finals In 12-9 Win Over Petes

Huntsville pulled out a 12-9 victory at home over the Petes last night to sew up their best-of-seven OLA Senior "B" playoff finals at a game each. They clash again here Friday. A big crowd saw the young Huntsville crew break fast to rack up an early lead, and then outrun the visitors toward the end to grab the decision. In between, the Petes drove hard and came back to hold an 8-6 lead going into the final quarter. It was a speedy scrap on the small floor before a big crowd, fairly clean but marked with a lot of high-sticking and slashing. The refereeing was below par.

R. Gordon and Snowden paced the Huntsville attack in a fine effort, and the whole team showed plenty. The Petes battled back after a slow start, with Foote, D. Vitarelli, R. Breakspear, Magee and Chute going best. Foote was cut twice in the face and Warren once. Two tallies by Huntsville in the final few minutes really clinched matters in a hot tussle.

The teams:

Petes — Goal, Hill; defence, Chute and Magee; centre, Creighton; wings, Foote and R. Breakspear; rover, J. Breakspear; alternates, Warren, Horton, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Gordon, Smith and Dundas.

Huntsville—Goal, Tunney; defence, Snowden and Gordon; centre, V. Higgs; wings, Watt and MacDonald; rover, Krapek; alternates, Jennings, C. Higgs, Payne, Millest, Kay and Scriver.

Referees — R. White and E. Walsh.

Joe DiMaggio of New York Yankees was crowned unofficial batting leader of the American League for the second successive season, eight years ago to-day. He ended up with a .350 mark, 30 points below his winning percentage of the previous year.

Huge Matmen Mix It On Pro Card

BILLY STACK

To-night may be the night when the Masked Marvel meets his Waterloo in the Brock Arena. The Mask wrestles that enormous grappler from Poland, Wladyslaw Talun and it is expected there may be quite an explosion when those two behemoths collide. If the Masked Marvel loses he must remove his face-hiding bonnet and that ruling holds good even if he only loses by disqualification. Bobby Becker the smart California grappler tackles Bill Stack in the first bout and Dr. Ed Meske meets the Hindu Nanjo Singh in the semi-final. The first match starts at eight forty-five and a rather large evening for the fans seems due.

Dalton Tops Hitters In Playoffs

Proving his consistency as a potent clouter, Howie Dalton — who topped the COBL hitters throughout the schedule—led the Petes' batters in seven playoff games with a .438 mark. He was followed by Tommy Foley, who bashed the ball for a .409 average and then Bob Crowe and Al Menzies, who each tied with .367. The Petes played four final frays with Kingston to win the COBL title and then bowed out to Staffords in three straight in OBA Senior A semi-finals. Following are the playoff averages:

If Cleveland Wins Pennant Will Be First In 28 Years

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Indians may be a vanishing race but you couldn't tell it to the baseball world today.

Led by Manager Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland war party appears a cinch to clash with another species—Boston Braves—for the 1948 world-series wampum.

Boudreau's tribe enjoys a two-game lead over the runner-up Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the American League's pennant fight, with all contenders having only four games left to play.

The Indians gained this almost insurmountable lead on Tuesday night by massacring Chicago White Sox 11-0 after the Red Sox and Yanks were ambushed in the afternoon, 4-2 and 5-2 respectively, by Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics.

The Indians can nail down their first flag since 1920 by winning three of their remaining four games. Should they divide the four games, the Red Sox or Yanks, by winning all of their four, could only tie the Indians for the pennant. The fact that two of the runner-ups remaining games are against each other lessens the possibility of one of them sweeping all four.

Best performance

Lefty Gene Bearden turned in one of the best performances of his career in blanking the White Sox. The rookie held Chicago to four scattered singles, fanned five and walked two in hanging up his 18th victory against seven defeats.

The Indians supported Bearden's classy job with a 13-hit attack that included hombers by Dale Mitchell and Allie Clark. Mitchell opened the game with a homer off southpaw Bill Wight and the Indians were never headed.

Rae Scarborough and Carl Scheib were the boys who put a crimp into the flag hopes of the Red Sox and Yankees.

Scarborough chilled the Sox on six hits in picking up his 14th victory for the seventh-place Senators. The Senators hammered starter—and loser—Joe Dobson for four runs in the second inning.

Scheib had a more difficult time stopping the Yanks. He allowed 11 hits but three double plays got him out of holes. Scheib shut out the Yanks until the ninth when a single, walk and pinch-hitter Joe Collins' two-run double had him on the ropes. However, Scheib settled down and retired the next two batters.

The A's scored a run in the first inning and routed starter Vic Raschi with three more in the third on two singles, a double and triple. Raschi, seeking his 20th victory, previously had beaten the A's eight times without suffering a loss.

In the only other game in the American League, St. Louis Browns clipped Detroit Tigers 5-3 on rookie Bank Arft's two-run eight-inning homer.

RETURNS TO TIGERS' LINEUP

Quarterback Frank Filchock will be back in Hamilton Tigers' line-up for the Ontario Rugby Football Union game with Windsor Rockets Saturday. An arm injury kept him out of action recently. George Curtis, formerly with University of Western Ontario Mustangs, also will be helping with quarterback chores.

Remember When . . .

By The Canadian Press.

Andre Routis, game little French featherweight, stripped Tony Canzoneri of his world championship 20 years ago today at New York. Badly battered in the opening rounds, Routis staged a whirlwind comeback to take the 15-round decision.

Indians Cocky Of Flag Chances

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29 (AP)—"If we lose the pennant now we'll have no one to blame but ourselves," Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland Indians said today.

That just about sums up the American-league baseball race. Two up and only four games to go, the Indians can win the flag without any outside assistance, although further help from Philadelphia and Washington would be most welcome.

Two triumphs would insure the Tribe at least a tie. Three victories puts the Indians into the world series no matter how Boston and New York fare.

"Nothing short of a major catastrophe can stop us now," Lou added. "We have four games to go against clubs that we've beaten consistently.

"The boys are hitting. The morale is high. There is no sign of jitters. Our pitching is in great shape. Bob Feller once again is the pitcher of old. Gene Bearden at this moment is the best left-hander in the league. Bob Lemon, our big winner, is rarin' to go."

WINS INTERMEDIATE RACE

Maple Recreation Association Tuesday night defeated Hespeler 11-4 at Maple to win the Ontario Lacrosse Association intermediate B championship in three straight games. Peter Rumble in the Maple goal held Hespeler scoreless until midway in the third quarter.

For the first time in our history, the Kinsmen and Rotary clubs of Peterborough are pooling their efforts on a community project. We feel that a statement would be in order.
The bringing to Peterborough of Paul Whiteman and his musical aggregation is such a vast undertaking, requiring so much time, work and money, it was decided to join forces to make this a complete success. Each and every member of both clubs, Rotary and Kinsmen are working together to see that every seat is sold for this outstanding musical event.
This message is addressed to you, the people of Peterborough and it will be to you that tickets are sold. We, as presidents of these two service organizations, appreciate the support you have given our clubs in the past and sincerely hope that you will make this night a complete "sell-out".

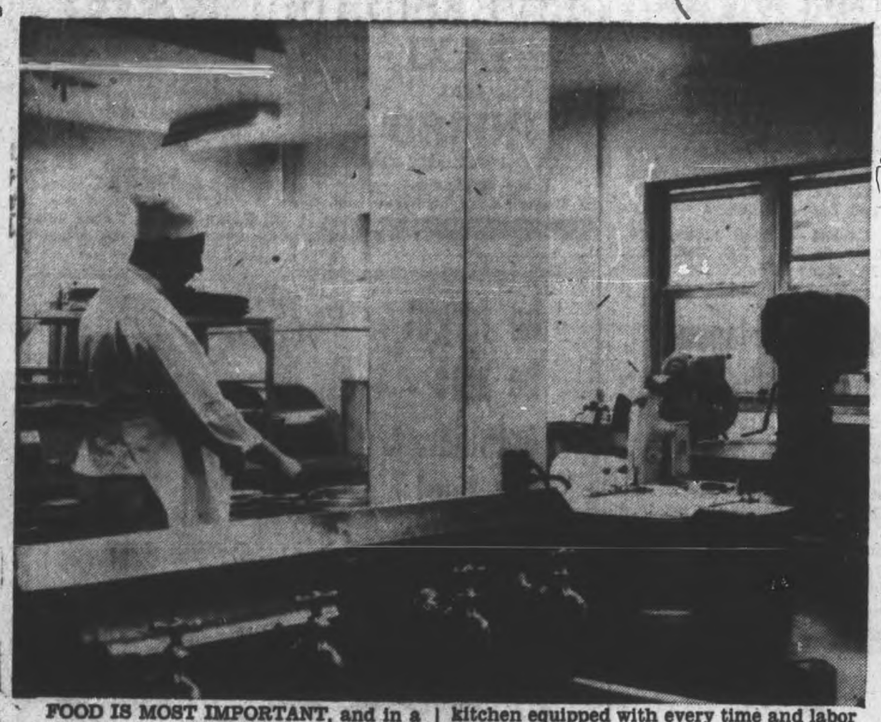
RENOVATED EMPRESS HOTEL TO BE OFFICIALLY OPENED THIS WEEK



FOOD IS MOST IMPORTANT, and in a hotel as large as the Empress, it is a major consideration. Here is a view of the modern kitchen equipped with every time and labor saving gadget on the market. 64 of the 102 employees are engaged in the preparation and serving of food.

Empress Adds 26 Rooms, New Kawartha Room Hotel Completely Modern

Located in the heart of the city of Peterborough, The Empress Hotel, long renowned on the road as a hostelry of fine facilities and services, has taken on added attractions. For nearly two years now, the big three-floor building at the corner of Water and Charlotte Sts. has been seething with remodelling work, construction of new features and improvements and extensions of present facilities. The official opening of the lovely new Kawartha Room on Oct. 1st is but one landmark focusing public attention on changes.

The Empress is the largest hotel in the city and now has 110 guest rooms. The most striking feature, the Kawartha Room, now provides for Peterborough its first dinner-dance, and in a setting which is a showplace jewel. Music will be provided for dancing there on Fridays and Saturdays by Frank Hammond and his orchestra.

If it is found that public requirements call for it, this dance schedule may be extended.

But this new highpoint of recreation for the district is only one of the added services which combine to make the Empress one of the finest hotels in Ontario.

Remodelling of the main lobby on the ground floor, the first step in the overall program, was undertaken in 1945. It has been the subject of commendation from the travelling public as a great improvement.

New Coffee Shop

At the north-east corner of the hotel is located the dazzling-clean and neat coffee shop, an integral part of the Empress. Comfortable seating, at Formica-topped tables on chrome chairs, is provided for more than 100 persons. Eight big windows (the corner ones are of curved glass) provides plenty of natural lighting into the ivory-and-red walled coffee shop. Located on the same area as the former dining room of the hotel, the floor is of octagon terrazzo. The coffee shop opened on May 1 of this year.

Entrance is by double, all-glass doors from a street-level opening with chrome canopy and side walls. The ceiling inside is of light-colored acoustic tile. The whole room, which is in two large sections partially separated, is fluorescent-lighted and has al-climate heating and ventilation.

Waitresses wear attractive white uniforms with wine-colored aprons and headbands. Well-appointed washrooms with marble wallings are auxiliary and include a neat powder-room for the lady patrons. The food is served from a self-contained serving unit which is independent of the main hotel kitchen for short orders. Prepared meals ordered in the coffee shop, however, are brought in from the large central kitchen. The establishment is open to the public from 6 a.m. to the following 2 a.m.

New Dining-Room Serves 100

The three-part Kawartha Room, connected in sections by accordion-type walls into one large room for dining and dancing, is on the east side of the building. Across the carpetted, daily-papered hall from it a new dining-room has been opened. For use not only by the general public, this new room provides accommodation for private banquets, club meetings, group dinners. It seats 100 at tables for four or six, and it is possible to join tables to make group seating of any desired number.

Its ceiling is also of the white acoustic tile of attractively perforated squares, with sunken lighting units and loudspeaker outlets in the ceiling for music. Walls of the room are in sand color. The completely new ventilating system provides a complete change of air every few minutes.

Another recent addition to hotel facilities which has been in operation for some months consists of further sections to the ladies' beverage room. Walls are of highly polished plywood. It also has equipment to have music and announcements "piped in" from the central sound and P. A. control There is sunken lighting in the tiled ceiling and a floor of mastic tile.

26 New Guest Rooms.

Most far-reaching extension of standard hotel accommodations puts 26 new hotel rooms in operation for the Empress' guests. All rooms are equipped with phones. A radio is in each, built-in the bedside night tables. Some of the rooms have twin beds. Some have pink ceilings and walls with matching rugs and others are painted in a green theme. The all-new furnishings include upholstered chairs with natural-finish polished arms and legs and a glass-topped coffee table. There is a trilight lamp provided. Dressing-tables, with large mirrors, are partially set flush with the walls. Roomy close closets are fitted with sliding doors.

Individual bathrooms in the guest quarters are of smooth plastic tile in pleasant and contrasting shades. Each bathroom has a sunken bathtub and is equipped with shower attachment.

There is a large window opening off each room. It has venetian blinds and floor-length drapes.

The renovating program is being continued throughout th whole hotel. The original 85 rooms are all being gradually redecorated and refurnished. When the

EMPHASIS ON GOOD FOOD MAKES EMPRESS ONE OF BEST IN ONTARIO

Food Preparation, Serving Requires 64 Hotel People

Of the 102 Empress employees, 64 are engaged in the preparing and serving of food. That proportion of staff is an indication of the importance of the dining department in relation to the rest of the house, and to the needs and satisfaction of its guests.

The principal components of that department are the dining room, coffee shop, Kawartha banquet room and kitchen. Down in the basement is a separate stock room, providing bulk storage of canned and bottle goods that are bought and kept in quantities. In another part of the basement is a room housing compressor equipment for refrigerating and other equipment in the kitchen.

The kitchen is a compact arrangement of all the gadgets of cookery the modern housewife knows, except in their capacity, and it has been located with an eye to the fewest steps to the dining tables. Both gas and electricity heat the big range, a precaution against failure to either fuel.

Potatoes are peeled in a whirligig with abrasive lining. The skin is rubbed off and is carried away by water. This machine is big enough for a peck or more.

Two metal soup pots, each as big as a tympanum of an orchestra, suggest the pot au feu of the economic housewife in France. They are for the stock that give substance to most of the soups, and brings smacks to the lips of men who remember the old fashioned cooking of their mothers' culinary resources which lacked the standby of the canned soups of this generation. Those soup pots in the Empress kitchen are worth a second glance.

A Huge Toaster

Not the least important part of the range is the broiler for steaks which at present prices deserve the chef's best attention. A bake oven of three compartments lines up in many a day's cooking as many as 135 pies. Beside it is the table where the pies, rolls, biscuits, canapes and so on are made.

The electric toaster is an inconspicuous appliance in the kitchen, but it can turn out 24 slices of toast at once.

Meat block and meat slicer are familiars. The big refrigerator, mechanical dish washer and drier, and the steam table necessarily take up a large part of the space. They are as essential as the big range and the battery of three coffee urns. Fish are kept separate in their own ice box.

One table is used only for preparing salads. A big Hobart mixer is just as versatile an impliment in the Empress uses as in the average home, and has the capacity of a dozen or more of the common domestic mixers. The ice cream box has three containers. Racks pendant from the ceiling are convenient for the manual utensils, big spoons, knives etc., the chefs need within reach when the going is busiest. The floor is tile, easily kept clean.

A New Gadget

Tableware is arrayed along a wall inside the kitchen door, handy for the waitresses. And the nearer their door, space has been reserved for a food checker that will be delivered one of these days. It is more or less like a cash register. Each guest order passes before its operator who computes the amount of the bill as it increases from soup to coffee. This is an accounting machine. It adds up the guests ultimate bill and provides a record of food used. And the check is the end product of the original buying.

The coffee shop receipts pass through its own cash register.

Those most of the details of the kitchen menage which you notice in a round of observation.

Henry Rennie, food supervisor, was chef at the Golden Apple, summer hotel, Gananoque, for eight years, and was at C. G. E.—Genelco cafeteria during the war because of his knowledge and experience in the supervision of food. He is in charge of the personnel of the kitchen and coffee shop, looks after the buying of foodstuffs, and is chiefly responsible for planning. Under him are six chefs headed by Harry Briscoe who is consulted each day about the morrow's meals, and wnat will be required.

The Empress kitchen being a business cannot risk the chance many a housewife takes in waiting until the last minute for resucing inspiration to dash up something for dinner.

Mr. Rennie receives from the office at the beginning of each week a list of the group dinners that have been booked. The rest is his responsibility, and how he and his staff accomplish the orderly parade of courses when the dinner comes off is beyond the understanding of mere men, most of whom are helpless and in the way around the home kitchens they know.

Kawartha Room Meets Need In Peterborough

For the first time, Peterborough has a combination dining-room and ballroom which equals those of the smartest, metropolitan hotels on the North American continent. The beautifully designed, luxuriously decorated, ultra-modern Kawartha Room at the Empress Hotel, 125 feet long and 35 feet wide, fulfils and satisfies a long-felt need for such a room to meet the demands of convention banquets, public and private dinners and dances, and other special functions.

This new room at Peterborough's largest hotel has been designed to seat not less than 300 people at dinners and 200 people at dinner dances. When not in use for banquets, special folding partitions, consisting of leather-covered steel frames, divide the Kawartha Room into three entirely separate dining-rooms each capable of seating 100 people.

As the room is air-conditioned throughout, the designers have been able to introduce windows of glass brick, interspaced with mirrors of identical size and pattern, which add greatly to the general attractiveness and appearance of the long room. These new type windows not only increase the room's bright atmosphere but help to diffuse all light. Concealed interior lighting and an acoustic ceiling, to dampen all sound, are other modern ideas which have been introduced with skilful designing to make the room the most-up-to-date dining-room and ballroom in Peterborough.

The Kawartha Room has been tastefully decorated in delicate pastel shades of blue, green and pink, creating a pleasant harmony of soft colors. The walls, with the exception of the exterior wall which is papered with a soft pattern of pink and white hydrangeas on a green background, are of aluminum sheeting, giving a fluted effect, and are painted pink. The sliding partitions, dividing the room, are of green leather and the ceiling has been painted blue.

At one end of the oak, parquet floor there is an orchestra stand designed to accommodate an eight-piece dance orchestra including a grand piano. At the other end of the Kawartha Room, there is a huge photographic mural, 2 feet by 12 feet, of the world famous Lift Lock on the Trent Canal.

THERE IS AN EXPRESSION not unlike that of maternal anguish on the young face of Pamela Lamphere as she watches Dr. Edward Schlies examine her doll at a Chicago, Ill., hospital. Pamela is the little girl who was born with her bladder outside her body. She is now recovering from the first of three operations whereby it is hoped to correct the condition. Pamela's trouble caused a rift between her parents until her mother consented to the corrective operations.

plans have been completed, the entire 100 rooms will be comparable to the 26 new rooms.

Five Sample Rooms.

Five large rooms have been added to the hotel below the street level, in a section which had previously been either unused or used for storage and machinery.

These will be used for sample rooms for travellers and will have racks and tables as required for display purposes of commercial men. These rooms have plaster walls and ceilings and heavy linoleum floor coverings. They can be used by their occupant as a bedroom, too, if desired, and they have wash basins. A fine marble washroom with shower and bathtub is provided in the section of the five sample rooms.

Yet another "extra" provided by The Empress with "the new look" is a two-chair barbershop below street level. It will also have shoe-shining service.

New construction of the fire escape at the back has been built to fully satisfy all safety regulations and is of concrete and steel. It is entirely enclosed within the building framework proper, as "outside' escapes are now unlawful.

The washrooms provided for general use of patrons of the Kawartha Room and the new dining room are modern in appointment. They are of smooth plaster and with marble walls.

The ladies' washroom and powder-room is practically lovely. In bright sand-and-blue colors, the powder room has a long dressing table with indirect lighting coming from the bottom of a long mirror which runs the length of the table.

Heating is by steam and from a boiler room in the centre of the basement. It has two boiler units, either one of which can generate enough heat to supply the whole building except in extremely cold weather. The second unit, which will be hooked in at such times, is a reserve against possible breakdown of one operating.

Manager of The Empress is David Kerr, former N.H.L. star. He is president of The Empress Hotel, Peterborough, Company, which has spent nearly a third of a million dollars in the past two years on the improvements and extensions outlined.

The present owning company took over The Empress from the George N. Graham Company, which operated it for more than 30 years.

Principal contractors and suppliers for the project have been: Grant and Loucks, who handled all the electrical work; Canadian General Electric and General Steel Wares, kitchen equipment; Goodfellow & Dougherty, plumbing, heating and air conditioning; Smith Brothers, hotel room painting; McCarthy & Johnston, fuel; Peterborough Lumber; Beaver Lumber; Armstrong Lumber; Ontario Marble Company; Comstocks who supplied flooring and drapery; Hobbs, glass; Peterborough-Brinton Carpets; Canadian Ventilating Shades.

Harry Davidson, Toronto, was general contractor. Hill Brothers of Toronto was in charge of plastering. Other Toronto firms connected with the project were: Laidlaw Lumber Co.; Clayton-Redpath, interior decorating; Pringle and Booth, photography of mural in Kawartha Room; sound equipment; Dominion Sound, acoustics.

GOVERNOR - GENERAL VISCOUNT ALEXANDER poses for the cameraman just after opening the Montreal Press Club recently and accepting an honorary membership in the organization. The club, with a membership of several hundred, was formed as a medium for the advancement of cultural, professional and social activities among working newspapermen in Montreal. Marmora News

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith and son Ronnie attended the funeral of the late Richard Downey at Crookston on Sunday afternoon. A number of local chapter Masons attended the chapter meeting at Bancroft on Monday evening.

Under supervision of Mrs. F. R. Wells, school girls carried out a tag day for the Canadian Institute for the Blind on Saturday, the venture netting approximately sixty-four dollars.

Week-end guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Auger and family of Trenton with Mrs. Hannah Auger; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Dean, senior of Oshawa with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gray; Mr. James Byrnes of Oshawa at his home here; Mrs. R. J. Scott of Belleville with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Reynolds.

Wartime Padre Guest Preacher At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Sept. 29 (ENS)—The purpose of the gospel is to make useful citizens out of us; none are so high but they need His salvation; and none so low that He cannot redeem them," was the gist of the inspiring message brought by the Rev. David P. Rowland, M.C., of York Memorial church, Toronto, on Sunday evening at the anniversary service of the Grace Presbyterian church. Using the text, "Put on the whole armor of God," he urged his hearers to "harness their souls to the service of God, and to the truth of the gospel. It doesn't take much of a man to be a Christian, but it takes all the manhood of God to make, and keep, him one. We live in such a busy age, we think we have no time for the church and religion; but, in the end, we will all have time to die, and it is essential, that like Paul, we have a living faith in a living Christ, and show to the world we are not ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Guest speaker for the day, Rev. Mr. Rowland, who was chaplain of the Toronto Irish Regiment in World War II, and won the M.C. for his overseas' service, was greeted with capacity congregations morning and evening. His morning theme was "The Church in the Modern World," and his evening subject continued with the obligation for individual responsibility of the members to exemplify Christ to the world. Music for the services was provided by the choir of Centreville Presbyterian church, Mrs. Grace Muspratt being at the organ.

Guest soloist was Mrs. Ross Williamson of Peterborough.

The space within the altar railing was banked with flowers, the basket of lovely gladioli being placed by Mrs. Charles Thorndyke and family in loving memory of her husband, the late Charles Thorndyke, for several years an official of Grace church. Rev. Walter Patterson, the minister, was in Toronto for the day taking Mr. Rowland's work at York Memorial church.

Tugs Bringing In Million-Dollar Prize

HALIFAX, Sept. 29 (CP)—Two Foundation Maritime tugs, the Josephine and Lillian, today were towing the stricken British freighter to Bermuda. She was reported listing 50 degrees.

The tugs gave their position as 850 miles east of Bermuda. The Josephine messaged she had a line aboard the $1,000,000 salvage prize and was towing her slowly to port. The Lillian is standing by.

The Leicester was sighted after a 10-day search by the two tugs. The derelict was abandoned Sept. 16 after she was severely battered by a roaring hurricane. Six crew members were lost.

Salvage authorities said it would "require expert seamanship and special skill" for the tugs to complete the operation.

Special Service Held At Apsley

APSLEY, Sept. 29 (ENS) Pupil of Trinity United Church Sunday School together with their friends enjoyed a splendid service on Sunday morning. The service was entirely in screens entitled "Worshipping with the church universal." The readings were very capably given by Mrs. Dawes M. C. Tucker, Ross Reynolds and N. H. Wilson. Music for the entire service was supplied by Marie Tucker due to the fact that the organist Donna Lean was unable to act.

Minorities Given Right To Worship As They Please

By DANIEL DE LUCE

TEL AVIV, Sept. 29 — (AP). — The Israeli Minister of Religions has affirmed solemnly that Christian and Moslem minorities will enjoy full control over their religious affairs in the new Jewish state.

"The Jewish religion has never had a tendency to try to convert others," said Rabbi Judah Leib Fishman. "On the contrary our wish is that each individual shall preserve his own faith, tradition and customs."

The 72-year-old Cabinet Minister outlined Israel's future in an interview in the new government centre in suburban Tel Aviv.

"I am convinced Israel will continue unchanged the rights of Christian and Moslem religious courts in jurisdiction over their respective communities," the Rabbi said.

Temporary Measure

Jewish military occupation of some Christian religious buildings "is a temporary measure dictated by war needs and as soon as the emergency is past they will be evacuated promptly."

To deal with the minorities Rabbi Fishman has established two departments for Christian and Moslem affairs in his ministry.

The Christian department is headed by Rabbi Jacon Herzog, who was born in Catholic Dublin 26 years ago and is the younger son of Israel's chief rabbi.

Some 50,000 to 55,000 Arabs now are under the Israeli government. Christians possibly outnumber the Moslems slightly.

Turning to Jewry's own problems the Minister of Religions said:

"We don't want theocratic government in Israel, but at the same time we don't want the government to be divorced completely from the principles and practices of our religion."

He said a religious revival is under way in Israel.

See Blouse In Room, Hold Man For Bigamy

COOKSVILLE, Sept. 29 (CP)—A woman's blouse hanging in a room in a house here Monday resulted in the arrest of Alex Bortnick, 24, on a charge of bigamy.

Two Toronto detectives came to this village near Toronto to arrest Bortnick for obtaining $25 by fraud from Percy Gordon. They saw the blouse while searching Bortnick's room and, since they knew his wife and two children were supposed to be in Vancouver, they inquired about the garment.

Then in walked a woman who claimed to be Bortnick's wife. She produced a marriage certificate which showed he had married her last July under the name of Bortik.

Refinery Smells Annoy York Residents

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP) — Two deputations which Monday crowded into suburban York Township's council chambers learned they'll just have to put up with "obnoxious odors."

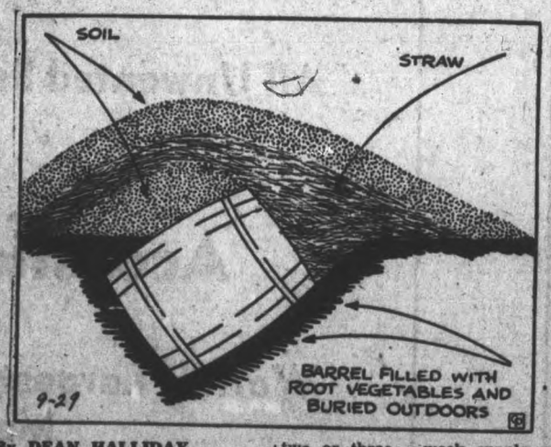
One group of citizens complained about the aroma from a fish and oil refinery. Said a clergyman: "It stinks."

A second delegate protested about the fumes that would come from a proposed new incinerator.

Dr. W. E. Henry, township medical health officer, told the peeved visitors they would have to tolerate the smells unless their health was being affected.

YOUR GARDEN . . .

Barrel Storage of Roots



By DEAN HALLIDAY

If your furnace-heated cellar is too warm for storage of root crops from your Freedom garden, you can bury them in a barrel or two in the backyard and they will keep fresh.

For barrel-storage outdoors dig a sloping pit, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden Graph. Place the barrel in position, as illustrated, and fill it with unblemished root vegetables. Put the barrel head tightly in place, then cover with straw and a layer of earth, as illustrated. If you live in a section where you have extremely cold winter weather it will be well to alternate several layers of straw and earth for protection against freezing or thawing.

With the barrel placed, as illustrated, and the straw placed over the head, it will not be too difficult to dig through the outer layer of earth at intervals and open the barrel to withdraw a two or three - week supply of vegetables for table use.

Some gardeners sink several barrels into the ground, each containing a certain assortment of root vegetables. Others put the vegetables into kegs, finding it more convenient to dig up a keg-ful every couple of weeks.

Root crops can also be kept for a few weeks in a carton put within another carton. The container should be insulated by stuffing crumpled newspapers between the two cartons. Be sure to cover carefully to keep in the moisture and place in the coldest room in your house. This system will work in an apartment where facilities for storage are lacking.

A few simple rules to observe in the storing of vegetables are as follows: Vegetables should not be too old or too immature; never handle them for storage when they are wet; do not store blemished vegetables for decay usually starts from bruises or skin punctures.

Serbian, Pole Reach The City

The first Serbian displaced person to arrive in Peterborough district is Milan Zecevic who was met at Monday's train by National Employment Service officials. He arrived in Halifax on Aug. 16 and was sent to a canning factory in Simcoe, temporarily. With the rush of this seasonal industry over, he will work for Chester Hamilton, RR 2, Lakefield. Said NES manager Ellis, "he is as big a man as Chester. They ought to make a good team."

Anna Lukasiewicz, Polish DP, arrived on another train the same day. She came from Europe on MV Heintzelman to Halifax on Sept. 23. She worked on her father's farm in Poland and spent about two years working in the hospital of a German concentration camp. She will be employed by Mrs. Frank Godfrey, RR 1, Keene.

Call Industrial Heads Hydro Consumption Up

Peterborough slumped in its power saving efforts Tuesday to 278,000 kwh as compared with its quota of 240,000. Worry returned to the Utilities Commission after Monday's brief promise of accomplishment in its 244,000 kwh total.

G. S. Matthews, Commission chairman, is calling Thursday another meeting with the larger industrial power users to discuss the problem again.

The looming penalty is Hydro's warning of the necessity next week of cutting off power 15 minutes in every hour, and on the hour, a summary dislocation of affairs which the Utilities Commission is still hoping to avoid.

An appeal is being made through the schools, enlisting the help and the vigilance of children in preventing waste of electric power in the homes, turning off every light that is not essential to domestic requirements, including safety.

Water heaters were cut off Tuesday from 4 p.m. to 11 p.m. Power used Tues., Sept. 14 was 304,000 kwh., and Tues., Sept. 21 it was 286,000. And, to repeat, 278,000 kwh Tues., Sept. 26.

Potato Prices Said Too Low

"The low prices that are being offered to potato buyers is going to result in more potatoes being put in storage," is a York county comment in the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. "Present potato prices are certainly not in line with the cost of production and the higher prices for all supplies which the grower has to use in production of his crop." The timely rains of ten days ago insured germination of the winter wheat crop. This moisture will improve the fresh seeding for next year's hay crop, and has stimulated pasture growth."

Many cattle in Victoria county are losing weight on pasture due to the continued dry weather and shortage of grass. Red clover seed is of exceptionally good quality this fall.

Hastings county says the dry weather has forced barn feeding, "and very little wheat has been sown. Some farmers are drawing water."

Halton doubts that half the 1947-48 acreage of wheat will be sown at this late date.

Lennox-Addington: "U.S. cattle buyers are keen to get everything they can. They are in Napanee almost every shipping day, buying market cattle for export."

Only 40 Houses In Claraday 38 Years Ago

Wm. J. Grady, postmaster at Claraday 38 years, has received a long service lapel button from the federal postal department.

Until recent annexation of North Monaghan areas by the city, Claraday was the eastern section of the township, south of Lansdowne St. and east of Park St. Eventually its western boundary reached to Monaghan Road.

"Claraday post office was established in 1910 as a rural service," Mr. Grady said today. "I don't think the city had postal delivery to homes at that time. At any rate, people in our section of the township had to go to the post office in the city for their mail, postal orders and other service it supplied. They lived chiefly around Lock and Park Sts. They kept suggesting a petition to the Goernment, and it was recommended that the office should be at my store because it was convenient to practically all those residents.

"The request was granted. Then we had to get a name for it. I proposed three or four, but they were rejected because, it was said, they were similar to names in the post office list. So, I coined the name Claraday from my wife's name—Clara Grady—and it was accepted.

"There were only 40 houses in the area in 1910. I remember that fact because I walked the streets and counted them. They were mostly in the area east of Park St. to the river and south of Lansdowne St."

In later years Claraday was changed in category from a rural to a revenue post office, and Mr. Grady continues as postmaster. South of Lansdowne St. today and beyond Monaghan Road to the new limits of the city in that southwest section of the city there are more than 900 houses.

Assessment commissioner said it was some figure in that bracket, but less than 1,000.

Report Seeing Ball Of Fire

The unusual display of light which was seen and reported by Joseph Finn of RR 3, Indian River, one evening last week was seen by others as well. Mr. and Mrs. A. Rowe, south of Young's Point on Highway 28, saw the same phenomenon at nine o'clock in the evening in the direction of Clear Lake.

Since Mr. Finn reported the display six hours later, and no fires were known to have taken place that night, it is supposed that it was a show of the Aurora which, in Northern Canada, becomes very spectacular in the early autumn, often branching from the dome of the sky in bands of light like the ribs of an umbrella.

Beautification Of Property To Win Prizes

About sixty veterans and their wives, all Veterans' Land Act small holders in the Peterborough area, gathered in the Legion Hall Tuesday evening to hear lectures, illustrated by films, on gardening and landscaping. The meeting was one of many that will be held throughout the country during the next year in connection with the Dominion-wide competitions for V.L.A. small holders with prizes totalling $9,000.

The lectures were given by Fred S. Browne, extension horticulturist with the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, and Dan Cameron, landscape horticulturist, also of the Experimental Farm. The competitions were briefly outlined by M. W. Millar, district agriculturist with the Veterans' Land Act at Ottawa, and the films were shown by Gordon S. Way, public relations officer at V.L.A. head office, Ottawa.

Mr. Browne's talk was devoted chiefly to soil management and fertility.

"The organic matter in the productive top layer of soil has been seriously depleted during the last decade or two," he said, "not only in Ontario but all over the world. The increased production demanded during the war years, the introduction of power machinery, and poor management or 'mining' practices have created this condition and we will literally starve ourselves to death if we don't change our ways."

"The best source of organic matter, is well-rotten barnyard manure, but this is not always obtainable particularly for smallholders living near a large centre of population. An excellent substitute exists, however, in green manure or cover crops ploughed under." Most of the small-holders, he said, were attempting to cultivate gardens that were too large, and he recommended that they divide their gardens in two, growing vegetables on one half one year and cover crops for green manure on the other half. The next year the process would be reversed. Good cover crops would be millet, sown in the spring and ploughed down about July, and followed by buckwheat, which could be ploughed down before it seeded.

100 In Area —

There are about a hundred smallholders in the Peterborough area and these are entered in the competition for individual smallholders. The prizes for the winners would range from $7 to $20 at intervals of one dollar with 14 prizes altogether. The prizes will be trees, shrubs, perennials, etc. and not cash.

"The fundamental purpose of all landscaping is to blend the house with the grounds," Mr. Cameron said. "Trees should be planted so that they 'frame the picture' and foundation plantings should be placed so that harsh lines, where the foundation and lawn meet for instance, are eliminated. Plantings may be used, too, to hide buildings, etc. that would not blend nicely with the landscape."

Mr. Cameron sounded a warning to the smallholders about trees. "It is easy," he said, "to fall in love with a little spruce or cedar in the woods, but it must be borne in mind, when planting that little tree in the lawn, that it will grow and grow, and eventually become a big tree completely obscuring a large portion of the house or garden. Since few of us are sufficiently hard-hearted to cut them down after they have stood for years on front lawns, it is wise to think of their place in the landscape scheme when they reach full growth."

The films were shown at intervals throughout the evening to illustrate the talks, and both Mr. Browne and Mr. Cameron commented on the horticultural techniques shown on the screen. The film titles were: Dig For Victory, Garden Friends and Foes, Farm Homes Beautiful and Vegetable Insects, the latter two being 20-minute films in technicolour.

The chairman of the meeting was J. E. Patterson, 539 Downie St., who is the VLA field supervisor for the Peterborough area. He called the group together about 7.45 and briefly introduced the Ottawa party. The regional supervisor, Allan R. Macnab, whose headquarters is in Kingston, was present and the chairman called upon him for a few words. "Delays, originally encountered in obtaining settlement under the Veterans' Land Act, have been largely overcome insofar as the department is concerned. Nothing can be done by the department, however, to speed up the obtaining of titles if the vendors' lawyers are unable, through over-work or other reasons, to expedite the legal processes; or if the titles themselves are cloudy. Whn the Director, VLA grants title to a veteran it is the same as an original grant from the Crown. Therefore, the Director must obtain an absolutely clear title to any property he purchases," he pointed out.

Also at the meeting were R. W. Abraham, OBE, district administrator for the Department of Veterans Affairs with offices at Kingston; and W. R. Shanks, MBE, also from the DVA office at Kingston. Mr. Shanks is taking over the DVA office here while Mr. A. B. Burrows has his annual holiday.

After the talks and the films were finished the chairman extended a vote of thanks to the Dominion Department of Agriculture experts, and the Canadian Legion for use of their hall. The meeting broke up inti little knots of smallholders with one of the Ottawa visitors the centre of each answering questions that had not been dealt with in their talks.

Priest Debunks Love Bug In Modern Marriage Puts Emphasis On Meals

"Marriage is a partnership between adults in the enrichment of human life," said the Rev. Daniel A. Lord, SJ, of St. Louis, Mo., speaking to an audience that packed the main floor and gallery of the Collegiate auditorium on Tuesday night. His visit was arranged by St. Peter's Sodality. The so-called Hollywood conception of love was strongly debunked by Father Lord. He said that it was not until the 14th century that the idea of romantic love came to be looked upon so highly. A glance at classical literature preceding that period or a study of the Bible will fail to show this conception, he stated.

"Everyone in America today is convinced that love is the most important part of marriage," he said. But he cautioned those who would accept this view to remember that "you fall in love with the most unacceptable persons. In fact you are continually falling in love."

"That is the trouble with marriage today," he said. "People marry just because they fall in love. A third of all the marriages, every year in America, end in the divorce courts."

"Marriage for love is a comparatively recent idea," said Father Lord. He cited the example of classic literature and then said "in the Bible they married for all kinds of reasons: to raise a family, start a home, and other reasons but often because parents decided that a certain boy would be good for a certain girl."

Marriage Broker

He then told of a Jewish "marriage broker" in New York who kept a file listing the profession, hobbies and interests of male and female clients. By checking the file the broker was able to arrange a meeting between what would seem to be compatible people.

As a result of these card-index arrangements, 75 per cent. of the young people meet with each other again, he said. Of this 75 per cent. half of them get married and 90 per cent. of them make happy marriages.

"Probably every person in this audience imagines that marriages are made in heaven," Father Lord angels consulting files and arphatically, "The deuce they are."

"There is no bureaucracy of angels consulting files and arranging any one man for any one girl," he said.

After posing the question "what makes for happiness in marriage?" he suggestion that it was four M's—Mind, Money, Manners and Meals.

He deplored the tendency for a person to present all his best traits in the best possible manner before marriage and then lapse afterwards.

Money To Blame

"Sixty per cent. of the divorce cases in American courts are in some way connected with money," he said. He said that the modern young woman who has had business training should be given a set percentage of the husband's income to look after family expenditures as well her own upkeep.

Father Lord emphasized the value of manners. He deprecated the fact that too often manners were reserved for strangers while poor manners were displayed at home.

And he told husband to be thoughtful of their wives. "When did you take her a present last?" he asked. By present, he explained, he did not mean a washing machine or something equally utilitarian, but "something useless."

On the subject of meals he advised wives to economize on anything but the table fare.

"If you are dieting," he said, addressing himself particularly to the ladies, "do it somewhere else, not at the table."

Summing up he said that he believed that the biggest problems in married life were the host of little ones that arise in everyday life, not the major problems.

"I believe God regards marriage in the world today as the most important thing," he said. And he added "on marriage depends the future of the nation, the happiness of heaven itself, as well as the happiness of your children."

After he had finished his address he answered questions from the audience.

Father Lord was introduced by the Rev. P. P. Butler, who was chairman of the program.

The Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, SJ, Toronto, national director of the Sacred Heart program, told of the work that was being done through that program.

Plowing Match Officials Need Tractors

"We've been scrounging for tractors for the last two months," said Stuart Hall, farm implement agent at Simcoe and Queen Sts. in regard to a report from Lindsay today that plowing matches were beginning to worry about machines for contestants."

"I signed up one man this morning," Mr. Hall said, "but that has been going on for weeks. We've combed the country all here, including east and south, getting farmers to let us have their tractors for the international match west of Lindsay, just two weeks away.

The report from Lindsay counts up to 220 the number of applications already received from tractor plowmen coming to the match. And that is about 100 more than last year.

"I don't know what to think about the weather," Mr. Hall said, "but if it is favorable there will be a tremendous crowd at the match. It is three miles west of Lindsay."

Planning for it requires the assistance of the local committees such as are now in action in Peterborough, Ontario, Victoria, Durham. It involves a great amount of detail. Lining up tractors is just part of the work.

Duck Season Open Saturday South Of No. 7

Rice lake, the lower Otonabee and the Trent waters have been a sanctuary this week for the wild ducks that were blasted out of Pigeon lake and other feeding grounds north of No. 7 highway last Saturday, and since then.

That temporary safety ends Saturday, October 2 with the opening of the southern section, designed as south of No. 7.

Ducks have been rafting in increasing numbers this week in Rice lake. They include blacks, mallards and blue wing teal. Ford Campbell says there 'are lots of ducks in the bays of the river". He saw wood ducks, young blacks, teal and bluebills in Baxter's creek last Thursday.

And there are more at the cranery. At Rice lake yesterday the bogs appeared to be loaded."

Sportsmen should get a good bag Saturday, but not if some of the novices start banging at 5 a.m., Mr. Campbell said.

Game overseeers have been given strict instructions to enforce the shotgun plugging regulation, and all pump guns found being used without the necessary plugs will be confiscated and the owners fined. The law requires that the magazine be plugged so that not more than two shells will fit into the magazine and this with one in the chamber gives the duck hunter three rounds. A few local residents are neglecting to purchase the one dollar gun licence and these hunters are inviting confiscation of their valuable shotguns.

Donald Duck Again

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — (CP). — A waitress here fainted in a cafe recently when a live duck, hidden in a customer's jacket, bit a sandwich she was about to put on the plate. The man had won the duck at a fair here.

THIS PORCELAIN STATUE of Princess Elizabeth depicts the heir to the throne as she appeared on her horse, "Tommy," in the King's birthday parade last year. Designed by Miss Doris Lindner of London, it was executed by the Royal Worcester Porcelain company. Only one hundred of the statues were made—and for export only—which makes them a collector's item. Price £100 each (about $400).

More Religion Necessary Orangemen Told

MILLBROOK, Sept. 29—(ENS).—'A faith that does not do something for the betterment of humanity is not worth anything," declared Rev. D. P. Rowland, of Toronto, speaking before a gathering in Grace Presbyterian church Monday evening, when he issued a ringing challenge to those of the Protestant faith, the Orange Order, and other fraternal organizations, to present a united front to the evils of Socialism Communism, Fascism, and other enemies which threaten the country religion and religious freedom.

"A revival in our Protestant faith is one of the great needs of the hour," the speaker urged, and, himself an Orangeman, pointedly emphasized to members of the Order their responsibility to live up to obligations assumed, such as attendance at church on the Lord's Day; the Bible taught and lived in the home; the regular instruction of children in Christian principles.

'A man's foes are they of his own household" is true today, and the greatest danger comes from the apathy within the Protestant faith. No nation can be safe until all the traitors within it are destroyed. Even with our Lord probably His greatest suffering was caused by treachery of one of His own disciples."

The weakness of the Orange Order, the speaker insisted, was because it has become divorced from the church," and the weakness of the nation is because we have parental delinquency, placing stress on material things with their children in the home, an neglecting, almost totally, emphasis upon spiritual values, and instruction in the truths of religion by both precept and example. "Juvenile delinquency would disappear, and such outgrowths as beanery gangs, if parental delinquency were done away with." In one school room where Mr. Rowland goes to give week-day religious instruction, he found that only 32 per cent of the pupils could write out the Lord's Prayer.

The failure of the United Nations, the speaker felt, is also due to the fact that the organization does not acknowledge God in its work and operation, and does not even mention His name.

The vote of thanks to Mr. Rowland was moved by J. Burns, seconded by Percy Stinson. Rev. Walter Patterson was chairman and Mrs. J. R. Thompson was at the piano.

IN CHIEF'S MEMORY—Standing on the wind-swept plains near Gleichen, Alta., 50 miles southeast of Calgary, is this imposing stone cairn erected by pioneer Albertans to perpetuate the memory of great head chief of the Blackfoot Confederation, Crowfoot. Standing beside the monument is Joseph Crowfoot, grandson of the man whose statesmanship prevented southern Albertan Indians from taking the warpath against the white settlers. Holding the Indian chieftain's staff of office is Chief Duck Chief, present head of the Blackfoot tribe. Crowfoot who signed the famous Blackfoot crossing treaty ceding to the crown all of southern Alberta in 1877, died in 1890.

Widow Points To Prisoner As Man In Fatal Break-in

TORONTO, Sept. 29 (CP) — May Hill, 17, is expected to testify in defence of her 21-year-old sweetheart, Fred Aldred, now on trial for murder in the Aug. 1 shooting of storekeeper William Cowan, 57.

Mrs. Mae Cowan, Cowan's widow, told Tuesday how she joined her husband and two of her daughters in trying to prevent the escape of a youth, alleged to be Aldred, who broke into their store at Malvern in the Oshawa area.

Asked if she could identify the intruder, Mrs. Cowan nodded toward Aldred in the prisoner's box.

"He dashed into the storehouse and I followed him," she said. "I switched on the (storehouse) lights as I entered. I followed him down the last aisle. As Aldred ran down, I caught up with him and kept him from reaching the door.

Hit on Head

"At this point he said to me, 'Get out of the way sister, or I'll shoot.' I didn't move. He glared at me then and raised his hand and hit me over the head with something very hard."

"Did you see anything in his hand?" asked Crown Counsel W. O. Gibson.

"No, I didn't notice," she replied. "Then he dashed to the left side of the storehouse, found no opening, ran back and out into the store again. He unbolted the front door and ran down the road."

Mrs. Cowan wept as she identified as her husband's the .32-calibre revolver which killed Cowan.

Two daughters of the slain man, Ruth and Eleanor, gave similar testimony. Under questioning, neither said they saw Cowan's revolver in the hands of Aldred.

But two Scarboro police constables, Samuel Bogle and James Diplock, swore that Aldred had the revolver when he and May Hill were arrested two miles from the store two hours after the slaying.

Peterborough Dentist Speaks At Havelock

HAVELOCK, Sept. 29 (ENS)—Dr. J. J. Craig of Peterborough, chairman of the Dental Public Health Committee, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the local Home and School Association to be held next Monday evening in the school.

A dental survey of the pupils in grades 3 and 4 will take place, Monday afternoon in the school, following which the pupils of the high school and public school from grade 5 up will proceed to the town hall where they will be shown slides and hear an address on dental care.

Big Tax Evasion

REGINA, Sept. 29 — (CP). — Two Regina brothers Tuesday pleaded guilty to 24 charges of evading income and excess profits taxes in what is believed the largest tax evasion case to appear before a Canadian court. Nick and George Kangles, proprietors of the La Salle Hotel, Limited, were charged with evasions amounting to more than $243,000. Judgment was reserved until next Thursday.

General Arrives From Great Britain

QUEBEC, Sept. 29 — (CP). — Maj.-Gen. H. D. Graham of Trenton, arrived here Tuesday aboard the liner Empress of France on his way to Ottawa where he will take over the post of vice-chief of the Canadian general staff.

Maj.-Gen. Graham came from Britain where he spent two years as senior Canadian Army liaison officer.

Passengers aboard the Empress of France said the liner caught the tail-end of a hurricane that menaced Atlantic shipping but had no trouble.

"Luckily we were about 600 miles away from the centre of the storm and the ship wasn't delayed at all," said Captain H. H. Davies master of the liner.

SOME CANADIAN AND U.S. boys with English-speaking union scholarships arrived in London to study for a year in British public schools. Similarly British students are coming to this continent to study in American schools. Here Oliver G. Bruton of Lawrenceville, N.J., is welcomed by the blue coated H. Horton of Christ's hospital where Oliver will study. Looking on are N. H. C. De Jongh of Christ's hospital, similarly attired, and some of the American party. The uniforms look quite formidable to our lads who do not know yet whether it will be necessary for them to wear them.

Britons Told More Effort Now Required

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP) — Britons who recently were congratulated by Sir Stafford Cripps on their recovery achievements now are being told what further effort is required.

While the Chancellor of the Exchequer consulted with Canadian and United States officials on future trade and financial policies, his information service at home prepared this "report to the nation:"

"In the first half of this year Britain's exports were nearly one-third above the 1938 level but this was only enough to earn 16 shillings sixpence ($3.30) for every pounds worth of imports. (The pound is worth approximately $4).

"For the time being United States aid is helping to bridge this gap. But when this aid finishes—in 1952 at the latest—we must pay 20 shillings in the pound for everything we want to buy abroad.

"Conclusion: That will mean exporting at least one-fifth more than in the first half of 1948—as well as producing more for the home market."

"Report to the Nation" is published by the government in United Kingdom newspapers to keep citizens informed about the progress of the battle for economic recovery.

The report promised hard sledding ahead although the deficit in overseas trade was cut from £630,000,000 ($2,520,000,000) in 1947 to £140,000,000 during the first six months of 1948 and factories are making one-quarter more than in 1938..

"That is good—but not enough," said the report.

Convention Planned

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP). — The 15th annual convention of the Ontario section of the C.C.F. party will be held here Oct. 7-9, it was announced Tuesday. Some 300 delegates are expected, representing each of the 83 Federal ridings in the province.

W. Macdonald, M.C., Rhodes Scholar from the University of British Columbia; and D. G. Anglin, Toronto, from the University of Toronto.

Accused Denies Knowledge Of How Girl Met Death

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 29 —(CP).—A verdict in the murder trial of Richard Rivers, 20, accused of strangling his attractive 21-year-old sister-in-law in a hotel room, may be reached late today.

The husky Ojibway Indian from the Mississagi reservation about 90 miles east of here was testifying in his own defence when court adjourned early Tuesday due to illness of a juror.

His story, told under questioning by defence counsel Ian Munro, parallelled a statement he is said to have given police following his arrest last July 27. He said that the night of July 22 he took his sister-in-law, his brother's estranged wife, to his hotel room in Blind River, 96 miles east of here.

Didn't Know of Death

He said he and the half-Indian girl drank beer and whisky and had sexual intercourse—"She was not undressed but only had her slacks off," he said—and that he "passed out" and knew nothing of how the girl met death.

The young woman, beaten about the head and strangled by a man's belt drawn tightly about her throat, was found dead on the hotel room bed. She was naked except for a pink sweater rolled up to her neck.

The first defence witness called after the crown closed its case at noon Tuesday was Dr. J. N. Senn, psychiatrist and superintendent of the Ontario mental hospital at Hamilton. He said he examined Rivers 14 days after the slaying and found no evidence of mental illness.

Cross-examined by crown attorney A. A. Wishart, he said Rivers would know the difference between right and wrong and would be responsible for any of his actions. Normal mental age is 14 to 16 years and Rivers had a mental age of "well over 12 years."

Mrs. Millie Rivers, mother of the accused, said she led police to her son's hiding place in bushland two miles from his home July 27.

She said Richard came home the morning of the slaying, July 23, and went hunting. She went to Blind River that afternoon, heard about her daughter-in-law's death. She said that, back home, she asked Richard:

"What did you do?"

"I don't know," he replied.

M.P. Bets $1,000 Diefenbaker To Win

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—(CP). — Karl Homuth, 55-year-old Commons member for Waterloo South, has bet $1,000 that John Diefenbaker will lick Premier George Drew and all other candidates for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party.

The voting takes place Saturday.

The bet was made Tuesday morning, said Homuth, with four persons, two of whom are from Toronto. He would not divulge their names, other than: "Certainly none of them are George."

Homuth said he made the bet because he has "utmost confidence" that Diefenbaker will come through.

Mr. Philip Leahy has gone to Toronto to resume his studies at the School of Medicine, University of Toronto.

Canada Will Share

MONTREAL, Sept. 29 — (CP). — Canada will do its full part in supporting the European recovery plan as soon as its financial position permits, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told delegates to the American Association of port authorities convention here Tuesday night.

Four-Weeks Strike Costs Church $42,000

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29—(CP). —Rev. C. H. Dickson, book steward, Monday told the 13th general council of the United Church "the spirit of give and take between labor and management has declined."

In a report on the United Church's book and publishing department, Dr. Dickson referred to recent wage negotiations with printing employees in Toronto. He said a four-week-strike had "cost the church $42,000."

Collective bargaining," he said, "develops a shrewd legalistic attitude towards the letter of agreement and tends to cause a decline in the good spirit."

Horsemeat In Quebec?

QUEBEC, Sept. 29 — (CP). — The possibility that sale of horse meat for human consumption might be legalized here was indicated Tuesday when the administrative committee requested city attorney Godbout to look into legal aspects of the matter.

Girls Charged

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP). — Five 16-year-old Toronto girls, who were given a lift by a Toronto motorist as they hitch-hiked into the city on Sunday, were arrested Monday night on charges of theft from the apartment of the motorist. Police say the motorist took the girls to his apartment and gave them liquor. Some earrings, a cigaret lighter and other articles were taken from the apartment.

PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN and John Nance Garner, former vice-president of the U.S. (right), are shown chatting on the lawn of Garner's home in Uvalde, Texas. En route to San Antonio, the president's party stopped off for an early morning visit with Garner. Truman, who said he does not make any political speeches on Sunday, spoke informallly to the crowd assembled in front of Garner's home and then proceeded to church services in San Antonio. The grand old man of the Democratic party, Garner, who has been in retirement from politics since his split with the late President Roosevelt over the third term issue, gave Mr. Truman a welcome and reception that left no doubt of his support for the president.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
can threaten your looks and popularity!

ARE YOU too pale and pepless to be popular? Are your listless, languid ways depriving you of dates and romance? If the answer is "yes", a blood condition may be to blame. Perhaps you have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

Borderline Anemia means that your red blood cells are too pale and puny and weak to transmit all the energy your body needs. Many women—many men and children, too—go dragging their weary way through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

So, if this Borderline Anemia is depriving you of pep and energy and healthy color, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size—to help restore your usual vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions. Always consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood! Then energy and color can come surging back! You can get some fun out of life again!

*A mild anemia resulting from a nutritional deficiency of iron.

INTERIOR DECORATING: "My daughter, 17 years old, is entering fifth form this year. Her mind is set on interior decorating but we have no such course in our school. Can you tell me where to apply or where to direct her?"

Write to Principal Fred Haines, Ontario College of Art. The college boasts a school of design which would be, I think, just what you want.

CANNING BOOK: "Where can I get a government bulletin on canning? I would like to can my own tomatoes."

Write to Consumer Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The small booklet is concise, accurate and helpful.

UNIVERSITY TRAINING: "How much would it cost to send my son to university? He is 19, has his senior matriculation and wants to take up electrical engineering. He wants to work this year and save up some money. But if he entered university this year he could go to Ajax. I understand this is the last year. I could board him at home for nothing."

Engineering fees are $341 a year. Books add another $50-$60 approximately. Then, of course, there is lunch money and car fare. If your son had high standing in his exams his principal could apply for a scholarship for him or some sort of financial help. By and large a year at U. of T. takes the better part of $1,000.

DISPLAY WORK: "I am a saleslady in a ladies' ready-to-wear shop in our town and do a lot of window dressing and display work with linens, sports wear and lingerie. Where can I write for cities' illustrations or a course to help me plan my windows?"

We haven't been able to locate a correspondence course for you. But there is an excellent American monthly magazine called Display Work. It is published by Display Advertising Company, 1209 Sycamore Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. In it you will find a fund of material to help you.

Fires Burning Northern Woods

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP)— Eleven fires were reported burning in Northern Ontario as the fire hazard continued high in the clear, dry weather. There was no sign of general rain in the danger areas.

There were three main fires in the tinder-dry Sault Ste. Marie-Blind River area. Two fires in Grasset Township, 40 miles east of the Sault—one covering 200 acres and the other 25—have been burning in second growth timber for the last five days. The other main blaze covers 100 acres in Montgomery Township in the Blind River area, about half-way between Sudbury and the Sault.

Three other small fires in the Blind River region are reported being held.

In the Sudbury area, one small new fire was reported in Lampman Township and crews were en route to two others in McKim and Lumsden Townships. There also was a new outbreak in the Espanola region. Two fires previously reported near Sudbury now are being held or patrolled.

A fire covering 100 acres in Macpherson Township and another of 50 acres were the main danger spots in the North Bay area. Nine others reported earlier are under control now or being watched.

T. E. Mackey, Chief of the Ontario Forest Protection Service, said that all burning permits have been cancelled in the danger areas. Many of the fires now burning were believed to have been started by settlers burning their land or by careless campers.

Expedition Returning

STOCKHOLM — (CP). — The Swedish Albatross deep-sea expedition, which circumnavigated 45,000 miles of ocean, is expected back here at the end of September. The expedition has reportedly discovered a wealth of data and samples of ocean floor as well as several record depths.

'Churchill Arch' In New Commons

LONDON, Sept. 29 (CP). — A stone "Churchill Arch" in the new House of Commons again demonstrates that the wartime Prime Minister can be engaged in bitter political controversy and yet be above politics.

Even the Leftist members on government benches who yell their disapproval when Winston Churchill speaks have no complaint about the honors given freely to the man who led a united Britain in dangerous years.

They might have complained that the new House, rising with pride on the site of the old destroyed by German bombs, should not be designed to honor any single man. When the foundation stone was laid Prime Minister Attlee and Churchill himself spoke of the chamber as symbolical of free British institutions and the democratic rights shared by all.

Built of Old Stone

Now members of parliament entering the new chamber always will be reminded of Churchill. The arch, almost completed, has been built of battered and burned stones from the old chamber.

Workmen at the new chamber believe standing beneath the entrance archway which will bear his name was a favorite position of Churchill when the Battle of Britain was being fought and he would slip out of the chamber to read the latest reports of its progress.

The new chamber probably will not be opened for use for two years but much work is being done to improve the parliament buildings. When the chamber is opened, members will be able to reach ministerial offices by a subterranean passage dug within the last month.

Widen Manhunt Pembroke Area

PEMBROKE, Sept. 29 — (CP) —One of the greatest manhunts in the Ottawa Valley was touched off Monday night when the five-day search for Donald and Douglas Perreault spread into this Eastern Ontario section. The men are wanted for questioning in connection with the shooting last Thursday of two Montreal policemen.

Ontario and Quebec Provincial Police concentrated cars and road blocks along highways on both sides of the Ottawa River following a report that the pair had escaped the police dragnet and headed west.

The first tip originated with a gas station attendant near Pembroke. Another tip from a parish priest at Chapeau, Que., was reported to police and was responsible for the widespread search being instituted. No trace of either the men or the car could be found, and police finally abandoned the search.

PERPETUAL FLAME

The candles burned at funeral services are descendants of the earthen lamps found in the Christian catacombs at Syracuse. These lamps were kept constantly burning. As symbols of immortality, they were designed to ward off evil from deceased persons. The Syracuse lamps, in their turn, were born of an ancient world-wide tradition that maintained perpetual fires in veneration of the warmth and light of the hearth-fire, the sun and the moon.

Candidates For PC Leadership Air Their Views To Reporters

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 — (CP). — Candidates for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party met the press Tuesday and dealt with matters ranging from the Berlin airlift to the contentious freight-rate issue.

Premier Drew of Ontario was met by the newspaper men as he stepped off a plane from Toronto. He was friendly, but non-committal on the likely outcome of the party's national convention here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan and regarded by many as Mr. Drew's most serious opponent, held a press conference in the parliamentary press gallery. Most of the questions were preceded with the qualification — "if you were prime minister what would you do. . . ."

Donald Fleming, 43-year-old member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton, met reporters informally at a cocktail party tendered on his behalf by supporters from Quebec. Mr. Fleming, who does not drink or smoke, twirled a glass of ginger ale in his hand as he answered questions.

Defeat Predicted

Garfield Case, 49-year-old member of the Commons for Grey North in Ontario, chatted with newspaper men in his hotel lobby and in his room. He confessed that his defeat at the convention was being freely predicted, but he felt he could still win with the support of the "little man, whom I represent."

Mr. Drew declined to say what the outcome of the leadership voting will be on Saturday when the 1,311 delegates choose a successor to John Bracken, 65, who is retiring because of his age and ill-health.

Mr. Diefenbaker's 45-minute press conference ranged over a wide variety of topics. He said that the external affairs department has not kept Canadians informed on just what the country's international commitments are.

He intimated he felt that Canadian participation in the supplying of western Berlin would show that the Dominion is ready to back up her action with words.

On freight rates, he said that something must be done to wipe out the inequalities in the freight rate structure. He felt that government subsidies probably would provide the answer, although there might be some other solution.

Call New Conference

He said that as prime minister he would immediately call a new Dominion-provincial conference to iron out taxation rights so that social security measures could be provided on an equal basis across the country.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that he did not want to see a "Balkanized Canada." He wanted to see a united Canada and he believed that unity could be achieved despite the variety of political stripes in provincial legislatures.

"I foresee a Canada where everyone will be a Canadian with equal opportunities without regard for race or religion," he said.

Mr. Fleming said he would oppose the outlawing of the Communist party.

"If you outlaw the Labor Progressive party today, it will simply change its name and come up with a new title tomorrow," he said. "I think the law can be so framed as to deal with subversive elements."

Music Festival Of '49 Planned

EDINBURGH, Sept. 29.—(CP). —Plans for Edinburgh's third International Festival of Music and Drama in 1949 are being drawn up already.

This year's festival attracted some 500,000 persons to Edinburgh. Sales of tickets for concerts and other features exceeded £100,000 ($400,000).

"The first year (of the festival) was a daring experiment," said the Glasgow Herald in an editorial. "Before this year's repetition was attempted, fears were expressed in some quarters lest novelty should prove to have been the experiment's main attraction.

"Such fears have been triumphantly proved groundless, and it is without further misgivings on this count that plans for 1949 are already being formulated."

The Vienna philharmonic orchestra, which played at the first Edinburgh festival in 1947, has been asked to appear next year under the direction of Bruno Walter. Sir Thomas Beecham may conduct the Royal philharmonic orchestra at three concerts.

The Glyndebourne opera will make its usual appearance and there will be ballet, drama and Scottish exhibitions.

One of the most popular features of the 1948 festival was an adaptation of the Scottish pagean drama "Three Estates." It may become a regular feature.

Hold London Man For Stabbing Woman

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 29.—(CP).—Believed attacked with a knife in a field, Mrs. Edith Hipson, 32, of St. Thomas, today was taken to hospital suffering multiple stab wounds to her head and body. A man said to be her husband is held by police in connection with the assault.

Police said they had arrested Hilary Hipson, 37, of London and were holding him on a charge of intent to do actually bodily harm.

Hospital authorities were unable to say how deep the woman's wounds were, nor how seriously she was injured.

A knife believed used in the attack was recovered at the scene.

Canada Soon Have Role In Alliance

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (CP) Swiftly-marching events at home and abroad have pointed more clearly to the approaching moment when Canada and the United States will have to decide how and in what measure they may help strengthen the Western European alliance for a possible defensive war.

Tuesday the five-power Western alliance, meeting in Paris, started organization of combined land, sea and air commands and was reported to have on its agenda consideration of material aid, short of immediate participation, that they could expect from Canada and the United States.

Here in the United States, a most significant warning to Russia was voiced by Governor Thomas Dewey of New York, Republican presidential candidate, declaring that a presidential-election conflict would not weaken the solidarity of the United States against totalitarian ambitions.

Financial Experts

At this moment there are in Washington the finance ministers and top financial advisers from 47 countries, here for the annual meeting of the governors of the international fund and world bank.

It is common knowledge that they are deeply concerned—those who are in the western alliance and the proposed North Atlantic security system—in the methods by which weakened European democracies may be strengthened to meet the emergency if Russia forces a conflict.

Canada's finance minister, Douglas Abbott, told a press conference here Tuesday Canada had been a heavy supplier of war material and could be again. But he did not pursue the subject.

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP MAYNARD

Married Half a Century Family Honors Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Maynard, 188 Edingurgh Street, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday, September 24, with a gathering of relatives and close friends to whom a buffet lunch was served, and later they were at home to many friends who called offering good wishes.

Golden wedidng gift to the couple from their family was a pair of lovebirds and a gold watch. Flowers, fruit and numerous other gifts came from friends, and among the messages of congratulation, a cable from England.

Guests from out-of-town at the celebration were: their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Dobson (Mabel) with Mr. Dobson and daughters, Phyllis, Dolly and Nancy; their daughter, Mrs. Peter Henrikson (Hazel) with Bobby and Sharon; their granddaughter, Mrs. James Mitchell with Mr. Mitchell and daughter Donna Mae; their grandson, Mr. Walter Craig; also Mr. Del Lemee, all of Toronto. Mrs. F. Connors, Mr Harry Connors, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hughes, all of Bowmanville.

Open House at YWCA Reviews Season's Program

"Open House" was held at the YWCA on Tuesday evening. It is an annual event when new and prospective members are given a revue of the activities open to them and meet the staff personnel. Former members found some changes in the Swimming and Gymnasium programs and new clubs and groups planned for this fall with a special "Fun-Nite" to be held each Tuesday that will provide something to interest every girl from 18 to 35. The latter offers a reduced rate for season's membership and a weekly fee for those who can's come regularly.

Something new that will appeal to many is a six week's course by the Health Education Department offering coaching in badminton, basket-ball, volley-ball, gym routines and folk dancing by director Miss C. Littlefield.

New groups already planned are "Young Married Ladies' Club," "Surrounding Community Club" and "Live Y'ers" for Grade 7 and 8 pupils, and an invitation is open to organize a new club with friends of similar interests. Work secretaries, Mrs. Annabeth Wright and Miss Lenore Edwards will be available for assistance, but all clubs are self-governing and plan and carry out their own program.

Swimming clubs are also open in the schedule arranged by instructor Mrs. Jessie Powell, to ladies, seniors, juniors and minnows. She also offers classes for school girls' and adults, beginners to advanced, and life saving.

Miss Leta H. Brownscombe, general secretary, has a welcome waiting for every girl entering the YWCA and they will be assisted in obtaining membership by desk secretaries, Mrs. Doris Pruner, Mrs. Connor and Miss Beals.

A sing song and get-together period was conducted by Miss Flora Metcalfe of the Girls' Council. Mrs. M. McBride was pianist and Miss Lillian Wood entertained with a whistling solo and a novelty, singing "Show me the way to go home" with every word turned backward. Two-minute speakers were Mrs. P. Rowell, president of the Borad of Directors, Miss Kay Hales, delegate to the National Convention in Winnipeg, Mrs. Wm. Graff, sponsor of the funnite committee, and directors of each department.

Swimming exhibition was by: beginners, Carol Howe, Doreen Churchill, Nancy Butler, Eileen Hall; intermediates, Sally Ann Fee, Nancy Armstrong, Barbara Malsch, Evamary Redout; life saving, Helen Finn and Eileen Cody, nine and ten years old; adults, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Davidson; diving, Mrs. Dinesen, Mrs. Wilson, Pat Williams; and Marilyn McInroy; Ornamental Club, Isabel Crary, Jill Groombridge, Joan Coombes and Norma Gant.

In the gym: club swingers, Madge Banks, Lillian Wood, Esther Hopkins, Alice Bond, Anne Price, Geraldine Vinnette, Irene Hotrum; flying ring and mat work, Maxine Johnson, Marie Thwaite, Pat Peel; Teen age Mexican dance, Joan O'Dette, Kitty Flowers, Violet Sanderson, Christine Monk; senior ballet, Gipsy and Butterfly dances, Melvalee Doxiee, Daphne Hayward, Mary Dodds and Doris Simmonds; wand, leg, circle routines and Danish Fundamentals, Grace Hinds, Effie Elise, Hazel Wilson, Lillian Wood, Ethel Hopkins, Jean Rose, Madge Banks, Velma Wilson, Violet Wilson, Berta McBride, Sophie Zakos, Nellie Tinney, Irene Hotrum, Alice Bond, Lena Panter, Margaret McIlmoyle, Gerald ine Vinette, Anne Price.

Selections from the 20 Plus Club Operetta, given early this year, were sung by the stars, Nicolette Humphrey and Donald Landry.

Models of the '38 Club giving a revue of their Fashion Show bringing styles from 1890 to the present were: Geraldine Dunford, Flora Metcalfe, Madeline Kearns, Elva Boate, Alice Clark, Doris Munroe and Allwen Jones.

For the residence skit, Miss Hazel Wilson interviewed Helen Walker and Audrey Macklin of Cobourg who wished to obtain accommodation. For comedy, scenes at the annual rummage sale were depicted by Elaine Adler, Hilda Thurston, Aileen Paton and Doris Munroe.

Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. W. J. Gordon, social convener of the Board, and her committee members. Tea was poured by Mrs. Paige Rowell and Mrs. H. C. Southern.

May Be 6 More Nominated To Head P.C.'s

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (CP)—As many as 10 men may be nominated for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party at the three-day national convention opening here tomorrow, but advance indications are that four or more than five men will allow their names to go on the ballot.

Premier Drew of Ontario, John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, Donald Fleming, member for Toronto Eglinton, and Garfield Case, member for Grey North in Ontario, are already in the running and plan to fight it out on the convention floor.

E. D. Fulton, 32-year-old member of the Commons for Kamloops in British Columbia and president of the Young Progressive Conservative Association of Canada, said he would disclose today whether he will allow his name to go before the convention. Even if he declines to stand, there is a possibility that he will be nominated.

J. M. Macdonnell, president of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada and member of the Commons for Muskoka-Ontario, also is expected to be nominated. Because he is only a year younger than John Bracken, 65, who is retiring because of age and ill-health, it is not expected that he will agree to stand.

Other Possibilities

John T. Hackett, member of the Commons for Stanstead in Quebec and past president of the Canadian Bar Association, may be nominated along with Ivan Sabourin of St. Johns, Que., party leader in Quebec. Mr. Sabourin has already stated that he will not be a candidate.

Hon. William D. Herridge of Ottawa, brother-in-law of the late Viscount Bennett, former Conservative prime minister, may also be named as a potential leader. Mr. Herridge, a member of the Privy Council, sponsored a "New Democracy" movement about eight years ago but failed to win marked support. At one time, he was Canada's Minister to Washington.

The tenth nominee may be Howard Green, member of the Commons for Vancouver South and a candidate for the leadership in 1942. Mr. Green has stated that he will not run but some of the delegates feel that he should.

Potent Peacemaker

PARIS, Sept. 29—(CP).—To oil the wheels—and delegates—at United Nations Assembly, Harry, famed bartender in Place Vendome, has evolved a United Nations cocktail of man-killing proportions. Recipe includes Vermouth (French), Vermouth (Italian), Scotch whisky, rye whisky (Canadian), aquavit (Danish), vodka (Russian), Geneva (Dutch) and Kummel (Polish. Price is 250 francs—"a dollar a crack." Effect is said to be hair-raising.

Six Fined

Peterborough police have been cracking down on minors drinking in beverage rooms during the past few weeks. Today the first ones of what is expected to be a large number, paid their fines in magistrate's court.

On pleas of guilty Donald Heasman, Ross Johnston, R. Young, Robert Carney and Ross Hayman, all of Peterborough, paid fines totalling $12.50.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press.

NANKING — Former Premier Chang Chun declared China should from an economic bloc in Asia to include "a peaceful and democratic Japan." Just back from Tokyo where he talked with Gen. MacArthur, Chang said in a radio broadcast China had no reason to fear that is ancient enemy might re-arm.

BATAVIA, Java—The republican defence ministry said fierce fighting between the Republican and Communist troops was in progress near Wonogiri, south of Soerakarta, A communique, broadcast on Jogjakarta radio, said the road between Wonogiri and Communist-held Ponorogo was cut when Red forces captured the village of Sidohardjo.

Back Pension Plan

PARIS—A U.N. staff pension scheme was endorsed in principle by the budgetary committee of the General Assembly. The scheme provides for a general pension system for international civil servants, including payment of benefits to widows and orphans and disability compensation.

TORONTO — An ambulance rushed coffee and sandwiches to tired firemen, fighting a fire that destroyed the shipping sheds of the Insulation Products plant in Toronto's north-eastern Don Valley. The fire still was burning early today. Believed fed by an oil binder used in the stored insulation, the flames also destroyed a box car on a nearby railway siding and a truck at the side of the building.

TORONTO — Robert I. Partridge, 71, a former Toronto newspaperman, died after a lengthy illness. Born near London, Eng., he came to Canada 45 years ago and worked for the Toronto Telegram and the old Mail and Empire. He was also on the office staff of the Toronto Hydro Electric System for 20 years.

TORONTO—The Toronto Board of Education's management committee recommended Toronto teachers should have a patch test for tuberculosis every two years. The recommendation said the teachers could, if they wished, have a chest X-ray on their own time while the patch test could be given in the schools.

Changes Mind

LOS ANGELES.—Hedy Lamarr has changed her mind about suing Look magazine for $200,000 damages because of a picture she alleged was of her and indicated she had her nose revamped by a plastic surgeon. Her lawyer, Jerry Giesler, filed a dismissal of the action, but said he couldn't comment on the reasons for dropping the suit.

HOLLYWOOD. — Actor Errol Flynn and his wife, Nora, are "as happy as a pair of cooing doves," his studio reported. Only Monday the studio quoted Mrs. Flynn as saying a serious domestic siuation had developed.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — An unidentified 17-year-old girl toppled into the path of a subway train Tuesday and was run over by three cars but escaped unhurt. Police said the girl fell between the tracks and was untouched as the three cars rumbled over her.

TORONTO. — Even a fast-moving ambulance was no match for the stork. On a three-minute trip to hospital a six-pound baby boy was born to Mrs. Viola Beacock of suburban East York.

KITCHENER.—Walter E. Kuener, 34, died suddenly Tuesday at his home outside this city. He was a member of the Kitchener Chamber of Commerce. He is survived by his widow, parents, three brothers and a sister.

HAMILTON. — A shortage of baskets is hampering the peach and grape harvest. A basket manufacturer at nearby Grimsby said baskets have been so scarce that growers stand in line at factories trying to get enough. Some 15,000,000 baskets are used annually by Niagara fruit growers.

TEL AVIV — Premier David Ben-Guiron of Israel told the State council the fate of Israel will be determined in Palestine, either in battle or in peace negotiations between Arabs and Jews, and not in United Nations conference rooms in Paris.

TORONTO — Mrs. Marjorie Lowrey, a Toronto housewife and mother of six children, learned she had won a three-day plane trip to New York for herself and her 14-year-old son, Eddie. The prize trip is the result of a letter, written in a contest, saying she would like to revisit the city she last saw in 1927 because the trip would be educational for Eddie.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — An unidentified man went to his death over the American Falls. Police said three tourists reported they had seen a middle-aged man go over the Cataract while they stood at Prospect Point. The body was sighted floating in the lower river a few minutes later, but was not recovered.

VANCOUVER — George Wallace, 35-year-old Indian, was charged with murder in connection with the death of Andrew Kirkpatrick, 66. Witnesses at a coroner's inquest testified they saw Wallace strike the victim and then search his pockets.

Trans-Jordan Makes Plane Protest To UN

PARIS, Sept. 29. — (AP).—Trans-Jordan today protested to the United Nations the shooting down of an Arab transport last week by an Israeli fighter plane.

The Trans-Jordan government said in a note to Secretary-General Trygve Lie that the air incident was a serious breach of the Arab-Jewish truce in Palestine.

Three passengers were killed, including two British newspaper men.

Jewish officials have said the Arab plane was over Israeli territory and that warning shots first were fired.

WHITE HAT FOR WINTER—From here it looks like a pleasant sea of snow white hats for fall and winter, just about the prettiest snow scene possible. All shades of white and off-white in fabric, felt and velvet have been worked into pretty hats ready to set off dark winter costumes. White felt is used for this hat, made important by feather trim. The felt is draped with elephant gray velvet and trimmed with high soaring white and orange feathers, a fascinating color combination.

DOROTHY DIX

Allergic to Children Cause For Not Marrying Widower

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a woman 26 years old, very much in love with a widower who is 35 and the father of two children. He loves me, but is very attached to his children. But I can't tolerate children. I loathe them.

Dorothy Dix

Should I marry this widowed man, whom I love, and put up with his children? Or should I marry another man who loves me? Please help me to decide this question, for I do not know which way to turn.

CONFUSED

ANSWER: If you are allergic to children, I certainly would advise you not to marry the widower. For you will bring misery on yourself, the widower, and the innocent little children.

Let's begin with the widower. He is evidently a fine man who is devoted to his two little children for whom he feels a particular tenderness because they are motherless. If you should marry him, you would wreck his life because your aversion to children would make you treat them unkindly, and that would break their father's heart. No man could be put in a crueler position than having to decide between a wife and his children. There would be no happiness in such a marriage for anyone.

Jealousy Inevitable

And certainly you would find no happiness in a marriage in which you would be consumed with jealousy over the children, for they would stand as a perpetual barrier between you and their father, and you would know that he would always resent your treatment of the kids and would be trying to protect them.

And as for the children, get out your Bible and read what it says about its being better for anyone to put a millstone around their necks and drown themselves in the sea than to offend one of these little ones.

No one who doesn't love children should never marry. There is too much danger of a baby sneaking in on them. They are cute little things, you know, and awfully sly.

✦ ✦ ✦

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 13 years old. Make good marks at school. But the problem is that I am very changeable. Even my parents admit this. I change my feelings and taste practically every week. I like a girl one week, dislike her then next. Same way about colors and what I eat. I keep going around in circles.

Will you please give me some advice on how to adjust myself?

J. M.

✦ ✦ ✦

ANSWER: Don't worry about that my dear. Nature will take care of the taste of adjusting you. What you are going through is just growth and your experience merely shows that you have a better mind than most children of you r age. The reason I am always begging and pleading with you bobby-soxers not to marry until you are grownup and your taste and habits and characters have jelled, so to speak, is because you are so immature that you do not know what you are going to be yourselves, still less what you will want in a husband.

Don't think of yourself as being fickle. Just realize that you are developing. You won't be going around in circles after you are adult. You will know what you want.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

Thursday, Sept. 30,

An opportunity of far-reaching and radical magnitude, is read from the current almost static trends. This promises an exciting and adventurous opening in which far fields are a most welcome change from the humdrum and stagnate. It will demand skill, ingenuity, boldness and a desire for romance and high-tension experiences, but for most circumspect management, calling for security and permanency, even in the very whimsical and unique situation. Make all agreements wisely but grasp opportunity on its happy upturn crest.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may expect the sudden and breath-taking experience or an adventure or strange and far-reaching opening that may unlock doors to a new life. This with swift and exciting change of scene, new interests and perhaps a place in the limelight. It may loosen irksome bend of the humdrum and commonplace, with novelty, or unique developments. Grasp all this with due decorum, based upon proper rationalizing of spectacular commitments and fulfillments.

A child born on this day is richly endowed with the elements of conspicuous success, based upon logic, reason, and with sane powers to actuate its conduct. Romance and change beget an unique career and public acclaim.

Bernice Slater Married At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 29 (ENS). — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lakefield, was the setting Saturday afternoon for the lovely wedding of Bernice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Slater, to Ralph Charles Beavis, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beavis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Kaye, and Mrs. Guy Peel played the wedding music. Miss Jean Clark sang "O Perfect Love" prior to the bride's entrance and "With This Ring" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with ruffles hemline, slight train and long pointed sleeves. The sweetheart neckline was embroidered with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was of embroidered net caught to a wreath of orange blossoms and braidwork and she carried American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Clinton Stewart and Miss Elizabeth Slater, sisters of the bride were charming attendants. The former, as bridesmaid, was gowned in turquoise nylon sheer with ruffled neckline and carried a cascade of pink roses and carnations. The latter was frocked in a similar gown of peach nylon sher and carried a cascade of pink and blue carnations. Each wore long matching gloves and ruffled headdress.

Mr. Kenneth Beavis of Toronto was his brother's groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Clinton Stewart and Mr. Kenneth Rollins.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Slater received her guests in a black figured dress with black hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother in a grey figured dress with black hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Assisting with the serving were the folowing friends of the bride: Misses Helen McGlynn, Ellen Griffin, Hazel Ryan, Jan Robson, Ruth Boyce, Ivene Boyce and Joyce Godfrey.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for a trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. For travelling the bride wore a dress of medium blue, navy serge coat, with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She carried furs.

They will reside on the Lakefield highway.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. K. Beavis, Mr. and Mrs. C. LeMay, Mr. and Mrs. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. McIntyre and Miss Kathleen Slater, all of Toronto; Mrs. N. Finley, Bobcaygeon; Mr. and Mrs. W. Slater and Mr. Ross Slater, Cannington.

Nelson-Lonsberry Autumn Wedding Held In Warsaw

Warsaw United Church parsonage was the setting Saturday afternoon for the lovely autumn wedding of Jean Lenore, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Lonsberry to Sherman Andrew, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Nelson. The Rev. E. Unstead officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of traditional satin fashioned on princess lines with tight fitting sleeves and yoke of nylon net. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

Miss Eva Bolton was bridesmaid wearing a lovely frock of pink sheer, with full shirt and off the shoulder drape. Her headdress was of small pink flowers and she carried a bouquet of white gladiolis. Mr. Mervin Nelson was his brother's groomsman.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents when the bridal party received, assisted by Mrs. Lonsberry wearing a dress of printed green silk and corsage of roses. Also receiving was Mrs. Nelson, the groom's mother gowned in black printed jersey and wearing a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left later on a motor trip to Ottawa, the bride wearing a suit of blue grey with black accessories.

On return they will reside in Warsaw.

IODE Chapter 'Adopts' Family

NORWOOD, Sept. 29—(ENS)—The first fall meeting of the 40th Northumberland Chapter of the I.O.D.E., was held in the Parish Hall Thursday. Mrs. A. M. Weir, Regent presiding.

It was decided that the Chapter would not have a booth at the Fair this year.

Report on overseas boxes sent during the summer months was given by Mrs. Gill. An additional family in Wales has been adopted by the chapter and in future will receive boxes. Mrs. J. R. Baskin and Mrs. C. H. Copp will be in charge of October boxes, and these with overseas knitting will be on display at the Fair.

Plans for fall activities were made and include a salvage drive, home-baking sale and tea, and a Fashion show or concert.

Following the closing exercises, Mrs. Weir was hostess at the tea hour.

Barbara Phillips Bride Of James Nealey

Immaculate Conception church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday when Barbara Ethel Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Phillips, Port Hope, became the bride of James Gerard Healey, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Healey, Douro. The Rev. Father Killen officiated.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the music was played by Mrs. C. O'Donnell. During the signing of the register Mrs. E. Collis sang "On This Day."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a peplum which finished in swallow-tail effect at the back and high notched neckline. Her veil of imported silk was caught to a headdress of white embroidered satin. She carried a cascade of Bettertime roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marcelle Healey, was frocked in ice blue nylon with square neckline, and bracelet length sleeves, bustle effect at the back extending to the hem line. Her headdress of matching blue was in Queen Anne style and she carried a cascade of rapture roses.

Groomsman was Mr. Vincent Healey and ushers were Lynne Phillips and Robt. Garvey.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Empress Hotel, where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of navy blue, wnth matching accessories, and corsage of Bettertime roses. The groom's mother also received gowned in grey crepe, black accessories and a corsage of Rapture roses.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Healey left on a wedding trip. For travelling the bride wore a loganberry gabardine suite, with black accessories and corsage of white 'mums. She carried a white shortie coat. The couple will live at 660 Armour Rd., Peterborough.

200 At Shower For Newlyweds

HAVELOCK, Sept. 29—(ENS)—About 200 guests were present at a miscellaneous shower held in Blairton Orange Hall in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Whitney of Havelock whose marriage took place recently. The bride was formerly Marjorie Ellis of Belmont township.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts which were arranged on a large table decorated in blue and white. The presentation address was read by Miss Mildred Ellis.

An enjoyable evening was spent in round and square dancing.

Those attending from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nicholson of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ellis of Detroit, Mich.

A Man's Job, But Woman Does It

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 29 — (CP). — She admits it's no life for a lady, but North America's first woman parks superintendent, Mrs. Frances B. Kannowski, of Grand Forks, N.D., has "enjoyed it tremendously."

The superintendent of a 210-acre park system in a city of 26,000, visited Niagara Falls today, with Americans en route to Boston for the annual convention of the American Institute of Park Executives.

"In many ways it is a man's job," Mrs. Kannowski conceded.

SLUGGER JOE DIMAGGIO and the New York Yankees won another rooter in their battle for the American League pennant honors when the home-run hitter went to Jolie, Ill., to keep a two-weeks-old date with 11-year-old Billy Provance. Little Billy, who aspires to become a big league ball player in spite of having lost his left arm in a merry-go-round accident last July, is shown with DiMaggio as the latter spent two hours helping Billy study history and giving him tips on how to be a diamond star.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Fleming Mackell could be the answer to Conn Smythe's prayer. For years the Toronto Maple Leafs' manager has been searching for an Irish hockey player with the skill and fight of King Clancy, Hec Kilrea and Frankie Finnigan. Mackell's showing to date at the St. Catharines training camp indicates he may be the man.

The stocky, 19-year-old right winger led the American Hockey League in scoring last year and has been one of the leading scorers in training workouts. Captain Teeter Kennedy leads with 15 scoring points, while Mackell and Max Bentley share second spot with 13 each.

Mackell was sent to Pittsburgh Hornets last year after three games with the Leafs. The year before he led St. Michael's College to the Memorial Cup. His father was a member of the Ottawa Senators in the early 1920's.

Lanky Ken Charlton leads the individual scoring parade in the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union.

Statitics compiled by the Canadian Press and released Monday at Winnipeg, show the Saskatchewan Roughrider halfback with 25 points in six games. Charlton last week-end added a touchdown to his previous total of 20 points — from two touchdowns and 10 singles—to move ahead of the former leader, Bob Sandberg of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, idle last week.

Gordie Brydson, professional at Toronto Mississauga, winner of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association tournament, was Tuesday re-elected as president of the CPGA, at Vancouver.

The Association also decided to split its divisions into five instead of the present 11 zones, with presidents of each division to serve on the executive as vice-presidents.

The new five-division setup will be made up of the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, Prairies and West Coast.

Lorne Carr, former National Hockey League star, has been reappointed coach of Calgary Buffaloes in the newly organized Western Canada Junior Hockey League, it was announced Tuesday. The club wound up in the second place behind Lethbridge Native Sons in the Southern Alberta junior circuit last season.

Sara Hyland, a pacer owned by James Macklin of Oswego, N.Y., dropped dead after crossing the finish line in the fifth race at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N.Y., Tuesday night. The horse staggered badly as she came to the wire, last in the field. Driver Charlie Fleming pulled her up but she fell to the track. The track veterinarian said it was a heart attack.

The race was won by Batter Up.

The National Hockey League Montreal Canadiens shut out the American Hockey League Buffalo Bisons 5-0 Tuesday night for the Canadiens' third victory in a three-game exhibition series.

The Canadiens scored five goals in the second period.

Centre Billy Reay sparked the Montreal attack with two tallies within a minute. Elmer Lach also sank two goals.

Barbara Ann Scott, Olympic and world figure skating champion, will skate next month in her first appearance in Owen Sound.

Kinsmen Club officials said Tuesday night Miss Scott has consented to open a hockey game. She will skate between periods of the game.

All proceeds will help further the work of the Kinsmen.

TRIED HARD—Dootch Vitarelli tried hard and was in on three goals last night in Huntsville but the Petes still dropped a 12-9 OLA playoff decision.

Ranger Team Bigger, Younger

By NORMAN ALSTEDTER

LAKE PLACID, N.Y., Sept. 29 (CP)—The youth movement started by Manager Frank Boucher has taken hold in his New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

The 47-year-old Boucher, who expects any moment to become a grandfather, emphasized in an interview at the Blue Shirts training camp that the average age of the nine forwards currently slated for the Ranger roster is only 23—years younger than last year's team.

"And we are getting much bigger fellows these days," said the former star Ranger centre who capped a 25-year professional career when he became Rangers' manager in 1946.

But despite the fact the Rangers have a "reliable" defence for the first time since before the war, Boucher is making no predictions of how the Rangers will fare this season.

Last year he made a perfect score in a pre-season prediction of how the six NHL teams would finish. It was in this order: Toronto, Detroit, Boston, New York, Montreal and Chicago.

This year, he said all the teams are strengthened to such an extent it is impossible to predict how they will fare.

TINY BRITISH COLONY

British Guiana is the only British possession on the South American mainland.

LIGHTWEIGHT CHALLENGER JESSE FLORES, Stockton, Cal., lies head down, feet up, after meeting a powerful right from champion Ike Williams, Trenton, N.J., during the tenth round of their title go in New York City. Williams turns to start for his corner as referee Mark Conn moves in to start the final count for the California challenger.

Zoldak Proves Worth Big Price

TORONTO, Sept. 29 (CP). — Now that Cleveland Indians are sprinting for the American League pennant, Bossman Bill Veeck is getting a bit more respect.

Some people who used to think he was just plain crazy, now think he's crazy like a fox.

A lot of them thought Veeck was stark and staring when he shelled out a reported $100,000 for Pitcher Sam Zoldak. For few fans thought he was worth it.

But Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan suggests that if the Indians win the flag "it would not be far-fetched to say that they could not have done so without Zoldak."

A Pitch In Time

Doug relates that Zoldak first pitched for Cleveland in late June and beat the Yankees 5-2.

Since "Sam put on a Cleveland uniform he has won eight games and lost six, a .571 percentage."

Vaughan figures that Zoldak gave Manager Lou Boudreau a pitching staff "which would remain workable despite Lou's habit of tossing a dozen or more hurlers into a contest."

Clouting Catcher

Another vital factor in the Indians' flag hunt was the surprise hitting this year of Catcher Jim Hegan, says Vaughan.

"Over the stretch," reports Vaughan, "he collected 39 safeties including nine doubles, two triples and a home run for a torrid .361 average.

"Unless it's Hegan himself, there isn't a soul in the wigwam expects him to continue that pace, but the opinion is equally unanimous that his recently-acquired, flat-footed stance is going to make him a far more dangerous threat at the plate in the year ahead."

Britain Cops Prizes

LONDON — (CP). — Britain was recently awarded first prize at the International Film Festival for Sir Laurence Olivier's production of Hamlet. Britain also won three more prizes — for the best story script, the best scenery and photography.

Royals Blank Syracuse 4-0

By The Associated Press

Montreal Royals are only a step away from winning the International Baseball League's Shaughnessy playoffs and a berth in the Little World Series.

Manager Clay Hopper's pennant-winning Royals downed Syracuse Chiefs 4-0 Tuesday night to take a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven final series.

Hopper has selected right-hander Al Zachary (4-3) to try for the clincher tonight against Syracuse's Dixie Howell (17-12).

Jack Banta (19-7), a disappointment in the series up till Tuesday night, held the Chiefs to five hits, all singles. The Royal right-hander and loop strike-out king fanned five and walked only two in outpitching Johnny Hetki.

Banta and Hetki duelled on even terms until the fifth when the Royals broke a scoreless deadlock on Frankie Drews' error, a stolen base and Lou Welaj's single

The Royals iced the decision in the eighth on Bob Morgan's two-run homer. Hetki bowed out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth and Frank Seward allowed the Royals' final run in the ninth on Sam Jethroe's single and Al Gionfriddo's two-bagger.

Syracuse had Banta in trouble only in the fourth. With two on and one out Frank Davis beat out an infield hit but Kermit Wahl was out at the plate, Jim Bloodworth to Cliff Dapper when he attempted to score from second.

Alouettes Win 36-6 Over 'Cats, Next Hope: Argos

MONTREAL, Sept. 29. (CP)—Montreal Alouettes set their sights on overtaking the second-place Toronto Argonauts today, following their convincing 36-6 victory over Hamilton Wildcats before 9,000 Big Four fans here Tuesday night.

The revived Alouettes tackle Argos here Saturday in a game that will make-or-break their playoff hopes. An Alouette triumph will move them into a tie with Argos, giving each team identical records of three wins and three losses.

With all their injured players back in action Tuesday night, Alouettes gave their bestshowing of the season. Their last-half passing attack was too much for the Wildcats, who again displayed lack of staying power.

Steve Nemeth, who came to the Als from Baltimore Colts of the All-America conference, led the Montreal aerial offensive. He tossed perfect strikes to end Ralph Toohey for two touchdowns. He converted all five Montreal touchdowns and kicked a field goal.

The other Alouette touchdowns went to Glen Douglas, Bob Cunningham and Veteran Ches McCance. Fred Kijek kicked a single and big Herb Trawick accounted for the other two Montreal points when he tackled Gord Miller behind the Wildcat goal line for a safety touch.

Jim Oldenburg was the whole show as far as Hamilton was concerned, kicking two field goals to rack up all six Wildcat points.

With Hamilton leading 6-3 the turning point came when speedy Joey Pal and Glen Douglas combined for an 88-yard touchdown dash in the second quarter. With the ball on the Montreal 12-yard line, Pal sliced through a big hole and drove to the 50, reversed his field neatly and lateralled to Douglas who galloped the remaining yards unmolested to the major that sent the Als ahead 9-6.

Then Nemeth flipped a 35-yard pass to Toohey in the end zone to give Alouettes a 13-6 lead at half time.

GOOD FOR EIGHT TRICKS

NOBODY ever took more than one trick with an ace or a king. If your side holds all four aces and all four kings, you still have only eight trick-takers unless you can get additional tricks with lower cards. Despite the obvious fact, there are plenty of people who expect to bid for 13 tricks whenever they can take those eight, regardless of whether they have the secondary honors or suit-length which might prove productive of enough to make up the extra five required by a grand slam call.

4 NT	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
5 NT	Pass	6 ♦	Pass
7 NT

North's rebid of spades before the diamonds showed he had at least six cards of the first suit and only four of the second. South did not have an adequate number of cards to make it probable either suit would "break." And North did not have the required two cards to make it likely the six-card club suit, shown by its being bid thrice, would break. Despite those vital negative factors, South hulled his way into the No Trump grand slam as soon as North's 5-Spades response to the Blackwood showed the missing three aces and his 5-Diamonds showed the one missing king in response to the 5-No Trumps.

Besides the eight top-card trick-takers, North and South had two of the queens. In addition, if South finessed diamonds twice and hoped for an improbable 3-3 break there, he would have brought in that whole suit. But even that luck would have left him a trick shy of the necessary thirteen. So, when the heart 2 was led, brief study told him it was wise to take a sure one-trick licking by giving up a club.

The order of tricks was the heart A and K, club Q, spade K, club A and K, club 2 given up to the 10, heart 3 won by the Q, two more clubs and then the diamond K, diamond A and spade A. Without some better suit-fit or more secondary honors, South should have bid only a small slam, even after learning his side had all the aces and kings.

In what way can the bidding of spades and hearts by the opponents help North and South to reach their most profitable contract?

Salvation Army Couple Served 42 Years

LINDSAY, Sept. 29.—When Sr. Major Fred H. and Mrs. Johnston of the Salvation Army Corps at Lindsay depart from here shortly they will have completed between them nearly three-quarters of a century of service. Major Fred Johnston and his wife are retiring from army service in about a month's time. After leaving Lindsay they will serve for a short while on special duty at Noranda, Quebec.

Major Johnston has been with the Salvation Army for 42 years, and 40 years and seven months of that time has been spent as an officer. He joined the service at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, and his first post was at Orangeville, Ontario, in 1908, where he went as a lieutenant. Since then he has travelled to the East Coast and returned to Ontario in the work. The couple have been in Lindsay 18 months.

Members of the Lindsay corps honored the departing officers on Tuesday night last with the presentation of a box of candy and 42 new dollar bills.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will retire at Simcoe.

Havelock Man Given 5 Months

Carl Ellis, 32, of Havelock on Tuesday was sentenced to five months in the Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., when he was convicted on three charges of fraudulently obtaining money while representing himself to be an insurance agent.

The sentences will run concurrently. He was arraigned on five charges altogether, two of which were dismissed by the Magistrate. Ellis pleaded not guilty to all of them.

According to the evidence put forward by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.,

SIX-MONTHS-OLD WALKER is Norman Robert Kolreg of Lewiston, Maine, who started walking with the help of his mother at the age of eight days, and now dashes all over the house by himself. The precocious infant takes his solo strolls unaided.

Will Appeal Price Conviction

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP) — The right of the Prices Board to control prices after ceilings are lifted will be challenged in the Ontario Appeal Court. Counsel for James J. McGinn, a Toronto lumberman, announced Mr. McGinn would carry to the Appeal Court his fight against a conviction for charging prices that were "unreasonable and unjust."

McGinn was fined $3,000 by Magistrate T. S. Elmore and the conviction was upheld Monday by Judge T. H. Barton.

Evidence at his trial showed McGinn paid an average of $9.94 a keg for nails last winter—when they were in extremely short supply—and sold them for $12.96 a keg. Prices Board officials alleged he made a profit of more than $1,500 in a three-months period, instead of a normal profit of $900.

John B. Hamilton, counsel for McGinn, said the appeal would be carried to the Ontario Appeal Court. He argued that the nails were sold after the removal of ceilings and he terms "unreasonable and unjust" were ambiguous.

In dismissing the appeal, Judge Barton said "there is no doubt in my mind that the accused did charge prices that were unreasonable and unjust."

Roseneath News

Misses Edna and Marjorie Bogart of Toronto spent the week-end with Mrs. T. S. Coyle and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Coyle.

Mrs. R. Crego, Mrs. F. Lewis, Mrs. L. King, Miss Helen Arnold, public school teachers in Alnwick township and Miss Aureen Brown, Roseneath, teacher at Atkinson's school, attended a meeting of the Teachers' Institute held at Ottawa the latter part of the week.

Charles Sandercock, a former resident here and now of Saskatchewan, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Myra Blodgett, his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Sandercock and a number of nieces and nephews.

Dolores Lockhart of Hastings spent the week-end with her cousin, Eleanor Brown.

Mrs. Lorne Thackeray and Gaele spent the week-end in Peterborough with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCracken.

Misses Mae Thompson and Nina Bush spent Sunday at Burleigh Falls.

Rev. R. C. White was in Hastings on Sunday morning in charge of the United Church service while the church's minister, Rev. N. Coles was conducting anniversary services in Fenella United church on Mr. White's charge.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Annie Lapp included her daughter, Mildred Lapp, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, Elinor, Mr. and Mrs. Orra Dingman and sons Billie and Bobbie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Grigg, children Bonnie and Billie, and Mrs. O. Dingman Sr., all of Oshawa.

LONDON — (CP). — A sightseeing tour by a police mare recently gave London traffic some awkward moments. Breaking from an exercise string, she took in Trafalgar Square, the Embankment and Blackfriars Bridge — about three miles — before being "arrested."

Cavan Church Marks Anniversary

CAVAN, Sept. 29 (ENS)—The United Church at Cavan observed anniversary services on Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Gilbert, Baltimore, had charge of both services. In the morning the regular choir with Mrs. A. Kennedy at the organ led the singing. In the evening Mr. Gilbert preached from the text, "And onto one he gave five talents, to another two and to another one: to every one according to his several ability." His leading thought being that there is a work for every one to do and its faithfulnes: that counts.

The choir of St. Andrew's Church, Millbrook, led the singing in the evening with Miss Stella Hetherington accompanying. They sang as an anthem "Let the earth rejoice." And a mixed quartette, Mr. H. Ouelette, Miss Edith Elson, Mrs. Gordon Baker and Mr. D. McKnight sang "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Us." Mrs. Lawrence Winslow sang a solo entitled "I Walked Today with Jesus". The church was decorated with fall flowers and there was a splendid turn out for both services.

De Gaulle Supporters Purchase Paris Daily

PARIS, Sept. 29—(AP).—The afternoon newspaper field in Paris will be narrowed to four Thursday.

Paris-Presse, a strong supporter of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, announced Monday night it had purchased L'Intransigeant and will combine the two names in its new masthead—Paris Press-L'Intransigeant.

The editor of Paris-Presse, the widely-known Eve Curie, will remain as managing director.

Other afternoon newspapers in Paris are the Communist party-owned Ce Soir, the independent France Soir and the semi-governmental official Le Monde.

Memorial Lights, Scrolls Dedicated At Havelock

HAVELOCK, Sept. 29 — (ENS) — Havelock United Church was filled on Sunday evening for the dedication service of "The Memorial Lights and Scrolls."

A new lighting system has recently been installed in the church which is a great improvement to the appearance of the interior, the fixtures being in a very beautiful cathedral drop style. The cost of the new system was aproximately $1,200 with half of this amount being subscribed in "memoriam." The two scrolls on which were inscribed in gold lettering the names of those in whose memory the lights had been donated, were placed on a table in front of the pulpit, covered with the Christian flag.

Read Memorials

The president of the Women's Association and the president of the Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. R. Easterbrook and Mrs. G. W. Chiles officiated at the unveiling ceremony. Gerald Buchanan, chairman of the property committee, read the "memorials" for the west side of the church as follows:

Geoerge W. Chiles, donated by Mrs. G. W. Chiles and family.

The Roberts Family, donated by C. H. Roberts and family.

The Haig families, donated by Peter and Ben Haig and their families. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Denike, donated by their sons, Gordon and Wallace. Mrs. Margaret Coon, donated by her sister Miss Mary Seeney. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Seeney (vestibule light), donated by the Seeney family. James A. Denike, donated by his sister, Mrs. N. C. Stibbs.

James Watson, superintendent of the Sunday School, read the "memorials" for the east side of the church as follows:

Mrs. Charles Barton and grandson Ray, donated by the Barton family. Harrison and Nellie Wing, donated by daughters Lucy and Laura Belle. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hooper, donated by Miss Hazel Hooper. Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston, donated by the Johnston family. Reginald H. Parcels who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II, and his father J. Orville Parcels, donated by Mrs. O. Parcels and family. Mr. and Mrs. James H. Watson, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watson and family. Mr. and Mrs. W S. Davidson (the lighted bulletin on lawn), donated by the Davidson family.

The memorial scrolls were in memory of Mrs. Mabel Plunkett, donated by the Plunkett family, and Mrs. James Barlow, donated by the Barlow family. The scholls were carried to the front of the church by Wesley Johnston and Peter Haig and placed on each side of the front door while the congregation sang "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow."

Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh conducted the ceremony and told a true story of a church built in southern Europe during the 16th century which was known as "The House of Many Lamps" although no lighting system had been installed within its wails. Each worshipper carried a light to the service, therefore non-attendance on the part of the membership meant dark corners within the church.

Present Pageant

The theme "Ye are the light of the world" was further carried out in a pageant "The Lighted Torch" presented by the Young People's choir. "The Spirit of the Church" was taken by Helen Anderson; "Service" by Lillian Hayes; "Chivalry" by Gerald Melville; "Loyalty" by Ethel Menzies; "Brotherhood" by Bruce Melville.

Those taking part in the special vocal numbers were: Helen Anderson, Joan Dooley, Marie Vanderburgh, Joyce Agnew, Beulah Chase, Shirley Bennett, Beverley Bennett, Joan Graham and Elaine Graham. The choir entered the church in processional singing "Raise Our Banner" and marched out at the close of the service in recessional singing "Sun of My Soul".

The annual Rally Day service was held in the morning with Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh speaking on the "Christian Flag" and the meaning of the word "Gospel". The following members of the Sunday School teaching staff conducted the service: Marie Rowat, Eleanor Forsyth, Bruce and Gerald Melville. At this service the newly organized junior choir made its first appearance, singing two anthems with Richard Vanderburgh taking the solo part.

Both choirs were under the direction of W. M. Platt with Mrs. Platt at the piano. The Beginners' Class of the Sunday School sang a number unaccompanied.

Water Unfit For Humans In Two Lakes

Sturgeon And Pigeon Tests Show Virus, Warn Swimmers There

LINDSAY, Sept. 30 — Many people who drink Sturgeon and Pigeon lake waters are strongly advised not to do so in future by Dr. A. F. MacKinnon.

Dr. MacKinnon who has been one of the officials investigating the cattle which have died on the borders of the two lakes said today that Col. C. D. McAlpine had some water sent to the Health Department at Toronto. It sent back a report that there is a live virus in the water. The water was injected into mice and rats and they died immediately on inoculation.

One being asked whether anything could be done about this situation Dr. MacKinnon said that to his knowledge nothing could be done. He explained that in his opinion the hot weather has caused it and thinks that through time the water will gradually get back to normal.

"I strongly advise no one drink any of this water for some time, at least until it is declared O.K. again," he said.

He added that swimmers, if there are still swimmers risking it, should take heed and keep clear.

Col. McAlpine lost three cattle and four more were caught with the poisoning, but Dr. MacKinnon managed to save the lives of the four.

PLATFORM SPADEWORK—Selection of the resolutions which will form the platform of the Progressive Conservative Party occupies the attention of the resolutions committee at the party's national convention. Committee members show interest as J. M. Macdonnell (standing right, in shirt sleeves), president of the party, stresses a point. Resting on his elbow at head table is Fred S. Gardiner, KC, of Toronto, committee chairman; R. L. Stanfield of Halifax, president of the Nova Scotia Association, sits between them.

Hold Stern Gang Leader In Haifa

HAIFA, Sept. 30.—(CP).—Nathan Friedman-Yellin, head of the terrorist Stern gang sought by Israeli police since the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte in Jerusalem a fortnight ago, was detained in Haifa today.

A terrorist arm of the Stern gang, a Jewish underground extremist organization, boasted that it was responsible for the assassination of Berandotte, the United Nations' Palestine mediator, Sept. 17.

Friedman Yellin was arrested together with one of his right hand men. In the room where they found him, and in a search of his apartment in Tel Aviv, police were said to have found documents throwing new light" on Sternist activities.

Yugoslavia Maintains United Economic Front

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—(AP) — Despite Marshal Tito's personal troubles with Moscow, Yugoslavia is keeping a united front with the "faithful" Soviet satellites at the annual world bank and monetary fund meetings here.

The Yugoslav delegate is standing solidly with the Polish and Czech members on economic matters here just as his counterpart at the United Nations in Paris is joining with the Russians, Poles and Czechs on political matters.

Russia never has joined the bank or fund, but the other three countries in the past have pooled their votes to fill one of the executive directors posts. They were expteced to do it again at director elections today.

Austin Gives Up Chair For Deb

PARIS, Sept. 30 —(..)—The United States delegation said today its permanent delegate on the Security Council, Warren R. Austin, will give up the council presidency during the Berlin crisis debates.

A spokesman said this will be the procedure:

Austin, who is to become president of the council tomorrow for October, will take the chair at each sitting. Once the council has formally placed the Berlin case on the order of the day, he will surrender the chair to a representative of Argentina, the next country in line for the presidency.

Mother Dead In Air Crash Brave Son, 12, Holds On

EDMONTON, Sept. 30—(CP).—A plucky 12-year-old boy, Michael Lintner, today fought for his life in a hospital here hundreds of miles from where he was pinned head downward for 42 hours in the snow-covered wreckage of a crashed plane. He was suffering from a fractured skull, broken arm and frozen feet when a paratroop rescue team found him Wednesday 42 houre after the light plane crashed in remote bush country, killing his mother, the pilot of the aircraft.

Only courage kept him alive between the time the plane plunged earthward, 65 miles west of Fort Nelson, BC, and his rescue nearly two days later.

Michael still was conscious when Sgt. Larry Pulsom and LAC K. W. Clark, both of Edmonton, crashed through the thick underbrush around the plane.

While Poulsom and Clark applied splints and bandages, other ground rescue men lifted his mother, Mrs. A. L. Lintner, from the seat beside him and carried her on a stretcher to a waiting truck. Then Michael was taken the 1½ miles through the bush to the truck and placed beside his mother for the last time.

Father Meets Him

The vehicle raced along the winding, mountainous Alaska highway to Fort Nelson where Michael's father, Lt.-Col. A. L. Lintner of Anchorage, Alaska, flew from Great Falls, Mont., on Wednesday to meet him.

An RCAF Dakota transport winged the 560 air miles to Edmonton in about four hours and Michael was whisked to hospital from the airport in an ambulance.

On arrival in hospital Michael was taken to the operating room, where he remained for several hours Crew members of the plane reported he had multiple skull fractures, a broken right arm and frozen feet from his 42-hour ordeal in freezing and near-freezing temperatures.

Lt.-Col. Lintner told reporters he and his son exchanged only a few words about the crash.

"It happened just like that," he said Michael told him. His son gave no description of the events leading to the tragedy, Lt.-Col. Lintner added.

"The boy was the bravest I have ever seen in my air force experience," LAC Clark said. "He knew his mother was dead but never mentioned it. He was cheerful all the time."

The tiny two-seater, taking Michael to school in the United States, was flying minutes behind another civilian aircraft which landed at Fort Nelson. The pilot of the first plane reported Mrs. Linter would land soon after but her aircraft never appeared.

Lt.-Col. Lintner said his wife was an experienced flyer with about 435 hours flying time. She was used to almost any flying conditions and knew her route well.

$50,000 Jewels Stolen, Arrest 3

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP). —Vigilant police trailing of a suspected safe cracker led today to the recovery of $50,000 in jewels stolen from a wealthy Czech beauty.

Three men were arrested and questioned in the theft of the jewelry from Mrs. Sonja Loew, 31, of Milton, Mass. She was bound and gagged with her own stockings by three towel-masked bandits in a hotel room early Wednesday.

Mrs. Loew is the recently divorced wife of Elias M. Loew, theatre magnate.

The trio, in whose possession police said they found the jewels, said they received the gems from a fourth man who asked them to sell the jewelry for him.

Bracken Advises Against Thinking War 'Inevitable'

OTTAWA, Sept. 30—(CPP).—John Bracken, retiring leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, said today that the intolerance of Communism threatens the world with another war.

However, in his address before the party's national convention here, he added the world must not fall into the state of mind that believes war is inevitable.

"If we do that, we shall certainly make it inevitable," said Mr. Bracken.

"As to democracy versus capitalism, we must smother the germ of the latter wherever it makes an appearance," he said. "It means we must make our democracy a more dynamic force for human welfare."

The development of science had given the world gadgets which would either create a new world of material progress or "accomplish the physical destruction of the old."

"In these critical days we must do everything possible to preserve peace, if it can be preserved, on any terms short of bringing discredit and dishonor and destruction to ourselves as free people."

No reasonable Canadian could doubt that the fabric of Christian civilization was threatened by powerful, sinister and pagan forces and if it became necessary we must be prepared to act "in terms of a larger ledger than that of dollars and cents.

"If Communism forces war upon us, we must be prepared to pay the price of victory, whatever that price may be," he said.

The price of peace was to be strong at home and abroad.

P.C. Convention Exciting As Hockey Game

By TOM ALLEN
Examiner Staff Correspondent

The opening of the Progressive Conservative convention here today was as exciting as the starting of a hockey game in the Maple Leaf Gardens. While the business of choosing a new leader and drawing up a political platform is not a game with opposing sides, for the delegates with their Diefenbaker ribbons or the ones who are pinning their faith on Colonel George Drew have the same purpose, to get a leader and a platform that will win the next general election.

Even the setting here in the assembly hall of Lansdowne Park which is Ottawa's exhibition grounds, is like a hockey arena. The hall has girders, a pit which is covered with chairs for the 1,313 delegates, instead of a sheet of ice. There are tiers of bleachers on three sides for guests and observers. Bunting in blue and white, broadcasting booths in the corners u pnear the roof and the crowds milling around in the lobbies and entrances as 11 o'clock approached were the fans, city folk, country folk, the great and the small, and one bearded Mennonite.

The players came in procession at eleven, led by Mr. and Mrs. Bracken. Everybody stood up to peer at the politically notable. J. M. Macdonnell, the president of the National Conservative Association, looking grave and resolute, walked stiffly like an awkward soldier unused to parades. He was probably concerned about his job for the next fifteen minutes. He had to call the meeting to order, to say the Lord's Prayer, in both English and French, to a battery of microphones and to repeat every announcement in both languages.

Ex-President's Widow Dies

OYSTER BAY, NY, Sept. 30—(AP).—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, 87, widow of the President, died today at her home, Sagamore Hill. She had been ill for some time.

A native of Norwich, Conn., she married Theodore Roosevelt in 1886. Her husband was President of the United States from 1901 to 1909.

Mrs. Roosevelt lived to receive news of the death of three of her four sons in war. Quentin died in aerial combat in the First World War, and Theodore, Jr., and Kermit in the Second World War.

Archibald, who survives her, served in both wars. Her daughter, Ethel, became Mrs. Richard Derby. The stepdaughter, Alice, married Nicholas Longworth.

Montgomery To Head West Defence

Cabinet Approves His New Post; Can Summon 4 Million

LONDON, Sept. 30 (CP)—The cabinet today approved the selection of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery as head of a joint armed force of the five-power Brussels alliance.

A government source said the selection of Lord Montgomery, chief of the imperial general staff, will be announced soon in Paris by the five powers — Britain, France, The Netherlands, Luxembourg and Belgium. The informant said the choice was made by the defence ministers of the five countries at Paris early this week.

Viscount Montgomery presumably will resign as chief of the Imperial general staff.

They said also that Gen. Alphonse Juin, French commander-in-chief in North Africa, will hold the five-power land command; Admiral of the Fleet Lord Cunningham would lead the joint naval units and marshal of the R.A.F. Lord Tedder would be chief of the air forces.

Two-Day Meeting

The appointment of the Chief of the British Imperial General Staff followed a two-day meeting here of the five defense ministers. Lord Montgomery's task will be to coordinate a common defense policy among Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The two-day military discussions marked a substantial step forward in the co-ordination of military defense among the five Western European countries.

The defense ministers, together with Canadian and United States observers, also made good progress in preparing for an extension of the western pact to an Atlantic defense pact on similar lines, it is understood.

Useful talks among British, United States and French political leaders took place on the Atlantic pact here yesterday and today.

Recruit Firefighters For Northern Blazes

NORTH BAY, Sept. 30.—(CP). —Four large forest fires and several smaller ones were being battled today in the North Bay forestry district as the fall fire hazard continued "high."

Forestry officials at Blind River, meantime, began an all-out recruiting drive for fire-fighters as the Grassett township blaze spread through 725 acres. Fanned by a strong north-east wind, the fire threatens to cover 1,000 acres today.

Largest blaze in the North Bay district was in Kirkpatrick township, west of Verier, where 140 acres of slash and second growth were burning. Latest reports indicate the fire is under control.

Four aircraft of the Provincial Air Service were pressed into action in the Grassett township fire. Officials fear unless the fire is checked another situation like the Mississagi district fire in July may develop.

Place War Orders

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(AP).—The head of the National Security Resources Board said Wednesday night "phantom orders" already have been placed for war goods with United States manufacturers. Arthur M. Hill, chairman of the board, told the Navy Industrial Association in a speech that such orders will be filled only in case of war but would save from six months to a year in getting groups like the machine tool industry rolling.

Reds Organize G.E. Workers, U.S. Informed

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., Sept. 30 (AP)—A former C.I.O. oficial told Congressional investigators today that Communist party members were ordered "to organize" General Electric Company workers as a matter of "utmost importance."

The statement was made by Salvatore M. Vottis, 42, former financial secretary of Local 301, United Electrical Workers (CIO), who identified himself as a former Communist.

Vottis was the first witness before a House of Representatives Labor Sub-Committee probing Communist influences in labor organizations. The sub-committee came here to investigate Local 301 which claims 15,000 members of the home plant here of General Electric.

Urge Banning Reds In Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 — (CP). — A resolution urging that the Communist party be outlawed in Canada will be placed before the National Progressive Conservative convention, it was learned today.

The resolution, sponsored by party supporters in Quebec, was one of several a 193-man resolutions committee has decided to recommend.

One source predicted that there will be prolonged discussion on the resolution recommending the ban of the Communist party. John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, and Donald Fleming, member for Toronto Eglinton, have said during their campaigns for the party's leadership that banning of the party would not solve the Communist problem in Canada.

They have urged criminal code amendments to deal with members of the Communist party.

Fast Mail Service

PARIS, Sept. 30.—(Reuters).—Mail from London to Paris in 47 minutes—less than the time it takes most Londoners or Parisians to get from home to the office every morning. This modern "Tale of Two Cities" was accomplished today through the combined efforts of two helicopters and a jet plane.

Follow 'Straight Path', Real People's Party Must Be Representative

In Blunt, Fighting Speech, Retiring Leader Tells His Party Steer 'Straight Path'; Scores Government Policy, Socialist CCF

OTTAWA, Sept. 30—(CP).—John Bracken today asked the Progressive Conservative Party to follow "the straight path of reasoned progress" and become the "crusading party of the common man in every walk of life." In an outspoken farewell address, the retiring leader bluntly told the party membership it had never, in this century, "fully succeeded" in becoming the party of the people.

And, to that, he added this warning:

"The voice that goes out from here during these three days will either help us to power and prestige, or it will help us to defeat."

Mr. Bracken spoke to more than 3,000 delegates and other supporters thronged in the Coliseum of Lansdowne Park for the opening sessions of a three-day national convention. Tomorrow they will hammer out a new platform and Saturday will ballot in the selection of a new party chieftain.

Three Courses

The party could do these things:

"We can turn to the 'left' and find all the side-roads filled to over-flowing with wishful thinkers and hopeful planners; or we can turn to the 'right' and be interpreted as a class party, devoted in the public mind to business interests almost exclusively.

"To the 'left' lies the hidden slope of Communism; to the 'right' a short and bitter descent to oblivion."

"On the other hand, this party can follow the straight path to reasoned progress and become what it has never fully succeeded in becoming in this century—the crusading party of the common man in every walk of life."

The Progressive Conservative party stood for private enterprise, but the average Canadian voter thought "very little of private enterprise and cares equally little for Socialism."

Want Security

"Let us get down to brass tacks," said Mr. Bracken. "What the average Canadian wants is a job, and security in that job, and

L.P.P. Says King, Marshall Wrecking UN

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—(CP).—The national executive of the Labor-Progressive party today issued a peace manifesto over the signature of leader Tim Buck. It said Prime Minister Mackenzie King and General Marshall "are wrecking the United Nations" at Paris and accused Ernest Bevin of helping the "money kings of Wall Street" provoke a new world war by "fanning the Berlin crisis."

The 600-word manifesto urged Canadians to fight for the party's peace program which called for: Opposition to conscription; a demand that United States troops leave Canada; restoration of friendly relations and normal trade between Canada and the Soviet Union.

Easier Tax Form For Next Year Ottawa Promises

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 —(CP)—A new, streamlined income tax form —easy to look at and simple to handle—will be introduced to the Canadian public in 1949.

This was learned Wednesday night from a government authority who also disclosed the current simplified form, a postcard-like document called T1-T4, is headed for the scrap heap, because of complaints and abuse by people who were not entitled to use it.

The new income tax document, still in its embryo stages, will be a crisp, two-page affair, to be used by the majority of wage earners in Canada, including fishermen and farmers.

Thus, the current special forms for western farmers and farmers generally also will go into discard. All those earning less than $3,000 a year may get the chance to use the short form.

Although little is known yet of what the new form will contain, it is disclosed that much of the heavy legal wordage, which marked income tax documents in the past, will not appear.

For those lucky people who earn more than $3,000 a year, the government will issue a "T-1 general" form. It is not believed this will bear much change for current forms in use for that income category.

These two statements — T-1 short form and T-1 general—will be the main forms in use in 1949, covering income earned in 1948.

Wanted Pair Near Brantford

PRESTON, Sept. 30—(CP). — Provincial and municipal police were alerted late Wednesday when reports were circulated by radio and telephone that the two Montreal alleged police officer slayers had been sighted west of Brantford.

The men, reportedly driving a black Cadillac with an unknown Quebec licence plate, were said to have been heading west on No. 5 Highway.

Road blocks in the entire Waterloo county area were immediately set up by provincial, township and municipal police. They were warned the bandits were armed, so equipped themselves with shotguns.

It was further reported that the bandits had a machine gun. At a late hour Wednesday night the bandits had not been caught in the widespread police net.

U.S. Demands Russia Return Loaned Ships

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP). —The United States has demanded anew that Russia return lend-lease naval ships. The State Department revealed Tuesday that it is prodding Russia to settle its long-overdue $11,000,000,000 lend-lease account. Wednesday it said it also had renewed demands for the ships.

Russia still has 87 American Liberty type ships, 28 frigates, three ice-breakers and some smaller naval vessels. Return of all except the Liberty ships is sought.

The Russians ignored earlier requests for the vessels, part of 58 supplied Russia during the war.

Seek Control Plan For Atomic Energy

Canada Backs Baruch's Former Scheme Of International Inspections

PARIS, Sept. 30 (CP)—Canada today launched another round in the bitter battle to end the impasse over international control of atomic energy with a warning that uncontrolled use of atomic weapons may result in the "utter destruction of civilization."

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, was the first speaker as the U.N. political committee took up the problem of atomic energy as the first item on its agendy.

Warren R. Austin of the United States, supporting a majority report from the Commission which was disapproved by the Russians, said the Soviet Union had blocked real control of the atom by refusing to sacrifice any of her sovereignty to permit international inspection and control of sources of atomic energy.

McNaughton and Austin were the only speakers on today's agenda. When they had finished, Argentina's Dr. Jose Arce demanded a vote on the Canadian proposal.

Russia To Study Plan.

Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky, however objected that the proposal had only just been submitted, no Russian text was available and he wanted time to study it.

McNaughton said that since the General Assembly established the Atomic Commission early in 1946, the power of the bomb had been 'indefinitely increased" and new sources of raw materials had been discovered.

He appealed for adoption of the Commission's majority proposal presented by Bernard M. Baruch of the United States on June 14, 1945, and vetoed by Russia.

The Soviet counter-proposal, he said, provides only for "unilateral control." Phohibition of the atomic bomb, he added, "must be part of an over-all plan accompanied by interantional inspection."

Flanked by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who heads Canada's delegation to the U. N., Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner to Britain, and Transport Minister Chevrier, who also is on the Canadian delegation, McNaughton said Russia's counter proposals insisting on simple phohibition of use of atomic energy without thorough inspection seemed so "elementary" it was difficult to realize Russia was really serious.

To break the deadlock caused by Russian insistenece on simple prohibition, Canada had proposed last May that the issue go to the U. N. General Assembly as a matter of "special concern."

Iran Target Of Russian Blasts Now

New Diplomatic Move In Middle East Seen As Propaganda Grows

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) —Moscow's propaganda guns are hammering so hard at Iran that American diplomatic authorities are wondering whether Russia is considering a new move in that part of the world.

Four Moscow radio broadcasts assailing the Iranian government and criticizing conditions in the oil-rich Middle Eastern land were recorded in a single day this week by United States government monitors. A secret "Azerbaijan democratic station" joined in the anvil chorus with two additional verbal attacks.

Iran is a recognized strategic soft spot. It was the scene of a misfired Russian adventure of two years ago. Soviet occupation troops finally were pulled out of Iran's Azerbaijan province under pressure from the United Nations Security Council in a crisis somewhat similar to the present Berlin dispute.

Say Joining Arab Bloc

One Moscow broadcast this week charged the Iranian government with failing to carry out an amnesty order freeing pro-Soviet leaders rounded up after the Russian troops withdrew. Another claimed Iran is about to enter an Arab bloc which "will serve the interests of the Anglo-American monopolists of the Middle East." A third reported that danger of "famine" is increasing in Iran.

Meanwhile the clandestine Azerbaijan station was calling the Shah, Iran's ruler, a traitor because of his talks with British officials in London.

The United States has a veteran career diplomat, John C. Wiley, on the scene as Ambassador. The Soviet Ambassador is reported absent from Tehran at the moment along with the Russian military attache. They ostensibly are on vacation.

Trading At Standstill As Prices Irregular

TORONTO, Sept. 30 (CP). — Trading was almost at a standstill as prices moved irregularly without establishing any definite trend on the stock exchange here today. Industrials opened on a strong note but lack of interest in the market cut into early gains. Golds and base metals were erratic.

Papers dipped downwards in industrials in mid-season after showing gains earlier. Brown Preferred lost two points and International Paper, Minnesota and Ontario Paper and Great Lakes Paper were down fractionally. Utilities and foods mixed gains and losses while the rest of the groups were about dead.

Hollinger weakened 25 cents in senior golds in mid-afternoon trading after holding firm. Wright-Hargreaves was down 4 cents and McIntyre was down ⅛. San Antonio, Pickle Crow, Madsen, East Malartic and Conwest firmed in the junior list.

Consolidated Smelters added ½ in a mixed base metals list. East Sullivan, Waite Amulet, Pend Oreille and Quebec Manitou was ahead 1 to 5 cents. Sherritt, New Calumet, Golden Manitou and Eureka dipped downwards.

Farm Education Said Improving

TORONTO, Sept. 30 —(CP)— Ontario farm leaders generally agreed today with an estimate that 80 per cent of Canadian farmers never get more than a grade eight education. But they said the situation is improving.

The estimate was made Wednesday by A. G. McColl, research director of the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education, in an address at Winnipeg to the Canadian Educational Association.

A. R. Stewart of Almonte, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, said the estimate was "fairly accurate." Secretary-manager V. S. Milburn of the federation said the average farmers today were around 50 years old, and when they were young there were not so many educational opportunities.

"But the young farmers are coming along and I believe more of them are getting higher education," he said.

President W. R. Reek of Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and most farmers were keeping abreast of modern developments. C. D. Graham, provincial deputy minister of agriculture, said he believed the 80 per cent figures was high for Ontario.

Mr. Bracken, the retiring leader, seemed short and small in comparison with Mr. MacDonnell. Premier Drew behind them waved and friends grasped his hand as he passed down the aisle to the platform. Mr. Diefenbaker, who usually tries to keep his mouth closed and a serious face when press photographers turn their flashbulbs on him, grinned and exhibited his famous teeth. Colonel Drew marched to the platform easily looking like the popular regimental officer he was in the First War. The 32-year-old Davie Fulton, head of the Young Conservatives' Association, looked six years younger in his blue suit and seemed solemnly impressed with the importance of the occasion. Mr. Ivan Sabourin, the leader of the Quebec Conservatives, carried his youngish portly self with ease and smiled behind his dapper moustache.

The flashbulbs burst, the camera men teeetering on high ladders, which obscured the central rostrum, took their pictures. The hundreds of press men got out their pencils. The band struck up the National Anthem and "O Canada." The spotlights glared and the game was on.

The delegates settled back into their chairs, business was despatched quickly and bilingually, and the speeches began. Mr. Bracken's valedictory was received thoughtfully and he himself received what is called an ovation. His job is now done. Mr. Drew and Mr. Diefenbaker, sitting side by side on the second row of chairs on the platform are now the chief figures. The general feeling is that Mr. Drew will be the captain and Mr. Diefenbaker the lieutenant. We shall know on Saturday.

a reasonable opportunity for advancement, especially if he is young. . . . .

"On the one hand, we have an aged and decrepit government, slithering cunningly from platitude to platitude, a government whose only guilding star is political expediency.

"On the other hand, we have a socialist party whose leadership seeks to divide this country into hostile camps, and from the cleavage of man from his fellow man, to seize the reins of power for themselves—a party whose chief stock-in-trade is the fallacious and anti-Christian doctrine of class conflict.

"What Canadian politics require most at the present time is a crusading party—a party dedicated to the welfare of the ordinary man and woman in the rank and file of this country; a party dedicated to the preservation and expansion of human freedom; a party that is be master of the people, but that it be their servant . . . "

Wants Government Thrown Out

Striking at the government, he said it should be "thrown out of power at the first opportunity."

1. The government had been the "chief cause" of the rising cost of living.
2. "It had run the country into the worst trade crisis in our history."
3. It had let food production fall behind consumers' demands at a time when the world was facing famine.
4. Its contribution to inflation has resulted in reducing the value of the dollar to 66 cents.
5. It had failed in its responsibilities to the northern half of this continent.
6. It had let bureaucracy "run wild."
7. It had created "a new family compact of boards, commissions and bureaucrats, which dwarfs into insignificance the one of historic memory."

Four Major Points

For Progressive Conservatives, he listed these four major routes as their approach to the future:

1. An economic creed "that will command our faith."
2. A political philosophy "in which we can all have confidence."
3. A humanitarian program that will "meet our social problem."
4. A peacetime policy which was "most likely to head off war."

Turning to peace he said:

"We must continue to be willing to pay the high price that peace demands until the last hope of saving it is gone; but if Communism forces war upon us, we must be prepared to pay the price of victory, whatever that price may be.

"But let us not fall into the state of mind that war is inevitable. If we do that, we shall certainly make it inevitable."

The price of peace was fourfold:

1. Canada had to be strong at home in her domestic economy and strong abroad in her external relations. A strong domestic economy was the only thing which would head off Communism because "defeating Russia in war would be a military victory, but it alone would not end Communism."
2. Canada must serve her people "better than Communism could do."
3. She must help her customer nations abroad to rehabilitate themselves. If they were made strong, Canada also would be strengthened.
4. She must help other nations to help themselves "in their aim to reach higher standards of living."

Selected Immigration

Of immigration, Mr. Bracken said the new Canadians should, generally speaking, "come from those countries from which our present population has sprung." Canada must create opportunities ple who can live in this country for the maximum number of peo- at a high standard of living.

As for the party's economic creed, it stood for maximum production of needed goods and must preserve the incentive to enterprise. This meant it must be willing to pay wages and salaries based on the relative value of services rendered; pay for food and other products at prices bearing a reasonable relationship to the costs of their production.

Business men should be assured the right to be rewarded by profits arising from legitimate competitive business.

As for the distribution of that production, the party stood for "every able-bodied man being rewarded according to his work; and dependents each according to his need, the family having the first responsibility, the state supplementing the need where necessary."

In the field of trade, the party should accept "all the imports we need and can pay for" and export "all we can spare and get paid for." In national emergencies "we should give, or loan, or do both to rehabilitate our customers."

Justice to Provinces

The party should see to it that justice was done to all provinces in Dominion-Provincial relations. Fiscal need was the safest approach to a solution in this field. Discussions towards a new deal for all provinces were long overdue."

Of industrial relations, he said the party stood "for looking upon all producer groups as partners in industry."

"That means the sharing of economic gains by workers, raising and stabilizing the economic level of farmers, and assuring business men the right to make legitimate profits in fair competition."

The first responsibility for "real" social security rested upon the individual; the second upon the family unit. These must be supplemented by "comprehensive contributory social security measures."

Foreign Secretary Bevin dined Wednesday night with Prime Minister King. Bevin Tuesday met State Secretary Marshall of the United States and John Foster Dulles, a leading member of the United States delegation to the United Nations. It is understood the Atlantic pact was discussed.

Usually well-informed observers here believe that as soon as an Atlantic defense union is created an American military leader will head a permanent military committee.

Atlantic Union Seen

It is thought that the formation of an Atlantic defense union will be proposed by the United States Government to Congress soon after the November Presidential elections.

An Atlantic defense union means, in practice, a solid military alliance of Canada, Britain, the United States, France and the Benelux countries.

In what might have been his last public appearance in his present role, Viscount Montgomery appeared today at a press conference with War Minister Emanuel Shinwell to outline plans for building up a territorial (militia) army of 150,000.

Viscount Montgomery said the Territorials would form the base around which "we could wrap the fighting manpower of the nation should there be a sudden emergency."

This fighting manpower, he said, consisted primarily of 4,000,000 "Class Z" reservists — men only recently discharged from the armed forces — a proportion of whom could be "called out tomorrow straight into the Territorial army."

Violent Robbery Charges Read

LINDSAY, Sept. 30.— William Edgar Hill, John Carr and Clifford Anstey, all of Bobcaygeon, were remanded Wednesday in custody for one week on a charge of robbery with violence at Fenelon Falls, Monday night. Hill and Carr also face another charge of theft of an automobile from Victoria Motors, Lindsay.

Alexander Mill, also of Bobcaygeon, was remanded for one week Wednesday by Magistrate E. A. Gee, on a charge of vagrancy, which the Crown alleges is connected with the theft of the car. He was realesd on $500 bail.

The arrests were made following a holdup at McKendrey's Service Station, Fenelon Falls, Monday night. A customer who arrived on the scene when the alleged holdup was in progress is credited by the police with capturing one man.

A weak disturbance in southern Michigan is moving northeastward towards Georgian Bay. Hence cloudy skies and scattered showers prevail over the southern half of the province this morning. The weather is expected to clear during the latter part of Friday. Northwestern Ontario will remain clear today and Friday. A fresh polar air mass now over the prairies will penetrate the White River and Kirkland Lake region on Friday and it will then become noticeably cooler. This air mass is expected to reach the southern half of the province by early Saturday.

Forecasts:

Eastern Lake Ontario and Haliburton region — Variable cloudiness with scattered showers clearing Friday evening. Not much change in temperature. Winds light.

Summary for Friday: Showers.

Obituary

SAMUEL SANDS

Samuel Sands, 71, died on Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. Wood, 291 Prince St., following a lengthy illness. Born in Ireland, son of the late Adam Sands and Martha Sloan, before coming to Peterborough 38 years ago, he resided in Scotland.

He leaves his wife, the former Jean Smith, four daughters, Miss Agnes of Toronto and Mrs. P. W. Wicks (Martha), Mrs. E. Wood (Annie) and Mrs. R. Lane (Betty) all of Peterborough, and two sons, Ald. Adam Sands of this city and James of Toronto. A brother, James lives in Peterborough, John in Ireland and Adam in Glasgow, Scotland. There is also one sister, Mrs. J. Ritchie, in Ireland.

Mr. Sands was a retired toolmaker, being employed in the CGE for many years. He was a member of Park Street Baptist Church and an honorary deacon.

Funeral service will be held at the Comstock Funeral Home on Saturday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. E. J. Whan officiting. Burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Seek Instructors

BERLIN, Sept. 30 (Reuters).— The Canadian Government has asked United States officials to have a look around displaced persons camps in their zone of Germany for a "few suitable, qualified men" as instructors to Canadian North-west Indians who are anxious to learn the arts of reindeer herding.

PC Convention Highlights

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP). — Banners outside the convention hall proclaimed the various candidates. One said, "Keep Ontario Strong — But Make Canada Stronger." Another right beside it added "Diefenbaker, a National Leader." Then a third said in both French and English "A United Canada With Fleming."

Buttons and streamers gave delegates a chance to offer a mobile homage to their favorites. One button had a picture of Donald Fleming, member of Parliament for Toronto Eglinton. Another had the name George Drew. Supporters of John Diefenbaker, member for Lake Centre, wore a ribbon with his name.

The Fleming supporters didn't stop at placards and pins. They had small posters bearing such legends as "Fleming For National Unity" and "Four F's—Firmness, Fidelity, Frankness, Fleming."

Reporters took notes at rows of tables below the main platform. They wrote their stories in a huge room used as an assembly room for horses during exhibitions and horse shows. The room now is a sanctuary for scores of clattering typewriters.

Prominent among the arrivals before convention time was Senator John T. Haig of Manitoba, Progressive Conservative leader in the Upper Chamber. He said he figured western support would be split about 50-50 between Drew and Diefenbaker but that the Ontario premier was a cinch to take the leadership. However, he guessed Donald Fleming's candidacy would push the vote beyond a first ballot.

A facetious complaint came from Sim Scherbatiuk, the burly and genial correspondent covering the meet for Russia's Tass News Agency. "Look," moaned Sim, "All you daily newspaper men get red ribbons to wear. And what do they give me? Pink!"

J. M. Macdonnell, member of the Commons for Muskoka-Ontario and president of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada, was an early arrival. He moved almost immediately to the speaker's platform to test the public address system. It is likely that he will be permanent convention chairman.

Conversation among the delegates in the convention hall lobby touched on a wide range of topics. Several delegates exchanged views on how the party can win the next general election. One unidentified delegate said to a colleague:

"If we leave the CCF alone we will win a lot of their voters. We should criticize only the government, because it has been responsible for the administration."

Lindsay Club Will Aid Mrs. McInerney

LINDSAY, Sept. 30.—Lindsay's newest club hasn't taken long to find something to do to lend a hand to someone in need. "The Overseas Ladies' Club," which had just been organized, announced Wednesday it has decided to go to the aid of Mrs. Emily McInerney, mother of Mrs. Jean McAllister who is awaiting trial at Lindsay on a charge of murdering her husband.

The decision to help Mrs. McInerney came at a special meeting of the club. Mrs. McLaren, spokeswoman for the club, says permission has been received from town officials to use the Town Hall for a rummage sale in aid of Mrs. McInerney Oct. 9. Mrs. McLaren says the town has given the use of the Town Hall free to help them in their efforts to raise money for the girl's mother.

Mrs. McInerney arrived in Canada Monday after flying from overseas, (Greenock, Scotland) at the expense of interested friends in her home land. She is staying with Mrs. Frank Weldon, wife of Victoria county's treasurer, for the present.

She arrived in this country with five pounds in her purse and so far many offers to help her remain here throughout her daughter's trial have been forthcoming. It now looks as though she will be able to subsist without hardship throughout the trying days which lie ahead

Salvation Army officials have given her direction since coming to Lindsay and they have been aided by the local Red Cross officials.

Milk Producers Seek Increase

Peterborough milk producers this week decided to ask their provincial league to negotiate for an increase in price.

They agreed to pay local truckers four cents more per hundred pounds for haulage, up from 18 to 22c, and they contend that this is only one of the rising costs which they have to face.

The dairy farmers say that, no matter what the consuming public may think about the retail price of milk, the returns to the primary producers are not sufficient to give them a fair revenue on their expenditure and their labor. Some of the districts negotiated last year independently, but the main body of producers threw in their lot together.

They are now seeking through the Milk Producers' League an improvement in price which they declare to be necessary if they are to receive adequate revenue for their business. It is understood that according to the new method of determining retail prices, producers and distributors have to reach an agreement between themselves, and it then becomes effective.

Distributors are not in favor of a price increase. They say that the production cost trend does not warrant a higher price, and they also object that they have to bear the brunt of public reaction to price advances.

Australian Labor Party Re-Affirms Socialist Aims

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 30—(CP)—Two important political conferences with direct bearing on Australia's future have just been concluded.

At Canberra, the Australian Labor party held its triannual conference on policy-forming and reaffirmed the party's determination to socialize the means of production, distribution and exchange.

The conference decreed that the Labor party would put into practice the policy of socialization decided upon in 1921.

It abolished one of the historic planks of the Labor platform by authorizing the federal government to send troops anywhere outside Australia without consulting the people in the event of an emergency.

Conscription Still Out

Conscription for any kind of military service remained as one of the foremost taboos in party policy.

The Sydney Morning Herald said today Labor now, as in 1921, declares itself to be the socialist party. "In the interim (since 1921) it has spent a long period in the political wilderness and has won three federal elections," the paper added. "The 'Red objective' has been there all the time. But the difference is now that it has emerged from cold storage."

The Sydney Daily Telegraph, after describing as "eyewash" government assurance that the policy will not be implemented, concludes by saying: "Every time the Labor majority gets on the government benches a little more of its platform ceases to be academic philosophy and becomes hard social fact. Three more years in office will give Labor the opportunity to put socialism firmly on its feet in Australia."

The anti-socialist Liberal party, meeting at the same time as the Labor group, held its annual conference at Adelaide, South Australia.

The Liberal party declared that if it wins the next elections (in 1949) it will introduce legislation to declare the Communist party a subversive organization.

Grafton Farmers Given Course

COBOURG, Sept. 30 (ENS) — Plans are in progress for a course in agriculture for the Grafton area commencing on November 29 and running for three weeks. The progra mis especially planned for Grafton Junior Farmers and veterans of the area, under the joint sponsorship of the Dominion Dept. of Veterans Affairs' and the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture.

Settlement supervisors C. Patterson and W. Hoard are co-operating with the agricultural representative Ralph Banbury, to bring the best authorities on all subjects related to agriculture of the area. The plan is to feature a special speaker every afternoon, with a study of related subjects each morning to lay the groundwork.

Speakers include R. H. Graham, Ontario Livestock Branch; Dr. R. Mitchell of the Quinte Cattle Breeders Association; J. R. Turnbull, hog grader for this area; Roy Lick of the Milk League; Morley Webster, Fruit Fieldman; A. N. L. Butler, canning crop specialist and other experts in their fields.

Those who expect to make farming their life work are well-advised to take advantage of this training which not only should mean dollars but brings much of interest to those engaged in agriculture," commented Mr. Banbury.

Tito Terror Campaign Charge By Cominform

BUCHAREST, Sept. 30.—(AP).—The Cominform bulletin said today Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito has unleashed a terror campaign against Cominform sympathizers.

An article by Slavko Nikic reported arrests of Cominform sympathizers in Belgrade.

In another article, Hilary Minc, a member of the central committee of the Polish Communist party, said the fight against well-to-do peasants and in Poland must be intensified.

Piccard Gives Details Of Weird Bathyscaphe

By PROF. AUGUSTE PICCARD

ABOARD EXPEDITION MOTHERSHIP SCALDIS, AT SEA, Sept. 25—(by Wireless).—Now that the moment is almost here for the submarine dive toward which we have been working for 40 years, I want to write briefly once again about the craft which will take Prof. Max Cosyns and me to hitherto unapproached depths: the Bathyscaphe. For many errors have crept into popular thought about this underwater balloon.

The Bathyscaphe—Greek for ship of the deep—is in two parts: the float and the cabin. This last is in the shape of a ball, 6½ feet in diameter, with specially treated cast steel walls 3½ inches thick, weighing more than ten tons. The cabin is, of course, heavier than water—just as the cabin of our stratosphere balloon was heavier than air.

Use Gasoline

In order for these cabins to float freely, they must be buoyed up so as to be lighter than the element above them. A balloon helps the stratospheric cabin to float when it is filled with hydrogen or helium, under water. However, any gas would be crushed by the pressure at great depths and would therefore lose all volume and buoyancy. We had to use gasoline, a liquid lighter than water.

The float supporting our submarine cabin is built of light steel, shaped conventionally for underwater navigation, holding seven aluminum gasoline containers. These containers are open at the bottom so as to keep the gasoline in balance with water pressure at whatever depths we may reach. This is the same principle as a zeppelin, whose belium is contained in small bags within the exterior covering. Our float is some 23 feet high, nearly 15 feet long and about 10 feet wide.

We named the Bathyscaphe, now nestling in a cradle in the forward hold of this vessel, the "FNRS 2," after the stratosphere balloon in which we first explored the upper layers of the earth's atmosphere, the "FNRS 1." We hope that the name may bring us luck, just as we were successful in our stratosphere attempt.

The initials stand for Fonds National de Reserches Scientifiques — National Scientific Research Fund — founded by King Albert of the Belgians 20 years ago, which is our major financial sponsor.

Bright Colors

What struck most of those who saw the Bathyscaphe as she was being loaded aboard at Antwerp was her color. The cabin and the main area of the float are painted white — to avoid overheating while we are at the surface under the tropical sun. The upper part of the float is a reddish orange color—chosen to make us visible as possible to watchers aboard the Scaldis which must pick us up when we return to the surface.

(Our stratosphere cabin was also painted white, and Cosyns and I nearly perished of cold; but the previous year, with a darker color, we had almost roasted to death).

I do want to stress once more that this expedition carries both our names, not mine alone; it is the Piccard-Cosyns expedition. We are friends and collaborators in the closest possible way and, indeed, since the war, Cosyns has been giving our undertaking a lot more effort than I have always been able to furnish myself.

Nine New Cases

COBOURG, Sept. 30 (ENS) — Only nine new cases of communicable disease were reported for the week ending September 25 by the Northumbrland and Durham Counties Health Unit. Of these, three were chickenpox, one of German measles and four of red measles and one case of mumps. The greater proportion of the diseases were in rural sections.

STARING WIDE-EYED (with surprise maybe) is John Griffith, the American accused by President Juan Peron of Argentina as the instigator of a plot on Peron's life and seeking the overthrow of Peron's government. Mr. Griffith, former US attache at the Buenos Aires embassy, was ousted from Argentina early this year as the instigator of a bank strike. When informed of the Peron charges in Montevideo, where the above photo was made, Mr. Griffith designated them as a "detective story" and "vengeful persecution."

UN Only Way To Handle Berlin-Dulles

PARIS, Sept. 30 —(AP)—John Foster Dulles said Wednesday night the United Nations is the only international forum for dealing with the Berlin situation in an orderly way.

Dulles, foreign affairs adviser to Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for the United States presidency, spoke at a meeting of the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

Dulles said he disagreed with those who say the United Nations has no future because it has been asked to help end the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

"It is, of course, very regrettable that the Berlin issue exists," he said. "But since it does exist, since international peace and security may be at stake, no possible means of solution should be left untried.

"The United Nations is not only an appropriate forum, but it is, indeed, the only international forum for dealing with the situation in an orderly way."

Canada-U.S. Squabble Over Peary Letters

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (CP)—A "diplomatic chowder" has been stirred up between the United States and Canada over discovery in the far north of letters cached by Robert Peary of the United States, who discovered the North Pole in 1909, the New York Times said today in a Washington dispatch.

The historic documents were discovered in a cairn at Cape Sheridan Aug. 3 by a United States Navy expedition, in which some Canadians participated.

The Times dispatch said that release in Washington Tuesday of news of the discovery led to a charge by Canada that the United States had "violated an agreement."

"This agreement, of which there is no doubt," the Times said, "was that the story of the discovery was to be released jointly by the Canadians and Americans because Canadians had participated in the expedition...."

Cobourg People Have Power Cut

COBOURG, Sept. 30 (ENS) — The first cut-off of power in Cobourg occurred Wednesday morning when the electricity in the business section and adjacent streets was shut off from 9 until 10.30. Commencing today and throughout the ensuing Fridays, Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays there will be two shut-off periods each day in the district affected on that day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

The shut-off served two purposes. It saved power, the amount of which will not be published until the commission studies the chart, and emphasized the power shortage. There will be a nightly tour of the streets to see how householders are co-operating about shutting off unneeded lights by members of the utilities commission.

Say Russian Troops On Move In Germany

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—(Reuters).—Travellers from the Soviet zone of Germany to Berlin Wednesday reported large-scale Soviet troop movements in the zone, believed to be preparations for the regular Red army autumn manoeuvres due to begin the first week of October. Air force reinforcements also arrived at airfields in the area between Berlin and the Baltic, travellers said.

"A Preponderance Of Strength"

Mr. Mackenzie King told the General Assembly of U.N. in Paris on Tuesday that "It is vital to the defence of freedom to maintain a preponderance of moral, economic and military strength on the side of freedom — all else is wholly secondary".

• • •

What "freedom" did he mean? The freedom which Soviet Russia claims for the Communist New Democracies? The freedom which Britain and France now crave—to develop securely and not merely as a buffer between Russia and the U.S.A., a buffer which would be torn to shreds if war developed between these two powers? The freedom so many Americans seem to want—the freedom to practise American "free enterprise" anywhere in the world? The Prime Minister could have been referring to the Roosevelt concept of freedom, the freedoms enunciated in the Atlantic Charter, which now seems to be merely a piece of paper.

• • •

It is because the five nations grouped together under the Brussels agreement do not want either a Russian freedom or an American freedom that there has been slow progress in the formation of a West Europe defence pact. "Freedom" of the Roosevelt ideal is not Russian or American; it is not national. France, Britain, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg have made progress toward moral and economic strength "on the side of freedom". The moral strength was characterized by Mr. Spaak's great speech on Tuesday, when the Belgian Prime Minister addressed the Assembly. The economic strength is being provided for by the Benelux-French-British Brussels Pact, and to a lesser extent by E.R.P.—provided E.R.P. does not become an instrument of the American concept of freedom alone.

• • •

From Paris on the same day came the announcement that the five nations had formed a permanent common military organization for the defence of West Europe. This military agreement, provided for in the Brussels pact but long delayed, comes into being at a critical time. Thus the "moral, economic and military strength on the side of freedom" of which Mr. King spoke is being realized in part. The "preponderance" of this strength has not been achieved yet. Will Canadian and American definitions of "freedom" be sufficiently akin to those of the western European nations to permit the formation of an Atlantic Defence Union (which Mr. St. Laurent favours) which would operate in conjunction with the West European defence organization?

Last Shots From Senator Bouchard

In the current issue of that deeply interesting paper Le Clairon, published in Saint-Hyacinthe, Quebec, there appears an article by the publisher, Senator T. D. Bouchard, headed "Last Shots"; in it the writer imparts the sad news that failing health and blindness make it necessary for him to relinquish his editorial work, and in one paragraph he declares, "I am leaving the battlefield".

Senator Bouchard's career, both as a journalist and as a politician has been a tempestuous one, in the course of which he has encountered deep enmity, but has also compelled the admiration of many people who do not agree with his opinions. Courage is always exciting, and Bouchard has courage in a remarkable degree. Courage has brought its rewards; he has held high office in the Quebec Legislature, and in 1944 he was appointed to the Senate. He has enjoyed many honours.

What was the battle he fought? Against whom are these "Last Shots" directed? T. D. Bouchard is what is called, in Quebec, an anti-clerical. This does not mean that he is opposed to religion; he has repeatedly made clear his unswerving allegiance to the faith of Rome. But he is opposed to priestly interference in political matters, and he is particularly the enemy of priests who would retard the technological development of Quebec in the hope of thereby preserving in all its purity the piety of Quebec. After his long struggle he is still able to write in his last article: "The reptiles of pusillanimity, of faintheartedness, of bigotry, of ungratefulness and of reaction have not succeeded in dulling the weapon which I have used....I am leaving the battlefield without having ever forfeited either my honour or my duty".

It takes a brave man to fight clericalism in Quebec, and Bouchard has been the centre of many storms. It will be the earnest wish of his friends and followers that the illness which has overtaken him will pass, permitting him to pass the twilight of his life in serenity.

Light On The Heat

A correspondent from Brantford, Mr. Ernest Lowery, has given us some information about electric water-heaters which is more than mildly astonishing to us who have not his technical training. He says as a prologue to his revelations:

"The use of electric power for large scale water-heating is about the most wasteful of all forms of power consumption. Water-heating is fundamentally for the disposal, at very low rates, of hydro-electric power where the surplus water at the generating plants would otherwise be wasted over the spillways. But where a power shortage affects the economy of a community, water-heating loads are analagous to burning grain for fuel while neighbours lack bread".

That explains why the Hydro folk were busily canvassing the neighbourhoods in 1933-38 suavely "selling" people on the Commission's water-heaters and why the suavity has now gone and the salesmen are on the roof-tops denouncing people who waste power, and the various local Utilities Commissions are turning off the power to the heaters as often as they can and when they can. (They cannot do it in Toronto, because the heaters are not connected to separate leads, as here.)

Mr. Lowery tells us—and we have no reason to doubt him—that an average 900-watt flat-rate heater consumes approximately 21 kilowatt hours daily and that this volume of power is over twice as much as is used in most homes for all lighting, cooking, washing, ironing, refrigeration and the like combined. The same water-heater consumes as much power as would light at least four medium-sized homes, or over half a mile of ordinary residential street lighting. If 70 housewives each save the energy of a 60-watt lamp five hours every day, all their combined Hydro power savings is swallowed up in the daily operation of one standard 900-watt flat-rate heater. If a "booster" is attached to the flat-rate heater, all the power of Niagara seems to be used.

These are electrifying statements. We are more determined than ever to use the "booster" only in extremity, to conserve hot water and to boil with propane. It would be gratifying to know that the Hydro appreciated our efforts sufficiently to give us a rebate on the flat-rate heater bills, since we are not using the juice to which we are entitled and for which we are paying.

The Provinces In Pamphlets

The Canadian Geographic Society has published a series of pamphlets in the form of thin magazines on the geographical aspects of the separate provinces. There are nine of these booklets, decently printed on paper of good quality, plainly written, informative and abundantly illustrated. Some of the photographs are early modern—automobiles are as tattling guides to age as women's headgear. The booklets are rather restrictively labelled "Geographic Aspects", though the history, political status, industry, population and commerce are considered as well as the weather, topography and touring opportunities. The front covers give black and white reproductions of the respective parliament buildings. These are from colour sketches by Charles Simpson which appeared in the C.P.R.'s brochure issued at the time of the Royal visit in 1939.

Their handy size, condensed text, illustrations and scope should recommend them not only to educators (they have been prepared specially for students), but to businesses, municipalities and government bureaus wishing to win tourists and impress people abroad. We note that the pamphlet on Ontario falls into the usual error of judgement in sloughing off that large part of the province south of Algonquin and east of Toronto with a paragraph or two and a corner picture. What has western Ontario got that we in the east haven't and anybody would want to have? Surely not Toronto, Hamilton and Windsor?

NOTE AND COMMENT

Well, well, soon we'll have another mouth to feed—the good old furnace.

Undoubtedly some confused states of mind can be cured by head surgery. Look at that successful operation on Charles I.

A Canadian In The U.S.A.

By F. R. D.

IF Joe Stalin is as clever as he would like to have the rest of the world believe, he had better take heed of the race of giants being nurtured in Canada's sister nation, the U.S.A. If the youngsters I saw in a recent motor journey through the land of the free give a hint of what is to come, Uncle Joe will find his armies peering up at U.S. soldiers eight feet high and 350 pounds in the buff.

❖ ❖ ❖

THERE may be undernourished children in the U.S., and probably are. I failed to see them. The only ones I observed were plump and husky and could be described as large for their age. One bright youth I met socially over a sticky bun and a chocolate malt, admitted to being ten years old, four foot six inches high and weighing 155 pounds. Aptly described as a broth of a boy.

❖ ❖ ❖

HE wasn't unusual. I think it must be the eating habits of the people of the United States. Any nation that can breakfast off a coffee roll, covered with sugar, and a cup of coffee, have a snack of a couple of doughnuts and a glass of milk at 9:30, keep body and soul together at 10:30 with a malted milk and another bun, and build up enough strength to wade through a light lunch of steak and onions by eating a piece of pie at 11:30, has promise.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE eating places I invaded were all doing good business, no matter what the hour of the day. I concluded Americans were big eaters, although their choice of food was rather amazing and struck me as being on the fattening side. There must be more to it than that. Although the young fry were a little tubby, they looked healthy, and were of a size that augured well for their country's part in the preservation of peace.

❖ ❖ ❖

I DO wish service stations would be honest, and oil companies sponsoring or controlling them would take down those ridiculous signs saying the rest rooms are inspected. It is obvious they aren't, or perhaps all the inspectors are blind. I learned it was wise to avoid those places which flaunted their cleanliness in the public eye. One of the young ladies who accompanied me on my journey returned one day and advised the operator of the station that his rest rooms stunk. Granted it was a crude remark, but I don't think she meant it literally; at least I hope not.

❖ ❖ ❖

I'LL grant that in many cases it isn't all the operator's fault. He has the dear old public with which to deal. In a varied life my observations lead me to believe these necessary and serviceable institutions bring out the worst in mankind. Our civilization has only taken the first tottering step from the outdoor privy, and is still pretty primitive, but why rest rooms bring out the vulgar and ignorant in the public is a question I've pondered for many a long year.

❖ ❖ ❖

"THE human form deevine", either male or female, is far easier to look at and much more impressive when clothed in the garments we accept as belonging to it. Women in shorts and slacks are at a disadvantage in that they can't see what they look like from behind. They will rouse no sinful passion in the male; rather the reverse, I should think. The city fathers of Three Rivers, P.Q., as reported in the daily press a short time ago, may think mixed bathing opens the gateway to the highroad of lust. If they would observe what is being offered by both sexes in bathing suits I'm quite sure they would be at ease.

❖ ❖ ❖

WOMEN'S aren't the only offenders. The general run of male figures won't win any prizes. Men, with their shirt tails out, no ties and baggy pants little realize what a good friend their tailor is when he covers their manifest deficiencies. Most men are round-shouldered, or sway-backed, or bony-kneed, or hollow-chested, or pot-bellied ruins. They can cover a lot of these with an ordinarily well-cut suit, but seen with all their horrible landscape revealed they won't set any hearts on fire.

❖ ❖ ❖

THERE are some amazingly fine male and female figures which benefit from a little public display, but they aren't the run of the mill variety you find paining your eyeballs most of the time. And why people who are travelling deem it necessary to look like indigents, clad in ill-fitting hand-me-downs, presents an interesting subject for a governmental survey.

❖ ❖ ❖

I MENTIONED healthy children earlier. I can only hope they will continue to grow and prosper. Perhaps in two or three generations there will be a race of men and women who can go about half clad and delight the eye. At the moment those who expose their frames to view will cause neither Venus nor Apollo any sleepless nights.

Living Costs Raised By Taxes

The present administration has publicly admitted that taxes, particularly indirect taxes such as sales and excise taxes, add to the cost of living. It is high time that wage-earners were given some relief from this additional and unnecessary tax burden. Present tax rates are not justified either on a basis of need nor as a means of keeping down prices. A downward revision should be undertaken as soon as possible.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Honouring Count Bernadotte

Count Bernadotte is only the most distinguished of several U.N. officials who have given their lives in the effort to make peace in Palestine. A peace-hungry humanity would do well to honour them highly. It can do so most efectively by giving more active support to U.N. and to all genuine peace-making by combating in itself the ignorant prejudices and selfish fears which pervert patriotism.—Christian Science Monitor.

"ONCE UPON A TIME..."

Letter To The Editor

UNITY OF PURPOSE

Sir: To a lone "Wobbly" who fails to gain any benefit from the current form of religious practice, and tries to study out why your comment about Violet Goglin was quite interesting.

To me the answer lies in man's unsatiable desire to complicate his actions, not only in religious observance, but in economic and social fields as well. We seem to like to take the simplest form of agreement and mould it so that it can become a bone of contention for years, and make Bible statements into argumentative creeds and doctrines.

If I were teaching religion, my "firm theological structure" would contain only three solid blocks; moral consciousness of God; love of God; and love of fellow man. One of these blocks comes from the lesson of Adam and Eve, that man is not supposed to use his power of reasoning for the interpretation of good and evil, but is to rely on consciousness of God in all daily actions, and the other two from Christ's statement in His attempt to simplify the man-made complexities of the system of Moses.

These three principles, when taken completely and fully, comprise all that is necessary in religion, and in a way of daily life. Man, however, prefers the hard way, in religion, and all other fields of endeavour except science. In this exception he strives to simplify the complex, and what wonderful results he obtains. Religion, economics, and social life, might benefit by this example, if they would reverse their present trend of piling up complexities until we all get the jitters, and concentrate on basic simplicity.

As it stands at present, the first block in the structure, moral consciousness of God, has deteriorated to a state where we feel perfectly justified in getting away with anything that we can fit into our interpretation of man-made law, and in religion it has gone to the extent of resorting to civil law with an act, which, no matter how good it is, is purely an inconsistent repetition of the original sin of Adam and Eve, resorted to as a coverage of religious failure to accomplish through consciousness of God, what certain of its followers interpret to be right action.

The second block, love of God, exists, but it is a one sided love, like the son who adores a father who gives him a new car, and in the third block our love for fellow man is shown, up to the point where it suits our self interest, and the minute that it oversteps this mark it is discarded. In our homes we attain our greatest feeling of freedom and personal liberty; yet it is hard to picture the most doting parent permitting one member of the family to grab off all the choice bits for himself, or to sit idly by, while other members of the family do the chores, because he is clever enough to devise a means of getting out of it. Yet, the minute we step outside the family door this is the attitude we adopt toward our fellow man, despite this evidence that selfishness has no place in the attainment of the complete fullness of individual liberty.

As we progress in knowledge, the effects of neglect in these principles in daily life are becoming more evident, and it is becoming clear that the more complex we make things, the harder our basic existence becomes, although we develop the means of obtaining life to the full. Of course existence today in complete accordance with the three principles outlined is out of the question, but they are solid blocks, not honeycombed with a maze of cubicles in which we can closet our virtues and traits, to pop out on certain days and occasions, and in which we race about in almost complete lack of unity of purpose, except when we swarm out like a bunch of termites for the purpose of self defence. These blocks supply a unity of purpose which if properly emphasized in training and daily action would surmount all creeds and rituals, and fill our lives with the greatest need; unity of purpose in peace as well as war.

Even the most learned of theologians can cite no sound reasons why "Thy Kingdom come—on earth" should be stifled to the closet of prayer, and not become an active living unity of purpose. People are searching for a unity of purpose, and turning to Communism, for lack of a better one.

Yours truly,
RALPH G. KILBON.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despite the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?....

And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: and yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?....

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Matt. 6: 24-26, 28-3) 33.)

Commanders' Dress

Checking my dates, I came across this entry about Field Marshal Alexander in a personal journal of those days (1945): "Alex is a fascinating personality. His dress is sometimes strongly reminiscent of a brigand chieftain, but he looks most impressive whatever he wears. Today he took off his cap as soon as we left Caserta behind; when I next looked round he was almost hidden beneath a fur hat given to him by Stalin. He wore a fur-fringed jacket, and a very smart pair of top-boots presented to him by Marshal Tito."

This entry referred, I hasten to add, to an entirely informal occasion. "Alex" had, and still has, strong views about smartness of military dress and discipline. But, in general, war leaders of those days reserved to themselves the right to dress unconventionally on any occasion. General Montgomery and General Patton, the American, come instantly to mind. And Mr. Churchill, unhampered by set uniform, appeared in an astonishing array of garments. I remember him chatting to British commanders in Eisenhower's villa at Tunis; he wore his favourite siren suit, and over it a black dressing gown liberally emblazoned with silver dragons.—"Atticus" in Sunday Times.

A BRITISH OPINION

Trucker Burned Salvaging Goods

MARMORA, Sept. 30 — Trying to salvage paint and other goods at the back of a truck while it was a blazing inferno, William Walton, Lindsay, sustained serious injuries to his hands, which are expected to keep him off work for about five or six weeks.

The truck, belonging to L. T. Braunton and Co., was being driven by Mr. Walton along the road near Marmora, when he was stopped by a passerby and told that there was a fire blazing in the back of the truck. He immediately got out and started throwing paint and other goods overboard to save the whole truck from burning.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

U.K. Cloth Costs Keep Prices Up Makers Explain

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP) — British-made denim for overalls and work trousers costs too much for the Canadian market, witnesses declared during Tuesday's hearing of the Prices Commission.

They said there was a shortage of Canadian-made denim, imports from the United States were restricted by government controls and British-made material was available.

Ernest Near, general manager of Larned Carted Co. Ltd., of Toronto, was one of the witnesses who said his firm had begun to purchase denim for overalls in Britain. He added quickly:

"It's too expensive for the Canadian market."

He said comparable cloth, neither pre-shrunk, would cost 35½ cents in Canada and 48¾ cents in Britain. In overalls produced from the British cloth he would have to compete with his own lines of Canadian material, with the result that he would have to absorb a "squeeze."

Howard Daniels, general manager of the Kitchell Overall and Shirt Co. of Brantford, gave similar testimony. He said his company was buying pre-shrunk denim from Britain which cost 50 to 51 cents a yard laid down. Comparable Canadian cloth cost him 43 1-3 cents. He also said his firm would have to absorb the "squeeze."

"Not too tight a squeeze," Chairman C. A. Curtis commented.

"Well, maybe not," Mr. Daniels replied.

John Morawetz, general manager of Hamilton Carhartt Manufacturing Ltd. of Toronto, another producer of work clothes, said his firm found the "very high British price" too great a barrier to make purchases in the United Kingdom.

Mask Gets Main Mat Bout As Huge Pole Disqualified

The Masked Marvel won the main bout at the Brock last night over Waldyslaw Talun via the disqualification route. And the win was highly unpopular with a big crowd of grapple fans. Most of them still sat in their seats, not knowing the bout was over, till the announcer gave the referee's decision. And they booed it heartily.

The huge Pole shouted indignantly: "I beat him tonight and I beat him anytime, but not with any more Bunnies in ring!" Meaning Referee Bunny Dunlop.

Talun, a towering 315 pounds of power, won the first fall of the main go in 10½ minutes with a terrific bear-hug. The Mask, scaling 247, was younger and faster, as well as being trickier, but he couldn't match the power of the Pole. He tried unethical stuff to the boos of the fans and warnings of the referee, but he didn't try many grips with big Talun, who broke everything with ease. Waldyslaw was slow and clumsy but when he clamped the bear-hug on the Marvel and tightened it as he carried him around the ring it was all over. The crowd was happy about it all.

But the wily Marvel evened things up in just four minutes on their return. He kept away from Talun except to close in fast and rasp his eyes or swing a punch. He finally got him groping around and clamped a headlock on his opponent to yank him down near the ropes. Then, using the ropes for leverage by his feet, the hooded one held Talun down for a quick count by Referee Bun Dunlop. The crowd was plenty peeved at this, but not nearly as angry as the Pole.

The latter got to his feet and went after the Mask. He mauled him around the ring and the referee—after trying to break it up—signalled the timer to ring the gong for the third round. So they mixed it again, without having left the ring, but the infuriated wrestler from Warsaw had it all his own way. He yanked the Marvel around and finally threw him through the ropes. The referee tried to haul the Pole back but the latter threw him down, too, and stood on his neck. Then he reached out and yanked the Mask back in to rough him and throw him out once more. As an afterthought, he threw the referee out, too, as a chaser. This was too much for Dunlop and he promptly disqualified Talun—from a safe distance—and gave the deciding fall to the Mask, much to the fans' confusion. It had lasted less than three minutes.

A Good Scrap

And the semi-final bout was a honey, also, as Dr. Ed Meske, at 233, went to a time limit draw with Nanjo Singh, going 230 pounds. It was a hard scrap with Nanjo his usual villainous self and nearly in trouble several times with the referee. He was out of the ring once, and fans were throwing things, but the big Doc pretty well held his own. He got a chiropractic treatment for a space, and for free, but he later operated successfully on the unpopular Hindu. They threw plenty of action into a good bout (one of headline proportions) and the fans liked it.

Bill Stack of Bowmanville, at 224, drew in the prelim with Bob Becker, the rough 230-pound Californian. It was a rather lively opening tussle on a good card and the fans enjoyed the action. Bob knew a lot of unorthodox stuff but the powerful Bill held his own. Even the referee suffered an injured elbow out of this one as they mauled along the ropes hard. A double head scissors was one of the grips they favored and later a double rocking-chair hold. Stack fought back hard all the way to show he is ready to go with most of them on this circuit.

Lindsay Takes Girls' Title Over Ashby's

Lindsay defeated Ashby's 14-7 at the Bowl last night to take the intermediate title of the Girls' Softball League. They racked up an early lead and still finished strongly to earn the decision after Ashby's rallied halfway through to make it a good game. Joan Reynolds, Ashby's catcher, was ejected in the fifth inning for arguing too strenuously with the umpire, and the losers as a whole didn't play their best ball, having five miscues. Lindsay kept hustling behind good twirling by M. Owens, while B. Reid replaced D. McFadden on the home mound in the second heat.

H. Deyell and M. Chase stood out defensively for the champions while J. Dunk and E. Simmonds went best in the field for Ashby's. P. Graham and D. Madill had four hits each for Lindsay, two of the latter's being doubles. For Ashby's, E. McFadden was easily the best at the plate. The victors got 22 hits against 14 in the free-hitting tussle.

The teams:

Lindsay — H. Deyell, 2b; P. Graham, 1b; D. Hunter, c; M. Chase, ss; M. McGill, lf; P. Richards, lf; D. Wood, cf; J. Dawkins, cf; D. Madill, 3b; A. MacDonald, rf; M. Owens, p.

Ashby's—E. McFadden, 2b; J. Reynolds, c; D. Gilmour, c; E. Simmonds, 3b; M. Freeman, cf; D. Manley, ss; G. Dracup, lf; B. Reid, p; D. Callan, rf; J. Dunk, 1b; D. McFadden, p, f.

Yankees Glum Over Future

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30. — (AP).—"Looks bad," Bucky Harris observed today.

Harris' comment was made as he studied the American League standings, which showed Cleveland Indians two games ahead of New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox with only three games to play.

Harris and his Yankees were about as uncheerful as successful baseball warriors can be as they tramped into their dressing room after defeating Philadelphia Athletics 4-2 Wednesday.

For the Yanks to win the pennant outright, Cleveland must lose its remaining games while the Yanks are beating the Athletics and Red Sox.

"It would be funny," Harris said without a change of facial expression, "if the Indians lost those three."

Then he grinned. "But that won't happen. Feller won't lose."

The Yanks almost bowed out of the flag fight Wednesday because of a fly ball dropped by Joe DiMaggio, one of the greatest centre fielders in baseball.

DiMag was a pathetic looking figure as he hobbled about, favoring a charley horse in his leg. He looked most pathetic as he hurried in for a fly lifted by pinch hitter Carl Scheib in the last of the ninth.

Joe reached the ball, but dropped it and Scheib was on base. Then with one out, Barney McCosky slashed a double to right and the tying runs were on second and third.

GETS GATE—Joan Reynolds, captain of Ashby's softballers, was ejected last night in the fifth by Umpire Quemby for questioning a decision by the base arbiter. The game—won by Lindsay—has been protested.

Annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association is not till early in December, so groupings won't be officially announced till a week after that. But, of course, there's nothing to stop club in the meantime from trying to line up suitable groups. This applies to the local junior and senior "B" clubs. The OHA office is being moved from the Maple Leaf Gardens to more private premises in a bank building across the street. And we wouldn't be too surprised to see Secretary Bill Hewitt given a full-time assistant this winter to help handle the huge pile of mail, score-cards, schedules, phone calls, referees' reports, etc., which hit his desk daily. Mr. Hewitt, a life member of the OHA (as is R. M. Glover of this city), has been secretary ever since 1903, when he succeeds W. A. Buchanan of Peterborough.

Huntsville hustlers are back at Miller Bowl at nine tomorrow night to tackle the Petes in the third tilt of their best-in-seven OLA senior 'B' finals, each team having taken one. A loss for the locals would be rather serious as the speedy young Huntsville squad are tough onions on their own narrow floor. With four or five players of junior age—some older stars balancing things up—Bucko McDonald's bunch definitely do not show a proper respect for classy clubs like Oshawa and the Petes. They simply try to run the legs off them. But we think the Creighton crew can beat them here. In any case, it's sure to be a sizzling scrap before another big crowd.

Figuring Them Out

Alex Kay, who is commissioner for minor ball here, is busy sifting and sorting these days. Going through a lengthy list of names as he judges the most valuable player in the City Baseball League for the past season. More than 250 boys of junior age down to check on for the Fred Craig Memorial Trophy, given annually by The Examiner. Alex hopes to be out of the woods with the winners' name shortly. The trophy was taken in 1945 by Jack Sisson, in '46 by Al Menzies, and last year by Kenny Pammett. Despite a lot of ups and downs, and not too much financial aid, the City Baseball League had a pretty fair season.

Seems odd but no rugby is slated for Peter's borough this weekend at all. Someone must have slipped up on a schedule. Intermediate ORFU Panthers are playing in Oshawa, PCVS seniors have a four-point COSSA contest in Belleville, and the junior PCI-ers are off to Lindsay on Saturday. Panthers' game is mighty important and could mean a lot, later in their in their six-week schedule. On account of Orillia beat Panthers in a group game and Oshawa in an exhibition by about the same score—while Oshawa romped to a league victory over Oakville. This one is a test. Bev Goulding's gang also can do themselves a lot of good by a win worth four points.

An Infuriated Pole

Some of the fans at the mat show in the Brock last eve were peeved, but they had nothing on Talun, the 315-pound Pole wrestler. He was so mad that he threw the Mask out of the ring and then chucked the referee out as a chaser—and that did it. He was disqualified and the confused fans were told it was all over. His was a heroic figure as he threw one husky after another out and then stepped over the ropes to stride angrily through a cheering crowd. The guy is powerful — and Hydro might find him a big help in this power shortage. We liked the semi-final, too, as Nanjo Singh, the Hindu, salaamed to the east and Doc Meske slammed in any direction. Bill Stack got a prelim with Bob Becker. Yeah, fun and fury when the pro grapplers tangle.

* * * * * *

Lindsay lasses took a 14-7 victory over Ashby's at the Bowl last gloaming to apparently take the intermediate girls' softball title. However, a protest has been lodged by Ashby's on the grounds that Umpire Quemby, on the bases, refused to listen to a query by the captain of the club—Joan Reynolds—and that he finally ejected her from the game between innings when she called him over toward first to check on the play. Joan claimed a runner had left first with the pitcher in position to pitch and then returned to the base without being called out. Umpire Wood behind the plate said he was watching the pitcher, not the runner, and Umpires Quemby said he did not see the runner leave the base. Anyway, it's been protested.

Some Soccer Info

Toronto Legion can't make it here this Saturday for inter-branch soccer, but maybe on Oct. 9. Meantime, Art O'Halloran has arranged to bring the Slovaks of Toronto here for a match at four p.m. Saturday in King Edward Park. Legion and Petes play there at 9.30 a.m., while Lindsay has transferred its game to the southend park at two in the afternoon. So there'll be a soccer twin bill for the fans. Slovaks top their Toronto circuit. In school soccer yesterday, Confederation beat Queen Mary, Central took Queen Alex, and King Edward won from King George.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

A 21-3 victory by Argonauts football squad over Toronto Varsity nine years ago to-day cost them plenty in broken bones, cuts and wrenches. Art West, Annis Stukis, Jack Moon and Mike Barber were among those injured and Harry Sonshine, essaying a comeback in bigtime football, after a serious injury, suffered a twisted arm.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press.

Batting—Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner, Indians — Gordon and Keltner drove in all of Cleveland's runs in the Indians' 5-2 victory over Chicago. Gordon drove in three on a homer and double and Keltner two on a homer and two-bagger.

Pitching, Bill Nicholson, Tigers — Blanked St. Louis 4-0 on six hits in winning his 20th game of the season for Detroit.

Welterweight Dies After TKO In Ring

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (AP) — Kid Dinamita, 22, Santa Domingo welterweight boxer, died in hospital today, about five hours after he suffered a technical knockout in a bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Dr. Roger Vaughan, night superintendent at the hospital, said Dinamita died of "an apparent cerebral hemorrhage." He did not fully regain consciousness after his arrival at the hospital, Dr. Vaughan said. He was unable to answer the bell for the ninth round in his 10-round bout with Bobby McQuiller of Port Huron, Mich.

PCVS Juniors Gain Win Against SPS

Local junior high school football officially opened its regular schedule Wednesday afternoon at the Oval as PCVS defeated St. Peters 23-0 before a good crowd.

St. Peters held their rivals even in the second and third quarters, with no scoring at either end, but were outplayed in the first and fourth sessions, in each of which Coach Londry's team scored two majors. Two of the four were in turn converted, while Young booted behind the line to Fitzpatrick at the seven minute mark in the fourth and the latter was rouged on the play, to account for another point.

Don Griffin went through for PCVS at the 7.15 mark in the first, following a successful march into rival territory and Armstrong carried over for the convert. Then Evans swept around left end to give his team an 11-point lead. Both fought hard for 32 minutes as the linesmen did yeoman service for their respective teams. Early in the fourth, Jensen sped behind the safety man to catch a 35-yard pass by Griffin, possibly the best play of all, to sew up the ball game. Young booted a single and Armstrong skirted right end for a touchdown. He tossed a neat forward to McIlraith for the convert. Jensen, Langhorne and McIlraith were outstanding. Griffin outkicked his rivals and passed well. PCVS had a good edge on yardage. For St. Peter's, Crowley, Heffernan, Brioux, Monahan and Fitzpatrick looked best.

PCVS — Flying wing, Finn; halves, Armstrong, Young, Brown; quarter, Griffin; snap, Frise; insides, Grant, Knox; middles, Evans, Zinston; outsides, Braund, Burns; alternates, Hall, McIlraith, White, Jensen, Wood, rell, Ackford, Fowler, Wood, Scriver, Langhorne, Gandy, Facendi.

St. Peters — Flying wing, O'Rourke; halves, O'Neill, C. Crowley, Picard; quarter, Monaghan; snap, LaPlante; insides, Heffernan, Corkery; middles, Brioux, Wolff; outsides, Cavanagh, Fitzpatrick; alternates, Fitzgerald, Ferren, Armstrong, Hickson, Ryan, G. Crowley, Basciano, Morrissey, Richardson, McTague.

Referee, Ouimet; umpire, Duncan; head linesman, McGillis.

J. Watts Prexy Badminton Club

A meeting of the Peterborough Badminton Club executive was held at the home of the president Jack Watts where plans for the coming season were discussed and officers elected.

The following were named president, Jack Watts; vice-president, J. H. Shield; secretary, Bud LaBranche; treasurer, L. H. Collingwood; club captain R. A. Baker; social convener, Mrs. V. O'Donoghue; ladies' captain, Mrs. R. Charlton.

It was decided to open the courts for play Saturday, Oct. 16, with new members being welcome. The same membership fee as last year will be charged. It is expected that a lot of competition will develop in the Central Ontario Badminton district, with Cobourg and Belleville coming into this group for the first time this year.

TOP AMATEUR — Youthful Walter McElroy of Vancouver led all amateurs with a score of 288 in the Canadian Open Golf championship over Vancouver's Shaughnessy course last week. He placed seventh in the field with Ellsworth Vines, Dale Andreason and Dave Douglas, U.S. pros.

BRITISH HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION Bruce Woodcock knocked out Lee Oma from Chicago in the fourth round of an eight-round contest at Harringay Arena in London, Eng., recently. It was Woodcock's first appearance in the ring since he fought Joe Baksi 17 months ago. The fight was a disappointment in that Woodcock was above Oma's standard and there was little chance to test the British champion's come-back. In the above photo Lee Oma rolls over on the canvas and goes into a paroxysm of writhing after being k.o.'d by Woodcock in the fourth round.

Joe Gordon In Best Season

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30 (AP)—Nearly everyone on the Cleveland ball club has been nominated key man in the Indians' pursuit of the American league pennant.

Bob Feller, who Wednesday recorded his 19th victory? Yes.

Lou Boudreau, playing manager? Of course.

Bob Lemon who tomorrow goes for his 21st conquest of the year when the Tribe resumes against Detroit Tigers? Certainly.

Gene Bearden, Ken Keltner, Jim Hegan, Dale Mitchell, Larry Doby? Take your pick.

But what about Joe Gordon, the old (?) man of the infield?

At 33, the flash is enjoying his greatest season, even if he did bat .322 in 1942, the year he was voted the league's most valuable player.

Wednesday he produced the two wallops that eased Feller's road, which became plenty rocky before ending in his seventh straight victory, 5-2.

In the sixth inning, Gordon stepped to the plate and smashed a two-run homer that brought the Indians even with Chicago White Sox, 2-2. Up to then, southpaw Frank Papish was the complete master.

The next inning saw Gordon deliver another mate home with a two-bagger, giving him a total of 121 runs batted in for 1948. Never before had the Rock reached that high figure. The home run was No. 32 for him, another new high for the clouting Californian.

Braves Lose Heavy Hitter Jeff Heath Breaks Foot

BROOKLYN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Jeff Heath's dreams of playing in his first World Series after 13 years in the big leagues lay shattered to-day in a plaster cast surrounding his left foot.

The Boston Braves' Fort William-born outfielder broke the foot Wednesday trying to slide away from a tag at home plate in a game with Brooklyn. The game did no mean a thing, since Boston already had won the National League pennant.

The injury means a lot. It is so severe that Heath, now 32, may never play again. It robbed the Braves of their most powerful left-handed hitter and cut them to only three outfielders.

Heath wasn't a defensive star, but he is familiar with Cleveland Stadium. He started his major-league career with the Indians.

"Oh, why did I slide?" he moaned after being carried to the clubhouse.

"Because you are a hustling ball player," came the answer from pitcher Johnny Beazley.

Manager Billy Southworth, who missed his first game of the season Wednesday, heard the bad news on the radio. Wednesday night he said he had made no decision on a possible series replacement for Heath. To add a player now he would need special permission from Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Guesses were that he would ask to bring up Marv Rickert from Milwaukee of the American Association. Rickert, a left-hander, hit 27 home runs and drove in 117 runs this season.

Lucky Strikes Roll High In YM League

The Ladies Senior Bowling League of the YMCA started their long winter schedule last night. Lucky Strikes applied the whitewash to the Y's Mennettes as did also the Bombers to the Hurricanes. Glengarrys took two from Tigers and Corvetts did the same to Commandos. Betty Castle led all bowlers in the singles with a mighty 336 while Dot Martin had a 314 single game. Agnes Barrett had 645 for the high three with Dot Martin close behind her with 623. M. Gimblett was one pin short of 600. The high team score of 2880 was rolled by Lucky Strikes.

Wayne Brown Chosen To Play For St. Kitts

MARMORA, Sept. 30.—(ENS). —Wayne (Weiner) Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Deloro, will be donning the uniform of the St. Kitts T. P. junior "A' team this coming season. He has been at the Hershey, Penn., hockey school of the Boston Bruins, where he was chosen to play for the St. Catharines team. It was in 1947 that "Dit" Clapper interested himself in the lad and he played last season for a St. Kitts' juvenile team.

MARMORA'S $32,000 Dr. Hamilton Crawford Memorial Arena is the first of the covered arenas in the Peterborough district to be completed. It is expected to open officially about October 15. The arena is covered with corrugated aluminum sheeting and should hold about 1,800 spectators. It will have an ice surface 170 ft. by 70 ft. Work on the grandstand section is now being completed.

Boucher Says Scramble Hockey Appeals To Fans

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (CP). — Pardon, Mr. Irvin, but Mr. Boucher begs to differ.

Manager Frank Boucher of the New York Rangers takes issue with the desire of Dick Irvin, the Montreal Canadiens' mentor, to stop the scramble-type hockey being played at present.

Said the affable Boucher:

"It would deaden the game; the fans would boo us out of the arena."

Boucher expressed doubts that the Habitant coach will continue with his plan to permit only three of his Canadiens to cross the centre-ice red line into the opposing team's half of the rink.

"That style might have some success for the first 15 games of the season, but then everybody would catch on and the Canadiens would not have a chance," said Boucher.

There is nothing new in Irvin's ideas. In fact, he says, it would be only a return to the type of hockey played before power play became the vogue late in the 1930s.

"We can't put restrictive rules on the game," said Boucher, warming up to the subject as he recalled that Irvin advocated a change in the rules to keep the defence men back.

Of the Canadien mentor's prediction that his proposed rules will be in effect in the National Hockey League within two years, Boucher opined:

"They won't get them through in Irvin's or in my lifetime."

The vast majority of those buying tickets both in Canadian and American cities would deplore the suggested changes, Boucher insisted.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Dean McBride of St. Catharines, one of the "Form C" players Coach George "Punch" Impach of Quebec Aces, was charged with having attempted to rustle from Toronto Maple Leafs, Wednesday joined the Quebec Senior Hockey League team's training camp at Quebec City.

Club officials said that the Leafs had offered to release both McBride and Ray Hannigan of Welland, other player involved in the hockey rustling case, for $2,000 each. Hannigan has not been heard from by the Quebec club.

Both signed "Form C," National Hockey League form, with the Maple Leafs who wanted to send McBride to the Pacific Coast League and Hannigan to Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League.

"McBride wants to play with us and we'll do everything we can for him," Coach Imlach said. "But $2,000 is a pretty steep price to pay, and we want to see what he has to offer before the club buys the right to sign him."

Imlach said another prospect, William "Wiggie" Wylie, of Galt, who played for Galt juniors last year, was scheduled to report today.

The National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs came from behind Wednesday night at Waterloo to defeat Pittsburgh Hornets 7-6, in an exhibition match before a crowd of 2,700. Their American Hockey League farm hands were leading 6-5 with less than five minutes to go, but Les Costello tied it up at 15.30 on a disputed goal and Harry Watson followed with the game-winning marker at 16.05.

Cincinnati Reds Wednesday announced the purchase of Jim Bloodworth, Montreal second baseman, who was named most valuable player in the International League. At the same time Reds announced the outright sale of pitcher Johnny Hetki and outfielder Bobby Usher to Syracuse Chiefs of the International League.

Detroit Red Wings moved into their hometown Olympia Stadium at Detroit yesterday to begin their final two weeks' practice before the opening of the National Hockey League season. Close to 70 players from Sault Ste Marie, Mich., training camp took the ice with another 50 aspirants to arrive today from the Wings' western camp at Saskatoon, Sask.

Mrs. T. J. Agara of Toronto York Downs, today held a two-stroke lead in defending her Canadian senior women's championship at Toronto Golf Club. With an 18-hole total of 94 at the half-way mark reached Wednesday, Mrs. Agara was followed closely by Mrs. G. E. Hackney of Quebec Seigniory Club who shot 96. Mrs. G. McMillen of Toronto Golf Club was third with 98.

Demon Hanover, winner of the Hambletonian, steamed home in straight heats at Lexington, Ky., yesterday to win the $3,000 Arden Homestead Stake, a co-feature of the opening day's card of the 1948 Lexington Grant Circuit trots. Harrison Hoyt's streamlined three-year-old trotter, turned in a sparkling 2.01 3-5 in the first heat for his best time of the year for the mile.

Gaston Reiff, who won the 5,000-metre race for Belgium at the London Olympic games this summer, yesterday bettered the world record for the 2,000-metre run at Brussels. He was clocked in five minutes, seven seconds. The listed world record is 5:11.8 by Gunder Haegg of Sweden.

BoSox, Yanks Must Win Today To Stay In A-League Running

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sport Writer

Victory is a must today for Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees. They have to win in order to keep alive their slim mathematical chance of overhauling Cleveland Indians in the American League's pennant race.

The Indians, two games ahead of the runner-up Red Sox and Yankees, are idle today, and New York and Boston defeats will insure the Tribe of no worse than a tie for the crown. Should both the Yankees and Red Sox bow the Indians can clinch their first flag since 1920 by beating Detroit Tigers Friday. All three of the contenders have three games left to play.

Boston clashes with the seventh-place Washington Senators in Fenway Park while the Yankees tackle the tough Athletics in Philadelphia.

The Indians maintained their commanding two-game bulge by defeating Chicago White Sox 5-2 Wednesday. The Yankees downed the Athletics 4-2 and the Red Sox turned back Washington 5-1.

Going into today's games the picture is this:

Cleveland	95	56	.629
Boston	93	58	.616
New York	93	58	.616

While the battle to determine the American League's world series entry raged, Boston Braves, the National League's representative in the classic, suffered a severe jolt.

The Braves lost the services of Jeff Heath, their slugging outfielder. Heath, a native of Fort William, Ont., broke his left leg sliding home in the sixth inning, attempting to score from second base in a game against Brooklyn Dodgers. Heath was batting at a .319 pace and had belted 20 homers. The Braves won the game 4-3 when Sibby Sisti singled in Phil Masi from second in the ninth. Johnny Sain went the distance to record his 23rd victory.

The bombing bats of Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner brought Cleveland its 18th victory in the last 21 games.

Gordon drove in three runs with his 32nd homer and a double and Keltner punched in the other two with his 30th seat-smasher and a two-bagger.

Bob Feller, showing the effects of working with only two days of rest, went the route for Cleveland to post his 19th victory and seventh straight. He allowed 10 hits, walked three and fanned three.

The Sox jumped on Feller for two runs in the second inning. For a time it appeared that was all they needed as lefty Frank Papish held the Indians almost in complete submission for five innings, blanking them on four singles.

Sixth Inning Decisive

But in the sixth the Indians struck. With one out, Lou Boudreau walked. Gordon and Keltner followed with homers and the Indians were in front to stay. Gordon and Keltner went to work again in the seventh, rifling successive doubles behind a walk to Dale Mitchell to bring in Cleveland's final runs.

The Yankees also staged a three-run sixth inning rally to overcome a 2-0 Philadelphia lead. With two out and Tommy Henrich and Joe DiMaggio on base rookie outfielder Hank Bauer blasted his first major league homer to get the Yankees off the hook. The blow came off loser Dick Fowler of Toronto.

Boston also had trouble knocking off the Senators. Righthander Ellis Kinder allowed the Senators 11 hits in staggering to his 10th victory.

Tied at 1-1 going into the third the Red Sox tallied three times with the aid of two errors and four hits to forge ahead for keeps.

In the only other American-league game, Lefty Hal Newhouser turned in his 20th victory in pitching Detroit Tigers to a 4-0 six-hit conquest over St. Louis Browns.

Cincinnati Reds snapped their seventh-place tie with Chicago by beating the Cubs, 5-3.

A scheduled first game of a day-night doubleheader between Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cardinals in St. Louis was postponed because of rain but the night game was played, with the Pirates winning 2-1. The victory enabled the Pirates to move past the Cards into third place by half a game.

Mustangs Whip Imperials 42-0

SARNIA, Sept. 30 — (CP). — Coach Red Davis has been trying to get his Sarnia Imperials to adopt the wide-open system used by Johnny Metras at the University of Western Ontario.

Wednesday night Metras' Mustangs showed the Imperials how it worked—they let loose a seven-touchdown attack and snowed the Imperials under 42-0.

The attack was spearheaded by flashy Jack Parry who rolled up 21 points— three touchdowns, a single and five converts, including an 85-yard touchdown dash in the closing minutes.

Plunging half Bob Phibbs got three more and Blake Taylor powerhoused three yards for another which Bob McFarlane converted.

Neither McFarlane nor his brother Don—members of Canada's Olympic Games track team—made any major scores, but both helped set up several chances.

Only once did Sarnia threaten. The Imps recovered a Western fumble in the third quarter and went down to Western's four-yard line, only to fumble at the goal-mouth.

Lindsay Pair Capture Jeffries Cup

By HERB MARTIN

With nearly every club in the district represented, District No. 14 of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association met here on Wednesday afternoon and evening for the annual meeting.

President W. Jeffries and Chairman Judge S. Smoke, welcomed delegates and both were pleased to see so many of the clubs represented. They agreed that it was the largest representative meeting the district ever held.

During the afternoon a doubles tournament was played, each team playing three 10-end games. The beautiful trophy presented by W. Jeffries for annual competition, was won by the Lindsay pair of S. Elsden and P. Skitch.

At the conclusion of the games all adjourned to Hooper's palm parlors where chairman Judge S. Smoke tendered complimentary dinner to the delegates.

Following the dinner the annual meeting took place, and while there was some real lively discussion, the main items were the election of officers for 1948 and the choosing of tournament dates by the different clubs. This being done a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the returning officers for their work during the season, and to chairman Judge Smoke for his hospitality.

Officers are: president, W. M. Letcher, Port Perry; vice president, W. Cole, Bowmanville; secreary treasurer, J. Allan, Port Perry; club representatives — Cannington, W. Livinstone and L. Southworth; Lindsay, S. Elsden and P. Skitch; Cobourg, R. Holland and W. Hoskins; Port Hope, H. Willias and M. Wickett; Bowanville, D. Caster and F. Cole; Port Perry, W. M. Letcher, T. Allan and F. Dennise; Peterborough, Wm. Jeffries, R. Gamble, Judge S. Smoke, H. Freeman, J. D. Fitzpatrick and H. R. Martin.

Remember if the weather is fine, we intend holding a men's doubles tournament Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Choose your own partner. Be sure to come out as this may be the last of the season.

U.C. Asks Curb Placed On Liquor Firms

By ROBERT PHILLIPS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 30—(CP)—The United Church of Canada, its 13th general council concluded, has placed on record a demand for curbs upon the liquor industry in the dominion and a royal commission to inquire into all aspects of its operations.

The church made known its attitude toward alcoholic beverages and their manufacture, distribution and sale by accepting Wednesday a report prepared by a committee under R. T. Richards of London, Ont.

The report asked the church to urge governments to institute a "steeply graded tax on capital gains of beverage alcohol companies" and, in line with the British example, to increase taxes on beer wines and spirituous liquors.

A study of alcohol "to protect society against the evils and ravages of the drug," also was recommended, this to be carried out by provincial health and education departments.

Rev. J. R. Mutchmoor of Toronto, secretary of the Evangelism and Social Services department, said there now was more money in the liquor industry, "six times over, than the richest gold mine in the world."

Development Program

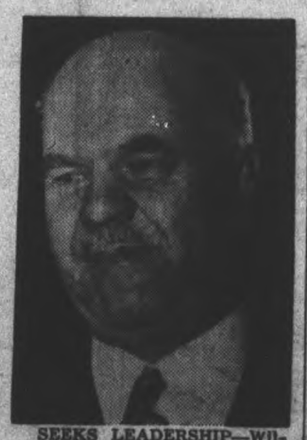
Before concluding its nine-day sessions, first held on the west coast, the council approved a $3,000,000 development program designed to overcome three "obstacles."

These were listed in a report presented by Rev. W. Harold Young of Toronto as a lack of "spiritual conviction and response" on the part of a large section of the church; a shortage of personnel and candidates for full-time service; and an insufficient number of recruits.

In dealing with observance of the Lord's Day, a report prepared by a committee under Judge Archibald Cochrane and Rev. R. C. Chalmers of Toronto criticized organized Sunday sport, called upon the church to undertake activities which would appeal to youth "who have no regular activities on Sunday afternoon and evening" and asked the government to refrain from having armed force training on the Lord's Day unnecessarily.

To Make Penicillin

BOMBAY — (CP). — It is estimated that India will be able to manufacture 100,000,000,000 units of penicillin a day when about $3,000,000 worth of the necessary machinery arrives here, Maj.-Gen. Sokhey, director of the Haffkine Institute, said recently.



SEEKS LEADERSHIP—Wilfred Garfield Case, 49, above, is a candidate for the Progressive Conservative party leadership being vacated by John Bracken. Member of Parliament for Grey North, the former mayor of Owen Sound, Ont. is best known for defeating General McNaughton in a by-election which followed the conscription crisis late in 1944.

EARLY BIRDS AT THE MEETING of the policy and resolutions committee of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ottawa's Coliseum are this trio from St. Johns, Que. Left to right, Alexandre Gregoire, Ivan Sabourin, KC, leader of the Party in the Province of Quebec, whose home is in St. Johns, and J. A. Gagnon.

'Re-Birth of Freedom' Aim of PC's—O'Leary

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 — (CP).—The Progressive Conservative Party must and will bring Canada a "re-birth of freedom," the Party's National Convention was told to-day by M. Grattan O'Leary of Ottawa, temporary joint chairman.

Addressing delegates as they assembled to choose a new leader Mr. O'Leary said the party was preparing to "resume its historic task of rescuing this country from crisis."

Mr. O'Leary, associate editor of the Ottawa Journal, spoke shortly after the convention opened. It was a rousing pep talk setting a fighting mood for 1,311 delegates starting to pick John Bracken's successor and to fashion a platform directed at carrying the country at the next election.

Mr. O'Leary said the Party gathering gave testimony that "democracy in this land is still a living faith, and that the Progressive Conservative Party prepared to resume its historic task of rescuing this country from crisis."

"The survival and extension of democratic traditions are the challenge of our day," he said.

For too long, Mr. O'Leary said, Canada had been governed by "mottoes and banners." There had been government by anniversaries, by slogans, by men rather than by laws, by questionnaires, by a hierarchy of bureaucrats, by Order-in-Council, by taxation imposed over the radio, by surrender to Socialists, and government to beat Walpole's record of power.

"And now," the joint chairman added, "government by a party leader apprenticed to a prime minister who is responsible to no one at all."

While his indictment of the Liberal party might be strong, Mr. O'Leary said, he reminded his audience that at the Liberal convention last month, the government had been criticized by two supporters for giving power to persons not responsible to the people.

These were Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia and former Air Minister C. G. Power, a leadership candidate.

Of Canada's foreign policy, he said it "has looked suspiciously like humbug." It had certainly lacked consistency and clarity, and probably competence.

Taxes Too High

Attacking Liberal budget policy, Mr. O'Leary declared every month this year the government was taking from the people $80,000,000 more than it needed. That was indefensible.

"Not only our workers," he said, "but hundreds of thousands of our people on middle-class incomes are being taxed to a point of cruel hardship—all this that the government may boast of a surplus and satisfy its mania to spend still more and more."

Peron Arrests Englishman In Plot Inquiry

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 30.—(AP).—Argentine police Wednesday freed two priests held in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate President Juan Peron. At the same time they arrested an Englishman.

The Briton, Geoffrey P. Brooke-Taylor, 52, was picked up after the police said they discovered a store of arms and ammunition in a wine warehouse. Brooke-Taylor is assistant manager of El Globo Wine Company

Rev. Fidel Horacio Moreno, a navy chaplain, and Rev. Carlos Grandi were freed when Judge Oscar Palma Beltran said the only evidence against them was that they had been invited to one of the plotters' meetings by a third priest still held.

CWL Donates $50 For Centre

MARMORA, Sept. 30 (ENS).—It was decided to donate $50.00 to the new recreation centre at the September meeting of Catholic Women's League held in Sacred Heart School on Monday evening. An entertainment will also be held in November in aid of the same project.

The president, Mrs. Charles Cook, extended a welcome to the chaplain, Rev. H. J. Farrell, recently returned from a trip to Ireland. She also thanked the members for their co-operation and work in raising funds during the summer months. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Earl Heath, showing a balance of $125 in the bank. Mrs. Cook followed with an interesting report on the diocesan convention held in Prescott. Miss Mary Hughes displayed a quilt and an embroidered spread on which tickets will be sold in aid of the coming bazaar. Mrs. J. Black and Mrs. Joseph Doyle volunteered to act as the visiting committee for the ensuing month.

The president asked members of Group 4 to furnish the lunch for the October meeting. It was also decided to give a donation of $5 to the Marmora Agricultural Society. The president thanked the members for their co-operation in the operation of the booth at Marmora Fair whereby $52.80 was realized.

Rev. Father Farrell addressed the gathering giving an interesting talk on his trip to Ireland. Mrs. Cook presented Richard Meehan with $5 for getting the highest marks of the children of the parish in the entrance examination. The president also congratulated Carl Lynch who recently won a scholarship and is attending Queen's University. Mrs. Donald Shannon gave a paper on "Education, Scholarships, and Study Clubs." At the October meeting Mrs. William Shannon will give a paper on Citizenship. The president announced that a quilting will be held in the school on Friday and urged members to attend. A few games of bingo were enjoyed and refreshment were served by the women in charge.

Youth Demands P.C. Party Change Policy

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP) — Youth sounded off Wednesday night on the eve of the Progressive Conservative National convention.

Allen F. Lawrence, a 22-year-old navy veteran from Toronto, talked straight from the shoulder as he addressed a banquet of the party's Student Federation, of which he is president.

He said time is running short and the Progressive Conservatives had better start talking in terms the ordinary man understands. Four candidates for the party leadership, which will be decided Saturday—last day of the convention—heard him speak.

"I feel the party has been losing support for many years," said Mr. Lawrence, now a student at the University of Toronto. He advocated something dynamic—"call it 'political dynamite' if you will" —to regain the confidence of the man-in-the-street.

Six Speakers

Mr. Lawrence is one of six students who spoke at the banquet. The others were: William L. Archer, McGill University, Montreal; A. William Cox, Dalhousie University, Halifax; James Robins, Queen's University, Kingston; Robert Kohaly, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, and Leslie Bewley, University of British Columbia, Vancouver.

Mr. Archer promised youth's full support to the new party leader, whoever he may be. But he said youth is on guard "to keep the party free of deadwood and dry-rot."

"We are not willing to jump smartly to attention merely at the crack of a party whip. We want a fighting political party. We will support that."

Child Drowns

PRESTON, Sept. 30 — (CP). — Two hours after he was removed from a pool of water where he was floating face down, near his home, Charles Boone, aged two, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Boone, Preston, was pronounced dead Wednesday night. Mrs. Boone found the child floating on the surface of the 18-inch-deep pond.

DREW EVASIVE—Newsmen were out in force to greet Ontario's Premier George Drew, candidate for the Progressive Conservative party leadership, when he arrived in the capital by plane but all they got in the way of news was a refusal to discuss policy matters or to make any predictions.

Sex-Slaying Goes To Jury At The Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 30. —(CP).—A murder trial jury is expected to rule today on the guilt or innocence of Richard Rivers, 20-year-old Ojibway Indian, accused in the hotel room sex-slaying of his 21-year-old part-Indian sister-in-law.

Mr. Justice G. A. Gale said he would deliver his charge to the jury at the start of to-day's hearing.

Defence counsel Ian Munro told the jury the Crown had presented no evidence concerning Rivers' activities at the time of the slaying. The girl was beaten and strangled July 23 in a hotel room registered in Rivers' name in Blind River, 96 miles east of here.

Rivers previously testified he went to the bedroom with the girl, had sexual intercourse with her and had "passed out" after drinking eight pints of beer and a pint of whiskey. He said he came to several hours later on the street, returned to the room and was shocked to see his sister-in-law "on the bed, naked and strangled and beaten."

Claims Not In Room

Mr. Munro said anyone might have gone to the room unseen after Rivers left it. Rivers claimed he was out of the room about four hours.

"There is much doubt in this case," Mr. Munro said. "The town was full of fire-fighters. There were men of all characters. Remember that men were conscripted for fire-fighting with the only requirement being strong backs."

The slain girl was "a person of primitive emotions and led a type of life that leads to violence,' Mr. Munro added.

Attorney Arthur A. Wishart asserted sex was the motive. He denied that May Rivers was a woman of loose morals. He said Rivers had wanted his sister-in-law to spend the night with him and killed her when she decided to leave.

The defence had offered no evidence that Rivers was anywhere else than in the death room at the time the girl was killed. Rivers had been "running from justice" when arrested in the Mississagi bushlands west of Blind River three days after the slaying, he said.

Mr. Wishart described Rivers' story of losing consciousness for most of the night as a "fantastic fabrication."

CRERAR REVISITS PARIS—Following his participation at the ceremony in which Queen Julianna succeeded to the throne of the Netherlands recently, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, wartime commander of the Canadian Army, is making a "good-will tour" through Belgium and France. This Canadian Army photo shows him inspecting a guard of honor at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris, where he placed a wreath. Accompanying him is General Devinck, commander of the First Military Region of Paris.

Present Gifts To 2 Members

HAVELOCK, Sept. 30 (ENS). —The Parish Guild of St. John's Anglican Church met at the home of the president, Mrs. Frank McKay, on Monday evening to say farewel to two of their members, Mrs. T. W. Quinn who has taken up residence in Peterborough and Mrs. Charles Taylor who leaves next week to reside in Toronto.

During the evening Mrs. Quinn and Mrs. Taylor were each presented with two cups and saucers. The address for the former was read by Mrs. J. Leask with Mrs. L. H. Cooke presenting the gift while the address for the latter was read by Mrs. W. Rice with Mrs. B. Longmuir making the presentation.

The addresses signified the high esteem in which both Mrs. Quinn and Mrs. Taylor are held by their friends in the Parish Guild and the regret felt by the members at their departure.

An enjoyable social time was spent during which Mrs. Taylor was the prize winner in a "berry" contest. Dainty refreshments followed.

Those present were: Mrs. Randal Melville of Ottawa, Mrs. M. Barithrop of Peterborough, Mrs. R. Jones, Mrs. A. Buckland, Rev. P. A. Rickard, Mrs. H. W. Roche, Mrs. L. H. Cooke, Mrs. B. Longmuir, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. J. Leask, Mrs. W. Rice, Mrs. E. Anderson, Mrs. J. Melville, Mrs. R. Melville, Mrs. J. Seabrook, Miss Joan Taylor, Bruce Cooke.

WMS Sectional Rally Held In Havelock United Church

HAVELOCK, Sept. 30.—(ENS). —Until we realize that God made of one blood all nations of the world we can ever build up a Christian brotherhood in the world, said Miss Maimie Gollan, United church missionary connected with the Church of All Nations, Toronto, who was guest speaker at the afternoon session of a sectional rally of the Women's Missionary Society held in Havelock United church Tuesday.

She stressed the responsibility facing the WMS in befriending the great number of people who are pouring into Canada from all nations of the world. Some of these people are going to homesteads in Western Canada, others to the mining towns of Northern Ontario, but there is a large number settling in the downtown sections of the large cities, where rents are low, poor housing accommodation and being unable to speak good English they cannot command lucrative jobs. This last group presents the greater problem and the result will be either Christ or Communism. In Toronto, Miss Gollan said, there are about 80,000 such persons speaking 50 different languages.

In 1927 she said a survey had been taken covering a space two miles square and 10,000 persons were found there speaking 30 different languages.

These people represent a cross section of Europe and this is where the Church of All Nations is doing its work. They have two chapels where six services are held in six languages every Sunday.

Asks Position

How do we feel about these people coming to Canada she asked. She had heard professing Christians say "let them go back to their own country." The question she said is, have they a country? Many are coming here from concentration camps while others have been living in dug outs, and she particularly mentioned the plight of the Jews. We talk on Sunday about the fatherland of God and the brotherhood of man and during the week do we carry this thought with us she aked.

Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh introduced Miss Gollan.

Devotional Period

The devotional period at the afternoon session was conducted by Mrs. David Barr and Miss Helen Tedford of Cottesloe. A solo was sung by Mrs. J. C. Gall. An invitation from the Norwood auxiliary to hold the sectional rally there next year was accepted. The session was closed with prayer by Mrs. H. Rehill, of Peterborough.

At the morning session, there were two devotional periods. The first was conducted by Mrs. Clayton Breckenridge and Mrs. J. W. Clysdale of Westwood with the following members of Havelock auxiliary officiating for the second period: Mrs. G. W. Chiles, Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh, Mrs. A. Anderson and Mrs. H. Agnew.

Conducts Study Period.

Mrs. J. M. Beatty of Peterborough conducted the study period using the first chapter of the new study-book, "West of the Gorges." She was assisted by Mrs. A. E. Hogg of Norwood, Mrs. Robert Wood, of Westwood and Mrs. A. E. Metcalfe of Hastings. The latter also gave a message on "stewardship".

Mrs. E. Johnson of Norwood, literature secretary, had a very fine display of books.

Each auxiliary reported their enrollment and the number of new members received last year. In answering the question, "what is the best way to get new members?" they all agreed that personal contact was the best method.

Mrs. Rork Ferguson, of Norwood, presided for both sessions, with Mrs. John McConnell of Norwood, as secretary. Mrs. Harry Watson, of Havelock, officiated as accompanist.

Guests Present

Among those present from out-of-town were: Mrs. Robert Collins, Mrs. A. E. Metcalfe, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Mrs. Arthur Waters, Mrs. H. E. Oliver, Mrs. W. Way of Hastings; Mrs. Alfred McMillan, Mrs. Ralph Cuthbertson, Miss Maysie Buck, Miss Pauline Weir, Miss Rose Squire, Miss Mary Long, Mrs. A. Weir, Mrs. G. A. Hamblin, Mrs. A. W. Moirs, Mrs. E. Scott, Mrs. Willis Preston, Mrs. R. J. Leeper, Mrs. E. Johnston, Mrs. Rork Ferguson, Mrs. R. J. Girvin, Miss Iva McConnell, Mrs. John McConnell, Mrs. A. E. Hogg of Norwood; Mrs. J. M. Beatty and Mrs. H. Rehill, of Peterborough; Mrs. C. Breckenridge, Mrs. H. Neilson, Mrs. J. W. Clysdale, Mrs. John Davidson, Mrs. R. Wood of Westwood; Mrs. J. E. Kidd, Mrs. F. Toms, Mrs. F. Girvin, Miss Helen Tedford and Mrs. D. Barr of Cottesloe.

Duplessis Votes Have Own Choice Says Sabourin

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP) — Ivan Sabourin, leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Quebec, said Wednesday night that to "the best of my knowledge" Premier Duplessis of Quebec and his Union Nationale party are not supporting any particular candidate for the Federal leadership of the Progressive Conservative party.

Mr. Sabourin said at a press conference that he is sure Mr. Duplessis has not departed from his policy of non-interference in Federal affairs.

He said he had read reports that the "Duplessis machine" is backing Donald Fleming, member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton and one of the leadership candidates.

"I am profoundly convinced that such reports are totally inaccurate," said Mr. Sabourin.

Mr. Sabourin added he personally is backing Premier Drew of Ontario for the leadership. The Quebec delegates have been told to vote for the candidate of their own choice, but he believed 50 per cent of them would vote for Mr. Drew.

LIEUT.-GEN. WALTER BEDELL SMITH, US ambassador to Moscow, gives a personal report on the Russian situation to President Truman, left, aboard the latter's presidential campaign train en route to Bonham, Texas. Smith, who flew from Washington to deliver the first-hand report, declared that US relations with the Soviet Union had never been more "critical" than today.

Toronto To Get Power Cuts Tuesday–Unless

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—(CP).—Toronto householders today were confronted with large newspaper advertisements telling them when and where their power supplies will be cut next week if compulsory cut-offs become necessary.

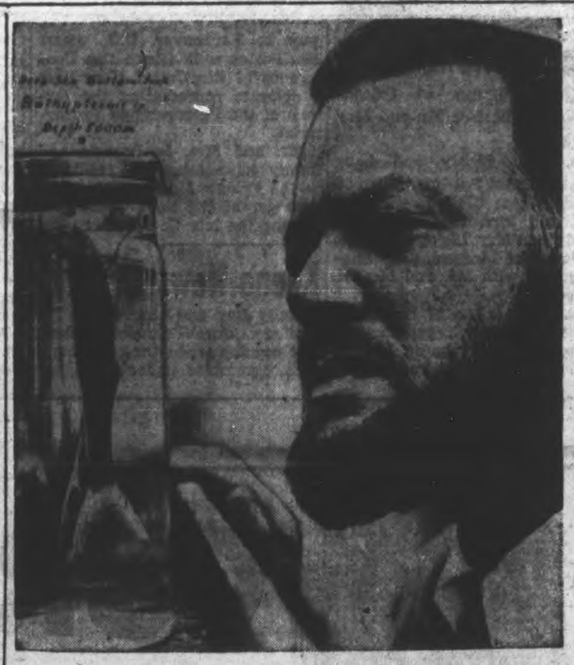
Officials of the Toronto Hydro-Electric system said it was "quite possible" cuts would come next Tuesday—unless the city cut consumption to the quota set by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Power will be cut in suburban Port Credit for two 45-minute periods today—five days in advance of the Oct. 4 deadline set by the Commission.

The Commission said it would pull switches in all communities exceeding their power quotas after that date.

The second critical power shortage in Ontario in two years is blamed on heavily-increased industrial consumption and lower water levels in rivers and streams serving Hydro projects.

Commission chairman Robert H. Saunders said Wednesday night consumption was falling gradually in southern Ontario—but further cuts must still be made.



DR. B. KULLENBERG, of the Swedish motor-boat "Albatross" which recently returned from a voyage around the world, on deep sea research, is shown with a deep sea fish called the "Bathypterois" which was caught at a depts of 5,000 metres. A trawl made at 4,330 fathoms produced no fish, but there was evidence of life at this depth. Specimens of lime tubes of worms are at present undergoing investigation. Dr. Kullenberg is in London, Eng., at the moment.

To Petition For Release

TORONTO, Sept. 30—(CP).—Harry Davis, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) said Wednesday the union is starting a national petition campaign to free seamen jailed for offences committed during the current Lake seamen's dispute.

Mr. Davis protested the sentencing of seamen to two years for breaches of the Canada Shipping Act which did not permit them trial by jury.

$15,000 Yields $6,000 Prices Commission Told

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP)—The Prices Commission was scheduled to wind up its investigation of men's work clothes today with an examination of Hudson's Bay Co. officials.

One of Wednesday's witnesses, Arthur Jacobs of the Union Overall Manufacturing Co. of Montreal, described it as "a low-profit, high-turnover business" after Chairman C. A. Curtis had drawn attention to the firm's yield on its capital.

Mr. Jacobs had presented records showing that last year the firm's $15,000 capital yielded $5,956. A return of that nature "is something we'd all like to get into," Prof. Curtis declared.

Later in the day Commission Counsel H. A. Dyde declared that the profits of the Western Glove Works Ltd. of Winnipeg amounted to a $90 yield on shares with a par value of $100. In this case, however, the full capitalization of the firm was not drawn out.

"Your gross profits are immeasurably better, immeasurably more favorable to you than most companies that have appeared before us," Mr. Dyde said to the firm's representaitve on the witness stand, Samuel B. Nitikman.

Mr. Nitikman, secretary treasurer of the Company, replied:

"Thank you."

Mr. Nitikman, discussing the price of overalls, declared that it was reasonable in relation to farmers' increased incomes. Two bushels of wheat would buy a pair of overalls today "which it certainly wouldn't during the 30s."

When Mr. Dyde asked what lines yielded a 50 per cent mark-up the witness replied:

"In children's wear you can sometimes get that—it's perhaps a bit exaggerated."

"I don't think it's much exaggerated—not from looking at your statements," Mr. Dyde said.

Few Pass At Osgoode

TORONTO, Sept. 30 — (CP)—Only 41 of 114 law students passed supplemental examinations at Osgoode Hall Law School, officials announced Wednesday. Together with failures chalked up in regular first-year exams, they set a record high for the Law School. Only 87 of 323 first-year students passed.

Witness Held In Police Deaths

MONTREAL, Sept. 30 — (CP). — Police said Wednesday night that Louis Desrosiers, wanted as a material witness in connection with the slaying of two Montreal policemen in a bank holdup last Thursday, has been arrested.

They said that Desrosiers was arrested around 10.30 p.m. and that he was taken to police headquarters where he is being questioned. Police said they had nothing further to say for the moment.

Search continued, meanwhile, around the Ottawa and Hull districts for Donald and Douglas Perreault, unrelated, said by police to be responsible for the slaying of the two policemen.

Noel Cloutier, 24, was captured by police a short time after the holdup in which policemen P. E. Duranleau and Nelson Paquin were killed.

Co-op Prospers

WINKLER, Man. — (CP). — An annual turnover in excess of $500,000 is already in sight for the Winkler Co-op Creamery, after the first 11 months of the present fiscal year. Butter production is up 12,000 pounds over last year's total.

DESTINED TO REGULATE the flow of the Ottawa River, the Bourque Dam has been officially opened. Situated at Lake Dozois, the dam is named after Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Natural Resources for Quebec, and has a capacity of 66,000,000 feet. It is part of a two-year, $3,000,000 project to store the spring abundance of the Ottawa for later use and thus to assure the Quebec Hydro-Electric of a steady source of water power.

Keene News

Rally Day was observed at the United Church Sunday School last Sunday when the ten classes were assembled under the direction of David Edwards. A very interesting program included readings by Marlene McNevan and Betty Thomson, a story was given by Miss Mary Gall and an address by Bryce Steele of Peterborough.

At the Church Rally Day Service the sermon by the minister was on the topic "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." The choir sang an anthem appreciated by the large congregation. At this service the sacrament of baptism was observed when six infants were dedicated, their names William John Stewart, John Douglas Lane, Janet Madeline Thomson, Margaret Ruth Elmhirst, Francis Renwick Elmhirst, Rheta Mae Davis.

Next Sunday the World Wide Communion Service will be held at the United Church at 11 a.m. The preparatory service will be held on Friday, October 1, at 8 p.m.

A teacher training class is planned to begin on October 19 in the Sunday School and will be open to all Sunday School teachers in the township or any who desire to take these studies. The course of study "The Personal Religious Life," is sponsored by the Canadian Council of Churches.

Rally Emphasizes Need For Mission Funds

HAVELOCK, Sept. 30 — (ENS) — A sectional rally of the Young People's Union of the Peterborough Presbytery of the United Church was held on Monday evening in the Orange Hall. Representatives were present from Peterborough, Hastings, Norwood and Havelock with the following Presbyterial officers taking part.

Miss Eileen Thompson of Peterborough the missionary convener, said that the Young People's contributions to missions last year had fallen a good deal. The union had decided she said to bear the cost of maintaining two young missionaries, Rev. Floyd Honey and Mrs. Honey who had gone from this presbytery to the mission fields of China. In a letter to the Y.P.U. Mr. Honey wrote, "We go because our loyalty to Christ and the pressing need of people in other lands constrain us. The Y.P.U. have set themselves the task of raising $2,000 extra this year for the "Honeys" she said.

William Piercy of Peterborough the citizenship convener, dwelt at some length upon the benefits to be derived from the new camp which is in course of construction at Moira Lake by the young people of the Bay of Quinte Conference. Forty-three persons have so far given free work to this project, and two carpenters will be employed next week who will complete the buildings that have been started. He said that the United Church has the largest Young People's Union in the world.

David Hatherley of Peterborough gave his experiences while attending the recent North American Youth Conference held in the U.S.A.

Donald Spicer of Millbrook, fellowship convener, conducted the devotional period. In his remarks he said, "Our real purpose is to prepare ourselves for the Kingdom. We should practice fellowship and no matter where we are or what we are doing if we ask Christ to be with us, He will be there." He illustrated his remarks with the change that Jesus brought about in the life of Zacchaeus. He concluded by giving suggestions in the way to conduct fellowship meetings.

Miss Hilda Northey of Peterborough, culture convener, said that art and literature were closely related to every phase of young people's work. She recommended that each society take up dramatics and produce a play from time to time.

Robert Brown of Peterborough vice-president, was chairman for the evening and Miss Helen Kelly of Lakefield, recreation convener, led the gathering in several recreational numbers.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of activities by the Havelock Y.P.U.

Millbrook News

Miss F. Armstrong, of Dublin, Ireland, has been the guest of Rev. Walter Patterson and Mrs. Patterson for the past two weeks, and is now taking a trip across the Dominion to Prince Rupert, B.C. Miss Armstrong, who is matron of a hospital in Dublin, is making her first visit to Canada, and is quite in love with the country. She declares when she returns to Eire she will immediately begin 'saving up' for another trip to the Dominion.

Mrs. Ross Williamson, of Peterborough, guest soloist at the Presbyterian Church anniversary services on Sunday, and Rev. D. P. Rowland, of Toronto, guest preacher, were entertained at the manse by Mrs. W. Patterson during their stay in the village.

Canon Harrington and Mrs. Harrington of Kingston, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Harrington, the party going to the latter's cottage, Rice Lake, for Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Tiffin and two children of Peterborough, and formerly of Millbrook, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barringer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Shannon have moved back to Toronto after some months here. His father's sudden death some time ago have made it necessary for Mr. Shannon to take over the latter's business interests in that city.

Silver Plate Not A Factor In Accident

VOL. XCVII, No. 74 THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1948

Absolve Ohio Driver In Child's Death

HASTINGS, Sept. 30 (ENS).—An inquest into the death of 4-year-old Richard Mack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mack of Seymour township, who died at Belleville Hospital from injuries received in a car accident on [illegible] 29, was held in Hastings court, Thursday afternoon.

The child with two companions was on the highway four miles north of Campbellford. A car driven by Richard W. Unmitz, 81 East 233rd St., Euclid, Ohio, was proceeding north and another driven by H. McNicholl of Trent River was going south when the accident happened. The child darted across the highway between the cars and was struck by the Wnmitz car, evidence revealed.

The injured child was given emergency treatment at Campbellford by Dr. Baker and Dr. Joliffe, and was taken to Belleville General Hospital for an operation to relieve pressure on the brain as the child's skull had been fractured. Death occurred at 6.20 a.m. the following morn-

The jury returned the following verdict: "We find that Richard Mack became frightened and ran into the side of a car driven by R. W. Unmitz on the Campbellford-Hastings highway on June 29th, 1948, about 4.30 p.m. and that he died the following morning from compressed fracture of the skull and cerebrae haemorrhage at Belleville Hospital, and our opinion is this was purely accidental, and that Mr. Unmitz used every precaution to avoid the accident."

Dr. Wilkinson of Cobourg was the presiding coroner. Representing the Crown was Harry Deyman of Cobourg. Jury: Lou Kelly (foreman), Howard Fairman, Ernie Jones, Carl Oliver and Jim Montgomery. Court constable: Chief George Hardy of Campbellford. Witnesses: Dr. Baker, Eva Mack (10), June Mack (12), Mr. McNicholl, Mr. Unmitz, Constable A. Kellogg.

Consider Meeting

LONDON, Sept. 30 — (CP).—The Daily Herald to-days says in a Paris dispatch that the United States delegation at the United Nations is considering calling special big-power consultations on atomic energy control with Canada sitting in. The consultation would be to find a formula which might change the Russian point of view, he says.

DENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH examinations and lectures are being carried on in several rural schools during the next few days as part of the Dental Week program. On Wednesday afternoon Dr. C. McKee, Peterborough, gave an interesting talk at SS No. 1, Otonabee, followed by educational movies, shown in the Top photo. Before the show he examined the 35 pupils for dental fitness and found five of them had perfect sets of teeth; the remainder required some attention. In the Lower photo, Dr. McKee examines Shirley Hope. 12, of Grade 8, while Mrs. Clifford Irwin, teacher, looks on.

Doctor Lauds Rural Pupils In Dental Health Program

"I am agreeably surprised to find your dental health in such a good condition," Dr. E. C. McKee of Peterborough told pupils of SS No. 1, Otonabee, near Villiers, on Wednesday afternoon. He said his examination of each of the 35 pupils revealed five sets of perfect teeth and the remainder needed some attention.

As part of the program of Dental Public Health Week, several rural schools are being surveyed to gain first-hand information of children's dental health and at the same time lecture to them on the need of proper diet to promote good teeth in adolescents.

There were fewer parents present that was hoped for due to the busy farm season of silo filling in the district. The fact that the children's dental health was improving was due to parents' growing interest in this vital matter was Dr. McKee's opinion.

In order to impress his young audience, Dr. McKee drew large diagrams of teeth on the blackboard, showing tooth structure and how decay sets in and reasons for its cause, bad diet. He stressed the point of cutting down on sweets of all kinds and supplementing it with fruits and vegetables instead.

From a simple hand-out pamphlet compiled by dental public health committees, the lecturer enlarged on its 16 points and as a finale, three films, prepared by the National Film Board, were shown which admirably drove home his points. He was assisted in charting each child's case by the teacher, Mrs. Clifford Irwin.

Lock Employees Accept Contract

Deadlock between the Peterborough Lock Co. and Local 527 UEW has been broken by a new agreement granting employees 11 cents an hour, and with the difference between 11-15 cents subject to arbitration. Other terms to be arbitrated are details of a 50-50 contributary hospitalization scheme, vacations of two weeks after two years service, and pay for statutory holidays to equal average earnings.

About 150 union members jammed into the Union Hall on George St. on Wednesday night and voted to accept the recommendation of the negotiating committee.

The union members had previously rejected a straight across-the-board wage increase of 11 cents and the negotiating committee was instructed to ask for the difference between 11 and 15 cents to be subject to arbitration. An agreement was reached with the company and it was ratified by the unionists at the vote on Wednesday night.

FILM COUNCIL MEETING

A. E. Boriand, president of the Peterborough Film Council, and W. L. Graff, secretary-treasurer, are to attend the third annual meeting of the Federation of Film Councils of Eastern Ontario at Kingston on Friday and Saturday. Representatives of 12 councils will be attending the meeting of the organization. A film is to be previewed, that will have world-wide circulation, showing film council work in Eastern Ontario, including Peterborough.

GUN IS SEIZED

Game Overseer Fred Walton, Lindsay, seized a pump gun owned by W. D. Ramore, 231 Bloor St. W., Toronto, last Saturday. According to the overseer the hunter did not have the gun plugged to hold not more than two shells in the magazine. A charge has been laid under the Migratory Birds Convention Act. Ramore was hunting ducks on Cameron lake.

WISE BIRD

There is a wood duck in this district that knows a thing or two about preserving his life for he must know all about the shooting season in advance or read the papers, or something. Last Friday morning he let down for a landing at the water fowl pens at the Filtration Zoo and taxied up with the other ducks at feeding time, disappeared and has come back each day. This performance went on last Fall for a considerable period and officials have every reason to believe that it is one and the same bird.

War Veteran Released From Hospital

A silver plate in the head of Thomas Wilcox, war veteran who was almost killed by an electric shock in his home earlier this week, had nothing to do with the severity of the shock.

This fact was made known today when experts were questioned, thus exploding a belief common among many citizens.

Ross Dobbin, general manager of the Peterborough Utilities said: "This man must have been grounded somehow, and the plate in his head would not have made any difference if he wasn't grounded."

Wills Maclachlan, Toronto, secretary-treasurer and engineer with the Electrical Employers' Association of Ontario, was in the city today addressing workmen of the Utilities on accident prevention.

He said: "110 volts will kill a man in many cases, and that is is what Mr. Wilcox took on a house circuit. In fact, anything over 20 volts can kill a man with a wet hand contact."

Mr. Maclachlan explained that most of the body resistance to electric shock is in the outer skin, and as the plate was covered, it was hardly a factor. "I do not consider it made any difference in the severity of the shock," he said.

"That man should have died, there is not a shadow of doubt about it, and the persons who applied artificial respiration immediately can be credited with saving his life," Mr. Maclachlan added.

He said that all the facts of the case were being assembled and would be submitted to the commitee of the National Safety Council in Chicago, to ascertain if any of the persons are eligible for the President's Medal. This medal is given where a person saves a life by artificial respiration in cases of electric shock, drowning or gas poisoning.

Gave Valuable Aid

H. K. Clifton, Regional Inspector for the Central Ontario district is the man who would conduct an investigation to see how this accident took place, and to safeguard against any repetition. He was not available for comment today.

Wilcox suffered severe injury and became unconscious when he grabbed a split plug on an extension cord from a lamp, to plug it into the wall, after his baby had disconnected it. It is believed the faulty plug allowed him to get the 110 volts in the circuit.

He was unconscious when neighbors heard his wife's screams and rushed into his wartime home on St. Marys St. to give aid. After Dr. Zacks had been called and artificial respiration applied for more than an hour, the fire department emergency squad was called. An inhalator was used and the man taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. That was Monday night and today hospital officials said Wilcox was released Wednesday and is convalescing at his home.

Stony Lake Road Being Rebuilt

Work has started on the reconstruction of eight miles of road from Clarina to the Nepheline Mine on the south shore of Stony Lake. Considerable rock blasting is involved as well as the regular earth excavation and gravel surfacing. E. F. Marston, District Municipal Engineer, Municipal Roads Branch, Department of Highways, Port Hope, who is supervising the work, said today that he hoped it would be completed this fall.

Drilling and blasting of rock was done last fall, and mucking of the rock to be used as fill is now being carried out. Two bull-dozers and scrapers are working on the grading operations. Approximately a dozen men are working on the clearing and moving of fences. The work is being carried out on a day labor basis with rented equipment.

The existing right-of-way is being widened to 66 feet throughout, with a road surface of 24 feet in width. The finished surface will be of three-quarter-inch pressed rock supplied by the Nepheline Mine.

A mechanical shovel is to start work next week.

MISS BRIDGET (BEA) PHELAN

Miss Bridget (Bea) Phelan of Water St., died on Wednesday in hospital following a lengthy illness. She was born just west of Lakefield near the present site of the "Maples", daughter of the late Peter Phelan and Margaret Cavanaugh, and had lived in Peterborough most of her life.

She leaves three sisters, Mrs. F. J. McCarthy, and the Misses Martha and Josephine, all of Montreal. She was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Requiem Mass will be said on Saturday morning at 10 a.m. in St. Peter's Cathedral and burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Accident Costs 24 Millions Speaker Claims

The wastes and cost of industrial accidents were discussed by Eric Crawford, editor of Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, speaking at a dinner on Wednesday evening of the Peterborough-Lindsay Division of the Industrial Accidents Prevention Association, held at the Empress Hotel.

"In executive meetings of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association," said Mr. Crawford, "there have been many discussions of the value of accident statistics. Should they show the number of eyes injured, the number of foot injuries? Should they show whether Northville or Southville has more injuries? Should they be based on the number of million man-hours worked? The questions are debated back and forth, but always the final problem is how the total number of injuries can be reduced."

"To the man whose foot is mashed, whose eyes is burned, it doesn't matter whether he is the 1,000th or the only one in the province to be hurt this month. His injury is 100 per cent something to be cured; his pain is 100 per cent something to be relieved."

He said we must beware of thinking of compensation totals as representing so many cents per 100 dollars of payroll, or so much per cent of total sales. That kind of thinking is a narcotic."

"Canada's payroll in industry is just now 2,000,000 people. Last year Canada's compensation cost for industrial injuries alone totalled $48,000,000. Look on that as $24 additional that every worker could have enjoyed one way or another. Instead it was added to the cost of doing business. Spoiled material, interrupted production, and other losses resulting from accidents may have raised the actiual loss to well over $100,000,000 — manufacturer's costs. That means a lot more added to what that worker had to pay in cost of living, instead of having the $24, or at least a good part of it, added to his year's pay."

"When we stop careless practices," he continued, "avoid accidents, with their inevitable train of injuries, money is only one of the things we save. Last year in the Toronto-York division alone, 25 people were killed and perhaps 55,000 injured. These are serious figures. It is worth a lot of effort to reduce them."

Mr. Crawford was introduced by T. Taylor and thanked by P. A. Schreiber. H. A. Baptie presided at the meeting.

Fly 200,000 Tons Coal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) —A total of 201,735 tons of coal, food and other vital supplies were flown into Berlin by United States planes up to noon last Sunday, the Air Force reported on Wednesday. The Air Force estimates the average daily cost at about $393,000 for transportation of an average of 3,636.8 tons.

INTERIM PAYMENT

City council is asking the Department of Highways for an interim payment based on road expenditure of $60,801 by the city to the end of August. City Engineer Chalmers said the sum requested now was about $24,000, or 80 p.c. of one-half the amount spent by the city.

Ashburnham Shows Growth With Many New Homes; Douro Township Gaining

Ashburnham has shared surprisingly in Peterborough's housing development this year. So has Douro township, getting the assessment benefit of an overflow of population along that brim of the city.

All the realty growth has not been to the south and north. Several blocks of property across the river have been filling up rapidly during the last few years, but with quickening pace this season.

New streets are being opened and others extended. At present it is almost as lively a sector as any of the others, although it lacks the volume of housing in progress to the south.

Other houses have sprung up all along Leahy's Lane in the township. Several new streets in the Curtis property south of Park Hill Road and east of Armour Road are included in the development which more or less loosely extends from the Oval on both sides of the Warsaw Road, over the canal, past the brick yards and out to the turn at Stanley Wood's farm.

Similar liveliness is changing a broad section of the area north and south of McFarlane Ave., approaching the canal bridge on the old Norwood Road. Houses are under construction, or recently completed, on Caddy and Beverley Sts., Dufferin, Rogers, Armour Road.

Another new section is emerginng nearer the canal. Four new street names appear there. Watts and Ludgate, Simmons and Welsh. They are asking for water and sewer connections.

The building of houses is forced almost entirely to the fringe of the city in all directions because the centre is occupied.

"There are a few vacant lots here and there," Cyril Agnew of the assessment department remarked today, "but for the expansion that is now going on it has to move to the outskirts."

The Arndon-Steele houses are the main group of new building across the river this year, but otherwise there is a notable investment in new housing property in Ashburnham this season.

Electric Power Up On Quota

The Hydro-Electric Commission's appeal and threat to Peterborough, and to the province as a whole, has had comparatively little effect here in the saving of electric power.

With a quota of 240,000 hp., the consumption of power in this city this week has been:

Monday ... 244,000 kwh.
Tuesday .. 278,000 kwh.
Wednesday 272,000 kwh.

Automatic water heaters have been cut off seven hours a day since Monday morning.

As compared with the figures for other Wednesdays this month, the community can show quite a substantial improvement but still not sufficient to get under the 240,000 kwh. mark.

Wed., Sept. 15 .... 302,000 kwh.
Wed., Sept. 22 .... 292,000 kwh.
Wed., Sept. 29 .... 272,000 kwh.

Woman Screams Frightens Her Attacker

A married woman, resident in the south end, was molested by an unknown man on Wednesday night just east of the Trent Valley Milling Co. plant on Ware St. Her screams attracted the attention of Joseph Guerin, 30 Ware St., and when he ran to her assistance the man ran away.

The woman told police she got off a bus at George and Ware Sts., shortly after 11 p.m. and she started to walk east toward her home. When she reached a point just east of the milling company she said the man grabbed her and began to molest her. During the scuffle she dropped her purse and screamed.

Mr. Guerin said he saw the man disappearing into the shadows beside the mill and he was not able to give a very good description of the attacker. At her home after the incident the woman said he was about five-foot-four-inches in height, stockily built and wearing a dark suit. She was not sure if she could recognize him again.

PC's. Harold Mesley and Leo Murphy who investigated said that a thorough search of the area was made but no suspects were found.

Parking Receipts Total $34,687

Paraking meter receipts to the end of August amounted to $34,687.28. Their daily collections began May 12, 1947.

Their 'take' for August was $2,516.77. Parking stickers contributed $20 last month, and 157 car owners were fined one dollar each, penalty for disregarding parking rules.

This information from City Clerk Outram to the council Monday night was a reminder that the meters have accumulated 'important money" to their credit in the treasury. And it is new money which aldermen probably may consider as propertly expendable on new road surfacing.

Marriage licenses paid $150 in August, various licenses $1,001, police court fines $848.60 and so on. The total from those sources was $4,840.

Plan Road Program

TORONTO, Sept. 30 — (CP) — Plans for a network of feeder roads linking east-end Toronto suburbs with the already-graded super-highway from Toronto to Barrie were announced today by J. D. Miller, Deputy Minister of Highways. Main point to be connected with the new highway is the Terminal Produce Market being built on the Queen Elizabeth Highway, west of Toronto.

CORNERSTONE of one of the first low-cost subsidized permanent housing projects in Canada, was laid at the Regent Park development at Gerrard and River Sts., Toronto, Wednesday. Civic officials and citizen groups who worked for the slum clearance project were among those present. Former mayor Robert Saunders, Rev. Ray McCleary and Mayor Hiram McCallum are shown as the latter tapped the stone, bearing documents and daily newspapers, into place.

Trenton Hearing Planned Oct. 27

TORONTO Sept 30 —(CP)—A hearing on an application of Benedict Proctor Company employees at Trenton to prosecute the company's owner today was postponed to Oct. 27 by the Ontario Labor Relations Board.

The A. F. L. Jewelery workers Union are requesting the right to prosecute company owner H. J. Craddock on charges of violating Ontario labor regulations.

Mr. Craddock recently annouced he would close his Silverplating plant on ground that he was operating at a loss because of high cost. The employees took a five-per-cent wage cut at Craddock's request and went back to work for one month. the month ended Sept. 24, and employees said they would strike unless they received an increase by that time.

The union charges that Mr. Craddock attempted to break the organization, refused to negotiate in good faith and interfered with union administration.

Cannot Bar Negroes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30—(AP). — Barring a negro graduate student from the University of Oklahoma was held unconstitutional Wednesday. A three-judge Federal Court did not order his immediate admission, however. Instead, it gave the State time to amend its segregation laws to permit all negroes to enrol for courses not available in separate schools.

'Kid Scientist' Amazes Teachers In Pas Schools

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 30 (CP). —Learned men and women in other parts of Canada know more about The Pas' "kid scientist" than do most local residents as the result of his correspondence on such subjects as zoology, botany, physics, chemistry and mathematics.

He is 16-year-old Walter Krivda, who entered The Pas Collegiate this year after amazing his teachers in the separate school with his profound interest in scientific subjects since the age of 12.

His home laboratory appears a jumblé of specimen books and vessels for the study of alchemy. In the summer he carries his botanical and zoological studies into the field. In the winter he ponders questions of chemistry and physics. As a year-round spare-time hobby he discusses these questions with such men as Professors Charle Lowe and Norris Eley of the University of Manitoba.

Walter won six prizes and a diploma at the separate school graduation exercises in June. His schoolmates termed him a "mathematical wizard." He doesn't think so. His comment typifies the detached way in which he discusses nearly everything.

Can't Explain—Yet

"That's exaggerated," he says. "I believe the proof of understanding anything is you ability to explain it; and I haven't reached that stage in higher mathematics by any means."

He admits that one of his most pleasant evenings recently was spent in a discussion of the Darwinian theory of evolution with a local naturalist.

Walter has some 700 specimens of northern wild life mounted. His ambition is to complete the work of Prof. Shirley Brooks — who died several years ago. At the time Prof Brooks was engaged in classifying northern butterflies. The young student would like to complete the task started by Brooks "if I ever reach the stage of his knowledge."

Walter frankly explained his status among students of his own age. "Some of the polite ones tell me I'm a little eccentric. Some other tell me I'm nuts."

He explains his keen interest in questions which would baffle the average adult as the continuation of a childhood curiosity which his mother did nothing to discourge.

He is determined to complete zoological and botanical studies and is not particularly interested in financial returns "just so long as I get enough to live on."

Held For Narcotics

VANCOUVER, Sept. 30 (CP) —William Kushnik, 23-year-old Vancouver mechanic, to-day awaits sentence on two charges under the Narcotics Act. He was convicted by a jury Tuesday and along with Ronald Dean, 24, of Toronto who pleaded guilty, will be sentenced at the end of the Assizes. The case involved heroin worth $100,000 on the underworld market, believed to have been shipped from Toronto, by a narcotics ring.

Soviet Consuls Leave

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30 — (AP). — The staff of the closed Soviet Consulate here is finally on its way out of the country. The Soviet vice-consul, Ivan Tarassov left for New York Wednesday night in charge of half of the staff members. Consul-General Konstantin A. Efremov will leave to-day with the remainder. Both parties presumably will board a ship at New York and proceed to Moscow.

MRS. JOHN R. REYNOLDS OF BETHANY

Don't Grumble, Stay Young Woman Says At Age 93

BETHANY, Sept. 30 — If you want a tonic for the blues you would do well to visit Civic Hospital, Peterborough, and meet a little old lady who spends her days in a wheel chair and has been a patient there for almost four years. She is Mrs. John Reynolds, and her bright smile and cheery optimism are a sure cure.

Mrs. Reynolds of Bethany is 93 years young, for she will never grow old. Being confined to a wheel chair does not confine her active mind. Visitors from home are especially welcome and questions begin immediately regarding "the folks." She knows all the latest events, and her keen memory would keep many a younger person busy thinking to keep up with her. Her hearing is perfect and she reads without the aid of glasses. Her Bible is a daily source of comfort, and The Examiner is her favorite newspaper, for there she reads all the local news. She isn't a regular subscriber to the paper, but kind friends always see that she receives a copy whenever they know it contains items of particular interest to her.

Mrs. Reynolds was born Kathrine Smith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Bethany, and she is known as "Aunt Kitty" to a host of friends. In early life she was a tailoress, employed with the Newton Brothers of Cavan, and her nimble fingers turned out many suits of clothes. After her marriage to John Robert Reynolds, she and her husband farmed in Cavan Township, and both were active members of Bethany Methodist Church. For many years she was the teacher of the Young Men's Bible Class in the Sunday school and her cheerful leadership of this group is remembered by many former pupils. She was always active in the Women's Association and is a life member of the Women's Missionary Society of Bethany United Church.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Reynolds and their only son, Calvin, continued to farm in Cavan for several years. In 1921 they purchased a farm one mile south of Bethany, where the son continues to reside. Some years ago she fell and broke her hip. Even the enforced discomfort of a cast and later, travelling on crutches, did not dampen her cheery disposition.

After her son's marriage, Mrs. Reynolds was not content to be idle, so she "kept house" for many different families who needed help. About four years ago the leg became troublesome again and amputation was necessary. Doctors hesitated about the operation, due to her advanced years, but she came through the ordeal with flying colors. If she suffers pain, no one knows it. No one ever heard her complain, except to wish that she could at least get about on crutches again, but that is impossible, so a wheel chair provides her transportation around the ward. She gets a little homesick sometimes, but hospital care is necessary. If you visit her she will show you all the nice cards and letters she has received —bundles of them—treat you to some candy; show you her flowers, and open a treasured box of ribbons—lots of them — so that she can have a fresh bow in her snow white hair every day; and if you offer sympathy, she will say, "Oh, tut, there's lots worse off than I am. The nurses are so good to me. They fix me up every day. I get all I want to eat and don't have to get it ready. I've got a good comfortable bed to sleep in and a dandy wheel chair to run around in. What better could I want? If everybody would count their blessings they would find out how lucky they really are. People do too much grumbling, that's why they get old before their time. I'm never going to get old, but I expect to celebrate my ninety-fourth birthday next March."

No doubt about it—Mrs. Reynolds is ninety-three years young!

Irrepressible Hugh Dalton Still Draws Anrgy Blasts

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(CP). — "What is Hugh Dalton doing?" ask political observers.

"Why, he's chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and a senior member of the cabinet," Government spokesmen reply.

Which is no reply at all, because the irrepressible former chancellor of the Exchequer would never be content to lounge in the shelter of a portfolio more imposing in its name than in its duties.

Perhaps the answer has come from the Conservative party. When Dalton resigned as chancellor of the Exchequer last year, after admitting he had told a reporter some budget secrets before reading them to the Commons, some said his ambition to be a future prime minister had been defeated.

But the Conservatives, who seldom waste ammunition on a dead duck, have turned their heaviest guns on Dalton. Like many others, they probably suspect the Labor platform for the 1950 general election is being hammered together by the Eton schoolboy who turned professor of economics and professes a socialism called "rabid" by his opponents.

Leads Assault

Astute Lord Woolton, "the housewife's friend" when Prime Minister Churchill's food minister during the war and now Conservative party chairman, leads the assault on Dalton.

"This Etonian socialist who claims to represent the working people—this lecturer from the London School of Economics — became the financial pundit of the country," said Lord Woolton in a recent speech.

". . . After he was sacked as chancellor of the Exchequer he was rewarded with a new job, with less work to do, with shorter hours, and he demanded an increase of £2,000 ($8,000) a year over the standard rate for the job."

"It is said that communism flourishes in chaos," wrote Clom Brogan in the Daily Telegraph.

"That is less than half the truth. But quackery does flourish on chaos. If Sir Stafford Cripps (now chancellor of the Exchequer) produces the chaos, Mr. Dalton may be trusted to stand by with the quackery."

TALL TOMATOES are a specialty with Chris Jensen of Hamilton. This plant has reached a height of nine feet two inches and is still growing strong. Rhoda Thomas is handing down one of the 32 tomatoes it has produced to Mr. Jensen.

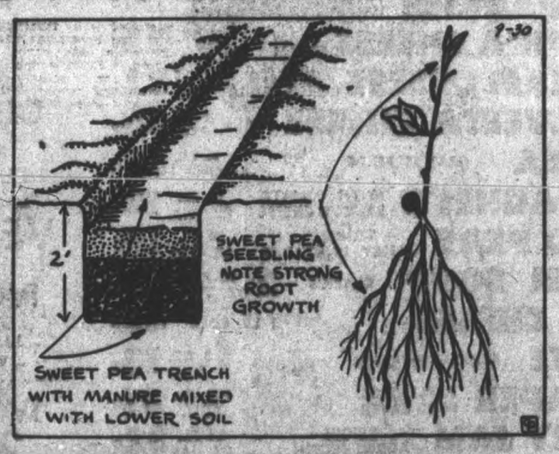
Secret of Fine Sweet Peas



By DEAN HALLIDAY

Sweet Peas will grow in almost any kind of soil but really good flowers can be expected only when the soil is well prepared. A little extra digging will save a lot of disappointment.

The soil in a sweet pea bed should be deeply dug. This is the time to do it for seeds can be sown in the fall or in the early spring. An early start is important for outdoor sweet peas should make their growth early, during cool spring weather.

To grow fine sweet pea flowers or blooms for exhibition purposes the trench method should be used. Trenching for sweet peas is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Dig the trench two feet wide and two feet deep. As illustrated, the bottom soil should have old manure mixed well into it. If the soil is a heavy clay add sand to loosen it. Peat-moss is also beneficial. Lime also should be added to the top layer of soil. Allow the soil to settle well before the seeds are planted.

When clumps of sweet peas are desired, dig a hole two feet in diameter and 18 inches deep. At the bottom fork in a handful of bonemeal. Then add a three-inch layer of well-decayed manure and fill the rest of the hole with good top soil.

Sweet peas require lots of sunshine and air, therefore they should not be planted close to a garden fence or hedge. Remember, too, that plants grown in a shady location will turn out to be weak and spindling.

If the seeds are sown in early spring and severe freezing weather occurs after the young plants are up, protect them with a thick layer of straw or hay. Place it from both sides of the row so that the young plants will not be crushed down or broken.

Labor Facing Test In Scratch By-Election

GLASGOW, Sept. 30.— (Reuters).— Gorbals, grimmest borough in this Scottish city, is the scene today of the first parliamentary by-election fought under the shadow of the Berlin crisis.

This former strong hold of the Independent Labor Party, minority group of pronounced Leftist tendencies, now is an orthodox Labor seat and was carried at the 1945 general election with a majority of nearly 16,000.

One Permanent Cost $15 ...the TONI only $2.50

So soft, so smooth, so natural-looking. You'll say your Toni is the loveliest permanent you've ever had. But, before giving yourself a Toni you will want to know—

Will Toni work on my hair?
Yes, Toni waves any kind of hair that will take a permanent, including gray, dyed, bleached or baby-fine hair.

Is it easy to do?
Easy as rolling your hair up on curlers. That's why every hour of the day another thousand women use Toni.

Will Toni save me time?
Definitely. The actual waving time is only 2 to 3 hours. And during that time you are free to do whatever you want.

How long will my Toni wave last?
Your Toni wave is guaranteed to last just as long as a $15 beauty shop permanent—or your money back.

Why is Toni a Creme?
Because Toni Creme Waving Lotion waves the hair gently—leaves it soft as silk with no frizziness, no dried-out brittleness even on the first day.

Can I use Toni for my little girl's hair?
Yes—with complete confidence. Toni has been awarded the Parents' Magazine Tested and Commended Seal.

How much will I save with Toni?
The Toni Home Permanent Kit with reusable plastic curlers costs only $2.50; with handy fiber curlers only $1.50. The Toni Refill Kit complete except for curlers is just $1.25.

Which twin has the Toni?
"My Toni-savings paid for a new hat," remarks Eileen Mary Skillings. "No wonder Edith Ann says, after this we'll be Toni Twins." Eileen Mary, the twin at the left has the Toni.

Where can I buy Toni?
At all drug, notions or cosmetic counters. Try Toni today.

Love On The Loose As Big Bull Moose Kills Self When Separated From Cow

BARRIE, Sept. 30.—(CP). — A wild bull moose died from inflammation of the lungs Wednesday—lovesick for a red cow in a farmer's barnyard.

His sickness was brought on by struggles with men who wanted to take him away from the farmyard and back to his natural habitat.

The 1,200-pound moose wandered out of the bush and struck up a friendship with the red cow on Lawrence Oilmer's farm near Port Severn, 30 miles north of here on Georgian Bay.

Lands Department officials decided it was dangerous to leave the animal in a settled area with the mating season approaching. They lassoed and trucked him away to a provincial park.

But the park pens weren't strong enough to hold him so he was taken to a barn on another nearby farm Tuesday. He died Wednesday.

Africa's First Conference On In London

LONDON Sept. 30 (Reuters)—African chiefs in their native robes, Sheikhs from Zanzibar and Emirs from Nigeria meet today for the first African conference in history, called to promote the development of Britain's African colonies and their 40,000,000 people.

The conference, organized by the colonial office and already being called unofficially "the first African parliament," opened in London's historic Lancaster House and continues until Oct. 8.

More than 60 delegates from 10 separate territories — Gambia, Gold Coast, Kenya, Nigeria, Northern Rhodesia, Nyasaland, Sierra Leone, Tanganyika, Uganda and Zanzibar—assembled for the opening session, to be addressed by Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister, Attlee, who is still under medical treatment.

Apart from direct representatives of all the colonies, there will be six delegates form the east African Central Assembly. The colonial office has also invited observers from the Sudan and such countries as France, Belgium and Portugal, who possess neighboring territories in Africa.

During their discussions, covering local government, political developments, economic, agricultural, educational and medical affairs in Africa, the representatives may also hear addresses from other leading British figures, including Foreign Secretary Bevin and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff.

Appoint Mrs. Spring Secretary Of Guild

NORWOOD, Sept. 30.—(ENS). —Mrs. Art Spring was appointed secretary of the Ladies' Guild of Christ church at their meeting in the parish hall Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Spring replaced Mrs. Wesley Lywood, who held the position for several months.

It was decided that the eleven members present would sell Christmas cards and calendars. Tentative arrangements were made for a bazaar to be held November. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leslie Tolley in October.

Fraserville News

Week-end guests with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pue included Miss Ethel Adamson of Toronto, Mrs. E Johnson of Peterborough.

Miss Marian Whitfield of Peterborough, was a week-end guest with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Whitfield, Fraserville.

The Fraserville United church will hold its anniversary services on Sunday, Oct. 3. Rev. George Patten of Seagrave, will be the guest speaker for the day. At the morning service, commencing at 11 o'clock, the Fraserville junior choir will supply special music, and at the evening service, commencing at 7.30 o'clock, the intermediate choir of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, will occupy the choir loft.

War Scare Makes French Envy Canadian Passport

PARIS, Sept. 30.—(CP).—Travelling in France on a Canadian passport is an experience in itself. Everywhere the little blue book evokes interest and is regarded with respect and sometimes envy.

"You'd better take care of that," a customs officer told me on the train from Calais. "Lots of French folk would give 1,000,000 francs for a Canadian passport."

Fear of another war that might "wreck Europe" seems to be the thought uppermost in the minds of French men and women anxious to seek a new country—preferably a new country with some French traditions. But they have economic reasons as well.

People with property view Canada as a non-socialist paradise where they can escape from the taxes imposed by a chargeable but consistently left-wing governments. Many business men say as soon as they make a substantial profit they put the money back into renovations and repairs.

Canada Highly Regarded

To the average wage-earner Canada is a sunny land of higher wages and better living standards. A French artist I met in the Louvre—home of French and foreign art treasures—was hugely excited by a newspaper announcemnt that French settlers would be welcomed in French Canada.

"I see no future for France but rising prices, worse poverty and the threat of another war that will leave Europe in ruin. I would give my last franc to go to Canada, but I should still want to earn my living as a painter. Does Canada want painters?"

Men and women of many trades and callings talked in this strain.

A tired middle-aged woman, a war widow with five children, said gloomily: "Europe belongs to the past. It is bankrupt morally and financially. I would go anywhere out of Europe, but preferably to a new country where my children would have a real chance in life."

Highest Honors To The Woman Who Serves This Elegant Cake! Thanks for its moist tender crumb is due to SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. Exquisitely fine, exceptionally even, Swans Down is milled from soft-gluten wheat and sifted again and again until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Makes every woman a better cake maker!

BUTTERSCOTCH-PECAN CAKE

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/3 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift four once, measure, add baking powder and salt; sift three times. Cream, butter, add sugar gradually, cream until light. Add eggs, one at a time; beat thoroughly after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time; beat smooth after each addition. Add vanilla. Bake in 2 greased 9-in. layer pans in mod. oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Fill and cover with butterscotch frosting. Decorate with pecans.

HEIR-MINDED BULLETIN—Latest bulletin from maternity clothes circles deserves a news flash, and gets one right now: There are dozens of smart new ladies-in-waiting frocks for every moment of the day and evening, formal or informal, readymade, and made so that a simple home sewing session will convert them to slim lines after Junior arrives. Moreover, printed instructions for the conversion come tagged to each model...two of which you see, above. The model, Left, is shown as bought and apt for the woman who needs a materity wardrobe; a similar daytime crepe, Right, shows how the extra fullness has been laid flat and fashionable by dart pleats through the bodice, when fullness is no longer needed.

and he has a good start on his.

My parents object to this and that I should go on with my training as a nurse. Do you think that I am crazy to give up the work that I am not interested in and do some thing that I like to do?

STUDENT

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No, I don't. I think the most important thing in every boy's and girl's life is to try to find out while they are still in school, if possible, what Nature intended them to do. All of us have some aptitude, some one thing that we enjoy doing and are interested in doing, and our success, or failure, depends upon whether we get our appointed place in the scheme of things, or not.

High Calling

This would be particularly true in your case because nursing isn't just a job. It is a vocation. For sick people are not attractive in themselves. They are cross and unreasonable and demanding, and only one who is capable of having pity for them and an endless patience and forbearance should undertake it as a career. Nursing is a great and noble work, but it is not for everyone.

However, you needn't regret the year you have spent in training because whatever knowledge you have acquired about how to minister to sick people will be of use to you all of your life.

I hope you and your fiance will have the good sense to stick to your resolution not to get married until you are older and he is in a position to support a wife.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married almost a year and have been miserable every day of that time because of a jealous husband who will not let me go any place for fear some man will look at me. I can't even go to the movie because a man might sit in the seat next to me. I never have given my husband cause to be jealous and he is making both of our lives miserable. What can I do?

UNHAPPY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no cure for jealousy because it is beyond all reason. There are only two course open to you. One is to leave your husband before there are any children to complicate the situation. The other is to steel yourself to live a life of utter misery. God help any man or woman who has a jealous husband or wife.

Pretty Singer Declares Destiny Decided Career

MONTREAL, Sept. 29 —(CP)— Pretty night-club singer Jeanne d'Arc Charlebois thinks "you can become a great star overnight because the thing called destiny decides the course of your life." But she believes in helping destiny by hard work.

The statuesque ash-blonde Jeanne, who has spent 12 of her 26 years before the footlights, is a good example of a city girl who reversed the usual order of entertainment life by making good in the "sticks" and then setting out to wow the big city.

A natural mimic, she includes in her repertoire a series of male imitations. She doesn't stop there. Jeanne also imitates male imitators imitating other people.

The versatile young woman says she believes the thing called destiny decides the course of your life, "and all I'm doing is helping it along by working hard."

In her career, Jeanne has had more proposals of marriage than the average girl, many of them from complete strangers.

However when she says "no" she can make it sound convincing without giving too much offence because she's a big girl, measuring five feet seven inches in her stocking feet and weighing 145 pounds.

Many Appearances

Playing the night club circuit in Montreal and country towns, with radio appearances and recordings as a sidelines, Jeanne expects to be in show business for a long time.

"I have a perfect understanding with my public," she says, "as long as they don't tire of me, I'll not tire of them."

Marriage doesn't interfere with her career. Two years ago she took time out to make a trip to Rhode Island to wed, Oliver Guimond—better known as "Tizoune Jr." the French-Canadian star comedian of the Canadian Art Theatre in the same church in which her grandparents were wed.

"Our marriage is working out very well," she says. "That because we have so much in common. We're both show people. I love clothes and he likes to see me well dressed.

"I love housework, but I haven't had much of a chance to do it because we're still looking for an apartment. He's a good cook and the only thing we argue about is who's going to cook dinner."

Jeanne has two ambitions—to star in a musical comedy on Broadway and to make a tour of the United States singing the folk songs of Quebec.

"I've had offers from New York in the past, but turned them down because I don't feel ready yet," she said.

But Jeanne knows the business and after a "rough" start feels confident that she will be singing under the white lights of Broadway before too long."

Change In Vocation For Girl Unhappy As Nurse

DEAR MISS. DIX: I am a student nurse 19 years old and have been training for about a year, but I find that I have lost all interest in my profession and I want to leave the school and go back to college and finish the stenographic course which I started at one time. Anyway, I don't like nursing.

Another reason why I want to make the change is that my fiance has just returned after two years in the army, and he has gone back to college. If I make this change, I could be near him. I don't want to interfere with his education, and we both realize we are too young to marry and that it is best to wait until I finish my education

Find 'Make-Your-Own' Tray Most Helpful for Parties

By MARY MOORE

Are you scheduled to give a party? Maybe it is a shower; or your turn for the bridge club, or the children's gang are planning to descend on you.

In any case, your job, Mother Dear, is to provide the food and plenty of it.

I thought you might welcome some reminders on how to make some real good sandwiches fast. Or, better still, if it is a very young crowd or if many men will be present, maybe they would like to make their own.

These suggestions will give you encouragement to tackle the job—if you need it.

The idea I found most economical and popular was a "make-your-own" tray with a variety of breads and a ground tongue spread.

"Make-Your-Own" Sandwich Tray

I bought a pickled (brined) ox-tongue, boiled it 3½ hours, peeled it and put it through the food chopper. I added ¾ cup sweet pickles—putting them through the chopper too—and about ½ to 2-3 cup mayonnaise and plenty of salt and pepper. After mixing it well I put it in a small deep bowl in centre of very large wooden sandwich plate. I sliced 4 kinds of bread, thinly, and fanned them around the edge of the plate: rye, whole wheat, white and cheese bread. I buttered the bread because the filling did not contain butter,—but if this filling is used for regular sandwiches in the kitchen, the soft butter should be added to the filling to eliminate the step of spreading the slices with butter and with filling too.

A behind-the-scenes knowledge of sandwich making can streamline the whole production, and two of the basic rules are long slices of bread, and soft fillings that contain all of the necessities that go between the slices—including butter.

Long slices of bread come from slicing sandwich loaves lengthwise instead of crosswise; thus the soft filling can be spread on what is equivalent to 3 or 4 crosswise slices, with the minimum number of spreading strokes. This saves a total of as much as half-an-hour's time when you have 3 or 4 loaves of bread to make up.

Cheese And Walnut Pinwheels Or Ribbons

In a medium-sized bowl put ¾ lb. processed cheese which has been standing in a warm place logn enough to make it soft enough to mash with a fork; add 1-3 lb. soft butter, 4 to 6 ounces chopped walnuts, and ½ cup chopped broken stuffed olives; add about ½ cup mayonnaise and very little salt and pepper and ground mustard and mix very well. Have long slices of bread ready and spread 1 slice with filling, cover it with another slice, spread it, and continue until you have 3 slices spread and top this with unspread top slices. Wrap tightly in wax paper and chill until needed for slicing, in refrigerator. Spread remaining slices from loaf the same way, but roll up each slice as you would jelly roll, and wrap each roll in waxed paper tightly. Chill all overnight before slicing. These should all be double wrapped in heavy towel in refrigerator.

When ready to serve cut in thin slices through the blocks and rolls to make ribbon and pinwheel sandwiches.

For a few fussier sandwiches you may make fold-ups or cornucopias by cutting a long spread slice bread in 4 equal squares; pick up diagonally opposite corners and overlap them and turn over to make them stick. Cornucopias are made from squares too, but diagonally opposite corners are turned to just meet at centre with straight sides parallel. Garnish opening of cornucopia with parsley or carrot or pimento strips.

Lambert-Nelson

The marriage took place in Keene United Church of Rheta Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Nelson, and Harry Sidney Lambert, son of Mr. Chas. Lambert and the late Mrs. Lambert, Peterborough. The Rev. George Murray performed the ceremony. Mr. Delbert Coward sang "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register, and Mr. David Potter played wedding music.

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin and she wore an embroidered veil caught to a beaded crown and carried a cascade of white gladioli and carnations. Mr. Nelson gave his daughter in marriage.

Attendants were Mrs. Agnes Walton, the bride's sister, matron of honor, Misses Laureen Doris and Mary Matchett, bridesmaids, and Jane Worral, flower girl. Their gowns were styled alike of coral crepe and they wore headbands of pastel flowers and carried nosegays of coral and white bachelor buttons.

Groomsman was Mr. Robert Nelson, brother of the bride, and Jack Mason and George Walton ushered.

After a reception at the bride's home, the couple left on their wedding trip, Mrs. Lambert travelling in a black gabardine suit with accessories in black and white. They will reside at 701 George St. N., Apt. 3.

Shower Bridal Couple

To honor Mr. and Mrs. Donald Massey and welcome the bride to the community more than 70 residents of Smith Township gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Northey Friday evening. An address was read by Mrs. Claire Fairbairn, little Joyce Northey entered the room drawing a wagon loaded with gifts. The wagon was refilled many times before all the white-wraped gifts had been opened. Pink and white streamers and wedding bells decorated the home for this occasion. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening adn a lunch served.

Successful Party Held

War brides and newcomers to the parish of St. George's Anglican Church received a welcome from the rector, the Rev. E. C. Moore, and other members Wednesday afternoon at the party given for Little Helpers of the WA. More than 65 children and about 40 mothers enjoyed themselves on the church grounds where games were directed by Mrs. T. Pilkington. Mrs. J. Collins and Mrs. Smith had charge of registration of new members, and each child presented his offering box and received a new one for the coming year. Hostess for the party was WA president, Mrs. E. C. Moore. Kitchen assistants were Mrs. S. Parks, Mrs. T. Monk, Mrs. J. R. Earnshaw and Mrs. E. C. Dolman.

Review of Teen's Fashions Well Presented by Juniors

Truly a "dream dress", carrying an aura of romance to kindle flames in the coldest male heart, a Southern Belle evening frock brought a glorious finish to the Hi-Teen Fashion Show Wednesday evening. Created of deep pink taffeta with a portrait neckline, ruffled petticoat and petal-point mittens to match, it was breath-takingly sweet and dainty on outstanding model Mary Elizabeth Rowell. Dinner-dancing juniors will have an air of demure sophistication as did Marjorie Lacheur in gold silk jersey with patterned bodice, outlined with dark brown braid, and wearing a luxury wrap of natural lynx.

If Santa Claus, or maybe Dad, comes through with a fur coat for Christmas this year, chances are it will be brown seal, the fashionable choice of teen gals. The quaint jacket modelled was a reminder of "the girl that married dear old Dad" with its back belt highlighted with two large gold buttons, repeated on the front, a deep collar and tight cuffs. Less fortunate teen-agers need not be less stylish however, for warm and cosy camel hair in Kelly green fashioned a very smart all-purpose coat with deep fringe like grandmother wore trimming the self-scarf. An all weather coat of Angora wool had a plaid-lined hood with tie ends that was detached, the new idea being hoods that are removable for dress-up occasions. Mary Helen Matthews displayed a special model of hand-loomed English tweed with self-scarf in a plaid design of sea-weed green, cocoa brown and corn wool, set off with a jaunty tam of deep green.

For casual wear a simple frock of powder blue wool crepe with silver belt was worn with sling-back loafers in grey suede. The Coachman's dress was in wine-berry wool, featuring the buttoned half-belt above unpressed pleats at the back and severely slim front.

Highlighting th parade of tea-time or "date" frocks was a very feminine number in black crepe with filmy detail of black lace used effectively in the bodice and for a gathered peplum. The pretty model, Grace Marshall wore black suede slippers with double ankle straps and a beautiful bracelet her only jewelry. Much attention is given to the overblouse which looked sophisticated and elegant in white crepe with a black skirt draped to the side.

Silhouettes were varied from pencil slim to swirling hemlines with bustle drapery, soft pleats and gathers giving back interest everywhere. The military effect was evident in gold braid and buttons on a black wool jumper. The all-round pleats in a grey flannel bolero suit are still the "love" of the younger set. Beige with brown and grey with bright red accessories are still favored combinations. New and well liked by the tiny waisted is the softly "wrapped" waistline. Cuffs are on everything that can possibly have them.

Typical of Saturdays, before the "Big Date", Faye Adams appeared with hair in curl papers, wearing a handsome dressing gown of royal blue moire with shawl collar and tie belt. For week-day evenings when studying is a "must" Miss Teen can be relaxed and comfortable in a double breasted tartan housecoat with full flaring skirt.

For school and sports clothes tartans led the way in skirts, suits and one-piece dresses, in pleated or flaring styles. Stoles to match plaid skirts are high fashion and have deep pockets in which the wearer's hands are casually thrust. The model highlighted the outfit with a bright green wool blouse with short cuffed sleeves. Suits featured slightly flaring gored skirts and jackets nipped in at the waist.

Trim raincoats modelled were checked or plain, tightly belted or full swinging, and with detachable hoods, of course.

Teen models, members of CGIT groups in the city, were: Misses Faye Adams, Marie Adams, Mae Bertrand, Fern Carveth, Phyllis Dawson, Ruth Frost, Mildred Hayward, Betty Jane Hinds, Marjorie Lacheur, Grace Marshall, Mary Helen Matthews, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, Joan Stock and Joan White.

Comments throughout the showing were by Miss Lena Dewart, who also made the door prize draws. Pianists were Mrs. A. E. DeNure, Mrs. O. J. Hayward and Mrs. J. A. McColl during the parade, and for the opening Messrs. C. E. Allen and Q. McKinney.

At intermission Dick Schram delighted the audience with his piano accordion selections. An amusing skit was presented by Misses Joan Krogh, Barbara Huffman and Dorothy Woodcock of Trinity CGIT.

Misses Anne Gordon and Norah McKinney were in charge of programs at the door. The ushers were Joyce Pitchford, Marilyn Pomeroy, Joan Marie Lang, Connie Carley, Margaret Jane Loucks, Joan Hastie, Shirley Hudgins and Donna Bristow.

The fashion show was sponsored by Peterborough Girls' Work Board, with Miss Marion Pogue as convener of the planning committee. Members of the Board and Leaders' Council assisted in the dressing room. Treasurers at the entrance were Mrs. C. Allen, Mrs. Q. McKinney, Miss Mae Graham and Miss Betty Brown.

Reports For Leagues

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(CP).—Mrs. Lawrence A. Redden of Halifax, official representative of the six Canadian leagues at the fall board meeting here of the 168 Junior Leagues of America, reported today on the projects of the six Canadian leagues.

Toronto has established a cerebral palsy clinic. Hamilton and Toronto are continuing their art scholarships for secondary schools, the report said.

TARTANS FOR 'TEENS seems inevitable this fall and Phyllis Dawson displays one of the most attractive outfits in town. The skirt with fullness at the back is worn with a monogrammed beige wool pullover and fringed shawl. The Bonnie Lass is Mildred Hayward, youngest model in the show, and she is ready for school with roll brim hat to match her pleated tartan dress

Nurse-Earl

Trinity United Church, Cobourg, was the setting for the marriage of Ethelmae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Earl, and a graduate of Victoria College, to Mr. William S. Nurse, Cobourg, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Nurse, Omemee, on Saturday. Rev. W. P. Woodger officiated, with Mr. A. W. Mortimer at the organ.

Mr. Earl gave his daughter in marriage, and she wore a gown of blush satin, orange blossom headdress with tulle veil, and carried baby chrysanthemums and pink gardenia centre. Mrs. Earl Wellman, matron of honor for her sister, Miss Lois Nurse and Miss Carolyn Olliver were frocked in pale green brocade satin, with mitts and bonnets of satin, and carried mixed flowers. Mr. Melburn Jones was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Earl Millman and Mr. Guy MacKenzie.

The reception was at Cobourg Country Club. After a motor trip to New York, the couple will live in Cobourg.

McCoy-Jones

The wedding was solemnized in Lakefield by the Rev. W. R. Archer of Alice Doreen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haydon Jones, Dummer, and Gordon Glenvile, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David McCoy, Asphodel. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Baker were their attendants. The bride and groom will reside in Dummer.

Do You Knit? Survey Asks Cost of Yarn

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—(CP). — Junior will have to admit how much money he spends on movies. Mother will have to confess the cost of her shampoos and finger-waves. . . .

It's all in line with a country-wide survey the Bureau of Statistics will launch Oct. 4.

While no direct changes in the cost-of-living index are contemplated as a result of this survey, the bureau believes it will be a valuable means of checking whether this graph of living expenses still is up-to-date.

About 250 men and women will tour cities of more than 30,000 population, as well as rural communities, to get the answers to this poll, considered the most extensive of its kind ever taken in Canada.

Approximately 15,000 families of all sizes, and with incomes ranging from nil to $100,000 a year, will be asked to fill out the 22-page questionnaires.

While many of the questions are personal, those interviewed may be assured that all answers are "strictly confidential."

Dad will be asked how many cigarets or cigars he smoked last year; how many night shirts he bought—and how much he paid for them.

Mother will have to tell the cost of her new fur coat and how much money she spends at the beauty-parlor. If she knits, she will be asked to put down the cost of the yarn she has bought in the last 12 months.

Junior had better begin figuring out how many dimes he spent on movies, because that also is included in the questionnaire.

Nor is his older sister forgotten. The DBS wants to know how many lipsticks she buys in a year; how much she paid for that last new evening-dress.

Honor Bride-To-Be

NORWOOD, Sept. 30 (ENS).—A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Ross Coming, Brule Gardens, Toronto, Sept. 23 for Miss Elizabeth Curtis, BA, whose marriage will take place early in October.

The evening opened with a contest "girls from old familiar songs" and was won by the bride-to-be. Then she was presented with many beautiful gifts.

Buffet refreshments were served in the dining room, which was prettily decorated.

Diplomat's Wife Misses Home, Loves Our Autumn

BY KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writers

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 —(CP)—A tall sweet-smelling plant drooped disconsolately across the garden-bed and onto the lawn.

In vain Mrs. P. R. Viljoen lifted its head back to an upright position.

"These sharp autumn winds of yours," laughed the wife of South Africa's High Commissioner to Canada. "They surely are hard on flowers."

Come the first biting wind of winter and it's a safe bet that this pretty, gentle-voiced woman often thinks nostalgically of the home she left in Pretoria three years ago. But although Mrs. Viljoen cannot have her flowers the year round, she has found Canadian weather has its compensations.

"My husband and I like to walk," she said, leading the way into the big square dwelling which houses both the official residence and the Commissioner's offices.

She stopped a moment in the gold-toned drawing-room to rearrange a vase of maple leaves. "There are so many lovely places to go in this country—I can't understand why so few Canadians seem to like walking," she continued. "In the autumn your trees turn beautiful colors. I never saw maples before coming to Canada."

Despite her many social obligations, Mrs. Viljoen still finds time for the occasional game of golf, and an hour or two with her needlework.

She also is taking lessons in French conversation. "I feel it's important to be able to speak French in Ottawa where so many people know both languages.

Unlike Mrs. Viljoen, whose two daughters are grown up and married, Sardarni Hardit Malik, wife of the Indian High Commissioner, is striving to combine the business of being a diplomat's wife with raising a family.

In her 28 years of married life the diminutive dark-haired woman has travelled throughout the world, finally ending up in Ottawa a year ago with her son, 13-year-old Harmala, and two daughters, 10-year-old Veena, and Harsimran, 23.

At their home in suburban Rockcliffe the Maliks have established a home away from home with furniture and drapes brought from their own country. Even meals often are served in traditional Indian fashion.

"Indian spices mixed with Canadian ingredients make successful Indian dishes," said Mr. Malik.

Of the four other wives of British Empire representatives new in the capital, Mrs. Francis Forde is the most recent addition. During the war the gracious wife of the Australian High Commissioner accompanied her husband on business trips throughout the United States and Britain. But Canada was completely unknown to her until her arrival a year ago.

Tall and regal, Lady Clutterbuck is a popular figure in the diplomatic circle. The fun-loving wife of the British High Commissioner has turned Earnscliffe, residence of United Kingdom High Commissioners, into a home where daughter Anne may bring her friends for evening get-togethers.

Just bringing up a family is a fulltime job for the average housewife, but in addition to raising four young children, Mrs. J. J. Hearne, wife of Eire's High Commissioner, has innumerable social duties. These recently included entertaining Eire's Premier during his visit to Canada.

Mrs. James Thorn, wife of the New Zealand High Commissioner, takes a keen interest in world events. She believes women everywhere should take an equal part in the social, economic, and political life of their country.

In New Zealand, Mrs. Thorn is a foundation member of the N. Z. Labour Party, and also belongs to the Townswomen's Guild, the equivalent of the Women's Institutes in Canada.

Diced Carrots and Green Beans (Minimum of butter — 1 cup 4(cal.) Baked Pepper Squash (n butter—1 cup 25 cal.)
Baked Wolf River Apple (1 t spoon sugar—100 cal.) Clear Coffee (o cal.)

High-Calorie Low-Cost Dinner
Corn Pudding with Sausage Weiner Topping
Cauliflower with Parsley Cr Sauce
Sliced Tomatoes
Tapioca Peach Pudding (se notes)
Coffee

One-Burner Dinner
Swiss Steak with Carrots and Onions
Hard Rolls
Cheese Stuffed Celery
Cantaloupe Halves filled with Blueberries
Coffee

Directions:

Place the kidneys for the mixed grill at centre of broiler pan; place bacon on both sides, place tomatoes at ends. Spread kidneys and tomatoes with a little melted butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper and place under very hot broiler—turning as soon as top is done to do other side. Serve as soon as possible.

The Tapioca Peach Pudding I made because it is so nice to have under Hard Sauce—there is the reason for it in our house.

To 1-3 cup minute tapioca add ½ teaspoon salt. Stir this into 2½ cup boiling water until it thickens, then add 1-3 to ½ cup sugar, place over double boiler and let it cook covered, while you peel about 2 cups peaches and slice them. Add to the tapioca mixture, add 2 drops almond flavouring, and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg. Pour into buttered baking dish and bake about ½ hour. Serve with Hard Sauce.

For Friday, October 1

While a vigorous and forthright management of new plans and policies well under exciting advancement is recommended, yet the element of change or "luck" is to be counted upon. Lady Luck may be disposed to play some tricks with the projects under hand. There may be a pre-disposition to overplay, to resort to lavish or luxurious indulgencies, bound to react upon reputation, job, career and the personal standing.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are advised not to "go out on a limb," even though the expanding scope of affairs seems to warrant extremes, extravagances and excesses. Vaulting ambition may over leap itself and fall on the other side. Improvidence and over-reaching may beget unhappy reactions on credit standing. Gambles and display can be carried to extreme and frustration.

A child born on this day while being ardent, ambitious and have fine constructive abilities, may overplay its hand and exact personal, financial and character penalties.
